

GENERAL INTELLIGENCE.

LEGAL MEDICINE.

A case has recently occurred in France, in which a body was disinterred several years after burial, and the fact of the individual having been poisoned by arsenic determined by chemical examination.

Although more than seven years had elapsed since the interment, the body was recognized by the priest, by the grave-digger, and even by some of the national guard who had assisted at the ceremony, and fired over the grave.

At the same time, four ounces of arsenic were placed in a series of tests, were exposed on ignited charcoal. The suspected matter, well dried and rolled into little portions, was introduced. Each time this was done, a deliquescence was perceived. It was then allowed to cool, and the residue again dissolved in distilled water.

We find the following statistical account of the Baptists in America, in the last number of the Christian Secretary. Total number of Associations, 228; Churches, 4534; Ministers, 2014. Total Members, 304,827.

ADVANCE OF FORTUNE.—The present Lord Mayor of London was formerly a journeyman printer; by those gradations in wealth and rank which industry and honesty always beget, he became proprietor of a newspaper, and hence through all other advances, to the highest office in his native city.

Capt. Crocker, of the packet ship Pacific, has now completed one hundred and fifty-two passages across the Atlantic, without having ever met with a serious accident at sea.

FROM THE BALTIMORE CHRONICLE.

Treatment of Gen. Harrison in Colombia. Much has been published, and much more whispered, regarding the ill-treatment which Gen. Harrison, late Minister of the United States to Colombia, is said to have received during the latter part of his residence in Colombia.

Gen. Harrison has had a very difficult and delicate task to perform at Bogota. He found almost immediately after his arrival that but little reliance could be placed on the Government of the Republic.

Longevity.—There is now living in Franklin county, Pennsylvania, a man of the name of John Hall, who, from the best information that can be obtained from himself and others, is between 100 and 130 years of age!

Masquerade.—On Wednesday evening, a mob of several hundred persons collected in front of the Park Theatre, insulting, in the grossest manner, those who arrived in carriages to attend the amusement.

ARRIVAL OF MR. POINSETT.—The New Orleans papers announce the safe arrival of the Hon. J. K. Poinsett at New Orleans, on the 2d inst. in the U. S. ship Palmyra from Tampa.

Ampli.—The schooner Oristelle, at New-York, which sailed from Port-au-Prince on the 31st Jan. reports that the Spanish frigate Casilda, from Havana, had been there for 14 days, having landed an Ambassador, with authority to demand from the Haytian government the Spanish part of the Island.

The Mercantile Advertiser states that most of the Banks of the city of New York have resolved to receive and pay Spanish quarters of dollars at twenty-four cents each.

The New-castle and French Town Rail Road.—On the 4th of March next, books will be opened in New Castle for subscriptions to the Stock of a Company to make a Rail Road from French Town, Md. to New Castle Delaware.

The arrival of the Ship Pacific, at New York, from Liverpool, brings information of a considerable advance of the price of Cotton in Liverpool. An intelligent writer in the New York American, earnestly warns the merchants against the temptation to speculation which is offered by this advance of price.

An English friend writes to the editors of the New York Commercial under date of London, Jan. 4, as follows: "The Duke of Wellington holds on popular with his early adversaries, but sinking with his first supporters. Peel is despised alike by all parties.

Longevity.—There is now living in Franklin county, Pennsylvania, a man of the name of John Hall, who, from the best information that can be obtained from himself and others, is between 100 and 130 years of age!

THE SOUTHERN INDIANS.—We learn (says the Nat. Intell. of Feb. 22.) by an official despatch, received at the Department, that the principal chief of the upper town created the mail stage near Montgomery, in Alabama; that he declared that the land was the property of his tribe, and that the stage should not pass over it.

NEW-YORK, FEB. 19. Masquerade.—On Wednesday evening, a mob of several hundred persons collected in front of the Park Theatre, insulting, in the grossest manner, those who arrived in carriages to attend the amusement.

SHOCKING.—C. Robinson, coroner of Clarendon, Orleans county, New York, reports the death, under shocking circumstances, of two persons in his neighborhood.—one, Elijah Dolly, died drunk in a bar-room; the other, a Mrs. Anita, being intoxicated, fell into the fire, from which she was unable to extricate herself.

THE GROTON HERALD, in a history of that place, gives several anecdotes of the olden time, from among which is taken the following sample of the proceedings of the Selectmen:—

January 31, 1681.—It is agreed upon by the selectmen, that the Indians shall be warned out of the Town forthwith, and if they shall neglect the warning and if any of them be taken drunk or in drink, or with drink, then their persons are to be seized first before the Selectmen either by constable or by any other person, and be punished according as the law doth direct; and the Informer shall be satisfied for his pains.

