The Island of Cuba.

As this Spanish Island is sooner or later to be ome a part and parcel of the United States, some statistics concerning it will prove interesting. The Island of Cuba. in 1850, contained 605,560 whites, 205,570 free people of color, and 436,000 slaves. The increase of the slave population has been chiefly maintained by the importation of Afri-

The population at the present time does not probably fall below 1.500,000. Stripped of 35,000 Spaniards, 23,000 troops and marines, and 27,000 floating population, and we shall have lett on the Island 1,162,000 souls, of whom 520,000 are Creoles or native whites; less than one-half the whole. The remai der consist of 436,100 slaves, and 205,570 free people of color Cuba has perseveringly sustained the slave trade.

she has continued to import them at about the same ratio to the present time, having added Coolie emigrants to other supplies of labor. The balance of trade against the United States, with Cuba, Porto Rico and Brazil, in 1856, amounted to the large sum of $33,520,442, which contributed to bring on the revulsion of 18 7. The Abolition politicians are perfectly willing to support slavery in foreign countries at a cost of $33,000, 000 per annum; while they carry on a frantic crusade against the mild form of it which exists in In 1856 we imported from Cuba and Porto Rico, in value, (chiefly in sugar and mo asses) $28,506, 656, and exported to the same only $3,951,987enving a balance of trade against us of $19,354, 669. Our trade with Brazil for the same year should a balance against us of $14,167,753.

In Cuba, our floor is saddled with a duty of about $10.81 per barrel when imported in American visees and only $2:50 when imported in Spinish vessels. In 1852, of 327,950 barrels of flour imported into Cuba, only 7,610 were taken from the United States. Lard is charged with a duty 4 1-2 cents per pound when received in American ships, and only 2 1-2 cents per pound ou i ferior olive oil from Europe The dury on meats, from the United States, is al-

From these statistics it is apparent that several mi lions dollars would be saved to the U. States. in the way of trade by the acquisition of Cuba. The trade besween (hiba and New York is said to be larger than with any other port on the Continent.

Crime in New York.

Mr. Ketchem remained in this painful condition for a long time before he could work the ga from his mouth. When he did he commenced hallooing for help, but people were generally in bed, and it was near one o'clock when he was heard by Hiram Taylor, who aroused the sheriff, and breaking in the door, found the treasurer tied upon the floor, nearly exhausted, his face black from the effects of the gag. The cord had cut into the flesh of his arm; his legs were so benumbed he could scarcely stand, and he would have died before morning unless released."

There are already five candidates for Congress in Mr. Letchers's district, and it is curently reported that a few more will come out before long. Those appounced, are, Messrs. Harris, Harman, Martz Newman and Skinner.

the particulars of a heavy robbery committed in that city, on Tuesday of last week. Robert C. Brooks, of N. C., who was stopping at the Exchange, was robbed of $1,100, and Wm. E. Deneale, a son of Geo. E. Deneale, of Rockingham, was charged with the robbery. Brooks, it seems, became intoxicated, and was assisted to his room by Deneale, when it is believed the money was taken from a pocket in his undershirt. Deneale attended the theatre the same night, and after lavishing his money freely on those around him desposited fourteen $50 notes wi h the Next day he got his money from the bar-keeper and deposited $500 in the Exchange Bank, and purchased two or three gold watches at exorbitant prices, and gave two of them to disreputable women. The extravagant manner in which he disposed of his money excited su-picion. Brooks suspected Deneale, but baying no proof against him, took no measures to have him arrested. Mr. J. B. Williams, however, one of the officers at the theatre, rocing Deneale present on Thursday evening, took Deneale aside, told him he was suspected of the robbery, and advised him to make restitution. Beecher on the Apostles.

Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, in a sermon on the 2d its ant, spoke of the Apraties as follows:-"In spea ing of our Saylour, Mr. Beecher alluded to the twelve Apostles as men without character, intelligence honesty, education, or worth. They taken by Jesus from the lowest dregs of society-from the fishing boats and hovels of the laud where they resided. But one of them-St. Paulof the original twelve, but one who came in after ing these men with the great majority of people in hat age, the comparison sunk the Apostles greatly below their fellows. Some were liars, some drunkards, some tetrayers, none seemingly worthy. Peter was pompous when he marched at the head of the twelve, and no opposition to excounter; but when they came in reach of the Jews, his sword was shoved into its scubbard, and he trembied with fear. And then, again; how shameful to hear this chosen one crying out with infinite assurance, 'I know Him not.' And Judas betrayed his Master for the meanest conside ations, while the rest, fearing for their personal safety never hesitated to indulge in the most shameful deceptions to lead him astray as to their real motives. The reverend gentleman proceeded to handle the Apostle- in severe language. and then explained why such men had been chosen to carry God's word to the sinful natious around

It an ordinary sinner had uttered this tirade, he would be denounced as an infidel wretch by all the preachers and religious papers in the land, but we suppose it will be regarded as orthodox and even highly evangelical since it comes from Saint Beecher .- N. H. Pairiot.

Hon, Joseph R. Chandier, Minister Resident of the United States at the Court of Naples, furnishes a brief account of the circumstances current at Nav ples, December 16th, relative to an expected eruption of Mount Vesuvius: 'At the present moment the people of this city are in great excitement at the indications of a dans gerous eruption from Mount Vesuvius. For a long time great masses of lava have been issuing from apertures on the side of the mountain, about half way up; and these apertures have been augmenting in number and size so rapidly that not only is there apprehension of an eruption, but serious fearsare expressed that the sides of the mountain will soon be so worn and perforated as to be no longer able to sustain the superior portion, and people are leaving the vicinity and coming into the city proper. Last night the mountain was truly grand. The hundreds of great fires on the sides (red-ho: lava) were terribly brilliant, while the vast volume of smoke that rose slowly from the crater above had is side illuminated by the fire on the flanks, and presented an appearance of in 'escribable graudeur. I, of course, am unable to say whether these lears are well-founded; but they are entertained by men of science and experience here. To day the people of the city are commemorating

Oh! the snow, the beautiful snow, Filling the sky and the earth below ! Over the housetops over the street, Over the heads of the people you meet;

Dancing, Flirting, Beautiful snow! it can do nothing wrong. Flying to kiss a fair lady's check; Clinging to lips is a froliceome freak, Beautiful snow, from the heavens above, Pure as an angel, and as fickle as love! Oh! the snow, the beautiful snow! How the flakes gather and laugh as they go I Whirling about in its maddening fun, It plays in its glee with every one.

