MOTHER, HOME, AND HEAVEN. BY 8. D. ANDERSON.

"The three sweetest words in the English language are Mother, Home, and Heaven." The first fond word our hearts express In childhood's rosy hours; When life seems full of happiness, When life seems full of happiness,
As nature is of flowers;
A word that manhood loves to speak,
When time has placed upon his cheek,
And written on his brow,
Stern lessons of the world's untruth,
Unheeded in his thoughtless youth,
But sadly pondered now,
As time brings back, 'mid vanished years',
A mother's condest hopes and fears.

Free from the tempter's snare;
A paradise where kindred hearts May revel without care; A wife's glad smile is imaged here, And eyes that never knew a tear,
Save those of happiness,
Beam on the hearts that wander back,
I rom off the long and beaten track
Of sordid worldliness, To taste those purer joys that come, Like angels, round the hearth at home.

The end of all a mother's prayers-The home of all her dreams;
The guiding star to light our path,
With hope's enchering beams—
The haven of our storm-toss'd bark,
From out a world where wild and dark, The tempests often rise;
But still in every darksome hour
This hope will rise with holy power, And point us to the skirs, Where Mother, Home, and Heaven are seen, Without a cloud to intervene.

At seven o'clock this morning there was a grand procession of prelates, priests, monks and soldiers from the Vatican to Saint Peon his throne. There was an immense crowd assembled in the interior of the church before his arrival.

St. Peter's was most magnificently decorated with cloths of gold, silver tapestries, paintings, and two hundred thousand yards of of Warren county, was thrown from his horse but it catches and holds the fertility of the crimson silk. An Incident of the War:

At the second battle of Cold Harbor the repulse of the Federals left the ground in front of the Confederate works strewn with their dead and wounded-these lying more than a day under the hot July sun, dying with thirst, begging Black of Pennsylvania, General Garfield of piteously for help, but in vain, as the Federal Ohio, and Nathaniel Richardson, Esq., of lines were so close that none could leave the lessness of a man who was carrying a scythe protection of the breastwork without being | blade along the street. made a target for their bullets. The Winchester Times says the family of Mr. A. W. Renner, at Pleasant Valley Mills, made a narrow escape from serious injury on Sunday morning week. Mr. and Mrs. R, with four children, Itad gotten into a carriage and started to make a visit, when on arriving at the edge of a steep embankment the horse became unruly. Mr. R. jumped out for the purpose of seizing the bridle, but before this could be accomplished, the horse, carriage and occupants went over the declivity, rolling a distance of more than sixty feet. The horse, a valuable one, was instantly killed, the carriage was literally broken to atoms, but wonderful to relate, Mrs. R. and the little ones escaped without serious injury.

Management of Manure,

The success of the farmer certainly depends very much upon the management of manure. The remark has often been made that much of the most valuable parts of ani-mal excrements is often lost, through negli-gence or mismanagement. The practice of exposing manure to the action of the sun, wind and rain, has been severely censured, and the digging of barn cellars, the building of sheds, coverings for barn-yards, &c., have been highly recommended.

No good farmer would suffer any of his crops to lie in the field till one-half of their value is lost by exposure to weather; but how is the case with barn yard and the manure heaps? Here is a treasure indeed; but it is wasting its value continually; are not its virtues ever; hear escaping into the air?

But many farmers will confess that their management is not such as it should be, but, through lack of capital, cannot make the changes which they desire, in a single year or two. But we contend that a farmer of small means can do much to preserve the virtues of his manure. He can house a part of it, at least, in some way; and he can put a cover of muck or loam upon his manure heaps, Pollard now claims the children of Dowell under this writ, although the decree divorcing him from his (Dowell's) former wife, hauls manure into the field, if it is not immented him with the custody and core of diately plowed in, it should be put in rather large heaps, and be well covered with earth. A difference in opinion has existed among distinguished writers and farmers, in reference to the degree of fermentation which manure ought to undergo before applying it to the soil. Some are advocates for long or the manure is lost, unless it be applied immediately to the soil in its green state and plowed in. The latter contend that long or green manure cannot be regularly spread, and that animal does not mix intimately with the straw, but is in masses by itself. They also complain that the straw will sometimes dry martyrs, who died in Japan, as saints, was one of the most gorgeous religious ceremonies after that, and $600 a year for ever after that." rot, and becomes dead, useless matter. It is probable, however, that by proper care, ma-- Harrison, Goddin & Apperson made a | nure in its green state, may be pretty evenly sale on Saturday of a tract of land in the spread, and the straw will not often dry rot. It is said that stable manure, when lying burg railroad. The tract contained 1,333 in heaps, is liable to be spoiled by being overacres, more or less, and sold for $1,000 .- heated. To prevent this, it would be well to Purchaser, John F. Boone, Kent county, Md. | either apply it to the soil and plow it under as soon as may be, or mix it with charcoal and other substances.

