The Vagaries of an American Citizen African Descent.

An old crazy negró has been prowling around in the neighborhood of the Manslick road. southwest of the city, for the past six weeks. He claims to be a minister of the gospel and a favored prophet of the Lord. When he first made his appearance he told his hearers that he had a special c muission from Heaven to find Jesus, who, he said, was now on earth. He has been living in the woods, subsisting on a diet of whiskey and barbacued spring chickens, without manna, and anxiously praying for the power to work a fuiracle similar to the one recorded of the "loaves and fi-hes," only on a more extensive scale. He admonished his colored hearers of the wrath for the Mormon sin so much in vogue among the darkiest. The idea of a plurality of wives or husbands was repulsive to him in the extreme. He said one wife was enough, and that the one chosen in slavery should be the only one in freedom. When he saw one or more persons coming down the road, he would mount a stump and bang away with his orthodox artillery as long as the sable sinners were in sight, and when they had gone, he would cease to uncork his vials of wrath and proceed to unstrap a vessel that confained something else. While in the heat of one of his masterly fulminations the other day, before a multitude of three. he suddenly stopped and with great carnestnoss, told his hearers, that he had found Jesus. I wish those gentlemen who have the ruling of and a person, whom he gave this fitte, was | things in general would have the kindness a mean and worthless scamp that his deciples fell from grace, denied their master, and said, "dat old fool nigger was no prophet-to himself or anybody else." A Murderer Pursued by his Victim's Ghost.

Shameful Public Exhibition. A very exciting scene occurred in a Phil ndelphia theatre a few evenings since, during the flying trapeze performance of two artists announced on the bills as Lilla and Zoe. One of their feats consists in Lilla, a full-grown oung woman, swinging herself from a platform erected in front of the gallery, entirely across the auditorium, until she touches with her feet a trapeze that hangs at considerable altitude over the orchestra. Segaring herself on this trapeze with her feet, her body swings downwards, and she remains in that position while Zoe, a child of 11 years of age, mounts the platform in the gallery, and seizing two iron rings throws herself off, and darts towards Lilla, and when near ng her the child throws a somersault in mid-sir, and her only chance from being crushed to death by falling from the dizzy height among the audience in the parquet, is being caught by Lilla, who hangs with her head downwards from the trapeze .-Certain death would be the result of the slightest mistake made by either of the performers. her teens, and an ornhan, she was engaged to ow's estates were secured to her in perpetui-On Saturday evening. A Deserted Wife Proposes a New Code for Mothers-in-Law.

Yesterday a Mrs. Annie Osborn appeared in the city of Albany in search of a runaway husband, who, according to her story, had eloped with or been stolen by his own mother. It seems that Mrs. Osborn senior and Mrs. Osboru junior, could not dwell together in unity and love under the same vine and fig tree, and the former having more influence over the mind of the son and husband than the latter had, to him under her apron-strings and ran of with him. Annie, the the deserted wife and affectionate daughterin-law, thereupon publishes the following card to the public, is which she shows that she is a woman of vam, and no mistake ! When to Buy a Farm. Very few persons seem to know that the months of June and July are the best in the year in which to look for or purchase a farm. At this season one can judge whether the land can or does produce good crops, for if it is rich, the waving grass and grain will be an occular demonstration of the fact; and if there is, according to the stereotyped assertion, an abundance of choice fruit, it can be seen at this time to the best advantage. The low lands will show whether they wee-really dry enough for pastures in the summer, and the upland in capacity for withstanding a drouth. It there are any mosquitoes about, they will generally make their appearance known at this time if ever, and by observing the children in the neighborhood one can determine whether the locality is healthy or otherwise. Summer is also a good time to view the never failing spring and the trout pond near by, and a draught from the one and a lunch from the other are attractions which those who possess them seldom fail to besto # upon those who are to become a purchaser .-Even the weeds on a farm will assist a man in determining its value, for if nothing but stunt ed ragweed and a five-finger are to be seen, then the land may be set down as poor indeed; but if burdock and carnip abound, it shows strength for crops of a higher order.

The pasture and meadow, orchard and garden, all show what there are and what may the roads are muddy if ever; and the distance from the tarm to the railroad station appears Iresh and the landscape glowing with aurum nal tints; but the valuable product of a farm, which are its products, are mainly out of sights, being stored in the base or the proprietor', pocket.

How to TREAT HE BE OF A Dog -Dr. Stephen Ware of Bost, he his testi mony of a recent case which grew out of the injuries from the bite of a dog turnished the following valuable advice in In the case of a bite by a dog, where the teeth of the animal penetrated the flesh, whether the dog was known to be mad or not he should use the same precautions. He would wash the wound with warm water, extract all the virus possible by sucking the wound with his lips, and then cauterize it deeply with the caustic most readily obtained, but should use potash if it could be procured at once. The time in which the effects of the bite of a mad dog would be seen, varied from two to three days to as many years, but if no effects were after two or three months, as a general thing the patient might consider himself safe. Bites made through clothing are seldom productive of much harm, as even if the dog is mad the clothing absorbs the virus before the teeth reach the flesh. Most all the fatal cases are where the person was bitten on some naked

POSTICAL AN OFFERING WHERE MOST DUE.

