MEETING OF THE COUNTY EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

The Democratic Conservative County Executive Committee, will meet at ENTLE'S HOTEL, in Shepherdstown, on MONDAY NEXT, the 21st instant. Every member is requested to be present, as business of importance will be transacted.

G. M. BELTZHOVER, Chm'n. E. W. WILSON, Sec'y.

LOOK TO IT!

UNREGISTERED VOTERS, look to your interests and demand your rights! MONDAY NEXT is the day for the meeting of the Board of Registration. Let every man who has been prevented from registering in his township, present himself to that Board, and demand that his name be placed on the list of voters. A steady pluck together now, and the prize is secured. Victory is within your reach—fail not to grasp it. Go to Shepherdstown, on Monday the 21st of September, and register your names. It is the last time you will have to submit to such tyranny.

THE BOARD OF REGISTRATION.

It is now claimed by the Board of Registration for this county, that the reason why no registration of the voters of Charlestown township was had on Monday last, was because George W. Anderson, who had been appointed Registrar, had failed to notify them that he would not serve. Is this true? Mr. Anderson, on the contrary, was informed, asserts that upon his being notified of his appointment by the Board, he immediately addressed a letter to them, stating that he would not, and could not be induced to serve in that capacity, and not content with this, asked a friend to say to the Board, "that there was not money enough in Shepherdstown to buy him to fill this office again."

Did the Board receive that letter, or message? It looks as if they did. Why? Because on Monday last, the day appointed by the law for the Registrar to say many persons want to Mr. Anderson's house to register, and were informed by him that he had long since declined to serve, and that no book had been sent to him by the Board. This is the 4th section of the act of 1867 which says, "that the Board do, if it be made known that he had declined, why were not the books sent to him?"

Again, more than two weeks ago, Mr. Jonathan Hines with others wrote a letter to Mr. George K. Rice, one of the Board, in which they apprised him of the fact of Anderson's resignation, and petitioned for the appointment of Mr. Hines, or some other loyal man, in Anderson's place. This letter Mr. K. Rice received at the hands of Mr. Thomas H. Trail, of Harper's Ferry. No response was made by Mr. K. Rice to that letter. Subsequently, on Tuesday last, Mr. Hines again, in person, approached Mr. K. Rice, and at that time, he stated he would examine the law, and if the appointment could legally be made, it should be done.

Not only did Mr. K. Rice have notice of Anderson's resignation, but Capt. Grubb also told a gentleman (whose name we do not use because we have no authority from him to do so) that he knew of Anderson's resignation. The fact of his resignation was made known to him, Grubb, some three weeks since.

Take these facts together, there can be no earthly doubt that this whole thing is a concerted scheme to cheat the people out of their right of franchise. Look at it in connection with the acts of the Boards of Registration in the Greenbrier District, where we learn, no township registers have been appointed, and the infernal plot is laid bare. Which of these two parties tells the truth? Who has perpetrated this foul wrong upon the loyal people of this township? Let us have an answer such as will satisfy the people. As long as these infamous acts are in force, let registrar and voter carry them out to the letter. Let there be no juggling; no attempts to evade the law. The radical party has made these laws—they must stand by them—they must act faithfully—act without prejudice; or, as no appeal lies to any Court in this State from their decisions, or acts, the people will rise in their majesty and sweep them down, if necessary, that sacred principle of the foundation of all representative government, and declared in the Constitution itself, "the powers of government reside in all the citizens of the State, and can be rightfully exercised only in concordance with their will and appointment. It is not too late to correct this evil. A new registrar can yet be appointed. There is a vacancy; let the Board make another appointment at once. By the act passed July 26th, 1868, the (the Registrar) shall upon application register the name of any qualified voter, at any time before returning his register to the clerk of the Board of Registration." And this the Registrar need not do until the 3d Monday in September, so he can register any qualified voter from the 1st to the 3d Monday of this month. Vide Act July 23th, 1868.