> HOW TO HOLD THE FERTILITY OF THE Soil. - Gypsum attracts. It is not only a manure in itself, but it attracts the manure from the atmosphere that comes is contact with it (which is abundant in windy days); ground that in some soils escapes. Lime will also do this-so will clay. Clay, dried and - Charles Perry, formerly of Texas, now | powdered, is an excellent thing to put on a of Lynchburg, was arrested at Fredericks- barn yard or to cover a compost heap with, burg on Tuesday week, charged with passing or work through the heap—hence, we use a forged check on Mr. Brower, at Milford, gypsum and lime in our stables and privies. Gypsum is best, it has the most attraction; besides other properties. A little should be kept by every farmer for use, even at a high cost, as the benefit is sometimes more important than the high price.

But we waste our manure. We not only permit its strength to escape, but we are glad to get it out of the way. The same recklessness extends to the land: It is well our soil has a good proportion of clay, to hold its strength. We must conserve: The time is not far distant when we shall be compelled to do it. Already there are symptoms of lack in our soil; we do not raise as heavy crops as we used to; here and there a field; here and there a farm, is less produc-

It is not so much that we need plaster here in the West to hold the strength of the soil, as to use it to abstract from the atmosphere and to save the ammonia of our barn-yards and stables. For this, let us always keep a little on hand. Let us save and improve our manure-and thus save our farms. - Colman's

Minds of common mould will go through life without excess, while those gifted with God-like powers are smitten with weakness. The gifted author of Childe Harold walked in fetters, and died at Missolonghi of a drunken debauch. He who led the pros-ecution in the British Parliament against Hastings, was hurried to the grave to escape the clutch of his landlords. Poor Charley Fox! > To SAVE ICE FROM MELTING .- A German chemist publishes the following simple method of preserving small quantities of ice, which he has practiced with success. Put the ice into a deep dish, cover it with a plate, and place the dish on a pillow stuffed with feathers, and cover the top with another pillow carefully, by this means excluding the external air. Feathers are well-known nonconductors of heat, and in consequence the ice is preserved by melting. Dr. Schwartz states that he has thus preserved six pounds of ice for eight days. The plan is simple, and within the reach of every household.

Every political movement made by the people of the Southern States, at this juncture of public affairs, is regarded with the deepest interest. Under these circumstances the action of the citizens of Albemarle county, Va .- a county where general intelligence prevails-is invested with an importance which does not attach to the action of ordinary county meetings, in which speeches are often made and resolutions adopted for the mere gratification of so called patriots, who require periodical ventilation. This Albemarle meeting is important because of its singular conduct in seeking alliance with the radical party—a party which is responsible for all the woes that have been inflicted upon the South, and which new holds her bound to the car of military despotism. What these citizens of Albemarle hope to accomplish by their action, in the present crisis, it is impossible for us to discover, nor are we aware of any grounds upon which their conduct can be defended. It is not a movement of those republicans of the State, who by their treason to the South, have made themselves odious for time to come, and whose names will go down to posterity, linked with the names of Arnold and John Brown, but it is the action of the people en masse-ex-Confederates and Union men-prostrating themselves at the feet, and imploring favor of a party which has heaped every form of degradation upon

We attach no blame to the people of Al bemarle, or any other portion of the South for disinclination to ally themselves with the Northern democratic party at the present time. There are reasons, good and sufficient, based upon the action of that party during the war, why they should not. But is alliance with any party in the North? We sod rest lightly on thy lifeless body. think not, and it is therefore with deep regret that we witness this -precipitate and inconsiderate action of the people of one of the leading counties of Virginia. It gives the appearance of a strong desire upon the part of a portion of our Southern people to participate in their own dishonor, for the paltry compensation of restoration to a government will of a party that has overthrown the Constitution and usurped all power conferred by providing our week's exhibition. that instrument.

The actors in the Albemarie movement have ignored the fact that the alliance which they court is with a party which is only held together by the "co-hesive power of public seek restoration is a Union sustained only by the spoils which it affords to the dominant party. No Union exists-no government wields its power, that can ever command the respect and confidence of those who reflect upon the rights of society as guaranteed in the form of government left as our inheritance by the men who framed the constitution, and as adorned by the statesmen who upheld derive their power from the consent of the departure from this theory, saps the foundation upon which our government has rested, and crumbles the fabric in the dust. This departure we have witnessed in the action of the radical party, which has fastened upon ten States a military despotism, from which they are only to be rescued through the doubtful and dangerous channel of forced consent. We regard it as a fact then, that the radical party is without the elements necessary to a continued existence, and that the forced government which it is running, must inevbeneath the wave of popular indignation .-Any alliance with it by the people of the South, only delays the day of its final disintegration, and imparts but a spasmodic influence upon its waning vitality. the old whig party is thus going over to radcalism. There never was a greater mistake. If parties are indeed to be formed in Virginia, and the citizens are to be divided between Radical and Conservative, the line of division will run across, and not with the old party line of partition. A man will not be promp ed merely because he was a whig or merel because he was a democrat, to stoop to lick the hand that beats him. Very different reasons from these will divide men on the issue of Radical and Conservative.

OUR BIG SHOW.