BY LORD STRATFORD DE RADCLIPPE, Great Cause! whence first our being came; Creator, Saviour. Judge of all! Phrough endless ages still the same; Eternal King, on thee we call.

hough mortal eye can ne'er behold,
Nor brain of man thy form conceive,
That thou art good thy works unfold;
The rest to faith and hope we leave. While here we breathe, ter thousand forms

Of grace and radiance charm our eyes; But heaven's fair vault is swept by storms, And usture fades and beauty dies. For one brief burning hour of youth,
In life, in lave, in joy, we trust;
Another tells the o'crwhelming truth,
T at all we dont on is but dust.

Thou only, whose Almighty will Drew man from earth and worlds from naught, Canst bid the expiring heart be still. ' And fix on heaven the sinking thought. Then, Lerd, on thee, no more to range,
Our hearts in trembling faith rely;
Assured, though all but thou must change,
That we, though changed, shall never die.

SATURDAY NIGHT. Chafed and worn with worldly care; Sweetly, Lord, my heart prepare; Bid this inward tempest cease; Jesus, come, and whisper peace! Hush the whirlwind of my will; Wish Thyself my spirit fill; End in calm this busy week, Let the Sabbath gently break!

Sever, Lord, these earthly ties; Fain my soul to Thee would rise; Discutangle me from time; Lift me to a purer clime; Let me cast my load :-Let me now draw nigh to God, Gently, loving Jesus, speak; End in calm this busy week. Draw the curtain of repose.

While my weary eyelids close;
Steal my spirit while I rest;
Give me dreamings pure and blest!
Raise me with a cheerful heart;
Holy Ghost, Thyse'f impart!

Our Summer Birds.

The summer brought with it many sweet singers; the hedges, clover fields, orchards and meadows are full of them. Yellow birds. brown birds, "phebes," and wrens flit from tree to shrub, from bush to tree, and rest upon the slender reeds and tall grasses that droop and bend under their beautiful burden. Red-breasted robius live in the apple trees, and little brown "chirpers" nestle confidingly in the vines that everhang the doors. Swallows fly around the old barn roof, and steadily martins look soberly out from their little wooden homes. As if wild with summer by, they pour forth their melody in rich and frequent singing, pausing, meanwhile, to listen for the sweet answers that are sure to come from the (wilight depths of the overlooking mountain) woods. And so, through all the sunny hours, do they fill the air with rapturous music from ! day dawn until the night falls, and they hush their songs, and fold their wings away to rest. Then out comes the lone whippoorwill, and voices his sadness to the twilight hour .-Above the water's murmurings, and the far off dreamy sounds of evening; rings that sweetand laintive music, and while listening we remember how in days of buildhow we warched the pale momberms resting on the chamber floor, and listened to that lonely song. We remember too, how often our child feet wandered to the mossy rock + by "the spring." and how we longered in the grassy lane, and sat under the old ouk tree, and we wonder if the sun shines, and the winds blow, and the fleecy clouds drift there as of old.' Ah, that happy childhood! Between it and us surge the crowded years of life, and they are bearing us further and further away, yet how often de we look back to its innocent unconscious ness of all that is dark and sorrowful in the world, and wish it were ours again! But we are near forgetting our summer birds. Blessings be on them! The flowers awake, and nature puts on her best apparel for their coming, but the flowers will be dead and the trees will throw down their leaves, and sigh mournfully at their leaving. We, too, shall be sorry .- Carlisle Wolunteer .-

A Touching Story.

The Hon. A. H. Stephens, of Georgia, in recent address, at a meeting at Alexandria; for the benefit of the Orphans Asylum and free Sel ool of that city, related the following

"A poor little boy on a cold night, with no home nor roof to shelter his head, no paternal or maternal guardian or guide to protect or direct him on his way; reached at nightfall the home of a wealthy planter, who took him fed and lodged him, and sent him on his way, with a blessing. These kind attentions cheered his heart and inspired him with fresh courage to battle with the obstacles of life. Years rolled round; Providence led him on, and he reached the legal profession. His host had died, the cormorants that prey on the substance of man had formed a conspiracy to get from the widow her estate. She sent for the nearest counsel to commit her cause to him, and that counsel proved to be the orphan boy long before welcomed and entertained by her deceased husband. The stimulous of a warm and tenacious gratitude was added to the ordinary motive connected with the profession. He undertook her cause with a will see, named Rehecca Freeman. While yet in not easy to be resisted, he gained it ; the widphasis of emotion that sent an electric thrill throughout the house, "That boy stands be-

Analyzing a Woman.

