Spirit of Jefferson. BY W. H. C. HOSMER.

BY W. H. C. HOSMER.
 Sing on ! I love that olden lay, Though mourful are the notes and wild, It drives the haunting fiend away— It thrilled me when a child :
 Long buried gold the past reveals ; Charmed by the matic of that strain, My weary heart refreshment feels, And I am'young again.

THAT OLD SONG.

And I am young again. Sing on ! the land of shadows now, Hath raised its curtain dark and dim, Back comes my sire with furrowed brow, That smile belongs to him. Each old familiar word involves The Phantoms of the pictured past, And sighing through ancestral oaks, I hear the midnight blast.

A near the manight bast. Sing on ! for borne on music's tide, My soul floats back to other days ; From dust rise up the true and tried To greet my yearning gaze. And she, meek violet that grew In rosy boyhood's Eden lost, Springs up as if her eye of blue, Had never known the frost.

And noter known the nost.
Sing on ! entranced I hear,
While bloom once more earth's perished flowers,
And mother warbled in mine ear,
That song in other hours;
And when the sad refrain is breathed,
Her gentle spirit hovers nigh,-Fond arms are round the wanderer wreath'd,
Kind voices may reply.

The procession, numbering about three hun-daed, with appropriate regalia, banners, &c., pre-ceded by a fine band of music, belonging to Har-pers-Ferry, moved off about half past ten o'clock, proceeded to the Arsenel yard, which had been selected as an appropriate place for the presenta-tion of a Bible by the Ladies of Harpers-Ferry to St. Theorem Division St. Thomas Division.

The presentation was made, on behalf of the Ladies, by the Rev. Mr. Head, of the Methodist Ladies, by the Rev. Mr. Head, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, in a very impressive and ap-propriate address, commending the Bible to the favor of the order, and exhorting its membership to make the holy precepts of the sacred volume the rule of their faith and practice. The beauti-ful present was received by Rev. John F. Price, Chaplain of the Division, who gave expression to the gratitude of its members, for the high honor conferred upon them by the fair denses. conferred upon them by the fair donors, acknowledging in appropriate terms, their obligation to be guided by the principles inculcated upon its sacred page.

The ceremony of the presentation being over the procession moved through the principal streets of the town, to the Methodist Episcopal Church, There the concourse was so great, that all could not be admitted. The exercises commenced by prayer from the Chaplain ; after which the following Ode, composed expressly for the occasion, by Brother J. L. Carty, was sung with fine effect by the choir in the gallery.

The procession re-turned to the Hall of St. Thomas Division, and separated about 3 o'clock, for dinner; the visiting members being very kindly entertained by the members of St. Thomas Division. The day passed off without any occurrence cal-culated to disturb the general enjoyment. The occasion was one of free and unrestrained interchange of friendly sentiment and feeling, the re-membrance of which will long be cherished by those present. The writer of this is requested to state that Mr. Norris having understood that St. Thomas Divi-sion, No. 7, Sons of Temperance at Harpers-Ferry, have in contemplation the erection of a Hall, and feeling a lively interest in the prosperity and success of said Order, has kindly offered to exhibit his valuable paintings, viz: "Christ Heal-ing the Sick" in the Temple, "Death on the Pale Horse," &c., one night, for the benefit of said Division, of which due notice will be given. DANGER OF MODERATE DRINKING .---- Do not say that I exaggerate your exposure to intemper-ance. Let no man say, when he thinks of the drunkerd, broken in health and spoiled of intel-lect, "1 can never so fall." He thought as little of falling in his earlier years. The promise of his youth was as bright as yours; and, even after he began his downward course, he was as unsuspicious as the firmest around him, and would have repelled as indignant the admonition to beware of intemperance. The danger of this vice lies in its almost imperceptible approach. Few who perish by it know its first accesses. Youth does not see or suspect drunkenness in the sparkling beverage which quickens all its susceptibilities of joy.----The invalid does not see it in the cordial which his physician prescribes, and which gives new his physician prescribes, and which gives new tone to his debiliated organs. The man of thought and genius detects no palsying poison in the draught, which seems a spring of inspiration to intellect and imagination. The lover of social pleasure little dreams that the glass which ani-mates conversation will ever be drunk in solitude, and will sink him too low for the intercourse in which he now delights. Intemperance comes with noiseless step, and binds its first cords with a touch too light to be felt. This truth of mourn-ful experience, should be treasured up by us all, and should influence the habits and arrangements of demetic and social bits in come along of the of domestic and social life in every class of the community .- Dr. Channing.

