Negroes were indebted to slavery for the little civilization they have: The lion is never tamed in the forest, nor the bird in the air, nor the savage, when left to his own free will. When God freed the Israelites, he did not turn them loose upon their former masters, as their superiors; nor did he at once give them complete liberty, but he made Moses their dictator, giving him the power of life or death over them, and led them away from their former masters into the wilderness, there to wander for forty years, until they were prepared for liberty. If he had the strength he once had, he would take up the constitution; by section, and expose its iniquity. He said all sensible negroes were interested in good government, and would go against the constitution. That the negroes did not own this country, and if they did they could not hold it. Money is scarcer now than it was last year, and will be scarcer next year than it is this. The Radicals might take his. property, they might take himself, they might kill him, yea, they might cut him to pieces, but they could never degrade him, and his last breath would be a manly one. This is the merest abstract of the able effort of this octogenarian, who, for more than fifty years, has been one of Virginia's ablest statesmen.

Judge Thomas yesterday delivered a very lucid decision in the Shepherd will case, which was argued last week by some of our most distinguished lawyers. The decision is in favor of the heirs of R. D. Shepherd on all the grounds set up by his counsel. The famous sealed letter is decided not to be a will, having none of the characteristics of such an instrument, and its tenor, as proved, no vaca i seat, leaving R. D. Shepherd full discretion in the disposal of the property bequeathed to him by his brother. On the point whether such letter created a substitution, Judge Thomas decided that if it were so it would only be a vulgar substitution, which under the law was without effect. On the point of the alleged concealment and suppression of the said sealed letter the judge said that the testimony showed that the letter had not been concealed or disposed of in any manufit to justify the presumption against R. D. Shepherd that he had acted as a spoliator. It had been in the possession of Jonathan Montgomery and Judah Touro, and had been shown to one of the heirs of James II. Shepherd who freely pretty blush at all, and she looked annoyed communicated it contents.

the Bank was compelled to receive its own tioles in payment of debts due it, in the shape of negotiable paper discounted, in view of the late law and the deed executed by the Bank, Jan. 17, 1867. The Judge, in his opinion, said the case resolved into the single inquiry : "Can a debt to the bank, notwithstanding [the] this conveyance, be paid in the notes of the Bank ?" The Judge decided that by the law [passed in 1866] "no creditor thereby acquired a right that did not pre-exist; no debtor incurred a new liability, or lost an existing right." The Judge after citing numerous authorities, overruled the demur-rers, and thus sustained the point that all who owe unpaid notes to the Bank can discharge the obligation by paying in the notes of issue of the said bank provision to the month

Jame AROUND APPLE TREES. - The Cincinnati Enquirer says : "We have known some farmers make it a regular practice for succession of years to throw caustic lime around their apple trees in the spring and and summer. We once holiced that a tree standing in the immediate vicinity of our dwelling had all at once pit forth with renewed energy, and we were at a loss for some time to define the cause. On examination we found that a quantity of lime, which had accidentally been spilled, and rendered worthless by becoming mixed with the refuse on the stable floor, had been thrown at the foot and around the tree, and to this, as the principle cause, we immediately accrt lited the revivesence and renewed fructification of the

"Taking the hint from the in jent, we stirchased twelve cashs of lime, al applied half a bushel to each of the trees Pour orchard and found that it produced mimediate beneficial effects. Not the health of the trees only, but the quality of the fruit also was greatly improved. This application will be especially beneficial in soils where there is a redundancy of vegetable matter. We would advise our farmers in some places, capecially in new forest lands recently cleared, and on low latids, to make trial of this experiment and see whether it is not deserving of the high recommendation it secures."

To DESTROY THE CUT WORM .- The Practical Farmer says an excellent plan to keep off the cut worm from corn is to drop about a tablespoonful of coarse salt on the top of the hill soon after planting. This is carried down by the rains, and acts as a fertilizer, besides killing the cut worm.

Salt is peculiarly obhoxious tot his class of insects, and perhaps all classes. Instead of putting the salt on the hill, some farmers pread about 8 bushels to the acre broadcast, upon their corn field after plowing in and be-fore harrowing. This is a very profitable aplication. Farmers should bear these facts in mind when ihey plant corn this spring.

