THESE Instruments having been before the public for the past thirty years, have upon their excellence alone, attained an UNPURCHASED PRE-EMI-NENCE that pronounces them unequalled Their TONE combines great power, richness, sweetness, and singing quality, as well as great purity of intonation and harmoniousness throughout the entire TOUCH is pliant and elastic, and is entirely free from the stiffaces found in so many pianos, which causes the performer to so easily tire. In WORKMANSHIP hey cannot be excelled. Their action is constructed with a care and attention to every part therein that characterizes the finest mechanism. None but the best seasoned material is used in their manufacture, and they will accept the hard usage of the concert-room with that of the parlor, upon an equality—unaffected in their melody; in fact they are "NOT FOR A YEAR-BUT FOREVER."

protection to the loyal majority in the Thirty-ninth Congress, in whom we recognize faithful guardians of our assailed institutions and able supporters of the principles involved.

Come in your might! By your presence show how sternly loyalty can rebuke treason. Prove thereby that the threats and insults of a treacherous Executive against the legislative branch of the Government cannot intimidate a free people. Here in the Federal capital must our great struggle culminate in wise and equitable legislation. Here, then, should we assemble to encourge and strengthen Congress-to whose hands the Constitution wisely entrusts the power-to such just action as will make peace permanent and liberty universal.

THE WOMAN OF SAMARIA. BY JAMES D. BLACKWELL.

A stranger by Samaria's well Rested his toil worn feet.
Where dense on Sychar's vale there fell The beams of noontide heat.

He seemed but some wayfaring man To passing stranger's view, For none would pause the face to scan Of the unfriendly Jew.

They did not see upon that brow Engraved the majesty Of Him to whom as present now, Was all that was to be.

They did not recognize in him Whose feet that highway trod, The One to whom the Scraphim Bowed even as to God.

And when from old Samaria's gate

That heedless woman came, He was to her, as there he sat, One all unknown to fame

At e'en the small request

It seemed to her a thing so strange,

But greater wonder filled her heart,

Each secret sin she thought concealed

By lapse of gliding years, Was by that wondrous voice revealed,

She turned aside her head in shame,

Hope dawned amidst her darkest woe
With beams divinely sweet,
It was as though she heard the flow
Of streams mid summer's heat.

Those words—they teld of dying love, Of cancelled sin's release; The first faint whispers from above Of pardon and of peace!

They told her of those living streams

And oh! those streams are flowing still, Which life eternal give

Whose waters heal he soul,
Whose draught with heavenly potence teems
To make the wounded whole.

And downcast was her eye; But lo! what healing words there came, w Like light o'er morning sky.

Which might not be controlled, As she beheld with sudden start Her guilty life unvolled!

And all the past appears!

He asked her for a simple draught,
To cool Him in His rest
And lo! that thoughtless woman laughed

A thing entirely new, That words with her He should exchange, And he a hated Jew!

It may be so badly drawn that no conrange these nefarious plans, we doubt if the viction could be had on it, whatever the proof my Attorney General or Cabinet."

Repeated attempts have been made by the prisoner's counsel to bring his case to trial ; but to no purpose. The Government does not appear to prosecute; the machinery of the in the deadly breach and offered his life for Courts is always out of order. At one time, the Union, these men got behind the door and whistled. Andrew executed; but there is not one intelligent man on earth who has the faintest notion that he ever will be. For, though governments sometimes inflict capital punishment on con-spicuous Rebels, they never, at least in mod-ern times, do so long after their rebellion was suppressed. Austria, in 1849, put to death thirteen of the Hungarian leaders, betrayed into her hands by the miscreant Gorgary; but she tried them by drumhead court martial directly after their surrender, and had them all hanged and buried within forty-eight hours. Had she waited eighteen months, and then executed them, she would have invoked the execrations of all Christendom.

Since it is notorious that Davis is not to be punished, why is he still kept awaiting a trial which he alone seems to desire, and which he can by no means obtain? What good end s subserved by persisting in a menace which Extraordinary Oratorical Feat. A Legislator Speaks for Seventeen Consecutive Hours.

One of the most remarkable feats of endurance in a speaker which we ever remember to have heard of comes to us from Victoria, Vancouver's Island, says the Ecaminer. In the Legislative Assembly of that place, we are told that Mr. Leonard McClure spoke for seventeen hours without pausing or sitting down. To those who are unacquainted with the circumstances, this feat might not appear proper to be placed in the same category with the exertions of those ambitious pedestrians who, for wagers, walked a thou-sand miles in a thousand hours. It may easily be supposed that McClure's speech could not have been a master-piece of oratory, nor is it likely that his inducement was greater than that which moved Edmund Burke when, at the trial of Warren Hastings, after pouring out for fourteen hours a torrent of impassioned eloquence, the majestic mind collapsed under the force of physical fatigue, and he fell fainting in the arms of Sheridan. But we know of no instance of stubborn tenacity equal to this of Mr. McClure, and the cause was one which should make him famous in the annals of the British colonies.