Chasing,
Laughing, Hurrying by,
It lights up the face, and it sparkles the eye;
And even the dogs, with a bark and a bound, Snap at the crystals that eddy around: The town is alive, and its heart in a glow, welcome the coming of beautiful snow. How the wild crowd goes swaying along, Hailing each other with humor and song, How the gay sledges, like meteors flash by, Bright for a moment, then lost to the eye : for a mon-Ringing, Swinging, Dashing they go

Over the crust of the beautiful snow Snow so pure when it falls from the sky, To be trampled in mud by the crowd rushing by: To be trampled and tracked by the thousands feet, Till it blends with the filth in the horrible street. Once I was pure as the snow-but I fell: Fell, like the snow-flakes, from Heaven-to hell Fell, to be trampled as filth of the street : ell, to be scoffed, to be spit on, and beat. Pleading, Cursing, Dreading to die, tre for the purpose, but being notified of the officer's Selling my soul to whoever would buy, Dealing in shame for a morsel of bread, Hating the living and fearing the dead. Merciful Goo! have I fallen so low? And yet I was once like this beautiful snow!

Once I was fair as the beautiful snow,
With an eye like its crystals, a heart like its glow
Once I was loved for my innocent grace—
Flattered and sought for the charm of my face. Father,

Gon, and myself I have lost by my fall. The veriest wretch that goes shivering by Will take a wide sweep, lest I wander too nigh : For of all that is on or about me. I know There is nothing that's pure but the beautiful snow How strange it should be that this beautiful snow Should full on a sinner with no where to go! How strange it would be, when the night come could lay any claim to knowledge, and he was not | If the snow and the ice struck my desperate brain Fairing, Freezing, Dying alone ! Too wicked for prayer, to weak for my moan to be heard in the crash of the crazy town Gone mad in their joy at the snow's coming down; To lie and to die in my terrible woe, With a bedand a shroud of the beautiful snow!

From the N. Y. Observer. LET ME KISS HIM FOR HIS MOTHER. At the funeral of a young man who died of the fever in New Orleans during the last autumn, an old indy came forward as the coffin was to be closed, and made the above request. "Let me kiss him for his mother:" He is friendless and alone; By his death-couch stood no brother, Breathed o'er him no mother's moan Stranger bands have smoothed his pillow, Strangers lay bin in the grave:

Came there not across the billow Wnispered prayers she loved to save? Was not that fond mother pleading, 'M' d her cares, through silent night; Or was she unwarnded, unbeeding ;-

Shadowless her spirit's light? May the hand of Jesus hold ber When this wave of sorrow breaks: May the Father's love enfold her, Blessing even while He takes. "Let me kiss him for his mother," For I bear a mother's heart; Tenderly, though for another,

I can act the mother's part. Age upon my frame is creeping, But my heart is yet unchilled; These old eyes are dim with weeping, For the heart so lately stilled.

"Let me kiss him for his mother. On my lips her love shall rest; "Let me kiss him for his mother. Efe the turf lies on his breast.

The Beginning of the World. The following is an extract from a sermon Spurgeon, the English preacher, and is a pecunen of the eloquence which, within a ear or two, has made his pame familiar in both hemispheres: 'Can any man tell me when the beginning was? Years ago we thought the beginning of this world was when Adam came upon it; but we have discovered that thousands of vears before that God was forming chaotic matter to make it a fit abode for man, and putting races of creatures upon it, that they might die and leave traces of his hand work and maryellous skill, before he tried his hand on man. But this was not the beginning, for revelations point us to a period long ere this world was fashioned, to the days when the morning stars were begotten-when, like drops of dew from the fingers of morning, stars and constellations fell thickly from the hand of God; when, by his own lips, he launched forth ponderous orbs; when, with his own hand, he sent comets, like thunderbolts, wandering through the sky, to find one lay their proper sphere. We go back to these lays when worlds were made and systems were fashioned, and we have not even approached the beginning vet. Until we go back to the time when all the

A Thrilling Incident. The New Orleans Crescent of the 24th gives the following remarkable story of a

Sylvester Rupert, 37 years of age, an Eng-lishman by birth, and by trade a ship-car-penter, lived with his wife and two children in a house on Perdido street. In October last the yellow fever, then prevailing, counted among its victims the youngest child of the Ruperts-their little girl Lizzie, about four years old, and the particular pet of the father. This was a blow from which the father never recovered. Not able to buy a tomb, he had the child buried in the ground in Greenwood Cemetery. The grief preyed heavily upon him. It was his only thought; and being out of his regular employment, he found

He bought a burial lot, and some bricks and other material, and with his own hands and all alone in the cemetery, built him a brick tomb. He had not the means to make the tomb a stylish cne; so, in its mouth or entrance, he fitted a wooden frame, and on this frame he fitted a piece of board, and secured it with screws in its four corners. On this board, with which he enclosed the vault, (in lieu of the usual brick and mortar or marble slab.) he had carved nicely with he knife the burial inscription of his child. The tomb finished, he disinterred the child's body, and placed it there. He fastened the board with screws, in order that he might afterward bave no trouble in removing it when he felt like gazing upon the decaying remains of his employment in his grief.

This employment finished, it was habit to visit the cem-tery, open the tomb and look at his pet. He always carried a screw driver in his pocket with which to remove and replace the board, and also to remove and replace the lid of the coffin. Neither the haggard aspect of the shrinking little corpse, nor the foul odor of its decay, could repel him in his morbid grief. His visits were frequent, and sometimes his wife went with him. He frequently com lined to her that he could not get work; and his inability doubtless fostered the despondency which was drawing him to death. He frequently spoke of having no faith in the future, and of death as a de sirable thing.

On Wednesday he went to the cemetery with two shrubs which he had purchased, Thursday, when he left home, he told his wife | there came a choral shout End there she would never see him agrio. He also said something about having a place in which

That evening, or that night-for no one saw him in his gloomy proceedings-he visited the cemetery; taking with him his screw driver, an iron trunk bandle, a small rod of iron, a piece of wire, some new screws, and a large vial of landanum. Unscrewing the board of the tomb, he threw away the screws and filled the screw-blokes in the board with

With his new screws he then secured the trunk handle to the inside of the board. This work of course, had to be done outside the tomb. Pushing his child's coffia aside, he got in by its side, taking with him his poison and the other articles with which he had provided himself. His hat he placed upon the coffin; his coat, which he had taken off, he wrapped around a brick for a pillow. He shut hims If in with the board by means of the handle he had screwed to it, the board fitting outside the wooden frame. The iron bar, which was of the proper length, he placed across the frame inside. The thickness of the frame would not allow the bar to pass through the trunk handle on the inside of the board; so he secured the handle and the bar by means of his wire, coiling it through the one and around the other. He did not succeed in fitting the board squarely upon the frame .--. One corner of it caught upon the brickwork outside the frame; this be did not discover, probably owing to the darkness of the night : and but for this little circumstance his fate would probably have never been discovered, or not at least for many years. Having thus hid himself away, as he tancied, beyond mortal discovery, he drained off the contents of the laudanum-bottle, composed himselfon his back, pl ced the brick and coat beneath his head, and went to sleep, and off into the unknown region of the suicides.