THE WAR DEPARTMENT.

The disgraceful maddle about the W Department, which has kept the country in a turmoil for nearly a year, at the sacrifice of all other interests, has finally ended, so far as such an unclean thing can be ended, by the withdrawal of the miscreant Stanton. The Columbus (Ohio) Crisis justly observes that the official death of this notorious individual has been as undignified and dishonorable as his official life was corrupt, tyrannous and bloody. He was literally kicked out of the office upon which he had fastened with the tenacity of the devil fish with all the concomitants of indignity and disgrace. He deyoured the plunder and the salary of his office as long as he could, and far beyond the pa tience of the people ; and then sneaked out of it, trembling at every shadow he met, in the fear that it was some one of the thousand victims of his diabolical tyranny. He served as the pivot upon which the impeachment conspiracy turned; and he has gone down with its failure, and in the company of suc tools as Wade and Butler. His name will b forever associated with the bloodiest despot ism and the most disgraceful venality and treason that could be committed under a republican form of government.

The successor of Stanton, Gen. John M Schofield, is, apparently, one of Andrew John son's predestined mistakes. He is only better than Stanton in being less notorious, and only less notorious for want of Stanton's opportunities. He has for a year or more com manded the satrapy of Virginia, and did all his limited abilities would allow towards reducing that venerable Commonwealth to the condition of San-Domingo, and its people to slaves and paupers. He was arbitrary, malignant and fanatical to the last degree, consort ing and sympathizing only with niggers and carpet-baggers, who alone reciprocated his attention. He was an assistant architect of the nigger Constitution of Virginia-a thing that while serving as a monumental potheosis of Abolition barbarism, is the most disgraceful specimen of legislation ever produced .-What this individual will do as a successor to Stanton may be anticipated from his career in Virginia, and that will prove that all his power will be exercised for the maintenance of the military despotism in the South, and the oppression and impoverishment of its people. He is but a phase of the pestilence which has devastated the country and subverted the Constitution and must be endured until that healthier breeze of the popular will shall blow the whole plague from our shores, and the Abolition party from power.

The Washington Express gives the follow he following : . nhic sketchof the scenes and inc pired at the house of Genera Fast on the evening when the Committee com the Chicago Convention informed him bis nomination

To the eye of the observant, last e n interesting one, so far as the scene incidents transpiring in Gen. Grant ware concerned. Each and ever parlor were concerned. Each and every member of the Committee seemed particu-larly desirous to make himself conspicuous, especially, the brave and renowned Logan, who was ever gallant to the company present. Chief Manager Washburn, the signpost of the Presidential candidate—impelled byduty he Presidential candidate—impelled by duty -jumped around like unto a han upon a hot riddle. He must be present stall introduc-ions; he must how every one in and every one out; he must hear all remarks made to his candidate, and if needs be, assist in the answer. To the ladies he was a perfect. Charles the Tenth ; to the committee a Grandther Whitehead; to the press an exceeding nience and a decided bore, with the anxions remark of "be sure you've got it right." As he stood at the refreshment table, smiling benigaly upon his protege, and glancing askance at the different faces there presented, doubtless revolving in his mind which he would send (when he became Secretary of State) to this mission or that, hi houghts even forgot themselves, and his detruction of strawberries and cream was im mense. Donnelly would have had no show with Manager Washburn last evening. Grant and Colfax were near each other at the table, each enjoying an ice, when up stalked a Western member of the committee, with an inquiring mind for facts, and addressing General Grant; said : "Who writes your speeches, General ?" General Grant looked at the committee man, but made no answer. The anxious member from the West again said : "We want to know; as Golfax can make his own speeches and they say you can't," General Grant turned away from the Speaker, and made no answer. Colfax urned to the man from the West and reques id him not to make any such remarks in future. White House or not.

