Historical Reminiscences of Gen. Lee. [From the Norfolk Virginian.] MAGRUDER'S ANECDOTE.

We regret that we cannot give this in the picturesque language of its author; but even in the most homely phrases it is etoquent in After the fall of Mexico, when the American army was enjoying the case and relaxa-tion which it had bought by toil and blood, a brilliant assembly of officers sat over their wine, discussing the operations of the siege and indulging hopes of a speedy return to the United States. One among them rose to propose the health of the Captain of Engineers, who had found a way for the army within the city; and then it was remarked that Captain Lee was absent.

hall, and, departing on his mission, at last found the object of his search in a remote room of the palace busy on a map. Magruder accosted his friend and reproached him for his absence. The earnest worker looked up from his labors with that calm, mild gaze which we all remember, and, pointing to his instruments, shook his head. "But," said Magruder, in his impetuous way, "this is mere drudgery! Make somebody else do it and come with me." "No," was the reply. "No. I am but doing my duty."

HIS LETTER OF RESIGNATION. [From the New York Tribune.] On the 20th of April, 1861 Colonel Lee after a service of twenty five years, resigned his position in the United States army, sending his letter of resignation to General Scott, at Washington. It was in the following

ARLINGTON, VA., April 20, 1861. General: Since my interview with you on the 18th instant. I have felt that I ought not longer to retain my commission in the army Istherefore tender my resignation, which I request you will recommend for acceptance. It would have been presented at once but for the struggle it has cost me to separate myself from a service to which I have devoted all the best years of my life and all the ability I pos-

During the whole of that time-more than a quarter of a century-I have experienced nothing but kindness from my superiors, and the most cordial friendship from my comrades. To no one, General, have I been as much indebted as to yourself for uniform kindness and consideration, and it has always been my ardent desire to meet your approbation. I shall carry to the grave the most grategul recollections fo your kind consideration, and your name and fame will always be dear to me.

never desire again to draw my sword. Be pleased to accept my most earnest wishes for the continuance of your happiness and prosperity, and believe me most truly yours.

A LETTER TO HIS SISTER. To his sister, the wife of an officer loyal to his flag, he wrote:

"MY DEAR SISTER: I am grieved at my inability to see you. * * * * * I have been waiting for a more 'convenient season,' which has brought to many before me deep and lasting regret. We are now in a state of war which will yield to nothing. The which Virginia, after a long struggle, has been drawn; and though I recognize no necessity for this state of things, and would have forborne and pleaded to the end for redress of grievances, real or supposed, yet in my own person I had to meet the question whether I should take part against my native State .-With all my devotion to the Union, and the citizen, I have not been able to make up my mind to raise my hand against my relatives, my children, my home. I have, therefore, resigned my commission in the army and save in defense of my native State-with the sincere hope that my poor services may never be needed-I hope I may never be called upon to draw my sword." This was the only "definition of his position" ever given by him. His resignation was instantly accepted, and he at once took up his residence in Richmond, as commander of the forces in Virginia. From the Philadelphia Press. An extract from a letter written by his wife reveals the conflict in his mind before deciding upon his course: "My husband has wept tears of blood over this terrible war: but he must, as a man of honor and a Virginian, share the destiny of his State, which has solemnly pronounced for independence." Lee had once in a letter to his son at West Point, counselling him to do his duty at all times, given utterance to the statement, "Duty is the sublimest word in our language.' HIS RECEPTION IN VIRGINIA.

From the Norfolk Virginian. Having thrown up his commission he repaired to Richmond, where he offered his sword to his native State, the reply to which, was his appointment as Major-General in command of the Virginia troops. We all remember the grand reception awarded him by the convention, and few more solemn or august spectacles have adorned our annals than was presented on that memorable occasion. The venerable Mr. Janney received him in a speech marked by a certain antique pomp, which rose to genuine eloquence at the end of his address, and lent additional solemnity to the impressive scene.

General Lee replied with characteristic modesty and said: "Mr. President and Gentlemen of the Convention-Profoundly impressed with the solemnity of the occasion, for which I must say I was not prepared, I accept the position assigned me by your partiality. I would have much preferred had your choice fallen upon an abler man. Trusting in Almighty God, an approving conscience and the aid of my fellow-citizens, I devote myself to the service of my native State, in whose behalf alone will I ever again draw my sword." In this brief response to the elaborate address delivered by the president of the convention, we see that the animating principle which controlled General Lee was to that of conscience for the approval of his momentou

I have determined to avoid the useless sacrifice of those whose past services have endeared them to their countrymen .-By the terms of the agreement, officers and men can return to their homes, and remain there until exchanged. You will take with you the satisfaction that proceeds from the consciousness of duty faithfully performed, and I cornestly pray that a merciful God will extend to you His blessing and protection. A SCRAP OF HISTORY.

