The latter gained his cause before a judge at Salisbury; the Duke threw it into the High Court of Chancery; the consequence has been, that, by delay and the enormous expences attendant on that court, Gourlay, with perfect right and justice on his side, has been nearly ruined. It was believed that his Grace of Somerset acted under the influence of the Duchess, who is said to be a very high tempered dame. Mr. G. belonged to the Bath Society, of which he was considered a very useful and intelligent member; by the influence of his Grace, who is or was president, his name was struck off the list.

When at Bath the spring before last, Mr. G. called on me to procure information respecting the western states of the Union, having it in contemplation to accompany his friend, Mr Birkbeck, to this country. Mr. B. has published a pedestrian tour through France, and one from James River to the eastward, both of which have been much read in England-he now resides in Indiana

Mr. G. declared to me, indignantly, that he must abandon his native country, where titled wealth trampled down his and his family's rights. His object then was to visit the western states and select a future residence in a state where slavery did not exist. He mentioned he should take Upper Canada first, to visit his connection, Col. Clark, of Niagara, who commanded a regiment on that side last war, and whose mills were burnt during that contest. Other views, however, appear to have arrested Mr. Gourlay's projected tour.

I shall close this sketch by adding, that Robert Gourlay is a man well calculated. for the object he has undertaken. He holds a ready pen; he writes in a style of considerable force and pungency; he possesses a mind of energy and exertion, and a body capable to endure much fatigue. Although bold and decisive in his political opinions, he acts from real principle; there is not a particle of designing mischief lurking about him; in conversation he possesses a frank and honest zeal, the true basis of popular ora ory, with pleasing off hand manners. And he is one of three schoolfellows who will do honor to Fifeshire-The two others are Dr Chalmers, the present famous Presbyterian Minister of Glasgow, and David Wilkie, Royal Academician, the no less famous painter of the day, in a style unique, and entirely his own.

DETAIL OF THE BATTLE OF MAIPU. Despatch from his Excellency the Captain General of the Andes to the Supreme Government

MOST EXCELLENT SIR-The unexpected event of the night of the 19th ult. in the Cancha Rayada, put in jeopardy the liberty of Chili. It was, indeed, a frightful scene, to see the dispersion of an army, composed of valiant men, full of discipline and instruction, without being beaten.

Since I opened the campaign, I have been so gratified that I looked on victory as certain, and all my movements were always directed to have it complete and decisive. The heavy mass of enemy's cavalry, situated in Their occurrence this year is traced to the enemy, since he abandoned Curico, did not find any position capable of preventing our forces from molesting him in his flanks, and threatening to turn him. Accordingly, both armies fell together, on the 19th, upon Tal ca, making it impossible to undertake a retreat, or cross over the river Maule.

This situation, the most desperate, became, by an accident, the most favorable. Our columns of infantry did not reach us until sunset, and at that hour it became impossible to undertake an attack on the town. The army was then formed provisionally in two lines, whilst we were reconnoitering for the most advantageous position that it could be Coquimbo, gave a new impulse to our line, recently drew bills for 3000/. by the way of placed in, which having selected, I ordered which fell upon the enemy with more spirit Frankfort on a banker in London, and they the right wing to occupy it; but this move-ment was badly executed, and the left was brisker attack has been witnessed, nor a draft for 10,0002 signed Napoleon, was latebeginning to follow it, when a most brisk and desperate attack from the enemy put in total confusion our baggage and artillery, which were then moving. It was then nipe o'clock, P. Our right had not been much harrassed, and Col. Las Heras had the glory of conducting and withdrawing in good order the corps of infantry and artillery that composed it. This was the only support that remained to us on my arrival at Chimbarougo. I then pursued every effectual means to effect a reunion on the neck of Regulemn. The head quarters were placed at San Fernando.

Here I remained two days, and I can assure your Excellency our situation was a most embarrassing one. THE BRITISH MONARCHY. The Earl of Liverpool lately observed, in the House of Lords, that, since the death of the late Princess Charlotte, the question which every man put to his neighbour in England, was, what was to become of the succession to the throne? It was a remarkable fact, that, though his majesty had been blessed by providence with a numerous progeny, yet of his twelve children now living, namely 7 sons and 5 daughters, although the youngest of the sons was 44 years of age, and none of the daughters under forty, yet there were at the present moment no living descendants of the royal family.

Mr. Canning, in the House of Commons, urged the royal allowance, and observed, 'That no man could doubt that it never would have been in the contemplation of his contract the alliance under discussion, if it had not been pressed on him as an act of public duty. His Royal Highness's utmost means as would prevent him from incurring debt, and in that odious way becoming a. burden to his country. His Royal Highness had voluntarily, and by arrangements of his, set apart a portion of his present income to pay the interest of his debts, to insure his life for the security of his creditors, and gradually to liquidate their amount. Had it not been for this alliance, therefore he would not ed, not for his private desire and gratifica-to any kind of pot or pearlash now in use; it gives a delicate whiter era to linen, without the slightest injury, and never, unless excess is used, has any effect upon the hands. To glasses, decanters, table spoons, &c. it gives a Listre equal to the highest polish, and without labor, if washed in water in which a small quantity has been dissolved, and in every instance where beauty depends on cleanliness, it is particularly useful.