A year ago a large quantity of land in and about Victoria was seized by the Government for arrears of taxes, and was by it held on the understanding, expressed and published, that the owners could have and repossess their lots by paying the taxes due within a twelve month few days before the expiration of the allotted term that a plot was on foot, hatched by the Government and backed by a venal majority Mrs. M. severely injured by the sev in the House of Assembly, to pass a bill authorizing the Executive to repudiate its contracts with the land-owners, refusing to cept payment of arrears, and seizing upon and retaining permanently the disputed lots.
Two men in the House opposed the measure.
Their names were Amos de Comes and Leonard McClure. They knew that they had nothing to hope from their compeers or from the Government, and they prepared themselves accordingly. The House had made up its mind, with these two exceptions, to rush through this obnoxious bill on the day before the twelvemonth expired. There was but one way to prevent this, and unanimity they refused to allow him to lean against the table, to put his foot upon a chair for a moment, to relieve himself from the irksomeness of his position by resting his hand upon anything, or to speak, in short in any other than a rigidly erect and unsupported attitude. During the whole of the time they relieved each other at intervals, going out and procuring such refreshments as they needed, and always leaving a quorum in the house. When McClure sank exhausted into his seat, as the light of another morning was stealing into the windows of the assembly house, De Comos rose, and for the remaining seven hours of the twenty-four talked against time. On rising, amid the grouns and hisses of the discusted and infuriated majority, he | that it was tiseless for honorable members to had got up with the determination to talk, lif necessary; "until the angel Gabriel sounded the last trump." His powers of endurance were not quite so severely tested, but the end was achieved, and when the clock struck twelve, the worn and wearied champions of honesty looked round with pardonable exultation upon the blank faces of a bought and

Mr. Arnold, brother in-law of the deceased, pulled upon the reins and endenvored to stop the horses in the first carriage, in which Mrs. Dugan, Mrs. Marshall, Colonel Conwell, and Mr. Affield were riding. The toppage of the front carriage, so unexpectedly, brought it in contact with the horse and nearse which was immediately behind. This would have been no serious accident in itself, but the near horse, og the foremost carriage at once commenced to kick with all his power, and cleaving himself at once from the whipole trees, kicked so high in his mad efforts as to break through the side of the carriage, and succeeded in planting a furious kick in Mr. Conwell's side. This was done in an instant, and in another, the other horse commenced to run with the carriage, cutting a complete circle-overturning the carriage with a crash, dragging it a little way, and then clearing himself dashed off with the then clearing himself dashed off with the distribution of the field. It was but the work of a moment to get the widow and the injured one to the nearest house and start in search of the hearse and for the physician .-

No one doubted but the hearse and the coffin had been literally dashed to pieces. The men turned out with lanterns and lights and searched far and near; but, in about an hour, word was brought that a boy had stopped the hearse down town, near the ferry. And although the horse had run most furiously, and knocked off pieces of the hearse, yet the coffin was not injured in the least, and when opened the natural features of Mr. Dugan were as placid and undisturbed as though no such disaster had happened. The injured lady was taken to her home which was not far distantand cared for; while the relatives and friends returned to Mr. Webster's, a relative of the deceased, and remained through

This morning the case came off, ex-Mayor I.

Lyndes being the counsel for the prosecution, the defendant appearing in his own defence.

The court-room was crowded, for the idea of trying an editor for stealing, or shooting chickens, was a novelty. The plaintiff brought in his bill, swore to its correctness, testified that he owned the chickens, that they were raised by a hen belonging to him, that he saw the defendant shoot them; that he had repeatedly asked the defendant to settle for them, and failing to get pay or satisfaction, he was compelled to bring suit, and asked for judgment of one dollar and costs. The defendant admitted shooting the chick-

A Fearful Fall and Almost Instant Death.

An accident fatal in its nature transpired in the central part of the town on Saturday afternoon last. Workmen were engaged in repairing the spouting of the building owned hy Mr. Wm. R. Deuny, separated by an alley from the Taylor Hotel. A ladder reaching. from the alley to the roof had been hoister and upon this Mr. John Chamberlain, in the employ of Mr. Abraham Nulton, had ascended to the eaves of the house. Whilst in this position, proceeding with the necessary re-pairs, the motion of his body sprung the ladder from under his feet, and the unfortunate man was precipitated to the pavement below, homes in the country. It being quite dark a distance of some thirty feet. In the descent, Mr. C's body maintained an almost erect posture, until reaching within a few feet of the ground, when he turned his head striking against the curb, producing a fracture of the skuit. Mr. C. was taken immediately to the residence of Mr. Nulton, where medical aid was summoned, and everything done for the relief of the patient, but in vain. His injuries were of a mortal nature, and he survived them only two hours. The deceased man's funeral took place on Sunday, and was attended by many who attested by their pres-ence regret for his sad end.

Mr. Chamberlain, we learn, was a native of Western Virginia, but had for some time lived in this town. During the war he was a member of Co. A., Fifth Regiment, Stonewall Brigade, and is spoken of as a faithful soldier. On the blank leaf of a book belouging to a friend, he had written that in the event of his death his desire was that he should be buried in the Stonewall Cemetery.

No Use for Trowsers.

The following anecdote which goes the rounds of the press every once and awhile, has the merit of being an actual fact. Old Peyton Roberts, properly Nathan Roberts,

On the morning of the meteoric shower, in 1833, he intended making an early start to his work, got up in the midst of the display. On going to his door he saw with amazement the sky lit up with the falling meteors and he concluded at once that the world was on fire, and that the day of judgment had come. He stood for a moment gazing in specchless terror at the scene, and then with a yell of hor-ror, sprung out of the door right in the midst of the falling stars, and there he commenced a series of ground tumbling that would have done honor to a rope-dancer.

His wife being awakened in the meantime. and seeing Peyton jumping and skipping about the yard called out to him to know, What in the name of common sense he was doin' out thar dancing round, without his clothes on" But Peyton heard not. The judgement and long black account he would have to settle made him heedless of terrestrial things; and his wife, becoming alarmed at his behavior, sprang out of bed and running to the door, shrieked out at the top of her

"Peyton, Peyton, I say, what do you mean umpin' about thar? Come and put your reeches on."

