TUESDAY.

CHARLESTOWN, VA.

FRANCE AND PRUSSIA. From the condensed news column of the Baltimore Gazette, we make up the following TUESDAY'S NEWS. The French are reported to have lost in the fight of the 30th, before Paris, 1,200 in killed and wounded. Confirmatory reports have been received at Tours of the excellent condition of Marshal Bazaine's army at Metz. The priests are denounced in Berlin as the source of the anti-Prussian feeling in South German States, and as the instigators of revolt, murder and hostile alliances. Late advices from Prussian headquarters say that no effort has so far been made to bombard Paris, but the army is quietly closing around the city. A garrison of ten thousand men has been placed in Strasbourg. The Times believes that a considerable time must clapse before the reduction of Paris.-The Prussian plan seems now to be rather to starve it out than to bombard. They have drained the Canal de L'Ourcq with the view of reducing their supply of water.

WEDNESDAY'S NEWS. Preparations are being made in Paris for the expected bombardment by the Prussians. The books from the great libraries have been placed in cellars and the windows barricaded with bags of earth. An order is said to have been given that no Prussian prisoners are to be taken, as food for them cannot be spared in the city, and it is added that the Prussian commanders have been directed, in retaliation, 20.00 to take no prisoners. It is thought that the navigation of the Baltic will be safe by the time that the German steamers which have started from the United States can arrive. Judge James H. Ferguson's Charge to a Wayne County Grand Jury, on the Enforcement of the Registration Low and the Duty of Registrars.

At the August term (1869) of the Circuit Court for Wayne county, Judge James H. Ferguson, in his charge to the Grand Jury, referred to the registration law and its administration, as follows: There is a great deal of complaint about the neglect of registration officers by which men who ought of right to be voters are not upon the list and cannot vote. The registration law should be administered as carefully and conscientiously as any other law, and with the rights and interests of all parties in view. It is a mistake to suppose the registration law was framed only to protect the interests of a political party. The rights of citizens are guarded; and penalties provided for officers who, by acts of omission or of commission deprive a qualified citizen of his right to vote. The law is so framed as to protect both the officer who administers the law, and the citizen who claims the right to vote under it. The voter who is wronged has his remedy under the law as much as he has a remedy for any wrong under any law. The township registrars and the members of the county boards of registration can be made to do their duty. Any wilfull neglect by the township registrars in the performance of the duties of office, by which citizens suffer in the rights of franchise, is indictable and punishable under the

'Another mistaken idea which has become common is, that in the registration of voters whose loyalty is questioned, the burthen of proof is by law forced on the applicant for registration. Some county Boards of registration have been in the habit of telling men whose names they do not want-upon the list; "Sir, we say you aided the rebellion." This is what their action amounts to if they do not say it in these very words. No man can be required to prove by others what it is impossible to prove. It is hard to prove a negative. None of us can prove that we did not

The Constitution and laws provide that every white male citizen, twenty-one years of age, not a pauper, of sound mind, not under conviction of treason or of bribery at an elecone year, and of the county one month, and did not aid the rebellion, shall be entitled to vote appears before the township registrar, he must satisfy the registrar that he is entitled to-vote according to the provisions just mentioned. Official Circular Relating to Registration.

OCTOBER 11, 1870.

STATE OF WEST VIRGINIA, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, CHABLESTON, Sep. 13, 1870.

To the Boards of Registration : Since the instructions to Boards of Registration and Township Registrars, issued from this Department on the 15th day of June, 1870, a concerted and mischievous plot to subvert the plainest provisions of our State law, regulating the registration of voters, has been inaugurated in many counties. The parties engaged in it have seized upon the net of Congress entitled "An Act to enforce the right of citizens of the United States to vote, &c.," approved May 31st, 1870, [generally known as the "Act to enforce the XVth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States," and by false and violent constructions of its provisions, sought to convert it into an instrument of terror with which to intimidate the Registrars. Boards of Registration, and Election Officers. So far has this scheme been carried out, that the Registrars in all the counties were threatened with fine and imprisonment if they refused to do as these self constituted interpreters of the law demanded. In many counties the Registrars were arrested and placed under heavy bonds to appear before the United States District Court, and in other counties were lodged in the common jails; all this because these officers declined to violate the oaths they had taken, by putting upon the registers of voters the names of persons disqualified to vote under the Constitution and laws of the State.

As soon as the violent proceedings thus instituted could be brought before the proper authorities, they were declared illegal, and at once ordered to be dismissed. When the Attorney General of the United States was apprised of the prosecutions instituted against Registrars, he promptly ordered their discontinuance as illegal; the Grand Jury, at the ession of the United States District Court held at Clarksburg, on the 24th day of August, 1870, failed to find a single indictment against the Registrars; while the decision of the Hor. Hugh L. Bond, Judge of the 4th Judicial Circuit of the United States, in the McIlwee habeas corpus case heard on the 26th ult... at Martinsburg, swept away the last shadow of a pretense remaining to those who had commenced prosecutions against the State officers. By the proceedings just recited, it will be seen that the State authoritics have been fully sustained in their construction given to the "Enforcement Act" of Congress, and in the instructions issued to the Boards of Registration and other officers whose duty it is to execute laws of the State.

Your duty, therefore, is plain. Execute the law relating to the registration of voters, as formerly instructed, fearlessly and impartially; not permitting yourselves for a moment to be deterred by intimidation, threats of prosecution or violence; exclude no citizen from registration who is entitled to vote: register no one who is not entitled to vote .-In thus hone tly executing the law, you will be sustained with whatever power is at my command.

The attempted subvertion of the laws of he State and the questions raised by it, make t necessary that I should suggest a few instructions to Boards of Registration in addition to those already given.