Virginia Election. We have received no Richmond papers by the last two mails, consequently are unable to furnish the Table of returns which we promised in our last. No doubt exists now, that we have carried the State by a decided majority. The following is the latest summary of returns that have come to hand :-- " One hundred and twenty-six members elected, 68 Democrats and 58 Whigs-8 counties to hear from, which last year sent 6 Democrats and 2 Whigs. The Democratic majority in the House will probably bol4, and in the Senate certainly 8. or 22 on joint ballot,"

Favoritism.

We would at all times be the last to complain of the influence of friendship or kindred in private pursuits, but in the management of public affairs the case is very different. There, every species of favoritism is pernicious; every thing like personal influence, which interferes in the slightest degree with the discharge of a public duty, is detrimental to the public good, and yet this influence is seen and felt every where and every day. And though condemned and censured by every reflecting man, yet it is fostered and used by many who affect to condemn it. Even the Courts of Justice are not free from this penicious bias. It is often seen in the nomination of Justices of particular families, of a particular party or clique, when capacity for the office is frequently the last thing considered, and the public interest perhaps never dreamed of. It is seen in the appointment of officers, and especially those who might exercise some political influence. In such cases,—that spirit the most foreign from the purposes of honesty, party spirit, steps in, and banishes almost every other influence. At every election complaints are heard, in some quarter, against the Courts in the appointment of Commissioners of election, and if the preponderance is invariably given to one party, these complaints, all will agree, are not unfounded : nay, more-it is injustice, if not corruption. And it is immeasurably worse, if these, the judges of elections, are selected for the blindness of their party zeal, and the unscrupulous manner in which they manifest it. Banking institutions, too, are often perverted from their legitimate and proper objects by a spirit of favoritism. They are not unfrequently kept under the management of families, cliques, or some personal or political party. These have their pets, and give the cold shoulder to every one else; and whatever favors they can command through the banks, are almost invariably bestowed upon theirpets, whether it accords with the interest of the banks and the public, or neither. We would not be understood as desiring to exclude from the management of banks the members of any profession or calling legitimately pursued, but we see the strongest reasons why two members of a family, and particularly two partners in basiness should not be appointed as direcfors at the same time, in our inland banks. It has not been very long since, as we are informed, that in one of the towns in this State, where two banks are located, the spirit of favoritism, with perhaps some other causes combined, to place two attorneys, who were partners in practicing law, in the office of Director in these institutions, one in each, -and these attorneys were, too, the paid counsel of one of the said banks. It did not continue long, no doubt, of the impropriety of that state of things, refused to serve, although strongly solicited. We contend that the office of director should not be united with that of attorney for the bank of which he is such director. It holds out a dangerous temptation. His interest as a lawyer, conflicts with his duty as Director, and in addition to the influence which he may have, he has also a vote at the same board, and upon the decision of many questions before the board may depend another question-fees or no fees into his own pocket. We think that no man should be placed in such a position ; and every honest man, we humbly conceive, would shun it, and thus save himself from the taint of suspicion. We do not mean to contend, however, that lawyers should not be appointed directors in our banks. It is admitted that they make good directors ; yet we are free to say, that upon the principle that we should oppose the appointment of a number of any one class of our fellow citizens, so great as to give it a controling influence at the board of directors, we would guard most sedulously against an undue number of lawyers as directors; and in no possible contingency ought the appointment of any lawyer, whose shaving operations tend so largely to bring the profession into disrepute, be countenanced by an enlightened community. The evils to which we have alluded, wherever they exist, ought to be corrected, and we have no doubt will be, if public sentiment can be brought to bear upon the originators and sustainers thereof. If this should fail, the subject should be brought before the Executive and the Legislature, in order that some further safeguards may be provided by law.