As he did not return home on Thursday night his wife feared the worst, remembering well the tendency of his late conduct and the tenor of his parting words. On Friday morning she rose early and went out to the cemetery. She looked all around and failed to find her husband. She went and looked at the tomb and was about to leave, when she noticed that the board did not fit snngly into the frame as usual. Looking closer, she discovered the mud in the screw holes; and putting her hand on the board, found it was standing loosely. She pulled it out a little, and the first thing she saw was the dead face of her husband. She fainted away, and laid in the grass she could not tell how long. -She recovered at last, got up and went and informed the sexton, Mr. Merritt, of her discovery. The latter went and looked at things and sent word to the coroner; and the inquest was held, as we have stated, on Saturday.

The coroner's verdiet was in acco. dance with the facts so plainly apparent-snicide by laudanum.

The closing passage of Prof. Mitchell lecture on Tuesday evening, in New York was delivered with thrilling effect. After speaking of the unfathomable distances which no telescope can penetrate, lying far beyond the system in which the earth revolves, and yet filled with independent systems of worlds of infinite numbers, he said :

Light traverses space at the rate of a million miles a minute, yet the light from the nearest star requires ten years to reach the earth, and Herchel's telescope revealed stars two thousand three hundred times f, rther distant. The great telescope of Lord Ross pur. sued these creations of God still deeper into space, and having resolved the nebulæ of the Milky Way into stars, discovered other avatems of stars-Leautiful diamond points glistering through the black darkness beyond .-When he beheld this amszing abyes-when he reflected upon their immense distance, their enormous magnitude, and the countless millions of worlds that be onged to them, it seemed to him as though the wild dream of the German poet was more than realized ! 4

God called man in dreams into the vestibule of heaven, saying, come bither, and I will show thee the glory of my house.' And to his angels who stood about his throne he said, 'take him, strip him of his robes of flesh; cleanse his affections; put a new breath into his notrils; but touch not his human heart'the heart that fears and hopes and trembles. A moment, and it was done, and the man stood ready for his unknown vovage. Under the guidance of a mighty angel, with sounds of flying piaions, they sped away from the battlements of heaven. Some time on the mighty angel's wings they fled through Saharas of darkness, wildernesses of death. At length, from a distance, not counted save in the arithmetic of heaven, light beamed upon them-a sleepy flame as seen through a hazv cloud. They sped on in their terrible speed to meet the light; the light with lesser speed came to meet them, -a moment the wheeling of planets; then long eternities of twilight; then again, on the right hand and the left appeared more constellations. At last the man sank down, crying, 'Angel, I can go no further; let me lie down in the grave and hide tryself from the infinitude of the universe, for end there is none.' 'End is there none!' demanded the angel. And from and planted them in front of the tomb. On the glittering stara that shone are nd that it he had no better luck in finding work, is none? "End is there none?" demanded the angel again; 'and is it this that awes thy soul?' I answer, end there is none to the universe of God! Lo, also, there is no beginning."

BACKING OUT.

Our neighbor backs out from his assertion that in order to defeat Mr. Faulkner, it is necessary to defeat his nomination. He says in his last issue, that he admits no such thing, and says, "it is perfectly well understood that Mr. F. has worn out his welcome with a large portion of the Democratic party." We are aware of the fact that some good and true Democrats, would prefer to see Mr. Faulkner retire this Spring from public life, but a majority, and we believe a very large majority of the party, are anxious that he should continue to represent the District, and consequently are endeavoring to effect his nemination-not by intrigue or wire pulling, but by fair and legitimate means. There are a number of reasons, which might be assigned, why the friends of Mr. Faulkner desire his return to Congress. They look upon him as a faithful Democrats who oppose him upon the ground that he has held the position long enough, and assert, with some propriety, that the doctrine of rotation should prevail. Another class oppose Mr. F., because he failed to obtain for them or their friends, fat places under the Government. Of these, there is a large number in this Congressional District-more perhaps than in any other District in the United States. Some of these applicants, are no doubt worthy and deserving Democrats, and think that their claims should have been regarded-others are only Democrats, because they hope to be benefitted by it. The former we would gladly see rewarded, if positions could be obtained for them-the latter we would like to see continued in their present positions, without reward or the prospect of

At a meeting of the Democratic party of Aldie, held on the 5th inst., to appoint delegates to a Legislative Convention, the following resolutions were adopted :

Resolved. That in the opinion of this meeting it is expedient to nominate candidates for the State Senate and House of Delegates.

Resolved, That we cordially approve and heartily endorse the political course of the Hon. C. J. Faulkner, and the Delegates to the Congressional District Convention, are hereby instructed to use their best exertions to secure his nomination.

The last Winchester Republican contains the following in reference to Col. John B. BALDWIN, of Augusta, and Andrew HUNTER. Eaq.; of Jefferson:

"The Rockingham Register says it is 'authorized to state that Col. John B. Baldwin will vote for Letcher.' Our contemporary must assuredly be mistaken. Col. Baldwin has been announced more than once as one of the distinguished gentleme who would attend the Richmond convention, and his name was among the most prominently mentioned in connection with the nomination for Governor. of the State with no sign of disinclination on his part, until he became a candidate for the vacant seat in the Supreme Court of Appea's. He can scarcely have discovered a change in his politics so soon, nor can it be believed that he can consent to link his fortunes to a party who ejected his estimable father from a position which he graced so truly, and who darkened his last days with the ingratitude of a people whom he had so faithfully 'It is not so difficult, however, to understand that Andrew Hunter is preparing to cross the river (the Stygian) and 'destroy the bridge after him,' for he has been 'wiring in and wiring out' ever since he made his late campaign speech in this place, from which none of his auditors could tell which of the Presidential candidates he preferred to support. In a letter to the editor of the Freders icksburg Herald, which we shall publish, he with draws his name from a prospective association on the opposition ticket, because, as he alleges, 'there are considerations of public duty and of a politica character in the way, which I cannot disregard.' Now, what are these 'considerations.' If Mr. Hunter wants to be a Democrat let him have the manliness to come out at once and say so, let the opinions of his own political associates be what they may be, or rather. what they inevitably must be It is too late for Mr. Hunter to change his own political creed upon clear convictions of public duty and most unfortunately of all he is debarred the privilege of pleading the Know Nothing bugbear as his excuse, for he was among the first to crawl into the culvert, with a da: k-lautern, and make the acquaintance of Sam. Well let him go and all such like him, for the party will be the purer for the cleansing, and when all its excresences are cast off, the honest body of the people will come over to us, and leave the deserters alone in their glory.'

