THE STORMY FEIREL.

FROM THE KNICKERBOCKER, FOR JUNE.

Twas when in the morning

The rainbow gave warning To the sailors that traversed the wild raging sea

That the music was heard

'Twas a strange, wild thing,

With a motionless wing,

That touched neither ocean nor air as it flew,

But ever pursued, With its phantom-brood,

The white-winged ship and its dauntless crew.

I had watched her flight

At the noon of night, And wept for this bird of the tircless wing,

That hath no rest

This wanderer out on the wild, deep sea,

Of the sea, with its ceaseless swing!

On the heaving breast

And she hath no home

Where her chosen nest

When the storm pipes loud in his ocean glee!

Is the billow's crest,

It is said of this bird

That her wailing is heard When the mariner sinks to his final rest; •

And she glides away

O'er the darkling spray When the sun goes down in the far bleak west.

By the morning mist, When the sun comes up from his ocean stream, And she bathes anew In the bright foam-dew,

When the day dissolves with his parting beam,

For this storm-loved bird of the wailing night,

THE CRICKET IN THE WALL.

Hark ! 'Tis the small voice of the cricket in the crevices of the wall. How cheerful is his little song. What is the subject of his lay ?-

Is he chanting melody in the ear of his lady love, or is he pouring out his soul in an evening hymn? Is he singing the praise of some mighty insect warrior, or lauding the name of

That there is no rest

On the ocean's breast

Like the parting wind in its pathless flight!

That o'er the sea

Flies carelessly

That, her wings are kissed

But the snow-white foam,

Of this stormy bird

As she skimmed o'er the mountain-wave free.

Take Particular Notice. Dr. J. addresses all those who have injured themselves by private and improper indulgences, that secret and solitary habit, which ruin both body and mind, unfiting them for either business or society. Nervous Debility.

Weakness of the system, nervous debility and prema-ture decay, generally arising from the destructive habit of youth, that solitary practice so fatal to the healthful existence of man, and it is the young who are most apt to become its victims from an ignorance of the dangers to which they subject themselves. Parents and guar-dians are often misled with respect to the cause or source of disease in their sons and wards. Alas! how often do they ascribe to other causes the wasting of the frame, Palpitation of the heart, dyspepsia, indigestion, derangem int of the nervous system, cough, and symp-toms of consumption, also those serious mental effects, such as loss of memory, depression of spirits or peculiar fits of melancholy, when the truth is they have been indulging in pernicious but alluring practices, destructive to both body and mind. A well attended Convention, composed of citizens of Clarke, Frederick, and Hampshire, was held in Berryville, on Saturday, the 4th inst., in relation to the air-line route of the Alexandria, and Loudoun, Hampshire Railroad.

On motion of John Bruce, Henry M. Brent, of Winchester, was called to the Chair, and, on motion of Province McCormick, Geo. E. Sensency was appointed Secretary. The following report was read by Geo. W. Brad-field, that gentleman having been appointed, in conunction with David H. McGuire by the meeting held in Berryville on the 18th of April last, to collect and present to the public such information as will set forth the advantages of the proposed air-line route: To the Members of the Convention : The undersigned having been appointed at a meeting of the citizens of Clarke County, held on the 18th April, a committee for the purpose of collecting such information, and presenting that information to the public (capitalists and others) as will set forth the advantages of the route for the proposed railroad, upon or as near the air-line from Alexandria to Paddy town as practicable;" deem the present occasion, a proper and expedient one, to pre-sent the information we have attained on this subject and briefly to render an account of our stewardship. In the 1st place, we wereconvinced that the passage of the Blue Ridge, was the most formidable obstacle to be encountered in making the proposed road; and that the merits of this route could not be successfully presented without having a reliable survey of the sarte. Believing that the funds which were to be placed at our disposal, could not be more advantageously expended than in making this survey we at, once concluded to have it done. After diligent enquiry in re-gard to a competent Engineer upon the strong recommendation of those in whose judgment we had great confidence, we employed Mr. WASHINGTON BLYTHE of Frederick, to make the survey. He en-tered at once on the discharge of his duties, and has been diligently engaged in the work up to the present moment. His work is now completed, and he is ready to report the result of his examinations, and for all information on this subject in our possession, we refer to his report. We deem it but an act of justice to Mr. Blythe, to say that he has fully come up to the high recommendation given him by his friends. And so far as we are capable of judging in such matters, he has proven himself an able and competent Engineer. Besides this, he is a dignified and courteous gentlemen, and, as we believe, strictly conscientious in all he says or does. You all know that the Company has been organ-ized and the Officers and Directors elected; and are as well prepared to judge as we are, what havor we may expect at the hands of the company as organized. As you are wellaware, there are many rival schemes for the location, but as your attention may not have been particularly drawn to the subject, we will give you a statement of the number so far as we have ascortained.