"Breeches I what the d-l is the use of reeches when the world is on fire."

Victoria's Five Daughters.

Queen Victoria has five daughters. The ldest is the wife of the Crown Prince of Prussia. She is destined to become the future Queen of Prussia. The second, Alice, is the wife of the Prince of Hesse-Darmstadt whose principality has been lately absorbed by Prussia. The third, Helen, became recently the wife of the Prince of Teck, who is a Prince without a pricipality. Two remain unmarried—Louise, who is in her eighteenth ear, and Beatrice, who is in her ninth .-What is to be done with Louise, now that most of the Protestant and German Princes have been ousted from their petty thrones by Prussia? There is only one Protestant Prince now available for royal conjugal purposes, and he is the brother of the Princess of Wales, King George of Greece. Mr. Gladstone is, consequently to proceed to Athens to enter upon this delicate negotiation. Her proposed husband is a mere youth, who dances well, and is fond of good cigars, and is tolerably good looking. He might make an admirable clerk in a millinery store, but is altogether out of place as the chief of the spirited Greek nation.

Bethuel M. Kitchen, who in What may be done by this rump Congress, is a matter of some consideration, if not of actual consequence. Steeped in radicalism, as it is, and burning with a volcanic desire for the humiliation of the South, we may naturally anticipate the introduction, if not the enactment, of the most extreme measures .-The Southern States with a creditable unanimity, and with a spirit that does honor to their prostrate condition, are rejecting the iniquitous constitutional amendment which was referred to them by the last Congress as a condition precedent to their restoration to the privileges of representation; and with a calm submission are awaiting the worst decree that fate may have in store for them. Already have the radical press and radical orators proclaimed the punishment they are to suffer for their contumacy, and we have no reason to regard the threats thus made as without meaning. The intense hatred, which burns of radicalism, must find relief and ventilation in some form, and we cannot doubt that the form selected will be the most oppressive and cruel that can be conceived.

The programme of consequences to result to the South for her rejection of the amendment in question-as marked out by the less discreet of the radical leaders-may be briefly summed up as follows:-Abrogation of her State governments; the restoration of martial law, with military Governors; indiscriminate confiscation, with the granting of freeholds to negroes on the plantations whereon they had been slaves; the impeachment of the President; the abrogation of all pardons by the President, and trials for treason before military commissions; the sweeping disfranchisement of her people, and the passage of an Enabling Act to authorize certain classesmeaning the negroes and the so-called loyalists of the South, to erect new State governments on the ruins of existing constitutions, adopted at the behest of Federal power .-These constitute the main instruments of torture to be applied in the gratification of a cowardly revenge by the next session of the would-be American Congress.

After closely observing the indications of the times, we have no hesitation in expressing the conviction that all that is here mapped out will be attempted, if not executed. There is but one single obstacle in the way to the complete execution of the whole programme, and that is the exercise of the utmost executive authority. Will the President stand between the people and these madmen? Time alone can answer the question. And if he does interfere, will he be sustained by the conscrvatives of the North? Heaven only knows, but we fear it is doubtful.

IMPIOUS MOCKERY.

Arthur I. Boreman, who arrogates the title of Governor of West Virginia, has issued a Proclamation setting forth Thursday, the 29th of this month, as a day of "public thanksgiving and praise."

It is an unparalleled outrage upon the people of Virginia, that the office and functions of a separate government within the rightful domain of the State should be permitted to exist, but it is adding insult to injury, gives a deeper poignancy, and invites mockery and hypocrisy, when the agent of these usurpations sets apart a day for the people, who are the victims, to repair to the temple of the Most High and give thanks for the favor of being thus outraged. What impious mockery to be sure-what sacrilege in the sight of high Heaven? It is true that "the fruits of the earth have been blessed to us" for which we hope all are truly thankful to our Divine Benefactor, but a "pestilence that walketh in darkness, and wasteth at noonday" does scourge the people of this section of Virginia. It is a political leprosy which afflicts the body politic with borrors worse than plague, pestilence or famine. It seethes the soul, consumes the budy and destroys our substance. It is the som of Dispatch states that Lewis McKenzie, preall human woes. THE FORTIETH CONGRESS.

If the republic should be granted an existence until the first Monday in December, 1867, and the hand of Providence is not made manifest in the removal of the chief agents of the devil, there will assemble in Washington city on that day, the strangest combination of human weakness and human rascality, that was ever congregated in one deliberative body; and rather than lament, the South should rejoice that she will have no part or lot in the moffey group. In her contributions to this menagerie, Puritanism has spread herself, and Massachusetts has been especially profuse. Banks, Boutwell, Butler! what a trio! The first will be remembered as the valiant general who led the first Federal army up the Valley of Virginia, but who for prudential reasons, didn't remain to lead it back again, but fiel for personal security. Boutwell is a nut, and a hard one, and although he "never set a squadron in the field," he is an officer of high command in the torch-andturpentine brigade that is to spread desolation in the South if she fails to yield to the mild requirements of radicalism. Butler is the most famous man in the world with an in. He can steal more, lie harder, and fight less than In less than two weeks from this day, a any other living man. NORTHERN PROPRIETY!

