

General Miscellany

DEBILITATED: I have been generally, and to be had, a general assortment of fashionable... JOHN R. REDMOND, May 8, 1834.

The Public

These censorious persons who create the impression that I am... JOHN R. REDMOND, May 8, 1834.

WATER SALE

Water will be sold at private sale, upon which Jacob Bonner... JOHN BRIEN, May 8, 1834.

Millwrights

Intending to rebuild his... JOHN M. WHITEHILL, May 8, 1834.

made CASH!

Who will exchange Dry Goods... JOHN F. HAMTRAMCK, May 23, 1834.

and Lumber

Who having purchased the entire... JOHN L. SMITH, May 18, 1833.

Yard in Shepherdstown

Who begs leave to inform the... JOHN F. HAMTRAMCK, May 30, 1833.

BER YARD,

Who are to supply all demands... CHARLES HARPER, May 7, 1833.

LANK!

Who are a quantity of season... CHARLES HARPER, May 7, 1833.

Virginia Free Press

A FREE PRESS, THE PALLADIUM OF LIBERTY. VOL. XXVII. CHARLESTOWN, JEFFERSON COUNTY, THURSDAY, MAY 29, 1834. NO. 14.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY BY JOHN S. GALLAGHER. CONDITIONS: TWO DOLLARS & FIFTY CENTS PER ANNUM.

From the New York Evening Star. Gray's Elegy in a Country Church Yard has been published in the English language.

Beautyful Contrast. The following happy passage is from the pen of Mrs. Stowe.

JOSEPH L. SMITH. My dear brother, I have been thinking of you very much lately.

Yard in Shepherdstown. I beg leave to inform the public that I have a large quantity of lumber.

BER YARD. I am to supply all demands for lumber of every kind.

LANK! I have a quantity of seasonable lumber for sale.

SKETCHES OF CHARACTER.

We copy the following notices of two distinguished officers, under the belief that more than ordinary interest has already been felt in their history.

SIR JOHN MOORE. From a life of Sir John Moore, by his brother, recently published in London.

MOORE. Moore then returned to where the 50th regiment, commanded by Major Charles Napier, and Stanhope, were warmly engaged.

BEAUTIFUL CONTRAST. The following happy passage is from the pen of Mrs. Stowe.

JOSEPH L. SMITH. My dear brother, I have been thinking of you very much lately.

Yard in Shepherdstown. I beg leave to inform the public that I have a large quantity of lumber.

BER YARD. I am to supply all demands for lumber of every kind.

said, smiling, 'My friend, this is nothing.' He was then placed on a mattress on the floor, and supported by Anderson, who had saved his life at St. Lucia.

MOORE. Moore then returned to where the 50th regiment, commanded by Major Charles Napier, and Stanhope, were warmly engaged.

BEAUTIFUL CONTRAST. The following happy passage is from the pen of Mrs. Stowe.

JOSEPH L. SMITH. My dear brother, I have been thinking of you very much lately.

Yard in Shepherdstown. I beg leave to inform the public that I have a large quantity of lumber.

BER YARD. I am to supply all demands for lumber of every kind.

LANK! I have a quantity of seasonable lumber for sale.

matic talents of a high order, under the guidance and the instructions of the celebrated Charles Maurice Talleyrand, then minister for foreign affairs to the French Republic.

MOORE. Moore then returned to where the 50th regiment, commanded by Major Charles Napier, and Stanhope, were warmly engaged.

BEAUTIFUL CONTRAST. The following happy passage is from the pen of Mrs. Stowe.

JOSEPH L. SMITH. My dear brother, I have been thinking of you very much lately.

Yard in Shepherdstown. I beg leave to inform the public that I have a large quantity of lumber.

BER YARD. I am to supply all demands for lumber of every kind.

LANK! I have a quantity of seasonable lumber for sale.

old system of military tactics, and founded the system now followed by the French armies.