NO. 24

1st instant : General Garland, who has been here, en route for New Mexico, has left for his important command .-He arrived here in much less time than was expected after he had been summoned to this place. He has reeived his instructions, and I conjecture that they emrace both diplomatic and military powers. He is idoubtedly to proceed forthwith to New Mexico, nd to march into the Mesilla valley with a force that will enable him to encounter Gov. Trias who is is there before him, and who is prepared to expel him or any other American intruder. It may be that Gov. Trias will retire before Gen. Garland, and that Santa Anna will suffer the United States to take and keep possession of that disputed territory. But such is not the apparent intention of the Mexicans: Our Executive Government have decided that the disputed territory belongs to us under the Treaty, and would be ours, supposing the line to be run from "a point immediately North of El Passo," Westward. It is of no use now, to go into merits of this controversy. I say again, that our Executive has decided the question, and it is to the results of that decision that we are to look. It is to be hoped that this dis-pute will be allowed to be settled in the manner contemplated in the Treaty of Gandaloupe, by running the line over again, or, in case of a final disagreement, to refer the dispute to the arbitration of some third party, But arms are now introduced by both parties in the dispute, and both parties indicate a resolute intention to settle the question by arms. Governor Trias may give way, but he has not oc cupied the Mesilla for the purpose of yielding it. He has not gone there with a force of a thousand men for the mere purpose of giving up the territory to General Garland. With a smaller escort he could do that.

We have seen the first Mexican war, and know its orgin, and its immediate provocation. The circumstances of the present case are similar to those of the former. The advance on Corpus Christs and upon Matamoras kindled the first war, and the second may be occasioned by the movement upon the Mesilla Valley.

SINGULAR TRAGEDY.

Boston, May 26 .- We have the particulars of a singular tragedy which occurred at the Insaue Hosital at Somerville, yesterday noon, about which hour a Mrs. Strong of Vermont an aged and very feeble woman was missing. The alarm was immediately given, and a search instituted for her in all directions. In the course of a few minutes she was found in the room of Mrs. Jameson, another lumatic, lying on the floor at the foot of the bed. Mrs. Jameson, was kneeling or the bed in the attitude of prayer, and looking directly down on the body, which was covered by a sheet. There was apparent a slight bruise near the right temple, and another on the throat, but no indication of any struggle having occurred between the two women, and there was no dislocation of the face of Mrs. Strong, whose body when found, retained, much of natural warmin of life, except that the feet were cold. but without effect. She was dead. Mrs. Jameson was asked how Mrs. Strong happened to be in her room, and what had taken place to occasion her death? Amid many evidences of entire delusion, she yet gave a very natural and consistent account, which was several times repeated, to this effect :-- I heard Mrs. Strong ask for light-this was her constant habit-it occurred to me that the Lord had delivered her into my hands, and that if there was any more light in the other world to be seen she would see it; she had plagued me for many nonths with this inquiry ; and now, one of the atdinner, I determined to be rid of the annoyance. condingly slipped out into the gallery and invited Mrs. Strong into my room. She came with me willing-ly. She had on two caps. I took them off and tied them round her neck. The strings broke. She stood still close to me, making no resistance. So I knew the Lord had given her to me. I then put my bands around her throat and choked her. I then laid her down on the floor safely, so as to make no noise, and took off one of my stockings and put itround her neck, puling it as hard as I could; but is was no use-she was already dead. I felt her pulse and knew it whilst I was doing this I said my prayers, and thanked the Lord that He had permitted me thus to glorify his name. The trustees of the Institution are investigating the matter. The deceased, Mrs. Strong, and also Mrs.

A BOLD RASCALLY TRANSACTION.

A few days since, whilst Mr. Terrence Kelly, an old citizen, residing at No. 33 Rost street, was walking along Mulberry street, he was approached in the most gracious manner by a young man of very gentlemanly ex-terior, who introduced himself as a son of a Mr. Harrison, living near the Savage Factory, who is regarded by Mr. Kelly as one of his best friends in the world. The young man stated that he had bought a pair of horses for $500, given his servant a check for that amount on one of the city banks, but the rascal had disappeared. Just at this moment another fellow stepped up and told the young man if he did not pay the cash for the animals he would require an advance of $50. The pretended Mr. Harrison then offered Mr. Kelly a $20 gold piece if he would advance the $500 to pay for the animals. Overjoyed to see the supposed son of his dear friend, and anxious todo him a service, the old gentleman went with the parties to the Commercial and Farmers' Bank with his check for $500, which was paid to the pretended dealer in horse flesh. "Now,' says Mr. Harrison, "just wait five minutes, and you shall see the horses which you are to keep until I repay the $500, according to agreement Mr. Kelly waited, and waited a long time, whilst the two rascals went to bring the horses, which it is needless to state have not yet appeared, nor have the two rascals been seen since.—Baltimore Sun.

03-Extract from T. F. Meagher's address at New York, on Wednesday evening, on young Ireland :-

"Austria-the whole Germanic familytongue tied; the Rhine stagnant in her bed; Poland, still the Niobe of nations, and her estate and children cut up and parcelled out among the robbers; Hungary, with the knife at her proud and beauteous neck; Italy, locked within her sculptured sepulchre, and a profane soldiery keeping watch upon it; France, grimacing in a masquerade, the glare of which binds men to the crimes of which it is the senseless and the reckless carnival; Ireland, her people decaying and disappearing faster than the ruins, even, which a ruthless civilization has yet left standing on the soil; where-where can the eve that scans the history of this day turn with jov-without grief, without vengeance, without despair .- unless it be to this great commonwealth, the power, the progress, the immensity of which are mapped out in these mighty waters of the west, from which I came but yesterday."

