BALTIMORE LOCK HOSPITAL POSSESSES the most speedy and effectual remedy in the world for all

Secret Diseases:

Gonorrhom, Gleets, Strictures, Seminal Weakness,
Pains in the Loins, Affections of the Kidneys and Bladder, Loss of Organic Powers, Nervous Irritability, Disease of the Head, Throat, Nose or Skin; and all those Peculiar Disorders arising from a Certain Secret Habit of Youth, which if not cured, produces
Constitutional Debility, renders Marriage impossible, and in the end destroys both body and mind.

Young Men.

Young Men.
Young Men especially, who have become the victims of Solitary Vice that dreadful and destructive habit which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of young men of the most exalted talents and brilliant intellect, who might otherwise have entranced listening Senates with the thunders of cloquence, or waked to ecstacy the living lyre, may call with full confidence.

Marriage.

Marriage of physical weakness, or any other imbediment, should immediately consult Dr. Johnston.

OFFICE No. 7, SOUTH FREDERICK St., seven doors from Baltimore street, East side, up the steps.

OB Be particular in observing the name and number, or you will mistake the place. Be not entired from this office.

The many thousands cured at this Institution, and the very extensive practice of Dr. Johnston (ex. ading all others) is a sufficient guarantee that he a the only proper Physician to be consulted.

Dr. Johnston,
Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, London Graduate from one of the most eminent Colleges of the United States, and the greater part of whose life has been spentin the Hospitals of London, Paris, Philadelphia and elsewhere, has effected some of the most astonishing cures that were ever known. Many troubled with a ringing in the ears and head when asleep, great nervousness, being alarmed at sudden sounds, and bashfulness, with frequent blushing, attended somebashfulness, with frequent blushing, attended some-times with derangement of mind, were cured immedi-ately.

When the misguided and impudent votary of pleasure finds he has imbibed the seeds of his painful dispase, it too often bappens that an ill-timed sense of shame, or dread of discovery, deters him from applying to those who, from education and respectability, can alone befriend him, delaying till the constitutional symptoms of this horrid disease make their appearance, such as ulcerated sore throat, diseased nose, nocturnal pains in the head and limbs, dimness of sight; deafness, nodes on the shin bones and arms, blotches on the head, face, and extremities, progressing on with frightful rapidity, till at last the palate of the mouth by the bones of the nose fall in, and the victim of this swful disease becomes a horrid object of commisera-A Certain Disease. or the bones of the nose fall in, and the victim of this a wful disease becomes a horrid object of commiseration, till death puts a period to their dreadful sufferings by sending them to "that bourne from whence no traveller returns." To such therefore, Dr. JOHN-STON pledges himself to preserve the most inviolable secrecy, and from his extensive practice in the first hospitals of Europe and America, he can confidently recommend the most safe and speedy cure to the unfortunate victim of this horrid disease.

It is a melancholy fact, that thousands fall victims to this dreadful disease, owing to the unskillfulness or ignorant pretenders, who, by the use of that deadly poison, mercury, ruin the constitution, and either send poison, mercury, ruin the constitution, and either send the unfortunate sufferer to an untimely grave, or makes the residue of his life miserable Take Particular Notice.

Dr. J. addresses all those who have injured themselves by private and improper indulgences, that secret and solitary habit, which ruin both body and mind, them for either business or society.

These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, viz: Weakness of the Back and limbs, Pains in the Head, Dimness of Sight, Loss of Muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dis-pessia, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the Diges-tive Functions, General Debility, Symptoms of Consumption, &c.

MESTALLY.—The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of Pleas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion to society, self distrust, love of solitude, timidity, &c., Bre some of the evils produced.

Dr. Johnston's invigorating Remedy for Genefal Debility.

By this great and important remedy, weakness of the organs are speedily cured, and full vigor restored. Thousands of the most nervous and debilitated, who had lost all hope, have been immediately relieved.— All impediments to Marriage, Physical or Mental Disqualification, Nervous Irritability, Trembling and Weakness, or Exhaustion of the most fearful kind,

Young Men
Who have injured themselves by a Certain Practice, indulged in whelf alone—a habit frequently learned from evilcompanions, or at school—the effects of which are nightly felt, even when asleep, and if not cured, are hightly left, even when asleep, and it not cured, renders marriage impossible, and destroys both mind and body, should apply immediately.

What a pity that a young man, the hope of his country, and the darling of his parents, should be snatched from all prospects and enjoyments of life, by the consequences of deviating from the path of tattlee, and including in a certain secret habit.—Such persons before contemplating

Marriage.

