

THE FREE PRESS. THURSDAY, AUGUST 23.

It may be well to remind the public, that a term of the Superior Court of Law and Chancery for Jefferson county, will commence on Saturday the first day of September next.

Meetings have lately been held in Georgia, which have interested our friends in this section of the Union, and are contemplating in prospective the glory of ruling over a Southern Republic. They anticipate a league of all the Southern states. We imagine they "reckon" join them in their mad schemes. In this section of the state, Nullifiers, even in theory, are as scarce as white cranes. We go for the Union—let those who are against it, cut their throats as soon as it suits them.

Strenuous words from a weak stomach. Judge Clayton, in his frothy toast, says "he that dabbles in a dastard—his doubts is damned." (By him, we suppose.—A very slight damnation, by the by.) In other words, he that dabbles in such a dastardly cause, would be a dastardly man. Judge C. will find thousands and tens of thousands who will rally over the integrity of the Union, unmoved by his puerile denunciations, and who have no doubt that his bullying nonsense will evaporate like the mist of the morning before the rays of the meridian sun.

A NEW RAIL ROAD CAR. We have before us, at our request, a model of a Rail Road Car, called "Wernwag's Self-Regulating or Self-Steering Rail Road Car," invented by that ingenious and well-known architect, LAWRENCE WERNWAG, of Harpers-Ferry. Knowing but little of the principles of mechanics, we are unable to give any thing like a correct description of the invention. We can only state, in general terms, that it is ingeniously calculated to run upon short curves—thereby saving both time and space. It consists of six wheels, the centre ones being the regulators. From the axle of the centre wheels are hounds or guiding poles affixed to the axles of the other wheels, to guide them according to the curves. The axles of the main wheels are separated in the centre, so as to allow either wheel to move with greater or less velocity as the curve may require. This saves the friction which acts to the inner wheel of all cars in which the axle is fastened to both wheels, and obviates a difficulty which strikes every observer at first sight. We think the invention a highly important one, and therefore invite all persons interested to call and examine the model. We particularly commend it to the attention of our Winchester friends—to whom, if we can get the privilege, we will send a full set of plans, to run round a common-sized haystack.

We observe it stated in the specification, that the principle may also be applied to locomotive engines, and to the most perfect and efficient means of rack and pinion, pulley and cord, or by any other means adapted to the purpose. We learn that Mr. John Wernwag (son of the inventor) is now engaged in the construction of a Car upon this principle. From his talent as a scientific mechanic, we may look for a splendid effort.

The Baltimore papers give detail of another experiment upon the Rail Road by the steam locomotive constructed by Messrs. Davis & Gardner. The engine can perform the amount of effective transportation which now requires forty horses. On the 16th, the Steam Locomotive Atlantic, made a tour, of which the editor of the Gazette gives the following account:

We left the Depot near Ball's Bluff with a train of five cars and about thirty passengers, at four minutes past six o'clock, and arrived at Ellicott's, a distance of thirteen miles, in precisely four minutes past seven o'clock. The company here partook of an excellent breakfast, in the new hotel, now building by Mr. McLaughlin—having passed the Frederick train at this place, (at 4 minutes before 8 o'clock,) we resumed our journey, and arrived at Marlottsville, 13 miles beyond Ellicott's, at 9 o'clock. Ten minutes were here occupied in renewing our stock of water for the engine—in twenty-five minutes more, the train reached Skyville, where 7 minutes were lost in taking in passengers and receiving a further supply of water. From this point to the foot of the inclined planes, the time actually employed in travel between the Depot at Baltimore and the plain at Farr Ridge, a distance of forty miles, in exactly three hours and ten minutes, or at the rate of nearly thirteen miles an hour, and averaged in that whole distance a height of five hundred and sixty-five feet. The party here partook of an agreeable collation, and having attached to their cars the returning train from Frederick, the engine started with eight cars and one hundred and forty-six passengers at eight minutes past twelve, and after several stoppages, by which fifteen minutes were consumed, to take in water, set down passengers, &c. &c. arrived at Ellicott's at twenty-three minutes past two o'clock, having run a distance, which is twenty-seven miles, in exactly two hours, letting off redundant steam the whole time. The remaining distance to Baltimore being thirteen miles, was run in fifty-eight minutes.

As some of our friends have lately been unable to discover any political matter in our papers, we now give them a head to designate it. Being in the habit of making "pretty good print," we scarcely expected to be required to furnish copy so soon. A friend has sent us an interesting report upon the subject of Cholera, from a Portland physician. We will endeavor to copy it in our next.

