

Free Press

FREE PRESS, THE PALLADIUM OF LIBERTY.

BY JOHN S. GALLAHER.

CHARLESTOWN, JEFFERSON COUNTY, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1834.

NO. 36—VOL. 97.

POLITICAL.

From the Martinsburg Republican.

GREAT DEMOCRATIC MEETING.

The democracy of Berkeley gave a barbecue to their fellow-citizen democrats of this congressional district, on Friday the 23rd ult. to promote social intercourse and concert in action between the friends of the administration in the district, and to afford a suitable opportunity to collect public sentiment, and give extensive publicity to a public expression of the view which the republicans of this portion of the ancient dominion entertain of the prominent measures of the general government, and the estimate which they fit on the expediency, integrity and patriotic devotion of the present public functionaries. It was a grand and imposing exhibition. We had the high pleasure of shaking hands with many of our warm-hearted brethren from Frederick, Jefferson and Morgan, through whom we were enabled to present our respectful regard to all our democratic brethren of our sister counties, and respectfully tender to them a pledge of faithfulness to the democratic cause, and of promptness, concert and unanimity in action. For light sake we live, and for their sake we die.

The sale of this great festival was on the domain of our much esteemed fellow-citizen, Mr. Michael K. Seibert, whose hospitality and generosity can be surpassed—in an enchanting shade, on the border of an extensive and luxuriant mead, which is watered by the fast-flowing Shenandoah.

Dr. John Hedges and William Lucas, Esq. addressed the dense and attractive assembly in happy strains of oratory, abounding in pliny point, pathos, zeal, appropriate arrangement of the subject matter, and adaptation of it to time, place and circumstance.

The meeting was organized by calling our veteran, venerable and much respected fellow-citizen, Maj. Henry Demmons, to preside, and appointing Maj. Wm. G. Beas and Dr. John B. Hanes, vice-presidents, and Dr. John Hedges and Dennis Murphy, secretaries—whereupon the object and intent of the meeting having been explained in a very neat and graceful manner, by Col. John Sheppard, of Morgan, and a motion made for the appointment of a committee of three gentlemen from each of the counties composing this congressional district, to draft preliminary resolutions, expressive of the real political sentiments of the meeting, and of what they ingeniously believe to be a true expression of the sentiments of the democratic party of the district.

The following gentlemen were named and appointed: Wm. G. Beas, Wm. Albert and Dr. John S. Harrison, of Berkeley; E. W. Robinson, Richard Becken and Henry P. Baker, of Frederick; John Sheppard, Lemuel Venable and Samuel Oberly, of Morgan; Solomon Maxwell, Solomon Blymer and John Markel, of Jefferson; David M. Cuker, Henry Hedges, and James Mason, proxies for Hampshire county; who retired to consult on the proper discharge of the duties which their designation enjoined upon them, and in due time they produced the following preamble and resolutions, which were adopted without a dissenting voice:

PREAMBLE AND RESOLUTIONS.

This meeting, having seen with lively indignation, the disingenuous attempts that have been lately made, and are making, by a party who are not only unworthy, but who are unwelcome to the people of this State, to shake the confidence of the people of the United States in that tried patriot, Andrew Jackson, and to embarrass and break down his administration, by a variety of other means, and to attack, by every other weapon of attack, that have lately been used under the banners of the United States flag, and have endeavored to persuade the people that the president is advising and sanctioning the order of the treasury for the seizure of the state banks, after the first day of October, assumed upon himself powers not in accordance with the constitution and laws, but in derogation of both.

According to their doctrine, the Bank of the United States, which many of them admit to be an unconstitutional corporation, had, under all circumstances, an exclusive right to the custody of the people's money, until the expiration of its charter, although in that very instrument, an unlimited and untruncated power is reserved to the secretary of the treasury, in his capacity as secretary to Congress, for his conduct during its last session.

Resolved, That we have undiminished confidence in the wisdom, integrity and patriotism of Andrew Jackson, the present venerable chief-magistrate of the United States.

Resolved, That in removing the deposit from the United States Bank, under the circumstances disclosed, of its mismanagement and corruption, the secretary of the treasury was justified by the public interest, and acted with regard to the public interest.

