

TAKE IT EASY.
Take it easy! Life, at longest,
But a length of shadow is;
And the brow as well as steepest,
Do not call to sorrow this!
Take it easy—'tis wisdom's way,
All your plans of wisdom lay.
Take it easy! Done with fretting;
Meet your neighbor with a smile;
From the rising sun to setting,
Live the present all the while.
Take it easy! Every vow
Make inference to "never."
Take it easy! What is hidden,
Or is wrong—or seemeth so,
Leave it, as a thing forbidden,
Out of which a curse may grow!
Take it easy! Never pry
Into what will cause a sigh.
Take it easy! Daily turning
To the monitor within;
On its altar, always burning,
Keep the incense from sin!
Take it easy! Never let
While you keep a conscience clear!
Take it easy! Ever leaning
To the side of truth and right;
Happiness from virtue gleaming—
Peace of mind from duty's light!
Take it easy! For at best,
Life is but a sorry jest.

Variety.

How to be safe.—Doctor said a patient, about five years ago, after reading over the prescription of a friend of temperance, whom ill health had obliged him to consult. "Doctor, do you think that a little spirits now and then, would hurt me very much?"
"I do not know that a little now and then would hurt you very much—but, sir, if you don't take any, it won't hurt you at all."

A man that has nothing to do is generally dependent upon those who are industrious for whatever happiness he enjoys. He sits at home till he is tired of himself and then goes abroad to rob others of their time—and he ought not to wonder if others sometimes evince signs that they are tired of him. If he begs his happiness from door to door, he must expect, like the beggar, to meet with a rebuff occasionally.

God's children are like stars, that shine brightest in the darkest night—like gold, that shines brighter for the furnace—like incense that becomes fragrant by burning—like the chamonille plant that grows faster when trampled upon.

One moment! What an effect it produces upon you! One moment virtue, crime, glory, shame, woe, rapture, rest upon it! Death itself is but a moment, yet eternity is its successor!

The TELEGRAPH.—During a tremendous shower at Philadelphia, the lightning is said to have come among the telegraphic wires like a rocket on a line.

Among those who saw this phenomenon, was an Irishman who had just turned out of his hair and gone to work on a building on Somerset street, over which the wires pass. "Och, Jah-ber!" cried Pat, "that's news iv a battle with the Mexican spallans." Any body can tell that by the blaze and smell of gunpowder.

THE CAUSE OF ALL MISCHIEF.—People may talk of the sword—the pen—the press—Gunpowder—there is nothing in this world that does so much mischief as the tongue. Therefore always

Have a care
Of whom you speak, to whom, and what and where.
The little troubles of life are not, infrequently, more annoying than great misfortunes. And how many bickerings, vexations and contentions would be avoided, if people would only reflect before they speak. Somebody has remarked, that God has given two eyes, two ears, and one tongue, in order that we may see and hear twice as much as we speak.—Raleigh Register.

A WISE FATHER.—One of our exchanges tells a story of an editor out West, who wished to marry a blue eyed damsel in his neighborhood, and like an honest man, asked the consent of her father. Of course the old man, as every prudent papa should do inquired how much money he could bring the bride. The editor said he hadn't got any money, but he would give her a puff in his paper. The father was satisfied.

A poor yankee, upon being asked the nature of his distress, replied, "that he had five outs and one in,"—to wit, "out of money, and out of clothes, out at the heels, and out at the toes; out of credit, and in debt."

DESPERATE LOVE.—It will be recollected that about one year since, a poet in Cleveland bust forth in this strain:

"I want a lady a nuther gal
her name is was maurice,
but betsy deer my liver u
12 40 times more lie."

Well, he has since come to, and day before yesterday he drowned himself.

SEVERE GRIE.—A young lady says that they may talk as much as they please about the virtues of the galvanic ring, but for her part, she believes that the wedding ring is the most potent cure for all young ladies.

QUEER CALCULATIONS.—The editor of the Yankee Blade says:
"It would be a curious sight, to see all the babies in the United States, under five years old, together; they would make a pretty little collection of $2,400,000. What a squall there would be, should they all be spanked at the same time, and what a heap of sugar plums it would take to quiet them!"