From the New York Sun. On the surrender of Gen. Lee at Appomattox Court House, he made an arrangement with Gen. Grant to use his influence to secure the immediate surrender of all rebel authority. By this arrangement Grant was to proceed to Washington and ascertain the views of our Government and the terms, if any, that would accorded should the Confederate States Government at once abandon further resistance and surrender its armies. Lee was to return to Richmond, and there wait the result of Grant's mission to Washington. On re- attempt of the Federal government to arrest ceiving which he was to be permitted to pass secession by force of arms, he sincerely and through the lines and convey the ultimatum to -Jeff. Davis, and secure his assent to it. He in visiting Washington, and the subsequent surrender of Johnston's army in North Caro- The men at the South who fought for either lina, and the collapse of the rebellion in its organized character, rendered the further prosecution of the mission unnecessary.

The Killing of W. W. McKaig, Jr.

A correspondent of the Baltimore Gazette, writing from Cumberland under date of the 24th instant, gives the following account of a terrible tragedy in that city :-

A most horrible assassination was committed. here, at an early hour on Monday morning of all participation in the proceedings which last, by a young man by the name of H. C. Black. As W. W. McKaig, Jr. (son of W. W. McKaig, Esq., a prominent lawyer of this Save in defence of my native State, I bar), was going from his residence, on the west side of Wills' creek, to his business, on the east side of the creek, he was met by young Black just after he crossed the bridge over Wills' creek. Black passed McKaig, and immediately wheeled round, placed his pistol so close to his body, and fired, that it burned McKaig's clothing and skin. McKaig staggered out into the street, his back still to Black, when Black fired again, hitting him in the back. McKaig fell on his face, when Black walked up and shot him again in the back, and then turned round and said, in the presence of Dr. Samuel P. Smith and several others. "I have killed this man, and have one whole South is in a state of revolution, into more shot for any d-d man who says I did not do right." The news of the shooting spread rapidly, and very soon a large and excited crowd gathered at the place of the shooting. Black immediately rushed to the court house and gave himself up to the Sheriff, who lodged him in jail. Never, since the assassination of Wm. O. Sprigg, some years ago, have we seen so much intense excitement in feeling of loyalty and duty of an American this place. The manner in which the life of ability and genius of the very highest order, young McKaig was taken, aroused the indig- and won a regutation that will live in history nation of almost every man, woman and child in the town. McKaig was a great favorite with all classes of people who knew him.— He was a married man with one child. Black is an unmarried man. Both were young men, neither being over twenty-eight.

The cause of this sad affair is said to be the seduction of Black's sister, but whatever may have been his other sins, no one in this community believes McKaig did any such thing. About three months ago, one evening as Mc-Kaig was going home to his tea, just after he passed the gate leading into the residence of J. P. Roman, Esq., H. D. Black, the fether of this girl, and H. C. Black, fired at him with a double-barrel shot gun, loaded with buck shot, wounding McKaig in the arm .-As McKaig passed him standing at Roman's gate, Black spoke to him and then shot at him, as he has since said, behind his back, with intent to kill. Our people thought that this unfortunate affair had been hushed up and were willing to excuse the father for the first firing, as he had just found out the condition of his daughter who, it is said, told him Me-Kaig had seduced her, and was the father of the child. But since that time it is known that a friend of Black's had made him statements which induced Black to say nothing further should be done in the matter. Both the father and son have since repeatedly passed McKaig on the street without either doing or saying anything to him. .In this way they | honor, and whom all the world at least rethrew him off his guard, and, though armed the morning he was killed, he did not even | bells are tolling in our ears, and while the dead touch his pistol, so unexpected was the assault. soldier still lies unburied, to undertake a re-McKaig's funeral took place on Tuesday, view of the life of this eminent Virginian. and was one of the largest we have ever seen in this place. THE DEATH OF ROBERT E. LEE.

Come tidings sad and mournful
Throughout our suppy land.
Changing sunshine into shadow.
For the noblest of his band—
The hero, soldier, christian—
Has sunk to Death's repose,
And the full heart of his people feels
This keenest of its woes.

From the seachore to the mountains, A wail, as from the temb,
A wail of unfeigned sorrow comes
Filling the land with gloom.
E'en the surges dash in anguish
Against the pebbled shore,
And the winds are sighing pitcously
For the great man, now no more.

Alaa! and it is even true,
The gallant Laz is dead,
The man so loved and honor'd,
For whom our tears are shed.
Rut will never fade his virtues.

Well may'st thou weep, oh! eniden.

JEFFERSON COUNTY RECLAIMED THE BALL IN MOTION!

The returns from the gubernatorial election of Thursday last, as far as received, exhibit one of the grandest political revolutions in the history of this country, and indicate pretty clearly that John J. Jacob, the Democratic Conservative candidate for Governor, together with the entire State ticket have been elected by a handsome majority.