A Modest Claim. We clip from the " Free Press" of yesterday, the following choice morsel, which we give for the inspection of our ignorant Democratic friends, in order that they may be informed in what light they are regarded by the Whig Press : they are regarded by the Whig Press: "JEFFERSON COUNTY.-There are one hundred and twenty thousand children in Virginia, who at-tend no school whatever. Is it surprising then, that the State continues to support Locofoco-ism 7 The good Whig county of Jefferson deci-ded, at the recent election, to establish "free schools" in that county—so to make sure that the picople would stand by the Whig faith." [Balt. Patriot.

This paragraph is taken from the Baltimore Pariot, but as it is published editorially, we presum the Editors mean to endorse it as their own. the first place, we do not know where the Editor of the "Patriot" finds his statistics. They may be true or they may not. We certainly have never seen it in any official or reliable statement, that there are 120,000 children in Virginia, who attend no school whatever. This however we say may be true. But " is it surprising," we, or rather the world is asked, " that the State continues to support Locofocoism ?" From this we are of course to infer, that all the ignorance is to be found among members of our party; or in other words, it is a modest way of claiming, as they always have done, all the "decency and intelligence" of the land.---We have only to say, in this connection, that we may be ignorant, but the darkness which envelopes us is not quite so thick as to prevent us from seeing arrogance and impudence, in this assumption of the "Patriot," and if to hold these in contempt be an evidence of mental obscurity, we have only to say, we wish not to have our minds illumin-

But it seems the "Whig" county of Jefferson decided, at the recent election, to establish 'free schools' in that county." We say nothing of the vote on the school Act, accepted by a majority of more than five to one, while the county, in politics, is nearly divided. We let this pass. But we wish to ask, who put it in the power of the " good | Whig county of Jefferson" to establish "free schools?" Was it a Whig Legislature, or a body of ignorant and degenerate Locofocos? Why did not these light-loving gentry, when they have had a majority in our Legislature, establish "free schools," and redeem our State from the ignorance of Locofocoism? Will our neighbors answer these questions, and tell us whether the " free. school Act" was the offspring of Whiggery, or whether it was the fruit of a good Democratic Legislature, of thirty-six majority?

Causes of the Panic.

The Washington Union publishes the follow ing from'a money correspondent, as the true causes for the panic in New York, instead of it being attributable to the passage of the Sub-Treasury bill by the House. The editor adds: "But the panic must be temporary. The Sub-Treasury will probably pass in a shape that will permit the Banks, except in very extraordinary cases, to retain the present funds of the Government deposited with them until they are gradually drawn out a meeting is called at the Court-House, on Friday by the wants of the Government."

First. The great expansion made by the banks within the last eighteen months or two years, one of the effects of which is to be seen in the increased import of foreign goods in the face of an expect-ed reduction of the tariff. Other effects are visible in different parts of the country. "Secondly. The callroad mania in England

An election of considerable interest was held n Monday last, for Town officers for the ensuing year. A number of candidates were " before the people," but the following only enjoy the honors appertaining to office, viz :--

Mayor.—George W. Ranson. Recorder.—Nathan S. White. Trustees.—Wells J. Hawks, Gervis S. Gardner, Conrad R. Starry, Wm. F. Lock, Wm. S. Lock, Adam Whip and Thos. A. Moore. The question whether the town should be watered by pipes, or not, was the contending point; and we are sorry to say that the "anti-water" par-ty carried the day. However, could the plan which was last summer in contemplation, be car-ried out for five or six thousand dollars, we doubt not the present Board would acquiesce, and it would receive the sanction of a large majority of our citizens.

The School Question.

The following from the Winchester Republican, is alike applicable to Jefferson as well as Frederick county :--

Frederick county :--It will be gratifying to the friends of Education to learn that the special School Act, passed for Frederick, Jefferson, and some other counties, has met with a decided approval--the vote being, in Froderick 1099 for, and 244 against it--in Jef-ferson 861 for and 180 against it. The School Commissioners will now have a duty to perform, to which, perhaps, it would be well for them to direct early attention. The act may be defective in many respects, but the experi-ence of a year will bring the defects prominently into view, and they can be easily remedied.

nto view, and they can be easily remedied. The speech of Sumuel M. Janney, published two weeks since, gave a fair idea of the probable expense of the system. For instance, the estimate of forty per cent, on the present taxes :--a rich farmer who pays $25 tax, would be charged $10 school tax, and would be able to send his whole family for that amount-whereas he now probably pays more than that amount for a single session of five months for one child. Mechanics, owning only a house and lot, might probably have to pay $1 for school tax, and laborers who cwn no prop-erty would have about 40 cents to pay, for which they can educate one, two, or half a dozen children each. This is a clear saving, tax though it be called.