MOORE. Moore then returned to where the 50th regiment, commanded by Major Charles Napier, and Stanhope, were warmly engaged.

BEAUTIFUL CONTRAST. The following happy passage is from the pen of Mrs. Stowe.

JOSEPH L. SMITH. My dear brother, I have been thinking of you very much lately.

Yard in Shepherdstown. I beg leave to inform the public that I have a large quantity of lumber.

BER YARD. I am to supply all demands for lumber of every kind.

LANK! I have a quantity of seasonable lumber for sale.

calmness, being at length provoked by a discharge of fire arms, repelled the attack with much energy.

MOORE. Moore then returned to where the 50th regiment, commanded by Major Charles Napier, and Stanhope, were warmly engaged.

BEAUTIFUL CONTRAST. The following happy passage is from the pen of Mrs. Stowe.

JOSEPH L. SMITH. My dear brother, I have been thinking of you very much lately.

Yard in Shepherdstown. I beg leave to inform the public that I have a large quantity of lumber.

BER YARD. I am to supply all demands for lumber of every kind.

LANK! I have a quantity of seasonable lumber for sale.

FOREIGN-IMPORTANT.

We make copious extracts today; the news far exceeding in interest, which has transpired since the Revolution of 1830.

DISTURBANCES AT BRUSSELS.

Serious disturbances have occurred at Brussels. The Independent of the 15th inst. has the following: 'We had reason to hope that the tumult would have subsided last night, but this morning at 9 o'clock, a mob assembled before the house of the Duke d'Utrecht in the Rue des Paroissiens; the windows were completely smashed; and the rioters having forced their way into the house, were beginning to destroy the furniture when the burgomaster interfered, addressed the people, and put an end to the disorder at this point. It soon, however, recommenced in another part of the city, and the rioters, who were armed with stones, proceeded to break open the windows, and the furniture thrown out into the street. It appears that the Prince expected an attack, for from an early hour in the morning, he had a great quantity of his furniture carried away by the Rue d'Grange. At the moment we are writing, a mob of several thousand persons is parading the streets with a tricolor flag at its head, and shouting Abasles Orangistes. Posteriors o'clock. We this moment learn, that the Hotel of the Marquis de Traveset, in the Rue de la Montagne, has been broken and the furniture thrown out into the street. The Duke of Orleans, who was at the Hotel de Ville, has been completely restored at Brussels.

HIGHLY IMPORTANT FROM FRANCE.

Insurrections at Lyons and Paris!

The packet ship Poland, at New York from Havre, brings Paris papers to the 15th April. They furnish intelligence of revolutionary movements which have occurred at Lyons, and subsequently at Paris.

LATE AND IMPORTANT FROM EUROPE.

After a long repose, the tranquillity of the Old World seems to be again disturbed. Two arrivals at this port from Havre, bearing intelligence from Paris to the 15th of April, have supplied us with the details of events of much more than usual interest.

THE FIRST POSITIVE INSURRECTIONARY MOVEMENT.

commenced at Lyons. It is principally a manufacturing city, containing about 190,000 inhabitants. It is situated on the Rhone, in the South of France, and an insurgent spirit has manifested itself there for many months.

THE SECOND POSITIVE INSURRECTIONARY MOVEMENT.

commenced at Paris. It is principally a manufacturing city, containing about 1,000,000 inhabitants. It is situated on the Seine, in the North of France, and an insurgent spirit has manifested itself there for many months.

THE THIRD POSITIVE INSURRECTIONARY MOVEMENT.

commenced at Lyons. It is principally a manufacturing city, containing about 190,000 inhabitants. It is situated on the Rhone, in the South of France, and an insurgent spirit has manifested itself there for many months.

THE FOURTH POSITIVE INSURRECTIONARY MOVEMENT.

commenced at Lyons. It is principally a manufacturing city, containing about 190,000 inhabitants. It is situated on the Rhone, in the South of France, and an insurgent spirit has manifested itself there for many months.