Married, the 21st inst., by the Rev. Mr. A. NEWBURN, Esq. Attorney-at-Law, in St. Elizabeth's M. Church, Capt. James Miller, of George county, Va. Assistant at Jefferson, (Tenn.) by Mr. HENRY BRIDGES, of Harpers-Ferry, of Frederick county, Md.

KENTUCKY ELECTIONS.

The returns come in so slowly, that although the election is over, it is impossible to tell who is Governor. As a sign, however, we may mention, that the counties of Fayette, Scott, and Harrison, which, in 1845, gave Mr. Barry (the Jackson candidate) a majority of 863, has now given to Buckner (the Clay candidate) a majority of 67—making a Clay gain of 930.

Mr. Clay himself is stronger in Kentucky than any one who sails under his banner. We can boast of 100,000 votes in November, by a majority of from three to five thousand.

From the Winchester Republican of July 18. AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY. At a meeting held last Monday, to form an agricultural society, John W. Page, Esq. was called to the chair, and Mr. Thomas Cranes appointed secretary. Thomas P. Nelson, Esq. addressed the meeting in explanation of its objects and the rules of the former agricultural society of this county, which were adopted, on motion of Richard W. Barton, Esq. The meeting then adjourned to the first Monday in September, when an election of officers will take place.

Any Doves, once more.—It is stated in a Louisiana paper that the President had withheld his signature to the bill allowing pay for the renowned horse Romulus, and that the old lady will appear on the Washington course next winter, and run down another generation of Congressmen.

Gov. CARROLL, of Tennessee, who was appointed by the President one of the Commissioners to treat with the Indians, has declined the appointment, believing its acceptance incompatible with the office of Governor of Tennessee.

Gen. SANTANDER arrived at Santa Martha on the 16th of July, from New York, where he was received in a style suited to his rank of President of Colombia, amidst the rejoicings of a highly gratified people.

The Hon. ROBERT Y. HAYNE has delivered speeches to two public meetings, since his return to South Carolina from Washington, both, he strongly advised Nullification.

The Genesee annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church terminated its session on the 24th inst. at Penn Yan. The Rev. Bishop Hedding presided. After an impressive discourse from the Rev. Beverly Van Hook, of this city, twenty candidates were ordained to the office of Deacon, and nine to that of Elder. The number of members within the bounds of this conference is 21,011 whites, and 54 colored. The resolution passed at the last general conference, in relation to temperance, was unanimously concurred in. The "Genesee Wesleyan Seminary," under the presidency of the Rev. Dr. Luckey, has been opened with one hundred students.

Miss ANNA MARIA PORTER, well known to the novel reading world, and who certainly was a lady of fine imagination, and at one time may be said to have occupied the throne of the popular imagination.

Literary.—The poet Moore is to become a sort of joint editor, with the poet Campbell, of the "Spectator," and the first article to the number of that periodical, an "Eastern Tale in Verse," is by Moore.

A London literary journal mentions that there is some probability London will shortly see one or two of the Ancient Egyptian obelisks. One of them was some twelve years since offered to the English by the decree of Egypt, it was at Alexandria, and while they were deliberating about it, the French carried it off, and it now graces the metropolis of France. At present two other obelisks standing on the banks of the Nile at Karnak, sunk fifteen feet in the sand, at a quarter of a mile distant from any water by which they can be floated, in a region where there is no timber to build rafts or to construct platforms, have been offered to the English government. The problem is how they can be removed, and the engineers are consulting on the subject.

BURGUNDY PLAGUE.—We have published a letter, stating that the "Gazette" and "Austrian" governments had issued proclamations recommending the use of Burgundy-pike-plasters, as a preventive of Cholera. The Washington Telegraph, on the authority of a correspondent, makes the following remarks on the effect of this preventive: "Burgundy pitch plasters produce moderate inflammation, and a slight flow of serum, without separating the cuticle as blisters do, and hence, when applied to the abdomen, they give tone and healthy condition to its vessels, by obviating the deprivation of the morbid action. It is in this manner that the Burgundy pitch plasters counteract the tendency to Cholera."

"Within the last four or five days, (it is believed,) nearly a thousand of the citizens of Washington have fortified themselves with this simple preventive. They are, like Channing's prescription, very innocuous, and if they do not do good, they cannot possibly do any harm. The facts stated in the letter of a gentleman from Glasgow, are certainly worthy of attention."

A sailor was seen reeling along the streets, some long since, with a pine apple in his hand. Some one asked him what he had got there. "Cholera Morbus," he replied. And so it proved. For in less than 24 hours he was a corpse.—(N. Y. Jour. of Com.)