A celebrated Parisian belle, who had acquired the habit of whitewashing herself-so to speak -from the soles of her feet to the roots of her hair, with chemically prepared cosmetics, one day took a medical bath, and on-emerging from it was florrified at finding herself as black as an Ethiopian. .. The transformation was complete. Not a vestige of the supreme Cancasian race, was left. Herhysician was sent for in alarm and haste. On his arrival be laughed immoderately, and said : "Madanie, you are not ill ; you are no longer a woman, but a sulphuret. It is not now a question of medical treatment, but of simple chemical action. I shall analyze you. Come. I shall submit you' to a bath of sulphuric seid diluted with water. The seid will have the honor of combining with you; it will take up the sulphur, the metal will produce a sulphate, and we shall find as a precipitate a very pretty woman." - The goodnatured physician went-through with his analysis, and the belle was restored to her memership with the white race. Young ladies who are ambitious of snowy complexions should remember this, and be careful what powder and cosmetics they use if they use ?

THE VIRGINIA ELECTION.

To-day the contest closes in Virginia, after a short but most vigorous campaign, and before this is read by many of our readers, the Issue will have been decided. The conservatives, under the leadership of Col. Walker, seem to have strong faith in their ability to carry the State, including the Legislature, and the defeat of the more objectionable features of the Underwood Constitution. How much better will then be the condition of the State, must remain a question for the decision

RADICAL LOVE FOR SOLDIERS. The following resolution was passed at an

"That we here and now enter our most solemn protest against this action of ill-advised party leaders, who fail to respect the sentiments of our people on this subject; and we denounce the suspension and removal of Mrs Hood from the Post Office as an act of gross injustice, and an outrage upon the rights of the widow and her fatherless children who relied upon this office for their self-support ; and we further declare it a direct violation both in letter and spirit of the oft repeated resolutions and pledges of our Union Republican party to protect, defend and provide for take notice, and address Anna at once. our soldiers, their widows and orphans."

[Special Dispatch to the Baltimore Sun.] From Washington,

Arrival of Ex President Johnson in Washington-His Opinion of General Grant and the Administration.

WASHINGTON, June 27. Ex-President Johnson arrived in this city to-night, accompanied by Col. John Williams of Tennessee. The object of his visit is to attend to private business, and to be present at the commencement of the Georgetown College on Thursday next, his son being a pupil at that institution. Your correspondent sought an interview with the ex-President and found him in good health and spirits, and willing, as usual, to converse upon political and other topics. He still feels very bitterly towards President Grant. When asked his opinion of the President and his administration he replied very frankly and freely, "You know what my opinion was in the past, and I have seen nothing in the conduct of the administration to induce me to change that opinion." He then spoke of the President in the most contempt yous terms, characterizing him as a nonentity as wanting in physical and intellectual power, and declared that he was a man without creed or a policy, and therefore not to be trusted. He reviewed some of the past acts of his own administration, especially those with which Gen. Grant, as a cabinet officer, was connected. He said he knew Grant thoroughly, and had on more than one occasion read him through and through, and was sat-

bers from whom the President had been the recipient of presents. He thought it a most humiliating spectacle that the President of the United States should permit himself to be placed under obligations to his constitutional advisors. He took a most discouraging view of public affairs generally, and entertained the most seflous apprehensions of the result.

Round the World.

Since the completion of the Pacific Rail road a traveller can go around the world by am in eighty days-the estimate, allowing for the ordinary delays of travel. There is only one steam break in the transit of a hundred miles -that between Allahabad and Bombay, in India, over which a railroad is now. being constructed. The particulars of this marvellous trip are condensed into tabular form for the New York World as follows: :

New York to San Francisco (rail) San Francisco to Yokohama (Steamship) 21 Yokohama to Hong Kong (steamship) Hong Kong to Calcutta (steamship) *Calcutta to Bombay (rail) Bombay to Cairo (steamship and rail) Cairo to Paris (steamship and rail)

THE GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC -The New York Tribune, the mouth piece of all radical mongrel mischief, takes the Grand Army of the Republic severely to task, and appears disposed to visit all the short comings of the Grant administration upon its head and front. That paper says: "We denounce this new secret association, as out of sympathy with the true Republican party, and as inimical to the Constitution of the Union. It will be a sad day for our party when soldiers find no better work than to prowl over the battle-fields of the past, and dig up the bodies of the slain. The country wants peace, and rest, and harmony, and justice. These men want a distracted country; that offices may be gained."

MINNESOTA MISCEGENATION.-Last year Minnesota voted to enfranchise the negroes. Since their enfranchisement the amiable colored folks in that State seem to have labored under the same delusion as their brethren elsewhere. Four horrible outrages lately committed in Minnesota by negroes upon white women, show the negro's opinion to be that, when he is enfranchised; white women have no rights that he is bound to respect. The Enquirer thinks that in these days of "necessary consequences" (vide Ohio Repub lican State Platform, 3d resolution,) such enterprising Ethiopians are entitled to the distinction of being styled the "pioncers of miscegenation"- after their fashion.