BEAUTIFUL EXTRACT .- The annexed beautiful lines are taken from Sir Humphrey Davy's Salmonia: "I envy no quality of mind or intellect in others, be it genius, power, wit or fancy; but if I could choose what would be most delightful, and I believe most aseful to me, I should prefer a firm religious belief to every other blessing, for it makes life a disciple of goodness, creates new hopes when all earthly hopes vanish; and throws over the decay, the destruction of existence, the most gorgeous of all lights; awakens life even in death, and from corruption and decay calls up beauty and divinity; makes an instrument of fortune and shame the ladder of ascent to Paradise ; and far above all combination of earthly hopes, call up the most delightful vision of palms and amarinths, the gardens of the blest, the security of everlasting joys, where the sensualist and the skeptic view only gloom, decay, annihilation and despair." ANOTHER GREAT MATCH .- On Friday last a great match race was concluded by T. G. Bacon, Esq., of South Carolina, and Messrs. B. & E. Green, of this city, for $5,000 a side, at Jameson, are respectably connected, but for some time three miles heats, between a South Carolina and a Virginia horse, the race to come off over the Fairfield Course; next Spring. What Mr. Bacon intends naming we have not the slightest idea in the world, nor can we say with certainty what the Messrs. Green will enter, but if Mis-"Goldpin" is all right at the time, we should care to have nothing. on the track that could out foot her in a contest of this character. The race, we have no doubt, will be one worthy of Virginia's palmiest days, and if South Carolina, even with her favourite "Hylander," can come here and bear off the palm, she will do more than any other State has ever vet been able to accomplish. The race will be looked forward to with great interest, and in all probability it will draw thousands of strangers here to see it. [Richmond Mail. Some Country .- The editor of the N. York National Democrat thus speculates:--- "In a hundred years, we shall have two hundred and thirty two millions; and in a hundred and fifty years, or in the year 2000, we shall have over seven hundred millions! * *Our soil produced last year over a hunred and fifty millions of bushels of breadstuffs, to say nothing about the rice and fruit crops. A SINGULAR FUNERAL.

A novel funeral occurred in New York a few days since, according to the Tribune. The deceased was Calvin R. Brown, who was the husband of Mrs. Fish, so extremely famous as the inventor of the "Rochester Knockings." The services were commenced by prayer and reading the scriptures, and the Rev. S. B. Brittan, who is known as a writer on 'Spiritual Manifestations," followed with an address. We quote the Tribune's account of the remaining exercises :

"At various points in his address, there were rappings, sometimes apparently on the bottom of the coffin and at others, on the floor, as if in response to the sentiments uttered. The rappings were loud enough to be distinctly heard in every part of the room, but they elicited no remark from any one. Prof. Brittan read a communication purporting to have come from there was no longer any doubt that Louis Nathe deceased since his entrance into the spiritworld, through a medium who was not present, and apparently intended for those assembled. While it was being read, the rappings were very distinctly heard. At the close of the address, several friends sung the piece, "Come ve disconsolate," after which Rev. Mr. Denning made a few remarks, during which the rappings were heard more distinctly than before."

All these routes, in the opinion of their respective friends, possess peculiar morits, and what is more remarkable, almost all claim to be on the air-line. From all we can learn from those most deeply interested in the making of this road, that route will be selected, which possesses the greatest degree of merit. If our opinions on this subject are correct, we apprehend that this route cannot suffer in comparison with any of the others named, and we conider that it is only necessary that its friends should take such steps as may be necessary to develop its true merits.

Whatever, may be the character of Mr. Blythe's report in reference to the obstacles at the Blue Ridge the friends of this route should not be discouraged, for we apprehend that similar difficulties will have to be encountered wherever the mountain is crossed We feel satisfied that by actual surveys and estimates of the various routes and a comparison of the merits, this will be found to be the shortest: equally if not more practicable to make , can be kept up at less expense, will command more trade; and confer greater benefits on a larger number of people. We know of nothing else of importance with which to encumber this report.

Respectfully submitted, GEO. W. BRADFIELD, D. H. MCGUIRE.

Washington Blythe, the efficient engineer who has been engaged to survey the route, had not com-. pleted his duty so far as to admit of a full report, but from a partial statement made up by him, and read by Mr. Bradfield, his investigations have resulted favorably to the practicability of the road.

On motion of John Bruce, the above report and statement were received and adopted. John Bruce then addressed the Convention upon the advantages of the proposed route, and furnished in the course of his remarks, a number of useful and important statistical facts.

On motion, of Mr. Bruce, the following committee was appointed by the Chair to report suitable resolutions for the action of the Convention : John Bruce, of Frederick, Geo. W. Bradfield of Clarke, and S. A. Pancoast of Hampshire. The following resolution was reported accordingly, and was unanimously adopted

Resolved, That the members of the Convention look with deep interest to the course which may be adopted in carrying into effect the charter of the Alexandria, Loudoun and Hampshire Railroad company, and appoint Messrs. Geo. W. Bradfield, Treadwell Smith and Alfred Castleman, of Clarke, John Bruce, Robert Y. Courad, and Robert L. Baker, of Frederick, and S. A. The committee appointed at the April meeting to collect means to defray the expenses of surveys, and for other purposes, made the following report through their Chairman, T. P. Pendleton:

We the committee appointed at a meeting held in Berryville on the 18th of April, 1853, for the purpose of raising funds to defray expenses incident to a survey of the route, &c., beg leave to report that $226 26 have been subscribed, of which sum $26 50 have been T. P. PENDLETON, E. McCORMICK.

