DEATH OF GENERAL LEE. The Memorial Meeting in Richmond. Speech of Mr. Davis - Resolutions Adopted.

When Virginia joined the Confederacy, Robert Lee, the highest officer in the little army of Virginia, came to Richmond, and not pausing to inquire what would be his rank in the service of the Confederacy, went to West-ern Virginia under the belief that he was still an officer of the State.

When the Government of Virginia was organized, it was necessary to select the best to provide for the organization of central executive committees in other States, which may serve as mediums of communication between the executive committee of the Association and the local associations of these States.

She is Dying. The following is a truly beautiful and pathetic, and could only have been dictated by a heart that has experienced all the bitterness that is therein expressed.

MEMORIAL RESOLUTIONS. Colonel C. S. Venable then presented the following report of the Committee on Resolutions.

Whereas, It is a high and holy duty, as well as a noble privilege, to perpetuate the honors of those who have displayed eminent virtues and performed great achievements, that they may serve as incentives and examples to the living generations of their countrymen, and attest the reverential admiration and affectionate regard of their compatriots; and whereas, this duty and privilege devolves on all who love and admire General Robert E. Lee throughout this country and the world, and in an especial manner upon those who followed him in the field; or who fought in the same cause, who shared in the glorious partook of his trials, and were united with him in the same courage and adversity, who were devoted to him in war by the baptism of fire and blood, and bound to him in peace by the still higher

NOVEMBER ELECTIONS.

So far as the returns from the different States have been received in which elections were held on Tuesday, says the Baltimore Gazette, they present, for the most part, conclusive evidence of Radical losses. In two States only, have the Radicals really made any sensible gains.

In Arkansas, which stood in the last Congress two Radicals to one Democrat, three Democratic candidates have been elected. In New York the Democrats have carried the State by over thirty thousand majority, and have increased their delegation to Congress, and have elected a majority of the Assembly.

In Wisconsin the Democrats elect two Congressmen, and have cut down the Radical vote from 22,130 in 1868, to about 6,000—Democratic gain of 16,000 votes.

The West Virginia Press on the Election.

The recent election in this State is, of course, says the Wheeling Register, looked upon through different lights by the editors of the papers of the respective parties in the State. Our Democratic friends are particularly jubilant over the result because of their long repression and in view of the prospect that this is the first and greatest of a long series of triumphs in West Virginia, the greatest because it has been attained over obstacles which it is not likely we will ever have to encounter again.

The Fairmount West Virginian, Radical, says:

"We planned our roster with energy, fed him on hope, and marked him 'not transferable' in loud states; our satisfaction was only equalled by his abominable perversity; he is a hen. She is not a rooster, for he won't crow—the best! the—the—hang him!—She can't crow, so he can't! To speak in strict accordance with our feelings, we are half inclined to murder him for his wretched failure."

"From present indications, and the popular belief; from existing circumstances and the evidence of stubborn facts, and the final result of a careful sifting up by careful arithmeticians, we presume we can't very well do otherwise than acknowledge the success of the Democratic State ticket; two Democratic Congressmen; a majority of the Democratic legislature, and numerous Democratic 'electors'—which afflicting dispensation we trust we duly and truly deplore."

CIRCUIT COURT.

The November term of the Jefferson Circuit Court, Judge Hall presiding, convened in Shepherdstown on Wednesday last. The Grand Jury, after a session of two days, issued eleven indictments, for misdemeanors, &c. Judge Edward White, of Berryville, qualified as a practicing attorney in this Court. The Court opened with the commencement of the Middlekuff case, and occupied two days in hearing the evidence. The argument was opened on Thursday night, and on Friday the jury returned a verdict of 'not guilty.' The case, however, was set for State; and Lucas, Green, Faulkner and Blackburn, for Middlekuff. The trial of Owen Vanvactor, for the killing of Ryan Piper, (colored), is set for Thursday next.

FRANCE AND PRUSSIA.

