General Intelligence.

THE BOUNDARY OF TEXAS. Niles' Register of August 17, 1816, (vol. 10. p. 402,) contains extracts from a memorial, address-cd to the Spanish Cortes in 1815, before Mexico declared her independence, in reference to Coahu-ila, Texas, and the adjacent countries, by Dox M. B. DE ARISPE, a Spaniard, who had visited those B. DE ARISES, a Spaniard, who had visited those parts. He states expressly that Coahuila (which then included Chihuahua) is separated from Texas by the Rio Brayo del Norte, commonly called Rio Grande. Also, that the Government of Texas, &c., under Spain, was entirely distinct from the Vice Royalty of Mexico, Texas not being deswerts not to Mexico.

deemed a part of Mexico.

This document, connected with other known facts, will serve to show: 1st. That the Rio Grande was the boundary of Texas. 2d. That in 1836, the date of Texan Independence, Spain not having acknowledged the independence either of Mexico or Texas, neither could trace its title to Spain, but both held sovereignty by the same title, that of the successful efforts of the people. 3d. That Spain, in acknowledging the Independence of Mexico in 1839, did not give her any title to Texas, because Texas was not a part under Spain, of the Territory whose Independence was thus acknowledged. 4th. Spain having subsequently acknowledged the Independence of Texas, that State, in 1845, held her Independence by the same rights as Mexico, viz: the successful resolve of the people, and the acknowledgment of the power to which it originally belonged.

A BOAT UPSET.—Eight Persons Drowned.—On Sunday last a party of our colored population, says the Norfolk Herald, consisting, as we are informed, of three men, (including the boatman) two women and five children, set off in a sail boat to visit a farm at Newtown, on the Eastern Branch. The wind blew in heavy flaws at internals; but it seems, the boatman was not admonished of the danger of keeping the sail up till he had research. it seems, the boatman was not admonished of the danger of keeping the sail up till he had passed some distance above the drawbridge, when in attempting to take it down in a heavy flaw, the boat upset and all were drowned but himself and one of his children who was of the party, whom he (being a good swimmer) succeeded in saving.

ROBBERY.—On Friday night last, the boot and shoe store of Mr. L. McKee, at Hagerstown, Md., was entered and robbed of from ninety to one hundred. dred dollars, in notes and specie. The entry was made by means of the storekey, which had previ-ously been extracted from the pocket of Mr. Mc-Kee while in the Methodist Church. The money was subsequently found on the person of a youn man of respectable family, and restored.

THE CRAFT REPRESENTED .- We believe that, as a general thing, no body of men under Heaven are more enthusiastic and patriotic than the prinare more enthusiastic and patriolic than the prin-ters—and none more willing to shoulder the mus-ket and march in defence of their country than they. The Pennsylvania Regiment will have at least fifty printers. In every company they were strongly represented; among the Wyoming Artil-lerists alone there were no less than fifteen, many of them personal friends and acquaintances.— Should an opportunity offer, they will render a good account of themselves.

[Holidaysburg Standard.

An accdient of a very singular character occur-red a few days ago at the Machine Shop of Mr. Wm. Hall, in this place, by which a young man named Mendenhall, from Pennsylvania, came near losing his life. He was engaged at a turning lathe moved by horse power, when the ends of his neck-handkerchief by some means caught upon the revolving bar of iron upon which he was at the revolving bar of iron upon which he was at work, and in an instant he was drawn down to the lathe and the handkerchief drawn so tight about his neck as to instantly deprive him of consciousness. At the moment of being caught, however, as if by instinct, he called to the horse who very fortunately stopped at this the first and only call the young man was able to make. When discovered he was apparently dead, and upon being released fell to the earth and remained unconscious for some minutes. In a few hours however. scious for some minutes. In a few hours however he returned to his work. One minute more in this perilious situation would have served to snap the tender thread of life ann usher him into the presence of his Maker. "Verily, in the midst of life we are in death."—Hagerstown News.

A SAD MISTAKE.—V. B. Howard, a worthy clerk in the post office at Dayton, Ohio, was last spring charged with purioning $200 from a letter which Messrs. Chambers & Harris, of that city, deposited in the office to be sent to Springfield, but which never came to hand. The charge against Howard almost drove him to despair. He immediately resigned and volunteered for Mexico, where, being of a feeble constitution, he fell a pray to disease and died on the march from Matamoras to Camargo. Last week the letter with the money, was returned from the dead letter office at Washington, having been misdirected.

THE FALSE HAND MAN CAPTURED .--- Olive Kelley, the convict who lately made his escape from Sing Sing, by means of a wooden hand, which he had carved for that purpose, and which was substituted in place of his own, to pass muster, has been arrested, and again committed to prison.

PROGRESS OF ST. LOUIS.—It is estimated in the St. Louis Union that thirty-six hundred good and substantial buildings have been erected by the corporation of St. Louis within the two last years.

THE PROFESSION.—It is calculated that there are in the United States 20,013 Lawyers, 14,680 Clergymen, ann 10,322 Physicians.

Dispensive Sours of Loapens.—Different nations have different kinds of loafers. The Italian loafer spends his time in sleeping; the Turkish loafer in dreaming; the Spanish in praying; the French in laughing; the English in swearing; the Russianin gambling; the Hungatian in smoking; the German in drinking; and the American in talking politics.

Col. Wm. R. King, late Minister to France, is spoken of as a candidate for Governor of Alabama.

Her heart has beat since midnight hour With a pulse that maddens rest;
Her brow is warm—her brain o'er weighed. With thoughts twere well to shun;
Turn down still more you taper's shade!
The solemn bell tolls—one!

The clock strikes two—What pensive might,
What majesty of tone!
Is that THE breath! Oh! slumber light!
No, 'its the night wind's mean!
Sleep! that doth calm the bosom's thrill;
Come close her eyes of blue—
Look! bid those warring waves be still!
The solem bell tolls—two.

The clock strikes three—along the air Hoarsely its sounds are borne!
They fall upon a heart of care
That chides the tardy morn;
That heart once full of light and life,
All glad and wild and free—
How may it brook this burning strife!
That solemn bell tolls—three. The clock strikes four-the sufferer pale.

The clock strikes four—the sufferer pale,
With dim and earnest eye,
Ah! how may Sleep's caim breath prevail
'Gainst Feever's fervid sigh!
But, joy! behold—Oh, joy! 'tis light!
'Tis blessed dawn once more!
Thy vigil heart has conquered night!
The solemn bell tolls—four.

Miscellaneous.