Resolved, That the United States Bank has forfeited all claim to a re-charter, or to a restoration of the deposit, and that we will vote for no man to represent us in the state or national legislature, who is favorable to either of those measures.

Resolved, That the thanks of the people are due to the gallant and patriotic chief-magistrate of the United States, for his conduct during his last session, and to the members of the administration, and especially the secretary of the treasury, who have maintained the integrity of the constitution, and have preserved the rights of the people.

Resolved, That we will heartily co-operate at the next spring election, with the friends of the administration in the other counties of this congressional district, to secure a representative who will truly reflect our opinions as Col. Logan has done, and to prevent the election of any one opposed to them.

Resolved, That our democratic republican brethren in other parts of the district be invited and earnestly urged to union and increased vigilance in maintaining the Virginia principle for which we have so long and so successfully contended.

Resolved, That the proceedings of this meeting be signed by the president and secretaries, and published in the Virginia Republican, Winchester Free Press, Harmony Intelligencer, and Washington Globe.

HENRY HEDGES, President.
WILLIAM G. BEAS, Vice-President.
JOHN S. HARRISON, Secretary.
DANIEL MURPHY, Secretary.

The ceremonies of the day having progressed thus far, a call was made to the festive board, which was bountifully supplied with every thing that was good, savory and customary, on occasion of this sort.

Much praise is due to Capt. Richard Beall, chief marshal of the day, for his soldier-like conduct and graceful evolutions; and to Mr. John McCleary, commander-in-chief of the culinary posse and process, for his assiduity, as well as his polite attentions to the various wants and tastes of the company. Having finished the generous repast in good order, and with the best of cheer, the following toasts were given and drank with rapturous applause that made the welkin ring, accompanied with the heart-cheering and soul-stirring melody of the Martinsburg band, and the sweet approving responsive echoes, from the contiguous the state banks, its debtors and all others, who had the misfortune to owe any thing, in one common ruin. Whilst the public mind was disturbed and alarmed by this state of things, and knew not on whom or what to charge the distress, which was so artificially produced, the opportunity was seized to direct its indignation against the president of our choice. It was pretended that he had seized upon the purse and the sword of the nation—that he was endeavoring to concentrate all power in his own hands—and that he was ruining the country by a mad and perilous experiment, to gratify his malignant feelings against the bank. Every epithet of Billingsgate abuse was lavished upon his venerable head, and he was openly denounced as an usurper, tyrant, a Tory, and a felon.

WOODS AND GROVES, which the admiring student loves.

REGULAR TOASTS.

1. Washington: May all who love liberty cherish his memory.

The senate of the United States, whose members, in the event of his impeachment, are his constitutional triers, were so regardless of their station and dignity, as to pronounce judgment against him before charges were preferred by the house of representatives, which alone is competent to institute proceedings of that nature.

This persecuted patriot had expressed conviction of the unconstitutionality and inexpediency of the bank—and upon discovering its abuses, determined to resist its influence, oppose its designs upon the rights and liberties of the people, and to give them, after a time, a sound and hard money currency, not liable to fluctuation in value, instead of notes promising to pay what they seldom received, and were always liable to lose by fraud and insolvency—and it was done too by a piebald coalition, who agree in nothing but their bitter hatred of the man who has toiled and labored, and fought and triumphed, for his country, at a time when many of the party now opposed to him were sickening at his victories, and rejoicing in her defeats.

To prosecute him and his administration, nullifiers and nationals, bank and anti-bank-men, tariff and anti-tariff-men, the advocates and opponents of internal improvements, stock-jobbers and intemperance-men, have laid aside their party distinctions, and united in an unholy, unprincipled and portentous league, to put down the man of the people, and scramble themselves into office.