The Quakers who succeeded so well in rearing stupendous air-castles of benevolence for negroes, it seems, can do nothing in a practical way for the Indians. If the Indians were only negroes, the thees and thous would make prodigious efforts in their behalf.

[New York Correspondence Chicago Journal.] Reminiscences of the late Henry J. Raymond.

Mr. Raymond was what many of his contemporaries are not, a man of gentlemanly instincts and associations. He was always neat and tidy in his appearance, and endeavored to impart a gentlemanly air to the Times establishment and newspaper. The Times was the first of the New York papers to provide its editors with pleasant rooms in which to labor. While for years the attaches have had handsome carpeted spartments, those of the Tribune, across the way, have been huddled together like so many sheep in a pen. Mr. Raymond has always labored to keep his paper free from the hitter personal attacks which so often disgrace journalism. The Times has invariably been noted for the cour-teous manner in which it has conducted controversies. It has been of all other papers here the gentlemen's newspaper, and has been regarded as such. . A HARD WORKER.

Mr. Raymond, until within four or five years, was a prodigious worker. Horace Greeley us.'d to say that he was the only person he ever had to caution against overwork. He was, when a reporter, known as the smartest and most reliable reporter on the New York papers. By nature he was fitted for a journalist, entering with heart and soul into the excitement of daily newspaper life. He enjoyed nothing more than "beats" upon his contemporaries. I shall never forget the isfied that he is without substance or opinions twinkle in his eye and the look of pleasure which rested on his countenance when I came into the Times office, one morning in 1862, with the first intelligence of the los of Harper's Ferry, together with thirteen thousand men and some sixty canhon. I had managed to make my escape after the surrender under cover of darkness, and reached the Times office, dusty, seedy and worn out after walking all night and riding the next day. Mr. Raymond took me at once into his private parlor and there remained with me until a late hour in the night, after I had fluished writing the account of the operations at the Ferry. As he took up page after page of the manuscript, he seemed already to be enjoying the "beat" which the Times would show the next morning over its contemporaries in giving the first detailed account of the surrender. Frequently I saw him on the extreme front during the Virginia campaigns, seeking to obtain the first intelligence for his paper. Whenever he went down to the theater of operations he would buckle into work with his attaches and labor with them to get the latest news for his paper, Many reported feats of his are related. On one occasion before the use of the telegraph had become general, he reported one of Webster's speeches in New England and came back to New York the same night on an engine specially chartered for the purpose. But it was at the battle of Solferino that he partic ularly distinguished himself as an enterprising reporter. Riding from the battlefield as fast as his horses' legs could carry him he hastened to Paris, thence to England, and got off his very long and graphic account of the battle one week in advance of all competitors .-With his letter for the Times arrived the Louden papers; but they gave no details of the battle, the accounts of Ruscell and other English correspondents not appearing in the Times and other London papers until the next day after the steamer sailed. The New York Times' New York contemporaries were consequently compelled to rely upon Mr. Raymond's long letter for details. It furnished all the American newspapers with the facts of the battle, and made a decided reputation for the paper. Soon after, the Times announced in flaming placards that Mr. Raymond would continue to excel all other correspondents in the Crimea, but the war suddenly terminated and he returned.

> A WOMAN FALLS IN A WELL-HORRI-BLE DEATH .- A most distressing and horrible accident happened at the residence of Mr. Jesse H. Simpers, near Union Meetinghouse, Cecil county, on Saturday week. Miss Susan McDowell went to the well to draw a bucket of water, and while engaged in drawing the same fell into the well; and in the fall her head struck the stones, lacerating the scalp for three inches in a most shocking manner. Mrs. Simpers hearing an unusual noise at the well ran out, and, on finding her in the well, endeavored to encourage her to hold on to the chain, which she did for some time .-Mrs Simpers meanwhile trying to raise her by the windlass, but being in feeble health she soon become exhausted, and before the men could get to the house (attracted by the cries for help) life was extinct. The bride was dressed in a tasty gray colored dress, with hat, gloves and boorees to match: Gen. Tomb Thumb and wife were present, with other invited guests. The ceremony was performed by the paster of the church. Apropos to this occasion, it may be mentioned that in a communication to Packard's Monthly for July, P. T. Barnum says that Tom Thumb and Commodore Nutt were once rivals for Miss Minnie's affections. They become so jealous that a quarrel ensued in which Tom came off "second best." He was equally unfortunate with the lady, who was decided in her preference for the Commodore, and Tom finding his chances hopeless, took possession of her older sister as a

The occasion was the baptism of an infant of the rector, Dr. Ewer. The infant was then dipped in a similar manclergy all the while singing a chant. But few persons were present."

[From the New York Star, June 2] A Night of Horrors.

One of the most remarkable instances of restored animation which has ever taken place n this city occurred on Sunday night last in Varick street, near McDougal, the particulars of which are as follows:

An aged lady, named Rebecca Townsend who has been ailing for several weeks past expired, as was supposed, on Sunday morning last. That she really was dead no one who saw her for a moment hesitated to believe.— The set eyeballs, the rigid limbs and the apparent cessation of respiration, all pointed to he supposed fact that death had come to the relief of the invalid.