THE FIFTH POSITIVE INSURRECTIONARY MOVEMENT.

commenced at Lyons. It is principally a manufacturing city, containing about 190,000 inhabitants. It is situated on the Rhone, in the South of France, and an insurgent spirit has manifested itself there for many months.

THE SIXTH POSITIVE INSURRECTIONARY MOVEMENT.

commenced at Lyons. It is principally a manufacturing city, containing about 190,000 inhabitants. It is situated on the Rhone, in the South of France, and an insurgent spirit has manifested itself there for many months.

THE SEVENTH POSITIVE INSURRECTIONARY MOVEMENT.

commenced at Lyons. It is principally a manufacturing city, containing about 190,000 inhabitants. It is situated on the Rhone, in the South of France, and an insurgent spirit has manifested itself there for many months.

THE EIGHTH POSITIVE INSURRECTIONARY MOVEMENT.

commenced at Lyons. It is principally a manufacturing city, containing about 190,000 inhabitants. It is situated on the Rhone, in the South of France, and an insurgent spirit has manifested itself there for many months.

THE NINTH POSITIVE INSURRECTIONARY MOVEMENT.

commenced at Lyons. It is principally a manufacturing city, containing about 190,000 inhabitants. It is situated on the Rhone, in the South of France, and an insurgent spirit has manifested itself there for many months.

THE TENTH POSITIVE INSURRECTIONARY MOVEMENT.

commenced at Lyons. It is principally a manufacturing city, containing about 190,000 inhabitants. It is situated on the Rhone, in the South of France, and an insurgent spirit has manifested itself there for many months.

VIRGINIA FREE PRESS.

Devoted to Politics, Foreign and Domestic Intelligence, Literature, Science, Agriculture, the Mechanic Arts, Internal Improvement, and General Miscellany.

the bridges, at the Place des Terreaux, and at La Croix Rousse.

The cannon and musketry were fired for several hours together, in the midst of this commercial city, where nothing would be spared but the sound of toms, if faction had not attempted to put a stop to them.

TELEGRAPHIC DESPATCH.

From Lyons, 13th April, 11 o'clock at night.

To the Minister of the Interior. The faubourgs occupied by the insurgents have fallen into our power. The intercourse is every where re-established. The mails have this evening again taken their usual routes. The anarchists are in the greatest disorder.

EVENTS IN PARIS.

From Galloni's Paris Messenger, of April 12.

Several members of the Societe des Droits de l'Homme were arrested yesterday. Government has taken strong precautionary measures for securing the tranquillity of the capital. The troops are confined to their barracks, with a battalion of each regiment for pickets. Cartridges have been delivered out, and during the night numerous persons were paraded the streets. It is satisfactory to be able to announce that perfect tranquillity prevailed. A few groups, assembled in the populous quarters of the city yesterday, at the hour when the workmen usually go to dinner, dispersed on the remonstrances of the police.

From the Galloni Messenger of April 13.

The band of rioters who last night attempted to renew the scenes of the Cloitre St. Merry, in this capital, have been defeated at every point by the bravery and devotion of the troops and the National Guards, who, with each other, have been engaged in a struggle with these lawless and desperate outrages.

The insurgents, who were still occupying the windows in the several streets in which they had taken their stand, when they could fire in comparative safety upon the troops and thus assassinate their brave antagonists. They kept up in this manner an occasional firing during the entire night, which was not returned by the troops; but when daylight enabled the latter to take possession of every barricade, and every house which afforded them shelter, was but the work of an hour, and between seven and eight o'clock, they were masters of every hostile position.

It is stated (but in the disorder necessarily prevailing at a moment like the present, we cannot vouch for the truth of every statement we receive,) that in one of the houses, a number of the rioters were discovered, who had been most active in their murderous assault on the National Guards and soldiery, and that not one of them was suffered to escape alive.

