The many thousands cured at this Institution, and the very extensive practice of Dr. Johnston (exceding all others) is a sufficient guarantee that he is the only proper Physician to be consulted.

Br. Johnston,

Member of the Reyal College of Surgeons, I ondon Graduate from one of the most eminent Colleges of the onted States, and the greater part of whose life has been spent in the Hospitals of London, Paris, Philadelphia and elsewhere, has effected some of the most astonishing cures that were ever known. Many troubled with a ringing in the ears and head when asleep, great aervousness, being alarmed at sudden sounds, and bashfulness, with frequent blushing, attended sometimes with derangement of mind, were cured immediately.

A Certain Disease. When the misguided and impudent votary of pk sure finds he has imbibed the seeds of this painful disease, it too often happens that an ill-timed sense of shame, or dread of discovery, deters him from apply-ing to those who, from elucation and respectability, can alone befriend him, delaying till the constitutional symptoms of this horrid disease make their appearance, such as ulcerated sore throat, diseased nose, nocturnal pains in the head and limbs, dimness of sight, deaf-ness, nodes on the shin bones and arms, blotches on the head, face, and extremities, progressing on with frightful rapidity, till at last the palate of the mouth or the bones of the nose full in, and the victim of this awful disease becomes a horrid object of commiseration, till death puts a period to their dreadful sufferings by sending them to "that bourne from whence no traveller returns." To such therefore, Dr. JOHN no traveller returns." To such therefore, Dr. JOHN-STON pledges himself to preserve the most inviolable secrecy, and from his extensive practice in the first hospitals of Europe and America, he can confidently recommend the most safe and speedy cure to the unfortunate victim of this horrid disease.

It is a melancholy fact, that thousands fall victims to this dreadful disease, owing to the unskillfulness or agnorant pretenders, who, by the use of that deadly poison, mercury, ruin the constitution, and either send poison, mercury, ruin the constitution, and either send the unfortunate sufferer to an untimely grave, or makes the residue of his life miserable. Take Particular Notice.

Dr. J. addresses all those who have injured themselves by private and improper indulgences, that secret and solitary habit, which ruin both body and mind, unfiting them for either business or society.

These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, viz: Weakness of the Back and limbs, Pains in the Head, Dimness of Sight Loss of Muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dis pensia, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the Diges tive Functions, General Devility, Symptoms of Con-MENTALLY.—The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forcbodings, aversion to society, self distrust, love of solitude, timidity, &c., are some of the evils produced. Dr. Johnston's Invigorating Remedy for General Debility.

By this great and important remedy, weakness of the organs are speedily cured, and full vigor restored. Thousands of the most nervous and debilitated, who had lost all hope, have been immediately relieved.— All impediments to Marriage, Physical or Mental Disqualification, Nervous Irritability, Trembling and Weakness, or Exhaustion of the Inost fearful kind, are speedily cured. Who have injured themselves by a Certain Practice, indulged in when alone—a habit frequently learned from evilcompanions, or at school—the fivets of which are nightly felt, even when asleep, and if not cured, renders marriage impossible, and destroys both mind and hade should apply imposible the and body, should apply immediately.

What a pity that a young man, the hope of his country, and the darling of his parents, should be snatched from all prospects and enjoyments of life, by the consequences of deviating from the path of nature, and indulging in a certain secret habit.—

Such persons before contemplating Marriage, should reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote connubial happiness.
Indeed, without this, the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage; the prospect hourly darkens to the view; the mind becomes shadowed with despair, and filled with the melanchely reflection that the hap-piness of another becomes blighted with our own.— Weakness of the Organs .

The many thousands of the most desperate and hopeless cases cured at this institution within the last twelve years, and the nunerous important Surgical Operations performed by Dr. Johnston, witnessed by the reporters of the papers and many other persons notices of which have appeared again and again before the public, is a sufficient guarantee to the afflicted.

He who places himself under the care of Dr. Lohnston. We who places himself under the care of Dr. Johnston may religiously confide in his honor as a Gentleman, and confidently rely upon his skill as a Physician. There are so many ignorant and worthless Quacks copying Dr. Johnston's advertisement, and advertising themselves as physicians, trifling with and ruining the health of the already Afflicted, that Dr. Johnston decims it necessary to say especially to those unacquainted with his reputation that his cre-dentials or diplomas always hang in his Office. Testimonials.

Winchester, May 27, 1853.

We, the undersigned, being solicited to give our opinion as to the character and standing of the Insurance Company of the Valley of Virginia, have no hesitation in saying that we have the utmost confidence in the ability and integrity of the President and Directors of that Company.

The fact that we have insured our own property in the Company, is perhaps the strongest evidence we can give as to our opinion of its merits.

Original Go ! Forget Me. BY IMES.

Go ! forget me, once I loved thee, But I ne'er can love again, For the heart that thrilled with pleasure Pines beneath its weight of pain; And the eyes that fondly sparkled Once so joyous and so bright, Droop beneath their lids grown heavy From the scourge of sorrow's blight.

Go! forget me; for I cherished. Hopes that thou wouldst soon be mine, And that every grief I nurtured Would be changed to joy like thine; That I might dispel the sorrow Which obscured my coming years, And that thou wouldst make me happy Till I leave this vale of tears.

I have seen the vernal flower Gently rise from earth's green bed, Sweetly ope its little petals, Raising high its beauteous head Till some rude and careless zephyr Scattered it unto the ground, Throwing far and wide its leaflets, Leaving not a vestige round. Thus hast thou my life embittered

And consigned me to despair; Thus deprived me of my gladness, With no form my gloom to share; Had I thought that thou couldst trifle With a true devoted heart, Ne'er to thee would I have spoken Words in which thou hast no part.

Do I ask thee to forget me, And to banish every thought From thy mind and ne'er remember That my heart is fully fraught With the deepest tribulation, That an earthly form can bear; Do I ask thee ne'er to ponder O'er the scenes we once did share?

Yes-those happy hours have vanished Like a dream at break of day; All my fond desires have left me, Still I would not have them stay; But forget me; nor remember That the heart which once was thine, Longs for death to cause its anguish To be changed to bliss divine.

> Home. BY AARON SMITH.

There is a simple little word-Oh! ne'er its charm destroy— Throughout the universe 'tis heard, And nowhere with but joy; There's music in its magic flow Wherever we may roam, The dearest, sweetest sound below: That little word is Home.

The soldier in the battles hum May all things else forget; 'Mid bay'nets' flash, and beat of drum, The exile, doom'd on foreign lands Through hopeless years to toil, May do the despot's stern commands, Yet sighs for home the while.

I care not where may be its site, Or roof'd with straw or tile, So that the hearth-fire burns more bright 'Neath woman's radiant smile: Affection on her fondest wing Will to its portals fly, And hope will far more sweetly sing When that blest place is nigh.

It may be fancy, it may be Something far nobler-far; But love is my divinity, And home my polar star. Oh! sever not home's sacred ties: They are not things of air; The great, the learned and the wise,

All had their training there.

Miscellaneous

Study of Divine Truth.

He who becomes a student of nature soon finds that he is bending oversa fountain which deepens beneath his gaze. And what is the Jewish economy, if we desire to reach its interior truths, but a vast, profound, elaborate enigma, to which the Gospel, indeed, brings us the key, but the opening and exploration of which is yet incomplete; excusing, if not justifying, the opinion of Origen, "a clear understanding of the reasons of the Israelite economy, and of all the Levitical laws, belongs to privileges of the future life ?" And the teaching of Christ seems to possess the same profound and comprehensive character. Comparative anatomy informs us, not only that animated nature forms an ascending series of beings beginning with few organs, and increasing in number, complexity, and finish, up to man; but that, in some of the earliest simplest links of the human chain, there is traceable a promise, a mute prophecy of all the rest, a rough outline of all that is to follow-that many processes are sketched in the lower animals, the completion of which is reserved for the composition of man... In like manner the entire system of Judaism was one compacted prophecy of the Gospel, a presentiment of Christianity; in which the great doctrines and virtues which it is the province of the new dispensation to develop and mature, may be found in their embryos and elements. And on the same principle, in the sayings of Christ, the Gospel may be found thrown out in its rudiments.-"For Christ," saith Milton, "gives no full comments on continued discourses; but speaks oft in mono-syllables, like a master scattering the heavenly grain of his doctrine like pearls here and there, which requires a skillful and labo-rious gatherer." His teaching is the seed-plot, in which the great doctrines of grace were first. sown, to be afterwards transplanted and cultivated in the inspired ministry of the apostles, where they have room to luxuriate and yield in perfection the fruit of life, The Church of God has been too generally content with the surface-truths of revelation; those which we have only to stoop for in order to possess; but which are made so obvious and placed so near, not as a premium to indolence, but in accommodation to our moral incuriousness and necessities; not as a dispensation from diligent investigation, but as an allurement to it where it can be made, and to render it undecessary where it cannot. "The kingdom of heaven," in the sense of celestial truth, is like treasure hid in a field; the which when a man hath found he hideth; and, for joy thereof, goeth and selleth all that he hath, and buyeth that field," and buyeth it, in order that he may ransack and turn up every part of it, and make himself master of all its treasures .-And further, it is as if the same man, while digging for more coins and concealed jewels, should unexpectedly happen on a vein of the precious ore. Hitherto, we have done little more than collect, estimate, and classify the more accessible treasures. But let the shaft, which is already begun, be sunk deep enough and the labors of the mine be properly conducted, and the discovery of many a rich and precious lode will demonstrate that the great globe itself is not interlaced with golden veins, and