Accordingly, on Sunday the sorrowing ousehold, acting on this belief commenced making preparations for the burial of the body. A burnal permit was obtained, a coffin ordered and the remains washed and attired in the habiliments of the grave. Delay agising relative to the preparation of the coffin, the remains were temporarily laid out upon the bed in which the old lady was supposed to have died, and the services of a watcher (a young temale residing in a neighboring house) were secured to attend the body during Sunday night. About 11 o'clock, on Sunday evening, the members of the household retired, leaving the watcher alone to her disagreeable task. As the young lady states, she became drowsy about 2 o'clock in the morning, and ensconcing herself in an arm chair, a short distance from the corpse, soon fell into a doze. She had slept above an hour, when she was awakened by a low moaning sound, which apparently issued from the couch upon which ay the supposed corpse. Startled by the strange noise, the watcher immediately sprang from her chair and approached the bed for the purpose of ascertaining the cause of the mysterious sounds. At this moment the noise suddenly ceased. There lay the corpse just as the watcher had left it one hour before, the eyes still set as in death, the limbs still rigid, and not a sign of life visible. Believing the sounds which she fancied she had heard were but fancies conjured up by a mind excited by the ancomfortable position in which she was placed, the watcher returned to her seat and resumed her nap. She had not remained in this condition more than half an hour, when she was again aroused by sounds similar to those which had previously alarmed her. Again she sprang from her ehair and approached the bedside, when her eyes met the wandering gaze of the supposed corpse. Could it be possible that she was dreaming? She passed her hands to her eyes to convince herself that she did not sleep. Slowly the eyes of the corpse commenced rolling in their sockets, the muscles of the face relaxed, the jaws contracted, and, as the filmy eyeballs rested upon the countenance of the he woman to come to her relief. Horror riveted the watcher to the spot. She attempted to scream for assistance, but her tongue refused her utterance. As she continued to gaze upon the living corpse, the arms began to move and the right hand was slowly lifted to the mouth as if the corpse implored drink. The corpse next commenced an upright position, and, finally, after an effort of several minutes, sat bolt upright in the room. There sat the woman still upright in bed, at the foot of which lay the convulsed form of the terror stricken watcher. Discovering the state of affairs, the house hold immediately dispatched a servant for the nearest physician, who shortly after arrived upon the scene, and by due application of restoratives succeeded in reviving the supposed corpse sufficiently to enable her to respire free-The watcher, by the administration of e proper restoratives, was, after much difficulty, also restored to consciousness, but her nerves received a shock which will probably tell apon her donstitution until her dying day.

This last movement proved too much for the nerves of the fright stricken watcher, and staggering from the bedside she fell fainting

She vows she will never again serve as the watcher of a corpse, and no wonder at it:

THE WIFE OF E. A. POLLARD SENT TO JAIL .- Mrs. Edward A. Pollard was tried in the Criminal Court of Baltimore, on Monday week, for shooting Dr. G. A. Moore through the left waist, with a small single-barreled pistol, at his apothecary store, on the 28th of January, 1868. The circumstances of this afiair were published at the time. Mrs. P. wanted to know the whereabouts of Pollard, and Dr. Moore, his friend, refused to inform her, and after some worns requested her to leave, and whilst about to enforce his request, was fired upon. Mrs. Pollard was permitted to make a statement to the Court. 'The Judge listened to her; and upon the close of her appeal, sentenced her to thirty days imprisonment in jail. Upon this announcement of a sentence, which, through - light, was unexpected; as she apparettly anticipate only a fine, the prisoner lost all controle over herself, and weeping bitterly, went in hysteries, begging the Court to spare her this disgrace if not for her own sake, for the sake of her children, &c. The Court was compelled to end the trying scene, by directing the Warden to take her in charge, which was done.

- The 24th ult., St. John's Day, was most appropriately and handsomely celebrated by the Masonic Fraternity of Staunton, in concert with a large number of visiting brethren from East of the Bine Ridge, down the Valley, and from Bath and Alleghany condties.

- We are pained to record the sudden and melancholy death of our friend and late fellow citizen. Wm. D. Trout, Esq., for many years the Deputy Clerk of the County Court of Rockingham. This sad and distressing event occurred at the Clerk's Office in Harrisonburg, on Friday night last, about 10 o'clock, R. A. Gray, Esq., Clerk of the County, called at the front door of the Clerk's Office at the hour indicated, wishing to have some communication with Mr. Trout, who ofcupied as his bed-chathber an upper room in the office. Mr. T. had retired for the night, with a friend and acquaintance from Augusta. At Mr. Gray's call Mr. T. got up and started to go down stairs, not stopping to take his lighted lamp with him. On his way down the stairs, by some means or other he lost his foothold and his balance, and was precipitated, it would seem, head foremost down the steps, striking his head violently and falling heavily against the front door, dislocating his neck .- Kockingham Register.