Whenever the Board of Registration is of pinion, after an examination of the registers of voters returned by the Registrars, that any person whose name has been registered is not qualified voter, for any cause mentioned in section 1, of article 3, of the Constitution of W. Va., the last clause of which provides, that "no person who, since the first day of June, eighteen hundred and sixty-one, has given or shall give voluntary aid or assistance to the rebellion against the U.S., shall be allowed to vote at any election therein unless he has volunteered into the military or naval service of the United States, and has been, or shall be honorably discharged therefrom," it will be the duty of the Board in every case. as well where such person was required by the register to take and subscribe the oath described in section 3 of chapter 3 of the Code of West Virginia, as where he was not so required, to cause a notice to be served at least three days before the return day thereof upon such persons to appear at their regular meeting on the first Monday in October, to show cause if any he can, why his name shall not be stricken from the register of voters. Such notice should be issued and served in conformity with sections 34, 35 and 37 of said chapter 3. If such person does not appear as requested by said notice, or if appearing he does not "prove to the satisfaction of the Board that he is a qualified voter in the township in which he has been registered," it will be the duty of the Board to "strike his name from tion. &c., who has been a resident of the State the register of voters." It will be perceived that by section 35 of said chapter, the Board has a right to ask the party who has vote. Now when the claimant to the right to been registered, and that they are of opinion is not a qualified voter, any question the Board may deem necessary, and has also a right to examine, upon oath, such witnesses as the Board may deem proper, or, the party interested may produce for the same purpose; and, satisfy any reasonable, unprejudiced mind .- if after hearing all the evidence, the Board "is not satisfied" that such person is a qualigenerally considered evidence that should fled voter, either because he was in the Consatisfy any reasonable mind, not prejudiced. federate Army, or for any other cause, it will Then if a County Board of Registration be the duty of the Board, no matter what notify him to appear and show cause why he oath he has taken or offers to take, to strike should not be permitted to vote, it amounts to his name from the register of voters. And from the fragrant sod

The spirits of a thousand thowers
Go sweetly up to God;
While in his holy temple
We meet to praise and pray
With cheerful voice and grateful lay,
This Summer Sabbath Day!

'Tis here the weary pilgrim,
Doth reach his house of ease;
That blessed house, called "beautiful," And that soft chamber, "peace."
The River of Life runs through his dream,
And the leaves of heaven are at play!

He sees the golden city gleam, This shining Sabbath Day! Take heart, ye faint and fearful, Your cross with courage bear, So many a face now tearful Shall shine in glory there, Where all the sorrow is banish d, The tears are wiped away,

Printers and Paradoxes A printer is the most curious being living.

Ie may have a bank, coins, and not be worth a cent; have small caps and have neither wife nor children. Others may run fast, but he gets on swifter by setting last. He may be making impressions without eloquence; may use the ley without offending, and be telling the truth; while others cannot stand while they set, he can set standing, and do both at the same time; have to use furniture, and yet have so dwelling; may make and put away pi, and never see a pie, much less eat it during his life; be a human being and a fat at the same time; may press a great deal and not ask a favor; may handle a shooting iron and know nothing about a cannon, gun, or pistol; he may move the lever that moves the world and be as far from the globe as a hog under a mole hill; spread sheets without being a house-wife; he may lay his form on the bed, and be obliged to sleep on the floor; he may use a dagger without shedding blood, and from the earth handle stars; he may be of rolling disposition, and yet never desire to travel; he may have a sheep's foot, and not be deformed ; never without a case and yet know nothing of law or physic; be always correcting errors, . and be growing worse every day; have embraces, without the arms of a girl abrown around him; have his form locked up, and at the same time be free from jail, watch-house or other confinement, his office may have hell in it, and not be a bad place after all; be might be plagued by the devil, and be a Christian of the best kind; and what is stranger still, be honest or dishonest, rich or poor, drunk or sober, industrious or lazy, he always stands up to his business.

You asked me to preach a sermon on equalty. Since that time I have ranged in vision through the vegetable world-I saw flowers of unequal lustre and perfume, trees of unequal height and value, grasses and weeds of different kinds-but there was no equality

I passed to the animal kingdom, and saw the trained horses and fierce beasts of prey, the linnet and the hawk, the sparrow and the eagle, the sheep and the horse, each occupying a relative sphere. In the sea was the mullusk and the whale, the dolphin and the shark, the timid and the fierce, each properly organized and doing its proper labor-but 4 saw no equality.

Lastly, I entered the gate of Heaven, and on a great white throne sat the Judge of the Universe, oherubim and seraphim tell before him, angels of lesser degree did his bidding. I found seven heavens rising above each other-but no equality there. I gazed on the stars, but found "one star in glory"-but there was no equality. So, you see that there is no equality in all God's vast kingdom.

A Dry Joke.

In a shady Schuylkill cove some half doaen young gentleman bathers were disporting themselves in the cooling river waters, having left their clothes upon the shore. While they were at the height of their enjoyment, two young ladies, each with a book in her hand, came down a steep, narrow path, and seated themselves on a moss-covered rock, under a spreading tree, opened their books and began to read. The young men swam around a projecting point of the rock and waited for the damsels to go away, but they continued to read on and on, turning slowly leaf after leaf, so interesting were the sensation novels they were perusing. And all the while they were closely watched by the now shivering and impatient bathers.

For nearly two hours the two young ladies stirred not; but, as the sinking sun began to throw long shadows over the leaden waters, they arose, and arm in arm, they began to move on, when suddenly one of them paused, threw off her big straw hat, unlaced, unbuttoned, dropped her frock, and called out: "Come ashore boys! Put on your clothes.

We've got through reading."

