Arrest of the Duchess de Berry. Proclamations of Charles X. and Henry V. to the French, &c.

The ship Henry IV. Capt. Rochet, arrived from Havre, and brought the editors of the New York American Advocate Paris papers to the 10th ultimo.

The endeavours of the Carlist faction have just with a signal overthrow by the arrest of the Duchess de Berry.

The debates which have ensued, particularly in the House of Commons, in consequence of this unexpected turn of affairs, have been full of spirit.

That an humble address be presented to his Majesty, humbly to represent to his Majesty the deep regret felt by this House at the change that has been announced in his Majesty's councils by the retirement of those Ministers in whom this House continues to repose unabated confidence.

The resolutions were adopted, after a long and animated debate, by a majority of 80, in a House of 496—the numbers being for the motion 288, against it 208.

The King came to London on the 13th, on which day the Duke of Wellington was appointed First Lord of the Treasury, and kissed his Majesty's hand on entering upon the duties of Premier.

The papers of the evening of the 14th, and morning of the 15th, announce that the new government was formed, but the names had not transpired.

no farther with the bill. His Majesty was waited upon with this decision, and, to the astonishment of the whole British nation, (after what had transpired,) the King refused his assent to the measure proposed, and that refusal of course has added to the who ministers—Lord Grey did not wait for the sitting of the 10th, to proclaim this result; but on the opening of the sitting of the 11th, he announced the retirement of himself and colleagues from the government.

It is scarcely possible to imagine the spirit of excitement into which the town of Birmingham had been thrown by the rejection of the Reform Bill by the Lords, and the resignation of his Majesty's Ministers.

At the House of Commons, the Duke of Wellington, the Marquis of Londonderry, and Lord Althorp, passing in company along Parliament-street on horseback, towards the Horse Guards, were recognised and followed by a mob of between 200 and 300 men and boys, shouting and hissing.

The King it appears had confined to Wellington his resolution to make no Peers, even at the time when Earl Grey declared that he had a Carle Blanche.

The Cholera continued its ravages in Ireland. New cases on the 9th, 98; deaths 38. Cork, new Cases 76, deaths 14. In London the disease was nearly extinct.

At Bolton, the Manchester resolutions to "vote for more supplies" and "pay no more taxes," were re-echoed by the mob. At Bristol, a public meeting of the "Union" took place on the 11th, and declared that it would not be satisfied with the proceedings of the House of Lords. Remonstrances were also got up at Bath and Brighton.