Marriage, should reflect that a sound mind and body are the most decessary requisites to promote connubial happiness. Indeed, without this, the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage; the prospect hourly darkens to the view; the mind becomes slindowed with despair, and filled with the melancholy reflection that the happiness of another becomes blighted with our own.
Weakness of the Organs Immediately cured, and full vigor restored.

To Straingers:

To Straingers:

The many thousands of the most desperate and hopeless cases cured at this institution within the last twelve years, and the nonethous important Surgical Operations performed by Dr. Johnston, witnessed by the reporters of the papers and many other persons notices of which have appeared again and again before the public, is a sufficient guarantee to the afflicted.

He who places himself sinder the care of Dr. Johnston. He who places himself ainder the care of Dr. Johnston may religiously confide in his honor as a Gentleman, and confidently rely upon his skill as a Physician. . There are so many ignorant and worthless Quacks copying Dr. Johnston's advertisement, and advertising themselves as physicians, trilling with arid rulining the health of the already Afflicted, that Dr. Johnston deems it necessary to say especially to those unacquainted with his reputation that his cre-dentials or diplomas always long in his Office. ALL LETTERS MUST BE POST-PAID—REME DIES sent to any part of the country.

BY IBO T. HEYEN. Another year I how solemn and serene,

The midnight message fills the silent air;
Deep stillness wraps the awe-inspiring scene,
The final throe of the departed year.
The stars above, crowning untrodden space,
Seem to reflect from their cerulean arch The monuments on which sad mortals trace.

The linaments of life's mysterious march. Another year the midnight hour has toll'd,

And low in dust the old year sleepeth now;
In Time's great vault his parchment lies enrolled,

More dim and gaunt the ghastly pages grow.

How solema from your steeple's looming height

The sound doth fall, a warning and a wail;
A warning link'd to many a darksome night,

Nesting link'd to many a darksome night, Nocturnal gloom and terror brooding gale.

Another year! The profligate of time

Heeds not the voice that marks his rash career;
His scathed brow, adult of Folley's clime, PAINTS, OILS, GLASSWARE, WINDOW GLASS, PAINT BRUSHES,
FANCY SOAPS, TRUSSES, SUPPORTERS,
DYESTUFFS, &c.
The greatest case has been exerted in the selection of this stock, and no expense has been spared in the Mocks every monitor with scoff and sneer. Alas I how soon the midnight knell must be The last rebuke of life's best gift's misspent; The trumpet peal of frail mortally
From lifeless idols and deception rent. of this stock, and no expense has been spared in the purchased of it. The various Medicines are as pure Another year! how many now in vain

Mourn at the sepulchre of buried hours!
Well may they longingly their vision strain
To grasp the shadows of life's withered flowers;
The chance is lost! fond memory may repeat The songs and chants of filial harmony; Reality rejects the soulless cheat The past has left to taunt and disagree. Another year! The tombstones of the past Oh how they frown at memory's arched gate; The suicide upheaves his guilt at last; + His own life bartered, ah! perhaps too late. And have not we the rackless and penyerse,
A tombstone chiselled from the rock of time?
The realm of conscience bids us tales rebearse,
That breathe of airs not wed to sunny clime.

Another year! Well may the careless shrink To mark the sentence on his callons heart; From Mercy's cup he would not solace drink, He ever strove Heaven's best designs to thwart. Go, erring one, engrate thy name once more On rocks of pearl that border wisdom's sea; Lave thy heart-hardiness on Lethe's shore. And mark this year a year of sanctity.

Another year! A knell indeed to all Each still repeated midnight peal should prove; Woe unto those that never touched a pall, The skies to trace, their eyes have never strove. Resign awhile gay fortune's gaudy plume . Ye havored in the world's commingling strife; See light eternal first your paths illume, That light a twin-born glow of endless life. Another year I How solemn and serene The midnight stillness o'er the landscape sweeps; How many walk unmindful of the scene, Come new-born year! let us togeather glide . The stream along of holy prophesy; Making life's more and more receding tide

The gradual day break of eterhity. What is a Year? What is a year? 'Tis but a wave On life's dark rolling stream, Which is so quickly gone that we Account it but a dream.
Tis but a single earnest throb Of Time's old iron heart, As tireless now and strong as when It first with life did start. What is a year? ,'Tis but a turn

Of Time's old brazen wheel,
Or but a page upon a hook
Which death must shortly seal.
'Tis but a step upon the road
Which we must travel o'er,
A few more steps and we shall walk Life's weary road no more.

What is a year? 'Tis but a breath From Time's old postrils blown. As rushing onward o'er the earth! We hear it's weary moan, 'Tis like the bubble on the wave, Or dew upoff the lawn,
As transient as the mists of morn

Beneath the summer sun. What is a year? 'Tis but a type Of life's oft changing scene.
Youth's happy morn comes gaily on
With hills and valleys green. Next, Summer's prime succeeds the Spring, Then comes old Winter, death; and all Must find their level here.