With such a coalition, we have no affinity or sympathy. Whatever objection some of us may have had to particular measures of the administration, we believe, upon the whole, it has been conducted upon sound principles, and pure intentions, and we are fully satisfied, that it is preferable to any which could be formed from the materials of which its opponents are composed. We prefer it greatly to the prospect of an administration, having at its head Henry Clay, Daniel Webster, John C. Calhoun, or Benjamin Watkins Leigh; and we are determined to give it as long as it continues in the course it has hitherto practically pursued; our cordial and strenuous support.—Therefore—

Resolved, That we have undiminished confidence in the wisdom, integrity and patriotism of Andrew Jackson, the present venerable chief-magistrate of the United States.

Resolved, That in removing the deposit from the United States Bank, under the circumstances disclosed, of its mismanagement and corruption, the secretary of the treasury was justified by the public interest, and acted with regard to the public interest.

Resolved, That the United States Bank has forfeited all claim to a re-charter, or to a restoration of the deposit, and that we will vote for no man to represent us in the state or national legislature, who is favorable to either of those measures.

Resolved, That the thanks of the people are due to the gallant and patriotic chief-magistrate of the United States, for his conduct during his last session, and to the members of the administration, and especially the secretary of the treasury, who have maintained the integrity of the constitution, and have preserved the rights of the people.

Resolved, That we will heartily co-operate at the next spring election, with the friends of the administration in the other counties of this congressional district, to secure a representative who will truly reflect our opinions as Col. Logan has done, and to prevent the election of any one opposed to them.

Resolved, That our democratic republican brethren in other parts of the district be invited and earnestly urged to union and increased vigilance in maintaining the Virginia principle for which we have so long and so successfully contended.

Resolved, That the proceedings of this meeting be signed by the president and secretaries, and published in the Virginia Republican, Winchester Free Press, Harmony Intelligencer, and Washington Globe.

HENRY HEDGES, President.
WILLIAM G. BEAS, Vice-President.
JOHN S. HARRISON, Secretary.
DANIEL MURPHY, Secretary.

The ceremonies of the day having progressed thus far, a call was made to the festive board, which was bountifully supplied with every thing that was good, savory and customary, on occasion of this sort.

Much praise is due to Capt. Richard Beall, chief marshal of the day, for his soldier-like conduct and graceful evolutions; and to Mr. John McCleary, commander-in-chief of the culinary posse and process, for his assiduity, as well as his polite attentions to the various wants and tastes of the company. Having finished the generous repast in good order, and with the best of cheer, the following toasts were given and drank with rapturous applause that made the welkin ring, accompanied with the heart-cheering and soul-stirring melody of the Martinsburg band, and the sweet approving responsive echoes, from the contiguous

WOODS AND GROVES, which the admiring student loves.

REGULAR TOASTS.

1. Washington: May all who love liberty cherish his memory.

3. La Fayette: Let the necessary slave breathe not his name; but let it be secret to liberty while there are hearts in the breasts of freemen.

4. Our Country: While she is independent as a nation, let her people be free.

5. The President of the United States: May his unwavering devotion to the constitution, his patriotism and unending integrity, secure to the people of the United States a perpetuation of the blessings of Liberty.

6. Roger B. Taney: His patriotic devotion to the government, and rights of the people, has brought down upon his head the hatred and malice of the Bank of the United States, and its satellites of the senate.

7. Andrew Stevenson: Though presented by a factious senate, may he, like Van Buren, live to enjoy the gratitude of a generous nation.

8. Wm. C. Cives: One of Virginia's brightest stars, a favorite of Jefferson, and a favorite of the Bank of the United States, and its satellites of the senate.

9. Andrew Stevenson: Though presented by a factious senate, may he, like Van Buren, live to enjoy the gratitude of a generous nation.

10. Berkeley co. and Precinct elections: With utter hopelessness of candor and justice from our own representatives, we will apply to a neighboring county, for a fair and impartial election.

11. The Senate of the U. States: Clay, Webster, Calhoun, & Co., an unholy union consummated in the temple of illiberty.

12. Wm. Leigh: Let the U. S. Bank: Mr. Leigh holds that the U. S. Bank is unconstitutional, and has been sworn to support the constitution, and to prevent its development from Virginia.

13. The American Fair.
[The volunteer toast about a balloon and a half.—We have not room for them.]

PUBLIC MEETING IN FREDERICK.

