Now this great owner of golden store
Had built a church not long before,
As noble a fane as man could raise,
And the world had gisen him thanks and
And all who beheld it lavished fame
On in, christian gift and god'y name.

The more man passed, and the white lips dared
To ask of him if a mile sould be spared;
The poor man gazed in the beggar's check,
And he saw that the white lips could not speak.
He stood for a moment, but not to pause.
On the truth of the tale, or the parish laws,
He was seeking to give—though it was but small,
For a penny, a single penny was all;
But he gave it with a kindly word,
Whilst the warmest palse in his breast was stirred;
'Twas a tiny seed his charity shed,
But the white lips got a trace of bread,
And the beggar's blessing hallowed the crust
That came like a spring in the desert dust.
The rich man and the poor man died, and a large granary divided into garners, capa ble of holding 2000 bushels of wheat. All the buildings necessary for the comfort and convenumer of a family have been erected within a few years past and are in good repair. There is upon the farm a variety of choice fruit selected from the best nurseries and most of them now bearing, viz. apples, peaches, cherries, apricots, plams, &c. The land has been farmed exclusions. sively with a view to its improvement, clover and plaster has been freely used, and it is now in a fine state of cultivation. The Winchester and Potomac Railroad 11 miles distant, and the Bal-timore and Ohio Railroad 4 miles distant, offer great facilities for the transportation of the produce of the farm either to the Baltimore or District markets. The Harpers-Ferry and Smithfield Turnpike affords a good and safe route to

But as they stood on the crystal light,
The plumes of the rich man grew less bright.
The angels knew by that shadowy sign,
That the poor man's work had been most divine;
And they brought the uncertaing scales to see

GEOLOGY,-No. 2. Consistency of Geology with the M sale History.

Since the age of christian religion, the has always looked to the bible as his guide, and justly too; in there he expected to find every thing that related to his existence here—this tate of probation—this state of schooling—so as to prepare him to enter eternity in bliss, and he finds that, without preparation he will enter in wo; so far he has rightly judged, but he has one farther and rejected with scorn, and looked upon, with disdain, every thing that He (God, has revealed in His glorious works and in Hi no less glorious terms, that happened not to be according to his; the common interpretation, scorded in that sacred volume he has held out of the long and continued obstinacy and with as m ich firm ness as the resolute Luther, who hell out be cause the bible said that "this is my bo y;" that the bread of sacrament was no less the a part of the body of Jesus Christ, and the avariable answer which he gave to all the accuments which were raised to the contrary was that "this is my body." And so with the majory of the professors of religion as to the sciences more especially Astronomy and Geology, who inversaly exclaim that they are diametrically opposite to revelation; that is according to the fcommor acceptation of the words; and if such sciences are true, they pronounce the bible a mere fable -an ignis fattuus-a meteor, whose light is but to confound and amaze, standing alouf giving them promise of their near approach to everlast ing repose, but leading them into a rlasting bogs and mires. Yea, it is truly a light, a holy light, burning brilliantly, kindled by od himself, supported by God alone, whose varks here on earth, or in the firmament above, aware exem-plified to man, are fuel unto the righteous flame, making it more highly illuminated, shining with increased lustre, penetrating farther and deeper into the hearts of his people.

I have been at a loss, and frequently stretched my imagination to the utmost and have been unable to conceive why it is, that minis ers of the gospel have such abhorrence to the study of God's own works. They, I have no loubt, be-

THE HEART'S CHARITY. BY ELWA COOK.

A rich man walked abroad one day
And a poor man walked by the self-same way,
When a pale and starving face came by
With a pallid lip end a hopeless eye,
And that starving face presumed to stand,
And ask for bread at the rich man's hand;
But the rich man silently looked a kance,
With a gathering frows and a doubtful glance.
"I have nothing," said he, "to give to you,
For any such rogue of a chating crew;
Get work, get work! I know full well.
The whining lies that beggars can tell"
And he fastened his pocket and on he went,
With his soul unroughed and his conscience conte

The rich man and the poor man died, As all of must, and they were tried-At the sacred judgment seat above, For their thoughts of evil and deeds of love. The balance of justice there was true,
And fairly bestowed what was due,
And the two fresh comers through Heaven's gate
Stood there to learn their eternal fate.