The great feature of the evening, however, was the presence of the negro delegate from North Carolina. Ilis name is J. H. Harris. a delegate in the Chicago Convention from education. In 1809 Mr. Buchanan graduated the Fourth District of North Carolina, late a with high honor at Dickinson College. In member of the North Carolina Constitutional December of that year he commenced the Convention, a candidate for Congress, (he de-study of law. He was admitted to the bar clined, however, in favor of a carpet bagger,) November 17, 1812, being then, little more and now a member of the Committee to apthan 24 years old. GOING DOWN!

Radicalism continues to sink in popular esteem ; the ground-swell of righteous indignation is on the increase. From the Pacific coast we have cheering information. Oregon held her election on Monday week, and the result was the complete route of mongrelism, and the triumph of constitutional principles. Six years sgo the Republican majority in this State was something over 6.000. In 1864. Lincoln's majority was 1.400 ; two years ago, the present Governor was elected by two hundred, and the Representative in Congress by a majority somewhat larger. Now the Democratic majority is twelve hundred for Representative, and an almost unanimous Legislature, which has to elect a United States Senator in place of Williams, the present Radical incumbent.

This is the first gua of the campaign since the Chicago bull-ring pitted Hiram Ulysses against the field, and the result is all that could be desired. The sober, second thought of the people is beginning to tell, and November will wipe out the treasonable cabal that has been rioting in corruption, and sporting with the liberties of the people. One by one they will sink into graves of obscurity, except as they are brought up as criminals for the offences committed against decency, and the just administration of civil government .-Many of the thieves will doubtless retire from the halls of Congress to find themselves consigned to the cells of Penitentiaries, where they justly belong. Five years will not elapse before Ben. Butler will be the inmate of a State prison, or a wandering onteast from society. Virtue will have her triumph, and that right early. The people of this country are bound to be free-to rid themselves of every form of despotism.

ANOTHER POSTPONEMENT.

On Wednesday last the United States District Court met in Richmond-Chief instice Chase and Judge Underwood presiding. The Chief Justice called the case of Mr. Davis, when Mr. Anderson of Mississippi, one of the counsel for the defence, read 'an agreement for postponement till October, signed by Evarts and O'Conor. The Chief Justice asked if the counsel were ready for trial independent of this stipulation.

Gov. Welles, for the prosecution, replied that in view of the absence of the District Attorney, whose wife is in a dying condition.

but to no purpose. His sun ofpower was obseured, and is destined soon to go down in. darkness, from which it will never emerge, antil lit up by the sulphurous illuminations of the devil. He won't get to Congress ; his ast chance is gone: and henceforth the Junebugs of despondency will continually buzz in his ears, whilst the cold lizzards of disappointment will constantly crawl over him. According to Walker of the Wheeling Register, his chagrin at failure was untameable, and with accustomed profanity he blurted out at Clarksburg, when the result was known,

"By G-d we have lost all but lionor, and'if we had had any of that. I suppose it would have gone too." Very likely, but fortunatey, this commodity was not endangered, as it did not enter the ring. Down goes Chapine-brother Stubbs will preach his funeral

A BONE TO BOREMAN.

The Radical party of this State, in Convention assembled, threw the following bond to the present Governor, in the shape of a complimentary resolution :

Resolved. That the Union men of Wes irginia recognize in the present Chief Magstrate of our State, Arthur L. Boreman, the firm and fearless patriot, the sugacious statesman, the man who has, in his administration, made treason odious and loyalty respectable; and by his integrity and loyalty to principle the State of West Virginia is indebted in part for her proud place in the Union of these States. We owe him a deep debt of gratitude for contributing so much to our pros-perity and peace. When others in high places have faltered, he has ever proved true to his trust. Our confidence in him is unabated, and we shall continue to honor him with this confidence wherever and whenever menaces.