Some time since, we admonished our Whig friends of the propriety of catechising some of their favorite candidates for Governor, before they adopted them as their standard bearers - and now the wisdom of our advice can be seen. What is true of Col. Baldwin and Andrew Hunter, is also true of Col. R. E. Scott, of Fauquier, and others. The truth is, there is no longer a Whig party. Know-Nothingism swallowed it whole in 1855, and those who could not go 'Sam' and his miserable clap-trap about 'furriners' and Catholics, were left without a party, and have been forced to seek quarters elsewhere. And where could they go except to the Democratic pare ty? Let who will attempt to disguise it, there is in truth but two parties in the country-Democratic and Black Republican .-Virginians and all Southerners have to choose between them; and intelligent and patriotic men like Col. Baldwin, R. E. Scott, and Anand efficient representative, and believe him | drew Hunter, cannot be expected to sympatrue to the interests of his constituents, and thise with Black Republicanism—the deadly are willing to sustain him, because they have | enemy of the South. The effort of the Richconfidence in the man. There are other mond Whig-a paper which has been more bitter in its denunciations of Know-Nothingism, alias 'Americanism,' than Henry A Wise himself-to reinstate the old Whig party, at this juncture of polical affairs, is one of the most absurd propositions of the day. It is a moon-struck scheme, which will, like the 'Distribution' movement, which had the same origin, (the Editor of the Whig) all end in smoke. Nothing practical or good can result from it. In the North, where the great body of the Whig party was to be found, there is no longer such a party-not a grease-spot of it remains. What can a Whig party in the South, unaided by a Whig party in any of the Northern States, accomplish? Black Republicanism first put down-a work which all Southerners should unite to accomplishand which another Presidential defeat, we believe, will accomplish-then there may be a re-formation of parties; but not before. We, therefore, think a union of the parties at the South against the common enemy of Black Republicanism, is natural and proper. and reflects the highest honor on the patriotism of those who unite in such a cause. If the Democratic Party cannot put down Black Republicanism, what party can? The Whigs of the South are left to go somewhere -and the Democratic party, the only national and conservative party, is, we repeat, the natural and proper place for them. To assign selfish motives to those who may under these circumstances be found acting with the

Postscript.-The last Rockingham Register says: "It is due to Col. Baldwin to say that the statement in the last Register. 'We are authorised to say that Col. Ax-DREW HUNTER, Esq., of Jefferson, whose name had been used in connection with the 10th of February nomination in Richmond, published a letter withdrawing his name from such association-an extract from which we have before published—because there are considerations of public duty and of a disregard.' For thus doing what he had a perfect right to do, he is receiving the anathemas of his whilom friends most lustily. We remember when the name of Hunter was regarded by the Whigs of the old Eight District as the very synonym of all all that was good, and pure, and noble, and great : but times have changed, and he is now denounced as an 'excresence' from whose riddance the party be left purer." "The Harmonies of Party."

Our Opposition contemporaries are making merry over the dissentions among the Democrats in longress,-and truly they are not as harmonious as 'a happy family' should be. But these difficulties will soon be quieted, either by good sense or the 4th of March. At the very worst, Congress will soon disperse, the 'agitation meetings' will close, and the great , healing virtue 'of the Democratic Constitution will do the rest. Our 'wounds' never open wide, and rarely fester, or linger in the cure. We do not understand however, how it is that th Opposition can find time, in the midst of their difficulties, too look at ours. The union of the Opposition have been forbidden by Seward, in his lochester speech, and by Washburne, in the House of Representatives, except upon terms of the most extreme abolition sectionalism; and these men represent the strength of the anti Democracy. But to come home to Virginia politics, we find but little more to encourage them. The artificial heat which the press has been attempting to excite in reference to the Opposition Convention at Richmond, to-morrow, (the 10th,) has been witnessed with a quiet humor, by the Democratic press; but surely never did a smaller company beat louder drums, or upon less encouragement. They were calling upon Andrew Hunter as probable leader in the battle. Iunter says, 'no,' gentlemen, - 'political' considerations and 'public duty' forbid. They draw the fire of R. E. Scott. He tells them that he is an 'armed neutral' in the present conflict of parties and wishes them all a good time. Nothing daunted and too prudent to be sensitive, they put him at the head of their list of delegates from Warren ton, and publish with a flourish, that he is expected at the Richmond Convention. What they will make out of him if they get him there, we are curi ous too see. If he treads no steps backward, -and he is not in the habit of doing so; they will be glad to have him away. If he should read his Alexandria letter as a preamble to his speech, he will not be seriously disturbed by the applause. John B. Baldwin, is another who has been hamed for the Championship. He runs for judge, and it is thought, will vote Letcher. Thus they go,-crying out that the Democrats are divided and rallying to the lively injunctions of the facetious Ridgeway, to "Vote Early.' 'Tis a pleasant joke, got up by our friends to pass the time. Well,—'tis better to be merry than sad.'

WARREN SENATORIAL DISTRICT.

We regret to see our friends, for we have a right to claim them all as such, engaged in a controversy of so much bitterness and asperity, as to who shall be the next candidate for Senatorial honors from the District of Frederick, Clarke and Warren. Dr. O. R. Fun. STEN, having discharged the duties of his of, fice with such entire satisfaction to his District, declines, under all circumstances, a renomination. Several gentlemen have been nominated for his place, either or any of whom are eminently worthy of the place .-Why, therefore, attempt to prejudice their claims by a needless controversy as to the superiority of the one man over the other?-They are all good men and true, and we hope you will hold your convention and nominate a good Democrat, and then sustain him by a united vote, and success is certain.

The Warrenton Flag of a recent date, announces the death, under circumstances very distressing, at Morrisville, in that county, of Mr. James T. Suddoth, Jr., son of Mr. Jas. T. Suddoth. The hands on the farm were engaged in hauling bay, and the young man being in the hay-mow when the wagon drove up, jumped off on the wagon, running a fork in his groin some several inches. He made an effort to reach the house, but fell and breathed his last after only a few steps. He was about 17 years of age, and quite a promising youth.

On Saturday night last, there was a Congressional democratic Caucus for the purpose of devising ways and means to bring the expenses of Govern. ment within the receipts of the Treasury from the present tariff.