Agreed to go, put on my tightest boots, and got ready-time came sleigh arrived, and got in, received a promiscuous introduction to seventeen young ladies by the light of a street lamp, found a place for my feet among the miscellaneous pedal assortment at the bottom, sat down, held on with both hands, and pre-pared to enjoy myself. After a great deal of whipping of the spirited horses, and some currously emphatic observations by the driver, we got under way. Driver (an enthusiastic Hibernian with one eye) took the middle of the street, resolved to give the road to nothing; didn't turn out, collision ensued, young man got the worst; his hat was smashed, and his delicate person left in a snow-bank; his horse started, hit against a lamp-post, then ran away, distributing the ruins of the cutter along the road, leaving a piece at every corner and telegraph pole, until there wasn't enough left in any one spot to make a rat trap-finally dashed through the show window of a confection er's shop, and being brought to a stand-still by the shafts sticking in a soda fountain. Met a charcoal cart, run against us and distributed a shower of pulverized nigritude over the company, to the great damage of the clean linen their heads, and dignified with the fabulous title of bonnets. an omnibus is a purely democratic institution, but an omnibus sleigh, containing ordinarily, anywhere from fifty to a hundred and twenty people, is a most effectual leveller of aristocratic distinctions. Got to the hotel at last, waiters rescued us and got us into the house, which was full of parties ahead of us. Burnt the skin of my throat trying to thaw my congealed digestive apparatus, by drinking brandy and water boiling hot; ladies imbided hot gin sling all round ad libitum, gentlemen ditto, and, Da Capoready for a dance; got into the ball room, which was so full already that each cotillion had only a space about as big as a pickle tub-"balance four, and you step on somebody's heels and tore of the skirt of some lady's dress-"forward two," and you poked your nose into the whiskers of the gentlemon opposite, and felt his neck tie in your eye, and 'promenade all" was the signal for an animated but irregular fancy dance upon the toes of the bystanders. But this quadrille was voted by some of the ladies to be too energetic -the truth is, city dancing is no more like a country jig than dead march is like a hornpipe-in one case the ladies slide about with a die-away air, as if one lively step would annihilate their delicate frames, and in the other, they dance as if they were made of watch springs and India rubber. The only way to get an ordinary city girl really interested in a dance, is to have some moustachoed puppy put his arm around her waist, hug her close up to him, spin her round the room till her head swims and her stomach heaves; the velocity of the motion giving her dress an elevation which affords the spectators a fair opportunity of admiring the embroidery of her under clothes. She meanwhile lying her head upon his shoulder, that he may fully appreciate the model artistic cut of her low necked dressthese same ladies who would faint to see a man's shirt on a clothes line, will in a waltz lovingly repose their heads upon the bosom of the same garment when the man is in it, allowing him to take liberties with their persons for which a country girl would box his ears till his cheeks tingled.

Towards morning the music got tired, the leading violinist was fiddling on the string on the wrong side of the bridge, and the ophiclide man, unable from sheer exhaustion to convey his potables to his mouth, was pouring them into his instrument, which he had regaled with four mugs of ale and brandy smash, and the little fifer, with his boots in the big French horn, was waisting his precious breath trying to coax a quickstep out of a drumstick he mistook for a flageolet. Compelled to stop dancing, the ladies went to a private room to repair their damaged wardrobe with pins and other extemporaneous contrivances, known to them alone. Gentlemen put on what hats and great coats the preceding parties had left, paid the bill, woke up the driver, and all started for home. Shower came on, making the ladies look like kaleidoscopes, and taking the starch out of the gentlemen's collars, gnm out of their hats, and the color out of their whiskers; upset, females got scattered around loose, (horses didn't run away, not a bit of it,) one young lady had her foot in my overcoat pocket; and both hands clinched in my hair, got out of the snarl at last, and found that I had traps enough hanging to me to mannfacture a small new married couple-a set of false teeth in my fur glove, a pair of patent moustaches, with the spring broken, in my Lat-band, half a head of glos-y ringleted hair in my but-ton-hole, a lace collar hanging to my panta-loons, and my boots full of puff combs.— Righted up at last, hurried over mile-stones, curbs-stones and cobble-stones, till we reached the city, took the young ladies home, and was immediately after arrested by a moist watchmar for being a suspicious character, and only iden-tified by my friends in the morning just, in time to keep my name out of the papers.

and received her last blessing as he was about to go forth into a land of strangers, to seek a home for himself, can read the following last interview between Washington and his mother, and suppress the rising tear, that starts unoidden, at the remembrance of such a scene. Time may dim the recollection of many of the incident of youth when we come in contact with the world, but there is a magic in the mother's voice-her well-remembered tone of admiration, her kindness and unceasing care will rise up before him who loved her, and follow him as a guardian angel in all the varied scenes of life. Happy the man who was blessmet a gent in a cutter, he didn't turn out, we ed with such a mother, and leved her-happier he who having such, forgets not her love, her kindness and instructions.

Immediately after the organization of the present Government, General Washington repaired to Fredericksburg, to pay his humble duty to his mother, preparatory to his depar-ture for New York. An affectionate scene ensued. The son feelingly marked the ravages a torturing disease had made upon the aged frame of his mother, and thus addressed

The matron's predictions were true. The disease which had so long preyed upon her frame, completed its triumph, and she expired at the age of eighty-five, confiding in the promises of immortality to the humble deliverer.

The Life of Sir John Franklin. The following particulars of the biography of the distinguished navigator, the discovery of whose unhappy fate has engaged the attention so much of late, we find in the New York Post :

"Sir John Franklin, who at a very early age manifested the adventurous spirit that characterized his later career, was born at Spilsby. in Linconshire, in 1786. The evident bent of the boy's mind for a sailor's life not meeting with the father's views, he was sent on a voyage to Lisbon in a merchant vessel, in hopes the reality would operate as a cure. The attempt failed, and at the age of fourteen he entered the British navy as a midshipman, on board the Polyphemus, in which capacity he served at the battle of Copenhagen. In 1803 he accompanied his relative, Captain Flinders, on a voyage of discovery to the South seas, and was shipwrecked on the coast of New Holland. He was afterward signal officer on the Bellerophon, (the ship on board which Napoleon took refuge in 1815,) at the battle of Trafalgar, and in 1814 served as lieutenant on the Bedford, which carried the allied sovereign to England. In 1815 he was at the attack upon New Orleans, which ended so disastrous for the British, and won considerable reputation by the capture of an American gun-boat. In 1818 he was appointed to the command of the brig Trent, which formed part of the Polar Expedition under Capt. Buchan. He afterwards held a command in the expedi tion of Ross and Parry, at which time he examined the coast as far north as Cape Turnagain, 68 degrees 30 minutes north latitude, and returned to England in 1822, after having suffered great hardships and privations, and was only saved from death by the kindness of the Esquimaux. Promoted to the rank of post-captain in 1825, in company with the same parties he undertook a second voyage to the Polar seas, and examined the coast between the Mackenzie and Coppermine rivers. He returned in 1827, having reached 70 deg. 30 min. north latitude and 150 deg. west longitude and was knighted by George IV. in acknowledgment of his services. In 1830 he was in command of a ship of-the-line in the Mediterranean, and was afterwards sent as Governor to Van Diemen's Land, from which post he was recalled in 1843. Early in I845 he returned to England, and was at once appointed to the command of the expedition to the Polar seas, from which he never returned, and which was expected to add largely to the stock of geographical knowledge and that of the laws which govern the magnet. The Erebus and Terror, the two ships with which the younger Ross in 1839, had made his celebrated voyage to the South Polar seas, were rapidly fitted up with everything necessary to the services, and with the distinguished officers Captains Crozier and Fitzjames, who were selected by Sir John himself, the expedition left England on the 19th of May of that year. It was spoken by several whale ships on the 4th of July. and on the 28th of the same month was een for the first time in Melville's Bay, lat. 77 north. longitude 86 13 west from Greenwich.