Dr. Stribling, the able and accomplished Superintendent of this Asylum, has handed in his resignation to the Board of Directors. This intelligence will be received with sincere regret by every friend of humanity in Virginia. It is, we think, about fifteen years, since Dr. Stribling entered upon his post, and, under his anspices, and mainly owing to his talents and influence, the Western Lunatic Asy lun has acquired a degree of usefulness, and a reputation which is unsurpassed by that of any similar institution in the United States. Seldom has any officer exhibited so rare a combination of qualifications for such a post. As a physician, pre-eminent in knowledge and skill, and as a man, firm, gentle and humane, he has, performed his most arduous and responsible task with a judgment, devotion, fidelity and perseverance, which have been crowned with the most happy results to af-flicted humanity and have elicited the general and enthusiastic plaudits of all good and benevolent men.

We know not how the place of Dr. Stribling can be supplied. The Directors will find it almost impossible to secure a gentleman so thoroughly skilled as Dr. Stribling both in the general science and practice of medicine, and that which pertains especially to insaulty and its kindred diseases; and a Superintendent, uniting so much kindness and decision, such consummate tact in the management. of the insaue, and such enlightened and ceaseless devotion to the maladies both of the mind and soul. We learn that Dr Stribling contemplates removing from Staunton and resuming either at Richmond or Baltimore the general practice of the profession of which he is so distinguished an ornament. We earnestly toust that he will select our city as his residence. We feel assured that he will receive a warm welcome 'rom this community, and from the enlightened and liberal members of his profession in this city. We dislike to lose from Virginia, gentlemen of any profession, who have contributed to the fame and standing of the State. and we therefore sincerely hope that Dr. Stribling will decide in favor of the metropolis of his native Commonwealth - Richmond Mail.

SAD SUICIDE .- Olinda Done, a young woman of Harwick, in this State, committed suicide on the 23d ult., under the most touching circumstances. She was a very respectable woman, and had been but a few weeks married .--The circumstances of her death we find related in an exchange, as follows :- For a year or so previous to her marriage, she had received visits from a respectable young man by the name of Hall, to whom she engaged to be married. Her parents opposed her choice, and favored the suit of a widower, of considerable property, named Doane. Hall soon after married another, when the parents of the deceased prevailed on her to marry Doane. The friends were invited, but before the time for the ceremonies to commence, the young lady excused herself and retired. Not returning, her sister went to her room, saw blood on the mirrot and on the floor. went to the bed, and turning down the clothes, found her sister with her throat cut and her bridal robes saturated with blood. Assistance was called, her wounds dressed and she recovered. Soon after, she was married, since which time she has been occasionally deranged. She fainted in church a few Sabbaths since, on seeing Hall and his wife enter; and last Monday week, crease. at two o'clock, P. M., while the god of day animated all nature with his refulgence, she stole from the authors and scene of her ruin, to close this tale of suffering and wrong.

A "FAST" AGE .- The following is too good to be lost. It illustrates one of the peculiarities of this " fast age :"

An old lady in Cincinnati had a large quantity of bacon to ship to New Orleans, where she was going herself to buy supplies. She stipulated with the Cap-tain of a steamer that he should have her freight, provided he did not race-during the trip. The Captain consented, and the old lady came aboard. After the second day out, another steamer was seen close astern (with which the Captain had been racing all the time) and would every now and then come up to the old lady's boat, and then fall back again. The highest excitement prevailed among the passengers, as the two boats continued for nearly a day almost side by side. At last the old lady, partaking of the excite-ment, called the Captain and said, "Captain, you ain,t going to let that thar old boat pass us, are you?"-"Why I shall have to, Madam, as I agreed not to race." "Well, you can just try it a little, that won't hurt. "But madam, to tell the truth I did." "Gra-cious but try it a fittle more—see the old boat is almost even with us," and a loud cheer arose from the "old boat." I can't raise any more steam, Madam," as

"old boat" I can't raise any more steam, Madam "as "all the tar and pine knots are burnt up." "Good gracious, what shall we do; see, the old boat is pass-ing us. Is there nothing else on board that will make steam?" "Nothing, Madam—eh, eh, [as if a new idea struck bim] except your bacon." "Throw in the bacon," shrieked the old lady, "throw in the bacon," Captain and beat the old boat?"

doubt, they, with anxious hearts, wished for the morrow, which they fondly anticipated would dawn upon the day of their deliverance. But on the next norning the suspected persons were, one by one, brought out of their cells, and each examined in relation to the secret proceedings. The result was, they were each heavily ironed, and placed in solitary confinement. On inspecting the blacksmith shop, a number of files, eighteen inches in length, and sharpened on both edges and at the point, together with a bludgeon, were found concealed in an old pair of bellows. These were intended for defence, in case of emergency, but the combination disavowed any intention to try the effect of these weapons upon the officers of the penitentiary. Such are the particulars, so lar as we could ascertain them .- Republic.

SHANNONDALE SPRINGS.