As impartial public journalists we could for many years past, we gave actice through not feel justified in with holding from our our last paper, at the request of many of our readers the veryigrave and powerful objections Democratic friends, of the time and place of which the editor of the Clarke Journal preholding such meetings, to appoint Delegates sents against the re-election of the present to represent Jefferson county through its sev. | representative to Congress. All should know eral Districts in the Congressional Convention | them, that they may be carefully weighed by to be held in Winchester, on the 16th of the people in the selection of delegates to the approaching Congressional Convention .-We have been ourselves inclined to favor Mr. F.'s return to the House of Representatives : but if he means to enslave the people by his "kindness"-if he aims at the subversion of their liberties by his "blandishments" and intends to declare himself a Dictator in this Republic, through the means of his "accommodating spirit," we must unite with his enemies and with the friends of constitutional liberty, in bringing his vaulting ambition to an end. Listen to the Journal: The Democratic doctrine has placed the seal of its condemnation on artificial hindrences or restraints or influences in respect to free 'trade; so should doctrine condemn interference with free election, free choice, obtaining of supply free,-uninfluenced uncontrolled-in respect to all the just wants of society embracing the offices. The man who will interfere with this freedom is an enemy to free trade, is an enemy to Democracy, an enemy to self government-bas all the elements of the tyrant who would usurp the rights and mar the liberty and freedom of the people. In this light let us view Faulkner. Does he respect this right of free choice? Does he not REEC-TIONEER SO assidiously, so industriously, so untiringly, so successfully that he is more distinguished for his electioneering qualities than anything else. What is this but dictation. And we might well ask the question, 'Have we a dictator among us.' Faulkner dictates the election. As well might one in commercial matters dictate where you should make your purchasers or affect your sales, in defiance of this great Democratic doctrine, Buy where you can buy cheapest and sell where you can sell highest.' Here we have interference, restraint, control, high tariff, protection, no free trade, and also an imperious, officious dictation in respect to the manner of fi ling our offices. Because it amounts to dictation and constraint for a man to electioneer as efficiently as Faulkner does. Who can resist him? Who can resist his kindness, his blandishments, his presents, his desires and almost entreaties for the office? Who can resist his kindness, his blandishments, his presents, his desires and almost entreaties for the office? Who can resist his kind offices, his 'hail fellow well met' with every body, his accommodating spirit, and all these things characteristic of an adroit electroneerer and a demagogue-who may have no more concern for the people in his heart than a stone.

But the editor has another grave objection to Mr. Faulkner. It is, that he will not come to any open quarrel with Buchanan or Wise. He cannot comprehend how it is possible that he can occupy friendly relations to both these gentlemen. He is absolutely on thorns because Mr. Faulkner will not make an effort to kick up a row in the Democratic party. He even proceeds mathematically to demonstrate the unpardonable neutrality of Mr. Faulkner:

When we studied mathematics things that were equal to the same thing were equal to each other and this principle might be used to reach a reductio ad absurdum. Now, apply it; Buchanan and Wise are equal (that is like in their pollicy) to Faulkner; therefore Wise and Buchanan agreeing with the same thing (Faulkner) agree with each other, the eductio ad absurdum, for they are known to be as wide apart as the poles. The consequence is that it is impossible for Faulkner to agree with both. However desirable that might be, he cannot with respect to these two, blow hot and cold at the same time, cannot carry water on both shoulders, cannot send forth, out of the same fountain, both bitter waters and sweet. Faulkner, Faulkner, 'choose you this day whom you will serve,' and on whose side you will be.

A VIRGINIAN IN TEXAS.

Most of our readers are aware of the fact. that Mr. F. M. EICHELBERGER, of our county, lately disposed of his beautiful estate, with a view of locating in some portion of Texas. As will be seen by an extract we publish below from the "San Antonio Heral I," Mr. E. is now travelling through that State, and is highly gratified with the fertility of the soil and the prospects of the growing State .-The "Herald" says!

We met yesterday with a very intelligent gentleman from Virginia, Mr. Eichelberger, who is travelling through our country, looking at it with an eye to settlement. In a conversation with him concerning the relative advantages of this country, as compared with the portion of Virginia in which he resides, (the Sheuandoah Valley, not far from Harper's Ferry,) be gave decided preference to lexas. He tells us that farmers in Virginia, using their utmost exertions, seldom make more than five per cent. on their capital, whilst many fall below that. Wheat is the chief article of produce and he tells us the production of that article has become extremely precarious there; the past year the crop did rot exceed five bushels to the acre, in consequence of which times are very hard, and many are looking for homes in newer countries. Missouri has hitherto been the outlet for emigration, but Mr. E. thinks that Texas will hereafter come in for a fair share of those seeking new homes. The only advantage Missouri possesses over Virginia consists in the cheaper price of lands; the rigors of climate and the necessity of feeding through winter are about the same. Here we have the advantage of cheaper lands, entire exemption from severe weather and the necessity of feeding, as well as a more bealthy country, and a climate admitting a more va-

These are the opinions of an intelligent, practical Virginia farmer, who has investigated the subject thoroughly, and who has made up his mind to abide the remainder of his days in some of the beautiful valleys of Western Texas. He is fascinated with the mountain region of our country, and as a wool and wheat producing country and with our never failing streams for mills and stock grazing. Texas has already a large number of Vira ginians within her limits, and we are gratified at the prospect of a further accession to the

The persons principally charged with having resisted the officers of Rockingham county, in the re-arrest of Mr. Geo. E. Deneale, (whose case has become somewhat notorious throughout the State,) were Messrs. M. Maddux, of Alexandria, formerly of Berryville, and Dr. Maddux, of Winchester .-After hearing the testimony, Squire Hardesty recognized them to appear before the Grand Jury, and required them to enter into bonds to keep the peace. They gave the required sec rity and were discharged.

We have been told from our boyish days to the present time, that Fredericksburg was a hundred miles from anywhere, but the fact was never more clearly demonstrated than on yesterday, when we received that interesting and independent journal, the Fredericksburg Recorder, of the date, May 22, 1858, containing the speech of R. A. Pryor, Esq., at the Charleston Convention during the last Spring. The speech is a most excellent one, and comes better late than never-

This young and rising gentleman, the so WM. L. CLARK, Esq., has been prominently nominated for the Legislature, from Frederick county, as well as suggested for the State Senate from that District. From our own personal knowledge, we most heartily endorse the following tribute to his worth, from the Leesburg Mirror:

"We observe by a recent number of the Winchester Virginian: that the above named entleman has been announced for a seat in the next Virginia House of Delegates. From our personal knowledge of his heart and mind, his high attainments and ample qualifications we are unacquainted with no man in the county of Frederick, of his age, so well qaulfied for a representative. We hope that the geople of Frederick may elect Mr. Clark to this position, as we feel confident it will confer benefit upon them and credit to himself." PALCE AS USUAL!

It is a fixed rule with the abolitionists whenever they may chance to find the adver isement of some abscording refugee from la por, to declare to the uninformed portion of he South, that they have safely escaped into Canada by the underground railroad; as a vexation to the South. Witness the follow-

"Mr. WASHINGTON'S SLAVE JOE .- The Boston correspondent of the Worcester Spy, says that John A. Washington's fugitive slave loe, for whose apprehension a reward of $500 was offered, recently passed through that city, n dompany with five other fugitives, on their vay to Canada."

As to Mr. Washington's slave there is not one particle of truth in the above. He was arrested in this town by Capt. John Avis, for which a reward of $100 had been offered. and is now in the Jail of Alexandria.

Democratic Meeting.