HOMELY WIVES.—You can't get along in the world with a homely wife. She'll spend half her time in looking in the glass; and turn and twist, and brush and fix, till she gets completely vexed with her own ugliness, and then she'll go right off and spank the baby.

She'll never be pleased with herself, and that's the reason why she'll be always fretting or scolding at somebody or other. She'll be quarrelling with all the pretty girls in the neighborhood.

And then she must have so many finger rings, ear jewels, flounces and ostrich feathers—so much all-fired expensive, flaring toggery, to make her look any way nice at all, that no reasonable man can stand it.

A lady, whose maiden name was Lamb, but who recently got married, met an acquaintance the other day, and thus addressed her: "Ah, Sarah, so you have got married, and changed your name, I find." "Yes indeed," replied she, "and in getting married, instead of being a Lamb, I find I have made a sheep of myself."

MORE OF THE EFFECTS OF THE TARIFF.—"Mister give me a pleasure, won't you? I haint got nothin' to-day."
In this way were we addressed by a hard featured little urbin whom we recognized as a heretofore vendor of matches.

"Why, where are your matches?" said we, "you had a full box of them last week."
"O, them," he said, "is domestic manufacture, and I couldn't sell none on 'em 'cause the tariff had passed, so I haint up on Monday!"—N. O. Delta.

VIRTUE.—The everlasting hills will crumble to dust, but the influence of a good act will never die. The earth will grow old and perish, but virtue in the heart will be ever green and flourish throughout eternity. The moon and stars will grow dim, and the sun roll from the heavens, but true religion and unfeigned will grow brighter and brighter, and not cease to exist while God himself shall live.

BECHWOLD TO IMITATE MARSHALL.—Disperse 2 oz. of dragon's blood and 1 oz. of aloes in one quart of rectified spirits of wine, and apply it to the surface of the wood previously polished.

Macaulay in his address to the electors of Edinburgh, at the hustings, alluded in the following manner to commerce and the country:
"It is my firm belief that the great principle of freedom of trade is the real, the salutary antagonist of war. It is my belief that if ever, in the course of ages we shall find nations agreeing to adjust differences, not by the sword, but by arbitration—that if the greatest of all evils—hitherto perhaps, a necessary one, but still the greatest of all evils which was inflicted upon man—shall ever disappear from the world, it will be through the agency of commercial freedom that such a consummation will be accomplished: and I believe that this pledge, this first fruit of our entrance on a sound system of trade, is that treaty which has averted a war between two kindred nations, and which will, I trust, leave them henceforth no other object of dispute than the emulation which of the branches of the Great British family shall do more to extend the blessings of civilization, of liberty and good government throughout the world."

A DEAD MAN DINGS.—The following ludicrous story is told in the London Lancet:—While residing at Rome, I paid a visit to the lunatic asylum there, and among the more remarkable patients, one pointed out to me who had been saved with much difficulty from inflicting death upon himself by voluntary starvation in bed, under an impression that he was defunct, declaring that dead men never ate. It was soon obvious to all that the issue must be fatal, when the humane doctor thought of the following stratagem:—Half-a-dozen of the attendants dressed in white shrouds and their faces and hands covered with chalk, were marched in single file, with dead silence, into the room adjoining that of the patient, where he observed them through a room purposely left open, sit down to a hearty meal. "Hallo!" said he, who was diseased, presently, to an attendant, "who be they?" "Dead men," was the reply. "What!" rejoined the corpse, "do dead men eat?" "To be sure they do, as you see," exclaimed the attendant. "I'll eat the case," exclaimed the defunct, "I'll join them, for I'm famished," and thus instantly was the spell broken.

A Good Test.—We heard a good story the other day which is too good to be lost. Farmer Dickens, for so we shall call him, one of our neighboring York county farmers, alike noted for his shrewdness, and pretty girl, was visited by Joe Jenkins, under pretence of trading oxen, while his real object was to secure one of farmer Dickens's daughters. Finding no way to secure his real object without a direct appeal to the old man, he ventured to pop the question, and received a most decided negative. Joe was not shrewd enough to manage for his girl. Joe, nothing daunted, pushed the trade in oxen, and in spite of the farmer's shrewdness, succeeded in a bargain by which the old man found himself essentially "shaved." At the next appearance of Joe at the farmer's, all was changed, and the old man at once declared that he might go ahead, for if he was shrewd enough to clear him, he could risk him with the sale. Joe went ahead, took possession of his desired object, and thus far has shown that the old man was not in error as to his conclusion. Great Falls Transcript.