This popular and fashionable Watering Place opens its season under brighter auspices than usual. Although the time for receiving visitors has just commenced a week ago, it boasted quite a large and joyous party, who passed an agreeable day in the enjoyment of the good things with which Shannondale abounds. Captain SAPPINGTÓN, the proprietor of Sappington's Hotel, and who conducted the Springs last summer, is again at his post to welcome in true Old Virginia style such as may be pleased to patronize him during the approaching season.

The attractions of Shannondale are surpassed by none, if equalled by any, of the Watering Places, in Virginia, situated in the most beautiful section of the country in the world-possessing natural advantages and beauties, calculated to render it peculiarly pleasing to the invalid, its inviting groves and murmuring river seem to woo the denizens of the dusty cities, in such a manner as to prove irresistible.

The worthy host unites in his composition all the qualities necessary to render the visitors' sojourn pleasant and agreeable-courteous in his manners, affable in his deportment, he wins upon the esteem of all who come within the circle of his acquaintance. We bespeak for him that amount of encouragement and patronage which he justly deserves, and which the admirable management of his house demands at the hands of the public.

HARVEST AND THE CROP.

During the whole of the ensuing week, the Harvest of the Wheat crop will generally have commenced in this county. In the early part of the spring, the prospect for a good yield was highly encouraging, but the ravages of the Hessian Fly has made sad havoc in many instances. Whilst some fields, and the whole of some farms, will afford almost a full yield, yet the average of the county, will scarcely reach a half-crop. In Clarke County, the prospect is even worse than in our own. In the upper portion of the Valley, the Wheat is said to be almost entirely destroyed, and the following as to the rich and productive county of Shenandoah, is but on a par as to the representations we have had of the prospects in Page, Rockingham, Augusta, Bockbridge, and other counties of our State. The Valley Democrat says:

"We regret to learn that the wheat crop of this section is almost entirely ruined by the fly. Some fields will not be worth harvesting. Our farmers have been struck with surprise. A few weeks ago, the prospect of a fine yield was most flattering, but now

MEMPHIS CONVENTION.

FROM WASHINGTON. The latest and most interesting intelligence, is the fact that the examination of clerks in the Departments has been commenced, according to previous provisions made by the last Congress. No clerks will hereafter be appointed in the Deparments until their qualifications as to scholarship and intellectual ability have been examined by a Board appointed for the purpose. The amount of incompetence which has gotten into the departments by appointments made solely on political influence has rendered such a regulation very necessary. The examination will be rigid. The Board consists of the best clerks in the different Bureaus. They will make thorough work of it. Mere recommendation will have no weight.

The next most interesting fact relates to Mr. BEVERLY TUCKER, and his new Democratic paper. It is said to be a fixed fact, and that Mr. TUCKER will be backed to the amount of $100,000. It was not intended, as first stated, for opposition to the Union, but simply as a good specultaion, for which there is ample room. We hope it will be successful, and do good.

It is well thus to observe one day as a political Sabbath, dispensing for the time being, with the ordinary affairs and business of life, and assembling around an altar thrice hallowed by associations which enkindle within the brightest recollections of the past and the fondest anticipations for the future-A meeting should be called at an early day and some arrangements effected by which the observance of the 4th may be duly honored.

TO THE FRIENDS OF TEMPERANCE IN VA.

In accordance with the instructions of the State Temperance Convention, held in Staunton, in An-gust last, the undersigned, State Central Committee, now announce the time and place of holding a Conventiod in the present year. After due consid-eration the Committee have fixed upon Charlottes-ville as the place of meeting, and, Wednesday, the 3d of August, as the most suitable period. The object of this Convention will be, to promote the Temperance reformation generally.

The committee would suggest that the Convention of last year did little comparatively, from the simple ously, this reform, until the work is accomplished. The committee would suggest that the Convention of last year did little comparatively, from the simple fact that no efficient plan was adopted, by which to raise the funds necessary to this great undertaking; and they now therefore arge the friends of Temper-ance in each county, to hold a meeting at an early day, and resolve to raise some specified sum towards a general fund. A large amount (not less than from $10,000 to $20,000,) ought to be placed in the hands of the Convention, for the purpose of employing a numof the Convention, for the purpose of employing a num-ber of able lecturers to go forth into every part of the State to advocate the cause; and by means of pamphlets, tracts, and colportues, to spread light and truth into every nook and corner of this wide Commonwealth. Augusta has already responded to this call, made by one of the committee in person, and has nobly pledged the sum of $500, as her share toward this fund. How many counties will do likewise? At all events may we not ask at least $100 from every county in the State?—And let not the cities fail to do their part in this master. You are also urgently requested to appoint delegates to repre-sent you in the Convention, and it is recommended, as a measure of justice, greatly conducive to a full and patient attendance, that the reasonable expenses of the delegates be paid by their respective constitu-encies—but in all cases, where reliable Temperance encies—but in all cases, where reliable Temperance men, whose expenses cannot be provided for, but who are willing to attend at their own cost, let them by all means, be appointed. The committee would be greatly aided, in determining upon what plans and measures they will re-commend to the Convention, for its action, if the filends of temperance would respond at as early a pe-riod as practicable, to the proposition of raising funds, and state what amont may be relied npon from their respective counties and corporations. Letters must be directed to the address of the Central Committee, Staunton, Va.

WASHINGTON AND JACKSON.