Where Cork Comes From: Cork is nothing more or less than the bark of evergreen oak, growing principally in Spain, and other countries bordering the Mediterranean; in English gardens it is only a curiosity. When the cork-tree is about fifteen years old, the bark has attained a thickness and quality suitable for manufacturing purposes; and after stripping, a further growth of eight years produces a second crop, and so on at intervals, for even ten or twelve crops. The bark is stripped from the tree in pieces two inches in thickness, of considerable length, and of such width as to retain the curved form, of the trunk when it has been stripped. The bark peeler or cutter makes a slit in the bark with a knife, perpendicularly from top of the trunk to the bottom; he makes another incrision parallel to it, and at some distance from the former; and two horizontal cuts at the top and bottom. For stripping off the pieces thus isolated, he uses a kind of knife with two handles and a curved blade. Sometimes after the cuts have been made, he leaves the tree to throw off the bark by the spontaneous action of the vegetation within the trunk. The detached pieces are soaked in water, and are placed over a fire when nearly day, they are, in fact, scorched a little on both sides, and acquire a somewhat more compact texture by this scorching. In order to get rid of the curvature, and bring them flat, they are pressed down with weights while vet

A SPREWD REPLY. - Sir Walter Scott says that the alleged origin of the invention of cards produced one of the shrewdest replies he had ever heard given in evidence. It was made by the late Dr. Gregory, at Edinburgh, to a counsel of great eminence at the Scottish bar. The doctor's testimony went to prove the insanity of the party whose mental capacity was the point at issue. On a cross interogation he admitted that the person in question played admirably at whist. 'And do you seriously say, doctor, said the learned counsel, 'that a person having a superior ca-pacity for a game so difficult, and which requires, in a pre-eminent degree, memory, judgment, and combination, can be at the same time deranged in his understanding?

'I am no card player,' said the doctor, with great address, 'but I have read in history that cards were invented for the amusement of an insane king.' The consequences of this reply

The Grosvenor and East Indiaman, home ward bound, goes ashore on the coast of Caf-fraria. It is resolved that the officers, passen-gers and crew, in number one hundred and thirty-five souls, shall endeavor to penetrate on foot, across trackless deserts invested by wild beasts and cruel savages, to the Dutch settlement at the cape of Good Hope. With this forlorn object before them they finally separated into two parties, never more to meet There is a solitary child among the passen gers, a little boy of seven years old, who has no relation there; and when the first party is moving away he cries after some member of it who has been very kind to him. The crying of a child might be supposed a little thing to men in such great extremity; but it touches them, and he is immediately taken into that detachment; from which time forth this child is sublimely made a sacred charge. He is pushed on a little raft across broad rivers by the swimming sailors; they carry him by turns through the deep sand and long grass, he patiently walking at all other time; they share with him such putrid fish as they find to eat; lie down and wait for him when the rough eat; he down and wait for him when the rough carpenter, who becomes his especial friend, lags behind. Beset by lions and tigers, by savages, by their thirst and hunger, by death in a crowd of ghastly shapes, they never—oh, Father of all mankind, thy name be blessed for it!—forget this child. The captain stops exhausted, and his faithful coxswain goes had and is seen to set down by his side and back and is seen to set down by his side, and neither of the two shall be any more beheld until the last day; but, as the rest go for their lives, they take the child with them.— The carpenter dies of poisonous berries eaten in starvation; and the steward, succeeding to

On the morning of the third they move softly about in making their preparations for the resumption of their journey, for the child is sleeping by the fire, and it is agreed with one consent that he should not be disturbed until the last moment. The moment comes; the fire is dying; and the child is dead.

I Have no one to Love me Now. BY FINLEY JOHNSON. I have no one to love me now, All hearts are growing cold; Tempestuous waves are rusing on. No hand in kindness is outstretched,
No heart with pity beats;
Alone, "my God," slone I stray
Along the empty streets. I have no one to love me now,

Life's storms upon me beat, And thorns unnumber'd and untold, Rise up beneath my feet. No longer can I stem the tide,
The heaving billows brave;
Then come, O, death, I welcome thee,

The following, from 'The Old House by the River Side,' is truly eloquent, and em-braces the belief of every Christian heart: 'Go preach to blocks and stones, ye who believe that love is of clay!