Although the National Guards are not embodied, a certain number of the citizens, dressed in the uniform, mingled with the troops, who remained faithful against all attempts at seduction. The Telegraph which has been deranged, is that at Limonest, two leagues from Lyons, and that at Fourviere has also been dismounted. It is to be regretted that the cloudy weather yesterday prevented the telegraphic despatches coming beyond Semier, and thus hindered the arrival of news.

In order to comprehend fully the late unhappy state of Lyons, a correct idea of the scene, the action commenced at several points at the same time, and in parts of the town beyond the two rivers which intersect it. The efforts of the insurgents, however, were principally directed to the environs of the Palais de Justice, that is, in the quarter beyond the Saone.

Driven back upon the bridges, and afterwards from them, they were compelled to concentrate themselves in a species of delta, the sides of which were formed by the Rue Merciere, Grenette, de l'Hospital, and containing a great many narrow and populous streets. Here they were enclosed every where Wednesday, and it was evidently the plan of the General to keep them, as it were, blockaded, and drive them to surrender without further effusion of blood.

The Lyons mail that arrived yesterday afternoon, did not bring any of the journals of that town. The Government has received news from Lyons, by express, to the evening of the 13th inst. The day had been bloody and decisive. The rebels, driven from other positions, took refuge in three or four streets, among others in the cathedral, which it was necessary to besiege. All who were shut up in it perished; their number is supposed to be 300. The rebels had also possession of two posts, one at Fourviere, seated on a hill commanding Saone, which the troops took by assault, killing or making prisoners all who were found in it; and the other post that of St. George, which also was being attacked with the utmost vigor.

Lyons, and at the same time testify my full confidence that, on every occasion, the army will show that it remains what it has shown itself at all times, faithful to its duty and to its honor. It will always find me ready to second it, and it is with my whole heart that I appreciate the noble sentiments with which it is animated, as well as the great services which it has rendered to the country.

The King concluded, he was answered by a man of great intelligence, and of an enthusiasm difficult to describe. His Majesty who was sensibly affected, spoke again; and said, "I cannot express how I am impressed with the sentiments you have manifested with respect to the King, and how I bear towards the army. I was brought up in the ranks, and was ever ready to share its dangers, and identify myself with its glory, as I had the happiness of doing in my youth."

Yesterday the favorable news from Lyons spread general gratification throughout the capital, except among those who look to the reign of tumult and disorder as a means of furthering the purposes of faction. This party had evidently been busy preparing, and printing and posting in all directions, a whole host of pamphlets, and every part of Paris were ported towards every group began to assemble near the Fort St. Martin, and in several other parts of the city. At the other end of the Rue St. Martin towards the river.

One hundred persons were arrested on Saturday. Amongst them are Messrs. Guinand, Beaumont, Recure, Desjardis, Lisbonne, Sarrut, Germain, Kerzoxi, Rivail, Lisbonoi, Dutchatlet, Delbart and Flanel. A warrant has been issued against M. Gavagnat, but he was not found at home. The King, it is stated, has decided to go to the front, and to take possession of every barricade, and every house which afforded them shelter, was but the work of an hour, and between seven and eight o'clock, they were masters of every hostile position.

It is stated (but in the disorder necessarily prevailing at a moment like the present, we cannot vouch for the truth of every statement we receive,) that in one of the houses, a number of the rioters were discovered, who had been most active in their murderous assault on the National Guards and soldiery, and that not one of them was suffered to escape alive.

Although the National Guards are not embodied, a certain number of the citizens, dressed in the uniform, mingled with the troops, who remained faithful against all attempts at seduction. The Telegraph which has been deranged, is that at Limonest, two leagues from Lyons, and that at Fourviere has also been dismounted. It is to be regretted that the cloudy weather yesterday prevented the telegraphic despatches coming beyond Semier, and thus hindered the arrival of news.