Mr. Bancroft, the historian, relates the following anecdote of the Father of his Country :

Once, while in New Jersey, coming out to mount his horse, he found a child beside it, attracted by the trappings. He placed the child upon the horse's back, and led it around the yard, with its youthful joyance. It was to Washington's honor, that al-though Heaven did not bless him with offspring, he had a heart to love children, and take them to his

After the battle of the Great Horse Shoe, in which nearly a thousand Indians were killed, and two hundred and fifty prisoners were taken, all men, women and children, the men having been exterminated, the following incident occurred : The grim General who presided over the bloody scene, which seemed to carry us back to theearly Indian wars of New England had a tender spot in his heart. Moved by the wail of an Indian infant, picked up from the field, whose mother had perished during the battle, Jackson strove to induce some nursing women among the prisoners to suckle it. "Its mother is dead," was the old answer, "let the child die too." The General himself a childless man, turned nurse himself. Some brown sugar formed part of his private stores, and with this by caused the child to be fed. He even took it howe with him and reared it up in his own family_

AN ENTERTAINING VOLUME.

Messrs. Foster and Cochrane, of Washington, propose to publish in book form the Eulogies delivered in the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States on the demise of the Nation's Three most illustrious Statesmen: John C. Calhoun, of South Carolina, Henry Clay, of Kentucky, and Daniel Webster, of Massachusetts; a trio, whose eminent services in behalf of the civil and religious liberty of the world, and in the political advancement of thistheir native land-have embalmed them in the hearts of all reflecting men.

In addition to the above Eulogies, in their appropriate place, will be appended a condensed report of the proceedings had in Charleston, South Carolina, on the reception of the remains of Mr. Calhoun, with the resolutions of the Legislatures of the States of Pennsylvania and New York in honor of the same; and the Eulogy delivered by Hon. Mr. Crittenden, of Kentucky, on Mr. Clay, by invitation of the people of that State.

The work will be comprised in one volume, of about 225 pages on beautiful clear type, neatly bound in cloth, with appropriate embellishments, at the low price of ONE DOLLAR.

the following particulars of the riot and melancholy loss of life at Father Gavazzi's anti-Catholic lecture at Zion's Church on the previous evening:

As ascertained, Signor Gavazzi met a numerous audience in Zion's Church at half past six o'clock P. M., yesterday. Many of our most respectable citizens, with their families, were present. About half past seven o'clock we went to the door of the church where we found Captain Ermatinger with a strong posse of police, some 20 or 36 men.

At this time, and for about half an hour after. groups of wild, ragged looking men were assembled around the door of the church, and at different points between the church and McGill street. We mixed freely among those people, and conversed with more than one of those who are considered the leaders of the Irish Catholic party. We were assured by them that they only come to the ground to use their influence to prevent a disturbance, and that we might rest satisfied the lecture would pass off quietly.

SPIRIT OF THE NEWS.

The majority against the "license," in Washington city, is 972 votes. The 7th ward alone voting in favor of it by two majority.

The amount of money contributed at the polls in Washington, in aid of the National Monument, is perly, the children are sent to the House of Refuge, $171.56.

The re-publication of the above has reminded us of an account gotten up, some years since by a highly. respectable centleman, who was present, with others, when Gen. Jackson was the occupant of the Presideatial mansion of Washington. When breakfast wis announced, the venerable patriot, with his guests, en-tered the room at one door, when Mrs. Donaldson, with her two children, entered another at the oppo site end. Immediately on seeing him, they ran to receive the morning kiss. Extending his arms, and bending his yet graceful form, he caught up first one, and then another, caressing them with all the fondness of a doating parent. They returned to their nother, and all were soon seated at the table. Bowing his head with the humility of a dependent suppliant, conscious of the rectitude of his intentions, and vet feeling the need of a higher wisdom than his own to enlighten and direct the indement, he devontly invoked the blessing of God. The scene was deer ly affecting, and drew tears from eyes unused to weeping. Such was Andrew Jackson at home. Whe called upon to defend his country on the battle-field, or to preside over her councils, in seasons of peril, he was decided, resolute and irresistible. His mind, wonderfully intuitive, comprehending at a glance that which those of inferior intellectual powers could only reach and comprehend by a laborious process of investigation, was "a law unto itself." He was accused of rashness, when he should have been praised for superior wisdom. But, while in manner he was the accomplished gentleman, his true manhood was most conspicuously displayed in the sphere of the social and domestic affections. While embalmed in the admiration of friends, he will be immortalized by the blind vindictiveness of his enemies.

TRUANT CHILDREN.

New York, following the example of Massachusetts, has adopted a law relating to idle and truant child:en-one of the moral pests of all cities-which has been found to work admirably, and capable, if rigorously enforced, of bringing about the happiest results. The New York Express says of the operation of the law in that city :