Go preach to the dead, ye who deny the immortality of the affections! Go reason with trees, or hills, or images of wood, or with your ley souls, ye who believe because there is no marrying yonder, there shall be no embracing, or because we may not use the gentle words, 'my wife," we may not clasp these sanctified forms in our own arms! I tell you man that immortality would be a glorious cheat if with our clay, died all our first affections, I tell you that aunibilation would be heaven, if I believed that when my head at length rests on its coffin pillow, and my lips sink to silence and repose of death, those loving eyes would never look into mine again, that pure clasp never he around my neck, that holy caress never bless me more.

The past year has been memorable in many respects. The past year has been memorable in many respects.

Though no war or battle sound has been heard among Though no war or battle sound has been heard among us; though neither famine or pestilence have decimated our numbers, yet the unprecedented drought of the past summer, and the almost universal failure of crops, have brought hard times to the Poor everywhere. Other causes among ourselves have contributed not a little to this result: For many weeks during the last summer the sickness that destroyeth at noon day, raged with much violence among us, and with greatest severity perhaps among those least able to bear it and its necessary expenses. Added to all this, the pecuniary embarrassments of the country, and the den and for labor is far less than usual. These causes suffice to explain many of the difficulties under which a portion of our meritorious poor are now laboring, and from which speedy relief must come from some source.

Now, fellow-citizens, we sak your aid in behalf of these our own people, born and raised among us, and as neighbors in more than one sense claiming at our hands the fulfilment of that Law which says, "love thy neighthe fulfilment of that Law which says, "love thy neighbour as thysell." As we have just entered upon a new year, let us shew our gratitude for past mercies by setting apart and conscerating a portion of our substance to the poor and destitute. At this festal season, let us remember the poor, and while we rejoice in the many blessings of our happy homes, let us not ferget those of poverty and want. Would we light up the habitations of the needy with joy and gladness, let us share with them the habities that crown our own. The wise man them the bounties that crown our own. The wise man tells us, that "he that considereth the poor lendeth unto the Lord, and that which he hath given will he pay him again." Surely, then, if nothing is to be lost in this work of love and charity, who can hesitate to assist.

Those who do not find it convenient to aid in money, may have it in their power to do so otherwise. All that is wanted are the necessaries of life, and they may be furnished as well in kind deeds as in money. We appeal to all who are able to throw something into this appeal to all who are able to throw something into this treasury of benevolence. Let the "liberal devise liberally," and those who have but little to spare, let them not "despise the day of small things."

Very respectfully your friends and follow citizens,

WESTERN LUNATIO ASYLUMA

The intelligent editor of the Charlottesville Jeffersonian, lately visited the Lunatic Asylum at Staunton, and gives in his last paper the following interesting account of his visit to the abode of the insane : "By the politeess of Dr. Stribling, the Superintendent and physician, we were shown through a considerable portion of this great and highly useful State institution. We attended religious service in the chapel, and heard a very good discourse from Rev. Mr. Castleman. About 150 of the insane were present, who appeared to take a deep interest in all the services; several of them participated in the singing, accompanying the organ with their voices saw in the chapel, was calculated to soothe and calm the mind, and lead the worshippers to place their affections and hopes on the Saviour of the world, who would heal all their maladies, and save their souls. From this place we were shown that portion of the insane, the lowest and most degraded, some of them with scarcety more than mere animal existence; a portion of them, however, who were not so degraded, appeared well pleased to see us, to some of whom we were introduced. One of the most sprightly asked, eagerly, 'Doctor, who has been nominated candidate for Governor?' 'Mr Wise—how do you like it?' 'Why, Doctor, it will do pretty well, but I had rather it was Mr. Leake.' This patient informed us that he was not insane, but his friends said he was, and for this reason he was compelled to stay there;—he then told us about himself and his friends-and talked on fast and furiously, alleging as the reason for so doing, that we had such little time to stay, and he so much to tell us, he was obliged to talk fast. and he so much to tell us, he was obliged to talk fast.—
He said that Dr. Stribbling whipped him, and when questioned about it by Dr. S., who said it would not do tor us to go away with that impression, as we might publish it in the Jeffersonian, replied, 'Doctor, I do not be lieve you did whip me, but the angel put it into my mind, and endeavored to persuade me it was true.' At parting, our new acquaintance gave us a hearty shake of the hand, saying, energetically, 'good bye.' Dr. S. thea conducted us to the female department of the asylum, and introduced us to Mrs. H., who inquired about her and introduced us to Mrs H., who inquired about her friends, she prides herself upon her relatives, but says they never send her one cent for the hire of all her negroes. We were also introduced to Mrs. B. who had the window curtains in her room filled with paper birds; the window cuttains in her room filled with paper birds; she believes herselt to be a judge at the present time, but is finally destined to be the President of the United States. Having made Dr. Stribling as great a man as he can be, she could, she said, confer on him no higher honor when President. This lady was dignified and calm in her appearance and deportment, is well satisfied to remain until the time arrives when she is to occupy the White House, and rule the destinies of the United the White House, and rule the destinies of the United States. At Parting, we requested her to send over one of her birds, and inform us of her election to the Presi dency; she smiled very good humoredly, and bade us adicu. There are some 500 persons in this asylum, and everything is conducted with system and regularity.— The Superintendent, his assistants, officers, nurses, and other persons, having charge in it, are kind, humane and attentive to the necessary wants of the patients, and we felt a pride in knowing that the Old Dominion had provided so excellent an institution for that unfortunate portion of her citizens who nave been bereft of reason and sound judgment. In consequence of the number of insane in the State it will become necessary to build a third Asylum somewhere in the trans-Alleghany counties; both the Western and Eastern Asylums have been enlarged to their utmost capacities, and it is not desirable to have a larger number of insane in these institutions.