At a meeting of the citizens of Frederick county, in favor of instructing their delegates to the legislature to vote against the re-charter of Benjamin Watkins Leigh, Esq., to the senate of the U. S., convened at the courthouse in Winchester, on Monday the 1st day of September, 1834; WILLIAM WOOD, Esq., was called to the chair, and ENOCH W. HOAG, Esq., appointed secretary.

The object of the meeting was explained, in a short address by Richard Parker, Esq., upon whose motion a committee was ordered to report resolutions for the consideration of the meeting. Whereupon the chair appointed Richard Parker, Maj. George H. Norris, Dr. George Lynn, Rev. George Reed, John King, George Beiler, Jacob Heironimus, Wm. Lynn and Leroy P. Dalgard, said committee.

The committee having retired a short time, returned and reported the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted: That the citizens of this county cordially approve the leading measure of the present administration, and above all, its determined opposition to the United States Bank.

Resolved, That it confides in the purity, integrity and firmness of Andrew Jackson; to revere the people for the danger and corruption which this Bank, and that it pledges itself to sustain him in the efforts he is now making to accomplish this important object.

Resolved, That entertaining the strongest objections to this or any similar national bank, and believing that the true issue now before the people is, whether such an institution be necessary to their interests, or whether it be imposed upon them or not, this meeting stands pledged to vote for no man, either for the state or federal legislature, whose opinions on this subject do not accord with their own, until this question shall be finally and forever settled.

Resolved, That this meeting, upon a full and candid review of the public course heretofore pursued by Mr. Leigh, and especially during the last session of Congress, is determined to vote for no man, either for the state or federal legislature, whose opinions on this subject do not accord with their own, until this question shall be finally and forever settled.

Resolved, That in his ruthless opposition to every measure of this administration, his readiness to sacrifice for party purposes men as virtuous and deserving as any in the republic, and his forwardness and zeal in procuring the rejection of our amiable fellow-citizen Andrew Stevenson, we discover motives for his conduct which most heartily detest, and a bitterness of feeling which utterly disqualifies him for the dignified station of a senator from Virginia.

Resolved, That his entire course since he entered the federal council, has been injurious to the welfare and character of our state, and that to continue him therein, would be a desertion by Virginia of all those principles for which she has so long and so warmly contended, and which have raised her to her present enviable eminence in the Southern States.

Resolved, That entertaining these opinions of the injurious consequences that have resulted from the election of Mr. Leigh to the senate of the United States, we are as good citizens bound to make every honorable exertion to prevent his re-election, and to employ the most ready and convenient means of attaining our object, and do recommend to those of our countrymen who agree in sentiment with us, to attempt to instruct our delegates in our state legislature to vote against Mr. Leigh, and for that individual (whoever he may be) whom the democratic republican party may select as their candidate.

Resolved, That we be appointed a central committee, with power to prepare and publish an address to our fellow-citizens of Frederick county, setting forth the motives and the reasons which have induced this step on the part of this meeting; and also to prepare a letter of instruction to our delegates, directing them to vote against Benjamin W. Leigh, and for the candidate of the democratic republican party; and that this committee shall further have power to select individuals in the different neighborhoods of the county to whom to entrust the duty of presenting these instructions to the people residing in their several vicinities.

Resolved, That this meeting do urge the greatest vigilance upon their committee and the individuals which it may select to wait upon the people for their signatures.

[The central committee consists of one hundred and seventy-five persons; Judge Parker chairman.]

of one passage, having previously avowed in her heart, that if this could not touch the Scotch, she would never again cross the Tweed. When it was finished, she paused, and looked to the audience. The deep silence was broken by a single voice exclaiming, "That's no bad!"—This ludicrous parody of praise convulsed the Edinburgh audience with laughter. But the laugh was followed by such thunders of applause, that amidst her stunted and nervous agitation, she was not without fears of the galleries coming down.—[Brighton-Gazette.]