ie may wish to serve us. With penetrating discrimination the members-of the Covention have been able to recognize qualities in his Excellency that have hitherto remained undiscovered. He is decribed as a "firm and fearless patriot," when in truth, his patriotism never elevated itself above the thirst for position; he is denominated a "sagacious statesman," whilst he is only the meanest party trickster, who does not scruple to engage in any meanness that has the feintest promise of advancing the interests of his party. "The man who has, in his administration, made treason odious and loyalty respectable," We are not fully aware of the means used by the Governor to make withdrawn from the boards. treason odious, nor are we very confident that any such result has been accomplished; but we do know that so-called loyalty has not attained any great degree of respectability in this section of his Excellency's bailiwick, and in the keeping of its present representatives it is not likely to rise above the average. "The proud place of West Virginia in the Union of these States," is a sublime conception, and must have bewildered the brain in which it originated. What deep debt the people of West Virginia owe him " for contributing so much to their peace and prosperity," is beyond our comprehension No Governor in the Union, unless it be ing a spectacle which he was once anxious to behold. On the 2d of March, when impeachment was introduced to the House, he cried, (raising his finger over his head and pointing oward the Senate.) "let me see the recreand who dares to tread back upon his steps and vote on the other side. Point me out one who dares do it, and you show me one who dares to be regarded as infamous by pesterity." We don't know how the spectacle of Monday and Tuesday affected Mr. Stevens. But when he saw the oldest and most distinguished members of the Senate, the ablest hwyers in the body, the men who were the founders of the Republican party, and are now in its main pillars, pronouncing against impeachment, he must have felt how little. is threats had amounted to. He must have become conscious that there were some men who spurned his dietation and scorned his

Will the Tribune answer this polite question ? -When Grant's father appeared in the Chicago Convention the band played "Hail Columbia," and the delegates cheered. The Gen. Hawley, Gen Logan, nor say of the larger Radical guns deigned to notice this practical isnovation of black upon white. He was not noticed by the politicians, and only pitied by the reporters. He "stuck," however, remaining until supper; secured a place at the table, and, like all true breeds of the African type, did full justice to ices, berries, and sweatmeats, generally.

'I have not been in the house of the Chief Justice for more than two years.

It is not true that I have ever beeen dis satisfied with the reconstruction plan of Con gress. So far from it, I was one of the seven senators who were members of the Joint Com mittee on Reconstruction, and signed the re. port. I was chairman of the sub-committee on the State of Tennessee, and it was upon my recommendation that the State was so early restored to the Union.

It is not true that I am now, or ever was either directly or indirectly, interested in the Chicago Tribune newspaper. Donnelly had offered to prove the falsity of the charges and pay all the expenses of the vitnesses, but that the committee took the view that the actions of members before being elected to Congress gere not a proper question of parliamentary privilege; and that Mr. Washburn had retracted what he had said on the floor. - The committee therefore asked to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject. Mr. Donnelly (the report having been read) said he could not express the views he enter-tained of it, because the gentleman from Illi-nois was not in the hall. He would, however, call the attention of the House and country to the fact that the gentleman had unequiv ocally retracted so much of his charges as he would be compelled either to retract or to Messrs. RIOT IN WASHINGTON .- A negro riot occurred in Washington city on Wednesday night last, occasioned by the election of a Radical Mayor, which a city paper thus describes :- The negroes to the number of 5,000 strong gathered together and marched through the principal streets of the city, hooting and yelling, the negro women crowdng the sidewalks and encouraging the lemonstration. Forney made an incendiary address to the negroes from a window of the Chronicle office, inciting them to vengcance on the whites which had the effect to render them perfectly uncontrollable. The police were perfectly powerless, and the negroes rushed along the streets with such fearful taunts and abuse that the whites were comcelled to confine themselves to their houses. Bowen, the negro candidate for Mayor, also made an address complimenting the negroes on their capacity for a ligovernment. Two white men were brutarly murdered by the infuriated negroes, and the house of one of with a razor in front of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad office, on Pennsylvania avenue, and his blood now dyes the pavement.

AN INCIDENT .- The Lynchburg Virginian gives the following interesting incident as having recently transpired in that city : "Among the distinguished strangers in this city last week were General Robert E. Lee and Rev. William E. Munsey. Happening to meet on one of our streets, Mr. Munsey though he had never seen him before, once recognized the General, stopped, stepped off the sidewalk, uncovered his head, and stood motionless until he had passed. General Lee, in return, respectfully raised his hat.--Not a word was spoken ; but the great heart of the eloquent divine wis so moved at meeting the grand old hero that the tears welled ap to his eyes and ran down his hollow cheeks. It was the spontaneous t bute of genius and virtue to greatness and a jodness."