From the condensed news column of the Baltimore Gazette, we make up the following summary:— TUESDAY'S NEWS. By the course taken by Prussia in the discussions on the armistice, it is contended that she assumes all the responsibility of the continuation of the war. The "duplicité" of Bismarck is bitterly resented. He pretended to negotiate, it is said, to gain time to safely bring up reinforcements.

FRANCE AND PRUSSIA.

From the condensed news column of the Baltimore Gazette, we make up the following summary:— TUESDAY'S NEWS. By the course taken by Prussia in the discussions on the armistice, it is contended that she assumes all the responsibility of the continuation of the war. The "duplicité" of Bismarck is bitterly resented. He pretended to negotiate, it is said, to gain time to safely bring up reinforcements.

Spirit of Jefferson.

LOCAL MISCELLANY. THE GRAND BARBECUE.

A Day of Rejoicing.

Tuesday last was indeed a day of rejoicing among all classes of our citizens. The day dawned bright and cloudless, and at an early hour our streets were thronged with men, women and children from every section of the county, all eager to participate in the celebration of the recent political victory in this State, by which they are "redeemed, regenerated and disenthralled."

The Governor elect, John J. Jacob, Esq., arrived on the early train, and was taken in charge by the Committee of reception. Shortly after ten o'clock, Col. John T. Gibson, Chief Marshal, with the aid of Col. Lewis Washington, Col. R. P. Chew, C. C. Porter and E. W. Wilson, Esq., as Assistant Marshals.

FORMED THE PROCESSION, in the following order, viz:—Martinsburg Brass Band; Mounted Knights, with U. S. flag; Omnibus containing Governor Jacob, speakers, committee of reception, etc.; citizens in line by twos. Although numbers had already preceded it, the procession was one of the largest and most imposing we have witnessed for years.

THE BARBECUE, after forming in the above order, the line of march was taken up for the grounds selected for the occasion, on the Smithfield turnpike, a short distance from town. After arriving at the grounds, the first order of the day being

THE TOASTING, the Knights were marshaled in line by Col. R. P. Chew, and a most happy and appropriate charge delivered to them by Gen. Moore, Esq., after which, at about 12 o'clock, M., the tilting commenced.

After a short and spirited contest, the following were declared the victors:— 1st. Knight of Monticello—J. R. Avis, who crowned Miss Bessie O'Bannon, of Charlottesville, Queen of Love and Beauty.

2d. Knight of Shamondale—E. F. Gallaher, who selected Miss Florence Strider, of Charlottesville, as First Maid of Honor.

3d. Knight of Lone Star—W. T. Spotts, who chose as Second Maid of Honor, Miss Christie Russell, of Charlottesville.

4th. Knight of Waterloo—J. B. Tabb, who, by substitute, (Knight of Rolling Stick J. S. Gallaher), crowned Miss Cora Strider, of Charlottesville, Third Maid of Honor.

The coronation address, and presentation of a fine saddle to the first successful Knight, J. R. Avis, were made by Gen. Moore, Esq., in his usual chaste and appropriate style.

By this time the immense auditory had a keen relish for dinner, and after refreshing the inner man at the bountiful tables near by, assembled around the stand erected for THE SPEAKING.

On motion of Joseph Trappell, Esq., the Hon. Wm. H. Travers was unanimously chosen President of the meeting. Advancing to the front of the stand, amid the loud cheers of the assembled multitude, Mr. Travers said that we had come together to rejoice in our redemption; that now at last we were about to realize the truth of that motto—which since the inception of the State, had been naught but a burning lie upon its escutcheon—Montani Semper Liberi, Mountaineers are Always Free.

For five long years we had endured every wrong that hatred and malice could inflict, had been disfranchised and oppressed; but through it all we had borne and borne, and now, under the gallant leadership of our standard-bearer, we were redeemed—a "Jacob's ladder" had been erected, and on it we may ascend and descend. Now indeed, thank God, had the winter of our discontent been made glorious summer.

