Will of the late John P. Kennedy.

The Baltimore papers contain portions of the Will of the late John P. Kennedy, which hears date October 25th, 1845, which has been filed in the Orphan's Court. It gives all his property absolutely to his wife, who survives him, and who is named sole executor, (both being without children.) Two codicils, executed June, 1866, provide, with much detail, for the distribution of his property, only in the contingency of his wife dying before him. The estate is valued at about $150 .-000. All my property and estate of whatsoever description, real, personal and mixed, which I may possess at the date of my decease, I give to my wife Elizabeth, her heirs, executors, administrators and assigns, forever; and I request her, after she shall have enjoyed the same for her life, to distribute, either by will or gift, what may remain amongst such of my relations as she may think most worthy her care and my remembrance : The will commences as follows : "I have reason to thank God for many blessings; for kind friends, worthy kinsmen, prosperous and contented life ; for a cheerful temper. competence of worldly goods, a fair share of health, interrupted only by such alternations as have taught me the more to value it ; for opportunities of public service, afforded me through the confidence of my fellow-town-men, in more than one honorable trust; and, above all, for a home made dear to me by the affectionate and constant devotion of my wife, who has done everything in her power to render me happy; whose rare virtues of mind and heart have given the most complete success to her endeavors.

"I have striven so to order my life as to live always above the fear of death, and have sought that consummation in cultivating Christian faith and duty as sincerely, if not as diligently, as my infirmities would allow. The first codicil to the will, dated June. 14th, 1866, says : "As the will executed by me October 25th 1845, makes no provision for the disposal of my estate in case I should survive my wife, Elizabeth, I design this codicil to provide for such a contingency, and I declare the devises and bequests contained in this codicil to be made only to take effect in the event of my decease and my wife Elizabeth not surviving me long enough to make the distribution of it which I have suggested in my will or propose to suggest in this codicil. "To my cousin, Dr. E. Boyd Pendleton, my farm on Sleepy creek; known as "Bow-Wow," of about 180 acres, with the rents now due upon it. "To my nephew, John Willoughby Ken-woman. "I'm not going alone, but Jesus the promise to be with us to the end of the world."

So the little woman went ; and picking her way to the top of the crazy stairs, found a dark room under the eaves, infurnished, save with a single broken chair and an old rusty stove. After her eves were accustomed to the darkness, she saw on a heap of straw in the corner, what seemed at first a bundle of rags. It was the woman she sought, just recovering from the effects of a debauch, and but little removed from an attack of delirium tremens. She sat on the floor moaning as in pain, with her hands clasped about her knees, and her head lowered down upon them-

With a prayer for aid, the missionary stepped lightly across the floor, and laid her hand gently upon the woman's shoulder .---Surprised and startled, she looked up. It was a sad face that missionary looked down upon. Sin had trodden out every line of its former beauty. Her eyes were heavy and bloodshot, bruised, and blackened with blows; and her lips were thick and puffy ; and her hair tanged and matted with dirt. Without a word the missionary stooped down and gently kissed the upturned forehead. "What did you do that for ?" the woman fiercely demanded. "Because I love you."

"Love me? me! Then you don't know who I am.'

"Yes, I do, Mrs. W., know who you are; and I've come to see if I can do you good .-Jesus loves you, and I love you, too." And again she stooped down, and as she kissed the bloated, disfigured face, a tear fell upon it.

"Oh! my God. my God, what did you do that for ?" the poor woman moaned out .--That 'minds me of my mother's kiss. I've had blowe enough; and kicks and curses enough, but no kiss since my little children were taken from me.' OI my God ! what do vou kiss me for? Woman, woman, you'll kill me." and the poor creature's frame shook with sobs and uncontrollable emotion.

The missionary then sat down at her side. and told her of the love of Him who came to seek and to save the lost. She led her down from the garret, and took her to her own home. She washed and dressed her ; watched over and helped her, and when it seemed the mad thirst for drink would not be denied. she brought other friends and sympathy around her, and saved her.

Some two or three weeks after, in a mission chappel near where she lived, Mrs. W., timidly rose, asking if there was mercy for such a sinner. As she stood there, her friend came, and kneeling at her side, poured forth a prayer for her, which by its pathos and pleading, and wrestling love, melted every heart. God heard it. In a few days the outcast found peace, and was restored to her husband and children.

