THE DEMOCRATIC NOMINATIONS. Letter of Mr. Doolittle, of Wisconsin. WASHINGTON, July 13, 1868.

O. H. Ostrander, Esq., Danville, Pa. DEAR SIR :- I am in receipt of your letter of the 10th instant, in which, speaking for yourself and forty eight other Conservative Republicans of your town, you express a "sense of disappointment and regret that no better names had been offered by the Democratic party to lead the Conservative and patriotic masses of the people to victory, and the Radical Republican party to deserving and merited defeat. As a gentleman and statesman Mr. Seymour holds our respect, but as a Peace Democrat we are indisposed to vote for him;" and you are pleased to say, that if my name, among others, had been placed at the head of the ticket, "all would have gone well, and victory would have been certain." You desire my opinion upon the situation and the prospects of a third party."

I thank you for the confidence thus reposed in me, and shall not shrink from the responsibility of stating frankly my opinion. I do not think the organization of any third party is wise, or can work any practical good to the great cause in which we are engaged. In the very nature of things, when great principles are at stake, there are, and there can be, but two effective political parties.—
. He that is not for me is against me," in politics as well as in religion, is a truth upon which every wise man is compelled to act. What, then, is the great and paramount is sue? What is that great and nupardodable wrong for which the Radical party is now arraigned and should be overthrown?

It is substantially this: In violation of the Constitution—in vio lation of pledges made and often repeated. from the first battle of Bull Run to the end of the war; pledges to the North to get men and money; pledges especially made to the Democracy to get their support in the field and in the elections; pledges made to the South to get them to lay down their arms and to renew their allegiance; and pledges to foreign powers to prevent intervention-in violation of all these solemn pledges, upon which we invoked the blessings of Almighty God upon our cause, and by which alone we gained strength to master the rebellion-in violation of the natural and inalienable right of the civilized men of every State to govern themselves; and in violation of the clear provisions of the Constitution, which leaves to each State for itself the right to regulate suffrage. this party has, without trial, by ex post facto laws, disfranchised hundreds of thousands of the most intelligent of their citizens, and has forced upon ten States and six millions of our own Anglo Saxon race the universal and unqualified suffrage of seven hundred thousand ignorant, and, in the main, half-civilized ne-

This is the great wrong for which that party is arraigned at the bar of public judgment, and for which it should be overthrown, To consummate that great wrong, they have abolished all civil government, and civil liberty even, in these ten States:

They have established five absolute military despotisms, wherein all rights to life. liberty, and property are subject to the will of one man;

They have kept the Union divided; They have prevented the restoration of in-

They have kept down the credit of the Government, during three years of peace, to a point so low that, to the shame of every American, the six per cent bonds of the United States sell for only 73 in gold, while the bonds of Brazil, bearing only four per cent. interest, bring over 90 in gold: They have enroached upon the just rights of the Executive : They have threatened the independence of the Supreme Court: They have unjustly, and without cause, impeached and put upon trial the President himself, and by every species of denunciation, and even by threats of assassination, have endeavered to force the Senate to convict him. in order to place in the Executive chair one who will use all its power to consummate that gigantic wrong against the Constitution, against our plighted faith, against civilization and against our own race and kindred. The Convention in New York met for the purpose of organizing to overthrow the party in power for this great wrong, and to restore the Union and the Constitution, and the rights of the States and of all the States-under it. Now I do not say the nominations made at New York are the very best that could have been made for that purpose.

The elements to be organized into a victorious army were four fold. To use a military figure, there were four army corps to be organized into one grand army: First. The great Democratic corps.

Second. The War Democratic corps. Third: The Conservative Republican corps Fourth. The Civilized Southern corps. The first, or Democratic corps, was fully organized, with ranks well filled, but not in sufficient numbers to secure the victory. There was the War Democratic corps, which supported Lincoln in 1864; but which, in consequence of the great wrong above Radical army under General Grant: and of which you are pleased to speak of me as a leader, who for the same reasons, were ready to join the grand army, and do all in their power to bring success to our cause.

The two last are the recruting corps. They hold the balance of power. As a matter of policy, had the first office been given to a chief of the one or of the other, it would have made our victory more easy, if not more Everybody knows that the result of this contest is to depend upon the important question whether we shall be able to recruit those two corps in sufficient numbers, and carry them to the hearty support of Mr. Seymour. If we can victory is with us. If we cannot victory is against us.

In my judgment, it is our duty to do so .-The very life of the Constitution is involved and with it, the rights of the States and the liberties of the people.

I cannot heattate for one moment. My judgment is for it; my whole heart is in it. So far from relaxing, we should redouble our efforts; bear in mind that the war was ended three years ago, when a new era was opened in political affairs; that Mr. Seymour is a man of high character, of unquestioned patriotism, of great ability and experience, wholly with us upon the living and paramount issue; and that, if elected, he will make a most able and dignified President; and certainly no Pennsylvanian will forget that, but for his promptness and energy in forwarding the forces of New York to Gettysburg, that great battle might have been lost and Pennsylvania overrun. While, in General Blair, we have a civilian and a soldier whose promptness and resolution seized Camp Jackson, and saved Missouri from secession. Missouri from secession; who always stood among the first of the war Republicans, in council and in the field, while the war lasted; and when it was over, was among the first to demand that for which the war was prosecu-ted—the Union of the States under the Con-nity unimpaired.

Let us unite for victory? Let us have peace—a peace which comes not from a vio-lated Constitution and the despotism of the sword, but peace which comes from a restored Union and the supremacy of constitutional law, by which alone liberty is secured.

stitution, with their rights, equality, and dig-

Respectfully yours, J. R. DOOLITTLE. [From the Cincinnati Enquirer ] Speech of Col. Llewellen Baber.