It is with feelings of more than ordinary sadness that we this week record the "taking off" of our household pet, "JoE," whose life had just begun to give promise of usefulness in his calling. We had hoped to rear him for a business partnership with the illustrious Butler, but he has been cut down before he acquired a knowledge of the value of false checks, or before his juvenile mind had formed a just appreciation of the worth of spoons. "JOE" was a treasure in his way; but his stealing qualities had never cropped out beyoud the extent of a few of the neighbor's chickens that had inadvertantly strayed into our garden, and unluckily for themselves ventured too close to the kennel of our "Joe." Had his earthly existence been protracted, we have every reason to believe that he would have acquired a reputation co-extensive with that of his notorious namesake, but it pleased the dogs in the vicinity of our domicil to curtail his life's pilgrimage, by inflicting injuries from which he expired on Sunday night. As we gazed upon his lifeless form yesterday morning, and thought of what he was and what he might have been, we felt indignant that our Board of Supervisors had repealed their dog tax law, for we knew that "Joe's" dead carcass was worth a host of meat-consuming, sheep-killing, egg-sucking dogs.-Bitter as was our grief, we had one consolation. "Joe" died as other radicals should die-with a halter around his neck; and if justice is ever re-instated, his death is but typical of the life's termination of many whose thieving exploits would cast in the shade anything ever accomplished by him .-Taking this view of the matter we are measurably reconciled to his untimely end, particularly as he had never, like his namesake, contracted a board bill with Nancy Bowers. which remains unsettled. This tribute to the memory of our departed fox is perhaps the only obituary we shall ever write for a radical, and it is due to him that we should say that he was the only one of his species for whom we entertain the slightest respect. THE BERKELEY UNION.

We are not disposed to permit this paper to acquire respectability by controversy with the Spirit of Jefferson, of which its conductors seem ambitious, nor do we intend that its editors shall draw us into a discussion of the causes which have led to the sacrifice of constitutional government, and the installation to power of the unprincipled and corrupt. It is an old saying, and we reckon a true one, that "silence is the loudest word that can be spoken to a fool," and we do wrong to take any other notice of the paper in question. The only apology we have to make for paying any attention to the absurd article which appeared in its last issue, is that it may not be understood by some persons who suffer the degradation of reading its col-

Having stolen the day, its cherished associations and hallowed memories have gone with it, the people of the South, whose liberties are at the mercy of military satraps, naturally feel little more interest in it, than they do in the stolen spoons of Butler, the purloined cotton of Banks, or the forged bonds of Berkeley. Consequently, they have no taste for the indulgence of hypocritical peans of praise, in the name of lovalty-just such loyalty, we presume, as is admirably defined to be "the last refuge of scoundrels."

Statistics of the Wheat Crop.

Complete returns for the month of June to the Statistical Division of the Agricultural Department corroborate and fortify the statements relative to wheat prospects, which we have heretofore given. careful analysis of information from all the States shows that the total acreage in wheat is ten to fifteen per cent, greater than last year. In a majority of the States the breadth of winter wheat is quite as wide as usual, and that of spring wheat much greater. In the Ohio Valley the acreage of winter wheat is less by twelve or fifteen per cent. with a heavy increase in spring sowing. The States showing any material decrease of acreage of winter wheat are Ohio, Indiana, Kabsas and Texas. A large increase is indicated in Virginia, Georgia, Arkansas, and Tennessee, and in the South generally, and a slight advance is shown in the New England and Middle States. The increase in breadth of spring wheat in certam States is as follows:

Ohio, ... 37 per cent. Michigan, ... 16 per cent. Indiana ... 48 per cent. Missouri, ... 31 per cent. Illinois ... 25 per cent. Iowa, 28 per cent. Min'sota . 35 per cent. | Kansas,..... 30 per cent Wisc'sin. 15 per cent. | Nebraska 90 per cent The facts indicating the condition of the crop are till more encouraging. The following table shows the average improvement upon last year ::

Ohio 37 per cent. | Missodri 39 per cent Kentucky, .. 52 per cent Michigan. 80 per cent. Wisc'sin, 22 per cent. Wisc'sin, 22 per cent. Min'sota, 7 per cent. Illinois. . . 15 per cent.

The other States, excepting Texas, make a favor ble comparison with last year It is too early to estimate the final result of the barvest; but with an average success in ripening, the crop ought not to be less than 200,000,000 bushels An average acreage of winter barley has been sown in a majority of the States. A decrease of five per cent. is estimated for New York; Ohio, eight per eent., Indiana, three percent; an increase in Tennessee of ten per cent., and in Arkansas of twenty-five per cent. On the whole, there is a very slightly diminshed breadth of winter barley, but the increase of the spring sowing will compensate for the deficiencv. The condition of clover is good throughout the country-unusually fine in Ohion and the Middle and New England States. In Pennsylvania it is mewhat better than in New York; and in Maine and Massachusetts more comparatively flourishing, as compared with last year, than in the remainde of New England. The acreage of oats is larger than sual; in the West. Ohio is the only State which cannot show an increase. The crop is somewhat variable in condition; in the South, far above an average; in New York, ten per cent. below: in Pennsylvania, six per cent.; in Kentucky, fourteen per cent. In the West, generally, the prospect is better than last year. - Richmond Examiner.