Young Ladies Boarding School.
BY REV. L. EICHEMBERGER,
Winchester, Va.
ANGERONA SEMINARY.—The exercises of this Seminary for Young Ladies will be resumed on Tuesday, the 1st September. The instructions of the institution will embrace, as heretofore, the various branches of English, Classical and Ornamental Education. Pupils will have the benefit of the personal instructions of the undersigned, and as only a limited number will be admitted, each pupil will receive such attention as must secure satisfactory progress.
Heretofore, the expense in most institutions, has been so great as to deter parents from sending their daughters from home to enjoy the advantages of good education. Anxious, as far as practicable, that this difficulty should be obviated, young ladies will be admitted into this institution at an average expense, not exceeding $120 for the scholastic year of 10 months, or $100 to pupils under twelve years of age, and in case of two or more pupils from the same family, $100 each, which includes the entire expense of board, washing, light, fuel, and tuition in all the branches of English and Classical Education. References to circulars, furnished on application, to the undersigned, either personally or by letter.

Lin's Balm of China.
AN infallible cure for all cuts, burns, sores, &c. The worst cut may be cured in a few hours by the use of this all-healing compound. Its healing qualities are wonderful. One bottle of this is worth ten dollars worth of all other salves and remedies in existence. The most severe cuts, which by delay might disable the patient for days, weeks or months, can be cured without difficulty by using a bottle of this preparation. It is a valuable article, requiring only a small quantity in application, that one bottle will last for years.
The above medicine is sold wholesale by Comstock & Co., 21 Cortland street, New York, and by J. H. BEARD & Co., Charlestown, and A. M. CRIDLER, Harper's-Ferry.

THE RIGHTS OF SLAVEHOLDERS.—The supreme court of Ohio have, in the consideration of the question involving the constitutionality of each of the laws of Ohio as were designed to secure the fugitive slaves from arrest, reaffirmed a decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, by which it was declared that "the owner of a slave, either by himself or agent, may pursue, arrest, and return him to the State from which he fled, without the aid of the State authority; and that all legislation which interferes with or embarrasses such arrest, is unconstitutional and void, all legislation on the subject being exclusively vested in Congress."

WOMAN'S LOVE.—A man by the name of Hamlin, of Vevay, (Pa.) who was in the habit of abusing his wife, was warned by somebody to leave the place in due time. This he did not heed—Mr. somebody and somebody's friends, went to the house of said Hamlin, and rode him on a rail to the river, where they put him in a skiff and transported him to the Kentucky side, gave him a dollar, and ordered him to leave. His wife the next day followed him, notwithstanding his ill-treatment of her so outrageous as to awaken the indignation of the community.

Bain of Columbia—For the Hair.
Persons who have thin hair, or whose hair is falling out, have here an article that will keep it from falling out, and increase the growth of it to a remarkable degree. This preparation was discovered some 18 or 20 years ago, since which time the sale of it has been on the increase. Thousands of bottles are sold weekly in the city of New York. It will keep the hair perfectly free from dandruff, and smooth and glossy. Its greatest virtue is in restoring the hair on the heads of those partially bald. It has been known to restore the hair on the heads of those who have been bald for years.

How's Liniment for Rheumatism.
ALL Rheumatic persons have very good reason for rejoicing, that they can obtain an article that will set all rheumatic complaints at defiance. We wonder that people will suffer a moment with this distressing and excruciating pain when they can find a certain cure in this preparation. The certificates that the proprietors have, would astonish the most incredulous. Patients, who have been laid up for years, and who never expected again to be about, in health or without crutches, have been almost miraculously relieved from their bed of pain, and restored to their friends, sound in their limbs and entirely free from pain of any kind. This is no fiction, but fact, and thousands who have used it can testify to its usefulness. Beware of counterfeits.
Sold wholesale by Comstock & Co., 21 Cortland street, New York, and by J. H. BEARD & Co., Charlestown, and A. M. CRIDLER, Harper's-Ferry.