WESTERN VIRGINIA .- A writer in the New York Tribune, who is perfectly delighted with this region, writes thus concerning it:

"Western Virginia embraces about 400 miles on the Ohio river, giving thereby, through the varied rivers that traverse her country, commanding outlets Westward, while her Eastern outlets are now being increased by railroads from Guyandotte to Richmond, and from Parkersburg to the South branch of the Potomac river, there intercepting the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, and also the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal. This Parkersburg route, from all I can glean, will soon be carried into effect; indeed, so momentous is it looked upon, that at Cincinnati I was informed that a continued railroad route from Cincinnati to Parkersburg has been already surveyed. The com-pletion of this route will tend to control the entire trade of the Ohio and Mississippi waters, and also open the mineral resources of this Western Virginia. I would I had Stentor lungs to arouse Virginia from her suicidal lethargy to this acquirement. Her forests would then teem with our hardy Northerners, while the European mi-gration, I am confident, would seek for none other Westward than that of the Old Dominion. Indeed, I met quite a number of English and German families, good practical farmers, who had just arrived and were settling in this region. They told me that there were a great many of their countrymen coming out to settle in this region.

The crops are supert and abundant, consisting of what corn care and are a settle in the region. of wheat, corn, rye, cats, &c., &c., and fruits, and culinary vegetables of all kinds. There is nothing that our Northern and Southern States can produce, but what grows here profusely .-They, however, want more of our Northern enter-prize to develop the vast resources of this truly rich region of country." Sorrow and Sympathy,-Like a cooling draught to a weary traveller in the scorching waste, so is the sympathy of friends in time of trouble. We feel thankful when we meet with those who can forget their own ills, while they

We need not expect a life of continued sun--it would be unnatural. We must have clouds, rains, and even desolating storms. These are as necessary, mentally and morally, as physieally, to the production of a healthy existance .-But evils, though necessary, are seldom so great as at first they may seem to be—our interests are not so conflicting as they sometimes appear, and often, through misapprehension, we are grieved by that which, if seen in its true light, would be the cause of mirth, or a fit subject for ridicule.

Evils anticipated are often the cause of more pain than the realization of them—in this way they are doubled and we are made far more miscrable than we need to be. Gloomy thoughts are almost always unproductive of good, so that it is better to indulge in those that make a light heart and a bright countenance.—Neal's Sat. Gazette.

MARRIAGE COMPARED WITH SINGLE LIFE,farriage is a school and exercise of virtue; and though marriage hath cares, yet the single life hath desires which are more troublesome and more dangerous, and often end in sin; while the cares are but, instances of duty and exercises of piety, and, therefore, if single life bath more privacy of devotion, yet marriage hath more necessi-ties and more variety of it, and is an exercise of nore graces.

Marriage is the proper scene of plety and patience, of the duty of parents and the charity of relations: here kindness is spread abroad, and ove is united and made firm as a centre; marriage is the nursery of heaven. The virgin sends prayers to God; but she carries but one soul to him; but the state of marriage fills up the num-bers of the elect, and hath in it the labor of love, and the delicacies of friendship, the blessings of society, and the union of hands and hearts.

It hath in it less of beauty, but more of safety, than the single life; it hath more care, but less danger; it is more merry and more sad; is ful-ler of sorrows and fuller of joys; it lies under more burdens, but is supported by all the strengths of love and charity, and those burdens are delight-

Marriage is the mother of the world, and preserves kingdoms, and fills cities and churches. and heaven itself. Celibacy, like the fly in the heat of an apple, dwells in perpetual sweetness, but sits alone, and is confined and dies in perpetual singularity; but marriage, like the useful bee, builds a house and gathers sweetness from every flower, and labors and unites into republics, and sends out colonies, and feeds the world with deli-cacies, and obeys their king, and keeps order, and exercises many virtues, and promotes the interest of mankind, and is that state of good things of which God hath designed the present constitution of the world.—Bishop Taylor.

DYING FOR LOVE.—Some one, we think it is Streeter of the Star, thus discourses on the foolish-

Streeter of the Star, thus discourses on the foolishness of people killing themselves for love:

"We don't mean to go off life's hooks for love at any rate. We have been pretty near it thirteen or fourteen times, but thanks to our unyielding obstinacy, we always managed to keep death's skinny fingers from clutching us, and despair from the sanctuary of our thoughts. We should deem is hard enough grazious knows to perish for the the sanctuary of our thoughts. We should deem is hard enough, gracious knows, to perish for the sake of a girl who really loves us, but for one who did not, we should hate to suffer one choking sensation about the neck, or lose a single dinner.—We once heard of a man who, feeling one day some very distressing sensations, fancied he was sthe victim of the tender sentiment, but it was afterwards discovered that his complaint arose from having eaten too plentifully of roast turkey at dinner. This was a shocking fall from the parlor window of romance into the back yard of common sense and every day life."

HOW TO GET RICH.

The late Judge Martin, left his paternal roof at Marselles; while a lad, with four hundred francs in money as his sole patrimony. He rambled about the West Indies and finally reached North Carolina. There his money was exhausted, and to avoid starvation he got a place as apprentice to a printer. After three years service he was received as a journeyman and became entitled to wages. So well did he manage his affairs, that in three years he had laid up money enough to buy out his employer. Some years afterwards he came to Louisiana. Here while he was a Judge of the Supreme Court, he was also partner of a brick yard. After seven years his partner in the brick yard died. In settling their partnership accounts it became necessary to examine their books. It was found that every item of their joint household expenses was marked down from day to day, and that the whole seven years they had shared the same table together, they had each expended, on an average only twenty-five cents per day; including food and clothing for their servants and all other expenses of house-keeping. During all this time the Judge was receiving a salary of $5000 per year, besides large profits from the brick yard, and from his rents, and money placed at interest, his 400 francs have been since increased to $400,000 and upwards! The Judge lived a very poor man and died a very rich one. During the third of a century he held office, he had to decide upon immense interests submitted to the Court and no one ever supposed that for millions of money his opinions interests submitted to the Court and no one ever supposed that for millions of money his opinions could be made to swerve a hair's breadth. His integrity was above the slightest suspicion from any quarter.—N. O. Bullentin. APPRENTICES.

"It is seldom that an apprentice who makes his master's interest his own, does not receive a re-ward by kindness and favors, while an apprentice; and in after life he is quite sure to be prosperous in business, and a respected and useful man."