Fears respecting the missing navigators be came general in England in '48, and since that period several expeditions have been fitted out there, as well as one from this country, for the purpose of either rescuing or ascertaining the fate of Sir John and his companions. They have returned without success. The only traces hitherto discovered have been the graves of three of the party, and some empty cans-used for containing preserved meats, such as were furnished the expedition. The searches nstituted at the request of England by the Russian government among its possessions on the Arctic Sea has met with no result. But the veil seems about to be lifted, and should the report of Dr. Rea, which has reached us from Canada, prove correct, we shall soon probably know all that can ever be known of Sir John Franklin and those under his com-

The vice of indiscriminate reading has become ah evil of serious magnitude in this age of cheap and ephemenal pulications. Young men are far too prone, as the most precious period of life, when the mind ought to be forming its habits of study, and furnishing itself with valuable stores of knowledge, to consider it important to keep up (as the phrase is) with the literature of the day. Standard works are neglected, that a species of familiarity may be acquired with all the crude productions of a thousand unprofitable authors. The power of attention is dissipated, the memory loses its tenacity, and the mind fails in all those solid qualities which distinguish such men as Milton, Burke and Macaulay. Few literary characters have made more substantial or more brilliant attainments than Mr. Butler, the author of that extremely interesting book, the Reminiscences. In his excellent preface to that work, he describes as follows, the mode in which he was enabled to conduct his studies committed to memory, and repeated once a day, by every young man who hopes for literary "Very early rising—a systematic division of the time—abstinence from all company and from all diversion not likely to amuse him highly-or even thinking on modern party politics-and above all never permit a bit or scrap of time to be unemployed—have supplied him with an abundance of literary hours. to read the best book upon it, consulting others as little as possible; where the subject was contentious, to read the best book on each side; to find out men of information, and, in their society, to listen, not to talk."

Trees from Seed.

A few years ago we made a large collection of the seeds of shade and ornamental trees, both deciduous and evergreen, and planted with much care, but did not get a seed to vegetate. This season we have found out what was the matter; we planted too deep. It is well know that in the pine regious of Georgia this has been a great mast year, and we now find every where where the winged seeds have met the surface soil, they have thrown out rootes, and begun the form of a tree. They had no planting but what nature gave them, and dame nature is a tolerable horticulturist. We invaribly plant tree seed; just soil enough to preserve the moisture is all that is

Fish Story. The following story will do for a yarn, but it is quite as large as we can swallow: "The following anecdote was told many years ago by a gentleman of Eastport, respecting a cat's fishing that may hap you have heard. The gentleman alluded to had his shop over a wharf, under which the tide ebbed and flowed. and in the floor was a trap door used for various purposes, and through which he was accustomed to let down a line, now and then, to catch a fish for pussy's dinner. One day having to leave the line to attend to a customer, he was surprised to see pussy go to it and touch it gently. This led him to watch her, when presently a fish caught hold, and Mistress Grimalkin immediately commenced hauling in the line with one paw, securing the slack hauled in by placing the other paw upon it. In this way she at last secured the fish After that, the gentleman baited the hook and let her fish for herself, and hundreds have seen her catch her own dinner."

A Mother's Prayer. A mother had heard of the arrival of her sailor boy outside the Cape, and was waiting his return with the anxiety a mother alone can know. With faith strong in God, she prayed for his safety. News came that the vessel was lost.

The father, who was an unconverted man, who had preserved a sullen silence, now wept aloud. ' The mother observed, "He is in the hands of Him who doeth all things well," and again the subdued and sortened spirit bowed, commending her son and her hasband, in an audible voice to God.

In the morning, the little gate in front of the dwelling turned on its hinges, the door opened, and their son, their lost, loved son, stood before them. The vessel had been driven in one of the harbors of the coast and to say, is the mystery as well as the master- very atmosphere in which it grows with fetid piece of God's creation! When she is a true women she is charming under all circumstances. But her sphere is endurance rather than action; and accordingly nature bas gifted her with fortitude far surpassing ours. She best answers the ordinary purposes of her creation, as well as best serves her own happiness by making herself as agreeable as possible to our rougher sex. This can only be effected by means of the softer graces and accomplishments; for, I take it, there is no object more unnatural, and, therefore, more revolting to a true man than a masculine woman. My idea certainly is to give her such an education as will best develop the peculiar charms and characteristics of her sex. I should treat a young girl with great tenderness. Give her such physical training as is necessary for ner health. I like to see the delicate blog n of the rose upon their cheeks, but not too rude a glow. Mrs. SHERWOOD'S CHILDHOOD. Lady Jane Grev speaks of the severities to which she was cuffs, nor bobs, nor pinches; but I experienced what I thought was much worse. It was the fashion then for children to wear iron collars round the neck, with a backboard strapped over the shoulders; to one of these I was subected from my sixth to my thirteenth year .-It was put on in morning, and seldom taken off till late in the evening; and I generally did all my lessons standing in stocks with this stiff collar round my neck. At the same time I had the plainest chair in my mother's presence. Yet I was a very happy child; and when relieved from my colla, I not unseldom he fainted. Fact! A hydropathic application manifested my delight by starting from our hall-door, and taking a run at least half a mile brought him to. .... Burnt clay is now extensively used in some sections of the country, as a Manure for garden soil. It is generally prepared, I believe by first accumulating a sufficient quantity of woody matter, and covering it with clay. The mass is then ignited, and burnt till the wood is reduced to coal and ashes, similar to the manner pursued in coal burning. The charcoal, ashes and clay thus furnished, constitute an excellent dressing, and produce highly beneficial effects on both crop and soil.

Extraordinary Case of Dentistry

The Rev. James H. Hartzell, of Quincy, Ill., has lately been supplied with an artificial jaw-bone for a natural one. It appears the Rev. gentleman was for a long time afflicted with a bony tumor, and about ten years ago underwent an operation, when it was found neccessary to extirpate the entire lower jaw-bone, severing it on both sides as far back as within half an inch of the angle of thelower maxillary. Articulation was thus destroyed and also the power to mastigate, while his face presented an unnatural and repulsive appearance. Four years afterwards he procured a gold plate which being furnished with teeth and fitting the cavity left by the removal of the bone, restored the patien the power both to speak distinctly and masticate certain kinds of food. Lately, however, the plate became very defective, and a few days ago Dr. Forbes, of St. Louis, inserted in its stead an artificial jaw-bone, which, it is stated, gives the patient's mouth Extraordinary Case of Dentistry aw-bone, which, it is stated, gives the patient's mouth and chin such a natural appearance that no one would detect without accurate examination that anything had been done more than putting in a set of teeth. COL. FRANCIS YATES.

OF JEFFERSON.

Hon. Henry A. Wise Addressed the citizens of Jefferson, on Thursday, last. We attempted to take no es of his speech, but we failed in the effort and co'n now give to our readare who did not bear hira, but the faintest idea, of what we conceive to have been, the greatest oratorical display which has ever been made in our midst, and the most logical and convincing argument, tha has been poured into the ears of the people, within our recollection. If we attempted to pass a eulogy or pay encomiums upon its merits; if we would call upon our powers of imagery, or strength of fancy to portray the vividness of his conceptions, his classic eloquence, his logical conclusions, his undeniable solutions, we would as certainly fail, as if we were to attempt to garnish the sun, give fragrance to flowers, or truthfully tell all the beauties of nature. It was a speech which was the offspring of the most gifted mind, the most brilliant intellect, the most finished or ator, that Virginia can claim as her son, and can it be expected that we, an humble one of the people, are able to do justice to it, in any description we may give. We are too well convinced of our want of capacity, to be presumptive enough to endeavor to give a picture, and we will therefore content ourselves, by merely mentioning a few of the positions he assumed, and a few of the views he expressed as regards the Know-Nothing party, and its nominees. In the outset he stated, that although he came to the people as the nominee of a great party, as the exsoment of the views and wishes of that party, that it was not the mere fact that he was such, which caused him to leave his home, and his business, to visit the different parts of the State, and address the people. There was no office which the people of Virginia could offer, rich enough in emoluments and honors. to induce him to make the sacrifices which he has made, to meet the people face to face in this canvass but, there were other influences and other motives which actuated him, far more weighty in their character, and better worthy the attention of the Virginia people. He saw an attempt being made to sow new seed in the old Republican soil of his native State, and seed too, which, if it ever germinated, would upstitutions, and which would like thorns and thistles, smother and choke out the principles which give vitality to us as a nation. He spoke not to a party, but to the people, to patriots, to Virginians.

He referred to the fundamental principles of our government, and to the intimate relation of our civil with our religious rights. He entreated the people to preserve inviolate the great principle of religions toleration, and proved conclusively that the slightest violation of that sacred principle, would be the first step towards the sapping of our Republican institutions, and would ultimately lead to the destruction of the Constitution itself. With what power he thrust this truth home, they alone who heard him can

He arraigned the Know-Nothing party for being guilty of the same act, which the colonies charged the King of England with, and which was numbered among the grievances complained of in the Declaration of Independence :- that of restraining emigration to the States. He spoke beautifully of the right of expatriation, and of the great principle involved in the war of 1812. He asked the question, would the Know-Nothing party fight for the principles which the heroes of '12 fought for, or would they, like a party which existed in that day, place blue lights along the coasts, and meet in secret Convention, as they did, in Hartford? Could it be possible that men lived to-day, who would dare to advocate the measures, which made the administration of the elder Adams, so obnoxious to the American people, If they do exist, they will soon learn the truth that a people whose fathers fled from similar persecutions. will not countenance principles which are the peculiar means of the oppressor, to bolster up his power.

and sustain his tyranny. He next spoke of the character of this organization.