At the conclusion of his remarks, Mr. Travers introduced to the audience JOHN J. JACOB, ESQ., the Governor elect. Governor Jacob said that he came on that day to congratulate the oppressed and down-trodden people of Jefferson upon their deliverance from the oppression under which they had groined. The recent political victory in this State was not a triumph of the Democrats, Conservatives or Republicans; but a triumph of the people.

"We have met the enemy and they are ours." Injured, down-trodden and oppressed as we have been, we should exhibit to the world a spirit of magnanimity, and show mercy to those who have oppressed us. Registration was ended, and that forever; and in a short time registry laws would become as infamous in the eyes of the American people as ever were the "alien and sedition laws." He hoped our little State would now start on a new career. In the past, naught but strife and turmoil had prevailed—class had been arrayed against class, the mechanic against the farmer, the laborer against the capitalist.

After paying a handsome tribute to the large concourse of the fair sex present, and thanking them in the name of the great Conservative party, the Governor retired amid tremendous applause.

After music by the Band, that well-known and favorite orator of other days—the mention of whose name was but the signal for long and hearty cheers—

THOS. M. ISBELL, ESQ., was introduced to the audience. Mr. Isbell remarked that he was about to say "friends and fellow-citizens;" but he would have to wait a short time yet before he could address a Jeffersonian audience by that endearing title. He had come to congratulate them upon the recent great political victory in West Virginia. He had just risen from a sick bed, had been confined to his room for four days, but when the news of the great victory they were celebrating reached his ear, he could not refrain from being present to mingle in their rejoicing. The Governor, he said, was our "John the Baptist," whom he trusted and believed, had but prepared the way for a yet more glorious triumph. Justice, which had descended from Heaven and was stricken to the earth, had been reasserted. To-day, while we assemble here, United States troops are marching into New York to quell elections. "Friends," I cannot yet say "fellow-citizens," but when my friend here is firmly seated in the Executive chair, and the political crib deeply swept and garnished of all that now defiles it; then will I say "friends and fellow-citizens."

To-day an election is being held in Virginia and a number of other States, and we look yet for other victories. We mean to wipe out this army of locusts, that have been sapping the country of all its wealth and prosperity. The carpet-baggers are "going, going, gone!"

Loud and repeated cheers were then made for another favorite Jeffersonian, R. HUME RITCHIE, ESQ.

At length this gentleman appeared, and after thanking those present for their kind recollection of him, made a brief, but touching address. Degraded and oppressed for eight or ten years, he had almost entirely secluded himself from public life, and lived in the retirement of his own domain, simply because, under West Virginia's Radical rule, he could not go forth and "feel himself a man."

But if the party now going into power would keep their promises and fulfill their pledges—he said he thought they would—it would not be long before we could claim the free exercise of every right of an American citizen. Let us be honest, he said, and ask no rights for ourselves but what are conceded to others. Let the ten thousand office-holders in the State be cut down to a unit; let the bond-holder pay taxes with the laborer, the office-holder with the voter; let all pay their honest taxes. Let us have no monopolies—monopolies will perish, but the people will live. Let us march shoulder to shoulder, and see that the men whom we elect do not dodge. He then made a touching reference to his visit to the barbecue grounds, stating that there were few present whom he knew; but that as he rode through the crowd, only here and there did he meet with a familiar face. We have the power, he said, and must hold it; and never trust a man that once deceives us.

E. W. WILSON, ESQ., one of the newly elected Delegates from this county, was then introduced to the audience. He congratulated West Virginia upon her victory. Thought that the barbecue was the best tonic that could have been administered to Mr. Isbell. Believed that the Governor would discharge his duty. There was a grand mission for the Democratic party; it was in its power now to bring about the good old ante-bellum days. He had made a calculation, and we had only two more States to gain to have a majority in Congress. We wouldn't disturb the Radical party—wouldn't bother any of them, from the Governor down to a Constable, with the duties of an office. Governor Stevenson reminded him of a gentleman, Governor Stevenson reminded him of a gentleman, who had once gone coon-hunting with his friend Edmund Chambers. They got into the woods, started a coon and ran him up a tree; but not being able to see him, they determined that some one must climb the tree. So up went the gentleman, and after getting pretty well up in the tree, discovered the coon far out upon a limb. He crawled carefully out, and at last made a reach for his coonship; but he found it instead of securing the coon, he fell and found himself swinging to the underside of the limb, at a considerable distance from the ground. In his alarm, he asked his friend Chambers, who was a Methodist class-leader, what he should do. Mr. Chambers thereupon advised him to pray, when he commenced framing a petition to the throne of grace, but finding his hold on the limb giving way, he cut short his prayer with an oath, and fell to the ground. So, said Mr. Wilson, had Governor Stevenson grabbed at the gubernatorial coon, but when he reached out at his hand, he "wasn't there!"

