THURSDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1853.

The Warrenton Spectator and some other papers are in a piousness of opinion, because Mr. Taney will not come out, and give them something to carp at. They must rave at a void.

Every intelligent man in the community knows something of Mr. Leigh and his opinions, and those who do not, should read his "Allegiance, Sydney," and the Convention Debates, forthwith.

There is a manifest propriety in this gentleman's silence—whatever fault may be found with his friends in the premises. Who ever heard of a man, just named as a candidate by a few popular sensations, coming out, upon the first bluff, to blazon forth to the world his views and opinions?

Mr. Taney is not a man of words. He has already declined one of the highest honors of the land, (that of United States Senator), when he could have been elected by an overwhelming majority; and it certainly may be allowed him to judge for himself, of the time and manner of making his opinions more fully known to the people, should the course of events require of him such an exposition.

But the article which we copy from the Petersburg Times, may serve as food for the cavillers for the present. Let them digest that first.

Several of the papers who have blamed the President for his course in relation to the public debt, have expressed a hope that the Senate will reject Mr. Taney. What good could grow out of such a course, we carp at a loss to conceive.

Mr. Taney's talents are certainly of a high order, and on that score, no substantial reason can exist for his rejection. And those who think something might be done, therefore, to check Executive encroachments, are mistaken. Gen. Jackson never has been thwarted in his purposes—and we very much doubt whether he ever will be.

If the Senate are desirous of elevating Mr. Taney to the Vice Presidency, they have only to refuse to concur in his appointment; and, in a spirit of indignation at the Senate's evading the President's will, the people will elect him Vice President, as they did Mr. Van Buren. Gen. Jackson was "born to command," and his orders must be obeyed. He is the "Government," and we are his subjects.

Reports of a quarrel and challenge between Mr. M'LANE and Mr. TANEY, have been running through the papers for some days. The Globe contradicts them, and denies their truth.—Evidence none of the best, by the by.

The Romney Intelligencer is becoming puerile. It makes furious war upon both Mr. Van Buren and Mr. Calhoun. How these gentlemen will be distressed, when they chance to hear it!

Mr. Carr declined a public dinner tendered to him by many of the citizens of Baltimore, last week. He is now in Philadelphia, where, at a large public meeting, a committee of distinguished citizens was appointed, for the purpose of paying him appropriate honors and attention during his stay, and facilitating his intercourse with his fellow-citizens.

The New York Standard of the 10th, says—"Money is abundant now." We wish we could have the pleasure of realizing this matter once in our lives.

Time has proved the report of the death of Ex-President MADISON, to have been unfounded.

"MARYLAND ERECT." This is the heading of the Baltimore Patriot, to the late elections in Maryland. Errata, indeed! In our opinion, she is bent over towards Jacksonism most confidently. All the members of Congress Jacksonian, except two, and in the House of Delegates a majority of six for Jackson.

MARYLAND ELECTIONS.

We have received information of the result of the Congressional elections, in all the districts of the lower district of the Western Shore, R. B. Gamble, (Jackson), has beaten D. O. Hopper, (Republican), about 700 votes. In the lower district of the Western Shore, Mr. Stoddard's majority over Mr. Jenifer, is about 300. The following is a full list of the persons elected to compose the Delegation of the State in the 23d Congress, with the political classification given to them by the Baltimore Patriot:

Table listing Maryland State Representatives: Gov. Wm. A. Gilman (N.Y. Repub.), James P. Heath (N.Y. Repub.), James Turner (N.Y. Repub.), J. T. Stoddard (N.Y. Repub.), Isaac McKim (N.Y. Repub.), Richd. Carnichael (N.Y. Repub.), Francis Thomas (N.Y. Repub.), William C. Johnson (N.Y. Repub.), Littleton P. Dennis (N.Y. Repub.), Cecil (N.Y. Repub.), Keet (N.Y. Repub.), Quisen Anno (N.Y. Repub.), Talbot (N.Y. Repub.), Caroline (N.Y. Repub.), Worcester (N.Y. Repub.), Somers (N.Y. Repub.).