THE FEAR OF FORNEY .- Forney has a resh grievance. It is that the features of Chase and Fessenden, grown hideous in the loyal eye, continue to deface the national currency. Forney has discovered that Mr. Fessenden has a "lean and sinister physiognomy," which "shrivels and twists on the twenty-five cent fractional notes." "Must we," appeals to the universe the plaintive say that :

aid not undertake to State Delegation, numbering sixty persons, prove the truth of the charges; that Mr. marshalled by Mr. Sam'I J. Tilden, also twenty-six delegates from Indiana, will stop at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, headed by their chairman, Lafayette Delvin. The Illinois délegation of thirty persons, under the charge of Storer, of the Chicago Times, and the Ohio delegation of forty-two persons, with their gallant chairman, General G. W. McCoste. will also occupy quarters at the Fifth Avenue Hotel. Committee and caucas rooms have been engaged at all the hotels named from the first day of July until the close of the Convention, which will begin its session on the fourth of July. It will cost each delegate about seven dollars a day to live in this city during the Convention, including the necessary triffing expenses of the barber's and bootblack's fees and car fare. Many leading statesmen and politicians have engaged froms at the different hotels from the 20th and 25th of June until the close of the Convention, in order to have time to perfect their manipulations and organization of the country delegations. The admirers of Charles Francis Ad.

ams from Massachuset New Hampshire and Vermont will repose heir aching limb at the Clarendon Hotel. Ta amany Hall will be fully ready by the 25th of June, and the inaugural or dedicatory ceremonies will be as described below, one of the most imposing description ever bcheld in New York of a political nature.

A meeting of the Sachems of the Tammany Society was held yesterday at the office of Mayor Hoffman, for the purpose of making arrangements in reference to the decoration of the new hall and in preparing the regalias of the order. Arrangements were made in reference to the Fourth of July decorations of the main hall of the Tammany building. and Judge Albert Cardozo was selected to read the Declaration of Independence on that day. The internal decorations of the hall will be of an unique and tasteful character, and the committee have under advisement a number of plans for that purpose. The Cominittee with the National Democratic Committee in regard to the place where the National Convention shall be held, have not yet through their chairman, Hon. Wm. M. Tweed, reported; but it is understood that the National Convention will assemble immediately after the inaugural ceremonies of Tammany build ing shall be completed, in the main hall of that edifice. The members of the Tammany Society will appear in full regalia, and the building will be dedicated r mid imposing ceremonies. It being sufficie ly understood that Tammany Hall will be the place wherein the National Convention will jeet, the friends of the different delegations a securing eligible locations in the vicinity to parter themselves. Arrangements have been hade whereby the Pendleton escort from Cincinnati will be ac-commodated at Masonic Hall, and negotiations are pending, on the part of representatives from the Eastern States, to secure Irving Hall for the accommodation of the friends of the Eastern delegations ; while arrangements are being made to secure the Academy of Music for a series of monster public demonstrations during the evenings while the Convention shall be in session .- Net ! LOCAL MISCHLANY.

Temoriai Day in Winchester. On Saturday last, the graves of the Con-ederate dead buried in "Stonewall Ceme-" Winchester, received their fitting tri- make good my word, I must take up a fair bute at the hunds of the fair daughters Frederick. The day dawned bright and cloudless, and at an early hour small groups were seen wonding their way towards the Cemetery, and later in the day immense crowds, until at 11 o'clock, the hour appointed for the services to commence, "Stonewall Cemetery" was literally thronged with the fair ones of Virginia, awaiting the signal to drop the silent tear of sympathy and place their floral emblem of remembrance on the grave of each hero sleeping there. WM. R. DENNY, Esq., having called the assemblage together at the Central Arch of the Cemetery, which was trimmed with evergreens and bore the inscription, "Stonewall," the services were opened by the reading of the "Dirge of Ashby." by Rev. Mr. Avi-BETT, which was sung by an improvised choir, the mournful melody seeming to touch all hearts. The Rev. Dr. FINLEY next offered up a beautiful and most appropriate prayer, after which, at the request of some ladies from Baltimore who had just arrived upon the ground, the last two verses of the Dirge were again sung by the choir. The benediction was then pronounced by Rev. Mr. SHUFORD. and the ladies (different wards of the town having been designated for certain lots) dispersed to all parts of the Cemetery, and with gentle hands placed the evergreen and the rose on the last resting place of each sleepbrave. ing