To such a desirable object we feel sure our legislators will cheerfully vote the necessary funds ONE WAY OF PROVING HIS CASE. - In the county court sitting at New Haven, Connecticut, Jesse W. Rose, being on trial for assault with intent to murder, was defended on the ground of insanity; and while Judge Blackman, the counsel for the prisoner, was examining a witness to prove the defence, Rose suddenly raised his arm, and, with a back-handed blow, knocked his own lawyer over. Such a practical demonstration of mental imbecility was conclusive upon the court and State's attorney, who immediately withdrew the case, and Rose was remanded to jail to be taken care of as an in-Improvement in Kansas.

The Kansas Herald of the 15th of December, savs: 4 The work of improvement is still progressing in our city. The demand for lots is on the increase and within a few days several have sold at $500 each .-Several large buildings, one of them a store-house, have gone up within the last week, and every day brings us citizens, who are only deterred from building by the scarcity of material and workmen. "Leavenworth is bound to be the commercial emporium of Kansas, and while we are rejoicing at its growing prosperity we are pleased to see that our sister towns are also improving." It gives the following account of "high prices" of

"Mr. M. Clark, sold a few days since, sixty acres of unimproved land adjoining Leavenworth for one thousand dollars, cash in hand. "Dr. Few, was offered two thousand dollars, for sixty acres of unimproved land adjoining town, but

"These may seem to be high prices, but when it is taken into consideration, that Leavenworth is bound to be a great city, and the commercial metropolic of Karress it is a second to be a great city. "These may seem to be high prices, but when it ropolis of Kansas, it is low. These same lands will in a few years sell for two bundred dollars an acre. These prices serve to show too, the confidence our citizens have in the place. Here is the place for cap-that habit of notifying persons who have notes to pay, that they are payable at their shop, thus giving Notary a job when there is no cause for it. Wonder it they divide the spoils.

FRENCH GOODS .- Among other articles of French goods entered at the Custom House at Boston, on Friday, imported by the Asia, was a single case of thread lace, valued at $10,500, upon which the duties amounted to $2,100. A single invoice of French goods was valued at $33,765, and the duties paid umounted to $8,439 95.

We learn that on Saturday night week a shocking murder was perpetrated at Dranesville, in Fairfax county, upon the person of a man named Sinclair, by the hand of a man whose name was Dickey .-The particulars so far as we have gained them mark it as one of the most cold blooded murders on record. A difficulty, which occasioned a quarrel between a younger brother of Dickey and the murdered man, having arisen, they retired to the yard to fight, when the murderer ru-hed out and inflicted nine horrid wounds upon the body of young Sinclair, one of which passed through the heart, causing instant death. The murderer was arrested upon the spot, and so great was the excitement among the crowd who witnessed it that a serious arprehension was felt lest he be lynched. The interference, however, of a justice of the peace prevented any violence, and he was handed over to the proper authorities of Fairfax county. Sinclair was a young man, not yet 22 years of age .- Loudoun Democrat.

REAL ESTATE IN NEW YORK CITY.-The population in 1836 was 270,000-the real estate values the year before, $143,000,000. These were suddenly raised to $223,000,000 in 1836, and as suddenly fell in 1837 to $196,000,000. It was not until 1852 or a period of sixteen years, with the population going rapidly up the whole intermediate time, that the real taxables reached the figure of 1836. It was then raised to $253,000,000—the population about 600,000. The next year we had the enormous jump in property of$11,000,000, raising the aggregate to $294,000,000. In the same year personal estate was inflated from $98,000,000 to $119,000.