At the Ratification Meeting at the West Front of the State House, Columbus, Ohio

Monday Evening, July 13, 1868. FELLOW CITIZENS: It was very gratifying to your representatives in New York City, to learn by a special in The World, the morning after the nomination by the National Democratic Convention, that the Democracy fact this farce as the establishment of a reof the Capital of Ohio had responded so nobly by a large and enthusiastic ratification parcel of Northern men here as representameeting. It demonstrated conclusively to our tives, elected as would be understood (and governed by a love of principle and not men. Attached as you were to your own favorite candidate, George H. Pendleton, in making every honorable effort to secure his nomination, you were ready to support any candidate standing on a platform of sound principles. who could unite and consolidate into one grand storming column all the elements of opposition to Radical misrule and usurpation. In marked contrast stood the course of the Radical party at the Chicago Convention, where the chief object seemed to be to conceal from the people the true issues of the campaign by the nomination of General Grant in the hope that the reckless leaders of the party in power might continue themselves in office by hanging to his coat tail. The Democracy have laid down in their National Convention a sound platform on the questions of Congressional Military Reconstruction, Negro Suffrage and Finance, while the Radicals have manufactured a shuffling set of principles, guaranteeing Negro Suffrage at the South, and. leaving each State at the North to settle the matter for itself, thus establishing a permanent inequality between the States of the Union, and in open defiance of the Constitution of the United States, which expressly declares that each State shall be admitted on a footing of equality with the original States. pledging the power of the Government to overthrow the very keystone of the Federal Arch. No wonder our friend Sam. Galloway could not awake sufficiently from a state of self "animated suspension" to collect forty persons in a third story room in Columbus to ratify Grant's nomination on such an abortion. Horatio Seymour, the candidate of the Democracy for the Presidency, is a statesman of the first class-a man of pure character, against whom the poisonous slander of his opponents will fall harmless, as the miserable assaults of the Weakling Ohio State Journal, did last year in the case of Judge Thurman. As Governor of New York, during the late civil war, while holding the mode of prosecuting it calculated to prolong the division of the States, he did every thing in his power to sustain the soldiers in the field, reserving his right to hold the Radical party fully responsible to the people for their political action when peace should return.— General Francis P. Blair, of Missouri, the nominee for Vice President, is a fearless soldier, a representative of that large class of men who acted with the Union party until it abandoned every principle upon which the war had been sustained, and commenced its revolutionary course of destroying the States by forcing Legro suffrage on the people by unconstitutional legislation. On the other hand General Grant accepts the platform of the Radical party, with the declaration that he has no policy, while Colfax. the candidate for Vice President, who stumped Ohio last year for negro suffrage and impeachment, is a surface man—a flippant talker, and in the apt language of a distinguished Radical in this city, in speaking of his pretentions for a seat in President Lincoln's Cabinet, "a mere popinjay." The Radical party has showed itself utterly devoid of statesmanship in meeting the living issues of the day; it has wasted six months of the present session of Congress in a miserable quarrel with a President of its own election, and with its two-thirds majority proved itself utterly incompetent to manage the question of finance, tariff and taxation according to the declaration of the Commercial and other leading papers of the party, yet it now vainly hopes war and clamoring about lovalty, which under there was the Conservative Republican corps, its control has failed to restore either the Union, or provide the means to pay your taxes. The great question underlying the coming contest which must be met is, whether the Government is in future to be conducted according to the terms of a written Constitution, or whether, under the plea of necessity, a Congressional majority are to enact binding laws "outside of the Constitution," according to their own arbitrary will and pleasure. The war for the Union will prove a failure unless it secures the blessings of constitutional liberty and a union of hearts as well as laws. The Radical party at the close of the war, contrary to the policy of Lincoln and Seward, refused to recognize these facts, and inaugurated a system of measures to perpetuate party ascendency, which in their very nature issue to be settled is, will you in future have a government of law, sustained by the voice of the people, or establish a military despotism. North as well as South to enforce the political ideas of the party that happens to be in

The General of your armies has been nom-inated by the revolutionary party as an in-strument to sustain by the sword the power they may fail to hold by fraud, and by un-constitutional legislation the power is placed in his hands to control seventy electoral votes to secure his own election. Seven hundred thousand negro votes have been manufactured by a naked usurpation, not only to vote down rebels, as is claimed, but to govern you, me, and thousands of men who fought to put down the rebellion, and at the dictation of a Congressional majority, change the Constitution of the United States under the mock forms of law, backed by military force, and subvert the Government of your fathers.—
The issue cannot be dodged. Are you prepared to meet it like men? or to become slaves, not only of your former equals and neighbors, but of the negro helot, who is invested with the ballot to vote you down at the dictation of money lords and a bondholdng aristocracy.

Look at what is now going on in Congress who having, by expelling a minority at pleasure, secured a two-thirds majority, are admitting by acores carpet bag Representatives and Senators for bogus constituencies which they have created. Who are they? Arkansas is represented in the Senate by cotton speculator McDonald, of Illinois, and Rice of Minesota; Louisiana by adventurer Kellogg, of Illinois and Harris of Wisconsin ; Florida by Welch, of Michigan, and Professor Osborn, &c. It was said that one Dr. NcMillan was to be a carpet-bag Senator from Louisiana, a man whom the Republicans of his own ward would not have elected Councilman, notwithstanding the indorsement of the Ohio State Journal and yet it is expected that our people will calmly accept as an accomplished publican form of Government. "To send a perhaps really so) at the point of the bayonet. would be disgraceful and outrageous; and were I a member of Congress here, I would vote against admitting any such man to a seat," said A. Lincoln in his letter of November 21, 1862, to General Shepley at New Orleans. Yet such outrages now scarcely excite a comment. Republicans who voted against negro suffrage in Ohio, have you read the bogus Constitutions of Arkansas, Alabama, Florida and Louisiana, providing that no one shall register as a voter who will not swear to supty of the electors of Ohio, and preventing their settlement in these States the very purpose of the plundering demagagues who thus artfully continue the means to appropriate the lands of the South for themselves and the negro! In vain did your anglo-saxon | his letter of acceptance, says, let us have peace. Yes, it will be the same sort of peace that prevailed when "order reigned at Warsaw." Imagine not that these usurpations have not already touched the States of the North and West. Morgan has been deprived of his seat in Congress untler the pretence that Congress can control suffrage in Ohio. McKee given a seat in Kentucky, where he had been defeated by 1,000 majority, an outrage only paralleled in the Wilkes case by a Troy Parliament. Shellabarger, in your own district, has introduced a bill into Congress to authorize negroes to open side polls and vote, if your Judges of Election refuse their suffrages in obedience to the Constitution of the State and the verdict of 50,000 majority .-The Radical Supreme Court holds that negroes shall vote without being questioned under oath like white men, and in this district vou will have to meet a fraudulent vote of hundreds. Yet the cry is negro suffrage is no longer an issue, when by the order of General Grant himself, a negro Lieutenant-Governor presides in the Louisiana Senate, and negroes sit in the Common Council of New Orleans. Time forbids a discussion of the great farce of impeachment and the humbug 14th Constitutional Amendment, a mere bridge to carry over the election, and then enforce negro suffrage. The Democracy intend fully to discuss all these issues before the people, a change of one vote in a hundred, with the cry of one currency alike for the bondholder. the pensioner and the laborer, will sweep Ohio for the ticket by 10,000 majority at the next

The Southern Delegates.

The New York World thus compliments the action of the Southern delegates to the Democratic National Convention :

The Southern delegations deserve great praise for the dignity, good sense, and pro-priety with which they have borne themselves in the Convention. When the roll of States was called for naming candidates, the Southern delegations announced, one after another, that they had no candidate to present. They seemed to have no desire to dictate, but to be willing to accept whatever candidate should be deemed most available by the Democracy of the North. In the early ballotings they distributed, scattered and shifted their votes in such a way as to to escape the coming judgment of an indig. show that they were merely waiting and mentioned, was ready to sever itself from the nant people, by fighting over the battle of the watching developments, with a view to cooperate at last with the ma ern delegates. When Mr. Pendleton seemed to be the strongest they began to concentrate upon him, as if to tell the North that they nominated, and Hancock grew strong, they again indicated by changing their votes their willingness to co-operate in the nomination of any candidate who possessed the confidence

BOETTCAL.

O! GIVE ME HACK MY YOUTH ..

BY ISAAC MCCLELLAN, JR. O! give me back my youth!
O! give me back life's golden prime,
Childhood and boyhood's bhissful time,
Gay sports and frolics rude;
The tumble on the new mown hay,
The ramble in the wood;
The long bright summer holiday,
The Ohristmas Eve's domestic play;
The saunter in the fields,
When autumn fruits were red and ripe,
And grapes were hanging thick and sweet
From every sunny wall,
And in the orchard round our feet,
The yellow pears were thickly spread.
And pippins, streak'd with gold, would fall
With every breeze that stirr'd o'erhead,
And schoolboy baskets soon were laden
With wild nuis from the branches shaken.

O! give me back my youth!

Nor wealth nor windem do I crave,
Nor honor, praise, o fame;
For soon the deep ind gaping grave
Must close above the frame;
But rather give me back my youth—
Its joy, its innocence its truth.

O! give me back my youth!
Fill these dull eyes again with light;
Let these white, hairs be shorn away,
And let the golden locks of yore
Above these temples play;
And let this old and furrow'd brow,
Plough'd by full many a year,
Take the bright look of long ago,
So white, so pure and clear. So white, so pure and clear—
And let the sunken cheek resume
Its rosy health; imglowing bloom. Home of my childhood! happy spot!