A French trader resident in Oxford, of the name of Ducane, called on Mr. Wickham, a Mercer who lived opposite Univercould not recollect the name of the materialhe wished for. He said he thought it was "de Englis for de diable." Mr. Wickham mentioned seven names of his infernal highno, it was not dat" was the reply. At length

FROM WEST FLORIDA.

BAVNANAH, June 18.

We have just been informed that an express reached Amelia Island a few days since, who left general Jackson with the army, on the evening of the 20th ultimo, before Pensacola, where he had just arrived. He had sent in a flag demanding its surrender, which the commandant peremptorily refusing, the general was making preparations to take the fortress by storm on the following morning. The result cannot be doubtful. All opposition bends to his genius.

"Things go on in this country much in the old way. Trade is better. Within five miles of where I live, there are sixty blast furnaces now in full work; each making at least 50 tons of pig iron weekly. MAY 27. Messrs. Grantlands-I take the liberty of informing you that General Jackson took possession of the Spanish town of Pensacola, on Sunday, about ten o'clock, without the fire of a gun. The governor of the place and some of the inhabitants have betaken themselves to the Barancas with a determination to maintain the post, as long as possible. The General was making prepartions to move against the Barancas on Monday morning, when my informant left Pensacola. His force is said to be twelve hundred, and that of the enemy three hundred. The Barancas is strong situated at the entrance of the harbor-but is commanded by an eminence on which there is a fort. The taking of the latter will insure the former; his soldiers suffered considerably before they arived at Pensacola, for provisions. They ad lost all to about 180 horses; but they are represented as in the very best spirits, and regretting that an opportunity of fightng has not yet offered. This is very pleasng intelligence to this part of the Territory. We are in hourly expectation of hearing someting further from thence-great numbers of our citizens left this place to day for the purpose of visiting the army, and to witness the fall of the Barancas. This may be relied on."

gives the following particulars of the capture of that post, by the army of Gen Jackson. PENSACOLA TAKEN - We received on Sunlay last, by a private conveyance, the followng important intelligence from our very attentive correspondent in the Alabama territory, who assures us that he had seen letters from persons who participated in the engage ment, corroborating the subsequent account extracted from an Extra dated June 2, issued from the office of the Halcyon, at St.

ST. STEPHENS, June 3. By the politeness of Dr Bronaugh, one of Gen. Jackson's staff, who reached this place last evening, we are enabled to lay before our readers the following General Order. The laws of the United States are in full force at Pensacola-a custom house established, and Capt. Gadsden appointed Collector.

HEAD QUARTERS, DIVISION OF THE SOUTH. Adjutant General's Office, Barancas, May 29, 1818.

FELLOW SOLDIERS,-You were called into the field to punish savages and negroes, who had in a sanguinary manner, used the tomahawk and scalping knife, upon our helpless citizens on the frontier. You have pursued them to Mikisuky, St. Marks, Sewaney, and lately to this place, through an unexplored wilderness, encountering immense difficulties and privations, which you met with the spirit of American solders, without a murmur. Your General anticipated a close of the campaign on his return to Fort Gadsden; and hailed the hour with feelings of gratitude to heaven, at the prospect of relieving you from your labors, by placing you in quarters and returning you to your homes. But how great was the disappointment, when he heard of the recent murders committed on the Alabama, by a party of the enemy from Pensacola, where they were furnished with provisions and ammunition by a friendly power. Under this state of things you were marched here en-countering difficulties which you alone can properly appreciate; meeting on the way the protest of the Governor of West Florida, threatening to employ force if we did not immediately evacuate the country. This new and unexpected enemy was soon taught to feel the impotence of his threats. You entered Pensacola without opposition, and the strong fortress of the Barancas could hold out but one day against your determined courage. Your General cannot help ad-miring the spirit and military zeal manifested, when it was signified, that a resort to storming would be necessary, and would do injustice to his own feelings did he not particularly notice the judgment displayed by his aid decamp, capt Gadsden of enginee s, in the selection of the positions for the batteries, and the gallantry of his second aid capt. nagement of the nine pounder, and that of management of the howitzer. Capt. M Keever of the navy, merits, (as. he has on several occasions) my warmest thanks for his zealous co operation and activity in landing two of his guns (should an additional battering train have been necessary) and gallantly offering to lay his vessel before the water battery, in the event of storming the upper works; his officers and crew deserve his confidence.

The General assigns' to col. King the command of Pensacola and its dependencies, and that part of the 7th department ying west of the Appalachicola and Chattahooche rivers until otherwise ordered by General Gaines - The colonel will take measures to have the volunteers now at Pensacoa relieved, preparatory to their return march. The Tennessee volunteers will be rationed for five days and will forthwith move for Fort Montgomery, where they will receive further orders.

The General, in taking leave of col.

"Letters were received in town from generals San Martin, O'Higgins and Belcazer, dated on the 26th, making known to the government their positions, but not knowing where each other were. This news produced much consternation here, and in all pro-bability had the Spanish General followed up this advantage, Chili would have been his; but it appears he suffered the Petriote to rally, and on the 5th April, the last action was fought, which was very bloody, and ended in the total annihilation of the Royalists in that Province. Immediately after the action, San Martin dispatched an order to Mendoza for the execution of the two Car-reras, (brothers to the General) who had been prisoners for many months.—This infamous proceeding at a time when there