Jefferson county, in the election of 1868, gave Stevenson a majority of twenty, but now, with the addition of four hundred registered negro voters-who marched in serried ranks to the aid of radicalism-she gives to John J. Jacob a mojority of fifty.

Berkeley county, in 1868, gave to Stevenson a majority of four hundred and sixteen, which is now-notwithstanding the addition of three or four hundred negro votes-cut down to but little over one hundred.

In this Senatorial district-Jefferson a Berkeley-the radical candidate, Gold, is elected by a small majority. In Berkeley we elect the Sheriff and one member of the House of Delegates. In Jefferson we elect the Sheriff, two members of the House of Delegates, Clerk of the Circuit Court, Assessor. Prosecuting Attorney, three Supervisors, and a fourth tied; besides a large majority of the township officers. All this was accomplished without any regular nominations on our part and in the absence of any organization whatever, whilst, on the other hand, the radical party were drilled to perfection, and voted in solid column. Had every registered Conservative voter cast his ballot on Thursday last, not a single Radical would have been elected in the county.

As will be seen from the telegrams published elsewhere, the news from the State is the most encouraging. Large Democratic gains are reported everywhere, and Jacob's majority already puts up 5,400. We will have a good majority in the Legislature, and secure the election of a Democratic United States Senator, in the place of Mr. Willey

Thus the death-knell to the vile hordes who have lorded it over West Virginia for the past , five years, is sounded. The people have arisen in their might, and the State is redeemed .-Sic Sempir Tyrannis.

HENRY HOUKE'S REGISTRATION.

A noted feature of the election last week, was the presence of a large number of unregistered negroes at the polls; who, upon being questioned as to who registered them, uniformly replied, that "Henry Houke registered them." A number of others stated that "Mr. Brackett registered them." This was a nice little game on the part of Mr. Brackett, but unfortunately did not work so well in Grant township. The whole principle of this dirty work can be readily perceived. Mr. Brackett, expecting to gain possession of the registration books before the election, had, with the aid of. Henry Houke, registered those ignorant negroes-most of whom had probably been run into the county-in a book of their own, with the infention of placing their names upon the regular registration books as soon as they gained possession of them. But, alas for Brackett & Co., this rascality was of no avail. "Henry Houke's" registration couldn't come in.

AN ELEMENT OF DESTRUCTION

As has been proven, not only in West Virginia, but in every State in which elections have been held since the enforcement of the fifteenth amendment, the addition of the negro vote-to which the Radicals have looked for an extension of power-has turned out to be the most disastrous step they have ever made. In each successive election a powerful revolution has developed itself. Men who were formerly earnest leaders in the Republican party, have become disgusted with its policy, broken from its ranks, and taken up the sword in the opposing columns. The ball is in motion, Radicalism has reached its last stage, and naught but utter destruction awaits it in the future,

ORGANIZATION.

The manner in which the radical negro parfy were drilled and marched to the polls on Thursday last, should be a lesson to the Conservative party in the future. With such organization on the part of the Conservative party, Thursday's election would have been for office in this county.

W. & O. R. R .- Col. Bruce and corps commenced a new survey of this road on Monday last; this survey will probably go through, or near Berryville; with the intention of trying whether the county subscription of $100,000 will more than pay the extra-expense of the line .- Clarke Courier.

MASONIC .- The Masonic grand bodies of this State (Lodge, Chapter, and Commandery) will meet this year at St. Alban's Hall, corner of 3d and Main streets, instead of at Masons' Hall, on Franklin street. The Grand Lodge will meet on the 12th of December. [Richmond Dispatch

The President has issued a proclamation, setting aside Thursday, November 24th, Radical corruptionists in the present Congress John Burns, Con., as a day of thanksgiving and prayer.

THE NEGROES AND THE LATE ELECTION.

The votes of the majority of the negroes at the election on Thursday last, were cast as we had expected—for the straight out Radical ticket. But we confess surprise at the action of some of this class, for whilst the larger portion of them are ignorant and uneducated, and hence an easy prey to the villifying scoundrels who have made them their dupes, we had thought that such intelligent colored men as Henry Cooke, James Brady, and others -- who make their livehood from the white people alone-would have had more discretion. But we believe that here, as has been the case elsewhere in the South, after the excitement of the first exercise of the right of suffrage is over, that they will give the subject a calm consideration, and drop, as a coal of fire, the miserable carpet-baggers and political tricksters that have been deceiving them thus far, and who have no interest at stake save their own vile greed for office. CABINET CHANGES.