- Mayor Monroe, in an address to a meeting o citizens on his recent return to New Orleans from the North, stated that he had not met a single man at the North who approved the course of General Sheridan, and that radicalism was virtually dead. FROM WASHINGTON.

The Rump Congress in Session.

The Rump assembled at Washington on Wednesday last, and we suppose will inflict upon the country, before its adjournment, nother series of outrages. We shall endeavor to keep our readers advised of their movements, and with that view append several items relating to their doings during last

WASHINGTON, July 3 .- The result of tolays proceedings in Congress is regarded as a defeat of the purposes of Mr. Summer and other Congressmen who desired to go into general legislation, and especially to pass laws regulating suffrage in all the States, adopt articles of impeachment of the President, and others of the agitating measures suggested by them as necessary. It is now confidently believed that Congress will adjourn, at latest, by the 20th instant. The report of Messrs. Boutwell, Williams, Thomas, and Lawrence, in favor of impeachment, is already in type, and those gentlemen expect to get their argument before the House before the close of the session, no withstanding the apparent final determination of Congress to confine themselves exclusively to the consideration of a supplementary act on reconstruction.

It is regarded as certain that the House will admit to their seats all the Kentucky delegation save Mr. Young, whose seat is contested by Mr. McKee.

-In the Senate, Wednesday, Mr. Sumner submitted the following, and asked that it lie on the table for the present :-

Resolved, That the reconstruction of the rebel States would be hastened, and the best interests of the country promoted if the President of the United States, in the exercise of the pardoning power, would require that every landed proprietor who has been engaged in the rebellion, before receiving his pardon therefor, should convey to the freedmen, his former slaves, a certain portion of the land on which they have worked, so that they may has mingled, and that the disloyal master may not continue to appropriate to himself the fruits of their soil.

-The Radical Senators held a caucus Wednesday afternoon and adopted a resolution that nothing except what is necessary to remove the obstruction to the enforcement of the reconstruction laws, as Congress intended they should be enforced, should occupy the attention of the Senate during the present ses sion. Senator Anthony, the chairman, was instructed to report such a resolution to the Senate on Friday.

Among the features of the bills proposed on Wednesday were the following in Mr.

mies, and who cannot take the oath required of all officers of the United States.

"Section 12 provides that precedent to the admission of any rebel State, its constitution shall provide that all elections shall forever be by ballot, and it shall ever remain a member of the American Union; that every citizen owes paramount allegiance to the United States, and that no law in contravention of any law of the United States shall have any binding force."

These are important only as showing what Congress may do.

-In the House, Mr. Stevens, of Pennsylvania, said he had consulted with other members relative to the revival of the joint committee of fifteen of last Congress, and it seemed to be the opinion that separate committees therefore introduced a resolution authorizing the appointment of a committee of nine members to inquire what further legislation is required in respect to the act of March 2, 1867, on the subject of reconstruction, and to report by bill or otherwise.

The resolution was of course adopted. WASHINGTON, July 5 .- SENATE. - A resolution was submitted that legislation be cononly be acted upon.

A long debate ensued, during which it transpired that thirteen senators in caucus voted in favor of universal suffrage.

The resolution restricting legislation was finally passed-ayes, 19; nays, 9-the nays being Buckalew, Drake, Fowler, Howe, Ross Sumper, Thayer, Tipton and Wade. Mr. Wilson stated in the course of debate that Secretary Staunton wanted no legislation regarding the Judiciary, but needed money to support reconstruction. Adjourned till Monday.

House.-The Speaker presented a memo rial from Green. M. Adams against the admission of Beck from Kentucky. Referred to the Committee on Elections. The Speaker announced the Committee on

Re-construction provided for by Wednesday's resolution as follows: Stevens, Boutwell, Bingham, Farnsworth, Hurlburd of New York, Beraard, Paine, Pike, and Brooks. seats were not contested were received and referred to the Committee of Elections. A joint resolution of thanks to Generals Schofield, Sickles, and Pope was adopted. General Schenck offered a resolution of thanks to Petroleum V. Nasby and Attorney-General Stanbery for their maintenance of the President's policy. Pending the question of its reception, the House adjourned IMPORTANT HISTORICAL LIBEL SUIT .-

GENERAL NEWS ITEMS.

THE LOSSES OF VIRGINIA -- A Richmond respondent of the N. Y. Herald has been formed by a gentleman whose connection with public affairs in Virginia for the last thirty-five years; has enabled him to a form a pretty correct estimate of the financial affairs of the State, that the augregate loss of Virginia by the war, including the loss of slaves, &c., is five hundred millions, besides a third of her territory; which is now comprised in West Virginia. She lost by the Confederate government in cash loaned $15,000,000; including $4,000,000, the amount of her school fund, which she had been zealously guarding and treasuring up for years. She paid all her own soldiers up to the 1st of July 1861, and advances to the Confederate government out of her funds raised by taxation in 1860, every available dollar she could command.-She had at one time in the field a force of one hundred and thirty-nine thousand men, of which at least fifty thousand had fallen in battle or died from other causes. It will thus be perceived that the Old Dominion suffered her share by the war.—Richmond Examiner.