Beyond the dreary waste of yeare,
In merrory's faithful glass, how bright,
How fair your humble roof appears!
I now behold the rustic porch,
And close beside the door,

And close peside the door,
The old elm, waving still as green
As in the days of yore,
I see the wreathing smoke ascend,
In azure columns, up the sky;
I see the twittering swallows still Around in giddy circles fly. But, no! that joyfui time has gone-Has gone forever by; And life and earth are fading fast Upon this gazing eye; And soon the imprison'd soulshall mount, In freedom, to its last account!

MISCELLANEOUS.

The Author of 1e "Raven."

"My best friend would be he would take a pistol and blow out my brains, and thus relieve me of my misery.' So said Edgar Allen Poe. His lips curled bitterly. These were his dying words. Such was the unhappy state of one whom dissipation had robbed of the pure enjoyments of life, and brought to hopeless ruin, He had been reared in the most elegant society, and educated in the most polished schools.

He possessed poetic gifts of unwonted beauport negro suffrage now and hereafter and the mixing of black and white children in the same school, a clause disqualifying a majorithey made him a marked man among the lovers of poesy throughout the world. He lacked symmetry of character, and with all of these advantages he possessed over others, he was wayward as a youth, passionate in maturer years, and always unmanued at the passion for lands keep the negro race out of sparkle of the intoxicating cup. He blazed Kansas, if the South is to be given over to awhile in the literary firmament "the comet the fate of Hayti. Yet, General Grant, in of a season," but he left behind him an unworthy influence, a reproachful memory, and the admonition of a fearful end.

He was making a journey when his death occurred, and he was occupied with the preparation for his wedding day. Better impulses warmed his heart and mollified his passions at the thought of his nuptials, and the sunlight of the future gladdened again the vision of his mind. Golden days filled his fancy-days of the tenderness of conjugal love and the sweet habitude of domestic bliss. He stopped at the city of Baltimore. He met old companions, je ly fellows with whom he had passed convivie hours. The intoxicating cup glittered be are him. The temptation was too great. Se would spend one more revel ere he entand that purer sphere depicted in his dreams.

That cheerless Nov mber night he was found lying in the stree stupified with drinking, covered with dirt, and his face distorted with horror. His jovial companions had deserted him. He was taken to a hospital. A fearful dream rose upon him, and fired his brain. Delirium, with her thousand demons, darkened his intellect; once beautiful with airy thought and poe ic fancies. Mania a potu ensues. A cle gyman is sent for-"Shall I send for your friends?" asked the pious man, "Friends?" said the dying man, as though the word was a mockery, "my best friend would be he who would take a pistol, and blow out my brains, and thus felieve me of my misery !" We hear men cavil at religion. What a treasure, beyond all imate, early piety would have been to the joul of poor Edgar

A GOLDEN THOUGHT .- We know not the author of the following, but it is one of the most beautiful productions of the human mind we have ever read: "Nature will be reported. All things are engaged in writing their own history. The plant and the peb-ble go attended by their own shadows. The rock leaves its scratches on the mountain side, the river its bed in the soil; the animal leaves its bones in the stratum, the fern and the leaf their modest epitaph in the coal. The falling drop makes its sepulchre in the sand or stone; not a footstep in the snow or along the ground, but prints in characters more or less lasting, a map of its march; every act of man inscribes its memories on its fellows and his own fac ). The air is full of sound, the sky of toker; the ground is all memoranda, signatures, and every object is and other light, loosening fruit." covered over with hint which speak to the intelligent."

Land Tacks in Bedford.

Some time last week, a New England Yankee made his distinguished appearance in the good county of Bedford, accountered as usual, with the inevitable black carpet bag. This receptacle, however, instead of being filled with paper collars and Radical documents. ments, was provided with contents of a much more interesting and valuable character.— These were, in brief, a collection of large brass tacks, on the heads of which were the initials "U. S." The Yankee was selling these tacks to the negroes, by representing that four of them entitled the owner to forty acres of arable land. All that the purchaser had to do was to stick the said tacks in the ground, enclosing the proper space of soil.—
And when the time of dividing arrived, no other claim was required than the mere presentation of the tacks in the ground.

This Codfish Saint, in the course of his travels, encountered one old darkey, to whom he unfolded the advantages of his plan at great length and with facile eloquence .-"Only forty dollars for forty acres of splendid land-four tacks to drive in the ground-and a sure thing when the time arrived." Like the trumpet peddler of Hood's immortal verse, the Yankee besought his loyal friend to.

"Buy it-try it-Try it-buy it-The last new patent, and nothing comes

The Abyssinian was dazzled, of course, by the glad tidings of great joy;—and the only objection that lay in his way was, that he didn't have forty dollars. The Yankee asked him how much he did have. Colored loyalist dragged out his stocking, unrolled the same, and disbursed, by five cent and ten cent pieces, the entire deposit, amounting to $4.25. The vendor executed a receipt, at the vender's suggestion : the tacks were transferred, and the transaction closed. A few days after, the colored individual, suspecting something wrong, took his receipt to a highly respectable gentleman, (whose name we have forgotten,) who inspected the document, and found it to read as follows :-"As Moses lifted up the brazen serpent in the Wilderness, even so have I lifted $4.25 of this old nigger." And that was all. The fellow, of course, had disappeared, leaving behind him a number of similar victims. Some of these times, we trust, the negroes will derive some sense from experience, and so beware of the wretched adventurers who are prowling about the country, as hungry as sharks for all kinds of prey and plunder .-Lynchburg Republican.

Cultivation by Irrigation.

In the House of Representatives, on Wedesday, Mr. Donnelly made a speech upon the necessary measures for the development of the great interior plains of the continent .-Several bills, he said, were pending for grants of land to California, Nevada, and other States, for the construction of works to irrigate large regions of now uninhabitable country. the company making the works to receive one-half of all the public lands they rendered habitable by irrigation. He showed the great extent of cultivation by irrigation in Europe, stating that in three States 3,000 square miles were irrigated; that an extent of land around the Mediterranean sea was cultivated by irrigation equal to the whole area of that sea. He showed the result in the United States, especially in Utah. He claimed that nearly all the great plains could be cultivated if the water of the lakes and rivers were turned to proper account. He also showed the necessity for the encouragement of the growth of woods in all the prairie and plain country, and that irrigation would lead to this, as in the case of Utah. He showed how the great forests of England had originated, none of them being primitive forests, but were created by kings for the chase, or by States for fuel; that sylviculture was a science in Europe, with a literature of its own; that similar results would be attained in this country with intelligent effort ; and that the States of Winconsin. Michigan, and California were already moving in that direction. The interior plains were not habitable without irrigation and forests; and if these could be created by wise legislation such as that contemplated in the pending bill, a vast area would be furnished for the use of settlers, and great benefits conferred on mankind.

Scalds and Burns.

Dr. Hall, in his excellent periodical the Journal of Health, gives us the following advice on the treatment of scalds and burns : "On the instant of the accident, plunge the parts under cold water. This relieves the pain in a second, and allows all hands to become composed. If the part cannot be kept under water, cover it over with dry flour an inch deep or more. In both cases pain ceases, because the air is excluded. In many instances nothing more will be needed after the flour; simply let it remain until it falls off, when a new skin will be found under .-In severer cases while the part injured is under water, simmer a leek or two in an earthen vessel, with half their bulk of hog's lard. until the leeks are soft, then strain through a muslin rag. This makes a greenish-colored ointment which when cool; spread thickly on a linen cloth and apply it to the injured part. If there are blisters, let out the water. When the part becomes feverish and uncomfortable. renew the ointment, and a rapid, painless cure will be the result, if the patient, in the meanwhile, lives exclusively on fruits, coarse bread

TWILIGHT .- Oh, how I love twilight hours When the last rays of the setting sun have fancy, we tread the well known paths of our youthful homes; its old halls ring again with our childish mirth, and we ask where are the fond friends of our youth? The answer is borne upon the passing breeze; "Scattered!"
Beloved parents, brothers, sisters—all the golden chain that bound the family circle is broken. Death has entered and claimed for its own, while others dwell in a strange land: and thus it is. Change is the pass-word from the morning of youth to the twilight of old

VOTE RIGHT!