NEGRO JURORS .- Judge Fisher, of Washington city, has ordered the Marshal of the District of Columbia to fill up all vacancies in the list of Grand and Petit Jurors with negroes. This is part of the Radical programme. by which the doctrine of negro equality is to be fully enforced at the capital of the nation. Negroes are employed on all the government works, and white men are given the choice of working with them or leaving. The object is not so much to afford work to the pegroes as to break down all barriers of distinction between the races throughout the country. The Radicals regard that as necessary to the full development of their theories, and they will not voluntarily cease their efforts until the end they aith at is accomplished.

A SAD FATE. - We learn that a dispatch has been received here from Santingo, stating that certain persons who west from New York in the steamer "Grapeshot" to aid the Cubah insurgents fell into the hands of the Spaniards. and were executed by them. But two of the names of those who were executed are given, one of which, we regret to state, is Mr. Albert Wyeth, a son of our esteemed friend, Mr. John Wyeth, of this Borough. EXTENSION OF THE VIRGINIA STAY LAW. General Canby issued an order to-day (June 29th) extending the stay, law to January 1st, 1870, in all cases where one year's interest on the debt is paid before August next, but allowing execution to be levied in cases where

MR. JEFFERSON DAVIS' HEALTH .- Intelgence received from Mr. Jefferson Davis, of date as late as the 12th of June, is to the effect that his health is not at all good; indeed, his condition is said to be one of extreme weekness. It is said to be Mr Davis' intention, it able, to summer in Canada, and to spend the coming winter in Mississippi. He is now in Paris.

SITE FOR A NEW EXECUTIVE MANSION. The Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Guzette says : "The President and members of the Cabinet have been looking over the ground to find a site for a new Executive Mansion which can be recommended to Congress, and are understood to be substantially agreed upon a location in the northwestern part of the city."

- There is a model young lady, Miss Rebecca Cox, in Amire county, Mississippi, who graduated in June, 1867, returned home in January, 1868, and, with the assistance of an old negro and his two daughters, has cleared. fifteen hundred dollars on a farm.

- A deadly duel occurred recently at Puebla. Two Mexican girls, rivals, met as they were going out of church and deliberately arranged the preliminaries of combat. They afterwards drew lots to see who should stab the other, and the winner plunged her poignard into the heart of her vietim.

LOCAL MISCELLANZ.

KABLLTOWN & BLOOMERY TURNPIKE,-In our advertising columns we publish a notice that a meeting will be held at Lee Hall, in this town, on Saturday next, at 2 o'clock, of those who are favorable to the construction of this projected road, and the public generally are invited to participate. We have heretofore referred to this matter, and sought to bree the importance of an early construction of this road, not only as a means of comfort and convenience to those who have to travel over it, but as calculated to contribute at once to the rapid enhancement of the value of the lands along its route. As heretofore stated by us, there is no section of the county that has so long experienced the peed of improved wads-and yet there is no portion of the daily that is more profife in the production of the agricultural cereals that make up the wealth of the commucity. That such a rich and productive region should have remained so long without some easily accessible outlet to market, is a little strange, but we are gratified to know that there is now a spirit of enterprising determination to construct the road for which a charter has been granted -We hope therefore, that the subject will be well canvassed, and the meeting on Saturday will rerve to increase the interest in its behalf. It is expected that D B. Lucas, Esq., and others, will address the meeting.

JEFFERSON INSTITUTE. - In our notice last week of the commencement we spoke generally of the exercises, without any specific mention of the several young ladies whose proficiency entitled them to prizes. When the general article was written to which we relea, we had no list before us of those who were awarded prizes, but we now copy from the Free Press of last week the following:

The prize for the best Translation was awarded Miss Josie Morrow for her translation from the German- The Wild Huntsman." The medal of the Junior Class, a Silver Star, was awarded Miss Bettie Shugart for being the best student. Miss Fannie Forrest received the prize for the best essay, subject Dreaming and Living. In summing up the marks for the whole session, in English Studies, Music Martha Crane, Miss Mary Miller Liza Shugart

LUTHERAN CHURCH, HARPER'S FERRY. This edifice, completed only a few years before the war, was greatly injured by the vandalism of the soldiers, and the congregation being a small one and comparatively poor, have been M., and at Harper's Ferry at 8 o'clock, R. unable thus far to restore it to a condition for comfortable worship. We understand that it is the purpose of Rev. Webster Bickelberger to commence at once the Yask of collecting funds with a view of rehabilitating the church. and placing in that condition, which will render it, as heretofore; one of the many comfortable houses of worship with which our county is favored.

DECENSED .- The many friends of Mrs. Marie Deitz, formerly Miss Marie Reed, daughter of our townsman, Capt. John Reed, have received with regret the painful news of her death, which occurred at her late he me in Kingston, Tenn., on Monday, the 28th ult. She had been in delicate health for a long period of time, and in her last sickness had the presence and affectionate migistrations of a most devoted mother.