-Letters from Washington state that four members of the Judiciary Committee, Messrs. Boutwell, Williams, Lawrence and Thomas, are preparing a report on the impeachment investigation, to present to Congress at its present session. They are of the opinion that the evidence taken by the committee is sufficient to warrant the impeachment of the President, and will urge upon Congress to take the necessary steps. It is not the intention of these members to push this matter at the July session, but they will ask for a session in October for the purpose. It is expected that Messrs. Wilson, Woodbridge and Churchill will make a report merely censuring the President.

-The alumni of Washington College, Lexington, Va., on Thursday night of week before last, had an elegant supper in honor of their Alma Mater, at which General Echols presided, assisted by Colonel Bolivar Christian. Nearly One Hundred Persons Prostrated by Lightning.

Last Thursday afternoon, as a large crowd were assembled in the Fair Grounds of the Springville Union Agricultural Association, a thunder-shower came up, and the people present sought shelter in the exhibition sheds. Suddenly the lightning struck one of these sheds, which contained men, women and horses. About a hundred persons were paralyzed in an instant, falling on their faces, and as many as fifty were rendered inschable for five or tea minutes, while about a dozen were seriously burned. Two horses were killed on the spot. An old gentleman named John Gordenier, and two or three others are of cure. not expected to recover One woman was prostrated and deprived of her senses but not of her power of locomotion; she instinctively gathered herself up and ran to the 'bus and was conveyed to Holmes' Hotel, and declared she had no knowledge of what took place after the flash until she found herself in a room at the house.

The lightning struck a post in the centre of the shed, against which Henry Tillon, the landlord of the West Falis Hotel, was lean ing, and to which a horse was attached by a chain halter. The horse was killed instantly, while Mr. Titlou escaped by being dazed and knocked down A singular fact mentioned in connection with the strange freak of the electric fluid is that all the persons rendered susensible fell upon their faces. A young lady, named Miss Nellie Oassey, was quite seriously injured, and her dress was scorched, but did not take fire. Another woman was struck on the shoulder, the fluid passing down her side, raising a blister in its course. A man from Otto was hit on the right side of the head, and on his recovery the mark was found to commence at the right eye, and could be plainly traced down the neck, across the chest, and off the left arm. "The estimate of $2,000,000 to defray the expenses of registration, previously forwarded to the Hand, will as then stated, tail im measurably short of the amount required for that expensive job. Officers of the Quarter master's Department with whom I have conversed, and who can best form an estimate of the real expense that may be incurred, state that a half a million will scarcely cover the amount required for Virginia alone. At this rate five millions-instead of five hundred thousand, as appropriated by Congress-will be hardly sufficent to complete the 'job'-Officers of the army, one of whom will be on each registration board, have not only their pay but allowances for fuel, light, quarters, and transportation, not counting ordelies, horses, and other incidental expenses. The civilians, who are all poor, must be allowed. as well as a respectable salary, contingent ex penses to support their families while absent, besides little privileges always attached to government offices. In this way reconstruction will be much dearer than the country has been inclined to suppose."

THE NEGRO RACE .- There is but one way for the negro race long to continue on this continent, and that is for them to make friends of the whites in these Southern States. It is a law of population, which has always and must forever attend the spread of people over the earth's surface, that the most intellectual race will drive off the inferior-the more civilized will take the place of the less cultivated . These States will ultimately be peopled by white laborers in place of the black race. The only question is, how long and how best can this result be deferred ?-The white people in the South, amongst whom the negroes have been raised, do now (and are disposed for a long time to come,) to prefer the negro, now free, and to continue free, for their field laborers and domestics .-To induce the whites to cherish this desire, the black have only to be contented in that sphere. The less eager the black race is to be elevated to an equality with the whites, to which they never can attain, the longer will the whites be determined to do all they can to prevent an influx of foreigners, which will, when it must come, crowd off the negroes to the gradual extinguishment of the race on this continent. The sooner the pegro sees the Yankees are deceiving him the longer he will linger in Old Virginia and North Carolina, and the border States in the South.—Petersburg Express.

-A shooting occurred at the Saloon of Mr. J. W. Miller was then arrested and taken to jail. We know not the provocation, if there was any, for the shooting. Miller was intoxicated. [Shep. Register.

"OLD VALLEY BANK," CHARLESTOWN.

THE subscriber has just opened at the well-known store-room opposite the old "Valley Bank," a new and carefully selected STOCK OF GOODS. which it is his purpose to sell on the most reasonable terms. He respectfully solicits a call, as his desire is to furnish the best article the market can produce, and at a profit only as Low Down as the Lowest! His supply will be increased from time to time as the wants of the public may require, or the demands of his customers suggest, as his arrange-ments are ample to the supply of any and every article in his line, at a short notice, and on as good terms as can be procured elsewhere in the county.