But here is a conclusive case, presented by Friend Janney :-- "A widow has been left with seven children to provide for-all of whom are under 16 years of age, and at least four of them ought to be at school. She has about fifty acres. of land, which enables her to feed and clothe them, but she cannot afford to pay forty or fifty dollars per annum for their tuition, nor is she willing to have them taught as poor children, even if the commissioner were at liberty to enter them.--Under the proposed system, she would have to pay about $1,50 school tax, and could send as many of them to school as she might think proper." The following gentlemen are at present the School Commissioners of Jefferson County, viz :---School Commissioners of Jefferson County, viz :--Charles Harper, Jačob Morgan, Wm. G. Butler, Jacob Hess, Meredith Helm, G. D. Moore, Isaac Henkle, George B. Stephenson, Sebastian Eaty, H. N. Gallaher, Richard Williams, George Eich-elberger, William Grantham, John Humphreys, and John C. R. Taylor.

It will be the duty of the present Commissioners to organize the new Districts-fix on a time for the election of new Commissioners, &c., and next, for the purpose of discharging the duties that devolve upon them under the new Bill. We hope the meeting may be a full one, and that the Commissioners will be disposed to do all that is in their power to put the new law into successful. operation.

He was then removed from the bar, and in custody of officers Ridgely and Cook, conveyed to the penitentiary, and delivered up to the warden of that institution, having by no act or observation betrayed any feeling with reference to this fearful degradation.

Baptist Church in Charlestown. For the Spirit of Jefferson

ing has heretofore appeared in the 'Spiri on' about a Baptist Church in Charles vn. It appears that during the er of a Lot was tendered for the p town. It appears that during the stypes, the offer of a Lot was tendered for the purpose, and a liberal subscription was anticipated in the town and throughout the county. When the scheme shall have been presented to the members of that denomination throughout the State, and to the liberally disposed, of all denominations, it may, per adventure, meet with a cheerful support. In this State, and in fact throughout the U. Slates, a numercous and respectable proportion of the peo-ple are Baptists, as the statistics of the country testify. It happens that here the numbers are few, and their means too limited to construct a good and sufficient building. To the Christian, it is unnecessary to urge the Redeemer's cause, and the ingathering into the great family of the Right-eous. This house is not expected, nor is it wish-ed for it, to interfere with any other of its own, or other denomination of christians. In most towns of the size of Charlestown, at least one Baptist Church has been erected. The Churches now in this place are as liberal as those of the same de-nominations elsewhere; but it would be asking too much of them to give place for another denom-tion to preach in them, when their pulpits are co-cupied every Sunday, either publicly or privately, by themselves. The few then, in this vicinity, must forego, entirely, the pleasure of hearing their own preachers, or go to a distance for that pur-pose. Had they a Church, they could have stated preaching by respectable preachers, protracted meetings, and as is often the case, able missionareaching by respectable preachers, protracted neetings, and as is often the case, able missionary assistance. With these few preliminary re-marks, the following plan of operation is offered

1st. To present subscription papers to our fel-ow-citizens of Jefferson, asking their names and such sums as their circumstances and liberal feel-ings may suggest, to be paid to a committee when it shall be ascertained that enough has been sub-scribed to warrant the undertaking, and in such scribed to warrant the undertaking, and in such sums as the progress of the work may require.— 2dly. To appoint and authorize an agent or agents to visit throughout the State, to solicit aid, and get all that can be obtained, presenting a book, into which the amount of all monies subscribed and paid may be enrolled. Jefferson county has an in-telligent population, and liberal in their religious sentiments; a fertility of soil and beauty of scenery no where surpassed, and a facility of ac-cess rarely equaled. The field for attempting scenery no where surpassed, and a facility of ac-cess rarely equaled. The field for attempting the establishment of this denomination in Charles-town is perfectly free and open, and when estab-lished—by being in union with some of the Vir-ginia Associations—regularly visited by approved ministers, will be supported as far, and progres-sively, as means are afforded. Will not the Chris-tian's heart rejoice when all the good is accom-plished that can be done; and when souls are to be saved, will any Protestant say that none but us be saved, will any Protestant say that none but us be suffered to do it ? MR. EDITOR :--- We may congratulate the coun upon the triumphant adoption of the School bill acilities will now be afforded all those children who might otherwise grow up in ignorance, and pass through life in ignoble obscurity, of cultiva-ting their minds to a bright intelligence, and, like their prototype, Franklin, of illumining the world, with brilliant revelations in philosophy and science in their passage through it, and leaving behind them a name crowned with living memories. To make the system thus efficient, however, care must be had to select such Commissioners as care must be had to select such Commissioners as are not only qualified; by education, for the office, but who will take an active interest in it. To judge the future by the past, (and it is usual-ly a correct criterion, and I have no doubt is so in this instance,) CHARLES B. HARDING, Esq., realizes, in his qualifications, and zeal in the cause, the very character, whose services as Commis-gioner the prove should be arrived to serve sioner, the people should be anxious to secure; for he has, for years, given this subject the most unremitting attention, and at this time evinces the