They were not young ladies at all, but two wild, mischievous wags, fond of fun and practical jokes of the most unserupulous kind, who had come out to play a cruel trick on their unsuspecting companions. STONEWALL JACKSON-A MONUS ENTAL INSTITUTE. - A movement has been set ou

M. & P. RAILROAD COMPANY. President Faulkner's Report.

At a meeting of the President and Directors of the Martinsburg and Potomac Railroad Company, convened at Martinsburg on Thursday, the 29th of September, 1870, Hon. Chas. J. Faulkner, President of the Company, presented to the Board the result of his recent mission to Philadelphia, in substance

He said, that the President and Directors of the Cumberland Valley Railroad assembled in Philadelphia, at the office of the Penusylvania Central, on Tuesday the 27th of last month, to take into consideration the expediency of extending its connexions into the Valley of Virginia, and to determine what aid, if any, it would give to the Martinsburg and Potomse Railroad. John Edgar Thomson, President, and Thomas A. Scott, Vice-President, of the Pennsylvania Central were present, acting on behalf of their road. No doubt was expressed by any one as to the expediency of extending the railroad connexions of Pennsylvania from the Potomac river by Martinsburg to Winchester, and all concurred in the selection of that route. No hesitation was expressed as to their obligation to construct, exclusively from their own resources, a permanent bridge across the Potomac river at Powell's Bend, and of their readiness to proceed at once to the construction of that bridge. Entire satisfaction was expressed at the local aid ($10,000 per mile) contributed by the county of Berkeley, and there was a full and distinct admission of the obligation upon their part, to advance the res-Up to this point, there was an entire concurrence of views between the Pennsylvania companies and himself. But Vice-President Scott here enquired in what form he. Mr. Faulkner, expected that aid to be rendered? Mr. Faulkner replied by a subscription on the part of the Pennsylvania Company to the stock of the Martinsburg Company for the full amount necessary to construct the road beyoud what had been subscribed by the county of Berkeley. This gave rise to considerable discussion, in which Messrs. Thomson, Scott, Biddle and others of the Board participated on the one side, and Mr. Faulkner on the other. They expressed their perfect readiness to advance the money on the corporate bonds of the Company, but were reluctant to make a subscription, as it would be establishing a precedent which would embarass them in their future operations in Pennsylvania .-Mr. Faulkner contended that he always understood the aid to be rendered was to be by a subscription; that this understanding on his part was expressed in all his communications official or unofficial with the Company; that no correction of that impression had ever been made in any reply addressed to him; that he had so announced to the voters of Berkeley county in his remarks accompanying the Ordinance, a copy of which had been forwarded to the officers of both companies, and that he could not feel himself at liberty to accept or carry out any other arrangement, certainly, not with out the instructions of the voters, or some clear and unequivocal expression of the people of Berkeley county. After some further discussion, a resolution was proposed by Vice-President Scott and submitted to the Board pledging the Company to construct the bridge across the Potomac, and to co-operate with the counties in advancing the necessary imously adopted. Mr. Faulkner said that he could not now make any distinct or specific recommendation to the Board. He could not at this time recommend an acceptance or a rejection of the proposition submitted. That the contract had yet to be drawn up in its details between the President of the Cumberland Valley Railroad and himself. That many of the most objecfionable features of the proposition made to us, might be obviated when the details of the contract were considered, and that he would withold any recommendation until the contract was ready to be laid before the Board. Opposed as he was to the present form in which aid was tendered to us, he had nevertheless forwarded to President Watts his views of certain matters of detail, which might obviate much that was objectionable. When he received the full views of the Pennsylvania companies he would call another meeting of the Board, and submit the subject to its consid-

funds on the Corporate bonds of the Martinsburg and Potomac Railroad Company, to complete the road to Winchestor, which was wan-

Whilst therefore the result of that meeting was not satisfactory to him, and he will yet struggle to modify and change its policy, yet, it need not discourage those who look alone to the matter of the mere construction of the road; for if he can effect no change in the action of the Pennsylvania companies' and the contract when perfected in its details, shall receive the approbation of the voters of Berkeley county, expressed through public meetings or other reliable sources of information, he could under that arrangement, safely guarantee the construction of the road to Martinsburg by the 4th of July next.

It will be seen from the foregoing report of Mr. Faulkner, the President of the Martins burg and Potomac Railroad, that his mission to Philadelphia did not result to his satisfaction. The point of difference between the contracting parties is readily perceived. On the part of Mr. Faulkner it was urged that the original understanding between the Pennsylvania companies and himself was that the county of Berkeley having subscribed $10. 000 per mile, the companies referred to were to become subscribers to the stock of the road for whatever balance might be required to complete it. On the part of the Pennsylvanians the arrangement proposed, as understood by them, was that they were to make advances in the way of a loan, which was to D. Staley; Prosecuting Attorney, L. A. Luce; be served by a mortgage on the work, and to Recorder, S. Gerard; Surveyor, J. B. Kearbe returned at some future day. The mis- foot, Jr.

understanding was on a very important and material question. As subscribers of stock the Pennsylvania companies would have risked their capital which might, or might not have turned out to be a profitable investment.—
This would have depended on the success or failure of the road. If the road did not succeed they would have suffered by the depreciation of their stock. They would have shared the loss with the other stock holders. Should it prove a success they would have shared the benefit of it in common with other share holders. As lenders of money to the road and mortgage creditors, they feel them selves to be secure whether the stockholders divided dividends or not. Holding the position in the latter case of preferred creditors, they could but feel themselves guaranteed from loss whatever might be the fortune of the stockholders. The road, even if forced to sale to satisfy their lien, would certainly, with the county investment of $240,000 realize enough to pay off their loan. If necessary they would themselves become the purchasers, and thus secure for their advances the whole property of the road. We can very well comprehend why Mr. Faulkner refused to acquiesce in such an arrangement without the consent of the people of his county unequivically expressed. It would be putting to hazard the whole subscription of Berkeley county. The Pennsylvania companies, however, it seems, adhered to the position they assumed in the controversy and firmly refused to submit to subscribe to stock. Thus it appears that no aid will be tendered except as a loan, and in this shape it is announced it will not be accepted unless with the consent of the people of Berkeley, which they are not under the circumstances, likely to give. This, we believe, is a fair statement of the case.

FREE SCHOOLS-BOLIVAR TOWN-SHIP.