But it may be said the Board, after the 1st Monday, cannot supply a vacancy. This is not so. Suppose a registrar has accepted and before the 3d Monday, dies—say on the 1st Monday, dies—is the township, by this violation of God, to lose the right to have its qualified voters registered? Certainly not. That act creates a vacancy. That vacancy, by the terms of the law, may be filled by the Board. Vide section 3d, Act of 1867.

Let the vacancy which now exists be filled. If this is not done without unnecessary delay, the people will then know upon whose shoulders the failure falls. They are willing to abide by the law as long as it is in force, but they demand that those who are appointed to execute it shall adhere to its letter and spirit.

Justice must be had, or let the guilty wretch, who dares to place himself between the citizen and his birthright, beware.

WHAT ARE WE DOING?

We mean what efforts are we putting forth to rescue this county and State from the vile curse of radicalism? We complain of the tyranny that oppresses us, and sometimes almost swear that we will no longer tolerate it, and yet we end in sound and fury, and permit the most shameful outrages. We have speeches made in our midst to stir up the people, and we get them to that point where they are ready to demand their rights, and then for want of concert and directness of aim, we drop back to the starting point. Like the tide in the well, we climb three feet in the day, and slide back three at night—and that is the sort of progress we are making in ridding ourselves of the yoke that a few miserable, unprincipled men have fastened upon our necks. We have had two county conventions during the past summer, in both of which there were bold, defiant speeches made, and bold and defiant resolutions adopted. Individually, we rejoiced at the outspoken expressions of what we took to be the popular will. It thought, that it meant something, and that we were about to see radicalism annihilated—wiped out of existence, so far as our own gallant little county is concerned. Having fought the tax gatherers and money-changers for nearly three years, almost single-handed and alone, and having incurred the unrighteous hate of all the thieves who were preying upon the vitals of the people, riotously wasting their substance, we felt, when these conventions adjourned, that our labor had not been in vain, and that henceforth we were to have the assistance of a trained band of veterans to fight for the overthrow of mongrelism and the restoration of the principles of the constitution.

By way of perfecting our organization, and drilling the conservative forces for the grand contest upon which they were entering, a County Executive Committee was appointed at the first convention held in July. Upon this committee was to devolve the work of mapping out and conducting the campaign in the county. Seven gentlemen composed that committee—one from each township. For information, we make the inquiry, is that committee still in existence? If it is in existence, what has it done, and what is it doing? Does its chairman, or any one of its members, know anything of the condition of the party in the county? Now, we have no desire to find fault with those whom we regard as friends and allies, but have you, gentlemen of the Executive Committee, been doing your duty? Have you made any effort to concentrate the strength of the party in the county, and to have it registered and brought to the polls? More than two months have passed, since you received your appointments in county convention, and if you have done anything we have never heard of it. Only a little over one month is left between this and the day for holding the State election, and if you intend to do anything, you ought to be about it. You have been sleeping long enough, while the temple of liberty is crumbling around you. You may not realize it now, but when the enemy has you bound hand and foot, you will awake to the truth that you have neglected the golden opportunity, and have riveted the chains that bind a people who pant to be free. In our own township—persecuted and spit upon as her people have been, since the transfer of this county to West Virginia, by former Boards of Registration—the crowning act of infamy and outrage has been reserved to the present year. Heretofore, those who could comply with the severe requirements of the registration law, had their names placed upon the list of voters, even if they were stricken off by an irresponsible Board; but this year, they are denied even that poor privilege, and are left without a township registrar. Ought not the Executive committee have prepared for such an emergency? They knew the foe they had to deal with, and they knew that every species of petty meanness would be resorted to, to retain control here. And yet they did nothing to thwart the machinations of Doremans's pimps, but left them free to pursue the course which their own evil inclinations prompted.

