

WASHINGTON CITY, June 13.

Extract of a letter from Captain Lewis Warrington to the Secretary of the Navy, dated U. S. Ship Peacock, Savannah River, June 1, 1814.

"SIR—I have seen an extract in the Intelligencer from my letter of the 12th May, which is, I believe incorrectly quoted, as it extends to the officers of the Epervier, the disgrace which I meant should be attached to her commander, and one other officer only, (by name Beardon, a Sailing master on his passage to Bermuda.) This was the person who proposed to Captain Wales, to suffer the crew to help themselves to money after their surrender—to this proposal no objection was made on the part of Captain Wales. As my letter of the 12th was written in a great hurry, lest it should be too late for the mail, and consequently I have no copy of it: I am unable to ascertain whether the word officers was mentioned or not; if it was, it was an error, arising on my part from hurry and inadvertence, as the person I have now named was the only one I meant to associate with the captain.

"The officers belonging to that vessel, appear to be gentlemen, and in justice to them I am thus particular in my explanation of the mistake, that they may not suffer under any unjust imputation."

[NOTE.—On examining the original letter of the 12th May, alluded to in the above extract, it was found to agree verbatim with the extract published in the National Intelligencer of the 21st May.]

RELEASED OFFICERS.

Salem, June 8.

The following are the names of the officers who have arrived in the cartel Matilda, from Halifax. They have all been confined as Hostages, under the retaliation system, and were released in consequence of the late arrangement:

- George G. Steele, Capt. 16th Reg. U. S. Inf.
Lemuel Bradford, Captain 21st do.
Oliver Herrick, 12 months' Volunteers.
Joshua Konkey, Capt. New York Volunteers.
Henry Schill, Lieut. 6th Reg. Infantry.
Henry Van Swearingen, Lieut. 1st Rifle-regt.
Joseph Marshal, Lieut. 14th Infantry.
Richard Arrel, Lieut. 14th do.
Wm C. Beard, Lieut. Rifle-regt.
John G. Clark, Lieut. 5th Regt. Infantry.
Ira Drew, Lieut. 21st Infantry.
Kemmel Godwin, Lieut. 14th Infantry.
William G. Sanders, Lieut. 14th do.
Abraham Clark, Lieut. New-York Militia.
Abraham Grave, Ensign do.

Lieutenant Miller, formerly British Agent for Prisoners at Halifax, came up in the Matilda, having charge of the prisoners. He is succeeded in his agency at Halifax by Captain Cushie, of the Navy. Lieutenant Miller is to be stationed as Agent at Bermuda.

The Troops from the cartel were yesterday transported in sloops to Fort Independence, Boston.

Albany, June 14.

The British officers and men captured at Sandy Creek speak in the highest terms of commendation of Major Appling and his rifle corps, to whose humane and spirited conduct they are probably indebted for the preservation of their lives. The Indians were first to reach the enemy after they had submitted, and had commenced executing the savage rule of warfare, sanctioned by Anglo-Indian example at the Raisin, Lewistown, Tuscarora, &c. of murdering their prisoners, when the Major and his men happily arrived, and succeeded by a prompt and determined course, though not without violence, in terminating the tragic scene. An Indian chief is said to have given vent to his feelings on this occasion in language similar to the following: 'When British come to Buffalo, they kill white man, they kill Indian, they kill woman, they burn houses—when British come here, you no let Indian kill him—you give him eat—this no good.' May humanity continue to characterize the American soldier, in despite of the maxims of savage warfare; and may the enemy, won by our example, restrain a practice which has so frequently disgraced the character of his arms!

Argus.

PORTSMOUTH, (Eng.) April 20.

The Comus, 32, Capt. Dickens, is arrived in 5 days from St. Jean de Luz; he brings accounts of an attack that was made on the night of Wednesday, by the French garrison of Bayonne, upon our out-posts, in which General Sir J. Hope was taken prisoner, and the British lost in killed, wounded and prisoners, between 5 and 600. Among the killed were Gens. Hay, and Col. Sir Henry Sullivan.

Sir J. Hope, on the morning of the day prior to the attack, had received instructions to suspend hostilities, and to inform by flag of truce the French commandant at the garrison of Bayonne of the existing state of affairs at Paris, and to invite him to the provisional government; in compliance with his orders, Sir John Hope on that day sent in his proposal; the answer returned to which by the French Commandant was, that on the following morning a reply should be given.

Notwithstanding the cessation of arms which was supposed to exist between each party until the time when the French General's decision was to be made known should expire, he made a sortie on our out-posts, and gained advantages which, under other circumstances, he would not, in all probability, have acquired. Sir John Hope, it is said, surprised at the firing of musketry, suddenly mounted his horse and galloped to the spot from whence it proceeded; his horse was killed, and in falling Sir John was severely hurt and taken prisoner.

The official accounts of this cruel affair were sent home by the packet on the day previous to the Comus sailing.

Bonaparte's Indisposition, which occasioned his continuance at Fontainebleau a few days after his destiny was decided, was doubtless brought upon him by great anxiety and fatigue. It is stated by one of the gentlemen on board the Olivier, that Bonaparte, for three weeks, was almost continually on horseback. His limbs were so swollen, that he was unable to dismount; and whenever it became necessary to relieve his horses, he was obliged to be lifted from the one to the other. Had the contest continued a few days longer, he probably would not have survived its termination.

It is also stated, that the escort, which conducted Bonaparte to the port at which he was to embark for the Island of Elba, were directed not to pass through any of the large towns on their way. This order was issued under the apprehension, that in Lyons, or some other large city, he might have been destroyed by the fury of the populace!