Levy Voted Down! Pursuant to a previous adjournment, there was a township meeting held in the Bolivar school house Saturday night, the 8th inst., for the purpose of levying a special school tax for the current year, to run the Free Schools of the Township, when Emanuel Spangler, Esq., was called to the chair, and John H. Strider appointed Secretary. The meeting being organized, Mr. J. R. Johnson, a former teacher of one of the schools, rose and addressed the meeting upon a priviledged question, in which he held the board of education up as delinquents in the exercise of their duty. Capt Grubb, one of the board, followed in some conceding explanatory remarks. Much crimination and recrimination was indulged in, after which a motion was made by Capt. Grubb to levy a special tax of 20 per cent. on the $100 of taxable property, which motion was amended (by Mr. Geo. Crowl) to the effect that no levy be made-the latter being carried by an overwhelming majority of even the loval voters of the township-which question, we regret to say, was raised by Capt. G. and his disappointed few, and much factiousness was manifested by them. This rebuke, and withholding of any further fund from the support of the schools seems to have been provoked by a flagran abuse of power and assumption of authority by the present Board of Education.

Subsequent to adjournment of the foregoing properly called meeting, Capt. Grubb and his small party remained upon the ground and instanter placed themselves in form, for, we presume, the execution of one of those unlawful acts which has characterized certain men and party in this county and State ever since the war, viz: to tax the people against their consent-a very anti-Republican-but black Republican doctrine.

In this, however, they were foiled, the masses soon rallied, and after a brief but very pertinent address and expose from E. W. Wilson, Esq., who is quite a clear and cogent speaker, showing the recusants that any appeal to the courts for a mandamus would be met by satisfactory evidence, of the action of a legally called meeting, and that the present beard had transcended their duty and outraged the tax-payers by giving to "Storer. College" three hundred and fifty dollars of the school fund, to one of their officers twentyfive dollars per annum more than the law allows, and thirdly, the running of one school in the township, taught by Capt. Grubb, for nine months, while the other six schools were only kept open five or six months. As a former friend and supporter of Free schools we regret, this maladministration of power and general bad school law, which places it in the hands of the irresponsible few to oppressively tax the many-such a law can only be productive of great harm and violent dissentions, and unless modified must lead to

WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

From the official proceedings of the late Convention of the Shepherdstown clique of the Radical party, published in the Shepherdstown Register, we clip the following :-

J. V. Underdonk, William G. Butler and Jos. Barry, were brought before the Convention for the office of Recorder. The first ballot resulted as follows: Butler 8, Underdonk 36, Barry 40; second ballot, Butler 13, Underdonk 26, Barry 42; third ballot, Butler 0, Underdonk 44, Barry 41. Mr. Underdonk having received a majority of the votes cast, was declared the nominee.

By this it will be seen that on the second ballot eighty-one votes were cast, forty-two of which were for Barry; yet he was not de clared elected, and a third ballot had, by which Underdonk was declared the nominee. This is very curious, and we cannot think that Barry's Irish blood will permit him to tamely submit to such an outrage. Who counted the P.

We have been furnished, by the Secretary of the Harper's Ferry Relief Committee, with a list of contributions up to Thursday last which we append below. From this report it will be seen that $1,679.55, in money, besides a quantity of clothing and provisions, have been received. This, so far is creditable in the higest degree, but our efforts should not stop here. Not only at Harper's Ferry but all along the line of the Shenandoah, are whole families who escaped from the raging flood with naught but the clothing they had on their backs. And now, cold dreary winter approaches, and they have not a cent laid by for its demands. "He that giveth to the poor lendeth to the Lord."

BOARD OF REGISTRATION.

Changes in the Board of Registration of this county have become so common of late, that it is difficult, if not altogether impossible, to keep pace with the caprices of a corrupt and partisan Governor. The Board of Registration for this county, up to the latter part of last week, consisted of Messrs. Rhoderick. Traynor and Lindsey-as hard a crowd, we thought, as could be well gotten together .-But from some cause they did not suit, and Gov. Stevenson arriving in Shepherdstown on Saturday, they were displaced and a new Board appointed, consisting, as we learn, of Messrs. Bushy, Tacy and Lindsey. But again, loyalty is not satisfied, and the axe must fall .-Accordingly we learn that at a late hour on Saturday night-a fit time for such workthis second Board was decapitated, and a third appointed. Of this new Board we have not been able to get certain information, but understand that it consists of Messrs. W. G. Butler, Jos. Fleming and Jas. H. Shepherd. We suppose when the Governor reached Harper's Ferry last night, another change was demanded, and the guillotine again put in operation. Such is West Virginia loyalty.

STATE ELECTIONS.

To-day elections will be held in Pennsyl vania for Congressmen; in Ohio, Indiana and Iowa, for Congressmen and State officers, except Governor; in Nebraska for Governor. State officers and Congressmen; and in West Virginia on the 27th inst., for Governor, State officers and Congress. All the other States which have not already voted will hold their elections in November.

THE GREAT FLOOD.

Further Particulars.

From the Lynchburg correspondence of the ew York Herald, we gather the following: At half-past 10 the torrent surged and swe round the piers of the immeuse wagon bri valls, swept it away with a terrific crash, carrying the broken fragments, like an avalanche, down the river. It disappeared in the darkness, but was hurled against the new iron pridge of the Southside railroad, carrying it of also. The engine and train sent to the island for the rescue of the women and children had just crept through the bridge .-When the excitement was at its acme, the packet-bell rung for relief, and the court-house and jail-bells quickly responded. The crowd momentarily increased, the excitement was intense, and the picture of terror and peril defies the power of words. All around was

Many exciting incidents occurred during the raging of the flood! Two men saved themselves by climbing up a tree, where they remained until the next morning, and were rescued—the foot of one being badly mashed by floating houses which struck the tree. A man was seen floating down the river on a log. He called for help, and was answered that it was impossible. "All right," said he, "I'll bring up on some hammoc." He was saved A mule jumped from a canal boat into the river and swam into the railroad depot, where the the owner recognized him in the morning. A hog which swam into the office of Johns & Miller made himself at home till morning. A dwelling, with a family in it and lights

The losses inflicted on the company and workmen are very heavy -the former, $10,000 or $15,000; the latter, $5,000 or $6,000, in furniture, bedding, &c. The scene of desolation is so extended that it is impossible to estimate all the losses. It will exceed millions. The perpendicular rise of the water was thirty six feet. INSANITY OF MR. RANSOM.