"At the conclusion of Mr. Wilson's address, the meeting was adjourned to Charlottesville, at 7 o'clock.

AT NIGHT, a large and enthusiastic torch-light procession was formed in front of the old court-house, and moved through the principal streets of the town, numbers of the business and dwelling houses of our citizens being brilliantly illuminated, and the whole interspersed with fireworks. Among the inscriptions upon the transparencies borne in the procession, were the following:

"The 20th of October, 1870, 'Told the Tale,' 'White as the Mountains' Rule."

"Shoo Fly."

"Do You Belong to Gideon's Band?—'Guess Not.' 'Don't Bodder Me.'"

A Rooster, with the inscription: "While I Live, 'I'll Crow.'"

"I hear the knell of departing day, Which says the Bada must pass away."

"Tyranee has Ended."

"The People are Bound to Have Their Rights." "Look Forward to 1872."

"Stevenson was Once, but Can't Come In the Second Time."

"This is Our Country—This is It."

"West Virginia Redeemed."

"Registration Gone Up."

"Have you seen Brackett?"

"We bury the Radical Party to day."

"Virginia, Now and Forever."

"The Majority Rules."

"We are Almost Free."

"Where's John the Baptist?"

"Redeemed, Regenerated, Disenthralled."

The procession having returned and halted in front of the Seppington Hotel, John W. Kennedy, Esq., introduced to the crowd E. W. Wilson, Esq., who again made a stirring address, and was followed by Blackburn, Hughes, Esq., of Martinsburg, Joseph Trappell, Esq., Governor Jacob and the Hon. W. H. Travers, in able efforts. Mr. Travers being especially warmed up on the occasion, referred in touching language to his native Maryland, from whence he had just received a dispatch announcing a glorious triumph for the Conservative party. This was received with tremendous applause.

We would like to dwell at length upon the remarks of the several speakers, but time and space forbid. After a few additional remarks by Mr. Wilson, the proceedings were wound up by an extensive bon-fire, and a serenade to the Governor elect. Altogether, the day was pleasantly, and we trust profitably spent, all enjoying themselves to their fullest extent.

Before concluding, we cannot forbear making favorable mention of some of those to whose tireless energy and forethought we owe the arrangements for the day, viz: Dept. D. H. Cockrill, Julius C. Holmes, J. Ed Duke, Geo. W. Henson, A. Stump, J. E. Hilbert and James N. Gallaher.

STARTLING REVELATIONS.—Confession of Crime.—We have been informed by a reliable citizen of Berkeley, of a startling revelation of crime in that county. It seems that some time during the year 1861, a young man by the name of Robert Daniels, living near Gerardstown, left home and was never heard from afterwards, until last week, when a man by the name of Light, living at the foot of the Round Top, on his death-bed, not only confessed to the murder of young Daniels and stated where his remains might be found, but also confessed to robbing Dr. Coe, of Gerardstown, about the same time, and a list of other crimes, which death cut him short in relating.

DEATH OF DR. CORDELL.—Our community was shocked on yesterday morning by the reception of a telegram announcing the death, in Baltimore—whence he had gone several weeks since to visit his wife, who is sick with her son in that city—of Dr. L. C. Cordell, of this place. Dr. C. was one of our most respected and public spirited citizens, and had been for many years a consistent member of the Protestant Episcopal Church. In his death the community loses a valued citizen, and his family a faithful and loving husband and father. He was aged about 60 years. He will be buried to-day by the Masonic fraternity.