Among the present stock on hand may be found—
GROCERIES, of all kinds and descriptions;
LIQUORS, consisting of Brandies, Wines, Whiskies, Gin, Porter, &c., warranted superior to any other stock in the county. Also, a cheaper, though very good article of "Harvest Whiskey," by the gallon, barrel or otherwise;

WARE—a select assortment of Queens and Glass,
Wooden and Tin, Stone and Crockery Ware; TOBACCO—for chewing, of cheap quality, as also the very best brands Smoking Tobacco of all

CANNED FRUITS, Oysters, Sardines, Spices, Peppers. Vinegars, Mustards, Oils Scotch Herrings, Cheese, Crackers, &c.; CONFECTIONS a general assortment, as also fresh Lemons, Oranges and Pine Apples; FISH-all kinds in season, but for the present the Farnitare, Barns and contents, for three or five real Potomac Herring, as cheap as they can be procured in the county: ALSO-Ground Alum and Fine Salt.

Having a spacious wareroom, he will make it a speciality to supply all articles of HOUSE-KEEPING FURNITURE, that the wants of the community may require, and those in need would do well to give him their orders before going elsewhere. At present on hand Cottage Bedsteads, Mattresses-Hairand Shuck; Matting, one and a half yards wide, and very cheap; Wall Paper, Window Blinds, Waiters, Chairs of all descriptions, &c.

An examination of the stock on hand solicited.

TO REAL ESTATE OWNERS! A LL persons in Virginia having Real Estate— such as FARMS, MILLS, FACTORIES, TOWN PROPERTIES and TIMBER LANDS—that they wish to sell, are advised to advertise the same, first. in their own local journals, and next in the HA-GERSTOWN MAIL, a newspaper that

CIRCULATES 2,500 COPIES WEEKLY, published at Hagerstown, Md., by DECHERT & WAson. The tide of emigration is now rolling on to Virginia—our Maryland and Pennsylvania iarmers are selling off their farms at high prices and seeking new homes in our sister State. Those who emigrate, are as a general thing, men of muscle and means, and will aid materially in developing the great natural wealth of "the mother of States."—
We are publishing the MAIL at a Central point, the very best at which to advertise land. It is very popular as a Real Estate Advertising medium, its pages frequently containing from three to six col-umns of this class of advertising. We have nu-merous orders for the paper from time to time, from persons in Maryland and at a distance, who merely desire it on account of its Land advertising.

Our terms are moderate, and we will take pleasure in answering all letters of enquiry.

Advertisemen's can be sent to us through the editor of the 'Spirit,' or direct, as the parties may prefer. Address, DECHERT & WASON, Publishers "Mail, Hagerstown, Md. June 25, 1867-2m.

Reaper & Mower, either single or combined. This is a two horse Machine, and the only Self-Rake Resper that has the advantage of the lever by which the driver can raise it over Stones or Stumps a foot high. While passing along the lever will be found a great advantage in taking up lodged Grain, as it will do it without regard to the manner in which it lays. It rakes a perfect sheaf, and has an entire side delivery, and by the driver pressing his foot on a treadle, the sheaf can be made any size desired.—The Mower Attachment only requires the Ground Wheels, Tongue, and Seat of the Resper, and you have a perfect joint-par Mower.

'Up Samules can be seen at Duffields or Summit Point. Warranted to perform as recommended, or can be returned without charge. All orders will regive prompt attention.

May 14, 1867-tf. LATEST FASHIONS DEMAND J. W. Bradley's Celebrated Patent DUPLEX ELLEPTIC

(OR DOUBLE SPRING) SKIRT. THEY will not BEND OF BREAK like the Single Spring, but will PRESERVE their PERFECT and GRACEFUL SHAPE when three or four ORDINARY SKIRTS will have been THROWS ASIDE AS USELESS.—
The Hoops are covered with DOUBLE and TWISTED
THREAD, and the BOTTOM RODS are not only double springs, but twice (or double) covered, preventing them from wearing ont when dragging down

THE WONDERFUL FLEXIBILITY and great COMFORT and PLEASURE to any LADY wearing the DUPLEX ELESTIC SKIRT WIll be experienced particularly in all crowded Assemblies, Operas, Carriages, Rail ROAD CARS, CHURCH PEWS, ARM CHAILS, for PROM-EN ADE and House Dress, as the Skirt can be rolded when in use, to occupy a small place as easily and conveniently as a Silk or M slin Dress, an inval uable quality in crinoline, not found in any Single Spring Skirt. A LADY having enjoyed the PLEASURE, COMPORT and great convenience of wearing the Duplex El-LEPTIC STEEL SPRING SKIRI for a single DAY will never afterwards willingly dispense with their use. For CHILDREN, MISSES and YOUNG LADIES they are uperior to all others.