In order to comprehend fully the late unhappy state of Lyons, a correct idea of the scene, the action commenced at several points at the same time, and in parts of the town beyond the two rivers which intersect it. The efforts of the insurgents, however, were principally directed to the environs of the Palais de Justice, that is, in the quarter beyond the Saone.

Driven back upon the bridges, and afterwards from them, they were compelled to concentrate themselves in a species of delta, the sides of which were formed by the Rue Merciere, Grenette, de l'Hospital, and containing a great many narrow and populous streets. Here they were enclosed every where Wednesday, and it was evidently the plan of the General to keep them, as it were, blockaded, and drive them to surrender without further effusion of blood.

The Lyons mail that arrived yesterday afternoon, did not bring any of the journals of that town. The Government has received news from Lyons, by express, to the evening of the 13th inst. The day had been bloody and decisive. The rebels, driven from other positions, took refuge in three or four streets, among others in the cathedral, which it was necessary to besiege. All who were shut up in it perished; their number is supposed to be 300. The rebels had also possession of two posts, one at Fourviere, seated on a hill commanding Saone, which the troops took by assault, killing or making prisoners all who were found in it; and the other post that of St. George, which also was being attacked with the utmost vigor.

England. The intelligence conveyed to England by the Lightning steamer, and received here by the Poland, is confirmed, with the additional news that 2000 Spanish troops had crossed the frontiers to assist the constitutional cause, but on the other side, many had also entered to join Don Miguel.

GENERAL INTELLIGENCE.

SINGULAR AFFAIR.

On the evening of the 4th of November last, Caroline Snyder, wife of Adam Snyder, of the Northern Liberties, departed from her home. She left her infant babe sleeping in the cradle, and gave no intimation of an intention not to return. When her husband came home in the evening, he found his child without its protector, and caused instant search to be made for his wife. She could not be found that night. Next day arrived, and still she was absent. Hand-bills were printed and posted in all directions, but every effort was vain. She returned on more. The circumstance was regarded with the more surprise, as she left her infant, a husband who had ever treated her kindly, and a comfortable, and apparently a happy home.

Months elapsed, and at length the search was given up. On examination of the respectable German, unacquainted with our language or customs, formed another attachment; and last Thursday was fixed for the wedding. On that very day, just six months from the disappearance of his wife, some boys grappling at West's wharf, brought the body of a woman. She was about 22 years old, and had been married but a short time when she committed suicide. The circumstances produced great excitement. The ignorant and superstitious are once again deluged with mysterious tales. We are informed, however, by Mr. Dickinson, the coroner, that after a full investigation of the facts, he is confidently assured that the husband had no agency whatever in the death of his wife, and that she committed self-destruction in a moment of delirium. Mr. Snyder is represented as an uneducated and simple, but sober and worthy man, and it is to be regretted that the teaching of his wife, in her early marriage, have exposed himself to the silly suspicions of the superstitious. We may add, that, notwithstanding the appalling discovery, he was married to the day fixed for the bridal. Philadelphia Intell.

Don't get Don't. The Abbe Janet, director of the Hospital of Bon Sautour, lately exhibited at the Academy of Caen a dead youth, who he has so successfully treated as to render him capable of speaking with tolerable correctness. Many members of the Academy addressed through the medium of his learned instructor, and put questions to him regarding the course of his studies, all of which he answered without the least hesitation. The tone of his voice had a most striking, not to say unnatural, effect, and would have seemed to issue from an automaton, but for the motion of his chest, and the play of the organs of articulation. It was not until the teaching of his pupil, in the manner in which this extraordinary result has been attained. His practice was first to draw on a paper a mouth, and trace out the tongue in all the necessary positions for the emission of different sounds. Many of these, and especially the nasal sounds, he has traced out in a diagram at Laflamme's on the Rhine. The patient is under ground, and is unknown even to him who occupies my throne. I can write no more, for I am rigid and cruelly guarded.