Not one little mound was overlooked, bu cach received its memorial tribute. The graves of the brothers Ashby, Col. Marshall Maj. Jones, Maj. Thompson and others near and dear to some of those present, were literally decked with flowers. Over the grave of the brothers Ashby was the following inscription :--

"Brothers in bloed, in faith, Brothers in man1y bloom ; Brothers in life, brothers in death, others in one saule tomb.

Seattered here and there in other parts the Cemetery, inscribed on banners, wreaths, &c., were many beautiful and touching tributes to departed worth, among which were the following :-"Dead, yet alive; mortal, yet immortal."

The Fair, which has been in progress in Harper's Ferry for a number of days past, under the auspices of the members of the Methodist Protestant Church, terminated last office: evening with a success that exceeded, by far, the most sanguine expectations of all concerned, the net proceeds amounting to about eight hundred dollars. The most interesting feature attending the season of its duration, was the polling of votes for the presentation of a silver service to the most popular resident minister, but was soon narrowed down to two candidates, the Rev. J. C. STEWART of the M. P. Church, and Father KANE of St. Peters. A vote was represented by twenty-five cents, and no restrictions placed upon the number polled by each individual. Therefore, the contest was overned by an ensemble of strange compositions; the length of individual pockets; their measure of fulfiess of the wherewith; the liberality of their owners; their respect for their favorite candidate, and their amount of devotion for worldly gain, abbreviated of late to greenbacks. Upon this hypothesis, I will attempt the outlines of a pen picture, of scenes at the polls, and elsewhere. The first night exhibited but little display of the voters nerves, there being but few votes cast, with a balance in favor of Father Kane. During the following day, electioneering became prevalent, and the eager conversations of little groups on the streets and in the stores, betokened to the observer of our town affairs, the coming storm of competition. The interest continued to increase until Tuesday night last, when, centripetal in its nature, friends of the candidates were drawn eagerly ogether, and stood, oblivious to everything else, around the table, upon which sat the coveted prize. The index to human emotions never, to my mind, was more strongly marked and verified. The torch of a heavy vote for one candidate, would throw its brilliant rays o'er the countenances of some, till they gleamed with the smiles of expectant success while it cast a shadow over others, and marked them with the melancholy gloom of defent. And so, mutatis mutandis. As faces spoke their silent language, I listened, if I may so express myself, with the ocular ear of detection, and these are the whisperings of individual soliloquies : "This money in my pocket, I worked hard for ! It is 4 very convenient article for a person to have in possession. but we must have that silver ware for our minister, so, here goes." "Well, they are ahead of us. . I don't like much to spend any more money for this service; I have other use for it. But our minister is worthy of all the honor we can pay him; I'll go it a hundred more. Almost to the bottom I very little left ! I have voted the other, and this would'nt be of much benefit to me, any how. Put me down a few more !" (Old stager, standing off to one side, flush, pocket full of rocks, came to vote, came to win.) " I'll just stand around and let 'em all vote till a few moments of the time to close the polls, and then I'll give 'em a warmer." The polls were closed at 11 o'clock with the following result :. Father Kane, 912; Rev. James .C.; Stewart, 869; scattering, 14. A misconception of the state of the polls was the means of keeping back several hundred votes, already canvassed, otherwise the price of the service would have been materially enhanced. The very proper finale, following the announcement of the vote took place last night in the fair room by a formal presentation to Father Kane of the beautiful present, by Mr. Chas. Davies, on behalf of the managers of the fair, followed by the Revs gentleman, in a most liberal, lucid and appropriate manuer. The contest being one, principally between protestant and catholic denominations, natu rally, reference was made to the fact. Not in a spirit of sectarianism, not in a strain of bigotry, that absorbs but the elements of its own composition; but with that spirit of christian devotion to the important duties of humanity, which expands the smallest fibres of the heart with love, till it takes within its sympathetic grasp, Gods whole creation. Such was the tenor of Father Kane's remarks. such is the mark of a true chaistian. When illiberality shall be erased from the minds of men ; when bigotry shall sink into the bosoni of the grave ; when sectarianism shall find no resting place within the precincts of moral philosophy; we shall be able to meet upon the broad platform of universal fellowship and joyfully extend the right hand of brotherly affection. To this standpoint of ethical science, we must look for the highest type of civilization, and when it shall be reached, when christians of every denomination can join in pans to God, for the gracious gift of an only begotten Son, " that whosoever will believe, shall have everlasting life," the death blow to infidelity will be struck ; the excrescences which have lately shown themselves, or rather, which the Phillipses, the Frothinghams, the Collyers, the Clarkes, the Browns, the Nathans, and others of that ilk, are endeavoring to engraft upon the body of social science, will have sunk beyond the hope of resurrection. If this be episodical, I shall plead but one excuse, and that the social feeling exhibited between Protestants and Catholics upon the occasion which has drawn out these cursory remarks, is so in harmony with my own sentiments and impressions, that my every tho't upon questions of religion, is involuntarily awakened, and were it not for extenuation, prolixity, and the inappropriateness of place, should be pleased to dwell upon the important question, why christians of all denominations should act in harmony, as to the one great end to be attained. Preparations are now being made for a Catholic Fair, to be held at Harper's Ferry, and to commence on the 15th inst. As their Fairs are always conducted successfully, there will be little risk in a prediction of success for this one. At this Fair, the test of who is the most popular man in our county, (young men not reckoned in the contest,) will be decided by a vote for a gold headed cane .--ONE WIDE