Pursuant to public actice, a meeting of the Democrats of District No. 4, Jefferson county, Va., was held at Jefferson Hall, on Friday, Feb. 11, 1859, at 2 o'clock, when on motion of C. B. Harding, N. W. MANNING, was called to the Chair, and Benj. F, Beall, ap shop board, and the prostrated student of the mid night lamp, have found a wonderful regenerator in pointed Secretary.

C. B. Harding moved that the President appoint five delegates and five alternates to attend the Winchester Convention to nominate a candidate for Congress.

Minor Hurst moved to amend the motion of Mr. Harding by appointing a committee of five to select and name the delegates and al-

This amendment was adopted, and the fellowing gentlemen appointed by the Chair, viz :- Minor Harst, James H. Moore, Wm. West, John T. Gibson and Wm. H. Moore. The committee after retiring, returned with the following report: DELEGATES. James II. Moore, Wm. West, John Moore, Wm. H. Moore. Minor Hurst. E. M. Aisquith, Thomas Link. Jere Harris, John T. Gibson. Craven Trussell.

The resolutions offered by D. Smith Eichlberger, in a spirit of facetiousness, are unavoidably crowded out. They were voted down without a division.

On motion, the meeting adjourned. N. W. MANNING, Chm'n. B. F. BEALL, Sec'y.

Next Senator.

Mr. Editor-A number of gentlemen have been spoken of as suitable candidates for the State Senate. Without saying anything against the merits or claims of any one named, I but consult the views or a large portion of the Democracy of both Berkeley and Jefferson counties, in naming Dr. G. A. HAMILL, in connection with this honor. This gentleman, for the last twelve years, or since he took up bis residence in Virginia, has zealously devoted himself to the interests of the party; and perbaps has done as much as any ciber man in building it up in Berkeley County. He has been the great working man of the party, has never asked any favors of it, and I am not sure that he would accept the nomination if proffered him, as he is in possession of a very lucrative practice in his protession, but it is due his merits that the offer be made him. Dr. Hamil's prominence as a gentleman and politician repders it unnecessary for me to say anything of his standing and capacity. Let the party weigh his claims and act accordingly.

CONGRESSIONAL AND WASHINGTON

In the House of Representatives, on Tuesday, the Iomestead Bill was passed, by a vote of 120 to 76. This bill proposes to give to every citizen, who is at the head of a family, and to such as have declared their intention to become citizens, the right to enter a quarter section of land; the location to be on lands subject to entry, at one dollar and a quarter per acre. We believe all the members from Virginia, without hesitation, would vote against

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.-A bill has passed both Houses of Congress, making donations of public lands to the several States for the purchase of founding Agricultural Colleges. In the Senate there was considerable discussion on it. In the affirmrtive. says the National Intelligencer, it was maintained that Congress had full power to dispose of the public lands for the purpose indicated, which, by fostering agricultural education would tend to develop the resources and promote the prosperity of the country. The agriculturalists were interested in the diffusion of useful knowledge on the subject of their vocation, and it was time that Congress, while legislating for other branches of industry, should pay some attention to the claims preferred by the most numerous and the most important of all. On the other hand, the bill was opposed both in its principles and details; on the former ground because of an alleged want of power on the part of Congress to make the grants to the several States, which it was urged, would fail to derive any substantial tenefit from such donations, as because of the defective provisions of the bill, they would enure almost solely to the advantage of land speculators, besides squandering a large portion of the

The Washington Republic says a petition to Congress is in circulation, in the name of 'free colored persons presiding in the District of Columbia, praying for the establishment of a colony of their class upon some sparsely settled Southern portion of our own continent where they may be under the protection of the Government of their native country and have its fostering care,' &c. This move is the work of Abolitionists in and ont of Congress, rather than of those whose names may be signed to it, who in permitting themselves to be thus used, are lnjuring their status here.

The Washington Union 'lays down the law.' with regard to the present state of affairs and throws the whole responsibility on Congress. It gays:
'It is clear that either the duties levied on imports must be increased above the present rate of nineteen per cent, or that the present system of legislation calling for an expenditure of upwards of $60,000,000 must be changed. Either the garments must made to fit the man, or the man dwarfed to fit the garments. It would seem to be too late in the session for the the second alternative. and it follows that Congress is bound, on the basis of its own lsig slation, either to raise the duties on importations above the average rate of nineteen per cent. to a standard more nearly that of a revenue standard, or to adopt the maxim that a public debt is a public blessing, and provide for meeting the demands of their own legislation by adding new oans to the public debt. The dilemma is purely and exclusively a congressional dilemma, and it remains to be seen whether the statesmanship of the present Congress is equal to the exigencies of the Senator Hammond, of South Carolins, see the following letter to the Boston, Anniversary of the birth-day of Webster. It breathes the same fra ternal spirit and conservative tone that distinguished his celebrated Speech at Barnwell Court House last fall, and quickly placed him in a prominent and estermed position before the entire country). DEAR SIE: I am very grateful to you, and to those whom you represent, for your polite invitaproximo, in honor of Mr. Websters birth-day; and or the kind assurances accompanying it, in which I have full confidence.

My duties here, however, so entirely engage all my attention, that I must respectfully decline your You say, that in the revolution, Massachusetts and South Carolina stood shoulder to shoulder.'

It would be well for the world if they 'stood so now!

And why do they not? To have brought about their present one of whom must have erred muchpossibly both. Another age will decide between us. Born and Bred in South Carolina, of which State my mother is a native, my father is a Massachn-setts man—college friend Mr. Webster—and descended, I am proud to say, from your earliest Puritan immigrants. In the antagonistic position of these two small but noble States, I have personally much to regret—as a patriot, much more. I wish the breach could be filled up and obliterated. I we have done you wrong, if we have been the aggressors, I think that I can assure you that there is not a man in South Carolina who is conscious of it-not one who would interfere with any of your institutions-not one who would thwart in the reast any of your peculiar and legitimate interests; and could it be shown that we have done any of these things,not one but would desire to make prompt and ample reparation. If the same spirit animates the people of Massachusetts to the same extent, we may justly hope that—the deluding falsehoods of political aspirants trampled under foot-our two States may yet stand 'shoulder to shoulder,' the pillars of constitutional republic wisely and justly administered forthe protection for the advancement of all, without special privileges and endowment to any section, class or individual, but incuring to all and each the full development of themselves. Your obedient servant Washington, Dec. 22d, 1858.