It would be well for the people of this country, especially those who have not made up their minds as to how they shall vote, now, at the opening of the campaign to ponder seriously the importance of the coming election. It is time for all men to throw off the shackles of party and party prejudice and open their eyes to the true state of the country. For eight years the people have been, to a great extent, blinded and hurried on by passion and prejudice. We have reached that period when a change for better or worse must soon come. The most fearful and momentous epoch of our national history is upon us. It may be that next November's election will decide our destines, and fix the lot of future generations. There is danger that it may result in the final sacrifice of American liberties, and the establishment of a despotism, which for ages to come will continue to oppress this once proud and happy country. If the people can be induced to act wisely and, in their vote, to look to the present and future interests of the whole country, it must and will prove the dawn of brighter and happier days; the desnots who are plotting the ruin of our liberties will be hurled from place and power; anarchy and confusion will be exchanged for wholesome government, order and peace, and the union and prosperity which were our pride and glory in the past will return. The issue and its results are wholly with the people. Corrupt politicians are not the power at the ballot-box. There the voice of cach voter must be heard, and the voice of the majority must be heard and heeded by those in authority. This right is one of the few which demagogues and petty tyrants have not taken from the people entirely. Those who are still permitted to exercise it should rise in their might and speak once more for their homes and liberties.

In voting each man should, for himself, compare the candidates, and the principles which they represent and advocate. He should vote for the best man and sustain the principles which if carried out will be most productive of the best interests of the whole country .-When such a subject is presented, no sensible man who is conversant with the character of the men in the field and the history of the country for the past eight years need be long in making up his mind. On the one side we have SEYMOUR, who has long been known and noted throughout the country as a gentleman, and a statesman of the highest order; a man who has no superior in the land, and who, as President, would do honor to the dignity of the office and command the respect of all at home and abroad. On the other we have GRANT, an untimely son of luck; and idiotic babe of chance, who never was heard of before the war; a military blunderer and a wholesale human butcher, who "paved the path from Washington to Richmond with human skulls and bones," and who, in the midst of battle. revelled in drunken debauchery while around

"The field ran so red with the blood of the dead That it blushed like the waves of Hell." A man who, if elected, would sit in the Presidential chair and smoke and talk of horses. while the temple of American liberties was tottering to its fall, and foreign nations laughed at and scorned the fall. In their nomination the Democratic party sought and obtained a man who they knew would, if elec- field, as did Van Amburgh in the early part ted, administer the affairs of the government of the late war. And yet, both of them according to the word and true intent of the | wish to see the Southern States restored to Constitution. They preferred defeat with a their equality in the Union, without the aid man of ability and principle to success with a of negro votes, or at the risk of negro supremfool or a tyrant as their leader. With the acy. Compare the two tickets-on the one Radical party availability was the question hand, you have Harrison and Wilson, who and incentive. Principle was abandoned, supported the Union throughout, and now the interests of the nation were forgotten; advocate a constitutional administration of the and party power and aggrandizement were government; on the other, you have Smith the aim and end of their nomination. The Democratic party has adopted a platform which, if carried out, will restore the peace and prosperity which we enjoyed before the war. Under it the constitution which our fathers framed and we and our accestors have loved to acknowledge and honor in the past. will re-assert its majesty and power as the supreme law of the land. The rights and interests of the governed in all sections of the country will be protected and promoted .-The credit of the nation at home and abroad will be preserved, and we will be delivered soon of the debt which is now exhausting all the profits of trade and labor, and oppressing all classes throughout the length and breadth all classes throughout the length and breadth light-weight Stubbs—small in statue, smaller as we hope to see them do next November, every man accepting a nomination from this levery man accepting a nomination from the levery man accepting a nomination from the normal man acceptance of the levery man acceptance man acceptance

tions will be reconciled, the prejudices produced by the war will be allayed and forgotten, and representatives from all the States will meet once more in the capitol of our country, to renew their oaths of fealty to the Union, and secure the prosperity and future

If the plans and principles of the Republican party are endorsed by the majority of the people we must look for discord, strife and ruin. Demagogues and despots will be our rulers and the constitution will be yielded for the infamous dogmas of fools and tyrants. A few of their party will be permitted to us urp the wealth of the nation, while the great mass of the people will be despoiled of all their civil rights and oppressed and trodden down by insulting tax collectors and liberated slaves. Our debt will continue to augment. until payment becomes impossible; and repudiation and financial ruin resulting, we will find ourselves in the lowest depths of poverty

It may be that the deep and burning spirit of enmity now existing in the minds of parties and sections of the country, will manifest itself in a general revolution. Then we will have a home war, a "cut-throat revolution." "No man will know his brother." The wail of death will be heard in each household and kindred blood will darken every hearthstone in the land. The? Union of the States will be abandoned and forgotten, and anarchy and desolation will lord it over all.

Those who are acting with the Jacobins should remember that they too must suffer if such events are brought upon us. They will find they are hugging the serpent that will turn and sting them. They are "sharpening the iron that will pierce their own souls." The men, who ride into power upon their shoulders, will spurn them when they reach the throne. We say to all, irrespective of party, let us have peace; let us have Union, in sympathy and organization; let us have prosperity; let us pay the debt of the nation, and preserve our credit and dignity at home and abroad; let us bury the prejudices engendered by the war, and meet again beneath the tree of freedom, to renew our oaths of fealty to the Constitution, fand secure the future glory of our country. VOTE RIGHT, and all will be well. Be sure you vote right the war, the Democratic Conservative party of Je fferson County, is thoroughly organized and enters the field with a full ticket for national, State, and County officers. The enthusiasm which pervades the party, is the sure harbinger of success, and at the fall elections we confidently expect to see our county freed from the shackles of radicalism, and stand forth redeemed, regenerated and disenthralled. The County Convention on Saturday last was a success beyond any body that has convened in the county for years, and the harmony which marked its proceedings, and the cordiality with which its nominations were endorsed, showed plainly with whatintense loathing the people have come to regard the trickery and corruption of the detestable party that has ruled here with the rod of oppression for the past three years. The resolutions adopted by the Convention, and which appear in the published proceedings, speak for themselves. Their emphatic arraignment of the radical party for its lawlessness and fraud, will meet the cordial approval of every right thinking man in the county, whilst their endorsement of the national and State nominations express but the feelings and sentiments of every member of the party throughout the country. The suggestions which they convey as to the proper course to be pursued, to secure to the disfranchised their rights and privileges as citizens, will be the means of re-investing many with the elective franchise, who have heretofore been defrauded by the chicanery and meanness of an irresponsible Board of Registration. If these suggestions are acted upon with fidelity, the tyranny that has trodden down and sought to crush out the liberties of this people, will be overthrown, and the names of Joe. Chapline and Anthony Turner will be hissed and scorned whenever and wherever uttered.

IN THE FIELD!