By this very inaction, not less than fifty voters are likely to be lost to the Conservative ticket in this county. Can we afford to throw away that number of votes in such a crisis? We cannot, and we appeal to the committee to go to work, and get these voters to visit Shepherdstown on Monday next, where in a body they may confront the Board of Registration that has thus tampered with their liberties. In the name of all that is just and right appeal to the Board of Registration, and if your appeal is disregarded, then demand that these freemen be enfranchised, and then if you are denied, let this Board of Registration know that in their persons they will be held accountable for this outrage. Stand by the law as long as they are willing to act under the law, and when they violate the law for party purposes, make them feel that there is a power behind the throne greater than the throne itself.

Since writing the foregoing, the Chairman of the Committee has sent us a call for a meeting, which we publish elsewhere.

CALL ON HIM!

Thursday, Friday and Saturday, of the present week are the days set apart by Joe Chapline, to refund to the people of this county, the tax unlawfully extorted from them, under an erroneous assessment, in the year 1865. By appointment from his majesty, King Boreman, Chapline is invested with the handling of this fund, and for his services, is to receive a 7 per cent commission. The balance, the tax payer may receive if he looks after it at the proper time. We say may receive, for while the collection of taxes is always certain, the refunding of taxes is a doubtful matter, particularly when the money has to come through such a channel. In the return of this fund, we have another very striking example of the beauties of radical rule. The two counties of Berkeley and Jefferson, are made to pay into the treasury of the United States, the sum of $27,080. After the money is paid in, it is discovered that instead of these counties belonging to Virginia upon whom the assessment is laid, they are a portion of that island of revolution, West Virginia. With a certain show of liberality, the Federal government pays back to the new State the money taken from the people of two of her counties. As this money belonged to the people, a proposition is made to pay it back to the people. Boreman, the Governor, glad of the opportunity, to reward a faithful boot-lick, appoints Joe Chapline commissioner to disburse the fund, and as a remuneration for his services he is allowed to charge a commission of 7 per cent. In this little transaction, the commissioner nets the sum of $1,895.60, which the people pay as a bonus for being illegally assessed. Then they are kept out of their money for three years. The interest on $27,000, for three years is $4,860. Add this to Chapline's commissions, and you have in round numbers the sum of $6,755.60, which the people of Berkeley and Jefferson pay for radical government, and for which no earthly benefit is derived. Robbed in the first place of $27,000, on which they lose the interest for three years, they are kept to pay a bonus of nearly two thousand dollars to get back that which was unlawfully extorted from them. If Joe Chapline had a conscience, he would buy a rope with a portion of his commissions, and hang himself on it, the most convenient tree, but we presume he is not ambitious to anticipate the executioner, who will in due time swing him from a platform. Call on him, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, at Shepherdstown, and get your money, less 7 per cent.

P. S.—Just what we feared. Since the above was put in type, we have received the Shepherdstown Register, which contains the following suspicious paragraph:

"The refunding of the direct taxes, paid by the people of Jefferson and Berkeley, as advertised by J. A. Chapline, Esq., has been postponed at the request of many, until after the meeting of the next Legislature, in the hopes that some provision may be made for refunding also the interest that has accumulated, amounting to $6,000.

Our people thought from the published notice of the commissioner, that there was a chance for the refunding of the money above referred to, but this paragraph will throw a damper over their expectations. Better see or, all may go together.

We learn that a petition, signed by many of those interested, has been sent to Boreman, praying that he intercede to prevent the proposed postponement, but we have no idea that he will give it any attention.

EDITORIAL BREVITIES.

The Democrats of New York have nominated, as their candidate for Governor, Hon. John T. Hoffman, at present mayor of New York city. Mr. Hoffman is universally conceded to be one of the most popular and rising statesmen in the country. The New York Times (Radical) admits that he is unquestionably the strongest man the Democracy could present. His personal popularity is attested by the overwhelming majority by which he was re-elected Mayor last year, and there is no doubt he will be triumphantly carried into the gubernatorial office. The candidate for Lieutenant Governor, Allen C. Beach, is also an active, zealous Democrat, a man of decided ability, and his nomination will add no inconsiderable strength to the ticket. With Gov. Seymour at the head of the National ticket, and such eminent names as Hoffman and Beach for the leading positions in the State Government, New York is assured to the Democracy by an immense majority.