THE DEAD CHILD.
"She was my idol. Night and day I saw the infant expansion of her form, and mark the unfolding mind, like vernal rose buds, start to the light, and bloom in the sun's eye. To find her daily footsteps following me—her hand upon my garments—or her lip long sealed to mine—and in the watch of night the quiet breath of innocence to feel—Sobbing she would gaze such a full orb of happiness, as none but mothers know. Her voice was like some tiny heart that yields to the slight finger's touch—and as it held long converse with her doll, or kindly soothed her moaning kitten, or with patient care Com'd o'er her alphabet—but most of all the tender endearments of her evening prayer, 'Thou'ldst on the ear like some ethereal tone, Heard in sweet dreams.—"

THE GOLD RING.
I have one of the kindest husbands: he is a carpenter by trade, and our flock of little children has one of the kindest fathers in the country. I was thought the luckiest girl in the parish, when G—T—made me his wife. I thought so myself. Our wedding day—and it was a happy one—was but an indifferent sample of those days of rational happiness and unintermitted harmony, which we were permitted to enjoy together for the space of six years. And although for the last three years of our lives we have been as happy as we were at the beginning, it makes my heart sick to think of those long dark days and sad nights, that came between, for two years of our union were years of misery. I will not recollect the struggles of ardent spirits that my husband ever drank. He had been at the grocery to purchase a little tea and sugar for the family; there were three cents coming to him in change, and unbeknown to me, the Deacon, who keeps the shop, had nothing but silver in the till; and as it was a sharp frosty morning, he persuaded my good man, to take his money's worth of rum, for it was just the price of a glass. He came home in wonderful spirits, and told me he meant to have me and the children better dressed, and as neighbor Barton talked of selling his house, he thought of buying them both, and, when I said to him, "George, we are dressed as well as we can afford, and I hope you will not think of a horse and chaise, till we have paid off the Squire's mortgage," he gave me a sharp look and a bitter word. I never shall forget that day; for they were the last that he ever gave me in his life. When he saw me shuddering, and holding my apron to my face, he said, "he was sorry, and came to kiss me, and I discovered that he had been drinking, and it grieved me to the heart."

THE GOLD RING.
I have one of the kindest husbands: he is a carpenter by trade, and our flock of little children has one of the kindest fathers in the country. I was thought the luckiest girl in the parish, when G—T—made me his wife. I thought so myself. Our wedding day—and it was a happy one—was but an indifferent sample of those days of rational happiness and unintermitted harmony, which we were permitted to enjoy together for the space of six years. And although for the last three years of our lives we have been as happy as we were at the beginning, it makes my heart sick to think of those long dark days and sad nights, that came between, for two years of our union were years of misery. I will not recollect the struggles of ardent spirits that my husband ever drank. He had been at the grocery to purchase a little tea and sugar for the family; there were three cents coming to him in change, and unbeknown to me, the Deacon, who keeps the shop, had nothing but silver in the till; and as it was a sharp frosty morning, he persuaded my good man, to take his money's worth of rum, for it was just the price of a glass. He came home in wonderful spirits, and told me he meant to have me and the children better dressed, and as neighbor Barton talked of selling his house, he thought of buying them both, and, when I said to him, "George, we are dressed as well as we can afford, and I hope you will not think of a horse and chaise, till we have paid off the Squire's mortgage," he gave me a sharp look and a bitter word. I never shall forget that day; for they were the last that he ever gave me in his life. When he saw me shuddering, and holding my apron to my face, he said, "he was sorry, and came to kiss me, and I discovered that he had been drinking, and it grieved me to the heart."

THE GOLD RING.
I have one of the kindest husbands: he is a carpenter by trade, and our flock of little children has one of the kindest fathers in the country. I was thought the luckiest girl in the parish, when G—T—made me his wife. I thought so myself. Our wedding day—and it was a happy one—was but an indifferent sample of those days of rational happiness and unintermitted harmony, which we were permitted to enjoy together for the space of six years. And although for the last three years of our lives we have been as happy as we were at the beginning, it makes my heart sick to think of those long dark days and sad nights, that came between, for two years of our union were years of misery. I will not recollect the struggles of ardent spirits that my husband ever drank. He had been at the grocery to purchase a little tea and sugar for the family; there were three cents coming to him in change, and unbeknown to me, the Deacon, who keeps the shop, had nothing but silver in the till; and as it was a sharp frosty morning, he persuaded my good man, to take his money's worth of rum, for it was just the price of a glass. He came home in wonderful spirits, and told me he meant to have me and the children better dressed, and as neighbor Barton talked of selling his house, he thought of buying them both, and, when I said to him, "George, we are dressed as well as we can afford, and I hope you will not think of a horse and chaise, till we have paid off the Squire's mortgage," he gave me a sharp look and a bitter word. I never shall forget that day; for they were the last that he ever gave me in his life. When he saw me shuddering, and holding my apron to my face, he said, "he was sorry, and came to kiss me, and I discovered that he had been drinking, and it grieved me to the heart."