The Duplex Elleptic is a great favorite with all ladies, and is universally recommended by the Fashion Magazines as the STANDARD SKIRT OF THE FASHIONABLE WORLD. To enjoy the following inestimable advantages in Crinoline, viz: SUPERIOR QUALITY, PERFECT MANU-FACTURE, STYLISH SHAPE and FINISH, FLEXIBILITY, DURABILITY COMFORT and ECONOMY, enquire for J. W. BRADGEY'S DUPLEX ELLEPTIC, or Double Spring Skirt, and be sure you get the genuine article.

CAUTION—To guard against imposition, be particular to notice that skirts offered as "DUPLEX," have the red ink stamp, viz: "J. W. Bradley's Duplex Edeptic Steel Springs," upon the waistband—none others are genuine. The memory of a clasping hand,
The pressure of a kias,
And all the trifles sweet and frail
That make up love's first bliss. If with a firm, unchanging faith,
And holy trust and high,
Those hands have clasped, those lips have met,
These things shall never die...

The cruel and the bitter word, The cruel and the bitter word,
That wounded as it fell,
The chilling want of sympathy,
We feel, but never tell.
The hard repulse that chills the heart,
Whose hopes were bounding high,
In an unfading record kept—
These things shall never die.

Let nothing pass, for every hand

Must had some work to do; Lose not a chance to waken love-Be firm, and just and true. So shall a light that cannot fade Beam on thee from on high, And angel voices say to thee-These things shall never dic.

MISCELLANEOUS.

He Died Poor. "It was a sad funeral for me," said the speaker, "the saddest I have attended for years." "That of Edmundson?"

"Yes."

"How did he die ?". "Poor-poor as poverty-his life was one long struggle with the world, and at every disadvantage. Fortune mocked him all the while with golden promises that was never destined to fulfillment."

"Yet he was patient and enduring," remarked the company.

"Patient as a christian-enduring as a martyr," was answered. "Poor man! he was worthy of a better fate. He ought to have succeeded for he was deserving of success." "Did he not succeed?" questioned the one who had spoken of his perseverance and "No sir, he died poor, as I have just said. Nothing that he put his hand to ever succeeded. A strange fatality seemed to attend every enterprise.

"I was with him in his last moments," said the other, "and I thought he died rich." "No, he has left nothing behind," was replied. "The heirs have no concern as to the administration of his estate."

"He has left a good name," said one, "and that is something." "And a legacy of good deeds that was done in the name of humanity," remarked

"And precious examples," said a third. "Lessons of patience in suffering; of hope in adversity; of heavenly confidence when no sunbeam fell upon his bewildered path," was the testimony of another. "And high truth, manly courage, heroic fortitude."

"Then he died rich," was the embpatio declaration: "richer than the millionaire who went to his long home the same day a miserable pauper in all but gold. A said funeral did you say? No, my friend, it was rather a triumphant procession. Not the burial of a human clod, but the ceremonial attendance on a translation of an angel. Did not succeed! Why, his whole life was a series of success. In every conflict he came off victorious, and now the victor's crown is on his brow. Any soulless, selfish man with a share of brain, may gather in money and learn the art of keeping it; but not one in a hundred can bravely conquer in the battle of life. Edmundson has conquered, and stepped forth from the ranks of men, a christian hero. No, no, he did not die poor, but rich-in neighborly love, and rich celestial affections. And his heirs have an interest in the administration of his estate. A large property has been left, and let them see to it that they do not lose precious things through false estilmates and ignorant depreciations." "You have a new way of estimating the wealth of a man," said the one who had first expressed sympathy for the deceased.

"Is it not the right way," he answered .-"There are higher things to gain in this world than wealth that perishes. Riches of priceless value ever reward the true merchant who trades for wisdom; buying it with the silver of truth and the gold of love. He dies rich who can take his treasure with him to the new land where he is to abide forever, and he who has placed here his affections, dies poor indeed. Our friend Edmundson died richer than a Girard or an Astor; his monument is built of good deeds and examples, It will | uius, Fop, decked daintily as an early butterabide forever."

SECRET OF HAPPINESS .- An Italian Bishop, who had struggled through many difficulties without repining, and been much opposed without manifesting impatience, being asked by a friend to communicate the secret of his always being so happy, replied:
"It consists in a single thing, and that is, making a right use my of eyes." His friend in surprise, begged him to explain the meaning. "Most willingly," replied the Bishop. "In whatsoever state I am, I first look up to heaven, and remember that my great business is with open mouth and protruding eyes. When to get there. I then look down upon earth, the diminutive creature paused, he brought and call to mind how small a place I shall his fist down upon the table with a force that soon fill in it. I then look abroad in the | made every dish bounce, and then thundered world, and see what multitudes are, in all respects, less happy than myself. And thus I learn where true happiness is placed; where all my cares must end and how little reason I ever had to murmur, or to be otherwise than thankful. And to live in this spirit is to be aiways happy."