The above is a "true bill," but it is not current with apprentices in these days. Their sole aim would appear to be to shirk the labor required of them—to pass their time as idly as possible—and if the master is indulgent, to impose upon his generosity. By not acquiring the habit of working quickly, they inevitably become slow workmen. By being late, morning, noon and night, they be-come confirmed laggards and are never liked by their employers. Lacking honesty of heart to make their employer's interest his own, he em-braces every opportunity for neglect, and thus acquires both a name and habit of unfaithfulnss.— For, know, young men, that habitual unfaithfulness springeth up from small beginnings, and what you may consider justifiable in the commencement, from its apparent insignificance, ere long grows to unpardonableness, in the eyes of long grows to unpardonableness, in the eyes of others. Be prompt, then, in the discharge of your duties, that when the responsibilities and self-dependance of manhood shall have crept upon you, the community may not point its finger at an irresponsible and unreliable person. See to it in the days of thy youth, that thy reputation doth not suffer, and thy conscience rusteth not, so shall thy days be long remembered with honor, and thy name as a treasure —Oasis.

name as a treasure — Oasis. WINTER EVENINGS .- We commend the following excellent remarks which we clip from the Weekly Symbol to the attention of our readers. They are particularly applicable to the present

"Among the changes which autumn brings with it, there is one which we always hail with delight—the return of long evenings. In summer, day and mid-night; and though a summer even day and mid-night; and though a summer evening, what there is of it, is very fine for a short stroll over the dewy fields of the country, or a city promenade in the regions of soda and ice cream; it can hardly be held of great value for any other pursuit. Give us the good long evenings of winter—no matter how cold and stormy—and if we can have a blazing fire, a supply of choice books and papers, and the company of friends and kindred spirits, we envy no man's bappiness.—Home, always prized, now seems doubly dear, and Home, always prized, now seems doubly dear, and all the cares and toils of the day are amply rewarded by the joys of the evening fire-side.— Happy the man who has a home at this season of the year; thrice happy he who loves it. "Let others seek for empty joys,

At ball or concert, rout or play;
Whilst far from fashion's idle noise,
Her gilded domes, and trappings gay,
I while the wintry are away—
'Twixt book and lute the hours divide;
And marvel how I e'er could stray
From thee—my own fire-side!"

Vonne men take care of your over

"Young men, take care of your evenings.— Learn to value your leisure hours too highly to squander them in the streets, or to waste them all in the pursuit of mere amusements. They may be worth to you more than gold or silver, if probe worth to you more than gold or silver, it properly improved.

"Now is the season to commence a course of useful reading or study; and an hour or two each evening, thus devoted to mental improvement, continued for a year to come, will effect a result which you now hardly anticipate. But you say you are not a 'genius—you have no uncommon talent. No matter for that. Geniuses are as scarce as the fable phænix—but one visits the earth at a time; and as to extraordinary talent, there is not half so much of it in the world as there is not half so much of it in the world as many imagine. If you have common sense, that is enough; go ahead and increase your mental furniture and make yourself a WELL INFORMED MAN. Every young man ought to aspire to this; and this is all we ask."

Luck .- Rev. H. W. Beecher says in one of his lectures :—" I may here, as well as any where, impart the secret of good and bad luck. There his lectures:—"I may here, as well as any where, impart the secret of good and bad luck. There are men, who, supposing Providence to bave an implacable spite against them, bemoan in the poverty of a wretched old age the misfortunes of their lives. Luck forever ran against them and for others. One, with a good profession, lost his luck in the river, where he idled awaychis time a fishing, when he should have been in his office. Another, with a good trade, perpetually burnt up his luck by his hot temper, which provoked his employers to leave him. Another, with a lucrative business, lost his luck by amazing diligence at every thing but his business. Another, who steadily followed his buttle. Another, who was honest and constant at his work, erred by perpetual misjudgments;—he lacked discretion. Hundreds lose their luck by endorsing; by sanguine speculations; by trusting fraudulent men; and by dishonest gains. A man never has good luck who has a had wife. I mever knew an early rising, hard working, prudent man, careful of his earnings, and strictly honest, who complained of bad luck. A good character, good habits, and iron industry are impregnable to the assaults of all the ill luck that fools ever dreamed of. But when I see a tatterdemakin, creeping out of a grocery late in the afternoon, with his hands stuck into his pockets, the rim of his hat turned up, and the crown knocked in, I know he has had bad luck—for the worst of all luck is to be a sluggard, a knave, or a tippler."

CHABLESTOWN:

Friday Morning, January 8, 1847.

OUR VOLUNTEERS. Monday last was a day of intense interest and feeling in our community. Capt. Rowan's company of Volunteers, having fixed upon that day for their departure, were in no wise disheartened by the unfavorable aspect of the morning, but at early dawn commenced the preparatory arrangements for their leaving.

A meeting of the citizens of the town, together with the volunteers, was held at the Court-house at 9 o'clock, where the resolutions to be found appended, were read, and responded to in a few feeling and appropriate remarks, by Capt. George W. SAPPINGTON. CHARLES B. HARDING, Esq., had been previously selected to deliver a parting address to the Volunteers, which he done in a most happy and eloquent manner. His address on the occasion was requested for publication, and as we anticipate the pleasure of laying it before our readers next week, we shall not attempt to give ty. even a summary of the various points descanted

During the meeting, a letter was received from Mrs. Dr. ALEXANDER, informing the Officers of the Company that she euclosed to each of them a Bible, and to Captain Rowan an order upon Dr. DEAN of Richmond, for a copy of the New Testament, for each member of his Company. This highly appropriate token of regard, was received with heartfelt gratification by the Company, and appreciated by the community, as creditable alike to the donors and the recipients.

After the passage of several resolutions, unnecessary here to recapitulate, the company was formed into line in front of the Court-house, and proceeded to the Depot of the Winchester Railroad, the President having directed, with great liberality, their transportation to Harpers-Ferry, free of charge. At the Depot, there were a hundred or more of our citizens, notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, who had met to take their final leave of the Volunteers, and give to them a parting cheer. At about 11 o'clock, A. M., the company was under way, accompanied as far as Harpers-Ferry by many who felt an interest in their welfare. At the latter place, their arrival was greeted by the firing of Cannon, and other demonstrations of respect. After dining at the Hotel of Mr. E. H. Carrell, the company again took up the line of march, and at about 21 o'clock were under way for Washington, in the fine line of packet boats of the Messrs. Moore, on the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal.

From the best estimate we could make, there were about 70, good and true men, who left Harpers-Ferry. Lieut. Avis had left a day or two before with authority to recruit, if necessary, and from what we have learned, we should think the company numbered by the time it reached Richmond 80 or 90 men. Col. Braxton Davenport, together with Col. Robert Lucas and Mr. John Moore, Sr., were kind enough to advance the money necessary for the transportation of the company, and the former gentleman accompanied them to Richmond.

achievements, if occasion offers, of our Volunteer corps. There are many young men of fine per sonal appearance, a high sense of honor, and a liberal and refined education, who must and will do their duty on the field of battle or elsewhere.