March 28, 1682.—two Indian squaws being apprehended in drink, and with drink brought to the selectmen one squaw Nebacochin squaw being druncke was sentenced to receive and did receive ten stripes; the other John Nasgun's squaw was sentenced to pay 3s. 4d. cash, and loose her two quart bottle and the liquor in it, awarded to serg't Lakin who seized them.

The following letter, addressed to a gentleman in Farmville, enclosing $100, has been received by the person to whom it was addressed: "For about $70 stolen from your large iron chest-box in Manchester, a number of years ago."

MR. JEFFERSON.—THE INDIANS. In a letter to General Knox, Secretary of War, Mr. Jefferson, Secretary of State, wrote as follows, under date of August 10, 1791: "I am firmly of opinion, that Government should firmly maintain this ground, that the Indians have a right to the occupation of the lands independent of the States, within whose chartered limits they happen to be; and that until they cede them by treaty, or other transaction equivalent to a treaty, no act of a State, nor the present Constitution, nor the ancient Confederation, had any State, or persons, a right to treat with Indians, without the consent of the General Government; that that consent has never been given to any treaty for the cession of the lands in question; that the Government is determined to protect the rights of the Indians, and the preservation of peace between the United States and them; and that if any settlements are made on lands not ceded by them, without the previous consent of the United States, the Government will think itself bound not only to declare to the Indians that such settlements are without the authority or protection of the United States, but to remove them also by the public force."

MR. CRAWFORD.—A late Georgia paper, in a notice which it takes of a recent Charge of Judge Crawford to Grand Jury, says: "It affords us pleasure to say, that his Honor is as good health as we have ever seen him." This information will afford equal pleasure to his friends all over the Union.

CONGRESS. From the United States Telegraph. SATURDAY, FEB. 20. The Senate did not sit to-day. In the House of Representatives, the resolution of Mr. De Witt, abolishing the office of Draftsman, was resumed; the question being upon the amendments of Mr. Wickliffe, to invest the duties of the office of Draftsman of the public service with the duties of the office. Mr. Davis, of Massachusetts, concluded his remarks in opposition to both the amendment and the original resolution; contending that unless either proved against the gentleman filling the office, or that the duties of it could be performed with as much advantage, and with less expense, to the country, it was inexpedient to remove him. Mr. Ingersoll followed in a similar argument until the close of the hour, after which various private bills were read a third time and passed. The bill for the relief of Mrs. Decatur was next taken up in committee, and the amendment proposed by Mr. Miller was advocated by that gentleman and by Mr. Sutherland. Mr. Pearce announced his intention to propose a further amendment, at the proper time, extending the benefits of the bill to the officers and crew of the Syren, and addressed the committee at length in illustration of his views upon the subject. Mr. Polk took a survey of the evidence in the case, and approved the amendment under consideration; after which, on motion of Mr. Cambreleng, the committee rose, and the house adjourned.

From the National Intelligencer. MONDAY, FEB. 22. There was no business of importance acted on in either House of Congress, except as stated below. In the Senate, a long report was made by Mr. White, on Indian Affairs, from the committee on that subject, accompanied by a bill. The report embraces an elaborate argument, supporting the views of the Executive regarding the Indians, and sustaining the course adopted towards them by the States of Georgia and Alabama. Six thousand copies of the report were ordered to be printed. The bill makes provision for an exchange of lands with the Indians residing in any of the States, and for their removal beyond the river Mississippi. A report was also made by Mr. Li-

From the National Intelligencer. THURSDAY, FEB. 24. In the Senate, after the consideration of various other subjects, Mr. Foot's resolution was again taken up. Mr. Woodbury concluded his remarks, and the Senate adjourned on the motion of Mr. Smith of Maryland. In the House of Representatives, the principal business was the introduction of a bill for the removal and settlement of the Indians to the Territory west of the Mississippi. Mr. Buchanan moved to print ten thousand copies of the report which accompanied the bill. Upon this motion a warm debate ensued; the House ordered the reading of the Report, Ayes 120, Noes 50, and then suspended the reading. Ayes 78, Noes 77, and after refusing to adjourn, and rejecting a motion to lay the proposition for printing on the table, passed the order for printing ten thousand copies, Ayes 116, Noes 56.