But the balance kept an even sway;
And at last the church endowment laid
With its thousands promised and thousands paid,
With the thanks of prelates by its side, To see how the poor man could balance such good.

A cherub came and took his place The church endowment went up with the beam, And the whisper of the Great Supreme, As he beckoned the poor man to his throne, Was heard in this immortal tone— Bl-ssed are they who from great gain Give thousands with a reasoning brain, But holier still shall be his part." They know at Mr. A or Mr. B import good British, French German cloths; they don't know that Mr. C or Mr. D has so perfected his mackinery and processes within the last ten years as to make still better and cheaper American cloths-yet this is a fact. The merchant tailor is quite aware that to sue and be sued. he couldn't long continue selling for 85 a cloth he pleases for it. The jobber, the commission merchant, know that longer credits and larger commissions can be had on foreign goods than on home made ones. The dandy thinks a suit of Yankee cloth would be vulgar, and boorish, of the resulting profit. The Paris correspondent of the Landon News says that nothing is more evident than that Louis Napoleon stands in bodily fear. His carriage is ball proof-at the Theatre he is coldly received -his receptions at the Elysee have been abandoned-all the chimneys of the palace are covered with an iron frame work, to prevent the descent of bomb shells or demagogues! The reports that the Northern powers of Europe have intimated to Louis Napoleon that hey would insist upon the execution of the chause of the treaty of Vienna, interdicting elevation to the throne of France to any representa-tive of the Emperor Napoleon, is not credited in that the Czar has addressed to Louis Napoleon an autograph letter, felicitating him upon the act of 2d December, as one by which he saved was threatened. The Paris ministerial journals report that M. de Persiany, the intimate counsel-lor and friend of the President is now absent upon a mission; the object of which is to solicit from the Emperor of Russia, for Louis Napoleon. in marriage, the hand of the Princess Wasa, the Emperor's niece.

The Landon Examiner of a late date coptains The Landon Examines of a late date contains a curious analysis of this recent heavy vote in favor of Louis Napoleon. In this, by the aid of the census returns, it is known that the Preatest possible number inscribed as electors capable of voting was only 372,599 beyond the numbers who are asserted to have voted. This would, indeed, Bwartzwelder, Wm. J. Rea.

The following is the quotation of Hides and Bole Leather in Richmond. By the way, why is it, that the Baltimore papers farnish no quotations as to the price in that market? We are frequently requested to copy the quotations in Baltimore, but are unable to do so, from the fact that none are given:

are asserted to have voted. This would, indeed, indicate an immense system of fraud. It is impossible for a moment to believe that less than 400,000 of the registered electors refused to exercise the right of suffrage. Nevertheless, all was comparatively quiet in France as the last dates, and this, too, despits the fact that the Usurper was every day manifesting a still more insolent spirit of dictation and despotism.

CONSTITUTION OF FRANCE.

By the new Constitution of France just promulgated by Louis Napoleon, the people are literally stripped of all power, and the whole authority of the nation, executive, legislative and judicial, is placed in the hands of this President for ten years. The government of France is now an unmitigated despotism; for the President, by the 6th article of the Constirulion, "commands the land and sea forces; declares war; makes treaties of peace; alliance and Commerce; appoints to all employs; sey's devotions to the Union.

Louis Napoleon has staked himself upon the experiment; but whether he will succeed or fail in establishing his authority remains to be seen. We doubt his auctority remains to be seen. We doubt his success; for we believe that, although there may be general submission on the part of the people, yet there exist some spirits in France who will not so tamely relinquish their liberties. Attempts have been already made to assassinate Louis Napoleon; and we think it probable, that, if there he no open resistance to his authority he will yet perish by the hand of some ope who may be anxious to rid the world of so great a monster. He has violated his oath and his duty—he has played the hypocrite and tyrant—and whatever may be his late, it will excite little commiseration with markind. MURDER AT CUMBERLAND.