It is worthy of note, says the Philadelphia Record, that with the retirement of Mr. Cox but a single one of the entire array of cabinet officers originally appointed by General Grant now remains. Mr. Washburne, of Illinois. gave way, as secretary of state, to Mr. Fish, of New York. Mr. Stewart, of New York, gave way, as secretary of the treasury, to Mr. Boutwell, of Massachusetts. General Rawlins, of Illinois, gave way, as secretary of war, to General Belknap, of Iowa. Mr. Borie, of Pennsylvania, gave way, as secretary of the navy, to Mr. Robeson, of New Jersey. General Cox, of Obio, has given way, as secretary of the interior, probably to Mr. Delano, of the same State. Judge Hoar, of Massachusetts, gave way, as attorney general, to Mr. Akerman. of Georgia. Mr. Creswell, of Maryland, the postmaster general, is the only officer who has retained his seat in the cabinet, although only a little more that twenty months have elapsed

At a recent meeting of the Southern Solliers' Memorial Association of Shepherdstown, Messrs, Joseph McMurran, Edmund I. Lee, Jr., and Capt. H. F. Barnhart, were appointed Committee to draft suitable resolutions expressive of the feelings of this Association in reference to the death of their late Chief and beloved Commander, who reported the following Preamble and Resolutions, which were unanimously adopted :-

Whereas, the sad intelligence has been received that our beloved Commander, General ROBERT EDWARD LEE, is dead : that the hero patriot and Christian warrior, a man of character so pure and brilliant that malice could not assail it nor misfortuge-tarnish it, is no more. It is eminently proper that the soldiers of this Association who so long followed him amidst war's alarms and honored him while living, should add their tribute of respect to that of others, and amid the universal sorrow speak out the feelings of their own hearts. Therefore. Resolved, That we have heard with deep regret and heartfelt sorrow of the death of our late beloved Chief, which took place on the 12th instant at Lexington, Virginia, and deplore the loss of him, who by precept and example has enuobled human nature and shown to the world a model of Virginia greatness and presented a character worthy to be imitated and handed down, as an heir-loom, from sire to son. In him, the country has lost a noble soldier and model citizen; the Church a shining light and Christian gentleman; the world a great and good man; Liberty a sincere defender, and humanity a true friend. Resolved, That we will ever cherish his memory and keep green in our heart of hearts his noble deeds and good name as, like his great prototype, "First in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen." Resolved, That we extend to his family our sincere condulence, in union with that of the whole country, in their sad affliction.

Resolved, That these resolutions be recorded upon the minutes of the Association, be published in the newspapers of the county and a copy sent to the family of the deceased. JOSEPH MCMURRAN, EDMUND J. LEE, JR.

H. F. BARNHART,

A despatch, from New York, Under date of the 27 ultimo, says: The Tammany Hall democracy had a grand procession and mass meeting to night to ratify their nominations. The organization in each ward fell into line on Broadway, with lanterns and bands, and formed a procession, which extended from the City Hall to Union Square. At that point by 9 o'clock the streets for many blocks were a solid mass of humanity. Several stands were erected in the square, at which there was speaking. During the evening the Tammany Hall meeting was organized. The principal speaker was Governor Seymour. He dwelt chiefly on the questions commerce and transportation, and lauded

Governor Hoffman's canal policy. Addresses were also delivered by Hon. Michael C. Kerr, of Indiana, Hon. James S. Thayer, Wm. M. Tweed and other prominent democrats. Frequent allusions were made to the alleged intent of the federal authorities to interfere to prevent illegal voting, but on purpose to resist was announced. This meeting is claimed to be the largest ever held by the democracy in New York.

WASHINGTON, October 21 .- The following has just been issued by the National Democratic Executive Resident Committee in this city: "The National Democratic Congressional Resident Committee tender their congratulations to the Democratic and Conservathe death-knell to every carpet-bag aspirant | tive voters of the three great States of Pennsylvania, Indiana and Ohio for their recent successes over the corruptions of Radicalism, aided as the Radicals have been by a profligate and desperate administration at Washington. In Pennsylvania a gain of five members of Congress has been secured, the Radical majority of last year been largely reduced in each branch of the Legislature, and there is a decided majerity in the State on the popular vote against the administration. In Indiana the State has been redeemed from further Radical misrule by the election of the Democratic and Conservative State ticket, carrying with it a gain of two members of Congress and a majority in each branch of the Legislature. Econonomy and reform are thus made sure to the people of that State in the immediate future. In Ohio the Radical majority of two years ago has been reduced more than one half; and the leader of the

Seeing her danger, she gathered a few articles for the purpose of taking a final leave of the house. On entering the hall from the room she was in, to her horror and dismay she saw that the stairway was in a solid sheet of flame. There was only one way of escape now, and that was through the upper windows, where the fiery element had not communicated itself. Going on the top of the colonnade her awful situation was immediately realized by the crowd below, and the anxiety depicted on every countenance showed the deep feeling that stirred the soul of every one. #### FRANCE AND PRUSSIA.