Upon the occasion of Secretary Seward's sad visit to his home at Auburn, N. Y., with the remains of his beloved and only daughter, the sacredness of his grief was so little respected by his own neighbors, that a call was made upon him for a political speech! The following is Mr. Seward's response to the cruel and heartless request :-

"AUBURN, Nov. 5, 1866. "My DEAR GENERAL .- You know how entirely unfitted I am at this moment for the exciting scenes of a political canvass. I was hurried to this place and I must hasten away from it. INTERESTING REVIVAL OF RELIGION. A most refreshing and encouraging revival of religion is now in progress in the Methodist Church of this town, under the ministe rial direction and control of the Rev. ROBT. SMITH. During the past week a large num ber have found peace and comfort in believ ing, and night after night, the altar crowded with anxious souls, inquiring the way of salvation. On Sabbath night, God's mercy was wonderfully vouchsafed in the happy conversion of some six or eight, whilst more than twenty other seekers earnestly struggled and fervently prayed for a manifestation of the Spirit in the forgiveness of their sins and the removal of their condemnation. A more impressive and affecting sight than was presented on that evening, is seldom witnessed on this side eternity, and the deep solemnity and serious attention which pervades the large congregations that nightly assemble, furnish good ground-for hope that a better condition of affairs for our community is about to dawn upon us. In the commencement of this revival, the pastor had the assistance of that laboriou servant of God, Rev. Dr. HOUGH, of Winchester station, whose fervent prayers and earnest appeals, seem to have reached the ear of Jehovah, as well as touched the hearts of men. Since the departure of Dr. H., the labor of preaching and conducting the meetings, has devolved upon the pastor, and he has met the heavy responsibility with a zeal which

[From the Columbus (Obio) Crisis] Financial and Commercial

The Report of the Secretary of the Treasury o the effect that there was ninety-nine mil ions of gold in the Treasury at the close of last month, of which sixteen millions were "Certificates," was published broadcast over he country, as well as the further fact that twenty-four millions were due and to be paid out on the 1st inst., on interest due on Gov-

We have heretofore pointed out the absurdity of constantly bringing forward these "gold certificates;" or promises of the Goverhment to pay gold on presentation, and parading them as "gold assets," when every tyro knows they should be kept upon the other side as "Government liabilities" until redeemed at the Treasury, when they should be cancelled and swept away from any further confusion of the Treasury accounts.

The country would look for nothing better from such flash financiers as CHASE, JAY COOKE & Co.; but of Mr. McCulloch better morals and sounder financial expositions are expected. Besides, there is no further necessity for resorting to these miserable expedients to swell the apparent gold balances sixteen per cent beyond what they really are. With these sixteen millions deducted, and twenty-four millions paid out on interest due on Government bonds, there was left in the Treasury fifty-nine millions and no more.-Upon this point let us not deceive ourselves

The almost unanimous expression of the public press was that the payment out of the Treasury of $24,000,000 of gold on the 1st inst. would greatly lower the premium on gold. Two weeks have now passed, and such is seen not to be the case; on the contrary, the premium on gold during the last days of October ranged in New York at 145 to 146, while on the first days of this month it advanced to 148-9, and has since continued at from 145 to 149—ranging on Saturday last from 145 to 1464.

Our readers will find by reference to the history of past quotations, that the premium has uniformly risen immediately upon the payment by the Treasury of large amounts of

With a view to ascertain the gold basis upon which the paper supe structure of some nine hundred millions of paper money of this country stands, we propose to call up the last Quarterly Report of the "National Banks," showing their standing on the first Monday of October:

National Rank Notes in circular, $280,129,558 Specie of all kinds, $8,170,835 Less than two dollars and seventy cents to

We often hear from such financial mountebanks as CHASE, GREELEY, Harper's Weekly, &c., of the ability of the country to return nution of the volume of paper money. Let us see how this is:

We have shown that the Secretary of the Treas'y controlled after the 1st inst. $50,000,000
Autional Banks report specie....... 9,179,835 Total in Nat'l Tre'ry and Nat'l B'ks, $57,170,935

Should the Government decide upon immediate resumption of specie payments, how long could the National Banks hold out upon 24 per cent. of specie? It is not our purpose to analyze this. "National Bank" report. We hope some one of more leisure will do it; but we wish briefly to call attention to one other branch of this important document, viz:

Total of Deposits..... 596,911,344 (RECAPITULATION)
Capital Stock......... 415,278,969

Amount of Deposits over the entire Capital......$181,632,375

For which these banks are liable to be called upon at any moment. So that not only their entire capital, but nearly fifty per cent. more liable to be called on at sight! These sight liabilities, too, are exclusive of the $280,-129,558 of notes in circulation!

One item in the above statement will strike the tax-payer with no little astonishment, viz: the Thirty-two Millions and a Hulf deposited by the Government without interest, on which terest. An amount nearly equal to the annual expenses of the Government (exclusive of trust funds,) during Mr. Buchanan's Administration, and about equal to the capital of the old United States Bank! The interest on which at 7 per cent. is an annual tax upon the Treasury of Two Millions Two Hundred and Seventy five Thousand Dollars to be paid by the toil and sweat of the laboring

From Mr. Chase, who started these banks upon the funds of the people, by loaning his political friends the money of the Treasury, othing better could be expected; but from Mr. McCulloch, to whose management of the Treasury we look with a high hope for integrity and superior capacity—the country does expect a reform, and that speedi-

In the history of paper money, from John LAW down to CHASE and JAY COOKE, there has never been established so unsafe, so pernicious a system of banking as this piratical association of legalized plunderers.

True the capital (borrowed from depositors) is invested in Federal Bonds worth now in pecie 68 to 70 cents on the dollar, which bonds are held as security for the redemption of the notes of circulation so far as good .-In case of specie payments, a run that drowns ankrupts the whole system. Three Hundred illions of bonds are then thrown upon the market with no money to purchase them, as there is not a dollar left to pay the depositors, except as the money may be collected upor the bills discounted, many of which it is fair esume will be found to have been drawn the PENNS, CULVERS & Co., and other winand gress and their party friends.