But a few months later, a new mission chapel was dedicated. In the procession marched more than two hundred women, membors of a Woman's Temperance Society, many

Ground Broken

WORK COMMENCED,

Thursday, the 8th inst., was a day of deep interest to the people of the Shenandoah and Luray Valleys, and will long be remembered by them. It commemorated the inauguration of one of the most important railways in the United States; regarded as a link between the North and South, and was the begining of a development of the magnificent and inexhaustible resources of our dear Old Commonwealth. The day was a most anspicious one-clear and bright and typical as we hope and believe of the fortunes of the work so intimately associated with it.

At an early hour, masses of people were seen moving in every direction towards the great centre of attraction-Front Royal-the place selected for the interesting ceremony of breaking ground. At Winchester and Strasburg, (we having traveled by rail.) we met large delegations of visitors with their faces set towards the East, (the place from which the rising sun always emerges.) At the latter, point, a band of music joined us and contributed much to enliven the trip to the place of our destination. At Front Royal Station; vehicles of every description were in attendconduct the guests to the town, whi fies about a mile distant from Mannasses Gap Road. When we entered the town crowds of people were pouring into and through its streets, towards the Court House, where seats had been prepared in the ample grounds for the accommodation of the spectators, and where the hospitable board of the citizens of. Warren had been spread and loaded with the wherewithal for the internal improvement of the thousands of strangers whom they expected, and who had actually arrived among conclusion of his exceedingly able address, the WHO IS MASTER OF THE SETUA-Lieut. Gov., amid the cheers, which leaped from the tongues of the thousands present, and amid stirring strains of music from the bands, proceeded, with pick in band, to strike the first stroke and to turn the first earth in the construction of our great work. The scene was deeply impressive, and is one that will be remembered throughout their lives by those who witnessed it.

Hon. A. K. McClure, of Philadelphia, and the Hon. A. R. Boteler, each addressed the people in telling and appropriate speeches-Boteler excelling even himself- no unusual thing for him on such occasions. Loud calls were made for Hon. Wm. H. Travers, the able and energetic Director from this place, but much to the regret of the audience, he had taken his departure for home.

Mr. J. J. Williams spoke after the return of the crowd to the court-house, and we learn he was followed by others.

The proceedings throughout were conduct ed with great order, and were closed, without the occurrence of a single event, to mar the universal happiness which reigned on the CELEBRATION Of the Fifteeth Amendment, at CHARLESTOWN.

This affair which for so long has been the only subject of consideration by the newly enfranchised of this county has at last come and gone.

Early on Thursday merning our town was the objective point to which, it was thought, all Africa would tend. The day was fine .-Here and there, groops of the colored population could be seen congregating in small numbers on the street corners. I'p to about ten o'clock the numbers had not visibly increased. Then came the sounds of music from a colored band. And, shortly after, some few members of delegations from the county leagues began to appear upon the main street. The town leagues, headed by the Grand Marshal of the day-Henry Houke-riding Fitzhugh Lee's charger, made their appearance and marched to the "flam" of the drum out to meet the retary, Maj. E. A. Bennett, of Marion. The Shepherdstown league. Then, forming in in the Convention, who sympathized with its line, they marched in column to the Court House square, where they were halted, and a flag "presented by the ladies," as their speaker stated, and they were enjoined to "keep it near

One of his thighs had not been found up to the time our informant left, and his intestines could not be found at all. A Mr. Gaines, who works at the mill, who had just gone to the engine to get a light for his pipe, had his head blown completely off his shoulders, and was otherwise mutilated.

A correspondent of the London Times ives an account of the arrival of the Emperor Napoleon and suite at Wilhemshoehe .-He is spoken of as looking serious, but not crushed. Of the vast throng here gathered it was noticeable that there were hundreds of the fairest daughters of our Valley, encouraging by their presence and enlivening, by their smiles an occasion in which not only they are interested; but in which their children's children are concorned.