From the condensed news column of the altimore Gazette, we make up the following

TUESDAY'S NEWS. The French army on the Loire is said to be in motion, and important results are hinted at. The force of the Prussians in Orleans is stated to be twenty-five thousand, with sixty pieces of artillery. Late accounts from Paris speak of preparations being made there on a large scale for offensive movements. High praise is bestowed upon General Trochu for his great judgment and unremitting activity. Much praise is also accorded to Minister Gambetta, who, since his arrival at Tours, has produced an extraordinary improvement in affairs generally by his vigorous administra-

Suggestions of peace that would probably be agreed to by Prussia and France are made both in London and Florence, among which are the renunciation of territorial spoliation from France by Prussia on receiving Luxembourg, the dismantling of the fortresses of Metz and Strasbourg, the payment of £80,000,000 sterling as indemnity. It is further suggested that Prussia will insist upon the possion of Alsace and Lorraine.

WEDNESDAY'S NEWS. A correspondent from Versailles, under date of 19th, relates that Bismarck had said in his hearing that Germany would never sheathe the sword until she was safe from solence of her unprincipled neighbor.

The Prussians besieging Paris are severely harassed by nightly sorties and constant firing from the forts. They have not been able to succeed in erecting any batteries of siege guns which can bombard the city with effect. Their plans to bombard Verdun were disconcerted by a successful sortie of the garrison. After suffering a heavy bombardment, the town of Schlestadt surrendered on Monday.

- THURSDAY'S NEWS. A despatch from Berlin reports that the efforts by the Bonapartists, through Bazaine, to restore peace on the basis of the Empress resuming her position as Regent, have been abandoned. The only hope of peace, there-fore, now remaining, is by the intervention of the neutral Powers.

A most intense longing for peace is said to be the prevailing idea in Berlin, and the lower classes clamor for the termination of the war. One battalion of landwehr, in repelling Bazaine's sortie of the 7th, lost more than 400 fathers of families, leaving as many bereaved widows and 1,074 orphans.

It seems to be conceded that a meeting be tween Thiers and Bismarck has been arranged, and that the Government at Tours has accepted the principle of "an armistice."

FRIDAY'S NEWS. A despatch from the King of Prussia to the Queen vesterday conveyed the stirring announcement that "Bazaine and Metz had capitulated." One hundred and fifty thousand men were made prisoners, embracing twenty thousand sick and wounded. The King speaks of it as "one of the most important events of the war.". The news which comes to Tours from all parts of France has but one expression-the hope that no humiliating conditions of peace will be accepted. The journals with one voice say that in the indefinite prosecution of the war consists the only hope of fair terms of

All the Mobiles in the Provinces of Britany have been ordered by M. Keratry to concentrate at Maus, the object being to oppose the progress of the Prussians, who seem to be moving in that direction.

It is said that the terms of peace proposed by England, Russia and Austria were: No cession of territory, the razing of Metz and Strasbourg, France to pay 200.000.000 francs indemnity, and to guarantee peace.

SATURDAY'S NEWS. The articles of capitulation of Metz were signed Thursday night, and it is to be occupied by the Prussians to day. It is now said that the number of prisoners is one hundred and seventy three thousand, including three marshals and six thousand officers. A despatch has been received at Tours from Basle, which reports that the Prussians had been defeated near Besancon, leaving twelve hundred dead on the field, and taking with them fifty three wagons loaded with wounded. They are said to have fled with disorder, part of them crossing into Swiss territory.

MONDAY'S NEWS. Particulars of the capitulation of Metz have been received from several sources. It is said to have taken nobody at all conversant with the facts by surprise. For several preceding days, the French pickets were drawn in and firing entirely ceased. The Germans would advance close to the French lines and occasionally give their emaciated soldiers a part of sible for Bazaine to have held out three days longer. It is said that, after a visit to Versailles, he is going with Changarnier to Wil-helmshoche. The King of Prussia has conferred the batons of field marshals on the two Princes, Frederick and Frederick Charles, who are said to be the first who have received such in the history of their family.

A Berlin newspaper of Saturday says that the last summons to surrender hes been sent to the military authorities in Paris, and that the bombardment will begin early this week. Twelve French men-of-war have left Dunkirk, going north.

TRULY SAD-SUICIDE. - The train from the West Saturday morning contained the corpse of Mrs. A. T. Nickell, who died suddenly at Millboro, Bath county, which was being taken by her husband to Waynesboro' to be buried by the side of her father. Dr. Henry. When the train had gotten within a few miles of Staunton, the afflicted husband, on the platform of the last car, shot himself in the head. He fell from the car to the ground. The train was stopped as soon as possible, and returned to take him on again. When the train arrived here, physicians were immediately called to examine his condition, who instantly decided that the wound was mortal, and that he could live but a short time. The dying husband and dead wife were taken SAD FATE OF A CABPET RAGGER .- Rich- to Waynesboro'. As Mr. A. T. He was a native and resident of Monroe county, W. Wa.

- Hon: Robert Ridgeway, member of Congress from the Fifth District of Virginia, and a former editor of the Richmond Whig, died in Amherst county a few nights since.