Still Another Paradise.

A letter from Dr. Powhatan Jordan, in the San Antonio Herald, represents the writer as thinking that he has "at last found the place." He writes from Santo Tomas, Guatamala, in Central America. The Government professes to be a republic. The President holds his office for life, and appoints his successor All political, military and civil officers, except members of Congress and Vice-President, are appointed. The excep-tions are elected by the people. None but a native Central American can be President; to all other positions every citizen, whether of native or foreign birth, is eligible. Every owner of land, which every one may become on going to the country, is a citizen. Every office-holder has to be worth a certain amount of property,' varying, according to the importance of the office, from $5,000 down. A property qualification of some $200 or $300 is necessary to enable a person to vote; and after the year 1870 every person must be able to read and write. The Catholic Church is established, but all forms of religion are tolerated.

The Government is favorable to immigration, and gives all immigrants both a town lot as a residence and lands for farming .-Several American families now reside at Santo Tomas. As soon as the colony has enough settlers, all district officers will be selected from among the colonists, and they will be entitled to representation in Congress. The Doctor says:

NOTICE TO THE FARMERS

JEFFERSON & CLARKE COUNTIES.

My brother-in-law and myself, and all others, have plantations of half a league (about 2,200 acres), and each of us one entire block (about one acre) in this town; the single men have less land and only one lot in town; each town block contains according to/size, (some larger than others.) from five to eight lots. These lands we pay nothing for, except surveying and two or three dollars for office ices.

This is a free port ; we have no duties to pay, no taxes to pay (except what we make ourselves in the corporation,) no military or other duty; can cultivate the soil or follow other pursuits, and everything we make is ours, and the money is gold or silver; no paper of any sort in the country ; all coin passes here, and American gold is worth a premium in Balize.

The climate is perpetual spring; everything grows, and vegetation is perpetual.

Every night we use a light blanket ; never use musquito bars, and can wear in the daytime linen, or light woolen or flannel clothing. We have no snakes nor house flies nor fleas and no annoyances that I have seen, I have felt just before sundowm a'few gnats, which disappear with the sun, and these we only have a few days in new clearings.

Cotton, sugar, coffee, cacao, tobacco, rice, corn-two crops a year-vanilla, indigo, yams ramie, Sisal hemp, cocoanuts, plantains, bananas, pineapples, oranges, lemons, mangoes, figs, grapes, aguacate, cabbage, lettuce, tomatocs, potatoes, beans, peas, egg-plant, melons, etc., are among the productions. Fruits and vegetables can be had every day in the year ; and every day sugar cane can be cut and ground.