The following table, made up from the abstract of Sec'ry McCulloch's forth-coming report, shows the total receipts and expenditures of the Government during the past year, compared with those of the three former years: Year ending June 35 Receipts. Expenses. 1866-266. $556,039,195 $ 548,347,337 $684-65, $29,507,000 $1,290,348,000 $663-64, $260,632,000 $665,234,500 $662-763, $111,399,199 $714,709,000

mount of earnings, as ascertained by this inbodiment of wisdom, is represented to be $6,858,000,000; net annual increase, afte deducting total consumption, $778,000,000. Leaving just $128,000,000, after paying the Federal taxes, with which to pay State, County and Municipal taxes! The truth is that no country on earth, with the population of this, in the most prosperous period, ever earned this amount. These telegrams are sent over the country to amuse the people while they are bled to the fabulous amount of $650,000,000 a year for federal taxes! based on information derived from some such official luminary as "Isaac Newton," head of the Agricultural Bureau, who never read an entire book devoted to the subjects pertaining to the Department over which he presides in his life, and whose experience in the business consists in the superintendance of a Connecticut onion plantation.

The people pay these enormous taxes under the fear of the infliction of the terrible penalties of the Federal tax laws. Whether a man has the money or not he must pay his taxes. The entire net income of the past year has fallen far short of paying the taxes of the country. We have shown in previous numbers that the foreign balance of trade against us thus far this year was between two and three hundred millions of dollars, and we had nothing but government bonds to ship to Europe at 68 to 69 cents to the dollar with which to pay these balances! If the earnings were sufficient to pay the faxes why this balance against us? These taxes may be paid for a while at the expense of individual ruin; but closs upon commercial ruin will follow National Bankruptcy. The disbursements of the Treasury, on account of the War, Navy and Interior Departments, during the past week, were as National Bank'circulation was issued during the week to the amount of $731,250, making the total to date $296,086,104: The Government holds securities as follows : For circulating notes, $339,858,150, and for deposits of public moneys in designated depositories. $39,438,950. Total, $379,297,100. Fractional currency was redeemed in the sum of $238,300; received from the Printing Bureau, $560,500; shipped to National Bank and depositories, $336,535. Foreign exchange 1084 to 1101.

The loan market in New York is said to be close at 5 to 6 per cent. on call. The scarcity of money in the West is due to the fact that, in the entire failure of the wheat crop, we have as yet but little to sell, except our beef cattle. The pork crop now interests our citizens perhaps more than any other. On Saturday last in Cincinnati hogs | equivalent to cash - Valley Virginian. sold gross at $6.50 to $7.00-a heavy decline within a few weeks.

The Future of the Country.

There never was a period in the history of any country when it was more difficult to foresee what a year or even a few months may bring forth. The speculations of the wisest have been baffled in all that related to the war and its consequences. The most far sighted have been as much at fault since the war ended, as when it was raging. In the early period of the peace things looked hopefully, and, under the benign influences of a patriotic President, the wounds between the sections seemed to be rapidly healing. But, ever since his Constitutional policy has been trodden under foot by Congress, matters have been getting worse, and apprehensions have been expressed by men of the soberest judgment, that the party passions now raging so furiously will terminate in a civil war, extending throughout the whole length and breadth of the land: We are not of the despairing school; but it does seem to us that the great chasm made by the late war is not going to be as readily bridged over as we had believed and hoped; that the earthquake, whose rumblings have not yet subsided, but than their entire capital, upon which they do business, is borrowed, and for which they are only to our institutions, but to the character. of our people, and that we are not what we were-a nation prizing constitutional liberty and representative government above all other human blessings; that, at the present moment, the public mind is rather yearning for stability, for repose, for security of property and of life, than for the semblance of free the Government is paying seven per cent. in- forms, without the substance. There is pervading all men's thoughts an uneasy apprehension that there is at this moment no great interest of society which is not completely at the mercy of fanaticism, and party passion:— The approaching session of Congress, it is feared, will add fresh causes of disquiet and alarm, and the call for the "veterans of the Republic" to protect that body against a danger which does not exist, is amongst the most minous signs of the times. Whither are we tending? Farther and farther every day from the old landmarks of the Constitution, from old principles, ideas and traditions; but where and how will our voyage terminate?— There are many people who are beginning to feel careless whether Congress gives us re-publicanism or monarchy, centralization or State Rights, so they give us something defi-nite and permanent.—Balto. That he is a man of strong convictions and earnest purposes is evident from the manner in which be advocated and pushed forward important measures in Congress, like the homestead bill, and the stand he took against secession, and in favor of the government during the late civil war.

He believed that the manner in which he proposed that the Government should deal with the Souththat the Government should deal with the Southern States was not only a magnanimous one, but the only one likely to fesult in a speedy and hearty recordilation between the two sections: and he has felf it to be his duty to sustain his views by the exercise of such powers as the Constitution had clothed him with. But while this has been, and doubtless will continue to be, his course, he will violate no law nor fail to perform the duties which are legally devolved upon him. He will veto every bill that he may regard unconstitutional, no matter how unpopular it may be for him to do so. But he will execute with unscrupplous fidelity all laws, and especially those to which he has declined to give official sanction.