Mr. George H. Pediton's speeches since the Presidential canvass commenced, have given him a higher reputation as an able public man than he ever had before. The Richmond Enquirer does him justice when it says that his speeches in Maine, Connecticut and West Virginia, "are models of capital electioneering address—free from vituperation, slang and clap trap, and instinct with stubborn facts and irrefragable logic. We are reminded in reading them of the mature efforts of Clay, with their ardent patriotism, stirring appeals and strenuous demolition of adversaries."

Both of the political parties claim Pennsylvania. The radicals claim it by from 10,000 to 15,000, while the Democrats claim it by from 7,000 to 10,000. We shall be satisfied if the latter carry it by one thousand, but hope for many thousands. The Philadelphia Age gives us the most cheering signs. "If says that sterling paper our friends abroad desire to know how matters stand in the Keystone State, we say to them, all is well. Judging from the present state of feeling, Seymour and Blair will carry the State by such a majority as will bury Radicalism forever in the Keystone Commonwealth."

A BANK IN CHARLESTOWN.

The subject of a bank for this place was one agitated by our capitalists upon after the close of the war, and has continued to attract attention more or less ever since. It was thought, as one time, that the establishment of such an institution was about to be effected, but for some unexplained reason, the matter was postponed, until, through long delay, banking facilities were sought elsewhere by those in need of them. Our more enterprising neighbors at Martinsburg and Winchester seized upon the opportunity which was left, secured bank charters and are to day sustained, in part, by capital furnished by the business men of Charlestown, who have been compelled to resort to them or the banks in Baltimore, in the absence of accommodations which ought, long since, to have been afforded them at home.

The effect of this drain upon the capital of our community is, of course, to make money scarce and rates for loans high. The opposite would be the condition of things were a bank put in successful operation in our midst. In that case an accumulation instead of a dispersion of money would be the tendency, and rates of loans would be correspondingly low.

There is also to be added to these advantages, a more convenient system of collection than is at present enjoyed by us. We venture to say that there is no one who has been engaged in business here, however limited it may be, who has not felt the want of a punctual, reliable collecting agent, such as a bank well organized and properly conducted always becomes. Sums for transmissions or checks on distant banks for collection are daily, and at considerable expense, entrusted to the express company, which, whilst it may afford all the facilities in its power, can never be a substitute for the easy and less expensive mode of collection and exchange provided by a bank.

Before the war a bank was located at this place, and was felt and proven to be a necessity; and we believe nowhere in the State was there a more flourishing and successful institution of the kind, than the branch Bank of the Valley at Charlestown.

If with a smaller population and less business, a bank was needed and enabled profitably to maintain itself before the war, it requires no long process of reasoning to show the necessity for one now, and that capital invested for that purpose would yield a handsome return.

We are, then, glad to learn that some gentleman of energy, capacity and means, are about to make an effort to supply the great desideratum to which we have referred. We hope that the effort will meet with propitious encouragement from all who are able to aid the undertaking, and that our citizens will be in full possession of the benefits accruing from it, before the beginning of the next year.

THE MAINE ELECTION.

Yesterday was the day for the annual election in the State of Maine. The result will doubtless disappoint such of the Democracy as are looking only to the vote of last year, when the radicals had a majority of 11,000. We can scarcely expect to see that majority reduced. Indeed if the Democracy do not allow it to go beyond that, they have done nobly. There were side issues in Maine last year, which were not before the people yesterday—a liquor and constabulary law which kept many republicans from the polls, and the whole vote polled was 8,000 less than the year before, and in 1864.