Those who have severed family ties and all the endearments which bound them to home, to do battle for their country's honor and their country's rights, have special claims upon the community for its sympathy and regard. If there be a wife who may need succor and support-if there be a child in want, or a widowed mother in distressthis community will surely not turn a deaf ear to their just appeals. Those who have gone, leaving so many ligaments to bind them to their homes, doubtless went with heavy hearts. Duty, as they conceived, prompted them to the course. and let us not now stop to enquire whether they done right or wrong, but so far as in our power render aid and comfort to all who may be in need of our kind assistance.

patriotic host, Capt. Geo. W. Sappington, whilst we have sojourned with him; and we recommend him to the support and patronage of a liberal and enlightened public.

Resolved, That we have the most implicit confidence in the bravery and friendship of Capt. John W. Rowan, whose zeal and exertions have been unremitting in organizing our body for action.

Resolved, That we tender our thanks to the people of the County of Jefferson for their kindness and attention to us as volunteers.

Resolved, That a copy of these proceedings be presented to Capt. Geo. W. Sappington—And that the proceedings of this meeting be published in the Spirit of Jefferson and Free Press.

From Tampico he will take up the line of march to San Luis, and effecting a junction with Taylor's force, he will commence the siege of San Luis with a force of fifteen or twenty thousand men. If SANTA ANNA is disposed to peace, the terms will there be agreed upon; if he is determined to fight, then there will be a considerable explosion of villainous saltnetre' in and about the walls of San Luis."

he will be hung. It is said that the convict and his victim were espectable persons, and maintained an influenial position in society, prior to the sad catastrothe which terminated in the death of one and the gnominy and perpetual banishment from huma ociety of the other.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL TREASURY .- The Constitutional Treasury Bill went into operation on he 1st of January, when under the provisions of the act, specie will have to be paid to and by all the receivers and disbursers of public monies. Persons having to do in the money way with the Post Offices, &c., should be prepared for the demand. With a little fluttering at first, perhaps, we shall find the law to work quite smooth in a short time, and in the end prove a substantial enefit to the whole country.

LIEUTENANT GENERAL .- We perceive that the committee to whom was referred the message of he President, proposing the creation of a new military official, to be styled Lieut. General, ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject. This is equivalent, we suppose, to the defeat of the proposition.

Force of the U. S. ARMY .- The Union of Saturday contains the report of the Adjutant Gen. of the U.S. Army, which shows that there were on the 5th of December, in Mexico and en route, 8,473 Regulars and 16,514 Volunteers, making a total of 24,984 in campaign. The whole number on their way to the seat of war was only about 1500. Add to these the regiment of volunteers just called into service, and we shall have more than 30,000 in the field, in all Mexico, about 20,-

000 of whom are to be with Gen. Taylor. NEWSPAPER DISCONTINUED .- The Southern Standard, a new paper recently started at Richmond, we regret to see, announces its suspension. for want of support, on Saturday. The Standard displayed much ability and bid fair to be a useful paper, but it could not exist without the needful.

MARYLAND STATESMAN.

We have received the first No. of a new Demo ratic weekly paper, published at Baltimore, by Messrs. Adams & Vanderford, bearing the above title. It is of large size, handsomely gotten up, and edited with considerable ability. It is published every Saturday, at $2.00 per annum, in for the Government measure. That the high Ta-riff party should be opposed to a purely revenue tax should consider the "Statesman" worthy the support of not only the Monumental City, but all those in the country who may desire an interesting weekly.

The Baltimore Republican and Argus, the firm their principles and prove recreant to their party and unflinching organ of our party in that City, commenced the new year with an entire new dress from the type foundry of Mr. Lucas. We are and McDowell voted for, and Messrs. Bayly, glad to see this additional evidence of its prosperity, and as there is room enough for both the Argus" and the "Statesman," we hope they may only rival each other in their devotion to, and advocacy of, the great Republican principles of which they are the faithful exponents.

The Baltimore Clipper, a spirited and enterorising neutral, has also been considerably enlarged and improved in its appearance. By the way, we have failed to receive the "Clipper" for some days. The editor will be kind enough to see that we are not neglected for the future.

AN AFFECTING SCENE.

Capt. Rowan's Company of Volunteers attended in a body upon Divine Service, by the Rev. Mr. HARRIS, in the Presbyterian Church of this town, on Sunday morning last. The entrance of the volunteers in military order, the reflection that it might possibly be the last time any of them should again be present at similar service, seemed to produce a deep feeling in the congregation, and there was many, very many, who could not restrain a tear. The eloquent and able divine, at the conclusion of the morning's service, addressed the Most High in a fervid and heart-felt manner. in behalf of those who were so soon to be among

FAILURE OF THE PROPOSITION TO TAX TEA AND COFFEE .- It will be seen by reference to the proceedings of the House of Representatives on Saturday that the recommendation of the President to impose a duty on Tea and Coffee has been rejected by a decided vote. Some other plan it is said will be proposed to raise the necessary revenue for Government, occasioned by the heavy outlay required to carry on the war.

FUEL.—It is stated that the area of coal beds in the United States is equal to about 150,000 square miles, the average depth of which is 49 feet, which includes only the good merchantable article. This enormous quantity is sufficient to supply the present rate of consumption for a period of not less than two hundred thousand years.

THE VOLUNTEERS.

From the Richmond Enquirer of Monday.

On Saturday morning, we learn, the Rev. Dr. Plumer delivered an eloquent and impressive address at the Union Hotel to the volunteers, who are about to embark for the seat of war. Yesterday morning at half past six the Richmond companies, commanded by Captains Scott and Carrington, the Alexandria company, Capt. Corse, and the Caroline company, Capt. Hankhead, took passage on the steamer "Curtis Peck" for Fortress Monroe. They were escorted from their quarters to Rockets by the Richmond Greys, Lt. Morris commanding. Dr. Wm. A. Patterson and quarters to Rockets by the Richmond Greys, Lt. Morris commanding. Dr. Wm. A. Patterson and Lieut Morris made some touching remarks, which were feelingly responded to by Capt. Scott. We understand the scene was a most interesting one, thousands of anxious spectators crowding the wharf, &c. At City Point these companies would be joined by Captain T. H. Archer's Petersburg company, which will make up the first battalion. Three companies now remain in this city, viz: Captain Wm. B. Archer's 3d Richmond company; Capt. Alburtis' Berkeley company; and Captain

It seems that the unfortunate man with a brother volunteer, John Bull English, were in the small boat of the steamer, which was suspended at her ide, rocking themselves in sport, and in the violence of the vibration were both thrown into the river. One was saved, but the other lost, in spite

The second company from Petersburg, Captain William M. Robinson, will be completed in a few days, and will no doubt be accepted.

