CHANGING PLACES.—It will be seen that Pa-

TERRIFIC STORM.

Key West Almost Wholly Destroyed.

From the New Orleans Pleasants of 23 October. Terrific Gale in the Gulf—Wreck of U. S. Brig Perry—Loss of Revenue Cutter Morris—Total Destruction of Key West—Fifty Lives Lost—Immense Destruction of Property.

The schooner Sarah Churchman, Capt. Braymore, from Philadelphia, via Key West, for Brazos Santiago, arrived at the North East Pass on Wednesday morning, the 21st, and landed Commodore Sloat and son from the Pacific, and Lieut. William C. Pease, of the revenue service, bearer of dispatches to Washington. They came up to New Orleans on the evening of the 22d instant, on the tow-boat Jefferson.

To Lieut. Pease were referred for the details of a terrible gale in the Gulf, of a fury unexampled, and from which we must not expect to hear all the deplorable effects for many weeks. We will begin with the gale as it was felt at Key West.

The gale commenced blowing from north east on the morning of the 11th instant. By 1 o'clock it blew a perfect hurricane. The tide rose rapidly, and the storm raged with incredible violence until near midnight, when it abated. On the 12th it blew a moderate gale, and gradually subsided. Every dwelling house, save five or six, at Key West, were destroyed or unroofed.

The Custom House was blown down. The Marine Hospital unroofed, and it is supposed the Government property destroyed to the amount of $300,000. The wharf disappeared, and the Salt works destroyed.

The U. S. Barracks were injured, but suffered less than any other building. Many families were turned out homeless, but the United States Quartermaster came promptly to their assistance.

The loss of life is great. Many were drowned, and many killed by falling buildings. Key West light house and building are entirely gone. The spot where they stood is covered by a white sand beach. Centred souls perished in these buildings. Sand's Key light house has totally disappeared with the buildings connected with it.

The light ship in the northwest passage dragged her murrings and went to sea, but she was recovered, and returned to her position. The agent of the underwriters was doing every thing in his power to save property. Very great danger is to be apprehended from the loss of the light houses to vessels from Europe, and the north, bound to the Gulf.

The loss of the cutter Morris is described to us in a letter from an officer on board. The United States brig Perry was in the same gale, or tornado, driven with resistless force before the wind, but was finally run ashore after all hope of saving her was gone, and in all probability will be saved.

All the lives on Indian Key and Key Baccas are saved, and it is hoped all the crews of the wrecking vessels. The captain of the cutter Morris saved the produce, the cargo of one schooner, and distributed it, through the Methodist minister, to those in need of the necessities of life.

All the warehouses are either blown down or unroofed at Key West. The streets are full of lumber, and not six out of six hundred houses but what are either unroofed or blown down. The current ran six miles an hour through Key West.

The light houses at this place and San Key were washed away, and not a vestige of them is to be seen. Some cotton has drifted into the harbor, and some vessels, loaded with cotton, and not yet heard from, must have been in the hurricane, and suffered from its violence.

A schooner with a new lantern for Tortugas light house is lost, with her cargo. All hands saved. The white water now extends sixty and seventy miles to the southward of Tortugas. The government will lose by the storm the revenue cutter Morris and brig Perry, two light house fortifications, custom house and hospital—not far from $300,000.

Many vessels doubtless will get ashore, from the fact of San Key light house being gone. Dead bodies are occasionally dug out from under the ruins, and none can tell how many there are remaining. As far as ascertained, fifty persons have lost their lives, and it is singular that so few are dead injured.

THE NEW YORK SLAVE CASE.

There still continues to be considerable excitement in New York relative to the slave found on board of a vessel from Savannah, Georgia. He was discharged on Tuesday from custody, on the ground that neither his master or an authorized agent of his master, was present to prove property and make the necessary legal steps for his retention. It soon became rumored abroad, however, that another warrant was issued for the arrest of the boy, and he was immediately hurried off by his friends to the building in Nassau street, which is occupied by the anti-slavery office. We copy the following description of the scene that ensued, from the Express:

"The Captain of the Mobile offered a reward of $50 for his apprehension—and the building, and the whole block, was watched closely by a large number of police officers, several of whom also got into the building, near the room in which the boy was locked up. It so happened that one of the benevolent societies, which has a store in the lower part of the building, were sending off boxes of goods, and it was suggested that the boy should be placed in a box and sent off on one of the carts. This was objected to, and the boy locked up in the cart proceeded up Beekman street into Park Row, but the police officers suspected what had been done and followed the cart. When it had got opposite the Park Theatre, one of the officers jumped on the cart and stopped it, opened the box and captured the boy, using him, it is said, rather roughly. The boy was taken to the office of the chief of police, where a writ of habeas corpus was sued out by Mr. J. Hopper before Judge Edmonds, requiring the Mayor to produce the boy. The captain of the Mobile then swore out a warrant for assault and battery, growing out of resistance the boy made on board the vessel, when the officers were getting manacles on him. He was conducted to the Tombs, and carried before Judge Edmonds and the Mayor and Recorder."

The case was then laid over till Thursday morning, when it was again postponed until the afternoon. The New York Journal of Commerce thus sums up the concluding scene of the slave case which caused so much excitement in that city last week: "Judge Edmonds on Saturday morning, gave his decision in the case of the alleged slave from Savannah. In this decision His Honor decided that the law under which the slave is sought to be detained, is unconstitutional and void. He therefore ordered the colored man to be set at liberty. The colored man had brought a suit against the captain for having caused him to be illegally arrested, and the captain brought a suit against the colored man for having subjected him to certain penalties under the laws of Georgia, by secreting himself on board the captain's vessel. A criminal warrant had also been issued by the Mayor against the colored man, at the instance of the mate of the vessel, for an assault and battery on the mate. After Judge Edmonds gave his decision, the various parties met in the Mayor's office, and mutually agreed to abandon all further or pending proceedings in the case, and let the colored man be set at liberty."

HINT TO WORKING CLASSES.—If a man 21 years of age begin to save one dollar per week, and put it to interest every year, he would have at 31 years of age, $650; at 43 years of age, $1,680; at 60 years of age, $6,150; at 71, $11,600.

THE TREASURY NOTES.—The Washington Fountain says:—"It is said that the Bank of Metropolis, the day before yesterday exchanged 100,000 dollars in specie for the Treasury notes offered by Mr. Walker in his recent advertisement."

THE GREAT BRITAIN.—The New York Observer and the Christian Advocate and Journal of last week, each contain a letter from different Clergymen (one of them Rev. Mr. Ashmead), in which the disaster to Great Britain is charged directly to the intemperate habits of the officers of the unfortunate steamer!

From the Bay State Democrat, Boston, Nov. 4, 1846. REMEDIES.—There are so many medicines of doubtful character advertised and peddled by the newspapers at the present time, that we should have remarked on the task we have now undertaken, were we not most thoroughly convinced, from our own personal knowledge, of the facts which we state below. It is "Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry" that we would speak, and we speak advisedly. A lady of our acquaintance, who we saw every day, was a short time since, in what we thought a precarious, if not a dangerous state of health. A cough had settled on her lungs; her form seemed wasting away; she was obliged to abandon her work, and we thought, not soon to resume it again. For about two months she has been taking Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and already she has so far regained her health as to be able to resume her labors. This is but a single case, but it is one, at least, in which we cannot doubt the efficacy of the medicine. Nov. 5.

A fresh supply of the above Balsam, on hand and for sale by J. H. BEARD, Charleston. Nov. 5.

WILL be sold at Public Sale, at the Court-house in Charleston, on MONDAY the 16th instant, (Court-day,) a quantity of useful Household & Kitchen Furniture, the property of George C. The Semi-Weekly Union will be published every Monday and Thursday during the recess of Congress, at $5 per annum. It contains all the matter contained in the "Daily Union," except local advertisements. During the session of Congress three numbers, instead of two, will be issued, without any extra charge to subscribers. The Weekly Union will be essentially enlarged, and issued at $2 per annum. THE FALLEN LEAVES.

BY MISS RAY.
Westward the fallen leaves,
Young children at our play,
And laugh to see the yellow things
Go rustling on their way.

WE stand among the fallen leaves
In youth's enchanted spring—
When hope (who wears at the last)
First spreads her eagle wing.

WE stand among the fallen leaves
In manhood's laughing spring—
When the merry, merry days begin
To love "the olden time."

WE stand among the fallen leaves
In womanhood's laughing spring—
When the merry, merry days begin
To love "the olden time."

CHRISTMAS ON FRIDAY.—Our great holiday falls on Friday this year, and if old writers and legends are to be believed, it signifies a hard win-