A murder occurred at Cumberland, Md. Wednesday night last, the circumstances of thich are stated as follows : Sometime since, a difficulty occurred at a cofil-lion party, between Robert Swan and Wm. U. Sprigg, of Jos., which resulted in a challenge from Swan. By the interference of mutual friends the difficulty was however adjusted, as was sup-posed; but a recently published card, issued by Swan, revived past animosities, and Swan, armed himself with a double barrel shot gun, repaired to the hotel where Sprigg was boarding, and, finding him standing in the bar room, discharged both barrels, striking him in the head and causing instant death.

We also understand that Sprigg had spit in Swan's face at the cotillon party mentioned and that he declined to render the satisfaction for the insult which Swan demanded. The latter served as a Lieutenant in the Mexican war, and wounded an antagonist in a duel in Mexico. Both parties are respectfully connect ed, and much excitement prevails in Cumberand owing to the fatal termination of the tra-

Our record of deaths for the last month or siz weeks, has exhibited an unusual and mournful mortality amongst the citizens of our county.— We do not know when we have been called upon to register so many deaths, occurring in our midst, in so short a period of time. This extraordinary mortality has not been the result of the prevalence of any malignant form of disease, but has been produced by the most extraordinary seaas assembled to day, to hear Kossuth. It was son through which we are rapidly passing.

Has time after time, secured for the correspondents of this far famed Prize Agency an independence for life. The poet has truly said—

Riches, without thee,

Life is a blank, all history silent.

Life is a blank, all history silent.

How many men, with spirits as noble, and sensibilities as fine as ever added lustre to the mind of man, have to little from day to day to earn a paltry pittaince for the support of a fund and doating wife, and his cherished offspring, until his constitution, worn out by incessant labor, yielded to the weight of accumulated hardships, and sent him to "keep with his futhers," bequeathing to his helpless wife and fatherless children a legacy of Poverty. Alisery and Woe. How many fathers look around on their growing children, unblest with the inestimable treasures of learning, and drop a silent tear, as the reflection in all its overwhelming force bursts upon him, that those "pledges of love" are growing up like untutored savages and he cairses, in the bitterness of his heart, the "fron Fortune" that has denied to him the means of educating his children, while it has enabled others to "chirance listening Senates with the hunders of eloquence." Is this picture of human affairs too highly coloted? We answer, no? And if you ask us if this ex parte apportionment of Fortune can be

Thousands have tried it, and in the history of some of the wealthiest families in the country may you read its efficacy. All that is required is "an order," (and the very first one may attain your wishes,) with an enclosure of cash drafts or Prize Tickets, to our worldrenowned and truly fortunate Agency, and with our in-tercession in your behalf, were you the most unlucky person in existence, Fortune will smile on your efforts. We have in the office now the $35,000 Prize, the $15,000 prize, both sent to S. Carolina, and the $4.250 sent to Nashville, Tenn., all Pall, and we shall be very happy to show them to our country friends who may wish to have the ocular demonstration of our great luck.

COUCHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, BRON-CHITIS, CROUP, ASTHMA, WHOOP-ING COUCH AND CONSUMPTION.

THIS remedy is offered to the community with the confidence we feel in an article which seldom fails to realize the happiest effects that can be desired. So twide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous the cases of its cures, that almost every section of the country abounds in persons, publicly known, who have been trestored from a larming and even desperate diseases of the lungs, by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind, is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for cape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs, which are incident to our climate. And not only in the formidable attacks upon the lungs, but for themilder varieties of Colds, Coughs, Hoarseness, &c., and for Children it is the pleasantest and safest medicine that can be obtained. No family should be without it, and those who have used it, never will. be without it, and those who have used it, never will.

Read the opinion of the following gentlemen, who will be recognised in the various sections of country where they are focated—each and all as merchants of the first class and of the highest character—as the oldest and most extensive Wholesale Dealers in Medicine with an experience unlimited on the subject of which they speak. If there is any value in the judgment of experience, see

We the undersigned, Wholesale Druggists, having been for long acquainted with Ayer's Cherry ing been for long acquainted with Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, hereby certify our belief that it is the best and most effectual remedy for Pulmonary Complaints ever offered to the American people.