As for what has been stated in the different papers concerning Mr. Zimmerman's Machine receiving the first premium at the Crystal Palace, New York, is false, and not true. It is also stated that Mr. Zimmerman received a number of premiums at and other fairs. That I know nothing about —perhaps he did; but it is very easy to win the race, as the boy said when he ran by himself. But my honorable friends, this was not the case at the World's Fair, New York. The Duty of Democrats. In the coming political contest in this State the pponents of the Democratic party will leave no effort unmade or no energy unweilded to bring defeat. and with that defeat, disgrace, upon the Democracy The mere idea that old Virginia is to vield to the delusive influences by which she is surrounded, and forsake, for the first time, the principles of the fathers of her institutions, is something which has heretofore been such a complete chimera, that it is how almost impossible for the mind to think of it even as a probable reality. For ourselves we think that she will remain steadfast, but some Democrats entertain the opinion that Virginia will no longer be called the heart of Democracy, and her sons for the future cannot point to her as the jewel of consitency. Would it not be deplorable, nav. would it not be a burning, blighting shame, which no repentant tears, however earnest or sincere, could efface, if Virginia, which has weathered every storm, withstood every attack of faunticism, and laughed to scorn the puny efforts of those who sought her destruction, if she should now yield up her energies, her faith, and allow her hair to be shorn by a modern Deliah, only to be handed over to her old enemies the Philisticus.

There is a way of preventing such ruinous results as those which would follow the success of this recent coalition of the opponents of our creed. Let every Democrat do his duty. Let them cease talking about men, and let them think of principle .-How is the party to be benefited with useless discussions as to whether HENRY A. Wise was once a Whig or not. Concede that he was, which we do not pretend to deny, does that prove that he is one now. Does the fact that he committed a sin in the past prove that he is still sinning to-day. Can it be said truthfully that Heary A. Wise is a Whig. when he is diametrically opposed to every tenet of the Whig party. We must concede to all men what we would claim for outselves. If we are convinced of error can you deny us the right to forsake our errors, and must you sit in judgment upon our acts, and judge of the motive that actuated us in the change. We deny that any man, or set of men, or party, can set in counsel and pass judgment as to the purity or impurity of the motives that influence us in any change we may make .-Does not Henry A. Wise's course for the last twelve years prove conclusively that he embraced the prinof the Democratic party through na spirit of raulting ambition, but through a sincere and earnest conviction, that they alone could lead this country to greatnes, and - they alone preserve it from the inbidnous attacks of mislead men and designing demagogues. We say it freely, we say it sincerely, that we want no better States Right Democrat, to stand forth as the embodiment of the principle we adhere to than the present nominee of the Democracy for. the Governorship of Virginia. The opposition anxious for any element that will in the least tend to the disorganization of the Democracy, have taken as a hobby what they call the apostacy of our nomi-ice, and the Whig press teem with articles of the most abusive character. If they used this word apostate with the signification of a dissenter from certain opinions we could see no impropriety in its use, but if they use it in the sense of traiter we think they are committing a moral wrong. Why a man is a traitor who changes his opinions, when the party to which he belongs concedes the right to charge, is schething we are unable to untlerstand. And if the party to which he belon is does not concede that he has the right to change, then he is its slave, and all the members of that party

Demotracy, there are but two roads for you to take, either for or against your party, Either to vote for its nomince, and save the good old Demoeratic character of your State, or by remaining silent, or by voting for your opponents, to assist in defeating for the first time, but not for the last, the Democratic party of Virginia. Do not deceive yourselves. Do not think that any injury which may be done at present, can be remedied in the future. It will be a mortal stab that will kill the Democracy of the Old Dominion, and we tell you that no applications which you would apply in the future will be able to heal the wound. Sampson like, when tween those cities. Betwen Memphis and Nashville. his eyes were out, if we would destroy our enemics, we must destroy ourselves. Are you willing to make a sacrifice of yourselves merely to appease the appetites of those who have been seeking your destruction for years, but who have always failed .-Can any Democrat, who pretends to be married to the principles of his party, besitate for an instant in a contest like the present. Surely nothing is to be gained by the defeat of one who professes to think as we think, and act as we act, and the elevation of those who differ with us in every material point. Democracy of Virgitia, you that are wavering, decide instantly in favor of your party and its principles, and then, we will assure you, they never can be defeated.

The Lutheran Fair. The Christmas fair held here by the ladies of the Lutheran denomination (says the Winchester Republican) was closed on Friday night week by an oyster supper in the spacious lecture room of the church. The gross receipts of the fair and supper reached the handsome sum of $890. The ladies will accept our thanks for the ticket of invitation with which we were favored. - A commendable feature of the several fairs that have been held by the ladies of the town was the entire freedom from sectarian exclusiveness displayed in the encouragement they received, whilst the literality of our citizens towards such praisworthy objects is exhibited in their profitable returns. for The Bank of the Valley has declared a semiannual dividend of 51 per cent .- 5 per cent, of which goes to the stockholders, the 1 per cent, being retained as the State bonus. The Bank of Winchester has declared a semi-annual dividend of 3 per cent.