- Frederick City, Md., has contributed $1,052 in each and $500 worth of clothing for the relief of the sufferers at Harpers Ferry by the late freshet.

- Thomas A. Scott, Vice President of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad contributed $1,000 in behalf of the sufferers in Virginia by the recent flood.

RAILROAD MATTERS.

PROGRESSING.—The Shenandoah V. R. R. progressing rapidly. The Engineer corps ill be in this neighborhood in less than ten lays. We feel confident of the success of this enterprise, when such men as Messrs. Barrett, Stewart and Johnston are leading the "skirmish line." We understand Mr. Collins has secured large reinforcements in the way of carts, horses, &c .- Page Courier.

The Warren Sentinel of Saturday last also contains the following communication in reference to our road, and in giving the right of way by a number of the farmers of Clarke

Messrs: Editors :- Having been recently notified of being appointed one of the assessors of damages on the line of the Shenandoah Valley Railroad, in this county, as surveyed, mapped and reported by J. B. McEiroy, Engineer for the Company on the low grade line, I have the gratification to report that the enterprising citizens, who are deeply interested in the success of the railroad along the line of Millwood and Milldate to Front Royal, have left very little work to be done by the assessors. I take the liberty of announcing that the free right of way has been subscribed and obtained by Mr. J. B. McElroy along the whole distance from Millwood to Front Royal, and, as I had the pleasure of accompanying as well as assisting him, I hope I will not infringe upon the modesty or interest of any concerned in publishing the names of the subscribers to the right of way, beginning at Millwood and advancing successfully along the line to Front future cruel assaults and the ambition and in-

Maj. Bevery Randolph, Frank Steine, Jas. W. Ryann, Wm. Sowers, Wm. B. Harris, Wm. T. Kerfoot, Jas. L. Marshall, Jas. V. Weir, Wm. D. Timberlake, John S. Timberlake, Col. Thos. B. Macsie, C. B. Reese, Wm. S. Conrad, John Hansbrough, Joseph McKay, M. T. Fristoe, John Hoskins, Morgan Johnston and Moore & Carson.

I doubt not that the upper end of the county will give equally as good report, as well as the citizens of Front Royal—in addition to their present liberal subscription—as all have an interest in having the road pass through the county seat.

The question of damages through the lower end of the county being satisfactorily disposed of, Mr. Collins and his big plows will find no difficulty in throwing up the grade, as his route will be over lands accustomed to being turned by the Barshear. Perhaps it may be important to state that the line surveyed passes without hindrance the recent high water marks, and the recent freshet has been timely in defining the proper elevation to be sustained at all points in constructing the road.

I am, very respectfully, JNO. S. TIMBEBLAKE. The Hagerstown Herald contains the following paragraph :---We see it announced in the Philadelphia papers of last week that the Hanover and Getfysburg Railroad, with the Tape Worm and its franchises, was sold at public sale in that city on the 13th instant, for one hundred and eighty thousand dollars, the Reading Railroad being the purchaser. We understand that this looks to a resuscitation of this long neglected work, and its extension through Washington county to connect with the Shenandoal at Shepherdstown, making an independent line of road between Mobile and New York by Philadelphia.

Dr. Pierce's Alt. Ext., or Golden Medical Discovery, will not raise the dead, but it will benefit and cure the living. For all Severe Coughs, Throat and Bronchial Diseases it has never yet been equaled. ## SPECIAL NOTICES.

A Body and Mind Disease. Such is dyspepsia. The stomach and the brain tre too intimately allied for the one to suffer without the other, so that dyspepsia and despondency are inseperable. It may be added, too, that irritation of the stomach is almost invariably accompanied by irritation of the temper.

The invigorating and tranquilizing operation of Hostetter's Bitters is most powerfully developed in cases of indigestion. The first effect of this agreeable tonic is comforting and encouraging. A mild glow pervades the system, the chronic uneasiness in the region of the stomach is lessened, and the nervous reatlessness which characterizes the disease is abated. This improvement is not transient. It is not succeeded by the return of the old symptoms with super-added force, as is always the case when unmedi cated stimulants are given for the complaint. Each dose seems to impart a permanent accession of healthful invigoration. But this is not all. The aperient and antibilious properties of the preparation are scarcely secondary in importance to its tion are scarcely secondary in importance to its tonic virtues. If there is an overflow of bile the secretion is soon brought within proper limits, and if the bileary organ is inert and torpid it is toned and regulated. The effect upon the discharging organs is equally salutary, and in cases of constipation the cathartic action is just sufficient to produce the desired result gradually and without pain. The Bitters also promete healthy evaporation from the surface which is particularly desirable at this season when sudden spells of raw, unpleasant weather are apt to check the natural perspiration and produce congestion of the liver, coughs, and colds. The less asfeguard against all diseases is bodily vigor, and this the great Vegetable Residrative casentially promotes.