The class of children whom it is designed to affect are much more numerous than people are generally aware. They swarm around the docks, plundering everything that they can lay their hands upon.-They generally acknowledge no authority but their own will. They are clothed in rags, for the most part, and are extremely reckless and desperate. This class also comprehends those little children who may be seen every stormy day industriously plying their brooms at the crossings, and stretching forth their hands, with the whining accents of begging for alms from every person that passes by. The more respec-table portion of the "idle and truant" children of the city are the juvenile pedlers who may be found collected at the corners of the streets. When the times go well with these, they are generally clean and well dressed, and may be found every evening at the Bowery Theatre, in front of the pit, cracking peanuts and reading the play bills turned upside down. They occasionally may be seen strutting along the streets in all the fancied glory of standing shirt collars, smok-ing stinkweed segars, and exhibiting all the precocity of the fullblown "boy man." When fortune frowns, they turn in of nights to the first coal box they chance to meet, dispose of their finery, and sell papers on commission for the older boys. A large ignorant, and victous class of youth is thus formed in our midst and which, in after times, contributes to fill our jail and penitentiaries. The law relative to "idle and truant" children is designed to mitigate in a great measure the soil. On Wednesday last, nearly forty boys, between the ages of eight and fourteen years, were arrested by the police of the Second and Third Wards, charged with the crime of "idleness." On the following day, a number of juveniles, known to be connected with a gang of thieves and rowdies who prowl about the upper part of the city, were also ar-rested; and these were succeeded by another batch of fifty, captured in the lower wards. The usual mode of proceeding in these cases is to retain the children till inquiry is made into the circumstances of the parents, and if they are found not to be in a condition to bring up and educate their children pro-

.... The Board of Directors of the Alexandria, Loudoun and Hampshire Railroad Company have appointed Charles P. Manning; for many years connected with the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, as cheif engineer of their railroad; Robert T. Mason, of Virginia, as principle assistant engineer; Reuben Johnson, secretary and trea-Surer.

.... The Ohio river is said to be very low just now. Most of the Pittsburg and Cincinnati packets have laid up, and also the Union Line from Wheeling to Louisville. The Wheeling Intelligencer says none but boats of the lightest draught can run.

.... A curious fact, illustrating the course of trade, is stated by the Baltimore American, namely, that the steamers of the Parker Vein Company ranning between that cify and New York, and soon to be increased to a duily line have not yet taken away a single ton of coal, though built expressly for the coal trade, but are freighted with western produce and manufactures transported over the Baltimore and Okio Railroad.

..... Foreign Immigration to New York from foreign ports for the first five months of the present year, shows a large falling off, as compared with the two preceding years .-The total arrivals of immigrants du'ing the present year, have been 80,021, while for the same months of the year 1851 they reached 100,560. This shows a steady diminution, caused, no doubt, by the improved prospects of labor in Ireland.

.... The Havana correspondent of the New OATS York Tribune says it is reported there that the ters in regard to the plan, which is to make the emancipated slaves serve an apprenticeship, as an off-set to their final liberation to allow the introduction of free blacks from Africa.

sers. A. G. BRAGE & Co.-I had a valuable horse that about three weeks since was wounded severe-ly in his thigh, with a sharp hook, opening a gash three inches in length and an inch or more deep. I tried various articles to heal it, but inflammation getting into it caused large quantities of matter to collect, and the limb was quite stiff. A friend of mine asked me if I had tried the Mustang Liniment, to which I replied in the negative, but thinking it might do some good, was induced to try it. It had only used one half bottle when the inflammation began to be removed, and the mound it had. Now it is mitally baladand bottle when the inflammation began to be removed, and the wound to heal. Now it is entirely healed and the hair is growing over the wound, making it look as well as ever. Hoping that others may be benefited by a trial of your valuable compound, I remain yours, CHAS. E. IMPORTANT FOR BOATMEN & BOAT-Builders, Railroad and Bridge Builders.

Builders, Railroad and Bridge Builders. I HAVE invented (and an applying to use so far as to fully test its properties) a Check or Rubber, for, the purpose of checking and holding permanently a boat when entering the locks or any other close place, through which it may mass, on the several canals.... The invention is as follows, viz: A sill of proper di-mensions laying across the boat, in the centre of which is a fulcrum or axle to work a lever or tiller on, paral-lel to and on the top of the sill are two pieces of tim-ber, of suitable size, for the purpose of sliders; at the centre above named, in the sill, is also a pivot fulcrum or axle for the lever to take hold of and work the slid-ing pieces in straight lines with, and in opposite di-rections to, cach other, jutting the ends of the sliding picces out of the sides of the boat and thus check its headway, by rubbing against the mason work of the headway, by rubbing against the mason work of the lock. The lever when placed on the two sliding pieces will be in form as in Euclid, book 1st, propositions 27th, 23th, and 29th, of a line falling on two straight lines, and the changes by the required moving of the straight line producing at the same time different an-gles at their junctures. The same movement of the gies at their junctures. The same interent of the two sliding pieces may be effected by other fixture, such as the placing between the two sliding pieces a cog-wheel, to turn with a crank or lever, or by placing in a line with them something operating as a jack-screw, or other something of the kind which will pro-loss the presidence of the kind which will pro-safely to hand, and distant correspondents may feel sure that their orders will be attended the same as if they were fore themselves. BERANGEF TO HIS OLD COAT.

Beranger is emphatically the poet of homely things; the minstrel of society. His ingenious fancy could weave the most beautiful thoughts out of themes that in other hands would have been barren, if not repulsive. Here is an address to AN-OLD COAT, exquisite poetry, on the most prosaic theme in the world. The translation is executed fairly, almost elegantly [Boston Transcript.

Be faithful still, thou poor dear coat of mine1 We, step for step, are both becoming old; Ten years these hands have brush'd that nap of thine, And Socrates did never more, I hold, When to fresh tear and wear the time to be Shall force thy sore thinn'd texture to submit. Be philosophic and resist like me : Mine ancient friend, we must not sunder yet.