THE GOLD RING.
I have one of the kindest husbands: he is a carpenter by trade, and our flock of little children has one of the kindest fathers in the country. I was thought the luckiest girl in the parish, when G—T—made me his wife. I thought so myself. Our wedding day—and it was a happy one—was but an indifferent sample of those days of rational happiness and unintermitted harmony, which we were permitted to enjoy together for the space of six years. And although for the last three years of our lives we have been as happy as we were at the beginning, it makes my heart sick to think of those long dark days and sad nights, that came between, for two years of our union were years of misery. I will not recollect the struggles of ardent spirits that my husband ever drank. He had been at the grocery to purchase a little tea and sugar for the family; there were three cents coming to him in change, and unbeknown to me, the Deacon, who keeps the shop, had nothing but silver in the till; and as it was a sharp frosty morning, he persuaded my good man, to take his money's worth of rum, for it was just the price of a glass. He came home in wonderful spirits, and told me he meant to have me and the children better dressed, and as neighbor Barton talked of selling his house, he thought of buying them both, and, when I said to him, "George, we are dressed as well as we can afford, and I hope you will not think of a horse and chaise, till we have paid off the Squire's mortgage," he gave me a sharp look and a bitter word. I never shall forget that day; for they were the last that he ever gave me in his life. When he saw me shuddering, and holding my apron to my face, he said, "he was sorry, and came to kiss me, and I discovered that he had been drinking, and it grieved me to the heart."

THE GOLD RING.
I have one of the kindest husbands: he is a carpenter by trade, and our flock of little children has one of the kindest fathers in the country. I was thought the luckiest girl in the parish, when G—T—made me his wife. I thought so myself. Our wedding day—and it was a happy one—was but an indifferent sample of those days of rational happiness and unintermitted harmony, which we were permitted to enjoy together for the space of six years. And although for the last three years of our lives we have been as happy as we were at the beginning, it makes my heart sick to think of those long dark days and sad nights, that came between, for two years of our union were years of misery. I will not recollect the struggles of ardent spirits that my husband ever drank. He had been at the grocery to purchase a little tea and sugar for the family; there were three cents coming to him in change, and unbeknown to me, the Deacon, who keeps the shop, had nothing but silver in the till; and as it was a sharp frosty morning, he persuaded my good man, to take his money's worth of rum, for it was just the price of a glass. He came home in wonderful spirits, and told me he meant to have me and the children better dressed, and as neighbor Barton talked of selling his house, he thought of buying them both, and, when I said to him, "George, we are dressed as well as we can afford, and I hope you will not think of a horse and chaise, till we have paid off the Squire's mortgage," he gave me a sharp look and a bitter word. I never shall forget that day; for they were the last that he ever gave me in his life. When he saw me shuddering, and holding my apron to my face, he said, "he was sorry, and came to kiss me, and I discovered that he had been drinking, and it grieved me to the heart."

