LOCAL MISCELLANY

THE GRAND CONCERT.—We would again remind our citizens not to forget the grand concert to come at the Baptist Church, Charleston, on Wednesday and Thursday evenings of this week.

AUGUST 24TH AND 25TH

Remember the cause for which it is given—the erection of a monument over the Confederate dead at Edge-Hill Cemetery—attend the concert, and thus contribute your mite towards the accomplishment of this laudable design. Or if you cannot make it convenient to attend, please a check anyhow, thereby making a small contribution whether you attend or not. For further particulars, see advertisement and hand-bills.

THE CAMP MEETINGS.—The camp meeting near Wadesville, we understand, was a very pleasant meeting, with the exception of the interruptions caused by the heavy rains during its progress. It closed on Friday morning, much spiritual good being evinced especially during the last two or three days previous to its close.

The camp meeting at the Southwood Springs, near Kearneysville, commenced on Thursday last, and has been an interesting meeting. The attendance on Sunday was very large, and the order excellent. In the morning the Rev. Mr. Johnson, of Warrenton, delivered a most powerful and impressive discourse from the text, "The redemption of my soul is precious." At 11 o'clock the Rev. J. W. Egan preached an interesting and instructive sermon to the colored people, and at 3 o'clock, the whole congregation was again called together to listen to an able sermon from the Rev. Jas. H. Marsh. A number of ministers were in attendance, and the meeting gives promise of much spiritual good. It will probably be continued the greater part of the present week.

FAMILY BIBLE.—The undersigned having been appointed agent for the sale by subscription of the New Illustrated Quarto Edition of the Devotional and Practical Family Bible, issued by the National Publishing Company, of Philadelphia, is prepared to furnish subscribers with the said work at the shortest notice. This magnificent Bible has been examined by different ministers and other persons of our town, and is pronounced to be a most excellent work. A copy of it may be found at the Spirit office, and the heads of families and the ladies are especially invited to call and give it an examination.

JOHN W. DARGARN.

A DANEROUS SHUNFLASTER.—A dangerous counterfeit fifty-cent fractional currency note of the new issue has just been put in circulation. It closely resembles the genuine. The paper used in the genuine is pink tinted. The counterfeit is slightly greenish in color, and the face is slightly blurred. The words fractional currency and stamps are darkly shaded, which is not the case in the genuine. There is also a difference in the back of the notes.

THE LADIES.—What can so cheer and sustain the weary ones of toil as the smile of beautiful woman? The world would be a blank without her. Like a sunbeam breaking through the cloudy sky, ever and anon she comes to cheer us on our rugged way. Whilst striking off the last edition of our paper our "season" was graced by the presence of a number of the fair sex, some of whom were visitors from abroad. Such visits are ever welcome.

LUTHERAN SYNOD.—The Virginia Lutheran Synod commenced in Shepherdstown on the 9th instant and after a pleasant and harmonious session, adjourned on Tuesday night last. A large number of ministers and laymen were in attendance, and an amount of important business transacted. The next session of the Synod was appointed at Woodstock, Va., in the charge of the Rev. Levi Keller, in August, 1871.

FINE CATTLE.—From an advertisement in this issue of the Spirit it will be seen that Mr. Jas. M. Ranson offers for sale a fine lot of fall blooded Durham Bulls. On the 18th instant, Mr. R. disposed of two Durham cows and a heifer, to a gentleman from Berkeley county, for $700. These cattle are of the purest blood, and of the same class of those that are readily disposed of in New York, Kentucky and Ohio, for from $800 to $1,000 per head.

THE TOURNAMENT AT SHEPHERDSTOWN.—The tournament to come off at Morgan's Spring, near Shepherdstown, on Saturday next, bids fair to be an interesting occasion, to all who are fond of such sport. Mr. J. S. Bragooier, has been selected to deliver the charge to the knights. Criswell's Cornet Band will furnish the music on the occasion.

MAIL MESSENGER SERVICE.—Harper's Ferry to Winchester, Va. The extension of route to Strasburg, making a daily run of 104 miles; the messenger's compensation is increased to $900 a year, and he is hereafter designated as route agent. We congratulate Mr. Smallwood upon his appointment.

W. & O. R. R.—After running an experimental route near the Old Chapel, Col. Bruce has finally elected to locate on the line running from the burnt mill, crossing the pike just south of Pigeon Hill, 24 miles from Berryville, and the Opegon about Renner's mill.

MORGAN COURT.—Judge Chapline closed the Morgan County Circuit Court, on the 15th instant, after a session of nearly one week.—The case of Albert Moore for the killing of Robert Heck, was postponed until the October term of Court, on account of the absence of important witnesses.

RELIGIOUS.—The Rev. J. W. Egan will preach at Kabeton on Sunday, August 28th, at 11 o'clock, A. M., at Rippon at 3 P. M., and at Charleston at 7 o'clock in the evening of the same day.