In reference to the subject of Sabbath Schools, it was reported that 33 such schools have been in operation during the past year, as connected with the various churches, and that the average attendance upon the same had been of scholars 1,241, and teachers 198 and that these schools had been productive of much good.

In reference to the Publication interest, it charge of that matter to raise the funds needed to establish two depositories in order the bet-ter to supply the books, papers, &c., needed within the bounds of Presbytery.

The Rev. E. Martin, having been called to the Church in St. Charles, Mo., was very reluctantly dismissed to the Presbytery of St.

An earnest, able and protracted discussion took place in reference to the method of supplying the numerous vacant churches, and of giving greater efficiency to the means and agencies employed in promoting the interests of the church, and at its close the following plan was adopted, viz: that of dividing the Presbytery into four districts and constituting to have the care of the work in their respective districts.

The 1st District embraces that part of the Virginia Valley extending from Winchester of John A. Thomson, Esq., of Jefferson to Mt. Jackson-Ministers to supply it, Rev. county; and the following couples in aten-Messrs, Graham, C. White, Billings and Cly-The 2nd District comprises that part of the

The following letter of sympathy was prepared and directed to be sent to Rev. Dr. Dutton, who nearly lost his life in the late flood at Harper's Ferry :

"The Presbytery of Winchester being informed of the calamity of our belove 1 Brother Dutton, and also of his marvellous del verance from the perils of the flood, with his family, desire to express to him their since esympathy in his distress, and also to unite with him inthanksgiving for his deliverence, and their prayers that he may spendily be restored to usual bodily health and usefulness."

> A SAD CASE .- One of the unfortunate sufferers by the late flood, Mr. Henry Wiltse, of Albermarle, was wandering, listlessly round the streets of Harrisonburg a few days ago, in company with a sympathizing friend. Mr. Wiltse had had the misfortune to have his wife and two children (one an infant a few days old) carried off and drowned by the late flood at Rio Mills in Albermarle. He stood upon one side of the stream and saw his family carried off on the other without the power to render them the least assistance! As they were swept down the current their hands were stretched out imploringly for assistance. Is itany wander that with such an overwhelming stroke, his reason should totter on its throne? What is the loss of property when compared with this poor man's loss of all his household treasures?-Alas! how little we know of or care for the miseries of others!

THE GREAT FLOOD IS OVER! Broadway House IN SAFETY

August 3, 1869-tf.

ONE of the astounding events of the age, is that to of the great flood in the Shenandoah river and the Valley of Virginia! But there is one of yet greater magnitude and importance to the material interests of the people of this community and the county at large, though no shipwreck of fortune or destruction of life has followed in its train. It is notorious to all the world, and almost the rest of many days in mankind, that there has been for many days in Charlestown one HEDGES, who has been keeping A Dry Goods, Notion and Variety Store, in the Run District of the city, known and patron ized by all people as the "Broadway House," but he has become alarmed at the big waters, and in humanity and justice to his thousand friends and REMOVED TO THE FRONT, with his cargo full freighted and his sails to the mast, casting anchor in the large and handsomely arranged store room of the "HOOFF BUILDING," near the Court House that was, and the Carter House that is. Here he will be high and dry, al-House that is. Here he will be high and dry, al-waye ready to serve his friends and the public gen-erally, with a stock greatly enlarged, a variety more extensive and inducements irresistible. Apprecia-ting the calamity that has been common to all by the devastations of the great flood, he is determined to give the propiethe advantage of much greater bargains than ever heretofore offered. Now is the ime for all to take the ADVANTAGE OF GETTING BARGAINS. Come one, come all, and be sure to come with the damps in your pockets, and you shall go off happy and rejoicing, saying to yourselves. We are glad he has freightened to the front. Remember the place now, Broadway Store, opposite the Carter House, where you will always get chesp goods.

SOLUBLE PACIFIC GUANO, IMPROVED IN QUALITY AND CONDITION.

THE quality of this Guano is materially improved

I this season by the addition to its compos

a large per cept. of the SALTS OF POTASU. It is improved in condition by being brought into market sufficiently dry and uniformly fine to pass with facility and regularity through the orifices of the WHEAT DRILL. More than $1,000,000 is involved in the produc tion of this Guano, and the trade in it has steadily increased, until now it far exceeds that of any other fertilizer.

The Pacific Guano Company has a far greater interest in the maintainance of the quality of its Guano than any number of consumers can have: hence no apprehension need exist as to its continued excellence.

Eulogy of Gen. Wade Hampton on Gen.