The Lynchburg Virginian of the 2d says: The condition of Mr. Ransom, whose wife and daughter were washed away from his arms and drowned, Thursday night, in the storm, has been most pitiable, and his grief and agony were so intense as to deprive bim of reason. Saturday the bereaved man appeared on the streets in such a distressed state that a crowd soon collected around him-some drawn by curiosity and some by pity. Mr. Ransom gave vent to the most violent and passionate expressions of grief, giving rise, by some of his actions, to the belief that his mind was unsettled, and that he was in danger of committing some rash act upon himself. It was therefore deemed proper to put restraints upon him, and he was taken in custody to prevent his injuring himself or others during the period of his mental aberration.

The bodies of Mrs. Ransom and her daughter were recovered Saturday, at the first lock below the city. They were found with their hands clasped together. United in life, they wer not divided in death.

On saturday morning, before the river had risen much in Main street, the proprietor of one of the stores which the water had not then reached, left hts little boy to watch the premises, and in the excitement the little felow was overlooked until a party passing in a boat was hailed by a lady from the window and asked to look into the store and see if he was there. They pushed open the door, and paddling in, found the diminutive chap paddling his own cance in the shape of an inverted counter. From the Charlottesville Chronicle we copy the following incident:

A. Mr. Jennings, who is the miller at Rio. on Thursday night awoke and found the water fast taking possession of his home, and im-mediately set to work to rescue his wife and children from the destroying element. Taking his wife and voungest child, he sought to reach the land by wading, instructing his two other children to follow. Fearful of the impending danger, the children did not heed the admonition of the father; and after reaching land with his wife and child, he turned only to see his house and remaining children swept onward with the rashing waters. The rise in the river was then at the rate of about ten feet in twenty minutes, and few of the inhabitants of this little village were able to escape Mrs. Wilsley, the wife of one of the millers shared the same fate of the two children of Mr. Jennings, being carried off in their house. Mr. Burnley was carried down in his mill some distance, but made his escape to a friendly tree by which the mill passed, and after staying there a long time he was rescued. The disinterested heroism of Mr. Ned Wood was most commendable. Hearing the cries of Mrs. Wilsley as she went down in the house, he swam in to her rescue, and succeeded in getting her out of the house and some distance towards the shore; but finding that his strength was failing him, he released his hold on her and attempted to save himself. After struggling with the current for a while, he made for a "hammock" of drifted trash, on which he spent the night and from which he was rescued yesterday morning. At Wever's Cave, the dwelling of Mrs. Mc-Cauly, with an aged woman - Mrs. Ham-in it was swept away. Her crics could be heard as the house passed points lower down the river. The other occupants of the house, nine in number, Mrs. McCauley, two daughters with two babies, two sons and two negro men: were saved by getting on trees, on which they remained till the next day. During this time, whilst they were clinging for life to the trees which were swayed and shaken by the impetuous torrent beneath, they-the innocent babies included-were subjected through the darkness of the night to the "peltings of the pitiless storm" of rain which chilled them to

AT BRIDGEWATER,

The bridge across the river, and the mills of Geo. W. Berlin and Wm. Dinkle were destroved, and a considerable part of that beautiful village was destroyed, there being a dozen or more houses either totally destroyed or greatly damaged. SKENANDOAH IRON WORKS.

At Shenandoah Iron Works the loss was fearful. The Forge, and all buildings connected therewith; the Masonic Hall, the residences of Rev. A. P. Boude, Mr. Deacon, and A. W. Mason, with their contents were swept away. The store house, with a large stock of goods, shared the same fate. The safe, weighing about three tons, and containing all the valuable books and papers of the Works, was washed down the river and landed at Newport, some ten miles below. The houses of Mr. Milnes, and others on the high ground above the Works were uninjured, the water coming within twenty feet of them.

The mill and residence of Mr. Kite, in Page county, were carried away. The family were in the house at the time, and failed to make their escape. The house went to pieces but all succeeded in getting on a raft or piece of the building, where they remained, and lodged against the branches of a tree until the sub-siding of the flood loosened the raft, and went floating down the stream. Nothing has since been heard of them. The floating houses, mills. &c., rendered their rescue impossible, and their final escape improbable.

On the banks of the Shenandoah, near Luray, the bridge at that point, and all the buildings, with the exception of one-a stone house-went down in the general wreck. MANASSAS RAILBOAD.

The train which left here Friday morning passed safely over the bridge below Strasburg and went as far as Front Royal, where the bridge was washed away. It returned to Strasburg, but found the bridge there also gone. The train is now between the two rivers, awaiting the falling of the waters, and the rebuilding of the bridges. The road between this point and Strasburg is uninjured, the bridges all standing.

[Harrisonburg Enterprise. WARREN COUNTY.

The surface of the water was literally covered with hay stacks, wheat stacks, barrels of flour, corn, oat stacks, houses of every description. The proprietors of the Riverton Mills have suffered heavily. A corn house with some 70 barrels of eorn in it was swept off. A large barn filled with hay, and various articles was washed away. Mr. Smith at the Steam Mill, lost nearly all his household water—eight thousand bushels of wheat, hundreds of bushels of corn, oats, a number of all the household articles to the upper story tons of guano, salt, and other kinds of produce and left the house, and the water rose so rapid-leore's lime kiln seemed to be on fire, from chronicle is the fearful apprehension that Thomas A. Blakemore, with his entire family and some friends who were visiting them, were lost. His mill and dwelling are all gone, and a woman was seen by significant standing on the abutment, sitting astride of a log which was surrounded with drift; they hailed her, but she made no response, and semed not to notice them. Soon after a house passed down which was submerged to the caves, and a man was seen at the gable end window.