The ticket nominated on Saturday is composed of men whom the people may support with pride. The candidates for the House of Delegates are men of integrity and intelligence, and although Union men during the war and Union men still, have a proper respect for those of their fellow-citizens who sustained the South in her struggles, and are willing to see them restored to their rights under the Constitution. Unlike Grasshopper Smith and Van Amburgh Underdonk, they were and are Union men from principle and not from self-interest, Neither of them have hired their nearest of kin for service in the armies of the Confederacy, nor have either of them given aid to the South in the tented and Underdonk, the first of whom hired his son as a substitute and mustered him into the Confederate service, and the second of whom served himself in the Confederate army and is a deserter therefrom-and both of whom are now the toadies of radicalism, willing and ready to do the dirty work of that party .-Comparisons are always odious, but here they are contemptible.

In the candidates for Commonwealth's Attorney of the respective parties, the contrast is still more remarkable. The Conservatives present Maj. E. W. Andrews-an ex-Union officer, a gentleman, a lawyer, a man of ability and experience. Radicalism presents the and crime will be hushed, antagonistic sec- a man without a history, or the capacity to make one-nothing in the start and less than nothing yet-feeble in frame, feebler in brain -a subject for pity rather than co

the kite sailed by Chapline and others-his services to his party are similar to those of the dog that trots between the hind wheels of the wagon.

For Recorder the Democrats have ted Henry C. Entler, a man well qualified for the position, a native of the county, and a son of one of the best citizens the county ever had. He is opposed by Geo. W. Chase, the nearest approach to decency and honesty that can be attained by an adherent of radicalism-a man who ought to have sense enough. and sufficient self-respect to keep better

John E. Erwin, an honest man, a capable man, and a gentleman is the Democratic candidate for Assessor. The other party is supporting High Over Anthony Turner, the owest card in the deck, and about the meanest pecimen of mortality that was ever wrapped in a human hide. When we undertake to write any thing about him charity forsakes us and we grit our teeth with indignation, but even then, we find ourselves like the man of proverbial profanity, "unable to do justice to

For County Treasurer, the Democratic Convention have put forward good, old honest George Murphy, who has passed through a long life without a stain upon his character, well en titling himself to be considered the noblest work of God-an honest man. Radicalism is represented by Z. Butt, whose parents, convinced that he must always be at the tail-end; gave him as an initial at christening the last letter of the alphabet. So much for a comparison of the respective tickets. Choose ve between them.

TREMENDOUS FLOOD.

Loss of Life, and Immense Destruction of Property.

The accounts we have from Maryland though vague, are distressing. A flood, un recedented in its destructiveness, visited all that region of country lying between Frederick city and Baltimore, on Thursday night and Friday morning, involving the loss of hundreds of lives, and the destruction of milions of dollars worth of property. We are without Baltimore papers since Thursday last, in consequence of which we are unable to give any definite details of the losses sustained to life and property. A friend of ours ho left this town on Friday, sends us a lefter from Frederick, dated July 25th, from which we make the following extract :-

" As our train going east approached the tunnel below Berlin, it met with an obstruction in the shape of sand and mud over the track. We then had to run back several miles in order to get the inner track, which was more nearly finished, so as to allow the assage of the train. From that point to frederick junction, we lost but little time. but from there the conductor brought the rain to this city, as the road was so greatly damaged as to prevent the train proceeding. Railroad bridges had been washed away, culverts torn up, telegraph poles blown down; and worse than all this, we were landed in this place to witness still greater destruction. and scenes that almost baffle description.

It appears that about 12 o'clock on Thursday night there was a most terriffic storm of thunder and lightning, and rain, the latter continuing until 12 o'clock M., but with greatly increased violence about 8 to 101 clock. The streams, already swollen and obstructed, increased so rapidly that houses, stables, fences, and the various bridges in the city, all gave way to the angry flood that was carrying everything before it. In Patrick street the water rose to the depth of six or seven feet, cellars were filled, and the lower stores completely submerged-ruining carpets, pianos, books, and every description of goods. The loss sustained by the citizens is out down at half million fo dollars. Some ave lost everything they had."

At Ellicott's Mills the devastating flood was even more destructive than at Frederick. flooding nearly the entire town, and drowning large number of persons. One account says half the city was destroyed, and that already sixty-five bodies of the drowned have been recovered.

Powerful as was the element at Frederick and at Ellicott's, the destruction was insignificant compared with the loss of life and property in Baltimore. Not less than five and perhaps seven hundred human souls were swept into eternity in that portion of the city contiguous to Jones' Falls. The immense resorvoir which supplies the city with water. gave way and precipitated an immense sheet water upon that district of the city. The flood rushed down with such velocity as to afford little opportunity for escape, and hundreds perished. Millions, will not cover the loss of property sustained, and unless the reports which reach us are greatly exagerated we dread to hear the correct accounts. The express train which left Baltimore at 9 o'clock on Thursday night has not been heard from

The damage to the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad has been very great. A dispatch received by us late yesterday afternoon says that several iron bridges and a number of miles of track were destroyed. At Sykesville the hotel, water station and several other buildings were demolished, and the iron bridges at Ilchester and Elysville. At the atter place 26 school children were drowned.

A dispatch from Hagerstown, dated at 4 clock vesterday afternoon says, the estimated loss of property in Baltimore is six millions : that the water is still raging in the streets, and that so immense was the flood that the water poured into the second story of the Maryland Institute.

- The Virginia Express Company is now running daily freights to all points on the Orange, Alexandria and Manassas, and Alexandria, Loudoun and Hampshire Railroads. Upon the completion of the Winchester and Strausburg extension, the Virginia Express will extend its operations to Winchester .-Under the able and energetic management of its President, Colonel Michael G. Harman, of Staunton, the Virginia is meeting with great and deserved success.

-Interest on the debt takes about $140. 000,000 annually from the Treasury, bounties $30,000,000 and pensions about $30,000.000. $200,000,000 a year out of the public pocket as a direct consequence of the election of Abraham Lincoln. The Radical plunderers take a good many millions more, and will continue to do so until the peoople rise up,

COUNTY CONVENTION

Pursuant to the call of the County Executive Committee, the Convention of the Den cratic Conservative party of Jefferson, assem-bled at the Stone School House in Charlestown, on Saturday the 25th inst. The Convention was called to order by G. M. BELLY. OVER, Esq., who nominated for chairman of the Convention, LOGAN OSBOURN, Es The enfeebled condition of Mr. O's healt used him to decline the nomination, when fai. E. W. [Mr. Kennedy, upon whose motion the above committee was raised, was relieved from service on it at his own request, and upon his suggestion W.m. H. Travers Esq , was appointed from Charlestown township.]

The Convention then took a recess of hal an hour, in order that the committee on Resolutions might have an opportunity of preparing their report. At 1 o'clock the convention again assembled, and was called to order by the chairman. In a short time the committee on Resolutions returned to the body of the Convention, and through its chairman, Mr. Travers, submitted the following report :-RESOLUTIONS.

1. RESOLUTIONS.

1. RESOLVED. That we heartily endorse the platform of principles adopted by the National Democratic Convention, recently insession in the city of New York, and that we will give our cordial support to the nominations of Horatic Seymour and Francis P. Blair, as candidates for the Presidency and Vice Presidency of the United States.

2. RESOLVED, That in the selection of candidates for State officers, made by the representatives of the Democratic and Conservative party at Grafton on the 16th inst., we recognize leaders eminently the Democratic and Conservative party at Grafton on the 16th inst., we recognize leaders eminently worthy to bear the standards of the party in its coming struggle with lawless Radicalism, and that we pledge ourselves to give them our earnest and active aid to secure their triumphant election.