In the woods we have a variety of game, both large and small, and domestic fowls. beef, mutton, etc., in abundance ; all of which do well, and keep fat all the year. Hogs thrive, and are much better than in the States, and some gentlemen here from Louisians say they have succeeded in making better bacon than they ever did in the Attakapas region of the State.

I shall plant here, and intend to put in cacao or coffee, which in a few years will give me an income without much trouble, and certain every year. Labor is plenty, and can be controlled; it is not, of course, as good as slaves, but vastly superior to the negroes in the States, or the coolies of any place I have

I do not advise, but I wish you would come out here and judge for yourself. I have made my home here, and would like you to be one among us; also any and all of our friends .-One thing is certain, you get a home given to you, and with one hour's work a day you can make a good living. No one can ever suffer. It is the best poor man's country] ever saw; and any one with industry or capital can make money-the amount of money you make of course depends upon the amount of capital or industry you invest. If you only plant one crop it will be sure to come ; the soil will make it, and then you have only to reap it. A ready market is found here, in Balize, in Havana, New Orleans, or Europe, the planter deciding in which place he will dispose of his crop, according to the quantity and variety he may have to sell.

I am now stating truths, and not wishing to deceive, as I wish my friends who may come this way to extend their trip this far from Balize (125 miles,) and look before locating, and not be dured by Balize speculators and their employees. I think it is as near Paradise as any place I ever saw or read of. I sometimes think old Dr. Johnson must have been here when he conceived the Happy

BALTIMORE, Feb. 10th, 1868. Dr. J. J. Lawrence. Dear Sir—I take pleasure in recommending your ROSADALIS as a powerful alterative. I have seen it used in two cases with happy results—one a case of secondary syphilis, in which the patient pro-nounced himself cured after having taken five bot-tles of your medicine. The other a case of scrofula, of long standing, which is rapidly improving under its use, and the indications are that the patient will soon recover. I have carefully examined the for-mula by which your Rosadalis is made, and find it an excellent compound of alterative ingredients. Yours truly, R. W. CARR, M. D. Yours truly, 15- We know Dr. Lawrence's Rosadalis to be safe and reliable Alterative, &c., and take pleasure in

ROSADALIS WILL CURE THE WORST CASES OF SCROFULA.

READ THE STATEMENT BELOW AND DESPAIR NOT. WILSON COUNTY, Sept. 10, 1867.

Dear Sir: My youngest daughter, aged five years has been dreadfully afflicted with Scrofula nearly all her life. I tried a great many physicians, but without relieving her much; in fast, nost of them said there was no hope of cure. During the last enring the was worse than ever her bady and limbs spring she was worse than ever, her body and limbs being covered with sores and blotches—with face and eyes badly ulcerated and swollen. Whilst in this condition, I was advised by Dr. L. A. Stith t try your Rozadalis. I at once procured three bot-tles, and commenced giving it to her. The effect was magical. In less than a month, to my great astonishment, she was entirely well. I am yours, With much respect and gratitude, W. W. BURNETT.

ROSADALIS CURES ALL SKIN DISEASES.

Wilson, N. C., September 15, 1867. Dr. Lawrence-Dear Sir-In 1862, my son, now aged five years, was vaccinated with what proved to be impure matter, which completely destroyed his health. He has been afflicted with an invete rate and extremely troublesome Bruption of the Skin, sometimes breaking out in sores, &c. Rosa dalis was prescribed by my family physician, Dr. A. D. Moore. After taking it a few weeks my son

ROSADALIS WILL CURE THE VERY WORST CASES OF CHRONIC RHEUMATISM. PORTEMOUTH, Va, February 25th, 1869.

Captain J H Baker : Dear Sir-This is to certify that I have been af flicted with Rheumatism for the last five or six years, many times unable to move. I tried all years, many times unable to move. I tried all medicines recommended to me for the disease, with-out receiving any benefit. Having heard Rosadalis highly spoken of I procured a bottle, and finding some relief, continued it until I am happy to say some relief, continued it until I am uppy that that I am completely well.