Its grand central head, and its State divisions. He proved that there are two State councils, one eastern and one western. He asked what was the authority for their basis of principles. There were a set sent forth in Virginia, but there were also a different set in every State of the Union. They (the Know-Nothings) were shapeing their course to suit every locality, and to secure every shade of influence. Could it be possible that there is honesty in such a party, viewed in National light. He held up to the audience a "Blue Book," a "Nazarene Blue," as he styled it, and in speaking of it quoted from Julius Cæsar, most appropriately. He referred to John M. PATTON, and the course which he is pursuing. He was willing to accept the nomination of this new party, but was unwilling to take the "odium" of membership He was willing to receive a favor from it, but in accopting it, wanted it distinctly understood, that he was not of them. That he differed with them on several of the basis of principles, and Mr. PATTON as ever, has left a slight aperture, through which he can crawl out, at pleasure. It was a very curious ticket. A mixture which was a severe dose for any person to swallow. There was FLOURNOY, with his pure, genuine Americanism; BEALE, the man who hugged Kossuth, and paid all honor to the distinguished foreigner, (wonder if he would do so again,) and then

Patton, the everything. Was there ever such a ticket? Mr. Patron has gained great distinction as a reformer. At least he has gained a celebrity for his opposition to all reform. It is said that for several years after the adoption of the new Constitution, it was his boast that he had never read that instrument. Certainly he is warmly attached to the principles of reform embraced in the new Constitution.-Mr. FLOURNEY, also, is a great reformer, with an antibefore it. He has a very peculiar mode of reasoning He can prove conclusively that Virginia apathy is occasioned by the fact that she is a slave-holding State, and as long as she remains such, there will be no development of resources ; no improvement in her social condition. Mr. Wise contrasted the reasons offered by Mr. FLOCRNOY with his own. He spoke of his early convictions, of his years of longing for ortunity to tell Virginians, why it was that her sons fled from her bosom, why the earth still hid in her bowels the richest stores, why each waterfall was idle; why her western valleys never reverberated with the ponderous beat of the forge or echoed and resounded with the melody of a thousand Spindles. But we cannot possibly give any idea of this portion of his speech. He was a gifted Virginian speaking in words of love of Virginia. His heart warmed, his eyes were lit up with an unusual brilliancy, and steenms of persuasive eloquence, rivaling the great orator of the Grecians, burst forth, until every soul within the sound of his voice, was wrapt up and lost to everything, but Virginia. He spoke of Virginia as she was, as she is, and as she should be, and he thought it strange that her people should

Mr. P., calls the new ism the most conservative of all parties, since the formation of Government. Of course the administrations of Washington, Jefferson and others were not as conservative as the Know Nothings. The origin of Know Nothingism has heretofor been a disputed question, but we think he proved conclusively that its birth took place in Exeter Hall, England, and it was sent to Williams Hall, Boston, from which it was desseminated throughout the en-tire North. He examined closely the condition of the Know Nothing party of the North and particularly of Massachusetts. He spoke of their deriding the Catholics, and railing against their religion. while that same party, by its representatives in the Legislature cast 122 votes for Theodore Parker, a man who looks upon our saviour as one who had so more purity of character than the moralist, and and no other attributes than those possessed by himself; in short, thet "the man of sorrows" was merely a man. Cath siics believe in the Trinity, in the mer-Its of the Son, but 122 members of a Know Nothing Legislative consider their religion dangerous, for the reason, we suppose, that they do not deny the equality of the God-head. The distinguished speaker then spoke of the injustice and want of gratitude exhibited in this persecutions of the Catholics-hou that in the distant past they had been the originators of schemes and the defenders of doctrines, whose influence had tended most powerfully to promote the grand interests of humanity-and had elevated the mind of a dark and benighted age into regions of excessive and glowing light-how the archbishep of Canterberry had united with the proud Barons of old England and had forced from the proud and haughty Plantagenet the "Magna Charter" of English liberty-the germ whose development has been our own high privileges and our own glorious theory of civil liberty-how the "little monk of Erfurth" had pondered with intense emotion upon the relation of man to Deity-how amid the fires and pains of a soul excited by a terrible fear he had wrung out of his intellect that thought whose influence was all calmness and serenity-that conviction which fastened upon the public mind with the energy of truth and purged off the corruption of an unballowed faith. How Melancthon, the pure and gentle in heart, had devoted all the power of a mind, rich in its splended and massive stores of leaning and penetrating with the keenness of original sagacity, to the futherance of the new principles. These were the labors-these were the results accomplished by catholics. The magnitude of their importance to us and to our pos terity demands our eternal gratitude. But we have already dwelt too long upon the de tails of Mr. Wise's speech. We must have a careful regard for the patience of our readers, many of whom were doubtless listeners. But we cannot close this article without referring to the oratory of the speaker. We have rarely seen a face so expressive-so facile in indicating the varying feelings that were stirring in the breast. His eye was at one time tender and beaming with the softest pathos-at another flashing with the blaze of withering denunciation .-His lips, large, but finely cut, were sometimes wreathed in smiles that gave additional point to a humorous thought-and sometimes expressive of that withering scorn that is sharper than the most vituperative language-the whole countenance was most happily assimilated to every thought that dropped from the tongue. We have heard many public speakersmany forcible and eloquent speakers-many who could convince the intellect and warm the enthusiasm completely controlled the feelings as Mr. Wise. We were forcibly reminded as we listened to him, of the eloquence of the glorious period of Athenian greatness, when Pericles and Demosthenes and Aeschines

Interruptions. It is a shame, a burning shame, -a disgrace, which no atonement can blot out, that Jefferson county has gained a notoriety, for the effrontery of some of its citizens, in interrupting almost every gentleman who addresses them on the politics of the day, To think that Jefferson County, which has heretofore been noted for its hospitality and courtesy to strangers, should lose the good opinion of all visiters, by the unmanuerly and disgraceful interruptions of men who have no sense of propriety, and are destitute of all high-toned liberality, is so repulsive to the feelings of every high-minded citizen, that every endeavor should be made to put a stop to the actions of a few, which abroad criminates the many .-We do hope that both political parties will frown down this spirit of cosummate impudence which appears to be gaining ground in our midst. A Veteran in the Field. The veteran Major Yancey, the only living representative of the men of '98, is brought forward by the Democracy of Buckingham for a seat in the Legislature-a post which he held more than a half century since, and which he then distinguished by an ardent support of the famous report and resolu tions against the Alien and Sedition laws, He survives to witness another such crisis in the history of the country, and with the emergency, the fire, and the energy of youth, return and impel him to participate in the struggle. The reappearance of this veteran on the stage of public affairs, after so long a repose in private life, attests his deep conviction of the momentous character of the crisis. From the inspiration of his example, younger men should catch something of his enthusiasm in the cause.

Under the lead of Major Yancey, the Democracy of Buckingham will achieve a signal victory.

Speaking at Harrisonburg. The good people of democratic Rockingham had a treat in the way of public speaking on Monday of last week. Besides Mr. Wisa's address of four hours. Messrs. Payon, of the Richmond Enquirer, SKINNER of Staunton, and Col. A. S. GRAY of Rockingham delivered speeches which are highly praised. The latter gentleman is a whig, of long and high standing, and his spirited and determined repudiation of the midnight cabal must have its effect on his late party associates.

Hardy. From all accounts there is great room for hope that this inveterate whig county is going to do better for the democracy than on any previous occasion.-The old line whigs have broken with their would be masters, the know nothings, on the legislative nomination. The convention of the latter party, including, it is said a solitary democrat who expected the nomination, brought forward W. S. Cunningham Felix Welton, the late Delegate, is his opponent.-Both are whigs.