[ Warren Sentinel. IMPRESSIVE INCIDENT. Some spectators, at the Bridge at Riverton beheld a little girl, supposed to be about twelve or fourteen years old, and probably the daughter of Mr. Blakemore, pass down the stream, kneeling upon a bunch of debris, with her arms folded and face turned upward, and seemingly unconscious of all around. A short distance behind, a man followed upon a log, and was supposed to be her father. The spectators at this point on the River counted fifty-four buildings, such as Houses, Barns, Mills &c., pass down with the flood, together with vast quantities of corn; barrels of flour, hay stacks and every conceivable kind of debris .- Shenandoah Herald.

CLARKE COUNTY. The Clarke Courier gives the following

We learn that Capt. J. B. Ford had about .500 bushels of wheat in the Swift Shoal Mill; trying, with his son and nephew, to secure his wheat he was driven from story to story, untill he found that it was a question of life; it was thought that he and his son might swim out and save themselve's but as the nephew could not swim, the Captain, with that old gallantry tried on many a battle-field. determined to remain in the mill, until there could be no doubt of its yielding to the flood, and then with a plank, to do his best to save his nephew. There, while the furious waters rapidly rose from floor to floor, the three sat coolly and patiently awaiting the pleasure of the devouring flood, which surged and raved around them. In the meantime Mr. Philip Hansucker and others had built a boat at his house and bringing it down in a wagon it was launched by two first rate watermen, Messrs. Hilleary Burch and Lewis Wood, who with great difficulty and risk, rescued the Captain and the boys from their perilous situation. At Berry's Ferry, the ferryman, a Dutchman named Fritz, and a negro named Robin were drowned.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A Torpid System. Sometimes, without any assignable cause, the a strange torpor falls slike on the body and intelled There is little or no pain perhaps, but the natural vigor and clasticity of the nervous and muscular system scena to have departed, and an indifference the pleasures of life, and even of its grave responsibilities, takes the place of that earnest interes both which characterizes every well balanced ninit when in a healthy condition.
This state of partial collapse is often the premon itory symptoms of some serious mulady. It indi-cates unmistakably that the vital powers are languishing and need a stimulant. In surliceases the effect of a few doses of Hostetter's Stomach Effect is wonderfully beneficial. The great tonic wakes op the system from its drowse. The secretions and the circulation receive a new impetus. The relaxed

Leth argy and debility are replaced by energy and vigor, the spirits rise, and life that almost seemed a bur-en while the season of depression hated, becomes once more enjoyable. That such a radical change should e produced by a remedy entirely devoid of the p.w. erful alkaloids and minerals so extensively used it nodern practice, may seem incredible to those who in their faith on the medicinal efficacy of active poisons, but if these skeptics will take the trouble to nquire of those who have tested the corrective and alterative virtues of the Bitters under the circum stances described, they will find the statement to be

For Township Offices, Payment in advance required in all cases.

For Prosecuting Attorney. Thereby announce myself as an Independent Canceldate for the office of Prosecuting Attorney of Jefferson County; GEO. M. BELTZHOOVER.

October 11, 1870.

WANTED .- Eight or ten loads of Wood. and a dozen barrels of Corn, are wanted at this office, for dues on subscription. Send them in at once.

A NOBLE ACTION .- By yesterday's mail we received the following, with the request that we give it a place in the Spirit, to which we most cordially respond :-

HARPER'S FERRY, Oct. 10th, 1870. Editors of Spirit of Jefferson: - Having written to Messrs. Lee & Walker, music publishers in Philadelphia, for aid for our sufferers, I received on the 8th instatwo postoffice orders amounting to $62.00. This sum was contributed by the heads of the establishment and their employees. It must be borne in mind that those gentlemen have no interest in Harper's Ferry, and that Charity alone prompted them in this noble act; therefore, it is just and proper, that such generosity should be acknowledged. In the same way, I received ten dollars from Mossrs. Mason & Sons, 138 W. Pratt st., Baltimore. Yours Respectfully,

Mrs. J. M. DECAULNE. Free Press please copy.

SUNNYSIDE STOVE .- One of the most com plete and admirable arrangements for heating houses, that we have ever seen, is the "Sunny side" Stove, sold by Messra, McCurdy & Duke, of this place. On Saturday last we had the pleasure of witnessing one of them in full blast at the new dwelling-house of Mr. W. S. Mason, on Congress street, and after a careful examination, can but pronounce it to be par excellence: By means of this stove, four or five rooms are heated with almost the same fuel that is consumed in one ordinary store. In the language of another, "They heat abundantly and economically, and at the same time attract much comment by their beauty and cheerful appearance." Those in want of such an article should give it an examination.

A RELIC .- On Friday last we received a visit from Col. Clement March, of Concord, N. H., who is now on a visit to our county.-The Col. is a Democrat of the old style, and expresses strong hopes of the delivery of the Government of this country from the hands of the corrupt party now in power. . He has in his posession a legacy from the late Ex-President Pierce, which attracted our attention .-It is a handsome gold-headed cane, cut at "Hermitage," the residence of "O'd Hickory" Jackson, which was presented to the late Ex-President, and by him left as a legacy to Col. March. On the top of the head is inscribed. "Franklin Pierce, 1845," and on the side, "Hermitage."

FREDERICK FAIR .- From a circular sent us by the Frederick county, Md. Agricultural Society, we extract the following :-

President Grant and his Cabinet have an nounced their intention to be present during the Agricultural Fair. They will be accompanied by the celebrated Marine Band of Washington. The Cade's of the Maryland Ag ricultural College, a Military Class of one hundred, will be present during the Fair -They will be uniformed, and will encamp during their visit, affording an opportunity to witness their excellent drill. Arrangements having been specially made some of the most celebrated and fastest horses will compete in the trials of speed.

ANOTHER OUTRAGEOUS ACT .- On Friday night last, three large hogs, belonging to Philip Herbert, colored, in pasture on the farm of the late James L. Roper, were killed and butchered in the field, by some low-lived scoundrels. As will be remembred, this is not the first act of the kind this fall; and we think it is high time that our farmers were organizing some kind of a secret defence club or patrol, if they wish to "save their bacon" during the next few months.