UNLUCKY MISHAP.—We have heard several reports of an unlucky mishap to a citizen of African descent, of our county, Miss Johnson. Miles, it seems, was to have married on Wednesday night last, and on Tuesday evening preceding, whilst near the Opecon, on his way to the residence of Mr. A. S. Darridge, had the sad misfortune to lose his footing and fall into a cave, where he was compelled to remain until Friday, when he was taken out by several gentlemen, who were out hunting and discovered his carpet-bag on the ground near by.

A PANIC IN CHURCH.—On Tuesday evening last, whilst a very large congregation was attentively listening to a sermon in the M. E. Church, in Leesburg, an alarm was raised that the gallery was falling, and a general scramble for the doors and windows ensued. Mrs. Lupton, the wife of Rev. J. W. Lupton, of the Presbyterian Church, had a bone of her arm fractured, in getting from one of the windows on the lower floor. No other accident occurred.

ATTEMPTED HIGHWAY ROBBERY.—It is rumored that a Mr. Rush who resides in the neighborhood of Vanleeville, in this county, while returning from Martinsburg one night last week was stopped in a very dark spot, and secluded part of the road by a man who caught his bridle and demanded his money. Mr. Rush replied that he would give him money as soon as he got his revolver out. The robber then released his hold upon the bridle and struck Mr. R. with a heavy club but owing to the darkness he struck too high and missed him, and in landing his horse only in a wound on top of his head. Mr. Rush, finding his rein loos, then put up his horse and escaped without further molestation.—Gerardstown Times.

THE FREEMASON, Geo. Frank Gouley, editor and publisher, St. Louis, Mo., $2 per annum. The November number of this excellent magazine is at hand, and is replete with news of interest to the craft. The September and October numbers, we regret, have not been received, and we conjecture, from the address on the wrapper containing the present number, that they have been mis-carried. We would be glad if our exchanges would be particular in directing their papers to Charlottesville, Jefferson county, West Va.

JEFFERSON ELECTION.—The Board of Supervisors on Thursday last, awarded certificates of election to Mr. Geo. W. Chase, for the Sheriff, and Geo. M. Beltzhofer, Esq., for Prosecuting Attorney, Messrs. Chambers and Davies having withdrawn their notice of contest. Mr. Barry did not make his appearance to contest the election of Mr. Fayman for the Recorder'ship.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT.—On Thursday afternoon last, Mr. John Terrill, of this county, met with a painful and serious accident, by being thrown from a colt, near Charlottesville. Upon examination by Dr. C. T. Richardson, it was found that Mr. Terrill's lower jaw was badly fractured, and all of his lower front teeth knocked out.

ACCOMMODATION FOR TRAVELERS.—We are pleased to observe that Capt. Chambers, the polite and attentive conductor of the freight and passenger train on the W. & P. R. R., has been supplied with an additional passenger coach to his train, so that travelers on this line may hereafter enjoy as comfortable a ride as those on the regular mail train.

CELEBRATION IN SHEPHERDSTOWN.—The citizens of Shepherdstown and vicinity prepare having a grand Celebration and Torch-light Procession, on Saturday night next, the 19th of November, in honor of the recent Democratic victory in this State.

RELIGIOUS NOTICE.—The Rev. Bishop Johns will preach and administer the rite of Confirmation, in the Episcopal Church, on Thursday next, November 17th. Divine services at 11 o'clock, A. M. The usual collection for Diocesan Missions will be taken up.

WANTED.—Eight or ten loads of Wood, and a dozen barrels of Corn, are wanted at this office, for dues on subscription. Send them in at once.

RELIGIOUS.—The Rev. J. W. Ewan will preach at Kabetown on Sunday, November 20th, at 11 o'clock, and at the White House at 3 o'clock.