The time appointed for the ceremony was delayed to await the arrival of a large number of excursionists from New York and Philadelphia, who had been detained unexpectedly on the route from Washington to Front Royal. This party, comprising large capitalists from these cities, and who are interested in the construction of our road, at length (1 o'clock, P. M.) arrived. Meantime, however, several interesting addresses had been delivered to the eager multitude by President Borst, (who gave an exceedingly interesting and satisfactory secount of the origin, progress and prospects of the work over which he presides.) Judge John T. Harris, of Rockingham ; Judge Parker, of Winchester ; J. E. Snodgrass, Esq., of the Potomac Fruit-Growers' Association, of Washington, and

D. B. Strauss, Esq., of Roanoke county. Letters of encouragement and congratulation were read, with appropriate prefatory remarks, by Col. Jas. E. Stewart, the late able editor of the Page Courier, from Gov. Geary, of Pennsylvania, Ex-Gov. Wise, Hons. A. H. H. Stewart and John B. Baldwin, Ex-Gov. Wyndham Robertson, and others.

After the delivery of these addresses and the reading of the letters, dinner was announced and in due time despatched-the appetites of all being abundantly satisfied by the profuse supplies provided for the occasion.

After the inner man had been refreshed by "food meet for him," and by a suitable quantity of Buck's best vintages, (which today extend the great reputation which they my. already enjoy,) the crowd repaired to a spot some hundred yards from the court-house, to witness the ceremony which constituted the most interesting feature of the exercises -the breaking of ground for THE SHENAN-DOAH VALLEY RAILROAD.

Around the selected place were long rows of carts, stacks of picks, shovels, &c., to be No drunken man was seen in their procession, used by the energetic superintendents-the and there was no disorder. Their music was Messrs; Collins & Co .- in the speedy construction of the road.

Therefore it was that the luckless Charles-whom O'Connell in open court denonnced in such unmeasured terms, failed to put in his appearance : and the two preachers. in a buggy, an hour and a half after, went out unescorted to "meet their friends once more."

They did not even return with the procession but went as they came; stopping in town a few minutes, their faces all wreathed in smiles, enjoying, evidently, how effectually they had "combed the wool over the niggers eyes," as old Ben Stanton calls them.

After Bracket and Ames had departed, the procession marched through town and returned to the Court House square. Which property, Charles Jeemes says, the people of Charlestown did not get on the square, but belongs to the Court House square in Shepherdstown. Here the line was halted and speeches made by --- Mitchell and A. B. Wilson, of this place. Mitchell complimented his friends upon the order and decorum with which the festivities of the day had been conducted-called upon them to seek education as the only true means of securing to them the liberties with which they had so lately been invested. They could now hold any office from that of street cleaner to President of the United States. They should not be satisfied until they filled the last position. He then alluded to the finances, remarking that Grant's giving the negroes the right to vote in this administration was one of progress and econe. [State."

Wilson spoke next. He also complimented the colored people on their decorous behavior during the day, and spoke for a short time in the same strain as his predecessor, and retired. AHEAD OF TIME .- In order to afford the Devil an opportunity to attend the Big Show on Monday, we issue our paper this week a day in advance of the usual time, giving the latest news up to the hour of going to press.

OUR TRIP TO FRONT ROYAL .- Thursday last being the day set apart for the grand inauguration of the Shenandoah Valley Railroad, at Front Royal, we availed ourselves of the opportunity of visiting that classic region .--Accordingly, on Wednesday evening, in company with a delegation of prominent eitizens. of our town-among whom were Hon. Wm. H. Travers, Andrew Hunter, J. B. McElroy and Geo. W. Eichelberger, Esqs .- we jumped aboard the accommodation train of Capt. Burton-one of the most gentlemanly and accommodating conductors on the B. & O. R. R .- and soon went whizzing on our way up the beautiful Valley of Virginia. At a little before eleven o'clock we arrived at Capon Road Station, near Strasburg Junction, and took quarters for the night with our genial host, Col. Piper, whose fine mansion is eligibly located amid the historical surroundings of the battle fields of Fisher's Hill and Cedar Creek. Qn Thursday morning, after partaking of a bountiful breakfast with the Colonel, we took passage in a private conveyance for Strasburg, and after a brief sojourn at that point, joined our Jefferson friends and a large delegation from Winchester and other points on board the Manassas train, and being carried rapidly along through the beautiful scenery of the Massanuttan mountain and the North and South Forks of the Shenandoah river, soon arrived at the beautiful and hospitable little village of Front Royal, where we found an immense concourse of people gathered together for the purpose of participating in the ceremonies of the day.