NARROW ESCAPE - On Saturday morning tem ed to cross the track when the train was powers are put into equation and competition scarcely twenty yards from him, and as a consequence of his recklessness was caught by the cow catcher, and thrown from the track. He was bruised up considerably, but we understand not seriously injured.

PAID FOR HIS FOLLY .- A young man named Joseph Wagner, living in Charleston; West Virginia, professed to have the power of charming snakes. Last Thursday, having captured a rattlesnake, he was giving some friends an exhibition of this power. After is to exhibit at Lynchburg about July 29th, fondling the snake for a time in his arms, he and will visit all the principal towns and threw it on the ground, and switched it until villages in the Valley. it writhed with rage. He then took the reptile up in his arms again, and saying, "are you mad ?-Kiss me and make up," he put its head in his mouth. The snake bit his tongue, and he died in about an hour afterhis skin assumed the spotted color of the snake. | sending them to us.

A NEW FIRM .- From a card which we insert this morning, it will be noticed that Mr. John G. Ridenous has withdrawn from the well known and popular firm of Hough, Ridenour & Langdon, and in connection with Messrs. Janney and Jordan, has opened a commission house at No. 41, South Howard street, one of the most accessible locations for business from the Valley that can be found in the whole city of Baltimore. The energy and business tact of Mr. Ridenour, contributed very much to the deserved reputation of the house with which he was lately connected, and we are sure his many friends in this section will be glad to learn that he is now prepared, with the new firm, to give the m. s: prompt attention to the sale of any and every article of produce that may be consigned to

BASE BALL .- On Monday, quite an exciting game of Base Ball was played near this town, between a picked nine of a Martinsburg Club, and nine of the Easy to Beat Club, of this town. After a most spirited contest, consisting of nine innings, the victory was declared in favor of the Martinsburg boys, the game standing 57 for Martinsburg to 50 for Charlestown. Below we give the score of the game :-

SUPERVISORS COURT .- At the term of this court held on the 21st of June, the commissioners appointed to view a road prayed for in a petition of Dr. Logie and others,

Fiv Catches- Pendleton, Martinsburg; Rowan

and Smith, Easy to Beat.

submitted the annexed report :-Pursuant to an order of the board of supervisors of Jefferson county, we the undersigned commissioners therein appointed have gone upon the road, prayed for in the petition of James Logie and others, would beg leave respectfully to report that we have carefully examined the same, and are of the opinion their prayer is reasonable, and ought to be granted, as it is indispensably necessary to the travelling community as a thoroughfare to churches, depot and post office; and further and the Languages, the five distinguished are: that an old road which has been in use from Miss Fannie Forrest. Miss Bettie Wylong, time-immemorial, running nearly with the sed new road, has recently been closed by a high and heavy rail tence, so that persons desiring to go to church, depot, or post office. would have to go a circuitous and roundabout We have therefore located the same as follows, that is, beginning at a stone A. supposed to be in the county line, and a corner to James M. Vanmetre and Southwood's heirs; thence along their line to 1, thence with Southwood & Hamill to 2. (the entire road 30 feet wide to be taken off the Southwood land.) thence at 2, making a slight curve, cutting off a small corner of Mrs. Hamill's laud, and thence Hamill's line and Gorrell's heirs to 3, in their line, thence a straight line to B, along an old road to the road leading from Strider's Mill to Kearneysville; this straight section from 3 to B. will priss obliquely through the lands of Gorrell's heirs and Mrs. Hamil', bui will about equalize the quantities on either side. THE HARVEST .- Many of our farmers have already finished the cutting of their wheat crops, whilst others, not yet through, are bending their energies to the work of securing what may be regarded as a most bountiful harvest. Altogether the season for gathering the crop has been a propitious one, with the exception of the excessive heat of Friday and Saturday last, We hope the farmer may be rewarded for his toil by a remunerative price for his grain, and that a good Providence will rouchsafe a heavy corn crop. . .

RELIGIOUS NOTICE .- The Second Quarterly meeting for Jefferson Circuit, will be held at Middleway on the 17th and 18th of this month. The P. E. Rev. War. S. Baird will be present.

Rev. S. B. Southerland, President of the Maryland Annual Conference, Methodist Protestant Church, will preach in Middleway on Sabbath next, July 11th, at 102 o'clock, A. M., the same day.

CAMP MEETING .- The congregation of the M. E. Church of Shepherdstown; expect to commence a Camp Meeting in the grove of Joseph A. Chapline, near Shepherdstown, on Thursday, the 5th day of August. Conveyances will be run during the progress of the meeting from Kearneysville station to the camp ground. The meeting will be under the direction and auspices of the Rev Mr. Feelemyer, the paster of the church in Shepherdstown.