The average radical majority in Maine for four years past has been between twenty and twenty-one thousand, and has exceeded that figure whenever the party has polled its full vote. Hence all calculations of the result of yesterday's election, that are based upon a smaller majority than this (such as that of last year) are worthless. The true basis for computation is a previous radical majority of over 20,000, and by as many votes as this is reduced, is the Democratic gain to be measured. The largest vote polled by the State since that of 1864, was cast in 1866, when the radicals obtained a majority of 29,600.

A SPUNKY THIEF.

J. A.—which means Jack Ass—Vanmetre, publishes a card in the last Berkeley Union, in which he refers to the Spirit:

"I care nothing for the rebel editor in Jefferson, but if I had a horse or anything to be stolen, I should want it kept dark when he was around."

Now, this Mr. Vanmetre, who is a sneak, a radical, and a thief himself, is disposed to measure others by his own standard of dishonesty. The private walks of life not furnishing a field sufficiently wide for his thriving propensities, he aspires to the Sheriffship of Berkeley county, where he hopes the rich pasturage of public plunder will satisfy his desire to acquire that which is not his own, as he has barely sense enough to know from experience, that the Courts are very lenient with radical thieves. The bronziness with which he seeks, in his "notices," to confound the lands of others, to make roads for his own convenience, attests his propensity for high-way robbery; which we have no doubt he would have kept in the dark, and would pursue in the dark, if it were not that rebel editors are found to expose his meanness and ignorance. Apart from his stupidity, he is a dirty whelp, and would not be tolerated, except in a community of reprobates, as a mean as himself.

Maryland Nominations.

Governor Swann was unanimously nominated in convention on Thursday as the Democratic candidate for the Third Congressional District of Maryland, composed of thirteen wards of the city of Baltimore.

Hon. Frederick Stone was re-nominated at Elliott City on the same day, as the Democratic candidate from the Fifth Congressional District of Maryland.

In the Second District, Stevenson Archer was nominated, by the Democrats, but the discussions are such as will probably lead to the election of a Republican. There were 84 ballots in the Fourth District Convention on the same day, but no nomination.

THE BAYONET CANDIDATE.

General Garfield, of Ohio, now a member of Congress, recently a military hero, and formerly a professor minister of the gospel of peace, has been interpreting Grant's exclamation, "let us have peace." He made a speech the other day in which he said that was the intention of General Grant, if elected, and of the Radical majority in Congress to rule the country by the help of "a little triangular piece of steel, called a bayonet."

We believe Mr. Garfield. We have no doubt he spoke out the real intention and fixed design of his party. Should Grant be elected we expect to see the bayonet made the ruling power in the United States. That all opposition to the Radical policy will be confronted by military force we regard as certain.

If the people have any regard for the form of government bequeathed to them by their fathers, if they would see their republican institutions preserved, if they would preserve their liberties, if they would avoid despotism, if they would not have a monarchy established in this country, they must vote for Seymour.

If they desire to see the government administered by "a little triangular piece of steel, called a bayonet" let them vote for Grant. He is the bayonet candidate.

Spirit of the Northern Press.

The New York Herald, independent, speculates as to the prospect in Maine. It says one of the good points in the conduct of the canvass is that the Democratic orators discuss things which Maine men rather than only talk about. They talk about ships, and that strikes home. Such has been the effect of this Democratic campaigning that it seems quite possible Maine may change her vote, and not only put her Republican majorities out of sight, but give a very respectable figure in favor of the Democracy.

There is no company in the country that does not equally denounce as intolerable the burdens that Radical fury, folly, blundering and corruption have put upon the people. Upon what can the Radicals count if Maine goes against them? They may get Massachusetts and South Carolina.

It does not attach much importance to the result of the Vermont election, and thinks it proper to await the result of the election in Maine, where the chief issues of the Presidential campaign have been discussed by the champions of both parties, before a safe judgment can be formed of the tendency of the popular vote in New England. It is in the pertinence of the heads of the voters of John Wager, deceased, and lot No. 5, lying and being on the corner of Potomac and Shenandoah streets in said town, and the lot No. 6, lying and