Shenandoah Valley R. R.

Work Commenced.

We are happy to announce to the friends of the Shenandoah Valley Railroad that Mr. Philip Collins, the Superintendent of the Pennsylvania Central Improvement Company, for the building and construction of the Shenandoah Valley Railroad, has arrived at Riverport, in the forks of the Shenandoah river, in Warren county, and will erect immediately his station, &c., preparatory to the commencement of the work.

Several boat loads of lumber have been shipped from this county down the river to that point for their use.

We are also informed that the Contractors have made all of their arrangements for a speedy and vigorous prosecution of their work. Their carts, shovels, picks and other implements will all reach them by the way of the manassas Gap road, in a few days.

The Company will soon order the "breaking of ground" at other points, of which the public will be advised.

We congratulate all upon the commencement of this great and important work.

Tribute of Respect.

At a meeting of Trilumina Lodge, No. 117, F. and A. M., held at their hall in Midway on Thursday, the 18th instant, to pay their last and tribute of respect and affection to the memory of their deceased brother, CLARENCE L. GRANTHAM, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, Our friend and brother had endeavored himself to our hearts by his many noble and patriotic acts of character, and now, that he has gone from among us in the very bloom and vigor of early manhood, beloved by all, therefore,

Resolved, That while we bow with humble submission to the will of our Divine Master, we feel that in the death of our beloved brother a void has been made in our Order and in our hearts that can never easily be filled.

Resolved, That to his deeply distressed family we tender our sincere and heartfelt sympathy in this their great bereavement; and that in token of our affection for the memory of our departed brother we wear the usual badge of mourning thirty days.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of the deceased, and also to the Charleston papers for publication.

G. W. NELSON, W. M.

W. M. O. MACDONALD, Secretary.

Camp-Meetings.

A Camp-Meeting of the M. E. Church South will be held on the old camp ground, near Bedington, commencing August 25th.

A Camp-Meeting of the M. E. Church, South, for Frederick Circuit, will be held near Lamp's School House, commencing September 24, 1870.

SUPERVISORS' COURT.

A meeting of the Board of Supervisors was held on Tuesday last. From their proceedings we make the following extract:—

Ordered, That John Burns Road Surveyor of District No. 1, Grant township, upon the road known as the Roper Mill Road according to the report of the viewers of August 2nd, 1870.

On motion the resignation of J. S. Leisenring, township Clerk, of Grant township, was accepted and Edward Williams appointed to fill the vacancy.

Ordered, That the County purchase cement and have the jail yard well cemented and pay therefor 12 cents per square yard.

Ordered, That S. V. Yantis and Isaac Fowke County Directors of the Smithfield, Charleston and Harper's Ferry Turnpike Company, call the Directors together for the purpose of ascertaining the terms of said turnpike.

The next meeting of the Board will be held to-day.

POPULATION.—Major Morgan has supplied the Courier with the following statement of the population of the principal villages in Clarke county. The urban population of the county not amounting to one-seventh of the entire population:

Berryville.—White males, 171; White females, 174; Colored males, 115; Colored females, 123; Total, 583.

Tribute of Respect.

At a meeting of Trilumina Lodge, No. 117, F. and A. M., held at their hall in Midway on Thursday, the 18th instant, to pay their last and tribute of respect and affection to the memory of their deceased brother, CLARENCE L. GRANTHAM, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, Our friend and brother had endeavored himself to our hearts by his many noble and patriotic acts of character, and now, that he has gone from among us in the very bloom and vigor of early manhood, beloved by all, therefore,

Resolved, That while we bow with humble submission to the will of our Divine Master, we feel that in the death of our beloved brother a void has been made in our Order and in our hearts that can never easily be filled.

Resolved, That to his deeply distressed family we tender our sincere and heartfelt sympathy in this their great bereavement; and that in token of our affection for the memory of our departed brother we wear the usual badge of mourning thirty days.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of the deceased, and also to the Charleston papers for publication.

POTENTIAL.

The Berkeley, Jefferson and Clarke Convention Sweepstakes.

[The following "Jury" report was written in 1850, (now twenty years ago), by that charming humorist, poet and statistician, Hon. Henry Beckinger, of Jefferson county. Our readers will recognize many of the characters referred to. It was written during the canvass for the election of delegates to the Virginia State Convention which assembled in the fall of 1850 and formed the Constitution of the State which was in force when the Civil War broke out. It was circulated in a small hand bill.]

He trot out the horses, let's see how they show, Fling open the stable and let them all go. The time is at hand, and the track is all ready. He'll bring them up soberly, steady, boy, steady!