The taxes levied on property in socalled West Virginia, are heavy almost beyond conception. The State government is in the hands of the floating and unsubstantial population, and taxation, which is thrown almost wholly on property, is levided with unsparing hand, because those who impose it escape almost entirely, and get heavy picking in the public expenditures. The Norfolk Virginian gives the particulars of a gross outrage lately perpetrated in Nansemond county, as developed before the County Court of Nansemond, on Monday last. Three free negroes named Sandy Wooten, Dick Wooten and John Edwands, were before the Court charged with unmercifully whipping and maining Armstead Hatchell, & white man. Hatchell is a poor, ignorant and inoffensive man, living near Chuckatuck, and is addicted to habits of intemperance. Sometime since, after he had retired at night, Sandy Wooten knocked at his door and he went out, having nothing on but his shirt and drawers: He was seized by Sandy and his two accomplices, carried to the woods, tied up by his hands, with his feet about two feet from the ground. His shirt was turned over his head and his drawers pulled down round his feet, was whipped all over the body and gashed in a frightful manner.

The rope cut his wrists very bad. On one of his wrist joints he is permanently disabled. Mr. Whitehead, who visited the place the next day, counted thirteen strips of gum whips that had been used in the whipping.-Dr. Glover, who examined his body, says there was not a part of it from the neck to the ankles but what had been struck with the our dead heroes. Whips, and the blood covered the whole body.

The negroes were present in court and heard the evidence, and seemed unconcerned, chewing and spitting tobacco juice with the utmost unconcern. Great indignation was excited, but the trial progressed in the regular way, and they were sent to jail to be tried at the next term of the circuit court.

Boston Philanthropy.

On the 12th instant quite a scene was gotten up in Boston over the departure of the missionary ship "Morning Star," built by subscriptions of Sunday school children.—
The ship is commanded by Rev. Dr. H. Bingham, Jr. Hor destination was the Sandwich Islands; but what she is to do when she gets there does not appear. We suspect the Rev. Dr. Bingham will take a turn at a trade to pay expenses. How the . " Morning Star will carry out her missionary purposes, unless it be the distribution of books and the gathering up of something more valuable for the return toyage, we cannot imagine. This sort of missionary business has been long conducted by the Bostonians. But to the matter of the lugubrious and tearful leave-taking botween the citizens and the dear Bingham

There were present on vessel and on wharf 2,000 persons. A hymn and prayer and a chapter from the Scriptures were succeeded by a short address. Then follow other addresses, when Mr. Bingham, Sr., took leave publicly of his son, and daughter, and his son's wife (who were going to the Sandwich islands) in the following language: "Children, I commit you to the care of Him who holds the winds in His hands, and who has said, lo, I am with you to the end of the world. My children, I bid you all a long and final

The scene was dramatic and highly sensational. The reporter says "there was scarcely a dry eye visible." A closing hymn and prayer, the lines were cast off, and the "Morning Star" sailed on her voyage. Now here is a people making a great pow-wow over the sailing of a missionary vessel to the Sandwich Islands to carry christianity to a race of beings whom they have helped to make wretched, and whose condition they are not likely to improve if they preach to them and trade with them till doom's day. Tears are shed in such copious showers as to shame the clouds for the costive manner in which they let down their rains, and two thousand people were moved to very misery in their deep sympathy for the sorry inhabitants of the Sandwich Islands. On that far-off sympathy, how much money is spent in it?how many sinecures does it create for lazy people who cannot support themselves in any honest way?—how many books and tracts it does require, and how much money is needed to print 'em? For this and for these do the preachers and collectors beseech the good peoole, especially the rich, of Boston. Give us, say they, of your gold and your greenbacks -oh give, that we may evangelize the savage. The long faces and the canting prayer-makers rive, and the missionaries go out-away on rom Boston-to minister to the benighted .-And as they depart, there are tears and moans. and groans for the heathenish condition of lmost all men but themselves. And ye these very men have been for nearly two years convulsing the land with their crusade against the subjugated southern people, and are ready to plunge them at any moment into a depth of misery and despair, from which there shall be neither resurrection nor reconstruction. Cannot the Sandwich Islanders, or the Oiebbeways, or some other gentle savage race sen a few missionaries to Boston to teach the peo ple there a little humanity? - Richmond Dis

The object of which is to remove as speed y as the financial success of the undertaking will admit, the remains of our honored fallen now dotting the bloody battle fields of Cedar Creek and Fisher's Hill. It is our unhappi ness to know that the sad list is a long one, representing nearly every Southern State-Not deterred, however, by the magnitude of the work, we propose to remove to the Cem-etery those who fell, and to bestow that care and attention to their earthly remains, due those who battled for all they held dear in life, and who died gallantly defending those principles wherein we bade them God speed, and cheered and stimulated them by every ncentive we possessed.

If the victors can remember their dead comrades, how much more ought we, who have suffered defeat, to weep over our fallen braves, and desire to perpetuate their memories: Tis the only tribute we can pay them, and one that is eminently due both to the living and the dead. The calamities of war have left us, as a community, unable to do much towards the accomplishment of the work, and we are compelled earnestly to ask those who feel an interest in our undertaking to assist us. People of the South, we call upon you !-Visit our Valley, and along the roadsides and amid the hills, you will come across the lonely grave of some martyr of freedom, who per-ished for his rights and our rights. Holy and venerated are such spots. Humble though they be, they are full of hallowed memories. But we propose to remove the remains of all these into a cemetery, and rear a monument to their memory. The work is such as to commend itself to the favor of all who appreciate our motives:

We solicit the co-operation of all similar associations throughout the State, and the assistance of those who feel with us, the desire of rescuing from oblivion the memories of All communications should be forwarded

In company with our old and particular friend big Dan of the Hagerstown Mail, we paid a flying visit last week to Charlestown, our former County Seat, and we could not & CO., 78 Nassau street, New York.
but feel pained at the unsightly appearance August 14, 1866-3m. but feel pained at the unsightly appearance of its public edifices, the result of most wan-ton vandalism, whilst we were equally justified to notice the spirit of enterprise and good taste manifested by its citizens, in the adornment of their private residences, and the erection of new, and thorough renovation of old places of business. There are many of the tores more handsome in appearance and with larger stocks of goods on hand than ever before, and we should judge that the spirit of competition is considerable and the feeling of amodation commensurate. "There is life in the old land yet."