THE GOLD RING.
I have one of the kindest husbands: he is a carpenter by trade, and our flock of little children has one of the kindest fathers in the country. I was thought the luckiest girl in the parish, when G—T—made me his wife. I thought so myself. Our wedding day—and it was a happy one—was but an indifferent sample of those days of rational happiness and unintermitted harmony, which we were permitted to enjoy together for the space of six years. And although for the last three years of our lives we have been as happy as we were at the beginning, it makes my heart sick to think of those long dark days and sad nights, that came between, for two years of our union were years of misery. I will not recollect the struggles of ardent spirits that my husband ever drank. He had been at the grocery to purchase a little tea and sugar for the family; there were three cents coming to him in change, and unbeknown to me, the Deacon, who keeps the shop, had nothing but silver in the till; and as it was a sharp frosty morning, he persuaded my good man, to take his money's worth of rum, for it was just the price of a glass. He came home in wonderful spirits, and told me he meant to have me and the children better dressed, and as neighbor Barton talked of selling his house, he thought of buying them both, and, when I said to him, "George, we are dressed as well as we can afford, and I hope you will not think of a horse and chaise, till we have paid off the Squire's mortgage," he gave me a sharp look and a bitter word. I never shall forget that day; for they were the last that he ever gave me in his life. When he saw me shuddering, and holding my apron to my face, he said, "he was sorry, and came to kiss me, and I discovered that he had been drinking, and it grieved me to the heart."

THE GOLD RING.
I have one of the kindest husbands: he is a carpenter by trade, and our flock of little children has one of the kindest fathers in the country. I was thought the luckiest girl in the parish, when G—T—made me his wife. I thought so myself. Our wedding day—and it was a happy one—was but an indifferent sample of those days of rational happiness and unintermitted harmony, which we were permitted to enjoy together for the space of six years. And although for the last three years of our lives we have been as happy as we were at the beginning, it makes my heart sick to think of those long dark days and sad nights, that came between, for two years of our union were years of misery. I will not recollect the struggles of ardent spirits that my husband ever drank. He had been at the grocery to purchase a little tea and sugar for the family; there were three cents coming to him in change, and unbeknown to me, the Deacon, who keeps the shop, had nothing but silver in the till; and as it was a sharp frosty morning, he persuaded my good man, to take his money's worth of rum, for it was just the price of a glass. He came home in wonderful spirits, and told me he meant to have me and the children better dressed, and as neighbor Barton talked of selling his house, he thought of buying them both, and, when I said to him, "George, we are dressed as well as we can afford, and I hope you will not think of a horse and chaise, till we have paid off the Squire's mortgage," he gave me a sharp look and a bitter word. I never shall forget that day; for they were the last that he ever gave me in his life. When he saw me shuddering, and holding my apron to my face, he said, "he was sorry, and came to kiss me, and I discovered that he had been drinking, and it grieved me to the heart."

THE GOLD RING.
I have one of the kindest husbands: he is a carpenter by trade, and our flock of little children has one of the kindest fathers in the country. I was thought the luckiest girl in the parish, when G—T—made me his wife. I thought so myself. Our wedding day—and it was a happy one—was but an indifferent sample of those days of rational happiness and unintermitted harmony, which we were permitted to enjoy together for the space of six years. And although for the last three years of our lives we have been as happy as we were at the beginning, it makes my heart sick to think of those long dark days and sad nights, that came between, for two years of our union were years of misery. I will not recollect the struggles of ardent spirits that my husband ever drank. He had been at the grocery to purchase a little tea and sugar for the family; there were three cents coming to him in change, and unbeknown to me, the Deacon, who keeps the shop, had nothing but silver in the till; and as it was a sharp frosty morning, he persuaded my good man, to take his money's worth of rum, for it was just the price of a glass. He came home in wonderful spirits, and told me he meant to have me and the children better dressed, and as neighbor Barton talked of selling his house, he thought of buying them both, and, when I said to him, "George, we are dressed as well as we can afford, and I hope you will not think of a horse and chaise, till we have paid off the Squire's mortgage," he gave me a sharp look and a bitter word. I never shall forget that day; for they were the last that he ever gave me in his life. When he saw me shuddering, and holding my apron to my face, he said, "he was sorry, and came to kiss me, and I discovered that he had been drinking, and it grieved me to the heart."