Rapid Travelling. The passengers in the Baltimore line, who left Philadelphia at six o'clock yesterday morning, were at the wharf in Baltimore at forty minutes past one. E. M. Johnson, Jr., of Columbia, Md., was on board, and in a short space of seven hours and forty minutes he had reached New York. The time occupied in the passage of full distance was an hour and a half. The Baltimore line, which has been preserved, and an accurate case has been taken of the health of the immortal band, which has long been a desideratum among Phrenologists.

Further Fruits of the "Experiment." Among Mr. Secretary Toney's notable expedients for introducing Jackson money, or a metallic currency, in the place of bank note circulation of the country—one much relied upon, was that of inducing the public to deposit their deposits with the public depositories, which should receive, in issue or take any notes of a less denomination than ten dollars. When told, as he was, by some of the New York Merchants' Committee, that if "the Experiment" was long continued, the revenue would thereby be so much affected, that the deposits would be too inconsiderable to furnish any equivalent to a bank for forwarding the advantages of the circulation of small notes, the Secretary seemed incredulous as to any falling off of the revenue. By the annexed statement, however, which a friend just from Washington obtained at the Treasury Department last Saturday—it is clear that the merchants' anticipation was prophetic, and the credibility of the Secretary so much out of place as he himself is.

Stray Horses. STRAYED, or was stolen, on Sunday last, from Section 25 of the Winchester and Potomac Rail Road, (near the White House), a dark SOREL MARE, without any white, about 5 years old, with the hair rubbed off her left hip bone. Any person returning the said mare to the White House, or leaving her at Mr. Delaplaine's tavern in Charlestown, shall be handsomely rewarded. ROBERT HARVEY, Contractor. May 29, 1834.

Stray Horses. STRAYED, from John Peacher's farm, at the Old Furnace, on the 24th instant, a bright BAY HORSE, five years old this spring, no marks or collected, except a rear near the stifle joint produced by a kick or snag; his tail is very thin and pretty long; he has also a small white ring around one of his hind feet near the hoof. A reasonable reward will be given to any person who will inform the subscriber where the said horse can be had, or who will return it to port. WILLIAM BOWEN. Shepherdstown, May 29, 1834.

Stray Horses. STRAYED, or was stolen, on Sunday last, from Section 25 of the Winchester and Potomac Rail Road, (near the White House), a dark SOREL MARE, without any white, about 5 years old, with the hair rubbed off her left hip bone. Any person returning the said mare to the White House, or leaving her at Mr. Delaplaine's tavern in Charlestown, shall be handsomely rewarded. ROBERT HARVEY, Contractor. May 29, 1834.

From the Winchester Virginian, of May 11.

Federal Recognition. The Rev. Dr. Hill, who has, for the last 34 years, had the pastoral charge of the first Presbyterian church in this place, took leave of his congregation on Sunday last, preparatory to his removal to Prince Edward. The Doctor delivered, on this occasion, a discourse to which will be long remembered by those to whom it was addressed, as well as an account of the interesting reminiscences it contained, as of the paternal advice which he tendered to his hearers. The deep feeling which pervaded the sermon, proved that the reverence of such things, as exist between a faithful pastor and a pious church, is a painful event. When this venerable man declared that he had lived through one generation of his communicants and was now far in the second—when he adverted to the endearing relations which he held to many who heard him—when he touched on those tender associations which connected him more or less with every person in that house, not only did every heart respond in sympathy to his emotions, but the very walls of the house and the chambers of the dead echoed back the sentiments. We witnessed with painful delight, and we note the removal of Dr. Hill, from our community, with sorrow and regret.

Celebration of Jameson's Fall. It was determined by the citizens of Williamsburg and vicinity, to revive the anniversary celebration of the first landing of our English ancestors at Jamestown; and that on the 24th inst. an address and other appropriate exercises should be held there. Among the movements of the day, it was contemplated to form in honor of the Princess Pocahontas, who was so great a friend to the early colonists, a procession of five hundred and fifty women, wearing Indian dresses, and to be accompanied by a guard of honor, composed chiefly of officers and other members of the volunteer and military corps, of such towns and counties as might be disposed to participate in the festival.