We could not fail to make an examination of the Agricultural Depot recently established by our friends Messrs. Ranson & Duke, and realized that though the extent and variety on hand had been so fully set forth through our advertising columns, that half had not been told. These are enterprising gentlemen, and deserve to be liberally patronized by the farming community, as they keep constantly on hand or will furnish to order, any and every article in the Agricultural line .-Among those specially suited to the present season, we noticed the Improved Double Geared Corn Sheller, of which they have sold a large number and is universally pronounced as the best in use; the Family Hominy Mill, a cheap and convenient article for all; Hay, Straw and Fodder Cutters, of all patterns; Anti-Freezing Pumps; as also all varieties of Water Drawer for Wells and Cisterns, is especially deserving examination, as they are recommended by those who have tested their superiority, as more simple in construction. durable, and cheaper than any Pump now in use. We have not space for any further enumeration, but would solicit a fall in person to realize the advantages we have indicated. These gentlemen will be found very accommodating and correct in their dealings. I my large assortment of BLACK DRESS GOODS We had the pleasur: of "putting up" at | such as the Carter House, kept by Mr. Leisenring. This Hotel will compete with any conducted in the Valley of Virginia, and is well calculated to render every comfort to the weary traveler or sojourner. Mrs Leiseuring will be found at all tim s ca'er ay for the well-fare snd pleasure of the inner man of her guests. Mr. Richard Brown, who superintends the business department, will also be-found accommodating and obliging, putting forth every effort to make the House a pleasant retreat. We found our old friend "Fernent" of the Free Press in business up to his eyes, with his sleeves rolled up to his neck, as usual very jovial and humorous, and especially "inexpressibly happy" over the result of the elec-tion in "My Maryland," and felt very much like taking a "snifter" upon the announce-

Our friend Frank of the Spirit was also found full of business, and as usual pretty seyere upon the Radicals. We "whiled away" several hours in his company very pleasantly and agreeably.

Whilst "homeward bound" we stopped at Duffield's Popet and found Capt. J. H. L. Hunter driving a big trade in the Mercantile business upon the principle of "Quick Sales and Small Profits." He is endowed with a large share of the spirit of go a-head-a-tiveness, and success is crowning his efforts. He is disposing of a large quantity of goods, and giving general satisfaction to the community. His Clerks and Salesman, Messrs. Harrison, Sadler, Gittings, Bane, and others, are also very correct and reliable gentleman.

A GOOD SALE .- The Messrs. LEISENRING, during the past week; have disposed of the "Spirit Building" in this town to Messrs. JOHN J. LOCK and ESROM SLIFER, for the round sum of $5.600. The terms of sale, as we are informed, are $1,600 in cash, $2,000 in two years, and $2,000 in four years. One year ago the Messrs. L. purchased this property at $4,200, and the improvements put on it may be estimated at about $400. For any purposes of business-as regards its location and general arrangement-this property is unsurpassed by any in the town, and the new purchasers may congratulate themselves upon their investment.

BASE BALL .- On Saturday afternoon last a match game of Base Ball was played on the grounds of the "Stonewall" Glub of this town, between the "Valley Club" of Harper's Ferry, and the "Scientifics" of Shepherdstown, in which the latter showed itself not quite scientific enough to come off triumphant. We understand the score sto d :- Valley Club, 46; Scientifics, 20.

STILL AT COST .- Although Leisenring & Son have greatly reduced their large stock of goods, under the system of "at cost for cash," they have yet on hand many desirable and useful articles, which they are determined to close out upon the same terms; and in order to do this at as early day possible, they invite all those in search of bargains to give

THE "INDEPENDENT DEMOCRAT" TO BE RE-ESTABLISHED. EXTRAORDINARY INDUCEMENTS TO

SUBSCRIBE! VALUABLE PRIVATE RESIDENCE, containing nine well finished rooms, with Kitchen and all other necessary outbuildings attached, together with a large and productive Garden, will be given as a bonus to subscribers!

THE MATERIAL PRESS AND FIXTURES of

THE MATERIAL, PRESS AND FIXTURES of the "Independent Democrat," having been destroyed during the war, I have not been able since to re-establish it. Desirous however of doing so, and believing the time has come when it can once more strike trenchant blows, as of yore, in defended of Constitutional liberty, and in resistance to that full spirit of puritanism which seeks to fasten on our body politic the upas of infidelism and socialistic equality, and believing that stirring times are before us, in which the stability of republican government will be tested, I am anxious to lounch the "Democrat" once more in defence of the Union and the Constitution. Union and the Constitution.

I shall make as one of the specialties of the Dimscrat the publication in successive numbers of the rolls of all the military organizations which were raised in the Valley during the late gigantic contest, thus preserving in durable form, the names of all those whose heroic, but fruitless exploits, will live to the end of time.

live to the end of time.