A laboring man of very coarse habits, bought four water-melons a few days since, on account of their unusual cheapness, and ate two of them. "As might have been expected, he was attacked by the Cholera, and died."

A venerable old lady remarked the other day, that she was afraid of losing her husband, should the Cholera spread this quarter, as her husband always was a real thorough-going deacon, and she understood that at Quebec and Montreal, it proved very fatal to the deacons. "I fear to lose my dear," she exclaimed, "it must be a great loss to you." "Well," rejoined the good woman, "I don't know but what it might have been the emigrants, for 'twas some political party of other."

FOR THE FREE PRESS. On the fair bosom of the dark green vale; While youthful zephyr bores along the gale, Sweals her perfume and waltzes on her head. The new-leafed, dripping with the dew, Amidst the leafy trees, its blooming hue Looks lovelier, and assumes a deeper dye. 'Twas thus that late I saw a lovely maid, Pure as the daisy-bly of the vale; But eyes became blew her sultry gaze, And o'er her bosom cast a somber shade. Now like this blushing rose the Fair appears, Her vernal cheeks suff'ring in silver tears. BEOLA.

Foreign.

LATEST FROM EUROPE. The Emperor of Russia will come as far as Dobruza. Three regiments of the Imperial Guard, which, in 1845, gave Mr. Barry (the Jackson candidate) a majority of 863, has now given to Buckner (the Clay candidate) a majority of 67—making a Clay gain of 930.

The most important intelligence is, that the French Court of Cassation, the highest court of appeal, had pronounced by a majority, it would appear, of 9 to 3, the proceedings of the military courts, illegal, and consequently the state of siege in which Paris was placed, also illegal. The immediate consequence was the revocation of the Ordinances establishing martial law. Messrs. Fitz James, Chateaubriand, and Hyde de Neuville, had been liberated, and without a trial, and the three Deputies who concealed themselves against arrests by martial law, Messrs. Garrier, Pages, Cabot, and Boissiere, have surrendered to an acknowledgment of the jurisdiction of the regular tribunals. M. Garri, the editor of the National, was expected to follow their example.

The King of the French seems puzzled to find a successor to M. Casimir-Perrier. M. Dupin had left Paris again, under the displeasure of the King, M. de Talleyrand fights shy; and, meantime, France is delivered up to the rule of the "Medicores," who are incapable of appreciating the true condition of the country, or of public opinion.

The cholera continued in Liverpool. The number of new cases per day during the first six days of July, varied from 44 to 72, and of deaths from 12 to 21. At York and Hull the disease was on the increase. At Edinburgh it had broken out afresh, there being 50 new cases and 12 deaths in four days with only 5 recoveries. Cork, new cases 19, deaths 9.

Sir Walter Scott on the 6th had passed a tolerable night, and appeared somewhat better. He continues perfectly sensible, and his appetite was as good as could be expected.

On Sunday last, in the 70th year of his age, Mr. SEABASTIAN MERRILL, of this town. Mr. Merrill was a true-soldier of the Revolutionary Army, and was present with his "quintessential drum" at many of the conflicts of the great war.

On Monday last, of senile fever, MENEZ HENRY, infant daughter of Mr. CARO MOORE, of this place, in the 4th year of her age. This is the second of the kind ever recorded in this town, and the first within the last month.

All persons now in arrears for the monthly contributions, or otherwise, are hereby required forthwith to pay their respective dues to the Librarian, at the Printing Office. On their failure to do so, within a reasonable time, the accounts will be put into the hands of an officer for collection, according to law. The Library cannot be sustained without the prompt payment of the contributions. It is a subject of great mortification and regret to the present Board of Directors, that an institution, commenced under such flattering auspices, and promising so much of instruction and advantage to the community, should be in danger of falling through from the neglect of those who are most interested in preserving and fostering it. It is earnestly hoped that a resort to the powers of our charter will not be found necessary to secure the payment of the arrears now due. By order of the President and Directors, H. N. GALLAGHER, Librarian. August 23, 1832.

THEODORE N. DAVISSON, GEORGE W. WASHINGTON.

There was a considerable overhauling of Pocket Books in this city on yesterday. We believe several cities would not have cared much if they had really had the cholera, or something that would have previously emptied them of the bills of the Bank of America.

Charles Kemble and his daughter, Fanny, may be expected to visit this country at the close of the present month. They were to leave London for the United States some time in July.

Real Trainers—While Cummings, a distinguished tragedian of the last century, was playing at one of the provincial theatres in England, the part of Dumont in Jans Shore, when he had repeated the words—

Be witness for me ye celestial hosts, Such mercy and such pardon as ray soul Accords to thee, and begs of heaven's green meadows, May such befall me at my latest hour!