MARCHING ORDERS .- Five out of six compaes of Volunteers now in Richmond, were on the Public Square on the 30th ult., and received from Col. Hamtramck orders to be ready for embarking on Sunday morning next. The 1st battalion w therefore take passage in one or more of the James River Steamers, for Old Point Comfort, where the entire Regiment will probably assemble prior to its embarkation for Mexico.

A large crowd was attracted to the Capitol Square to see the Colonel, and to hear him give his orders to the officers present. Dr. Henderson, a Surgeon of the U.S. Army, who has been stationed here for some days, was also on the square, and by the side of Col. Hamtramck, whom all seemed to regard as the very man to head our Regiment.—Richmond Republican.

THE BARRY CASE .- The Washington Union has the following notice of the Barry case, which is now before the Supreme Court of the United States. The grounds of his unbelief are, that the place designated is thirty miles from the sea and therefore not likely to be visited by boats from a man-of-war—that the In-dians of California, by whom the throat cutting is said to have been done, are the most imbecile, cowardly race of beings on the face of the globe, a thousand of whom would flee before ten American marines-and finally that Flores, who is named as the Mexican commander on the occasion is a miserable and notorious coward, who could not by any means be driven to the undertaking of any movement involving even a suspicion of persona

VIRGINIA LEGISLATURE.

Correspondence of the "Spirit of Jefferson."

RICHMOND, Monday, Dec. 28, 1846. The House met at 12 o'clock to-day agreeably to adjournment, and after an exchange of sainta-tions among the members, some unimportant busi-less was done, and the House adjourned. Turspay,-Several resolutions were offered o-day, and referred to committees.

WEDNESDAY .- This was a day of universal inerest and great parade in the city. It was undefstood that the Colonel of the first Regiment of Virginia Volunteers would arrive by the 12 o'clock train, and all the military turned out to receive him; and the whole population, of all sexes and ages, thronged the Capitol grounds to witness the pageant. The air was as balmy and the sun as bright as on a mid-summer's day, and the scene was one of unusual splendor. The Colonel was escorted from the cars in the centre of the line, accompanied by Major Gwynn, Major Thompson of Jefferson, Mr. Gallaher of the Senate, and Mr. Daniel of the Council. The procession, led by martial music, proceeded through the Capitol grounds to the mansion of the Governor, where the ceremony of introduction took place. As it passed along, the bosom of every soldier was cheered by the smiles of Richmond beauty, which thronged every window and place of observation ; the heart of Col. Hamtramck beat high with emotion as he felt that every eye beamed brightly on him. As the whole brilliant throng, with its stirring music, passed immediately by the windows of the Capitol, the members were all drawn out by the irresistible attraction, and did no business to-day. Col. Hamtramck is the greatest lion that has been in Richmond for many years, and his debut occasioned the most lively interest. Every body was anxious to get a look at him, and the ten thousand who assembled for this purpose, were unanimous in the opinion that he was a splendid looking man. Every body seems gratified with the appointment, and his friends are delighted. He said himself, that this was the proudest day of his life. May he receive such a wel-

When the House met, it was called to order by the clerk, who stated that he had in his hand a communication from the Speaker, resigning his office on account of the very delicate state of his health, which rendered him unable to perform its aborious duties. The letter was read and laid on the table. The resignation is to take effect on Monday next. John W. Jones was nominated. and unanimously elected Speaker pro tem. There was no business of interest done, and the House adjourned at an early hour.

The House met at 12 o'clock. After some few reports were made by the committees, Mr. Thompson, of Jefferson, rose and said that he was yet a young member, and not familiar with the rules of the House upon such occasions, but he felt that there should be some response to the letter of the Speaker, received on yesterday, and he had therefore drawn a resolution which he had no doubt would accord with the sentiment of every bosom

Goode, Esq., late Speaker, announcing the resignation of the office which he has filled with so much dignity, courtesy and ability; that we extend to him our heart-felt sympathy, accompanied by our prayer that he may be speedily restored to health and usefulness.

The House met at the usual hour, and an unusual number of members were present. They are returning to their labors after passing the holydays with their friends. The season of work is now begun, and they all seem desirous to expedite the business of the session. There was nothing of general interest except a resolution introduced by Mr. Haywood, directing the committee on Courts of Justice to inquire into the expediency of lessening the number of County Courts, so that instead of monthly, as now, their terms may be semi, or tri-monthly. Bills were brought in authorizing Robert Lucas and Daniel G. Henkle to return delinquent lists which they had failed to report in time to their County Court. That of Lucas passed to its second reading without objection; but Henkle's was objected to. Mr. Thompson, of Jefferson called a count and begged that the House would not reject the bill so summarily, but would let it pass to it second reading, and consider its merits more fully. The vote was almost unaimous for its passage. It will come up for passage to its third reading on Monday, and may give rise to some discussion; of which, as it concerns citizens of your county, you shall be duly advised. Yours. We have further correspondence between Gen. Taylor and Santa Anna, which we find in El Eco de Tampico of the 12th December. We have not room for it this morning, nor is any more than one passage of it important. Gen. This must be without doubt the preliminary of whatever negotiation may be opened; and it may be permitted to me to declare to you, that the nation, moved by a sentiment of patriotism, and de-termined to defend at every hazard and inch by inch its territory, will never cease to qualify as it deserves, and as the world has already qualified it, the conduct of the United States; and it will do whatever it can and ought honorably to deserve the little which it bears of independent and free.

TELEGRAPH TO NEW ORLEANS .- A company has been formed for the purpose of constructing a telegraphic communication between Washing-ton and New Orleans, via Richmond, Charleston, Mobile, etc.

A NATIONAL GOVERNMENT MASSACRED horrible massacre occurred in the city of Kata-mandoo, the capital of the kingdom of Nepau, in Northern India, last September. The Queen had a favorite, one General Guggun Singh, whom the King caused to be murdered on the 14th of September, at 10 o'clock at night. Her majesty was so outraged at the loss of her paramour, that she at once instigated the massacre of the prime minister, the members of the Cabinet, the nobility, Council of State, generals and chief men, to the number of two hundred! The King alone escaped, but his whereabouts was not known. single nobleman only was saved, and the Queen appointed him commander-in-chief. The Queen is the King's second wife. The male children by the first wife, who would have preceded her children in the government, were among those slain or confined in dungeons. Nepaul is a powerful kingdom, having about three millions of inhabitants. The national religion is Budhism; most of the people are Tartars, as may readily be inferred from the conduct of the Queen.

Several of the Northern press have spoken of Capt. Bankhead having gone to Philadelphia to procure members for his company, and they embrace the occasion to repeat the hits which they so much delight to give Virginia. We regretted the step on the part of Capt. B., and we believe that it was only prompted by an impatience to have his company filled up immediately, and not by necessity. Only a small part of the company came from Philadelphia, and as all were enrolled in Virginia, we learn that the authorities here felt it their duty to accept them.