In order to obtain the means to re-issue the "Dsmocaat," I propose to issue 2,500 certificates of subscription at $3 each, the holders of these certificates to be entitled to one year's subscription to the paper, and a change to secure as a free gift the above named valuable property. The award of ownership of the property will be perfectly impartial, and will be conducted by three disinterested gentlemen selected by the subscribers present.

The decision to be made on the premises on the let day of January, 1867—at which time a deed in fee simple for the property will be made to the subscriber adjudged entitled to it by the committee, and full possession given the let of April, 1867.

October 2, 1866.

A CARD. THE generous manner in which my proposition to re-establish the "INDEPENDENT DEMO-CRAT" has been responded to warrants the belief that by the 1st day of December, ensuing, the whole of the subscription will be taken. Should this be the case, it will enable me to issue the paper simultanecously with the allotment of the property, viz, the 1st day of January next. As a large edition of the first number will be printed for general distribution, advertisers will find it to their advantage to avail themselves of the columns of the paper. avail themselves of the columns of the paper.

The first issue will contain the rolls of the immortal "Stonewall Brigade." The heroic few who survive, and the f iends of the slain, should each survive, and the f iends of the slain, should each possess copy of the paper.

All subscriptions paid in previous to 1st day of January, will be deposited in the hands of N. S. White, E q., of Charlestown, a gentleman of the highest integrity of character, who has kindly consented to hold the same subject to the faithful completion of the whole enterprise. Agents will remit all subscriptions direct to Mr. W. The deed for the property will be executed at once and placed in his hands to be delivered to the subscriber adjudged entitled.

D SMITH EICHELBERGER.

Papers publishing my Prospectus will copy the TO THE PEOPLE OF VIRGINIA.

D SMITH EICHELBERGER,

If you need one of the best remedies ever offered to the people of this State for Derangements of the Liver, such as Congestion of the Liver, Torpor of the Liver, Deficient Secretion of Bile, and the of the Liver, Dencient Secretion of Bile, and the long list of Diseases resulting from such derangements as Jaund ee, Billious Colic, Loss of Appetite Dyspepsia, Eructations of Food, Flatulency, Painful Digestion, or Pain in the Stomach, or Sides, Vertigo, Headache, Sick Headache, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Impurity of the Blood, and all conditions ordinarily called Billions. ditions ordinarily called Billious. Derangements of the Digestive Organs; all forms of Constipation, and for all the purposes of a Family Pill, use "Dr. T. Rennolds' celebrated Virginia Hepatic and Pur-gative Pills."

This PILL is not the invention of a quack or an Ins FILE is not the invention of a quick or an impostor, designed to impose u pon public credulity, but was compounded by Dr. T. Rennolds, of Staunton, Virginia, a regular graduate and eminent practitioner of medicine in this section, who, after years of careful study, so arranged the proportions of the ingredients as to render it applicable to the diseases for which it is recommended. He had no diseases for which it is recommended. He had no idea of ext nding their use beyond the community in which he lived and practiced, but, after his death, which occurred in January, 1864 having left the formula for compounding them to his brother. Wm Rennolds, of Louisa county, Virginia, the latter, for reasons stated in pamphlet around box containing them, has undertaken to have them manufacing them, has undertaken to have them manufac-tured for the people of the whole State.

The pill has stood the test of ample experience, having been extensively used and highly valued by the people of this section for many years, as is sub-stantiated by certificates contained in pamphlet around box, as well as other evidences of apprecia-tion from many of our most distinguished and re-

The price of this pill is FIFTY CENTS per box Though this is apparently higher than the price charged for those ordinarily sold to the public, yet it must be remembered that the dose is less than one half of the latter, and consequently is just as cheap as any others. as any others.

To prove this, it is only necessary to call attention to the fact that boxes of pills asually contain from 24 to 30 pills, the average dose being from 3 to 6. Our boxes contain 12, the dose being only one for ordinary purposes, and hence the quantity is just as great in a smaller bulk, with our reference to the certainty and efficiency of the remedy and obviating the serious objection to taking so many for Nothing is claimed for this pill that we do not conscient jously believe, and if we cannot succeed in introducing it to the people by stating the truth, we will not degrade ourselves or try to impose upon others by going beyond it.

PHE PLEDGE. BY THE BARD OF MARBLE HALL! In Baltimore, famed for ladies fair, Lived a beautiful girl with flaxen hair, And bonny blue eyes with liquid light, And roscate lips, a glorious sight.

The youngsters fell in love by dozens. Frierds and acquaintances, strangers and coust inst; But she a crotchet had got in her head, And said she determined never to wed, Until she loved a handsome youth Who would grant all her requests in truth, And bind him fully never to break The pledge he had taken for her sake.

The young men stood aghast with fear; Some whacked their boots, some pulled their hair Some said 'twas religion, some said 'twas money; But it took them aback and they felt quite funry

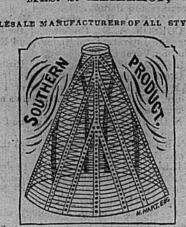

Among them there was a fine young man; Says he, "I love her as well as I can, Now!'ll make her the promise, both open and free, And agree to stand by it whatever it be."

The fair one stepped up to his side, And said, "Should I now be your bride, You must promise here before us all, To buy your clothes at MARBLE HALL. No other can suit a husband of mine, The coats are so handsome; the pants divine." Says Johnny, a laughing, "You dear little clf, If you like them so well, get a pair for yourself."

We offer tinusual inducement in all kinds of Clothing and Furnishing Goods, together with a superior line of piece goods for custom work. Boys Clothing a special feature.