Table listing Maryland Working-Men's candidates: All the Baltimore papers state the Prince George's delegation at three Jackson and one Republican. This, however, is incorrect. Messrs. Gantt and Pratt are elected, and both are National Republicans. We have therefore stated it above. The Patriot, remarking on the result of these elections, says, "It shows that the Jackson party have gone to the polls with their accustomed vigilance, and that the National Republicans have exhibited an indifference and supineness altogether unparalleled." (N.Y. Intell.)

Table listing Maryland Working-Men's candidates: Allegheny (Thomas), Dixon (Dixon), Washington (1870), Frederick (1930), Part of Frederick (1483), Thomas' majority 501, MONTGOMERY DISTRICT, Montgomery (763), Part of Frederick (658), Johnson's majority 621, Allegheny (Bruce and Ridgely), Dixon (Bery and Lantz), Frederick (Johnston), Washington (Messrs. James Jones and Charles Payce), Part of Frederick (Messrs. Jenkins and Harper), Baltimore City (Thomas' majority 501), MONTGOMERY DISTRICT, Montgomery (763), Part of Frederick (658), Johnson's majority 621.

Table listing Philadelphia Election: First District—Fos Cousins, Sergeant, Sutherland, Martin. Total, 2130, 8345, 83, 5032. Majority for Dr. Sutherland 699. This election was occasioned by the resignation of Dr. Sutherland, who accepted a judgeship, but declined to leave the office until the 31st of October, to fill his own vacancy, and has succeeded. The honor of besting such a man as John Sergeant, was no small inducement to such a step.

Table listing Philadelphia Election: In the City of Philadelphia, the "Independent Democrats" have been elected to the Assembly, by small majorities over the Jackson candidates, and the same party has triumphed in the election of Select and Common Councils. In the county of Philadelphia, the Jackson candidates for the Assembly have succeeded by large majorities. The National Republican Convention of Massachusetts assembled on Wednesday the 2d inst. at Worcester. It was organized by choosing Gen. Dearborn as President. The next day the Hon. JOHN DAVIS, a distinguished member of Congress from the Worcester district, was unanimously nominated as a candidate for the office of Governor, and S. T. ANASTASIOU, the present popular Lieutenant Governor, was nominated for re-election, with the same unanimity.

Table listing Philadelphia Election: At a late public meeting in Amelia county, Virginia, held for the purpose of nominating Mr. WARREN LARSON for the Presidency, we observed that the Hon. Wm. S. ABRAMS, president. We by no means regret this—it rather gives us pleasure; and it strikes us as a happy omen.

Table listing Philadelphia Election: The Springfield Gazette states that John B. East, late chief clerk of the War Department, Washington, is appointed Superintendent of the U. S. Army at Springfield.

GENERAL INTELLIGENCE.

From the Washington Globe of October 9. It is our painful duty to announce a serious disaster that occurred on board the new steamboat New England, on her passage from this city to Hartford. It appears that at an early hour yesterday, when the boat was off Essex, the north parish of Saybrook, both boilers exploded, and so great was the concussion that hardly a fragment of either was left.

We understand that there were upwards of one hundred passengers on board. Among the number was a young friend of ours, who left us the previous evening to attend the University of Middletown—from him we have received the following. I have this moment arrived, and assuming that you have not heard of the dreadful accident that occurred to the steamboat, I hasten to drop you a line. Through the mercy of a kind Providence I am safe and unhurt.

Such a scene I never witnessed. The explosion took place about 5 o'clock in the morning. I was in my berth at the time, and was roused amidst the crash and thunder of the explosion, and the shrieks and groans of the wounded and dying. About twenty-six are badly burned—some of whom, I think, cannot survive. One child was dead when I left the boat, and the baggage master was missing—it was feared he was blown overboard.

It addition to the above we find the following in the New Haven Herald of last evening: A gentleman has arrived in town for the purpose of obtaining further medical and surgical aid, who represents the case as one most truly disastrous and distressing. The Clerk of the boat, two of the hands, and two of the passengers, are missing—undoubtedly blown into the stream and lost. Seventeen persons were landed at Essex, dangerously wounded, not more than half of whom, it was thought, would recover.