A few days ago, at a public meeting held in Columbia, S. C., Gen. Wade Hampton delivered a very impressive eulogy on the death of Gen. Robert E. Lee, concluding as follows :

"Now that he is fallen, I may mention what I have never spoken of before, to show you' not only what were the feelings that actuated him in the duty to which his beloved countrymen called him, but what noble sentiments inspired him, when he saw the cause for which he had been fighting so long about to perish. Just before the surrender, after a night devoted to the most arduous duties, as one of his staff came in to see him in the morning, he found him worn and weary and disheartened. and the General said to him, 'How easy I could get rid of this and be at rest. I have only to ride along the line, and all will be over. But,' said he-and there spoke the Christian patriot-'h is our duty to live, for what will become of the women and children of the South if we are not here to protect them?" That same spirit of duty which had actuated him through all the perils and all the hardships of that unequal conflict which he had waged so heroically-that same high spirit of duty told him that he must live to show that he was great-greater, if that were possible, in peace than in war; live to teach the people whom he had before led to victory how to bear defeat; live to show what a great and good man can accomplish; live to set an example to his people for all time; live to bear, if nothing else, his share of the serrows, and the afflictions, and the troubles which had come upon his people. He is now at rest; and surely we of the South can say of him, as we say of his great exemplar, the 'Father of his Country,' that he was first in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his country-

Egotism.

Egotism is defined to be an excessive love of self, an overweening opinion of one's talents and capabilities. "The egotistical man, says Crabb, makes himself the darling theme of contemplation; "he admires and loves himself to that degree that he can think and talk of nothing else." Egotism is the voice of fools; it leads its possessor to underrate the abilities of all those with whom he comes in contact, and to overestimate his own attainments. In a five minutes conversation he will introduce the pompous "I" fifteen times, clearly demonstrating himself at least, that this great terrestrial ball would speedily be non est if that particular I was scratched out. The egotistical man has no superiors. You present to him some beautiful work of art, but long before you are through pointing out its particular claims to be ranked with similar productions of past ages, you are greeted with "but I," and in less than ten minutes you are assured as many times, that you are in the presence of one who has no superior in that field of labor. Let one of this class be called upon to fill the place of another and no matter how much ability may be displayed by his predecessor, his egostical nature will not allow him to bestow the full meed of praise, or even do impartial justice, but impelled by an overweening love of self, he hesitates not to inuendously decry others that he may elevate

"I am going to do so and so," are words that constantly fall from his lips or flew from his pen. But he never gets more done than the blowing, and long before that is finished every body is sick and disgusted. We shun this class of bipeds himself.

"With as much assiduous care, As dens where hungry lions are." Reader if you have been spared the affliction of being bored by one of these egotisti-'cal fellows, you have great cause for thankfulness, and to be happy, take our advice and never go near one.

DAMAGES FOR KISSING .- In the Superior Court of Baltimore Thursday, in the case of Seiberts vs. Leeson, the jury gave a verdict for the plaintiff for damages, $275. The Sciberts were tenants of Leeson, and the latter called on the lady in relation to rent, and after inquiring and assuring himself that the husband was absent, engaged her in conversation, and indulging in some compliments, seized her hand and kissed it.

A DAY OF MOURNING FOR LEE .- Rich mond, Va., October 24.-The Hollywood Memorial Association has adopted a resolution recommending that the fourth Sunday in November be set aside as a day of mourning throughout the South for Gen. Lee, and onthat day collections be taken up in all the churches to constitute a Lee monument fund.

- An ill-humored English wife, abusing her husband on account of his mercenary disposition, told him that if she was dead, he would marry the devil's eldest daughter, if he could get anything by it. "That's true," re-plied the husband, "but the worst of it is, in England one can't marry two sisters."

-In a storm at sea, the chaplain asked one of the crew if he thought there was any danger. "Oh, yes," replied the sailor; "if it blows as hard as it does now, we shall all be in heaven before twelve o'clock at night." The chaplain, terrified at the expression cried out, "The Lord forbid!"

- The number of lives reported to have been lost by the freshet in the Shenandoah river between Harper's Ferry and Staunton numbers nearly one hundred.

- D. W. Voorhees has been re-elected to Unless done up in steel-engraved wrapper, with Congress from the sixth district of Indiana by fac-simile of my Chemical Warehouse, and signed a majority of about 1,000. In 1868 his majority was only 128.

- When a girl falls in love with an Irishman, her heart always goes pity Pat.

PREPARATION OF COMPOUND

EXTRACT BUCHU.

The component parts are BUCHU, LONG LEAF, CUBEBS, JUNIPER BERRIES.

MODE OF PREPARATION.

Buchu, in vacuo. Juniper Berries, by distilla-tion, to form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by dis placement with spirits obtained from Juniper Berries; very little sugar is used, and a small pro-portion of spirit. It is more palatable than any now portion of spirit. It is more palatable than any now in use.

Buchu, as prepared by Druggists, is of a dark color. It is a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this (its active principle), leaving a dark and glutinous decoction. Mine is the color of ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation predominates; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection, it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacopæa, nor is it a Surup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflammation exist. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

Aration.

Hoping that you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation,
With a feeling of confidence,
Fam, very respectfully,