To illustrate the prostrate condition of "Sam" in Frederick county, the circumstances may serve, that on the regular day of last week's meeting of the Council at Kernstown the President found himself without a solitary adherent. That official, a leading whig of the neighborhood, after-it is to be hoped-some wholesome reflections on the lonely but suggestive scene before him, was fain to resume his hat and re-

The Democratic Party. Every other party, (says the Washington Union,) has retired from the struggle with intolerance and bigotry, or has yielded itself captive to this combiation of factions, save and except the Democracy. Throughout the entire field, the only flag that ware in proud defiance of this combination is that of the emocracy. Nor are the numbers that gather under this gag unworthy of the cause to which they have dedicated themselves. The rank and file remain; the heroes of many hard fought conflicts have not deserted. A few corrupt leaders have gone-

"good riddance to them;" but the great body of th progressive party is as full of energy and hope as ever it was, and but little shorn of its noble proportions. From the day that the flag of proscription unfurled its dark wing, we hailed a real future o success to the Democratic party, and of service to the county by that party, to which all its past victories and all its past services will prove to be as nothing. The political fusions and confusions of the day will soon realize the truth of this prophecy to their bitter cost. Either way, the cause of truth and of equality, of rational liberty and sound patriotism must gain. Whether the profligate leaders of the deluded men who have gone into these dens of secret shame, fail to carry out their pledges, or whether they fulfill them, it will be as the same in the enda wide and general catastrophe will overtake them. If they fail to make good their promises the cheat will be apparent in all its corruption. If they go on their votaries will start before the long procession of persecutions, follies, and crime, perpetrated in the name of Americanism. If we loved our country less, we should say let these madmen go on. The lesson would do good through all time if it were not purchased at too great a cost. Already an appalling record has been made up. The spirit of insane innovation has broken out wherever the phrensy of intolerance has penetrated. It seeks to interfere with every political right and every social obligation. It annuls the most sacred obligations without remorse. It strikes at every security for the well being of society; and in the name of reform it inflicts countless evils upon the country. On the one hand it forces upon reluctant communities sumptuary laws that would have disgraced the reign of the most dissolute monarch that ever lived; on the other it nulifies those solemn guarantees which protect the States in their covenanted rights. Here it strikes down an eminent citizen for his religion; there for the place of his birth. Extravagance in its municipal and State administrations, and the nomination of base, ignorant, and corrupt men for office, have been conspicuous features in its practice, if not in its professions. In Massachusetts it insults weak and helpless women because they have the hardihood to be Catholics; In Ohio it destroys the ballot-boxes, with the cry of "Americans must rule America," and retires abashed and penitent before its own turbulence : In New York it burries a murdered bully with honors, such as were bestowed upon a departed Washington; and in Pennsylvania it desecrates Independence Hall by denunciations of the adopted citizens, breathed in wicked contempt of the memories of the revolutionary struggle. We say we could wish to see these humiliating proceedings conducted tull of horrors." It is natural that at such a time all parties should be turned to the Democratic party, which, unawed by majorities, and unseduced by appeals for aid and comfort, flings its defiance into the teeth of these bold had men, and dares them to the issue. There is something sublime in this. Honest and clear-minded men will see in it an opportunity to cut loose from the trammels of the Whig party. The persecuted will see in the Democratic ranks a refuge and a rescue from their foes. Those derided for their faith will find in that party afortress that will laugh a siege to scorn. Now, as ever, the Democracy opens its arms to the oppressed of all nations; now, as ever, it stands by the teachings of the sages of the past. Not one terret of its creed has it vielded : not one syllable of its pledges; but the more it is assailed the more strongly it adheres to its principles. Let fanatics exult over temporary succees; there is in store for the Democratic party a higher glory than it has ever vet attained-the glory of rescuing our country from the hands of the worst conspiracy that has ever been organized against civilization and freedom since the foreign for invaded our happy shores, 03- The Democratic General Committee of the City of New York, which makes it head quarters at Tammany Hall, held a meeting on Thursday evening and adopted resolutions. We copy from the Herald the 9th and 10th.

9. Resolved, therefore, That we are gratified by the vetoes of the President of the "act making a grant of the public lands to the several States for the benefit of indigent insane persons," dated May 3, 1854, of the "act making appropriations for the fepair, preservation, and completion of certain public works heretofore commenced under authority of law, dated August 4, 1854; of the "act to provide fo the ascertainment of claims of American citizens for spoliations committed by the French prior to July 31. 1801," dated February 17, 1855; and also of the "act making appropriations for the transportation of the United States mail by ocean steamers and otherwise during the fiscal years ending the 30th of June, 1856," dated March 3, 1855, and we trust that the sound Democratic doctrines promulgated therein may, in their enforcement, have the effect of driving from the hall of Congress those persons who com bine to debauch Congress and possess themselves of the property of the Government, and who, in the prosecution of their purposes, are actuated by no rinciple, faithful to no party, insatiably, avaricious, nd remorcelessly corrupt.

10. Resolved, That the liberal principles embodied by Jefferson in the Declaration of Independence and sanctioned in the Constitution, which makes ours the land of liberty, and the asylum of the op-pressed of every nation, have ever been cardinal prin-ciples in the Democratic faith; and every attempt to abridge the present privilege or becoming citizens and owners of the soil amongst us ought to be resisted with the same spirit which swept the alien and sedition laws from our statute books.

From the Baltimore Sun Late and Important from Havana. CHARLESTON, April 28-The steamship Isabel Capt. Rollins, arrived to-day bringing dates from Havana and Key West to the 25th. The correspondent of Courier says a grand review took place at Havana on the 22d inst. Commodore McCauly occupied a seat in Gen. Concha's carriage. Three Creole gentlemen were in prison, charged with beating four Spanish officers of rank.
Several or the Civil Guard are reported to have been assassinated in the streets.

It is reported on the 24th that Commodore McCauly had effected a settlement with General Concha, of ie difficulties between the United States and the Cuban anthorities: The Courier's correspondent however doubts this, beleiving that Gen. Concha has no authority to treat.

The Gaurds had all been withdrawn from the ship Thomas Church: Pinelo and Cadalgo embarked on the 23d for Spair Gen. Concha had invited Commodore McCauly to a grand banquet.

The New York Herald thus remarks in its issue of the 8th instant; "There appears to be some pros-pect of passage by the new American party of the Masachusetts Legislature of a law providing for the admission into the schools of children of the African race, on footing of equality with the descendents of the original Puritans." This may do for Massachusetts, perhaps; but it strikes us that it is a poor expedient of aid and comfort to the new Americ in Virginia. If the Know Nothings of the North choose to admit white, black, and yellow, children upon the common level of equality into their public schools, the Know Nothings of the South must seede from them, or be disbanded. No party in the secede from them, or be disbanded. No party in the South can co-operate with any party in the North which attempts to enforce, socially or politically this ultra-abolition Doctrine of amalgamation. Of late we have been puzzled to guess, and should like to know, what are the national principles of this New American party in Massachusett? They hold the legislature with sparcely an opposing raise the legislature with scarcely an opposing voice against them in either house. What is the meaning of this new bill, consulting it in reference to the campaign of 1856? Is it a sectional or a national movement? a measure of peace or agitation? con-servative or abolition? We should like to know. [Washington Sentinel.

The Voice of the New York Legislature. Will the South Hear it?

The following resolutions were passed by the legislature of New York before their recent adjournment. The negative vote in the Senate was five to aine out of some thirty in the affirmative, and in the house it ranged from about eleven mays to sixty cas. The very few democrats in the legislature oted generally against the resolutions, and the Seward whigs and the know nothings seem to have gone in a body for them :

Whereas, the passage of the bill authorizing the Whereas, the passage of the bill authorizing the Territories of the Kansas and Nebraska and repealing of the Missouri Compromise which prohibited the existence of slavery within their limits, for the purpose of permitting its establishment upon their soil, was a gross violation of good faith, and inflicted grevious wrong upon free labor and free princi-ples throughout the Union;

[Passed—yeas—61, nays 9.]
And whereas this act and the spirit in which it consummated demonstrate the determination of the slaveholding interest to use the power of the federal government to promote the indefinite extention and permanent establishment of slavery;

[Passed 56 to 15.]

And whereas Congress, having no power or right to interfere with slavery as it may exist in any State, is expressly commanded by the federal constitution to make all needful rules and regulations concerning the Territories of the United States: Therefore,

[Passed 69 to 1,]

Resolved, (if the assembly concur,) That the people of the State of New York, represented in senate and assembly, demand of Congress the enactment of a law declaring that slavery shall not exist except where it is established by the local law of the State—thus restoring, by positive statute, the prohibition of slav-ery from the Territories of Kansas and Nebraska.

[Passed—65 to 11.]