WHEREAS, Large masses of the citizens of this county, who are excluded from the right of suftrage, have been disfranchised for their alleged symmathy with or participation in rebellion against the pathy with, or participation in rebellion against the government of the United States: And whereas, The President of the United States, in the exercise of an unquestionable constitutional power, has, by various proclamations, and especially by one recently issued, pardoned all, with few exceptions, of these in any way senged in any wa of those in any way engaged in such rebellion, thus restoring such persons, intentionally and legally, to their status before the war: therefore

3. RESOLVED, That all pretext for further continuance of the disabilities referred to has ceased, and such disabilities have become unjust, illegal and tyrannical, and ought not and will not be longer borne with tame submission.

4. RESOLVED, That all who, but for the alleged political offences for which they have been disfranchised, are entitled, under the constitution and laws of the State of West Virginia, to the right of suffrage, be requested—should an opportunity be offered them—to present themselves to the registrars in the several townships of the county for registration, and should such registration be denied them, that they present themselves at the polls on the days of the ensuing elections, State and National, and demand the privilege of casting their ballots, endorsed with their names, for the officers of the State in the one, and for electors for President and Vice President of the United States, in the other elecesident of the United States, in the other elec tion; and, should the same be rejected, that the said ballots be entrusted for preservation to two persons selected for the purpose in each election precinct in the township, who, at the same time shall be competent witnesses of the character and description of the ballots thus offered and rejected. 5. RESOLVED, That the ballots so collected be cer-tified by the precinct committee to the executive committee of each township, for such disposition as in the judgment of the county executive committee may be deemed most effective.

The above report of the committee was adopted with entire unanimity without discussion or amendment. The reading of the resolutions was received with applause. NOMINATIONS.

er, being next in order, the names of Henev C. Entler and S. W. Patterson were place efore the Convention. On the first ballot Mr. Entler received a majority of the cast, and was declared the nominee for Recorder. The Convention then proceeded to eelect candidate for Assessor. Messrs. John E.

Erwin and J. D. Potterfield were placed in nomination, and on the first ballot, Mr. ER-WIN receiving a majority, was declared the hoice of the Convention. For the office of County Treasurer the folowing named gentlemen were placed before the Convention, viz :- George Murphy, Washington Spangler, James T Reed, Philip Engle, and Wm. T. Baden. On the first vote, neither one of the candidates receiving a majority, there was no nomination. The second ballot resulted in the selection of

A motion was then made by Mr. J. W. Kennedy, that the nominees of this convention, and the delegates present, pledge themselves to support the nominations of the party made at New York by the National Convention, and those of the State Convention recently held at Grafton; and also that the delegates present pledge themselves to labor for the success of the ticket nominated by this Convention. This motion was carried with great enthusiasm.

At this point of the proceedings, loud calls were made for Mr. E. WILLIS WILSON, one of the nominees for the House of Delegates. who made his appearance on the stand, and entertained the Convention in a neat and pertinent speech, in which he acknowledged the compliment tendered by the Convention, and pledged himself to leave nothing undone to secure the success of the ticket.

Mr. B. F. HARRISON, being called upon gracefully accepted the position assigned him and promised to labor for the overthrow of Enthusiastic calls were then made for Maj. E. W. ANDREWS the nominee for Commonwealth's Attorney who made an able and eloquent response. He concluded by saving that he intended to make an active canvass of the county, and would speak wherever the people would assemble to hear him. His remarks were well received and loudly ap-

JOHN G. COCKRELL, Secretaries BENJ. F. BEALL,

Gen. Blair's Letter of Acceptance. Gen. George W. Morgan, Chairman Committee National Democratic Convention:

GENERAL-I take the earliest opportunity of replying to your letter notifying me of my nomination for Vice President of the United States by the National Democratic Convention recently held in the city of New York. I accept without hesitation the nomination bendered in a manner so gratifying, and give you and the committee my thanks for the very kind and complimentary language in which you have conveyed to me the decision of the Convention. I have carefully read the resolutions adopted by the Convention, and most cordially concur in every principle and sentiment they announce. My opinions upon all of the questions which discriminate the great contending parties have been freely expressed upon all suitable occasions, and I do not deem it necessary at this time to reiterate them. The issues upon which the contest turns are clear, and cannot be obscured or distorted by the sophistries of our adversaries. They all esolve themselves into the old and ever recurring struggle of a few men to absorb the political power of the nation. This effort, under every conceivable name and disguise, has always characterized the opponents of the Democratic party, but at no time has the attempt assumed a shape so open and daring as in this contest. The adversaries of free and constitutional government, in defiance of the express language of the Constitution, have erected a military despotism in ten of the States of the Union, have taken from the President the power vested in him by the supreme law, and have deprived the Supreme Court of its jurisdiction.

The right of trial by jury and the great writ of right, the habeas corpus, shields of safety for every citizen, which have descended to us from the earliest traditions of our ncestors, and which our revolutionary fath. ers sought to secure to their posterity forever in the fundamental charter of our liberties, have been ruthlessly trampled under foot by the fragment of a Congress. Whole States and communities of people of our own race have been attainted, convicted, condemned and deprived of their rights as citizens without presentment or trial or witnesses, but by Congressional enactment of ex post facto laws, and in defiance of the constitutional prohibition, denying even to a full and legal longress the authority to pass any bill of attainder or ex post facto law. The same usurp ing authority has substituted as electors in place of men of our own race thus illegally attained and disfranchised a host of ignorant negroes who are supported in idleness with the public money and combined together to strip the white race of their birthright through the management of the Freedmen's Bureaus and the emissaries of conspirators in other States, and to complete the oppression the military power of the nation has been placed at their disposed, in order to make this barbarism supreme. The military leader under whose prestige this usurping Congress has taken refuge since the condemnation of their schemes by the free people of the North in the elections of the last year, and whom they have selected as their candidate to shield themselves from the result of their own wickedness and crime, has announced his acceptance of the nomination and his willingness to maintain their nsurpa-tions over eight millions of white people at the South fixed to the earth with his bayowhich heralded the doom of the liberties of a nation. "The Empire is peace," exclaimed Bonaparte, when freedom and its defenders expired under the sharp edge of his sword.

The peace to which Grant invites us is the peace of despotism and death. Those who seek to restore the Constitution by executing the will of the people, condemning the Reconstruction acts already pronounced in the elections of last year, and which will, I am convinced, be still more emphatically expressed by the election of the Democratic candidate as the President of the United States are denounced as revolutionists by the States, are denounced as revolutionists by the Negro suffrage, which the popular vote of New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Connecticut and other States have condemned as expressly against the letter of the Constitution, must stand because their Senators and Representatives have willed it. If the people shall again condemn these atrocious measures by the election of the Democratic candidate for President, they must not be disturbed, although decided to be unconstitutional by the Supreme Court, and although the President is sworn to maintain and support the Constitution. The will of a fraction of a Gongress, reinforced with its partizan emissaries sent to the South, and supported by the soldiery, must stand against the will of the people and the decision of the sureme Court and the solemn oath of the President to maintain and support the Constitu-

It is revolutionary to execute the will of the people. It is revolutionary to execute the judgment of the Supreme Court. It is revolutionary in the President to keep inviolate his oath to sustain the Constitution: This false construction of the vital principle of our Government is the last resort of those who would have their arbitrary reconstruction sway and supersede our time honored institutions. The nation will say the Constitution must be restored and the will of the people again prevail. The appeal to the peaceful ballot to attain this end is not war-is not revolution. They make war and revolution who attempt to arrest this quiet mode of put-ting aside military despotism and the usurpations of a fragment of a Congress asserting absolute power over that benign system of regulated liberty left us by our fathers -This must be allowed to take its course.-This is the only road to peace. It will comwith the election of the Democratic candidate, and not with the election of the mailed warrior whose bayonets are now at the throat of eight millions of people in the South to compel them support him as a candidate. for the Presicency, and to submit to the domination of an alien race of semi-barbarous men. No perfersion of truth or audacity of misrepresentation can exceed that which hails this candidate in arms as an angel of peace.-I am, very respectfully, your obedient servant,

MORE STEALING!