He uttered an instant, sunk down, and expired. The audience, mistaking him for an intended point, rewarded him in the usual way; but alas! he was forever insensible to their notice! Real and mimic life was essentially distinguished in the departed shadow, and the actor was now upon a level with the monarch and heroes it had been his highest ambition to imitate.

Good House-keepers.—If there be a ny thing among the temporals to make life pleasant, it is in the well ordered house—where all is adjusted to please, not by its fitness or costliness, but by its fitness, its air of neatness and content, which invite all who enter to taste its comforts. The woman who does not make this a grand item in all her routine of duties, has not yet learned the true dignity of her station—has not yet acquired the Alpha of that long alphabet which is set before her; and indirectly despises her family, her neighbors, and the word of God.

At the charge made by the whole of the French cavalry at El Boden, on the square formed by the 5th and 7th regiments, a French officer had his horse shot under him, and both fell together. The officer, although not much hurt, lay on the ground as if dead, and in this situation would, in all probability, have fast advancing to the relief of their cavalry, had it not been for a German hussar, one squadron of whom were engaged in the conflict, who rode up to the spot and made a cut at the officer lying on the ground; on which he immediately sprang up, and with his sword at the guard, set the hussar at defiance. Another of the King's German hussars then galloped up, and desired the French officer to surrender, which he refused to do. He stood without his cap; his head bare, and some marks of blood were on his face. From the fine attitude he presented, and being a tall athletic man, he strongly impressed his beholders with the belief that he would defend himself against both the hussars. At this time Ensign Canch, of the 5th, ran out of the square, and was proceeding rapidly to the place, in the hope of inducing the officer to surrender himself a prisoner; but the hussars finding they were baffled, and could not subdue this brave man with the sword, had recourse to the pistol, with which they killed him, to the great regret of the British regiments that were looking on.

This affair took place about half way between the square already mentioned, and the French cavalry, who still were hovering about after being repulsed by the 5th and 7th regiments. We were informed by a prisoner taken at the time, that the officer who defended himself so gallantly against the two hussars, was an Irishman, and the Major of his regiment.

Valuable Mill for Sale.

AT HARPERS-FERRY. ONE of the most valuable Milling establishments in the State, situated on the banks of the Shenandoah and Potomac rivers. It is supplied with an inexhaustible fund of water from the Shenandoah, and may be enlarged to any extent with great advantage. The building is a substantial one of stone, is 60 feet by 40 ft. It has two water wheels, two pair of burrs, and room for another pair. There is also an excellent pair of country stones. It is now undergoing repairs, and will be ready for operation in a few days. The situation of this establishment is peculiarly advantageous. It is in an abundant wheat neighborhood, with a turpentine running within 60 yards of it. It is below the Shenandoah locks, and boats can be loaded almost at the mill door. The Winchester and Potomac Rail Road, which runs along the island upon which it stands. The water power is not surpassed by any situation in the country, and a sufficiency may be obtained for almost any eligible purpose. The advantages of this concern, will so completely strike an intelligent observer, that it is needless to enlarge upon them. A man of enterprise cannot fail to turn them to good account. Connected with this property, are four dwelling houses and a cooper shop. For terms, &c. which will be reasonable, application may be made to Mr. George Hagedy, who has the mill rented, or to the subscriber in Charlottesville.

R. WHITE & WM. HAGAR

RESPECTFULLY inform the Printers of the United States, to whom they have long been individually known as established LETTER FOUNDERS, that they have now formed a co-partnership in said business, and hope, from their united skill and extensive experience, to be able to give full satisfaction to all who may favor them with orders. The introduction of machinery, in place of the tedious and unhealthy process of casting type by hand, long a desideratum by the European and American Founders, was, by American ingenuity, and a heavy expenditure of money and on the part of our senior partner, first successfully accomplished. Extensive use of the machine cast letter, has fully tested and established its superiority in every particular, over that cast by the old process.

The Letter Foundry business will hereafter be carried on by the parties before named, under the firm of WHITE, HAGAR, & CO. Their specimen exhibit, in complete series from Diamond to 14 line Pica. The book and new type being in the most modern light and style.

White, Hagar, & Co. are agents for the sale of the SMITH and BOSTON PRINTING PRESSES, which they can furnish to their customers at the manufacturers' prices. Cases, Cases, Composing Sticks, and every article used in the printing business, kept on hand, and furnished on short notice. Old type taken in exchange for new at 9 cents per pound.

N. B.—Newspaper proprietors who give the above three articles, will be entitled to five dollars in such articles, as they may select from our specimen. E. WHITE, WM. HAGAR, New York, May 10.—(July 5)