Among the sufferers, were J. M. Heron, Esq., of Reading, on his way to attend the Episcopal Convention at Norwich; Dr. Whiting of New York; and Mr. Warner, brother of the Treasurer of Yale College, Dr. Knight and Dr. N. B. Ives left here this afternoon, to afford such aid as in their power.

P. S.—Since the above was in type, we have been favored with another letter from a gentleman who was on board. "Our journey in the steamboat was very pleasant until we entered Connecticut river, when at about 1 o'clock in the morning, I perceived that some part of the machinery was out of order."

"It was in the forward cabin, and I concluded I was in the safest part of the boat." They seemed to go on badly until three o'clock, when both boilers burst as nearly together as a two barrel gun could be discharged by one person.

Two persons were killed instantly, and about twenty-five wounded; of whom 5 or 6 may not survive. "The destruction of the upper works were almost entire. Among those that were injured are six or eight females; these were on the upper deck cabin."

There were three or four badly injured in the main cabin—the front cabin escaped—no steam entered. "The cries and moans were truly heart-rending. The steamboat was in about thirty minutes got to the wharf, where assistance was immediately rendered."

From the New York Commercial of the 11th. STEAM-BOAT EXPLOSION.

The Branch Bank of the United States, at New York, has notified the three Banks in that city, appointed to receive the public deposits, that they will redeem the notes of the other branches of the United States Bank, received by said banks in payment for duties. This is an act of commendable liberality on the part of the United States Bank, and contrasts nobly with the vindictive course of its opponents.

The Post Office at Clayville, Pa., is an unfortunate one to its incumbents of late. It is but a year or two since that Christian Weirich was convicted of the crime of paroling money from the mail, while Postmaster of that office, and sentenced to a long imprisonment in the penitentiary at Pittsburg.

Police Court, Boston.—Maria Prince, alias Anderson, of Charlestown, for stealing two large silver spoons from the dwelling house of Mr. Lorenzo S. Cargin, was committed for trial at the Municipal Court. It appears that she belongs to the "Cold-water Society," a band of thieves who are in the habit of calling into dwelling houses, and asking for a glass of cold water, and while the individual addressed is procuring the water, the applicant appropriates such moveables as are at hand, and absconds with, or without the drink, as security may dictate.

Novel Trial.—The last Huntsville Democrat contains an account of the trial of a negro girl, 11 years of age, for the murder of an infant, by drowning it. There was no evidence against her except her own confessions, which were that the child became cross and scratched her, and she determined to drown it—that she went to a creek near at hand and cast it into the water—after she had thrown it in, the child held up its hands for help, whereupon she became sore for what she had done, and attempted to rescue it, but in vain. It appeared by ample testimony, that the girl was not only destitute of any notion of human laws, but of a God, and future rewards and punishments.

A London paper states that eight or ten millions sterling—nearly fifty millions of dollars—has been issued to this country, on the security of such state governments as want to construct internal improvements, or create new state banks, at four per cent. interest.

The tide of emigration continues to flow rapidly into Michigan. In the course of the last week, about one thousand able bodied emigrants landed in the city of Detroit, and being comfortable settlers, will be a valuable increase to the population of that thriving territory.

Beauty and Booby.—Six of the principal officers in the British army, who were in the battle of New Orleans, on seeing Stewart's "Three years in the United States," and observing by his notice of Eaton's Life of Jackson, that it was unsubstantiated, and generally believed, that the watch words among them on the 8th of January, 1815, were "Beauty and Booby," have distinctly denied any knowledge of the fact. If it had been so, they must, unquestionably, have known it. This statement has often been made to awaken the indignation of the American people, and with great effect. It is never too late to correct an error.

Another Steamboat Disaster.—The New Orleans Bulletin of the 26th, mentions that the steamboat Lafouche, with a freight for that port, struck the Grand Chain, a ledge of rocks, in coming out of the Ohio, and sunk. It was feared she would be a total wreck.

The Buffalo Republican of the 5th inst. says, "We stop the press to announce the loss of the Steamboat George Washington. It is reported and believed that she was driven ashore on the Canada side of the Lake in a gale of wind and shipwrecked."