THURSDAY, FEB. 25. In the Senate, the discussion on Mr. Foot's resolution relative to the Public Lands was continued. In the House of Representatives, Mr. Crockett offered a resolution going to abolish the Military Academy at West Point, which was laid on the table. Mr. Vinson moved the printing of the laws of Georgia and Alabama in relation to the Indians, and that they be annexed to the report of the Committee which had already been ordered to be printed. The motion was debated, and finally laid on the table. The Judiciary Bill was then taken up, and Judge Spencer, of New York, finished his remarks.

From the National Intelligencer. FRIDAY, FEB. 26. The debate in the Senate, on things in general, arising out of Mr. Foot's resolution, does not diminish in interest, and seems hardly to approach its close. Mr. Smith of South Carolina finished his observations on the subject, in a series of pungent and pregnant observations. Other gentlemen are prepared to address the Senate; amongst whom more than one indicated the disposition to do so, upon the adjournment.

In the House of Representatives, the debate was resumed on Mr. Condict's Resolutions, and continued until the expiration of the hour. After which the House went into Committee of the Whole, on the bill to compensate Susan Decatur, and others. A proposition to fill the blank in the 1st section of this bill with $100,000 being rejected, it was then moved by Mr. Storrs, that the amount to be appropriated, should be distributed amongst the officers and men according to the provisions of the prize act, and carried in the affirmative—68 to 53—Mr. Storrs moved further to amend the bill, by paying to Stephen Decatur's legal representative, $15,000, over and above his share, as apportioned in the bill, which was rejected. Ayes 27, Noes 94. Mr. John proposed a substitute for the 1st section, so as to include in its provisions the crew of the boat, detached from the Syren, rejected 40 to 71. On this motion and on the bill itself, a debate ensued which occupied the Committee till 4 o'clock without being concluded.

THE HOUSE OF DELEGATES. THURSDAY, FEB. 18. The following engrossed bills were read a third time and passed, viz: A bill "to amend an act, entitled 'An act directing the town of Lynchburg into wards, and for other purposes'"; "to incorporate a company to construct a turnpike from Thornton's Gap to Staunton"; "incorporating the Abingdon turnpike company"; "incorporating a company to construct a turnpike road from Berryville in the county of Frederick to the Shenandoah river."

Mr. Bryce, from the committee for courts of justice, reported a bill to prevent the circulation of seditious writings, and for other purposes, with a substitute, substantially as follows: "It provides, 1st. Punishment for writing, printing, or circulation among slaves, seditious writings or pamphlets, of seditious or libellous nature, stripes on slaves for first offence, and felony without clergy for second offence."

Mr. Woodbury, from the Joint Committee on the Library, made a report accompanied by two resolutions of the Senate authorizing a subscription to Gates & Seaton's proposals for reprinting the public documents, and the other a joint resolution directing a different mode of subscribing for, or causing the documents to be printed. The last resolution was returned to the committee, the Vice President having declared that it would not be in order until after the adoption of the first. The discussion on Mr. Foot's resolution was continued by Mr. Woodbury, who had not concluded his remarks when the Senate adjourned.

In the House of Representatives, Mr. Goodenow introduced a bill granting a township of land for the assistance of the States of New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio and North Carolina. The resolution abolishing the office of draftsman, was passed by a vote of 94 to 86, the discussion having been stopped by a call for the previous question. The Judiciary Bill was then taken up, and Judge Spencer, of New York, addressed the house until the adjournment, against the bill as reported by the committee on the judiciary.

FRIDAY, FEB. 19. The following engrossed bills were read a third time and passed, viz: "To authorize a separate election in the counties of Ohio and Hampshire"; "incorporating the Fincastle and Blue Ridge Turnpike Company"; "to amend the general laws concerning the unloading of ballast"; and "concerning Win. P. Flood."

On Mr. Cohoon's motion, the House determined that when they adjourned on Tuesday, they would adjourn till the 31st day of March. The bill "to prevent the circulation of seditious writings, and for other purposes," was read a third time, passed, ayes 84, noes 80, and sent to the Senate for concurrence.

MONDAY, FEB. 22. The house concurred in the amendments of the Senate to the bill for re-chartering the "North Western Bank of Virginia." These amendments increase the capital of the said Bank to $300,000, and the bonus to $500,000, payable in four equal annual instalments. On this day the house took a recess, to join in the celebration of the anniversary of Washington's birth-day.

In the Senate, the bill concerning the circulation of seditious writings, &c. &c. was indefinitely postponed by 9 to 7 votes.

TUESDAY, FEB. 23. The business before the Legislature having been finished, both houses adjourned, sine die.

THE HOUSE OF DELEGATES. THURSDAY, FEB. 18.