Scarcely a day passes that some new feature of stealing is not developed in the Radical camp. Theft has become a part of their business, and is as diligently applied as any other vocation. Without thieving they would fail to fill the high destiny for which they are created, and for which it seems, they have been allowed to gain position. Forney, the Secretary of the Senate, resigned his office because he was detected in a theft of 40,000. and now McPherson and other officials of the House of Representatives, are discovered to have been pursuing a systematic course of stealing which has been kept up for months. A correspondent of the Cincinnati, Times thus refers to this last development :-

Serious charges have been made against McPherson, clerk, Irdway, seargeant-at-arms, Lippincott, door kieper, and King, postmaster of the House of Representatives, which must lead to a searching investigation. McPherson is charged with keeping his father-in-law on the pay-roll and drawing pay for his services when the latter resided in Chambersburg, and was never in Washington except once for a few days on a visit.-Gross frauds in the stationery accounts are

Ordway is charged with defrauding the government as disbursing officer of the House. Lippincott is charged with deducting salary from his employees during the last recess of Congress, under pretence of employing substitutes, but some allege that no substitutes were emp yed. Postmaster I ng is charged with drawing money for more porses for public use than were actually kept. These charges are made by William J. Manker, of Indiana, who was formerly a doorkeeper, but resigned on account of Lippincott making deductions from his pay, and refusing to give any explanation of it or return the money. He has printed them in a pamphlet, and circulated it among the members

A Debtor Cannot be Entired from Another State and then Arrested

Last week a somewhat peculiar as well as interesting case came up in the Circuit Court, Chicago, for adjudication, S. Edward Bright being the plaintiff, and James M. Wanzer and Samuel K. Cromwell the defendants .-The basis of the artion against the defendan s was a telegram and several letters addressed to the plaintiff at Elkhorn, Wisconsin, requesting his presence in Chicago to negotiate for a patent car-door, of which the plaintiff was the patentee.

It appeared in evidence that Bright was in debted to the defendants in the sum of $500 or $600 on account of certain transactions between them : and it became desirable to get Bright into the State of Illinois in order to capias him and secure any judgment that might be brought against him. Accordingly, it was alledged, the attorney of Messrs. Wanzer and Cronwell first addressed a letter to Bright reques ing an interview in Chicago respecting the patent door. Several letters and a tele am passed, Bright being somewhat suspit aus, before the matter was finally concluded when he consented to an interview at the Washington House, and came on in pursuance of the letters and telegram. As soon as he arrived in Chicago he was copiased and thrust in jail on the debt, where he remained a day or two, and was released on a habeas corpus by Judge Gary, who de cided in effect that the capias was fraudulent, the de indant having been enticed to the city by false means. He was, however, arrested again on his release, and was a sec-ond time set at liberty by the same Judge on a similar writ. Bright then brought suit against Wanzer and Cromwell for false imprisonment, and the jury ruturned a verdict of $1,000 in his favor, thus vindicating the maxim that a suitor in law must come in court with cle .n hands. Had Brigh voluntarily gone to Chicago his arrest upon a capias would have been perfectly legitimate, but having been enticed into the State under false pretences, there was really no basis on the part of those cognizant of the means used to get him here for a writ and it was accordingly dismissed.

court, and were not actually a party to the fraud. The jury, however, seemed to think that the act of their attorney was their act, and hence the verdict.

Spirit of Jefferson. LOUAL MISCELLANY.

The Riot of the 11th. It is no pleasant task to recur to the riot ous proceedings in this town on the 11th inst. as we think the affair has received all the attention that its importance demands, until it shall be investigated at the October term of the circuit court; but the efforts of the Free Press to place our notice of the riot in a false light before the public, compel us to notice its article of last week. The editors profess to be governed by a two fold motive, which they state to be: First, to put our citizen on their guard against the designs of some of the colored population under the teaching of Northern emissaries, now operating for po litical effect; and second, to do justice to the young men who fought so well, and against such great odds, to prevent the negroes from doing more serious damage.

Now it might be readily inferred from th first of these propositions, that there is danger to be apprehended from a portion of the colored population, and that there are those in our midst, from the Northern States, who are perverting the minds of the ignorant blacks, for political effect; and if we had any positive evidence of anything of the kind we should as heartily condemn it as the editors of the Free Press, as we did a year ago when we discovered that Ames, Brackett and others were organizing the negroes of this community into Union Leagues. But the general conduct of the negroes here, which has been commended in the columns of the Free Press as they will find by reference to their files-refutes the statement that they have heretofore, or now contemplate any col-Esion with the whites. In the main, they have been respectful in their intercourse, and have shown no disposition to be turbulent or offensive. If there has been any departure from this course, it has been when liquor was producing its natural effect upon the parties offending. This being true, we see no neces sity of making the affair of the 11th the occas ion of producing clarm, by representing it as a premeditated thing on the part of the negroes. The second motive that influences the Free Press, to use its own language is "to do justice to the young men who fought so well, and against such great odds." Now we would like to know who has done them any injustice? What sentence in our notice of the riot, conveys the slightest injustice? To show that we did not, is easily demonstrated by a single quotation from our notice, which we append. It refers to the scene in front of the store of Trussell & Co. :-"For several minutes the negroes, who seemed to be greatly enraged, stood in the street cursing white men generally, throwing off their coats, and daring a conflict. At this time the number of whites iminediately present was not more than five or six, whilst the negroes, at a moderate estimate, must have numbered thirty; each one vehemently swear-ing and gesticulating in the most arrogant and de-fiant manner. Mr. James N. Gallaher and others tried to reason with them, but to no purpose, until finally a negro named John Jackson struck Mr. G with a rake, felling him to the ground. Then com-menced an indiscriminate fight, maintained at first by the white men at great odds—at least five to one, until the citizens of the town gathered at the scene. A complete rock battle raged for the time, and furiously the races assailed each other." If there is any injustice here, we shall feel ourselves under obligations to the editors of the Free Press to point it out. Again, the Free Press says in effect that we have accused these young men of participation in a "drunken row." We have done no such thing, and none other than a distorted imagination could give such an interpretation to our notice. We stated, and still maintain, that the riot was the result of indulgence in liquor, and our article on the subject distinctly placed the charge of drunkenness at the door of the negroes. We never alleged or implied that a single white man engaged was intoxicated; whilst the Free Press in two separate issues of its paper charges that there was one white man drunk on the occasion. So that if the whites have suffered any injustice it has been from the notice of the Free Press, and not from those which appeared in these columns. Besides, the Free Press in its first issue after the riot, took no exceptions to our notice, which appeared two days before-except that it referred to the fact that we had inadvertently left Mr. Jas. N. Gallaher on the ground when knocked down by John Jackson, negro. The truth is, a comparison of our first article with that of the Free Press will show no material difference in the statements made by the two papers; and yet, in its last issue the editors claim that their notice was written "in an endeavor to correct the false impressions made on the minds of the readers of the Spirit by its account of the riot." In our notice, we "Harvest having just ended, the negroes flocked to town on Saturday morning to divest themselves of the money they had earned, a considerable portion of which they spent in the drinking houses of the town. As a matter of course they were crazed by the influence of the ardent, and during the whole morning they were moving about the streets with insolent airs, and using abusive, obscene and profane language. This was naturally calculated to

The Free Iress, two days after, in it account used the following language :-

"Last Saturday seemed unusually brisk—harvest having just ended, and harvesters, flush with green-backs, were spending their earnings according to their inclinations. It was what our tusiness men expected and by tempting wares had prepared for. The day, until meridian, passed in the ordinary way, with occasional noisy and disagrecable ejacu-

And so throughout the two articles, there is a singular correspondence of statement, which would lead to the conclusion that the occurrences of that Saturday were accurately detailed by both, the only diffierence being, that we were more explicit in expressing what we believed to be the real cause of the disturbance.