Miscellaneous.

A BEAUTIFUL THOUGHT, WITH A BEAUTIFUL RESPONSE.—A lady, had written on a card, and placed in her garden-house, on the top of an hour-glass, a beautiful simple stanza from one of the fu-gitive pieces of John Clare, the rural poet—it was at the season of the year when the flowers were in their blacket beautiful in their highest beauty !

To think of Summers yet to come, That I am not to see. To think a weed is yet to bloom, From dust that I shall be !

The next morning she found penciled on the back of the same card !

To think, when heav'n and earth are fled, And times and seasons o'er, When all that can die shall be dead, That I must die no more. Ah! where will then my portion be ! How shall I spend Eternity !

OUR LAST RESTING-PLACE.—' Why dread to lay down this frail body in its resting place, and this weary, aching head on the pillow of its repose. Why tremble at this, that in the long sleep of the tomb the body shall suffer disease no more, and pain no more, and hear no more the cries of wan nor the groans of distress; and far retired from the turmoil of life, that violence and change shall pass lightly over it, and elements shall beat and the storms shall howl unheard around its lowly bed ?-Dewcy.

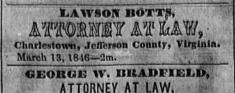

THE TRUE GENTLEMAN .---- Moderation, deco-The TRUE GRATHEMAN.—Moderation, deco-rum, and neatness, distinguish the gentleman.— He is at all times affable, diffident and studious to please; intelligent and polite; his behavior is pleasant and graceful. When he enters the dwelling of an inferior, he endeavors to hide, if possible, the difference between their rank in life. Ever ready to assist those around him, he is neither haughty nor overbearing. In the massions of the great, the correctness of his mind induces him to bend to etiquette, but not to stoop to adulation.— So far from being insolent to inferiors, he will ob-serve a scrupilous tenderness of manner towards -a care of word and action that shall lighten the burden of humility which they must necessarily feel, as much as possible; This refinement sarily feel, as much as possible; This refinement of heart is the most prominent characteristic of a high and noble spirit. It is the only mark of a lady or gentleman that is wholly unequivocal.— When we see a person very choice of his words, and very dainty at the table, yet capable of insult-ing the unfortunate, or ridiculing distress, we al-ways think of the ass in the lion's skin.

The Baptist Register tells a good thing. A loafing vagabond called at a house in a neighboring town to Concord, one Sunday, and begged for some cider. The lady refused to give him any, and he reminded her of the oft quoted remark, that she might entertain an angel unawares. "Yes," said the lady, "but angels don't go about drinking cider on Sunday." Hit him again. Hit him again.

CHRISTIANITY .- A writer beautifully says that Christianity enters the hut of the poor and sits down with him and his children; it makes him contented in the midst of privations, and leaves behind an everlasting blessing. It walks through cities amid all their pomp and splendor, their im-aginable pride, and their unutterable misery, a purifying, ennobling, redeeming angel. It is alike the beautiful champion of childhood, and the comforting associate of age. It ennobles the noble, gives wisdom to the wise, and new grace to the lovely. The patriot, minister, poet and eloquent man, derive sublime power from its influence.