TEMPERANCE ELECTION .- At the last regular meeting of Eureka Cohort, No. 1, Legion of Temperance, of this place, the following officers were elected and installed for the ensuing term, viz :- Geo. W. Haines, W. C.; Chas. E. Hooper, W. V. C.; Geo. W. Spotts, W. A.; E. J. Williams, S.; Geo. M. Spotts, F. S.; Wm. H. Moore, T.; W. S. Merchant, C.; T. J. Martin, W.; Chas. G. Johnson, M.; James W. Garnay, U.; Adam Bowman, G. COOL - DECIDEDLY .- One of the coolest pieces of newspaper pilfering we have ever seen, is exhibited in the Richmond Dispatch of Thursday, in which appears as a "special telegram" to that paper over a half column of our editorial on the recent flood, bearing the signature of "S." We cannot blame the Dispatch for publishing the "telegrem" as furnished, but we in no wise think "S." a worthy contributor to that valuable paper.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.-The Teachers Institute for this county, which concluded its able affair. The lectures of Prof. Kidd, on elocution, are pronounced to have been highly entertaining and instructive.

RELIEF MEETING .- At a meeting of the citizens of Shepherdstown, on Monday evening, October 3d, a committee of five were ap pointed to solicit subscriptions for the Har per's Ferry sufferers, and $100 in money, as well as a large amount of provisions raised.

TOURNAMENT .- By reference to our advertising columns, it will be seen that a grand Tournament is to be held at Unionville on the 22d instant. Knights are requested to enter their names at once.

FRANCE AND PRUSSIA.

From the condensed news column of the Raltimore Gazette, we make up the following summary :-

THURSDAY'S NEWS. The London Telegraph expresses its belief in the rumored death of Moltke, the great Prussian General. The Foreign Legation has left Tours. The King of Prussia, in reply to a petition from numbers of citizens of Berlin 2.50 not to expose himself to personal danger, says that he has decided not to return to his Capital until the war is ended. Correspondents from Strasbourg say that its difficult to realize the late events there, so promptly have affairs resumed their ordinary course. Sorties from Metz continue to be made almost daily by the French, but without effecting anything of consequence. Marshal Bazaine, it is repeated, still adheres to the Despatches received at Tours speak of an advantage gained by the Prussians on Tuesday at Epernon, which opens that place to them. A Prussiau detachment at Fontainbleau made an attack on some Franco Tireurs on the same day and were handsomely repulsed. They retreated towards Chailly.

FRIDAY'S NEWS. Letters and despatches continue to be received at various points from Paris by balloons: One from William Dreyer to E. Dreyer, Fayette street, Baltimore, says that there is n danger of famine in Paris for three months t come, that everything is quiet and orderly the troops improving wonderfully and th city well provisioned. Letters received b yet another balloon confirm these statements The Germans expelled from France wil claim indemnity for the losses sustained by them on that account. The German maritime towns will also require special damages for the injury to their shipping interests, and further claims for indemnity for seizures of property on the high seas are suggested .-King William is said to favor the demands o the expelled Germans.

SATURDAY'S NEWS

The Prussians are perfecting their arrangements for the bombardment of Paris. Their guns are nearly all in position, and it is proposed to commence the attack from all the batteries simultaneously. Their pioneers are endeavoring to cut off a source of the water supply of the besieged.

Telegrams received at Tours show that the Prussians are steadily invading the east and southeast of France, and marching on Lyons. Great quantities of stores and arms are heing received at Tours from all parts of

MONDAY'S NEWS.

Special telegrams via London reports that the bombardment of Paris will begin early this week. The city will be previously formally summoned to surrender. Another account states that the assault will be made on the 16th, the anniversary of the battle of Leipzig, and that the Germans count upon being in Paris in three days from that date. General Burnside writes that the people are calm and the appearance of the city much as usual. Opinions vary as to the sufficiency of provisions and the length of time that they will hold out.

The Prussians having first summoned Breisach to surrender on the 8th and been refused, opened a brisk cannonade at several points, which was vigorously answered by the writing from Harper's Ferry, says :-A singular incident occurred here on Fri day connected with the destruction of property. A cortain Professor Kidd has been for some time lecturing on election before our Teacher's Institute. The meetings have been held in the school house on Shenandonh street. On Friday morning the Professor was commenting on the bad construction of school houses generally; and pointed out the building in which he was holding forth as an instance of the worst kind of architecture. He expressed the wish that some of the elements would forthwith destroy the sorry building, and sure enough the prayer, uttered playfully, and which excited the mirth of his audience, was answered that same night, not a single vestige of the obnoxious school house remaining. Mr. Edmond Chambers, one of our leading citizens, relates the following: He is a class leader in the Methodist Church, and Mrs. Overton was a member of his class. On last Sunday she appeared to be greatly excited by religious enthusiasm. She shook hands with the other members, told them that probably she would never again meet them on this side of the grave, and appeared to be moved by some feeling not to be attributed to the. usual excitement of these religious exercises. She appeared to be in her usual good health, and to have no reason to apprehend immediate death. Who knows what message she may have received from the mysterious land towards. which we are all travelling, that her earthly troubles were nearly over, and that she would soon rejoin the leved ones who had gone before her?

CHEAPER THAN BEFORE THE WAR!-Epicures, are you aware that you can enjoy the luxuries of the dessert at a much cheaper rate than ten years ago? Science has converted a wild product of the Irish coast into an element of immeasurable dainties of the most wholesome nutritious and delicious character: and the price of this new staple is less by onehalf than that of any other article of the same class containing a like amount of nutriment. Need we say that SEA MOSS FABINE is the article referred to. The wealthy and enterprising New York Company engaged in its manufacture are entitled to the thanks of every philanthropist for introducing this new source of excellent and agreeable food, at a price which places it within the reach of all. One experiment will convince the most skeptical that with SEA MOSS FARINE they can produce unequalled custards, puddings, jellies, Charlotts, creams, sances, &c., at less cost than before the war. The depot of the Company is at 53 Park Place, New York.