They're great old boys, they're jolly and merry. A noble old crowd, huzza for old Jerry! And there's the noblest, the noblest of the bunch, And fiercely and fully his rolling eye glances, And Pauley comes on full of mirth and life, Well chested for the race, well set for the life, His limbs are as keen as the red deer's I mean, And gallant and graceful his bearing andmien.

And next we have Lucas, as keen as a brifer, His dam Perseverance, industry his size, A stock which no time and no distance can tire, And following close on the launch of it him, Clarke's favorite stallion—comes big Col. Jim; Good horse in the traces, good horse on the track, Nor lacks he for bottom, nor speed does he lack; Dead match, as we say them, for bold Col. Black.

And look at gay Thomas, his rider—white as he, Stands up in his stirrups and smiles in your face, And Cyrus and Prosper, the noblest of the pack, And Turner as sprightly and gay as a hawk, And Murphy of Martinsburg, trusty and true, And Washington, the noblest of the bunch, They carry no weight, though they each have a ton, And few of the horses will better their run.

Then Butler comes bounding and dashing along, Close followed by Seal, who is active and strong, And very apt to get a shock or a bump, Whose lips are the rear, but the brave Capt. Smith, "The last shall be first," as the scriptures inform you.

Look out, gallant nags, for the Captain will warm you! Now bring them up quietly, girl up the dam; The crowd stands expectant, the judges have come—Draw tight every girl, let her collar be taut; Hurrah for white hair, hurrah for the nags! Ho! ho! so they're, so they're, come up all abroad, For their master's sake, but the fair thing you know—No jockeying boys, but the fair thing you know—Are ye ready? "all ready"—then off with ye—Go!

MISCELLANEOUS.

The Wrong Man Pooled.

The following story, which we do not remember to have seen in print, may be old, but it is received as true:

At a famous and fashionable watering place, a gentleman one night was sitting in a bed with an excruciating pain in the stomach, which neither brandy, No. 9, nor any other remedy could remove. His wife, after trying a number of things in vain, and having exhausted all her stock of remedies, left her husband's bed-side for the purpose of getting a warm application. Guided on her return by a light which she supposed was the one just left, she softly entered, and was not a little surprised to find her husband sitting in a deep slumber. However, thinking he might still be suffering, she gently raised the bed clothes, etc., and laid the scalding poultice upon a stomach, but not to the stomach of her husband, which no sooner touched the body of the person than he, greatly alarmed and writhing under the torture of the burning application, shouted: "Hallo! hallo! what in the name of heaven is that on your back there?" then, with one spring from his bed, he made for the door, and, rushing down stairs, declared, in a frenzy of excitement, that some one had poured a shovel of hot coals upon him. The woman, overcome with excitement and alarm, gave a frantic scream, which brought her husband hurriedly in from the next room to her rescue. The husband was much excited, and also much amused, with the singular mistake and the ridiculous position of his better half that he forgot all his pains; but early next morning he, his wife, and trunk left for parts unknown. The poulitced gentleman still retains the handkerchief—a beautiful linen fabric, with the lady's name on it—which he considers of rare value.

A Fast Story.

An Englishman was bragging of the speed of English railroads to a Yankee traveler seated at his side in one of the cars of a fast train in England. The bell had rung as the cars neared the station. It suggested to the Yankee an opportunity of "taking down" his companion a peg or two.

"What is that noise?" innocently inquired the Yankee.

"We are approaching a town," said the Englishman; "they have to commence ringing about ten minutes before the bell would be heard! Wonderful, isn't it? I suppose they haven't invented bells in America?"

"Why, yes," replied the Yankee, "we've got bells, but we can't use them on our railroads. We run so fast that the trains always keep ahead of the sound; the sound never reaches the village until after the trains get by."

"Indeed!" exclaimed the Englishman.

"Fact," said the Yankee. "Had to give up bells. Then we tried steam-whistles, but they wouldn't answer either. I was on a locomotive when a whistle was tried; we were going at a tremendous rate—hurricanes were now and—I had to hold my hair on. We saw a two-horse wagon crossing the track about five miles ahead, and the engineer set the whistle screaming like a trooper. It screamed awfully, but it was no use; the next thing I knew I was picking myself out of a hole by the meretricious business, who one morning, with a pencil in hand and a quill behind his ear, called out to his partner: "Bill, what is John Stupleban's first name?" And he never discovered his mistake until he began to write it, when he forgot his last name, and with the same unconsciousness sang out, "Excuse me, Billy, but I've forgot John Stupleban's last name now?" The roar of laughter which ensued restored his memory.

— Josh Billings expresses our view on the subject of autograph precisely. He thus replies to an anxious correspondent who asked for his autograph: "We never furnish autographs in less than by the pair. It is a business that great men have got into, but it don't strike us as profitable or amusing. We furnish a new, a very dear friend, or our korgraf, a few days ago, for 90 days, and it cost me $275 we get it back. We went out of business then, and have not hankered for it since."