Resolved, (if the assembly concur.) That the people of the State of New York, represented in senate and assembly, will not consent to the admission into the Union of any State that may be formed out of the Territories of Kansas and Nebraska, unless its constitution shall prohibit the existence of slavery

Whereas the repeal of the Missouri Compromise and the repudiation of a solemn legislative compact by the slaveholding interest, for the extension of slavery, has released the free States from all obligation that may be expressed or implied in any com-promises on the subject of shivery, outside of the federal constitution : Therefore, be it

Resolved, (if the assembly concur.) That while the people of the State of New York, represented in senate and assembly, recognise and have al-ways respected the obligation of that prohibitory clause of the constitution of the United States which declares that "no person held to service or labor in one State, under the laws thereof, escaping therein, be discharged from such service or labor, but shall be delivered up on claim of the party to whom such service or labor may be due," they regard the law of 1850, which provides for employing the whole power of the federal government in the recapture of fugitive slaves, as a violation of the constitution, an encroachment on the rights of the several States, an outrage upon the principles of justice, and disgraceful to the spirit and civilization of the age in which we live; and that, in their opinion; the welfare of the Union and the principles of republican liberty, demand its repeal. RICHMOND, APRIL 18, 1855. To BISHOP McGILL: Rev. Sir: Having heard and read much declamation against the Catholics, because of the alleged temporal power of the Pope, I take the liberty to inquire of you whether the Catholics in Virginia do acknowledge any temporal allegiance to the Pope; and whether er, if this country could be and was assailed or invaded by the army of the Pope, (if he had one;) or by any other Catholic power, the Catholic citizens of this country, no matter where born, would not be as much bound to defend the Flag of America, her rights and liberty, as any native-born citizen would be; and whether the performance of that duty would conflict with any other oath, or vow, or other obligatton of the Catholics?

My purpose is, with your leave, to make this note and your reply public.

With high respect, Your friend, &c.,-JAMES LYONS.

RICHMOND, VA., APRIL 19, 1855. Dear Sir :- The letter, which you have addressed to me, contains three questions to which you ask an answer, with a view to publication, First Question: "Whether the Catholics of Virgnia do acknowledge any temporal allegiance to the

To this I answer, that, unless there be in Virginia some Italians who owe allegiance to the Pope as a temporal prince, because they-were born in his States. and are not naturalized citizen of this country, there are no Catholics in Virginia who owe of ackflowledge any temporal allegiance to the Pope.
Second Question. Whether, if this country could be and was assailed and invaded by the army of the Pope, (if he had one,) or by any other Cathohic power, the Catholic citizens of this country, no matter where born, would not be as much bound to defend the Flag of America, her rights and liberty, as any native born citizen could be." Answer: To me the hypothesis of an invasion of our country by the Pope seems an absurdity; but should be come with armies to establish temporal deminion here, or should any other Catholic power make such an attempt, it is my conviction that all Catholic citizens, no matter where born, who enjoy the benefits and franchises of the Constitution, would be conscientiously bound, like native-born citizens, to defend the flag, rights and liberties of the republic, and repel such invasion: Third Question, "Whether the performance of that duty would conflict with any oath, or vow, or other obligation of the Catholic ?" Answer: Catholics, reared in the Church as such hate not the custom of taking any oaths of vows, except the baptismal vows " to renounce the Devil his works and pomps." Persons converted to the faith, or those receiving degrees in Theology, may be required to take the onth contained in the creed or Pius IV, of obedience to the Pope, which as far as I know, has always been understood and interpreted to signify a spiritual obedience to him as head of the Church, and not obedience to him as a temporal prince. Bishops, also on their consecration, take an oath which, in our country, is different from the old form used in Europe. But none of these vows, onths, and other obligation of which I am aware, conflicts, with the duty of a citizen of the United States to defend the flag and liberties of his country. In conclusion allow me to state that, as we have no article of faith teaching that the Pope, of divine right, enjoys temporal power as head of the Church; whatever some theologians or writers may have said on this point, must like my answers to your inquiries, be considered as opinions for which the Bocock's District. The sighs in this District indicate the triumphant re-election of Mr. Bocock by a large majority. He skins "Nat" wherever he meets him, and whis for himself a host of friends even from the old Whig ranks. The fact is, it will take at least three oaths ranks. The fact is, it will take at least three oaths to hold the Know Nothings up to the voting point for "Nat." Franklin, Claiborne's own county will give a handsame majority for Bocock: Henry will do the same, while Halifax and Appomattox will roll up unprecedented majorities for him. In Campbell, Bocock will gain handsomely over the last Presidential vote, and in Pittsylvania he will run up Tully to the parally same trangeth. But let up Democrat to the usual party strength. for and against him.

WESTON, VA., April 15, 1855. Gentlemen :- I do not think we will fall much short of our usual majorities in this and the neigh boring counties. The Democratic majority in Lewis I do not think, will be less than 150; our friend think it will be greater. The fact is not to be disguised, that the Know Nothings have made great inroad upon us, but, from indications, we indulge the belief that things will be nearly right at the election. Lewis, the Democratic candidate for Congress, will be elected, perhaps by a majority of 6 or 800. This opinion is founded upon information from Lewis and his friends. We are doing our duty-all that can be done will

Mr. J. Brannon is the Democratic candidate i this county, and he intends to spare no trouble of time. The Know Nothings have a candidate, and the contest is going on with great interest and zeal, at all times, I think, a necessary element to secure the success of the Democratic party.

FROM KANAWHA COUNTY. To the Editors of the Enquirer:

CHARLESTON, KANAWHA, April 12, 1855. Gentlemen :- I see it stated in the Know Nothing papers that the Hon, J. M. H. Beale, the Know Noing candidate for Lieutenant Governor, "is a conistent member of the Baptist church."

Now, to us in Trans-Alleghany Virginia, who tnow the honorable gentleman, this charge of piety against him is really amusing: for a more disgu ingly profane man cannot be found in the broad limits of this commonwealth. DUNKIRD BOTTOM, April 10, 1855. The prospects for the success of the Democracy in our county until within a few weeks has been much doubted-but we have succeeded in turning back the current from the demagogues, and many of those who were caught with the gull-trap have come out openly, and denounced the whole thing, and declare

The sails of the .old flag ship are fully unfurled, and she is moving briskly, and the gale is strongly increasing, inspiring the Democratic crew, for county enatorial and Congressional Districts, with the fu onfidence, that the old flag is, as it has ever been able to bear them over the Jordan of trouble; and on the 24th of May next, the mighty Democratic shout from the low valleys to the lofty mountain summits that will be ushered forth from this district and county, we hope to be unparalleled in the hisory of former years.

We expect to carry the entire Democratic ticket. FROM JACKSON COUNTY.

To the Editors of the Enquirer : JACKSON C. II., April 9, 1855. Gentlemen :- The Democracy of Jackson are ralving finely to the support of the Democratic State icket. Know Nothings are leaving the Councils in his county, in large numbers. Wise is daily gain ng strength here, as I am credibly informed oing in all the counties North of this: Many Whigs declare their determination to support the Staunton ticket. Col. Sam'l L. The stock of the Know Nothing ticket fell about 100 per cent, and the stock of the Democratic ticket rose in propotion as the other fell. In haste.

FROM GREENBRIER COUNTY. To the Editors of the Enquirer:

Lewisburg, Va., April 15, 1852. Gentlemen :- I am of the opinion that this county (Greenbrier) will give Flournoy from 300 to 400 majority. It gave Summer upwards of 600. CRISTIANSBURG, April 18 1355. Know Nothingism is still sinking. The stock is now very mitch below par in Montgomery county; and I suppose that unless the old-line Whigs make a rally soon, the whole concern will be pefectly de funct by the day of the election. - I hope all the Democrats, in the several counties of our State, will at once organize and nominate strong and judicious candidates for the legislature. If they do this, and will go boldly to work, "Sam" and his heterogneous votaries will go with an universal defeat.

FROM MECKLENBURG COUNTY. To the Editors of the Enquirer:

CLARKSVILLE, April 20 1855. Yesterday was our Court day, and there was a protracted discussion between Mr. Goode, our present able Democratic representative in Congress, and Mr. Tazewell, the Know Nothing candidate. Mr. Goode sustained himself to the satisfaction of his party.—
Late in the evening Mr. R. K. Meade took the stand, and for two hours, addressed the most profoundly attentive auditory I ever saw, with a power of argument and array of facts which must tell upon every intelligent mind. He stripped the monster, that prowls by night, of all its delusive drapery and exposed him in all his deformity. Such a speech cannot fall fruitless to the ground. The Democracy are I think, thoroughly aroused. I have no dougt about Goode's election, and none about our county candidate.

FROM UPSHUR COUNTY. To the Editors of the Enquirer:

BUCHANAN, UPSHUR Co., VA., April 19th 1855. Messrs. Editors :- The Democracy of this county have been and are still fighting the battle valiantly Judging from my own personal knowledge, and from the representations of true tried, and reliable Democrats, I think you may set down Upshire county as certain for 100 majority for the Wise ticket. The Know Nothing conspirators inveigled at first a good many Democrats into the order, but since the Winhester nominations, they have been constantly withdrawing-moreover, a number of old fashioned Whigs will certainly support our ticket, which will enable us to carry the county by 100 majority; assuming that there will be no more withdrawals from it, on the part of the Democrats. Gov. Johnson's majority in this county over G. W. Summers was 18 The Hon. B. W. His speeches all through the North-West, have had a most powerful effect; and he assured me that he intended to speak in this District from this until the election. The Paris Moniteur contains a remarkable official document explaining the military conduct of the allied governments since the commencement of the war. Galipoli was occupied to prevent the march of the Russians on Constantinople, but the retreat of the Russians from Silistria rendered the occupation of Galipoli and Varna as unnecessary. The allies were unable to operate in Bessarabia without the aid of Austria and the campaign against Sevastopol was was undertaken in order not to remain inactive.—
The immense difficulties of the siege are then pointed out exonerating the Emperor Napoleon as the planner of the campaign.