An account of these proceedings will found in our editorial columns. Suffice it to say that we enjoyed ourselves hugely, meeting with valued friends and many promineut citi

A NOBLE BENEFACTION --- The Trustees of the Louisville Medical College, (Louisville, Ky.) have created one of the most liberal and noble benefactions ever conferred by a public institution upon any people. + The trustees of this college have instituted one Beneficiary Scholarship for each Congressional District in the Southern and surrounding States. By this means very many poor but deserving young men will be enabled to obtain a thorough medical education. Any young man wishing to take advantage of this Benefaction has only to write to the Representative of the Congressional District in which he resides, or to the President of the Medical Seciety of his State, or to Dr. E. S. Gaillard, Dean of the Faculty of the Louisville Medical College, Louisville, Ky., when he will receive full information of all that it is necessary for him to do to secure one of these Scholarships. With proper and welcome delicacy the names of those who have secured the Beneficiary Scholarships will be known only to the Dean of the Faculty. It is unnecessary to commend those who have established these noble Beneficiary Scholarships. Their act will bring them commendations wherever it is known.

NEW SUBSCRIBERS .- It affords us pleasure to state that we have recently added a number of new subscribers to our list, the majority of whom paid in advance. No one who feels interested in the news of the day-and all do more or less-should be without the Spirit. Some are in the habit of borrowing it from their neighbors. This is a vicious "custom which is more honored in the breach than in the observance." No man enjoys the reading of a borrowed paper half so much as he does that of his own; and the enjoyment of reading his own is doubled if it is paid for in advance.

SHENANDOAH IRON WORKS .-- We learn from our Valley exchanges that this valuable property in Page county, owned by Messrs. Milnes, Johns and Fields, is to be further improved. It is stated a joint stock company has been organized for the erection of rolling mills, nail factories, &c. . These additions to the already extensive business of these works will be made as soon as the necessary buildings can be erected and the machinery put up. While at Front Royal on Thursday, we were informed by a gentleman from East Rockingham, that twenty five hundred hands are expected to be employed at these works. So much for the Shenandoah Valley Railroad.

DIET FOR THE MILLION .- Wealth no. longer monopolizes the luxuries of life. Persons in the most moderate circumstances have a delicious desert daily for a sum so trifling that it is scarcely worth naming. They can take their choice of fifty delicate dishes (each one of which the most fastidious enjoure would smack his lips over), at a cost which, in these dear times, may well be called nominal. Custards, Creams, Blanc Mange, Charlotte Russe, puddings, pies, creams, cakes and jellies are included in this cheap and varied bill of fare. his shoulders incredulously, "this is not an age of miracles ; give me facts, not assertions." OUR FREE SCHOOLS .- Taxes are sure at least such is the complaint. Why is this? select from.

The scholastic year' has rolled around, and many claims for teacher's salaries, rents, &c. are yet unpaid for the past year. The Township Treasurers say they have heard nothing from the State fund, which was distributed several months before this last year. Some of the Townships are without Trustees. zens of the Valley and elsewhere, among whom were President Borst, of the Shenandoah Valley Bailroad, President McKenzie, of the Washington & Ohio, Judge Harris and Col. Walker, of Rockingham ; James E. Stewart; Esq., of Page, and Hon. A. R. Boteler, of Jefferson. Among the typographical fraternity present were J. H. Wartman, of the Rockingham Register, R. W. Hunter, of the Winchester Times, John H. Zittle, of the Shepherdstown Register, and a reporter of the Richmond Whig, all courteous clever gentlemen. One of the chief features of the day, among those who "indulge," was the excellent grape wine of Marcus Buck, Esq., (so pronounced by many who partook.) served up gratuitously in the hall over the court room, We are sorry that we could not comply with an invitation from Mr. Buck, and visit his extensive vineyards and fruit farm, in the vicinity.

All things have an end, and so had our st y in Front Royal. At three o'clock we got aboard the up train on the Mannassas road, and after a pleasant passage of an hour, changed cars at Strasburg, and placed ourselves under the care of that prince of conductors, Capt. Lewis Barley, who brought us safely to Winchester, where we put up for the night .-During our stay in this gallant old sister town, we were gratified to witness many evidences of improvement, chief among which is the new Catholic Church, on Main street, which has just been put under roof. This is a large structure, and the Rev. Father Kain informed us that his congregation intend making it the finest church in the Valley.