We have read with much interest the able Me age of the President to Congress, upon the policy of Internal improvements by the General government The President starting out with Mr. J. Q. 'Adam's definition of a "permanent and regular system of internal improvements," elucidates clearly the dangerous augmentation of the political functions, and of the patronage of the federal government to which such a system would lead, and shows the want of power on the part of congress, to make appropriations for such purposes, under any special grant in the constitution of the United States. And that since there is no general provision sufficiently broad to cover any such indefinite object, it becomes necesbary to look for particular powers therein granted to which one or another of those things, included in the phrase "Internal improvements," may be refered. And reasoning a priori, from the foundation of our constitutional faith, he sllows conclusively that there is no grant of any such power in the preamble, but that it only " declares the inducements and the anticipated results of things ordained and established by it," and moreover, that the phrase "to pay the debts and provide for the common defence and general welfare of the United States," are not significant of grant, or concession, but of restriction of specific grants. And, in a word, that since the Federal government is the creature of the individual states, and of the people of the states severally, all the powers of the government are derivative ones. the enumeration and limitations of which are contained in the instrument which organized it, and since " the powers not delegated to the United States by the constitution, nor probibited by it to the states, are reserved to the states respectively, or to the people," all the powers as delegated must be construed strictly; and all the appropriations made for internal improvements, under the sanction of particular specified powers, such as to establish post offices, post roads; to provide and maintain a navv, to raise and support armies; to regulate commerce. &c., must be made with a view to that end alone and in strict subordination to the purposes, of the common defence and general welfare of all the states, and not perverted b; an unwarranted and strained construction to promote the interests of this or that particular section or locality.

New Paper. We have received the 1st number of a new paper the Morgantown Telegraph, conducted by our friend JNO. W. WOODDY, Est,, lately connected with this office. The appearance of the paper indicates that fine mechanical skill, which Mr. Wooddy; so eminently possesses, while its columns give evidence of the choicest taste in selections. Its editorials are strong and vigorously marked with the best and purest of Democratic doctrine. Beyond all doubt it will be one of the ablest allies, in Western Virginia, in the cause of truth and Republicanism. We sincerely hope that our citizens will subscribe for this valuable paper, for we assure them that if any person is able to give them ample remuneration for their money, that person is Mr. Wooddy. We wish him most unlooked for prosperity in his new enterprise. State Democratic Executive Committee GREEN BRANCH, SPOTSYLVANIA, ?

THE valuable medicines above named, are not em pirical, but are prepared in agreement with the experience of some of the most learned and judicious practitioners, and are not secret, further than is nepractitioners, and are not secret, further than is necessary to protect the proprietors and those who use them from loss and imposition, as the component parts have been made known, confidentially, from time to time, to perhaps 500 Physicians!!! in Maryland, Virginia, Districtof Columbia, Ohio, and other places, all of whom, without a single exception, have approved of the formula, and most of them acknowledge that they are the best reinedies that they have eyer known for the cure of the diseases for which they are recommended. Our confidence in the excellence of these medicines, all did to any desire to avoid the just prefix medicines; added to our desire to avoid the just prejudice of the medical profession against secret and quack nostrums, induced us to adopt this candid course.

We append a few of the notices we have received from We append a few of the notices we have received from Physicians:

From Dr. Wm. H. Farrow, Snowwill, Md.

Gentlemen—I have frequently in my practice prescribed your "Stabler's Anodytic Cherry Expectorant" and "Diarrhea Cordial," with great satisfaction to myself, and to the entire relief of such diseases as they profess to cure. I consider them happy combinations of some of our most valuable and safe therapeutical agents, and must be of infinite worth to the afflicted and mankind at large. In furnishing the medical profession with these active and concentrated preparations, so convenient for administration, and of a standard quality, you have rendered them an emia standard quality, you have rendered them an effi-nent service, and I can do no less than euresily recom-mend these preparations to practitioners, and especial-ly in the country, where the impurity of commercial Drugs is one of the greatest obstacles to the success of the Physician.

We have been favored with a written certificate, chcerfully given by numerous Medical gentlemen, in Maryland, Virginia and Ohio, which alone should convince the most doubting, that these are really "Good Medicines;" after stating that they are acquainted with the composition of both the Expectorant and Cordial, and that they have administered them to their patients, they testify "that they are remedies of great value; safe, efficient and well worthy of the patronage of the Profession and the Public, that they are more reliable than any other proprietary medicines with which we are acquainted," &c.