DISTRICT CONFERENCE.—The Winchester District Conference of the M. E. Church, South, met in Martinsburg on Thursday, the 23d instant. The following representatives from Jefferson and Shepherdstown Circles were present:—

Jefferson Circuit—Clerical, J. W. Ewan, Lay, Thomas Lock and B. Shugart. Shepherdstown—Clerical, W. G. Cross—Lay, G. T. Locklear and M. W. Barr.

The following delegates were elected to the Baltimore Annual Conference: George W. Anderson, G. T. Locklear, W. H. Massey and B. Shugart. Alternates, Moses W. Barr, Dan'l Marker, R. J. Evans and Joseph Beeler.

An interesting Sabbath school meeting was held at the Southern Methodist Church, during which addresses were delivered by E. W. Massey, Esq., and others.

Previous to the adjournment of Conference resolutions expressive of the high appreciation in which Rev. Presiding Elder Baird, whose term of official administration expires with the close of the present conference year, is held by the preachers and people of this district, were unanimously adopted.

An appropriate and impressive address was delivered by Rev. Norval Wilson, after which Conference adjourned sine die.

A VOICE FROM THE KITCHEN.—Upwards of fifty pressed cooks, many of them hailing from the best hotels of the United States, have voluntarily come forward and pronounce RAND'S EYE MOSS PAINING the finest article for sprains, contusions, blood blisters, rheumatism, and other painful affections of the skin, and in fact, for all the ailments of the human system.

So much for the palatability of the new element of food.

A still greater number of distinguished physicians and scientific chemists endorse it as a nutrient of the very highest class; while every housekeeper who uses it admits that it is fully fifty per cent. cheaper than maize, farina, corn starch, or any other preparation from corn or the cereals.

The new food staple is manufactured, under a patent, by the Sea Moss Famine Co., 53 Park Place, and in view of the above established facts, it is not surprising that their extensive machinery is kept running night and day to supply a demand that is rapidly becoming universal.

EX-SENATOR WILLEY.—The Richmond Dispatch in commenting upon the result of the West Virginia election, says: "One of the pleasing reflections suggested by these results is that Senator Willey, who said in the Virginia Secession Convention of 1861 that he would be a traitor to his State if he did not stand up for her defense after secession; who went home, as he told many gentlemen, to organize 'his people and prepare them to defend themselves from the northern people'; and who finally proved to be one of Virginia's bitterest enemies, will have to give up some man who has never made such professions and never believed them. We are very much of Dr. Platt's opinion, that the men who did not stand by their own sword 'won't do to tie to'."

ADAM S. DARRIDGE, August 3, 1869—11.

THE GREAT FLOOD IS OVER! Broadway House IN SAFETY!

ONE of the astounding events of the age, is that of the great flood in the Shenandoah river and the Valley of Virginia. But there is one of our great magnates and one of our best patriots, who has been instrumental in the interests of the people of this community and the country at large, though no shipwreck of fortune or destruction of life, and almost the rest of mankind, that there has been for many days in Charlottesville, on HEDGES, who has been keeping

A Dry Goods, Notion and Variety Store, in the Run District of the city, known and patronized by all people as the "Broadway House," but he has been located at the big water, and in humanity and justice to his thousands of friends and customers.

REMOVED TO THE FRONT, with his large full freighted and his sails to the mast, casting anchor in the large and handsomely arranged store room of the "HOOP BUILDING," near the Court House and the "Carter House" that is here. He will be high and dry, always ready to serve his friends and customers generally with a stock of goods, which he has been extending and increasing irretrievably. Appreciating the calamity that has been common to all by the devastations of the great flood, he is determined to give the people the advantage of much greater bargains than ever before offered. Now is the time for all to take ADVANTAGE OF GETTING BARGAINS. Come one, come all, and be sure to come with the stamps in your pocket, and you shall get off happy and rejoicing, saying to yourselves, "We are glad he has freighted to the front. Remember the old 'Broadway House' in its train, Carter House, where you will always get cheap goods. Oct. 25, '70. W. L. HEDGES, Agt.