This document caused much excitement and was considered as an apology for raising the siege soon.

AT PRIVATE SALE.

THE FLOURING MILL, known as the Bloomery Property, is for sale. It is a very desirable and very convenient properity. The Bill has two sets of wheat burrs, and one set of Chopping and Plasering stones. The water power is the best in the County off the river, never failing, and it never freezes. During the past dry season there has been plenty of water, and the Mill has been doing its usual amount of work. It has all the advantages of the navigation of the Shenandoah river, but is not subject to any of the freshets. The Mill is situated in one of the finest agricultural portions of Jefferson County. It is capable of grinding thirty thousand bushels of wheat, which amount can be purchased within two miles of the site. York. CANDLES, -- S. orm, Adamanting and Tallow Candles, just received by EBY & SON,

On her young breast; Gently, solemnly, Bend o'er the bed, Where you have pillowed Thus early her head,

Plant a young willow Close by her grave; Let its long branches Soothingly wave; Twine a sweet rose tree Over the tomb; Sprinkle fresh buds there,

Beauty and bloom. Let a bright fountain Limpid and clear, Murmur its music, Smile through a tear— Scatter its diamonds Where the loved one lies, Brilliant and starry, Like angel's eyes.

Then shall the bright birds, On golden wing, Lingering over,
Murmuring sing;
Then shall the soft breeze Pensively sigh, Bearing rich fragrance

Lay the sod lightly Over her breast; Calm be her slumbers, Peaceful her rest. Beautiful, lovely, She was but given, To blossom in heaven.

Music.

And melody by.

There's music in the dash of waves Along the ocean's shore; And there's music in the cataract,

And in the tempest's roar. There's music in the woods and wilds, In the pleasant time of spring; And there's music in the voice of love, In its first low murmuring. . There's music in the summer breeze, And autumn's mournful sigh,

When winter storms sweep by. There's music in a pure, warm pray'r, That makes the heart rejoice; And there's music round the cheerful hearth, In a mother's low, sweet voice.

There's music all around us, In the murmuring of streams, In the gentle voices of our friends, And in our golden dreams.

And stirring music in the winds,

There's music in an old tom-cat, Preparing for a fight; And there's music in a squalling brat, At any time of night. There's music in a yelping cur-

In a pig with a corkscrew tail; And solemn music in "Jim Crow," And "Sittin' on a Rail." There's music in a scolding wife, That keeps her house in awe;

And there's music in a grating hinge, And the filing of a saw. There's music in a Chinese gong, Of most peculiar tone, And there's music in an old tin pan,

And in a crack'd trombone. But the sweetest music seems to be, In these degenerate times, The clattering of knives and forks, Or the ringing sound of dimes.

Miscellaneous.

An Election Anecdote.

As a party spirit is asleep about this time, we may publish the following good story, from a New York paper, without hurting anybody's feelings: "I say, Mr.," said a fellow at the Sixth ward polls, on election day, "if you'd just let me vote again, I'll give you two shilling's?" "Agreed," said the inspector. The quarter and the ballot were handed over, and both deposited in the ballot-box prepared for contributions towards the Washington Monument. "Well, now, that's cheap," said the voter; "here's another quarter, for another vote." "All right," said the inspector, as he placed them in the same box with the other. "By Jimminy!" said the fellow, "that's three straight Loco tickets I've voted; here's a dollar for four more."

The money and the ballots were placed in the contribution-box, and our hero vamosed to tell Collector Hyde and Chandler how to carry the election. On his way to the Custom House, he thought he would see if the poll tenders in the Second Ward were as 'green' as those in the Sixth. After stating that he had voted seven times "up where he lived," he remarked to one of the "outsiders" (who happened to be Jim Scott,) that "would just like to drop four votes in there, and would give his last dollar for the privilege."
"Come along," said Jim, who is always on hand for a joke or a French speech, and who knew at once how to manage the voting, "come along and keep shady. I'll give them the wink, and make it all right." The wink and sly word were given; Jonny Raw forked over his last dollar, and the four votes, which were all placed with the dimes "to the memory of Washington," and our hero, chuckling over his aid to the "cause," left for the committee room for the Custom House, to tell of his success .-When last we heard of him he was in the First Ward, buying privileges.

What he died of.

=We overhead once the following dialogue between an Alderman and an Irish shop-lifter:
"What's gone of your husband, woman?" "What's gone of him, yer honor? Faith and he's gone dead."

"Ah! pray what did he die of?" "Die of, yer honor? He died of a Friday."
"I don't mean what day of the week, but what complaint!"

"Oh, what complaint, ye honor? Faith and it'himself that did not get time to complain."

"Oh, he died suddenly?"

"Rather that way, yer honor?

"Did he fall in a fit?"

"He fell in a fit perhaps?"

"A fit, yer honor? Why not exactly that. He fell out of a window, or through a cellar doordon't know what they call it here." "And broke his neck?"

"No not quite that, yer worship.""
"What then?" "There was a bit of a string or chord, or something like that, and it trottled poor Mike."

....Two Irishmen, in crossing a field, came in contact with a Jackass, which was making "daylight hideous" with his unearthly braying.

Jemmy stood a moment in astonishment; turning to Pat, who also seemed enraptured with the song, he remarked—
"It's a fine large car that bird has for music, but he's got a wonderful cowld."

.... "Jane, what letter in the alphabet do you like the best?" "Well, I don't like to say, Mr. Wright."
"Poh, nonsense; tell right out, Jane.—

Which do you like best ?" "Well," (blushing and dropping her eyes,) "I like U (you) the best." .... An Irishman who had just arrived from the Emerald Isle, hearing a gun fired at the closing of the day, asked what the noise meant. Being told that it was the sundown gun, he exclaimed— "Does the sun make such a divil of a noise going down in the country?"

"Sam, did you ever double the Cape of Good Hope?" "I 'spec I has."

"When?"

"Last night, when I put my arm around the cape that belongs to the dress of a young haly that I have good hopes of making Mrs. .... John, how I wish it was as much the fashon to trade wives as to trade horses."

SAPPINGTON'S HOTEL, Charlestown, Jefferson County, Va. THIS large and very commodious THREE-STORY BRICK HOTEL, situated in the centre and business part of the town, is now among the most attractive and desirable resting places in the great Valley of The luxuries of the TABLE of this establishment, are surpassed by none, and the BAR is at all times supplied with a choice selection of superior Wines and Liquors.

Several large Parlors and airy Chambers have been added since last year.

A Splendid Yellow-Mounted Coach attends the Charlestown Depot, upon the arrival of the Cars, which will convey visitors to the Hotel, free of charge. Persons wishing to be conveyed to other parts of the town, will pay a reasonable compensation.

Saddle and Harness Horses, Carriages, Buggies, and careful Drivers always ready for the accommodation of visitors.

GEO. W. SAPPINGTON,

RAWLINS' HOTEL, Corner of Queen and Burk streets,
MARTINSBURG, VA.

THE undersigned begs leave respectfully to inform the community and travelling public that he has taken the Hotel formerly known as the "Berkeley House." The House has recently undergone a thorough renovation; it is now believed to be in every respect renovation; it is now believed to be in every respect adapted to the wants of the traveller and sojourner.

A large and commodious STABLE is attached to the premises. The luxuries of the TABLE will be surpassed by none, and the BAR is at all times supplied with a choice selection of superior wines and liquors.

TO THE PUBLIC.

THIS is to give notice that on the 20th inst., my wife, MARIA, without any provocation, left my house, leaving behind her a note to the effect that she was leaving me never to return. I have made the most diligent search for her and am unable to find her whereabouts. I therefore warn the public against trusting her on my account, or harboring her, as I am determined to pay no debts which she contracts, and I will carry out the law against those who may harbor her

Are curing the Sick to an extent never before known of any Medicine. INVALIDS, READ AND JUDGE FOR YOURSELVES. IULES HAUEL, Esq., the well known perfumer, of Chestnut street, Phihadelphia, whose choice products are found at almost every toilet, says:

"I am happy to say of your Cathartic Pills, that I have found them a better family medicine for common use, than any other within my knowledge. Many of my friends have realized marked benefits from them and coincide with me in believing that they possess extraordinary virtues for driving out diseases and curing the sick. They are not only effectual but safe and pleasant to be taken, qualities which must make them valued by the public, when they are known."