The above notices of recommendation from members of the Medical Faculty, Pharmaceutists of high standing, and Merchants of the first respectability, should be sufficient to satisfy all, that these medicines are worthy of trial by the afflicted, and that they are of a different stamp and class from the "Quackery" and "Cure-All" so much imposed upon the public.

TO FEMALES.

Henry's Invigorating Cordial, is one of the most invaluable Medicines in the many Complaints to which Females are subject. It assists nature to brace the whole system, check excesses, and create renewed health and happiness. Less suffering, disease and unhappiness among ladies would exist, were they generally to adopt the use of this Cordial. Ladies who are debilitated by those obstructions which females

CARON BRIDGE, Hampshire Co., Va.;

MR. E. P. COOPER—Dear Sir: Agreeable to your request, and my own desire to bunch the afflicted, I hereby certify the great relief I have received from the use of Hampton's Vegetable Trincture.

I was taken with a violent palpitation, or rather fluttering and trembling of the heart, which continued several days; it seemed as though my heart had almost forgotten its office. The family became alarmed and procured a bottle of this valuable Medicine, and before I had taken mar one bottle of this Tineture of Hampton's I was entirely relieved.

This is the third instance of relief in my family from the use of this valuable Medicine. Two or three years ago I was laid up with utcration of my ankle, from effect of what is usually called milk leg. I had lost all taste and appetite, and the sore, which was some four inches up and down, and half way around my ankle, rejected every effort to heal it, until I procured Hampton's Vegetable Tincture, one bottle of which restored my health, healed my ankle, and I am freer from sweeling than for the last thirty years.

Again, one of my daughters was very low from severe dysentery, and when she began to sit up her feet commenced swelling, which increased every day, and began to be very painful—she used a bottle of Hampton's Tincture; the pains were assuaged, the swelling subsided and her health returned—we kept her legs bandaged with strips of woollen until her strength, raturned. I have been thus particular, that others under similar circumstances might be induced to avail themselves of this remedy.

Yours with respect,

ELIZABETH EDWARDS.

Sandy Borrow, Middlesse County, Va., Messrs. Mortimer & Mowbray—Genis: Tou many think it strange that I have taken the liberty to write you this letter, but I do so under circumstances that justify it. As you are the Agents for Hampton's Vegetable Tixeture, I deem it expedient to address you this note; hoping it may be a part of the honorable means of giving this medicine that notoriety which its merits deserve.

Being in the habit of vending medicines which relate to the patent, and regular system, I consider my-Being in the habit of vending medicines which relate to the patent, and regular system, I consider myself to some extent, a judge of the real merits of many of them. My experience teaches me that "Hampton's Tincture" is a medicine of real merit and intrinsic value. When I say this, I do not say that it is an infallible cure, in all cases, but I mean to say that "Hampton's Tincture" will favorably operate in all diseases originating from a want of proper secretions of the gastric juices, bad digestion, and consequently bad deposit of animal matter from that source. I believe that many diseases located in various parts of the system, such as inflammation, Ulcers, Scrofula, etc., originally have their being in the stomach, from bad lood, bad digestion, and consequently bad depositions of the circulation to those parts; and I will be lieve Hampton's Vegetable Tincture will even reast these causes.

Having found out, myself, what it is, I recommend it to others in such cases, as I have described, and I have done it upon the "no cure no pay system," and I have yet to have the first bottle returned, or the first I have yet to have the first bottle returited, or the first objection about the pay. It is a great pity it cannot be more extensively circulated among the people. *

* I warrant it in the fellowing cases:—Gout, Rheumatism, Inflammations which proceeds from the stomach, Sores, Scrofula, Dyspepsia, long standing cases of Ague and Fever; first stop the chill, and then give the Tineture—the difficulty in this case is not in stopping the chill, but the return of it, this flie Tineture will certainly do. In general debilitations, I warrant it, and as I said before, I have procured a trial of it in this way, which otherwise I could libt; trial of it in this way, which otherwise I could hot; the people have been humbugged by patent medicines so long, that they are afraid of all. This is clearly a stomach medicine, it works all its wonders there, and in all such cases it is a specific, if anything in the world is.

Having given the Tincture a fair trial with myself; in my family and neighborhood, I think I am warranted in what I say about it; and which I do without any other interest than the wish to see it in general circulation, and in every man's lamily, where it ought t be.

If what I say be doubted by any of the afflicted, and they will write to me at Sandy Bottom Post office, Middlesex county, Va., stating the nature of the disease, and I recommend it for such a case I will warrant it, and if it don't do good I will say for the medicine.