Money .- Men work for it, beg for it, steal for it, starve for it, and die for it, and all the while from the oradle to the grave, nature and tails instanter, and the whole table joined in God are thundering in our ears the solemn a "tremenius roar." question: "What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul?" This madness for money is the strongest and lowest of the passions; it is the insatiate Moloch of the human heart, before whose remorseless alter attributes of humanity are sacrified. It makes merchandise of all that is sacred in human affections, and even is sacred in human affections, and even man thought to persuade him to stop and take traffics in the awful solemnities of the eter-

HUMOROUS.

Virtue of Necessity.

Phelim was a young Irishman who wanted to marry Kitty, who was a young Irish girl. Kitty's father would not consent to the match, and—the story runs thus:

All of these things was Phelim cogitating as he was walking pensively along the river the afternoon after his refusal. A splash awoke him from his reverie-he sprang towards the place- he looked into the waterand good heavens ! up came the bald head of Kitty's father! Here was vengeance for him. The old gentleman could swim a little, just enough to keep above water a few minutes. There was nothing for him to cling to, and only Phelim in sight. Should he let him drown, and go marry the girl? No, he would save him. Irish generosity overbalanced his love, and, seizing a long but very slender pole, lying near by, he reached the end to him. The old gentleman took it. Phelim commenced hauling in, when a thought struck him, and he shoved him back into the water, allowing him to still hold on to the end of the pole.

"Do you know me, you old blackguard?" "Av course I do-pull me up!" "Are you entirely comfortable there in the water ?" "Pull me up, ye spalpeen!"

"Faix, an' that I wou't. It's the furst time I iver see ye in the water, an' it plazes "Will you consent?" "Consent to what?"

"Kitty-ye know well enough what I mane !" "Niver!" "It's all one to me; ye may drown intire-ly, and who'll stop me thin? Think twice.

Will ye consent?" The old gentleman was becoming exhausted. He never liked water at best, and the Maumee was too much for him. "Yes; I consent. Pull me up." "Will you give us a sittin' out?" said Phelim, who knew his advantage, and was disposed to improve it. "Yes; pull me out." Phelim hesitated a moment as to the propriety of tying him in some way to the dock in the water and going up and marrying the girl before saving him, and then he hauled him out of the water. The event proved that the old man was as good as his word. The young couple were married, and moved, with a very suitable outfit for housekeeping, into a comfortable cottage which the father of Kitty possesses, and has heretofore rented.

How to Tell a Good Teacher.

. A gentleman from Swampville was telling how many different occupations he had at-

"How long did you teach?" asked a bystander. "Wal, I didn't teach long; that is, I only went to teach." "Did you hire out?" "Wal, I didn't hire out, I only went to hire out." "Why did you give it up?" "Wal, I guv it up for some reason or nuther. You see, I traveled into a district and inquired for the trustees. Somebody said Mr. Snickles was the man I wanted to see .-So I found Mr. Snickles - named my object, introducing myself, and asked him what he thought about lettin me try my luck with the big boys and unruly gals in the destrict. He wanted to know if I raally considered myself capable; and I told him I wouldn't mind his asking me a few easy questions in 'rithmetic and jography, or showing my handwriting. He said no, never mind, he could tell a good teacher by his gait. "Let me see you walk off a little ways, says he, "and I can tell jist as well as if I'd heard you examined," says he. He sot in the door as he spoke, and I thought he looked a leetle skittish; but I was consid'rable frustrated, and walked on as smart as I knowed how, He said he'd tell me when to stop, so I kep' on till I thought I'd gone far enough-and then s'pected s'thing was to pay, and looked round. Wal, the door was shet, and Snickles was gone !"

"Did you go back ?" "Wal, no-I didn't go back."

"Did you apply for another school?"
"Wal, no—I didn't apply for another school," said the geutleman from Swampville. "I rather judged my appearance was agin me."—N. Y. Teucher.

Dinner was spread in the cabin of that peerless steamer, the New World, and a splendid company were assembled about the table.-Among the passengers thus prepared for gastronomic duty was a little creature of the gefly with kids of irreproachable whiteness, "miraculous" neck tie and spider like quizzing glass on his nose. "PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Dec. 15th, 1866.

"DR. H. ANDER -- DEAR SIR: "In reply to your inquiry in regard to my health am haypy to say that I am now a well man, an attending to business, have a good appetite, and feel that I am entirely cured, and am free to say shat I owe my present health to your lodine Water. "I suffered nearly seven years with Scrofula be-fore I was cured. I had 37 Running Uters on me at one time; my entire breast, throat, all under my aims, all over my jaws up to my ears, on both sides, was one almo t continuous sore. I was confived to my room over 18 months, and was decideds ly the poorest object that you ever saw; at three different times the friends were called in to see me die. I accidentally saw a notice of 'Dr. Anders' lodine Water.' I sent for some, found it good, and continued to take it until I was restored to my usual health, for which I feel to thank God and take courage. I am satisfied vour lodine Water saved my life, and I believe it to be the great desid eratum in medicine. I have resumed the practice of law in several counties in this section, and if you will send me some of your circulars I shall take pleasure in distributing them and calling the attention of physicians to your medicine wherever I done. You are at perfect liberty to use my name in any way that will be useful to the afflicted.