Wills of Shakespeare, Milton, and Napoleon Bonaparte. The last wills and testaments of the three greatest men of modern age, are tied up in one sheet of foolscap, and may be seen together at Doctors Commons. In the will of the "bard of Avon" is an intercalation in his own handwriting, which gives unto my wife my brown bed and furniture. It is proved by William Bridge, 23d July, 1616. The will of the immortal Napoleon is a uncapacitated one taken by his daughter, the great post being blind. The will of Napoleon is signed in a bold style of hand-writing, the caduc, on the contrary, written shortly before his death, exhibits the true weak state of his body.

A boatman of Gros Kemps found some time ago a bottle floating on the Rhine. It contained the following note: "To those who may find this paper, I am confined in a dungeon at Laflamme's on the Rhine. The prison is under ground, and is unknown even to him who occupies my throne. I can write no more, for I am rigid and cruelly guarded."

Political Miscellany. Further Fruits of the "Experiment." Among Mr. Secretary Toney's notable expedients for introducing Jackson money, or a metallic currency, in the place of bank note circulation of the country—one much relied upon, was that of inducing the public to deposit their deposits with the public depositories, which should receive, in issue or take any notes of a less denomination than ten dollars. When told, as he was, by some of the New York Merchants' Committee, that if "the Experiment" was long continued, the revenue would thereby be so much affected, that the deposits would be too inconsiderable to furnish any equivalent to a bank for forwarding the advantages of the circulation of small notes, the Secretary seemed incredulous as to any falling off of the revenue. By the annexed statement, however, which a friend just from Washington obtained at the Treasury Department last Saturday—it is clear that the merchants' anticipation was prophetic, and the credibility of the Secretary so much out of place as he himself is.

Stray Horses. STRAYED, or was stolen, on Sunday last, from Section 25 of the Winchester and Potomac Rail Road, (near the White House), a dark SOREL MARE, without any white, about 5 years old, with the hair rubbed off her left hip bone. Any person returning the said mare to the White House, or leaving her at Mr. Delaplaine's tavern in Charlestown, shall be handsomely rewarded. ROBERT HARVEY, Contractor. May 29, 1834.

Stray Horses. STRAYED, from John Peacher's farm, at the Old Furnace, on the 24th instant, a bright BAY HORSE, five years old this spring, no marks or collected, except a rear near the stifle joint produced by a kick or snag; his tail is very thin and pretty long; he has also a small white ring around one of his hind feet near the hoof. A reasonable reward will be given to any person who will inform the subscriber where the said horse can be had, or who will return it to port. WILLIAM BOWEN. Shepherdstown, May 29, 1834.

Stray Horses. STRAYED, or was stolen, on Sunday last, from Section 25 of the Winchester and Potomac Rail Road, (near the White House), a dark SOREL MARE, without any white, about 5 years old, with the hair rubbed off her left hip bone. Any person returning the said mare to the White House, or leaving her at Mr. Delaplaine's tavern in Charlestown, shall be handsomely rewarded. ROBERT HARVEY, Contractor. May 29, 1834.

MR. LEIGH.

A Correspondent of the New Bedford Free Press gives the following description of a writer and effects of this gentleman's oratory. "Mr. Leigh of Virginia, I had expected to see a man of large proportions, such a man as instance in personal bearing as the late Mr. Wirt. Mr. Leigh rose into Congress greatly to the consternation of the powers that be. He was an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson, pointing the Scylla and Charybdis of the times. He is a man of great energy, and great intensity of feeling. He would, therefore, be an object of great interest coming from any quarter, north from Virginia. When addressing the Senate, he is a danger, as an old acquaintance, and of course I had seen celebrated letters under the signature of "Algeron Sidney" of great purity and power, written against General Jackson,