The communication of "Truth" which appeared in our last paper was written by a gentleman who is abundantly qualified to respond to the Free Press, if he thinks there is any necessity for doing so. We have only to say that there was nothing in his communication that was in the slightest degree calculated to convey the impression that the young men who struggled with the negroes on the day of the riot, were engaged in a drunken row, and that the editors of the Free Press by their notice, became particeps criminis... All this proceeds from an undue sensitiveness, and finds no grounds for support in the communi-cation of "Truth."

In conclusion, we distinctly disclaim that we have any right to be styled a "champion of temperance." We should be proud if we could claim any merit to such a title, and the ungenerous taunts of the Free Press "to prove the steadiness of our friendship for the cause," would be without effect. But without any presumption in the matter, we feel that we have a right, as a journalist, to cry aloud against the outrages that have been perpertrated upon this community by the granting of license to presponsible men, whose only interest in the community is to make all the money they can out of the negroes. That liquor is sold here by respectable men has never been denied by us, and the issuing of license to them we have never condemned but do contend that our Board of Supervisor ought to discriminate in a matter where so much is involved

ACCIDENT .- On Thursday morning last an accident occurred on our streets which came near being serious. A horse attached to a spring wagon, belonging to Andrew Hanter, Esq., was being driven down Main street from the west end of the town when a bolt attached to the shafes coming loose, the horse was frightened and became unmanageable. running as far as the store-house of Miller & Smith, where the vehicle coming in contact with a stove on the pavement and a tree adjoining was literally smashed to pieces .-Luckily the lad driving the horse escaped unharmed, having been thrown out just before the collision occurred.

LAND SALES .- Smith, Walton & Craighill sold last week, to Parker H. Strode, the "Gap View Farm" belonging to the estate of the late J. L. Ranson, containing 454 acres, for $45.150-being $99,45 per acre. The same firm, also sold on the same day, a track of land belonging to P. H. Strode, adjoining the Gap View Farm, containing 155 acres-for $13. 950-being $90 per acre.

BURNED TO DEATH .- We learn that the wife af a man named Shrott,-son of the old German, Killian Shrott of this town-was. burned to death on Thursday morning last, at her home, about three miles from Wadesville, Clarke county. She was endeavoring to kindle a fire, and resorted to the use of kerosene oil, to facilitate the matter. An explosion occurred, throwing the fluid over her person, which quickly ignited and enveloped her in flames. Before assistance could be rendered she was burned to death.

ACCIDENT:-On Saturday last a youth named Newton Robinson a connection of Mr. W. L. Hedges of this place, met with an accident by which he made a narrow escape from instant death. He had an old horse pistol, and was resting it upon his knee to discharge the load, when he pulled the trigger, the pistol rebounded, and struck his forehead, luckily for him, merely tearing the skin. This should be a warning to boys against handling fire-arms.

WOOD'S MEETING .- We understand that the woods meeting held near Rippon on Sabbath last, under the direction of the Methodist Protestant Church, was largely attended and good order prevailed. Rev. Mr. Nickols occupied the pulpit in the morning, and Rev. Mr. McFaden in the afternoon.

Picnic.-The Sabbath School connected with the M. E. Church South, of this place, have resolved to hold a pienic, and have appointed a committee of arrangements to select the time and place for holding the same, &c. It will probably take place the latter part of August.

Notice.-We are requested by the operator at this point, to state that telegraphic communication with Baltimore is open, and persons wishing to hear from friends there, can do so in a few hours in this way.

Weep, friendless women, weep!

For the golden days of yore— For the desolate homes, the aching hearts; The loved ones are no more. Bravely they fought and well, That noble hero band;

Bravely they fought, and bravely died!
To save their suffering land. Our Southern soil is red With the blood of many slain;

Like sacrificial wine it fell, But the sacrifice was vain Peace dawns upon our land, O. God, that this should be That Peace should smile o'er Freedom's grave And we that smile should see.

Let Southern men now take A long farewell of fame-Let Southern men bow meekly down" To tyranny and shame! Great God! that such should live

To hail the fatal hour, That crushes Freedom to the dust, 'Neath Northern hate and power But many a patriot heart
Yet thrills to the war god's breath;
And many still would battle on

For Freedom to the death! Weep! weep! but not for them, The martyrs 'neath the sod, For they eternal peace have found Around the throne of God ! Peace!-Peace!-'tis but a word-

THOMAS J BOYDTON, M. D.

- BALTIMORE, Feb. 10th, 1869. Dr. J. J. Lawrence. Dear Sir-I take pleasure in recommending your ROSADALIS as a pow-rful alterative. I have seen it used in two cases with happy results—one a case of secondary syphilis, in which the patient pro-nounced himself cured after having taken five bottles of your medicine: The other a case of scrofula, of long standing, which is rapidly improving under its use, and the indications are that the patient will suon recover. I have carefully examined the for-mula by which your Rosadalis is made, and find it an excellent compound of alterative ingredients.

Yours truly, 3- We know Dr. Lawrence's Rosadalis to be safe and reliable Alterative, &c .. and take pleasure in recommending it to the profession and the public L. A. STITH, M. D. J. H. WINSTEAD, M. D. R G. BARHAM, M. D.

ROSADALIS WILL CURE THE WORST CASES OF SCROFULA. BEAD THE STATEMENT BELOW AND DESPAIR NOT. WILSON COUNTY, Sept. 10, 1867;

Dear Sir: My youngest daughter, aged five years has been dreadfully afflicted with Scrofula nearly all her life. I tried a great many physicians, but without relieving her much; in fact, n ost of them said there was no hope of cure. During the last spring she was worse than ever, her body and limbs being covered with sores and brotches-with fac and eyes badly ulcerated and swollen. Whilst in this condition, I was advised by Dr. L. A Stith to try your Rosadalis. I at once procured three bot-tles, and commenced giving it to her. The effect was magical. In less than a month, to my great astonishment, she was entirely well. I am yours,

With much respect and gratitude, W. W. BURNETT. ROSADALIS CURES ALL SKIN DISEASES. Wilson, N. C., September 15, 1867. Dr. Lawrence-Dear Sir-In 1862, my son, now aged five years, was vaccinated with what proved to be impure matter, which completely destroyed his health. He has been afflicted with an inveterate and extremely troublesome Eruption of the Skin, sometimes breaking out in sores, &c. Rosadalis was prescribed by my family physician, Dr. A. D Moore. After taking it a few weeks my son became and remains entirely well.

PORTSMOUTH, Va, February 25th, 1869. Captain J H Baker:
Dear Sir—This is to certify that I have been af flicted with Rheumatism for the last five or six years, many times unable to move. I tried all medicines recommended to me for the dise out receiving any benefit. Having heard Rosadalis highly spoken of, I procured a bottle, and finding some relief, continued it until I am happy to say that I am completely well.

I not only consider the Rosadalis a sovereign remedy for Rheumatism, but I believe it also a preventive, and cheerfully recommend it to the afflicted.

Yours very truly, JAMES WEBB. WILSON January 7, 1868.
I hereby certify that I have used Dr. Lawrence's justly celebrated Rosadalis in my family as a general Alterative and Tonic, with the most satisfactory results, and I therefore conscientiously recom-mend it to the public as a Medicine of rare and lar preparations.