FILIAL LOVE .- Filial love should be cherished. It has especially, a softening and ennobling effect on the masculine heart. It has been remarked that almost all illustrious men have been distin-guished by love for their mother. It is mentioned Miss Pardoe, that a beautiful feature in the character of the Turks, is reverence for the motl-er. Their wives may advise or reprimand, un-heeded, but their mother is an oracle, consulted, confided in listened to with respect and deference, honored to the last hour, and remembered with affection and regret even beyond the grave .--Wives may die, say they, and we can replace them; children perish, and others may be born to us ; but who shall restore the mother, when she passes away, and is seen no more.

THE FEMALE EYE .- John Smith says that the female eye has the following variety of expression : 'The glare, the stare, the leer, the sneer, the invitation, the defiance, the denial, the consent, the look of love, the flash of rage, the sparkling of the look of love, the flash of rage, the sparkling of hope, the languishment of softness, the squint of suspicion, the fire of jealousy, and lustre of ap-tempting and Messres. J. and S. E. Tabb, A. W. McCleary and D. B. Morrison of Berkeley; S. Spangler, of Warren; and Messres. P. N. Meade probation and pleasure. He forgot to mention that peculiar bashful glance, denominated 'sheep's eyes.

Thompson's Componind Syrup of Tax and Wood Napilan. The only certain remedy for the cure of Pulmonary Consumption, Chronic Bronchitis and Sore Throat, Asthma, Chronic Catarrh, Spit-ting of Blood, Pain in the Side and Breast, Diffi-culty of Breathing, Whooping Cough, Croup, Weak Nerves and Nervous Tremors, Palpitation of the Heart; also Liver Complaint and Affec-tions of the Kidneys. Of all the diseases incident to our climate there is none so universal and at the same time to in-sidious and fatal as Consumption. In this country especially Pulmonary Consumption is emphatical-

Is none so universitiand at the same time so insidious and fatal as Consumption. In this country especially Pulmonary Consumption is emphatically a scourge, and in its resistless careet weeps o'er the land as a destroying Angel, laying low with releatiess hand the strongest and fairest of our race! Hitherto all efforts to arrest this dread disease have proved vain, and all that seemed within our power was at best the allevintion of suffering, rendering somewhat smoother the certain progress to the tomb!
The proprietor in offering this preparation to the public, would embrace the opportunity to state upon what grounds it puts forth its merits, and the reasons upon which it founds its superior claims to the attention of the afflicted, that all who require its use may repose full confidence in its curative powers. Since its first preparation he has had the pleasure of witnessing its happy results in numerous instances; but he was determined not to offer it to the public until he had become thoroughly convinced of its efficacy. He now confidently offers it as a remedy without a parallel for the cure of PULMONARY CONSUMPTION and its kindred diseases.

and its kindred diseases. CONSUMPTION of a tuberculous character from time immemorial has been deemed incurable and considering its frequency and fatality, it is not surprising that new remedies and new systems of treatment should from time to time be brought under the notice of the profession and the public. Almost every organic and inorganic substance, in an endless round of combination, has been used with the hope of checking this scourge of our race, many doubless believing that in the progress of medical knowledge, we should at that obtain the mastery over Consumption; and, in the use of the Compound Syrup of Tar and Wood Naptha, this object is happily attained. The therapeutic agents employed in the compo-sition of this remedy, are such as enable it to pre-vent the scoretion of tuberculous matter in the lungs and to cause its resolution and absorption giter deposit has commenced, an object achieved by no other medicine, and the importance of which the professional man will at once perceive, since it brings this form of disease, hitherto pronounced hopeless, entirely within control. The success which has attended the administration of this pre-paration is unparalleled in the records of medical science, in confirmation of which, the proprietor would ask a careful perusal of the statements of a few of those who have been restored to health by its powerful agency. Let the following speak for itself:

a few of those who have been restored to health by its powerful agency. Let the following speak for itself: "I have used Thompson's Compound Syrup of Tar and Wood Naptha for some time in my prac-tice, and have found it the most efficient remedy I have ever used in Consumptive cases, chronic catarrh, &c., when great irritability, with weak-ness of the pulmonary organs, existed. The ra-pidity with which it acts is greatly in its favor where dyspnce or oppression exists, which is im-mediately relieved by it. "In Pulmonary Consumption it can be used with confidence, being applicable to every form of that disease, and I consider it a medicine well worthy the attention of physicians, and exempt