The venerable Chancellor WARDLAW, writes from Baltimore, 15th April, 1854:

"Dr. J. C. Ayrr—Sir: I have taken your Pills with great benefit, for the listlessness, languor, loss of appetite and Billous headache, which has of late years overtaken me in the spring. A few doses of your Pills cured me I have used your Cherry Pectoral many years in my family for coughs and colds with unfaling success. The widely renowned S. S. STEVENS, M. D., of Wentworth, N. H., writes:
"Having used your Catharic Pills in my practice, I certify from experience, that they are an invaluable purgative. In cases of disordered functions of the liver, causing headache, indigestion, costiveness, and the great variety of diseases that follow, they are a surer remedy than any other. In all cases where a purgative remedy is required, I confidently recommend these Pills to the public, as superior to any other I have ever found. They are sure in their operation, and perfectly safe, qualities which make them an invaluable article for public use. I have for many years known your Cherry Pectoral as the test Cough medicine in the world, and these Pills are in no wise inferior to that admirable preparation for the treatment of diseases."

My Patent Premium Threshing, Separating, Cleaning and Bagging Grain Machine, is for sale, which received the first premium at the Crystal Palace, New York, over all Threshing, Separating, Cleaning and Bagging Grain Machines on exhibition—thus proving conclusively that simplicity in construction, cheapness in price, and durability in my machine, is being fully appreciated, and the old and new costly, inferior, complicated separating Ma chines must yeild their places to a superior Labor Sa-ving Machine. The celebrated Machine for Thresh-ing, Separating, Cleaning twice, Screening and Bagging Grain by one simple operation. The greatest labor saving Machine in the world for separating all pure and impurities. This machine throws the straw to itself, the chaff to itself, the wheat in the bag, the screenings to itself, and the smut and cheat to itself. Everything has a place, and everything is in its place to suit the conveniences of the farmer. For sim-plicity, durability, cheapness and capacity, it has no equal in the world. As for what has been stated in the different papers concerning Mr. Zimmerman's Ma-chine receiving the first premium at the Crystal Pal-ace, New York, is false, and not true. It is also stated that Mr. Zimmerman received a number of premiums at ..... and other fairs. That I know nothing about -perhaps he did; but it is very easy to win the race, as the boy said when he ran by himself. But my honorable friends, this was not the case at the World's Fair, New York. Mr. Zimmerman had a number of other boys to run with, besides himself, which made the race more difficult for him-so much so, that he Mr. Zimmerman, was neither the first nor second-s you may judge where he was. These are facts that cannot be denied. The undersigned would inform the public that his Farmers' Labor Saving Machine for Theshing, Separating, Cleaning, Screening and Bagging all kinds of Grain, is for sale. Farmers wishing to buy the best machine in usc, will address JOSEPH GLAZE, Frederick City, Md., who is manufacturing them in the best and most substantial manner and can furnish any orders at a few days notice. Those wishing to purchase the Patent to manufacture the Machines, will address me at Charlestown, Jefferson county, Va. \ June 27, 1854—1y* ELISHA S. SNYDER.

AN APPEAL TO COMMON SENSE. Let the Sick Hear the Truth.

CAPTAIN BENJAMIN—Wherever known his testimony will be conclusive. But lest those who do not know the Captain should be sceptical, Dr. Dawson & Bro., with others of the best known and most highly respectable citizens of Easton, endorses wonderful courtesy. HAMPTON'S VEGETABLE TINCTURE. )

HAMPTON'S VEGETABLE TINCTURE. EASTON, Oct. 4, 1854.

Massers. Mortimer & Mowbray—Gents:—I feel it my duty to you and the public to certify to the effects of Hampton's Vegetable Tincture. I was for more than five years laboring under a disease of Chronic Rheumatism, and the great part of that time I was so helpless that I had to be helped from my bed anddressed in my clothes, I became reduced to a mere skeleton. All the medicines I took done me no good, and I continued to grow worse. I heard of Hampton's Tinctures and thought I would give it a trial. At this time I did not expect to live one day alter another. I did not take it (the Tincture) for the Rheumatism, but in a short time I was well of that disease. From the effects of your Tincture and the help of God I am now getting in good health.

I wish all the afflicted to try Hampton's Vegetable Tincture, as I have done, with the same effect that it has on Your Obd't. Serv't.

We are acquainted with Issae Benjamin; sold him some of Hampton's Vegetable Tincture, and believe the above statement correct.

Wonderful cureafter six year's suffering of one of the most highly respectable citizens of Maryland.

Prejudice and skepticism can't stand before the many cures made by Hampton's Vegetable Tincture.

KENDALLS'S GROVE, Montgomery Co., Md., }

December 2, 1854.

Messrs. Mortimer & Mowbray:

Gents:—In 1844 I had what my doctors called a violent and combined attack of Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, from which I was confined to my bed for three months. I had the very best physicians, who tried other various remedies, none of which gave me any permanont relief. Not having ease from pain day or night, I became much emaciated; my whole system a mass of disease, literally speaking, from the brown of my head to the sole of my feet. I had to hobble about—most of the time confined to the house; at times so helpless that I had to be assisted to my bed. I was also afflicted with a dreadful cough, great shortness of breath, sore throat, palpitation of the heart, and pain in my side so bad that I could not lay on it. My appetite entirely failed me I gave up all hopes of being restored to health again. I continued thus to suffer on from 1844 to 1850, a period of six years. At this time my daughter saw at her grandfather's a namobilet, with numerous certifiof six years. At this time my daughter saw at her grandfather's a pamphlet, with numerous certifi-cates of cures made by Dr. Hampton's Vegetable

Tincture.

I knew some of those who certified to cures performed on themselves and friends. I was resolved to give it a trial. I informed my doctor of it. He objected; but my sufferings were so great that I procured one bottle, and, before I had taken the whole of it, I felt much relief, which encouraged me to persevere.—After taking the second bottle I was better than for the past six years my appetite returned—court no income. After taking the second bottle I was better than for the past six years, my appetite returned—cough, pain in the side, shortness of breath &c., nearly all gone. I continued using this wonderful medicine until I had taken seven bottles, according to the directions; and I am happy to say Hampton's Tincture, and that alone restored me to perfect health, which has continued up to this time—a period of three years. I am in the 65th year of my age. I weight yesterday 233 lbs., and I never felt better in my life. One of my neighbors was also affected, like myself, with Rheumatism, &c. He has also been restored by the Tincture. I heard of other cases; but I am satisfied this Tincture, if tried, will speak for itself. My only Tincture. I heard of other cases; but I am satisfied this Tincture, if tried, will speak for itself. My only object in describing to you my sufferings and the way
I obtained relief, is to induce the afflicted to try this Tincruas, which has, under the blessings of God done so much for me.
Yours, respectfully HENRY GAITHER.

GREAT CURE! DESPERATE LIVER COMPLAINT! Washington, May 17, 1853. Messrs. Mortimer & Mowbray—Gentlemen: Having been afflicted with the Liver Complaint of ten years standing, I hereby, for the benefit of the afflicted, take pleasure in announcing that after using a few bottles of your Hampton's Tincture, I found it had accomplished a perfect cure. I have used different medicines from time to time, but have never been able to account for any apparent good, and it is a blessing to-stricken liumanity that that medicine is found which possesses the wonderous power of prolonging human life. The many cures it has wrought is a sufficient gnarantee of the beneficial results which may be experienced from its use.

Messrs. Mortimer & Mowbray—Geatlemen: It is with real pleasure that I am able to attest to the general healing and curative powers of Dr. Hampton's Vegetable Tincture. Some time during last November, I was taken with a very bad and serious cough. I was advised to take Cod Liver Oil, and did so, but getting no better, I was induced to try your Tincture—I got one bottle, and before I had taken it all, my cough left me. Permit me also to state, that for the last lifteen years I have suffered very much from acute Rheumatism and Vertigo, confining me at times to my bed. I am fully convinced that I owe my present good health to the use of the Tincture, and a kind Providence.

relief, but a complete cure to all those suffering with this great national disease.

DR. TRIST deems it unprofessional to advertise; but others having represented themselves as the originators of the Inhalation Treatment, he would say to the afflicted that he alone is entitled to its first introduction; and would caution all against using the nseless and dangerous compounds advertised by incompetent persons.

"Take up thy bed and walk."

DR. TRIST would say to those interested, that he has had manufactured, for the use of his patrons, his "PATENT INHALATING TUBES" through which the vapor is conveyed to the parts affected, and which he earnestly commends for the cheering results which have attended their use; and the fact, that they may be used by the most feeble invalid without any unpleasant symptoms.

To those residing out of the city, Dr. Trist will forward one of the Inhaling Tubes, together with a package of the Vapor, sufficient to last three months accompanied with ample directions for use, on receipt of a letter containing ($10) Ten Dollars, and describing symptoms.

A cure is warranted in all stages of Consumption, Baonchitis, Asthma, and all other affections of life. Throat, Lungs, and Air Passages. In case of failure, the money will be returned.