Special Notices

It is a common observation that there are more sufferers from debility, among An ericans, than can be found among any other civilized nation.— The reson is obvious We take to little exercise, and forget the wants of the body in the absorbing pursuits of business. In all such cases, ordinary medicines can do little good. What is required is just such a toni and invigorator as Dr. J. Hostetter has given to the world, in his CELEBRATED "BITTERS." The weak and nervous denizen of the counting-house, the exhausted toiler upon the these 'Bitters,' and prefer it to more pretentious, but less efficacious medicines. PHILADELPHIA. Gentlemen.-The close attention which our own affairs have required since the fire, has hitherto prevented us from writing you about the Safe.
On occasion of the fire 19th July, by which we suffered a large loss, our store, with a number of other buildings was consumed . The Safe, of your manufacture, which we had in the store, was exposed to a most intense heat, as is well attested by the effects on its strong iron frame, which, from its flaked and scaly apparance, looks as though it had been heated for a long time in a furnace. The Safe, with heaps of molten glass and kegs of nails, fused into a mass, fell into the cellar, surrounded by burning materials, and there was suffered to remain, (as the contents-had been removed before the fire reached us,) until the 2nd day of August 14 days afterwards.

The difficulty in cutting it open with the best cools that could be procured, convinced us of its power to resist the attempts of burglars, and when tonishment of all, entirely uninjured by fire. This test has so fully convinced us of the capa bilities of your Safes, that we would not part with the one we have in use for a large sum, were we debarred the privilege of getting another.

Respectfully yours, R. H. WARDLAW & SON. November 16, 1858 -3m.

TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE. There is an evil habit sometimes indulged in by boys, in solitude, often growing up with them to manhood; and which, it not reformed in due time not duly begets serious obstacles to matrimonial handiness, but gives rise to a series of protracted, ins auous and devastating affections. Fiw of those who give way to this pernicious practice are aware of the consequences, until they had the nervous system shattered, feel strange and unaccountable sersations, and vague lears in the mind. (See pages, 27, 25, 29, of Dr. Kis book on

The unfortunate thus affected becomes feeble, is unable to labor with accustomed vigor, or to apply his mind to study; his step is tardy and weak, he is dull, irresolute, and engages even in his sports If he cmancipate himself before the practice has done its worst, and enter matrimony, his marriage is unfruitful, and his sense tells him that this is caused by his ear'v follies. These are considerations which shoul i awaken the attention of all who are similarly situated.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

A compound remedy, in which we have la-bored to produce the most effectual alterative that can be made. It is a concentrated extract of Para Sarsaparilla, so combined with other substances of still greater alterative power as to afford an effective antidote for the diseases Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. It is believed that such a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that one which will accomplish their cure must prove of immense service to this large class of our afflicted fellow-citizens. How completely this compound will do it has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found of the following complaints:-SCROFULA AND SCROFULOUS COMPLAINTS. ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AF-PECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEU-RALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITA DYS-PEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD. This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which fester in the blood at that season of the year. By the timely expulsion of them many rankling disorders are nipped in the bud. Multitudes can, by the aid of this remedy, spare themselves from the endurance of foul eruptions and ulcerous sores, through which the system will strive to rid itself of corruptions, if not assisted to do this through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions, or sores; cleanse it when you find it is obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it whenever it is foul; and your feelings will tell you when. Even where no particular disorder is felt, people enjoy better health, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well; but with this pabulum of life disordered, there can be no lasting health. Sooner or later something must go wrong, and the great machinery of life is disordered or overthrown.

Sarsaparilla has, and deserves much, the reputation, of accomplishing these ends. But the world has been egregiously deceived by preparations of it, partly because the drug alone has not all the virtue that is claimed for it, but more because many preparations, pretending to be concentrated extracts of it, contain but little of the virtue of Sarsaparilla, or any thing else.

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence, bitter and painful disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself is justly despised, and has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound Sarsaparilla, and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. And we think we have ground for believing, it has virtues which are irresistible by the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure. In order to secure their complete eradication from the system, the remedy should be judiciously taken according to directions on the bottle. .

PREPARED BY DR. J. C. AYER & CO. LOWELL, MASS. Price, $1 per Bottle; Six Bottles for $5. Aver's Cherry Pectoral, has won for itself such a renown for the cure of every variety of Throat and Lung Complaint, that it is entirely unnecessary for us to recount the evidence of its virtues, wherever it has been employed. As it has long been in constant use throughout this section, we need not do more than assure the people its quality is kept up to the best it ever has been, and that it may be relied on to do for their relief all it has ever been found to do. Arctic vs Mustans A N invidious and impudent card, recently pub-lished by the proprietor of the Mustang, seems to call for some notice at our hands, and aithough we dislike newspaper controversies, and haveal-ways avoided them, we shall in this instance depart from our usual custom. The card alluded to is aimed at BRAGG'S ARCTIC LINIMENT, and very evidently has a pecuniary origin, these dis-interested gentlemen disliking to see their article food of the poor. Sammer friends may for sake you, and the unpitying world pass you with scarcely a word of compassion.

You may be forced to toil wearily, steadily must be a seen a livelihood; you may encounter to see their article supplanted so rapidly by Bragg's Arctic Liniment. The card is to desultory for us to follow seriatim, but states that Dr. Bragg had published a card amounting the property of the card is to desultory for us to follow seriatim, but states that Dr. Bragg had published a card amounting the property of the card is to desultory for us to follow seriatim, but states that Dr. Bragg had published a card amounting the property of the card is to desultory for us to follow seriatim, but states that Dr. Bragg had published a card amounting the property of the card is to desultory for us to follow seriatim, but states that Dr. Bragg had published a card amounting the property of the card is to desultory for us to follow seriatim, but states that Dr. Bragg had published a card amounting the property of the property of the card is to desultory for us to follow seriatim, but states that Dr. Bragg had published a card amounting the property of the prop for its deteriorated quality, or for the injuries resulting from the use of the spurious article with which the market was glutted. Dr. Bragg's son is the only person of that name having any interest in the Arctic Liniment. Bragg's Arctic Linimentis now and has always been owned by Oliver T. Bragg and M. Burrows doing business under the style of Bragg & Burrows, and the only connection Dr. Bragg ever had with it was in the simple fact that he invented it. Since inventing the Mustang Dr. Bragg has had inexperienced youth. The instaneous success of Bragg's Arctic Liniment wherever it was introduced, bears conclusive testimony that such was the fact. Before the Arctic Liniment had been introduced six months, it had superceded all other Liniments, including the Mustang. In the meantime a spurious article of the Mustang made its appearance in the market, put up externally exactly as the genuine had been by Dr. Bragg, but as unlike it in quality as possible. Dr. Bragg was constantly an-noyed by letters from various persons who had used this deterioratep and injurious article of Mustang complaining of its bad effects, under the mistake mpression that he was still its proprietor. If Dr. Bragg considered it to be his duty to set the matter before the public in a card announcing that he had no further connection with it, that was his affair, with which we have nothing to do. The vaunt of the Mustang proprietors that they are well known to the business community is most amusing to those who know their status. The trouble is they are too well known. Their motive in the card alluded to is transparent; they dislike seeing their cheeply made preparation superceded by Bragg's Arctic Liniment, an article so greatly its superior but which they affect to consider a failure. Notwithstanding this affectation, they offered a large sum for its suppression, and failing in that are now expending much money for newspaper cards, in the vain attempt to persuade the public that the Arctic Liniment is a failure. The public are not so easily gulled as these gentlemen suppose, and can readi y comprehend that if it were such a failure as those unscrupulous persons pretend, they would be the last to disturb its quiet oblivion. The fact is readily perceptible that they are alarmed for the pros perity of their own article, and well they may be, for they knew that for an article to attain the substantiat celebrity of Bragg's Arctic Liniment, it must possess an intrinsic value capable of positive demonstration, and hence their only hope is in so abusing ii that people may be deterred from trying it, well assured that if they once tested its merits. they could never again be induced to use the Mustang. In conclusion, we claim that the Arctic Liniment is the best article ever offered to the public, and that it will bear triumphantly every test which may be applied to it. BRAGG & BURROWES, Sole Proprietors, St. Louis, Missouri.