If the press at the North would know how Virginia has acted in this war, let them look at the list of distinguished, killed and wounded, at Monterey. Although she had no regiment there organized by herself, yet her sons were to be found thick, fighting under the banners of other States. The famous Battalion from the city of Baltimore, (where the press comments upon our backward-ness,) contained many Virginians; four from one

PENNSYLVANIA VOLUNTEERS .- The First Regiment of Pennsylvania Volunteers departed from Pittsburg on Tuesday last. The scene was wit-nessed by immense crowds. The Gazette of that city says: "What added greatly to the interest of the occasion, was the departure of two Pitts-burg companies, the Blues and Greys. Ties of relationship, of friendship and acquaintance bound these two hundred men to thousands of others, and the rude shock of separation, when the propects of re-union were so uncertain to all, and when to many it was an eternal farewell, caused deep feeling and a very general excitement. Sons parted from fathers and mothers, husbands from wives, fathers from children, brothers from sis ters, and, in some instances, all these ties were centred in one individual, and had to be sundered. The scene was also in the highest degree anima ng, and was well calculated to increase the mil tary ardor among the youth of our city, already sufficiently excited on this subject. Cheers upon cheers rent the air, while the different boats left the wharf, and many a poor fellow put on a cheer ful countenance, and waved his cap, and shoute with the loudest, when his heart was full and his eyes overflowed."

The Year 1847.—The new year which has just come in is remarkable for several peculiarities which may be considered ominous by the superstitious. An exchange paper sums them up in the following manner: "The year begins with Friday and ends with Friday—that very unlucky day. The 4th of July comes on Sunday—very unlucky. For the first time in the 'recollection of the oldest inhabitant' there will be no full companies with a sittle delay as possible.

CHAS. G. STEWART. moon this year in the month of February—un-lucky month. Our national political day begins on Sunday, the 4th of March—unlucky day.— There will be no eclipse visible in the year—unlucky for the star-gazers. But as an offset for the whole, Jamary is to be blessed with two full moons, and March with a like number—this will be lucky, and will perhaps throw light enough over the dark features of the year to overcome all evil prognostications."

PETRIFIED HUMAN BODY FOUND .- We gather ed the following facts from a gentleman of intelli-gence and undoubted veracity, who was an eye witness. They may be relied upon as substantial-

A few weeks since, while engaged in digging well in the lower part of Lowndes county, Ga. within about a mile of the Florida line, the work duties can be increased, and what additional revenue would accrue therefrom.

Mr. Cameron remarked that he should necessarily be absent to-morrow, and he therefore moved that the resolution lie over until the day after to-morrow, which was agreed to.

The resolution of Mr. Bagby, instructing the military committee to consider the expediency of establishing a National Foundery at Tuscaloosa, Alabama, was agreed to.

The bill to complete the National road, and cede it to the States within which it lies, was postponed and made the order for Taesday next.

After an Executive session, the Senate adjourned.

House of Representatives.—Mr. Harralson had the unanimous consent of the House to make a report from the committee on Military Affairs, asking to be discharged from the further consideration.

The Markets.

BALTIMORE MARKET-

BALTIMORE MARKET—

BALTIMORE, WEDNEBALY MORNING, January 6, 1846.

DEAR SIR:—Our Flour market has further declined; sales on Friday, Saturday, Monday and Tuesday at 44.

S24, amounting to over 3000 bbls, closing with more sellars than buyers. Car price $4.50.

GRAIN—Wheat is nominal at 90 to 95 cents; this being a season when but little comes to market. White Corn 55 cts, yellow 57 cts for both old and new. Rye 60 cts; Oats 30 to 32 cents.

SEEDS—Cloverseed $4.50. Flaxseed $1.20:

White Beans $1. Beeswax 25 cents.

SAIT—G. A. $1.50, fine, $1.75 per sack.
PLASTER—$2.25 per ton, and advancing.

HOGS—Live Hogs are selling at 5 to $5.12; killed hogs firm at $54 for family packing. The quantity of killed hogs this season, have failen off about one-half from last year.

CATTLE—Sales at 2.50 to $2.75 per 100 lbs on the rom last year.

CATTLE—Sales at 2 50 to $3 75 per 100 lbs on the LARD—In bbls 7t and in kegs 8 cents.

TRADE AND BUSINESS. At New York, on Monday, the flour market was quite stagnant, but prices remained as last quoted. Genesee, and western ranged from 5 50 to $5 524; Southern $5 50; Richmond $6 75. Owing to want of vessels wheat is dull.

At Philadelphia, on Monday, flour was very dull; there was plenty of sellers but no buyers at $4.75. A sale of a few hundred barrels of corn meal is reported at $3.50. Nathing duing of any moment in grain,

DIABRIED.

At the U.S. Hotel, on Thursday evening, 31st ultime, by the Rey, Nelson Head, Mr. John Collin Unseld to Miss Ann Foley—all of Harpers-Ferry.

In Hagerstown, Md., on Tuesday last, 29th December, by the Rev. W. Monroe, Mr. W. A. B. Wrleh, of this county, to Miss Mary Janz, second daughter of Mr. George Chrisman, of Berkeley county.

Charlestown ex, dail

On the 31st December, at his residence near Thompson's Depot, Jefferson county, Mr. Thomas R. Hiskitt, in the 59th year of his age.

Suddenly, in Winchester, on the 2d instant, Mr. Wst. T. Wall, a worthy and enterprising citizen of that place.

On Monday, iast, after a few days intense suffering, John R. Beall, Esq., of this county, aged about 37 years.

On Monday, 4th instant, at Harpers-Ferry, Mrs. ELIZA-BETH GARRETT, formerly of this town, aged about 50 years.

Departed this life, on the 29th ult., at the residence of Mr. Thomas Campbell, her Grandfather, Berry, eldest daughter, of John J. and Mary Ann Monroe, of Clarke County, Va., aged about 14 years.

How desolating and afflictive is this bereavement to her parents! In her silent tomb are crushed their fondest hopes. She was truly interesting and intelligent, possessing a mind of no ordinary mould. But, alas! like the levely flowret of the vale, which blooms but to fade and die, so has she been withered by the untimely touch of death, leaving a vacuum which cannot be filled, and a desolation of feeling among her relations and friends which the hand of Time alone can soothe. Sweet child of my early friends! we give thee up to rest in thy kindred earth, until the resurrection morn—

Then, quit the transient winter of thy tomb,

To rise and flourish in immortal bloom.

On the 25th ult., at his residence near Berryville, Clarke county. Va., Grorge Heffensower, in the 83d year of his age. Long known, and highly esteemed in his neighborhood for his integrity and worth of character.