Rising at an early hour on Friday morning, we were soon snugly seated in the handsome new cars of the Winchester accommodation train, with its careful and gentlemanly conductor, Capt. Williams, and were speedily landed in Charlestown, after one of the most pleasant trips we ever had the opportunity of enjoying.

Now IS THE TIME .- Every Democrat ought to take his county paper. If he admires Democratic principles, he surely can afford six cents a week to spread them. The cost of a paper is no excuse for not taking one. There is not a week passes but that ten times six cents are spent foolishly which might have been much better invested in a newspaper .-It buys more reading matter than twenty dollars will purchase in the shape of books all his life, but if he fails to read the papers he may be called ignorant. Without a newspaper a man is virtually out of the world:

THE LADIES FAIR .- From the extensive preparations which are being made, we are of the opinion that the fair to be held by the ladies of the M. E. Church, South, will be a considerable affair. The cause is a good one, and from the well known liberality of our community, a handsome return may be expected.

VALLEY RAILROAD .- Gen. R. E. Lee has been elected to and accepted the Presidency of the Valley Rairoad, at a salary of $5,000 per annum. The friends of this road are confident of its early construction. With this and the Shenandoah Valley Railroad completed, the great Valley of Virginia is destined, at no distant day, to become one of the wealthiest sections of America.

NEWSPAPER CHANGES .- Jas. D. Morrison, Esq , has become associated with the editorial and busines management of the Lex ington Gazette, J. M. Leech, Esq., retiring. Messrs. Burdett and Anderson have retired from the Valley Virginian, and that paper will hereafter be conducted by Messrs. Stoneburner and Pemberton. We wish the new firm abundant success.

AUGUSTA' FAIR .- We have received pamphlet giving the "officers, premiums, and regulations of the Augusta County Fair, for the 3d annual exhibition, on the Fair grounds at Staunton, Va., Tuesday, Wednesday, and Pike, to Chalmers Byers, for the round sum Thursday, October 18th, 19th and 20th, 1870. Open to all competitors." The list of premiums is a large one, and the competion will be brisk. Entries will close Oct. 27, 1870.

NEW PUBLICATION .- We have received the first number of the Amateur, a monthly Repository of Music, Literature and Art, just established in Philadelphia. The Amateur is one of the finest specimens of typography we have ever seen, and as a literary monthly is almost unexcelled. Published by Lee & Walker, 922 Chestnut street, at $1.00 per annum.

NEW SIGN .- We have just erected in front of our office the sign of the Spirit of Jefferson, the handiwork of Messra. D. H. Cockrill & Son, carpenters, and Mr. John N. Whittington, painter. Its dimensions being large and the lettering plain, we trust that it may prove effective in attracting to our sanctum some of our delinquent patrons.

OUR RAILBOAD .- P. Collins, Agent for the Pennsylvania Central Improvement Company, advertises for 2,000 laborers, to work upon the Shenandoah Valley-Railroad. The Mayor and Common Council of Shepherdstown, at a meeting on Monday night last, gave the right of way, along Mill street, throughthe corporate limits of that town, to the Shenandoah Valley Railroad.

PERILOUS FALL .- On Saturday afternoor last, a man named Geo. Miller, a slater engaged in roofing the new Catholic church. fell from the scaffolding near the eaves of the roof to the ground, a distance of nearly forty feet. He was badly stunned; and was immediately taken up by some of the workmen, who witnessed the fall, carried to Mr. Wolfert's, on Main street, and the services of Dr. Love called into requisition. SOLUBLE PACIFIC GUANO

IMPROVED IN QUALITY AND CONDITION.

THE quality of this Guano is materially improved 1 this season by the addition to its composition of large per cent. of the SALTS OF POTASH.

It is improved in condition by being brought into market sufficiently dry and uniformly fine to pass with facility and regularity through the orifices of the WHEAT DRILL.

More than $1,000,000 is involved in the prod uc tion of this Guano, and the trade in it has steadily increased, until now it far exceeds that of any other fertilizer. The Pacific Guano Company has a far greater in-terest in the maintainance of the quality of its Guano than any number of consumers can have : hence no apprehension need exist as to its continued excellence. JOHN S. REESE & CO.,