We, the undersigned, masters and owners of steamboats running to and from the port of St. Louis, impressed with the importance of having on hand, at all times, a safe and certain remedy to he used in cases of sudden disasters, have obtained a annuly of Dr. Bragg's Arctic Liniment, which we boats, beleiving it to be the most speedy and unfail ing remedy for the cure of burns, ecalds, wounds, contusions, &c., ever offered to the public :

FROM DR. JAMES M. JARRETT, OF THE NEW-YORK LUNG INFIRMARY -My.connection for the past eight years with the above institution, as Chief Physician, and a twelve years' course of steady devotion to the Cure of Pulmonary Consumption and its kindred diseases, together with my unrivalled opportunities and advantage of pa-thological research—aided not a little by a perfect system of Medical Inhalation-has enabled me to arrive at a decisive, direct, and successful course o treatment for the positive and radical cure of all diseases of the Throat, Lungs, and Air Passages. By Inhalation, the vapor and curative properties of medicines are directly addressed to the diseased organs and the integument. I do not advise the use t Medical Inhalation of any kind, to the exclusion of general treatment, and although I consider it a naeful adjuvant in the proper management of those fearful and often fatal diseases, yet I deem it very necessary that each patient should have the benefit of both general and local treatment. The success of my treatment in the above diseases, and the high character of the Institution over which I have for so long had the honor to preside, are too well known to need any eulogy or comment from me. At the solicitation of many private and professional friends through whose philanthropic aid the above charity has been long and liberally supported, and after the consideration, I have concluded to make such arrangements as will bring thebenchts of my experience and treatment within the reach of all, and not confine myself, as heretofore, to those only who entered the Infirmary, or who were able to visit me at my office. Hoping therefore that the arrange ment will give entire satisfaction, both to my pro tes-ional brethren and the public, I would respectfully announce, that I can now be consulted per sonally or by letter, on all diseases as above and that the medicines, the same as used in the Institu tion, prepared to suit each individual case. Inha ling Vapors, Medical Inhalers, &c., &c., will be for warded by express to any part of the United States or the Canadas. TERMS - My terms of treatment by letter are as follows, viz.: $12 per mouth for each patient, which include medicine sufficient for one month's use; also, Inhaling Vapor, and an Inhaling Apparatus. Payment as follows : $6 to be paid to Express Agent on receipt of the box of Med icine, and the balance #6 at the expiration of the month, if the patient becuren or is entirely satisfied tory of their case, and their symptons in full, can be treated as well by letter as by personal examination. Mrs. Montague, for many years afflicted with most diseases that are common to temales, spending a large fortune in ten years in trying the different means of treatment for her relief, to no avail, was prevailed upon by her friends to visit Cuba, December '48, for the purpose of recaining her former cember '48, for the purpose of regaining her former health. While there, she obtained a prescription from a Spanish Physician "Whose silver locks

EVERY FEMALE IN THE

Were tending to the grave." With which, through the mercy of God, she was r stored to her youthful health. Atter her return she made known to hundreds her female sufferers the effects of the remedy with equally as great success. This extraordinary medicine isoffered to the public for the relief and cure of all the painful and dan-gerous diseases peculiar to woman, and that the female constitution is subject to.

To those suffering from "Prolapsus Uteri," Lucorrhoea, Ammorrhoea Menorrhagia, Dyemenorrhoea-Ohlorosis, a speedy ture can be obtained.

To those suffering from Kalling of the Womb, or Uterine Weakness of any kind, the Female Cordial is especially recommended. It is warranted to cure this painful disease if persevered in. In all spinal affections, pain in the region of the Pelvis. Lowness of Spirits, Hysteria Sick headache; and all those diseases arising from the peculiar formation of women, the Corcial will be found of an immense value. This medicine moderates all excess, and removes all obstruction; it invigorates the debilitated constitution for the duties of life, and when taken in middle age proves a blessing.

Modesty forbids us, in a public advertisement, to make full the deta'ls; but the wrapper around each letter will fully explain every case Merchants, females, or others, oy sending a three cent stamp, can have any information respecting the operations of the medicine. GREAT DISCOVERY OF THE AGE MPORTANT TO TOBACCO CHEWER DR. GUSTAV LINNARD'S TASTE RES ORATIVE TRO HES. The Great Sabstitu for Tobacco.

T is a well known and incontrovertible fat tha the use of Tobacco is the promoting ca e of many of the most severe MENTAL AND PHYSICAL DISORDERS which the race of man is subject, as careful analysis and long and painful experience have clearly proven that it contains certain nascotic and poi sonous properties most dangerous in their e ects. which by entering into the blood derange the un tions and operations of the Heart, causing many to suppose that organ to be seriously diseased. TOBACCO affects also the entire nervous system, manifesting itself-as all who have ever used the noxious ween will bear testimony-in Lassitude, Nervous rritability, Water Brash, Dyspepsia, and many other disorders of a similar character. THE TASTE RESTORATIVE TROCHES Are designed to counteract these baneful influenc. s, and have proved completely successful in a multitude of cases, and wherever use t.

harmless in themselves they exert a beneficial effect upon the entire system, restoring the Taste which has become viated or destroyed by great indul gence, completely removing the irritation and acompanying tickling sensation of the throat; which are always consequent upon abstaining from the use of Tobacco, and by giving a healthy tone to the Stomach, invigorate the whole system. Persons who, are irretrievably undermining their onstitutions and shortening their lives, should use hese Troches immediately and throw off the injuous and unpleasant habit of Tobacco Chewing. These Troches or Lozenges are put up in a con enient and portable form at the low price of 50 Cents per Box. A liberal discount to the Trade. Prepared solely by the undersigned to whom all orders should be addressed. JAMES E BOWERS, Druggist Cor. 2d and Race streets, Philadelphia. March 23, 1858.