Mr. Hellebower removed to Virginia, from the State of Maryland, near forty years since, and for 30 years resided upon Audly Farm. Though too young during the trying times of the Revolutionary war for service in the field, he yet performed his part—having assisted at the age of 14 to guard the Hessian prisoners. This was one of the most pleasing reminiscences of his long life, and he als ways spoke of it, and the events of those times, with evultation. He died as an honest, man and a Cliristian should—with a lively hope of a blessed immortality. C.

MORRIS COUNTY, MENDHAM, N. J. Cottober 29, 1846.

Dr. SETH W. FOWLE:—Dear Sir,—This may be October 29, 1846.

Da. Seth W. Fowle:—Dear Sir,—This may certify that I am about seventy-five years of age, was born and have always resided in this town. In October, 1845, I took cold, and for six months I was afflicted with the influenza, and the worst cough I have ever experienced during my whole life. Myself and friends had strong doubts of my ever recovering. I got a bottle of Schenck's Syrup; it done me'no good. I then applied to a physician, who prescribed for me saveral times, but did not cure me. At last my physician advised me to take Br. Wistar's Celebrated Balsam of Wild Cherry, which has performed so many remarkable curea. I did so, and I believe that saved my life, my cough left me entirely, when I had taken a single bottle. I am now enjoying good health. If I ever again have a similar attack, or any of my family. I shall immediately resort to Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. The physician who recommended this Balsam to me, was induced to do so from his own personal observation and experience in using it. One very strong case of cure of a young man occurred in this immediate vicinity, of which Dr. Homan informed me.

THE QUILTING. "Twas down at Major Parson's house, The gals they had a quiltin' Just for to show their handsome looks And have a little jiltin'."

Yankee lasses are the U-niversal airth bewitchin', They're good and true, and handsome too In parior and in kitchen!

There was deacon Jones' darter Sal, Squire Wheaton's dater Mary, And Gineral Carter's youngest gal, 'That looks just like a fairy!

There with Lucy White and Martha Brown And Parson's darter Betty, Femimo Pinkhorn, Prudence Short, And Major Downing's Hetty!

But if there was a handsome gal, To make a fellow's heart right, I guess it was by all accounts, Miss Carolina Cartwright!

Wall, while we were a whirlin' plate And playin' hunt the slipper, Jurusha Parsons went to git Some cider in a dipper. But just as she had left the room

And got into the entry,
She gave a scream and stood stock still,
Just like a frozen sentry! We all ran out, and there, I swow, Both huggin' like creation, Miss Cartwright and Sam Jones we saw, A kissin' like tarnation!

Oh, such a laugh as we sot up!

You never heerd a finer: Says I, "I reckon kissin's cheep— Don't you, Miss Carolinar!" I wish you'd saw Miss Cartwright blush, Jest like as if she'd painted, She sald—she had the collo—and In Samuel's arm had fainted!

And now, young gals, I'd say to you,

Darieto.

HOW TO FIND A CUSTOMER'S NAME. Any one who has as bad a memory for names as we have, can appreciate the difficulty of Mr. Jenkins, as detailed in the following story that we find without credit in one of our exchanges. We have frequently asked a subscriber, whom we ought to have known, but did not, to assist us in looking for his name upon the book. He always found it before we did.

found it before we did.

Scene, Store.—[Enter Stranger, shakes Jen-kins violently by the hand.]

"Ah Jenkins, how d'ye do? How's all your family? How is Mrs. J. and the little ones?"

"Pretty well, I thank you," replied Jenkins.
"How are the folks at home."
"All well, when I left," said the person who had addressed himself to Jenkins in such a friendly manner.

Now Jenkins thought of course, this is an old acquaintance, but for the life of him he could not recollect who he was; but not wishing to appear forgetful of one who made such friendly inquiries about his family, he continued in conversation, and tried to turn it on such topics as would lead him to find out the "unknown's" name, but it was

After conversing for some length of time on various subjects, our unknown got up from his chair and astonished Jenkins by asking if he had "got his bill made out?"

Now this was a "poser," for Jenkins had fully made up his mind that he was certainly some old acquaintance. But without saying a word, he took down his ledger, and commenced turning over leaf alter leaf, but alas! he could not get hold of the right name. So turning round again to our unknown, he observed he had some very queer names in his book.

"Yes," said the stranger, " there are some very strange names we hear of. Now," said Jenkins to himself, "I'll find out." So he went on expatiating and enlarging, and talked of every strange name he had heard of, but it was all in vain.

"If you have got my bill ready," says our tormenter, "I believe I must be going."

Jenkins was now worked up to a frenzy. So at his ledger he went again, and looked at the heading of every account. At last an idea

"By the bye," says Jenkins, "I believe I have you did spell it." you must certainly know how it is spelt."

"No I don't," said Jenkins. "I am in earnest, and its rather a curious name that of yours to spell, I have heard many persons try to spell it, but no two spell it the same.

And I should really like to know how you do spell it."

"J-O-H-N S-M-I-T-H," said the unknown.

N.B. Lanking fainted. N. B. Jenkins fainted.

FINDING STORE .- A chap from " the bush" was patroling the streets of Boston, a short time since, with a sheet of gingerbread under his arm and gazing at the signs; when one which was, labelled "general finding store," attracted his attention. He entered chewing his "gingerbread," and after a severe effort at swallowing, like a hen eating dough, he exclaimed, "I swow! you must be darn'd lucky chaps to find all these here things—I s'pose you aint found my umbriller nor nothin' are you."

FREDERICK II, AND HIS SEXTON .- Frederick II, had the following correspondence with the Sexton of the Cathedral at Berlin:

"I give notice to your Majesty, 1stly, that there are hymn-books wanting for the royal family; I give notice to your Majesty, 2dly, that I want wood to heat the royal pew; I give notice to your Majesty, 3dly, that the ballustrade behind the church, towards the river, threatens ruin. Schmidt, Sexton of the Cathedral."

REPLY OF THE KING .- I give notice to Schmidt, the Sexton, 1stly, that those who wish to sing may buy books for themselves; I give notice to Schmidt the Sexton, 2dly, that those who wish to be warm may buy some wood; I give notice to Schmidt the Sexton, 3dly, that the ballustrade towards the river does not concern me at all; I give notice to Schmidt, the Sexton, 4thly, that I wish to have no more correspondence with him.".