Dear Tom, my brave, free hearted lad,
Where'er you go, God bless you!
You'd better speak than wish you had,
If love for me distrees you.
To me, they say, your thoughts incline,
And possibly they may so;
Then, once for all; to quiet mine,
Tom, if you love me, say so.

On that sound heart and manly frame Sits lightly sport or laber,
Good humored, frank and still the same
. To parent, friend, or neighbor.
Then why postpone your love to own
For me from day to day so? And let me whisper, still alone, Tom, if you love me, say so.

How oft, when I was sick or sad With some remembered folly, The sight of you has made me glad-

And then most melancholy.

Oh! why will thoughts of one so good

Upon my spirits prey so?

By you it should be understood.

Tom, if you love me, say so.

Whate'er of ours you chance to seek,
Almost before you breathe it,
Spring with blushes on my cheek,
And all my soul goes with it.
Why thank me, then, with voice, so low,
Or faltering, turn away so?
When next you come, before you go,
Tom, if you love me, say so.

UUM OR OUS.

"Bill for Advice."

The following story is related of a very penurious physician, in a certain town in the region of "down East," which shall for the present be nameless. The story is entirely buying groceries. It was awful cold. I felt a little hoarse, and my tongue was dreadfully furred up. So says I to the doctor, says I-"My head feels a little achish like; what do you think I had better do?" "Why, friend S.," says the doct'r says he, "the best thing you can do is to go straight home and soak your feet, and take a sweat; "cause if you don't," says he, "like as not you may have a fever."

"Says I, "Doctor, I was just a thinkin" that a little sweat would do me good, and guess I'll go home and try it right away." "Well, I did; I went home and took bowlful of tansy-tea, bitter as gall, and if I didn't sweat like a beaver, 'taint no matter.

The next morning my head was as clear as a bell, and I was as good as ever I was. "Well, a day or two afterwards I met the doctor, and after a little talking says the doc--tor, savs he-

"Neighbor J., L've got a little bill ag'in "I looked at him clus, and says I, "A bill,

"Yey," says he, "a bill for advice you know at Simkin's store the other day." "What do you think he had gone and done? He'd act'ally charged me tew dollars for telling me to go home and take a sweat, which I was just going to do myself. "Well doctor," says I (for I didn't wan't to appear small, you know,) it's all right; I'll bear it in mind."

"Well, a few days after, the doctor was passing my door in a chaise, and somehow or nother one of the wheels got a little loose; so says I, "Doctor, of you don't drive that linchpin in an inch or two, that wheel will

"Says he, "Thank you," and he took a stun and driv in the pin. "Well, I went into the house and made a charge of it; and when he came along the next time I presented him the bill.

"Hello! says the doctor, says he; "what on airth is this for?" says he. "Why, it's for advice," says I.

"Advice! says he; "what advice? I hain't had no o' your advice." "Why, for driving in your wheelpin and I've only charged you two dollars twenty five cents; and ef I hadn't given you the advice, it might have cost you twenty times as much.'

"Well," says the doctor, "the difference between your bill and mine is just twenty five cents." "That's all you owe me," says I. "Well, I'll bear it in mind," says he. "And I 'xpect he will; he's as tight as a 'candle-mould, the doctor is, and I guess he is able to bear it in mind."

That Spring Water.

An invalid lady heard much of the beneficial properties of the water from a certain spring some distance from where she resided. She had read a pamphlet that enumerated many diseases for which it was specific, among which she recognized at least half a dozen with which she was afflicted. Much to her joy, she was told that her son had to visit the very town where it was located and a fivegallon keg and a strict injunction were laid upon him to bring back some of the water. The keg was put into the phæton, and, slipping under the seat, was over-looked .-The business was urgent, and took some time to perform it, and the water was quite forgotten. He had got near home in the evening, when, kneeling down under the seat for something, he felt the keg. To go back was not to be thought of, and to admit his stupidity was impossible. He therefore drew his horse up by a wall, near which was an old well from which the family had drunk for a century, and filling the keg, went home.

The first question was, "Did you get the "Yes," said he, "but hang me if I can see any difference in it from any other water; and he brought in the keg. A glass was handed to the invalid, who drank it with infinite relish, and said she was surprised at her son's not seeing any difference. There was undoubtedly a medical taste about it, and it did not fill her up as other water did, which she had always heard of mineral water, Her son hoped it would do her good; and by the time the keg was exhausted, she was ready to give a certificate of the value of the water, it having relieved her of all ailments.

Mock Duck .- Take a steak cut from the rump of beef, and fill it with a dressing made of chopped bread bark, sage onions, and well seasoned; sew it up, and put dressing over it. Put it in a pan with a pint of water, cover tight, and let it cook slowly in the oven three hours; then take off the lid and brown quickly. - Our printer's devil wanted to kiss his sweetheart, and addressed her as follows:-"Miss Ellie, can I have the pleasure of placing my imprint upon your bill?" But the modest lass said he shouldn't; "that her bill was not for Joseph !" - At a temperance meeting a number of ladies who desired to throw their influence on the right side, came up to sign the pledge, when a son of Erin exclaimed : "Be gorra! who would think so many fine looking Yankee women drink?" - Subscribe for the Spirit of Jefferson. MEDICINALLI

They are the GREAT BLOOD. PURIFIER and LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter, and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters, according to directions, and remain long unwell.

$100 will be given for an incurable case, providing the bones are not destroyed by mineral poisons or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

means, and the vital organs watch beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, and Gout, Dyspoysia, or Indigestion, Billious, Remittent, and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys, and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

FOR SKIN DISEASES,—Eruptions, Tetter, Falt Rheum, Liotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Both, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipplas, Itch, Scuris, Discolorations of the km., Illumors and Diseases of the Ekin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effects.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the r-bauldere, Coughs, Taghtness of the Chest, Dizziness, Four Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Ballous Attacks, Talpitation of the Heart, Copious Discharges of Urine, Pain in the regions of the Kidney, and a hundred other painful symptoms, which are the offsprings of Dyspepsia, are cured by these Bitters.

Cleanse the Vittated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE, and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed.