THE NEW BRIDGE .- The progress of the new Bridge, by Mr. Cotrell, the centractor, across the Potomac at this place, is interrupted for want of material, for a few days. We understand that this bridge will form a beautiful arch the whole length through from its own inverted weight, and that the tremendous draught of the artificial lever constitutes the stability and in a great measure the last, when the Winchester accommodation strength of the bridge. That this is the case frain was within a mile or so of Charlestown, is proved from the pull of the lever already a young negro man, named George Tabb, at- suspended from the balance weight, as both

Heads.

A SCHOOL BOY'S COMPOSITION.

Heads are of different shapes and differer t sizes. They are full of notions. . Large heads do not always hold the most. Some persons can tell just what a man is by the shape of his head High heads are the best kind .-Very knowing people are called long headed. A fellow that won't stop for anything or any body is called hot headed. If he isn't quite so bright, they call him soft headed; it he won't be coaxed nor turned, they call him pig headed Ammals have very small heads; The heads of fools slant back. When your head is cut off you are beheaded. Our heads are all covered with hair, except baldheads. There are other kind of heads besides our heads.

First, there are Barrel-heads. Second. there are Pin heads. Third. Heads of sermons-sometimes a minister used to have fit teen heads to one sermon. Fourth, Head wind, Fifth, heads of cattle- when a farmer reckons up his cows and oxen he calls then so many head of cattle. Sixth. Drumheadsdrumbeads are made of sheepskin. Seventh. Heads or tails-when you toss up penuies -Eighth, Doubleheaders-when you lot off rockets. Ninth, come to a head-like a bol or rebellion. Tenth, Cabbageheads-dunces are called cabbageheads, and good enough for them. Eleventh. At Loggerheads-when you don't agree. Twefth, heads of chapters, Thirteenth Head him off-when you want to stop a horse, or boy. Fourteenth, Head of the family. Fifteenth, a Bunderhead. Six teenth. The Masthead-where they send sailors to punish them. Seventeenth, get up for the head - when you spell the word right -Eighteenth, The Head of steam-where it begins. Nineteenth. Down by the headwhen a vessel is deep loaded at the bows Twentieth. A Figurhead carved on a vessel. Twenty-first. The Carhead, and that's the end of a stick of timber that a ship's anchor hangs by. Twenty second, A Headland or cape. Twenty-third, A Head of Tobacco. Twentyfourth, A Bulkhead which is a partition in a ship. Twenty fifth, Go ahead - but first be sure you are right - Our Young Folks.

DIDN'T WANT CURLEW -The Salt Lake (Utah.) V dette say : - "A wayfarer dropped into the Occidental Hotel'n this place to get a square meal. Having planted himself in a chair at one of the tibles, he was confronted by the waiter with :

"What'll you have?" The hungry one fastened his eyes on the attache le soup and and said : "What have you that's good."

"On! we've roast beef, corned beef, roast mutton, boiled mutton, fried ham and boiled curlew!"

"What is curlew ?" asked the stranger. "Curlew !- why curlew is a bird something like a snipe." "Did it fly ?" "Yes." "Did it have wings?"

"Yes." "Then I don't want any curley; anything that had wings, could fly, and didn't leave this country, I don't want for dinner "

- An editor out west has fallen in love. Just hear what he says. "We love to see the blooming rose in its beauty dressed; we leve to hear our friends disclose the emotions of the breast. We love to see the cars arrive; we'l laden at our door; we love to see our neighbors thrive, and love to bless the poor. We love all these, yet far above all that we ever said we love-what every printer loves -to have subscriptions paid."

- Professor - "This, ladies and gentlemen. is-the Gorilla, or monkey man, the greatest living curiosity in the known world. He was captured by a party of travelers" (He punches it with a stick ) Gorilla-(indignant'y)-"Jim Briggs, if you punch me again with that stick. I'll come out thar and lam you out of your boots."

- "How much money have you?" said a rich old eurmudgeon to a gay young fellow courting his pretty daughter. "Oh! I haven't much of anything now, but I have a rich prospect ahead." The wedding occurred, and the old chap learned from his fine son in-law that the rich prospect was the prospect of marrying his daughter.

- A Scotch paper tells the story of a farmer, who, after the burial of his wife, drave's hard bargain with a grave digger, who, bringing his hand down on the shovel, exclaimed-"Down wi' another shilling, or up she comes."

- A shrewd but unelightened school director, away out West, used to say, on examining a candidate for the post of teacher -"We all know that A. B. C. is voyels, but we want to know why they is vowels.

- A French lady recently told her has band that if ever he deceived her she would kill herself. "Pray do not, my love," responded the hu-band, "think what a disarrangement it would cause in the house."

- A lady asked a noted doctor if he did not think the small bonners which the ladies wore had a tendency to produce congestion of the brain. "Oh, no." he replied, "ladies that have brains don't wear them."

-"How old are you?" asked a railroad conductor of a little girl whom her mother was trying to pass on a half ticket. "I am nine at home, but in the cars I am only six and a half."

- Anything pite you dare?" inquired one Dutchman of another, while engaged in anghing. "No, nothing at all" "Vell!" returned the other, "noting pite me too."