A Good one .- A friend related to us the fol lowing old piece, a day or two since; it is hard to match for incident and smartness:

EAPH GRIMES.—Some thirty or forty years since, there lived in the 'Heart of the commonwealth,' a notorious character by the name and style of "Crazy Grimes," familiarly called "Eaph ted.
Grimes," whose sole study and delight was mischief. One day Eaph took it into his head to disturb the court of Justice, towards which he harcely bored a deadly enmity, for having on a former oc-casion caused his ears to be cropt on the pillory, and with this view, mounting horse with boots and spurs, and pressing the latter into the sides of his steed, rode him furiously into Court then sitting on the ground floor of the Court House, driving the court, bar and jury, from their peace-ful seats, and filling the house with terror and consternation—the rider all the while leaning back on his saddle, and apparently reining in his horse with all his might, cried out "wo, wo, wo, you headstrong, lawless devil. I'll see that justice is done you, if I can ever get you out of the Valuable Jefferson Land for Sale.

THE subscriber being desirous of removing to the South, offers for sale his Valuable Landed Estate, situated three miles North West of Charlestown, (the seat of Justice for Jefferson county, Va.,) within half a mile of the Winchester and Potomac Railroad, and the Smithfield and Harpers-Ferry Turnpike, and also within four Miles of Kerney' Depot, on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, Containing 600 Acres. The Impromements consist of a commodious BRICK.

DWELLING HOUSE,

containing eleven rooms. The Outbuildings consist of a Smoke-house, Negro Houses, Stabling, &c.
There is a great variety of THURT EDICED growing and yielding upon the Estate besides every variety of Ornamental Trees growing in the yard.

The Dwelling commands a beautiful view of the Blue Ridge and North Mountains, and is very healthy, but few cases of sickness having ever occurred, arising from its local situation. The land is of the best limestone. From its location,—being convenient to all the improvements, so that all the produce raised upon the farm can be easily conveyed to market at little expense,—this estate is one of the most desirable in the county.

This land can be divided into two farms, giving both wood and water to each.

The subscriber respectfully invites a call from those desirous of purchasing land, as he is prepared to accept a price that would make the pur-chase a valuable investment, even as a speculation, to any disposed to engage in such an enter-prise. To a gentleman of fortune, who desires a country residence, an opportunity is now offered rarely to be met with.

THE SOUTHERN AND WESTERN Literary Messenger & Review, 1847 THIS is a Monthly Magazine devoted to every department of Literature and the Fine Arts. It is the union of Simms' "Southean and Western Monthly Magazine and Review," of South Carolina, with The Southern Literary Messenger.

The Messenger has been established more than twelve years,—much longer than any other Southern work ever existed,—during which it has maintained the highest rank among American periodicals. Under its new title it will strive to extend its fame and usefulness.

Its contributors are numerous,—embracing Professional and Amateur writers of the first distinction; so that its pages will be filled with the choicest matter, of great variety,—such as Reviews, Historical & Biographical Sketches, Novels, Travels, Tales, Essaus, Poems, Critiques.

Novels, Travels, Tales, Essays, Poems, Critiques, and papers on the Army, Navy and other National Subjects.—Party Politics and Controversial Theology are excluded.
Whilst the "Messenger and Review" addresses itself

South and West, and confidently appeals to them for even a more extensive parronage to the only Literary Journal of long and high standing, in all their wide borders, it is not sectional—having always circulated widely in the North and East, and almed at imparting a HIGHER NATIONAL CHARACTER to our Periodical Literature.

THE THARTEENTH VOLUME

Will commence on the 1st of January, 1847; and neither pains nor expense will be spared to make it eminently worthy of patronage. Among other things, it will con-tain a HISTORY OF VIRGINIA; and arrangements will be made for procuring a regular and early supply of Notices of New Works and other Literary Intelligence. Orders for the work can be sent

MONEY TO BE SAVED! The proprietors of this preparation say without any hesitation, that it is the best article in use. It will not only keep harness bright and soft, but will restore old harness that has been taken poor care of, tak-ing off the crust, and making it perfectly soft and pliable. It adds to the wear of harness or leather phase. It adds to the weaker harness of comes at least 50 per cent. It is an article that comes cheap, and is worth its weight in silver.

THE GREAT REMEDY FOR

CONSUMPTION. Colds, Coughs, Spitting of Blood, Bronchitis, Difficulty of Breathing, Asthma, Pain in the Side and Breast, Whooping Cough, Croup, and all Disorders of the Liver, and Lungs, Broken Constitution. Sc. Sec.

and all Disorders of the Liver, and Lungs, Broken Constitution, Gc., Gc.

THIS "Celebrated Remedy" has now, by its intrinsic virtues, acquired a celebrity which can never be shaken by the many quack "Nostrums" with which the country abounds. The public are fast learning that this is the only remedy that can be relied upon for the speedy and permanent cure of all Diseases of the Lungs.
It is interally sweeping Consumption from the land;
wherever it is introduced and becomes known, all others dwindle into insignificence. The public have been "lumhinged" long enough, and now resort to a medicine which the testimony of the most eminent physicians in the land has placed beyond the reach of criticism. It requires no bolatering up, by publishing columns of forged critificates—but it is enough to let the public know where it can be obtained, and one trial will convince all of its great efficiency in curing those distressing diseases above named, which have baffled the skill of the most learned practitioners for ages herefofore.

DR. SWAYNE'S COMPOUND SYRUP OF WILD
CHERRY was the first preparation from that valuable tree which was ever introduced to the public, and ample proof is afforded of its success by the country being flooded with "Balsams," "Candies," and "Mixtures," of Wild Gherry, not one of which is prepared by a regular physician, although they have assumed the names of respectable physicians to give currency to their "Nostrums."
Therefore the public should be on their guard, and not have a worthless mixture palmed upon them for the original and genuine preparation, which is only prepared by DR. SWAYNE, N. W. corner of Eighth and Race streets, Philadelphia.

Shepherdstown, April 3, 1846—eow 1y.

Hew's Linament for Rheimatism. ALL Rheumatic persons have very good reason for rejoicing, that they can obtain an article that will set all rheumatic complaints at defiance. We wonder that people will suffer a moment with this distressing and excrutiating pain when they can find a certain cure in this preparation. The certificates that the proprietors have, would astonish the most incredulous. Patients, who have been laid up for years, and who never expected again to be about, in health or without crutches, have been almost miraculously raised from their bed of pain, and restored to their friends, sound in their limbs and entirely free from pain of any kind. This is no fiction, but fact, and thousands who have used it can testify to its usefulness. Beware of counterfeits.

Baim of Columbia --- For the Hair. DERSONS who have thin hair, or whose hair is falling out, have here an article that will keep it from falling out, and increase the growth of it to a remarkable degree. This preparation was discovered some 18 or 20 years ago, since which time the sale of it has been on the increase. Thousands of bottles are sold weekly in the city of New York. It will keep the hair perfectly free from dandruff, and smooth and glossy. Its greatest virtue is in restoring the hair on the heads of those partially bald. It has been known to re-store the hair on the heads of those who have been bald for years.