Full well'I mind, for I forget not much, The day that saw thee first upon me put: My birthday 'twas, and as a crowning touch-Unto my pride, my friends all praised thy cut. Thy indigence, which does me no disgrace, Has never caused these kindly friends to flit; Each at my fele yet shows a gladsome face : Mine ancient friend, we must not sunder yet.

A goodly darn I on the skirts espr. And thereby hangs a sweet remembrance still. Feigning one eve from fond Lisette to fly, She held by thee to baulk my seeming will. The tug was follow'd by a grievous rent, And then her side of course I could not quit; Two days Lisette on that vast darning spent : Mine ancient friend, we must not sunder yet.

Have e'er I made thee reek with musky steams, Such as your self-admiring fools exhale? Have I exposed thee, courting great men's beams, To levce mock or antechamber rail? A strife for ribbons all the land of France. From side to side, well-nigh asunder split; From thy lapel nothing but wild flowers glance:

Mine ancient friend, we must not sunder vet. Fear no renewal of those courses vain, Those madcap sports which once employ'd our hours: Hours of commingled joyfulness and pain, Of sunshine chequered here and there with showers. I rather ought methinks, thy faded cloth From every future service to accquit; But wait awhile-one end will come to both Mine ancient friend, we shall not sunder yet.

A PLEASANT THOUGHT.

There's not a heath, however rude, But hath some little flower To brighten up its solitude, And scent the evening hour There's not a heart however cast By grief and sorrow down, But hath some memory of the past, To love and call its own.

Mariety.

.... An editor, in dunning his subscribers, says he has little responsibilities thrown upon him just now, which he is obliged to meat. Squash, I know what you've got in your head !

"What, Ginger?" 'Nuffin.'

.... The individual who broke the ice with his first stump speech, was drowned in applause.

.... 'Capital punishment,' as the boy said when the schoolmistress seated him with the girls.

HAMPTON'S VEGETABLE TINCTURE,

The Great Restorative & Invigorator,

AND CURE FOR

RHEUMATISM, DYSPEPSIA, SCROFULA, &c.

THIS Medicine is altogether from the Vegetable Kingdom, and may be used by any one without ajurious consequences. By a wise choice and combination of some of the best of each class of co-operative simple remedies, it fully reaches all the essential organs of the human system, and thus it has proved itself so effectually curative of born in Virginia in 1775, emigrated to Kentucky-then a wilderness-with his father, in 1779. In early manhood he was so reduced by disease as to be almost wrecked in constitution. He spent much of his living for medical advice and attention, and grew nothing better, but worse. Finding no relief from his physi-cians, he resolved to try the restorative powers of the experience and not of theoretical speculation, he made himself acquainted with their remedies, and also with the practical medicinal knowledge of the early settlers of Kentucky, had obtained from the 'medicine men'

He carefully studied the nature of the medicines used by them, combined them according to the light

he had received, used them as he had been taught, and had the cheering satisfaction of finding disease driven from his emaciated body, and vigorous health given in its stead. His case was of no ordinary kind, but astonishing to his friends and neighbors. The fame of it spread; the people far and near sent to the doctor for his successful and wonderful combination of Indian remedies; which was freely given them, until the cases became so numerous and the demand so great through justice to himself, to put up his Vegetable Tincture in bottles, and charge a price for it which was freely given. Finding its way into the first and most infelligent families, and astonishing all by its

When too late to be benefitted by our knowledge, we look back and mourn, and regret the full consequences of our ignorance. What would we not often give to possess, in carly what would we not often give to possess, in terry life, the knowledge we obtain in after years! An I what days and nights of anguish we might not have been spared, if the knowledge was timely possessed. IT IS MELANCHOLY AND STARTLING

To behold the sickness and suffering endured by many a wif: for many years, from causes simple and con-trollable, easily remedied—or better still—not incurred IF EVERY WIFE AND MOTHER

Possessed the information contained in a little volume, (within the reach of all) which would spare to herself

(within the reach of all) which would spare to herself YEARS OF MISERY, And to her husband the constant toil and anxiety of mind, necessarily devolving upon him from sickness of the wife, without giving him the opportunity of accuiring that competence which his exertions are enti-tied, and the possession of which would secure the happings of himself, wife, and children. SECURE THE MEANS OF HAPPINESS

By becoming in time possessed of the knowledge, the want of which has caused the sickness and poverty of thousands. In view of such consequences, no wife or mother is excusable if she neglect to avail herself of that know-ledge in respect to herself, which would spare her much suffering, be the means of happiness and proa-perity to her husband, and confer upon her children that blessing above all price—healthy bodies, with healthy mides. That knowledge is contained in a lit-there are included.

The Married Woman's

PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION.

BY DR. A. M. MAURICEAU,

Professor of Diseases of Woman.

One Hundredth Edition. 18mo., pp. 250. Price 50 ets.

[ON FINE PAPER, EXTRA BINDING, $1.00.]

First published in 1347, and it is not surprising or yean-derful, considering that every Fenale, whether married or not, can here acquire a full knowledge of the nature, ekaracter and causes of her complaints, with the various symptoms, and that nearly half a million copies should have been sold.

It is impracticable to convey fully the various sub-