THE GOLD RING.
I have one of the kindest husbands: he is a carpenter by trade, and our flock of little children has one of the kindest fathers in the country. I was thought the luckiest girl in the parish, when G—T—made me his wife. I thought so myself. Our wedding day—and it was a happy one—was but an indifferent sample of those days of rational happiness and unintermitted harmony, which we were permitted to enjoy together for the space of six years. And although for the last three years of our lives we have been as happy as we were at the beginning, it makes my heart sick to think of those long dark days and sad nights, that came between, for two years of our union were years of misery. I will not recollect the struggles of ardent spirits that my husband ever drank. He had been at the grocery to purchase a little tea and sugar for the family; there were three cents coming to him in change, and unbeknown to me, the Deacon, who keeps the shop, had nothing but silver in the till; and as it was a sharp frosty morning, he persuaded my good man, to take his money's worth of rum, for it was just the price of a glass. He came home in wonderful spirits, and told me he meant to have me and the children better dressed, and as neighbor Barton talked of selling his house, he thought of buying them both, and, when I said to him, "George, we are dressed as well as we can afford, and I hope you will not think of a horse and chaise, till we have paid off the Squire's mortgage," he gave me a sharp look and a bitter word. I never shall forget that day; for they were the last that he ever gave me in his life. When he saw me shuddering, and holding my apron to my face, he said, "he was sorry, and came to kiss me, and I discovered that he had been drinking, and it grieved me to the heart."

THE GOLD RING.
I have one of the kindest husbands: he is a carpenter by trade, and our flock of little children has one of the kindest fathers in the country. I was thought the luckiest girl in the parish, when G—T—made me his wife. I thought so myself. Our wedding day—and it was a happy one—was but an indifferent sample of those days of rational happiness and unintermitted harmony, which we were permitted to enjoy together for the space of six years. And although for the last three years of our lives we have been as happy as we were at the beginning, it makes my heart sick to think of those long dark days and sad nights, that came between, for two years of our union were years of misery. I will not recollect the struggles of ardent spirits that my husband ever drank. He had been at the grocery to purchase a little tea and sugar for the family; there were three cents coming to him in change, and unbeknown to me, the Deacon, who keeps the shop, had nothing but silver in the till; and as it was a sharp frosty morning, he persuaded my good man, to take his money's worth of rum, for it was just the price of a glass. He came home in wonderful spirits, and told me he meant to have me and the children better dressed, and as neighbor Barton talked of selling his house, he thought of buying them both, and, when I said to him, "George, we are dressed as well as we can afford, and I hope you will not think of a horse and chaise, till we have paid off the Squire's mortgage," he gave me a sharp look and a bitter word. I never shall forget that day; for they were the last that he ever gave me in his life. When he saw me shuddering, and holding my apron to my face, he said, "he was sorry, and came to kiss me, and I discovered that he had been drinking, and it grieved me to the heart."

THE GOLD RING.
I have one of the kindest husbands: he is a carpenter by trade, and our flock of little children has one of the kindest fathers in the country. I was thought the luckiest girl in the parish, when G—T—made me his wife. I thought so myself. Our wedding day—and it was a happy one—was but an indifferent sample of those days of rational happiness and unintermitted harmony, which we were permitted to enjoy together for the space of six years. And although for the last three years of our lives we have been as happy as we were at the beginning, it makes my heart sick to think of those long dark days and sad nights, that came between, for two years of our union were years of misery. I will not recollect the struggles of ardent spirits that my husband ever drank. He had been at the grocery to purchase a little tea and sugar for the family; there were three cents coming to him in change, and unbeknown to me, the Deacon, who keeps the shop, had nothing but silver in the till; and as it was a sharp frosty morning, he persuaded my good man, to take his money's worth of rum, for it was just the price of a glass. He came home in wonderful spirits, and told me he meant to have me and the children better dressed, and as neighbor Barton talked of selling his house, he thought of buying them both, and, when I said to him, "George, we are dressed as well as we can afford, and I hope you will not think of a horse and chaise, till we have paid off the Squire's mortgage," he gave me a sharp look and a bitter word. I never shall forget that day; for they were the last that he ever gave me in his life. When he saw me shuddering, and holding my apron to my face, he said, "he was sorry, and came to kiss me, and I discovered that he had been drinking, and it grieved me to the heart."

THE GOLD RING.
I have one of the kindest husbands: he is a carpenter by trade, and our flock of little children has one of the kindest fathers in the country. I was thought the luckiest girl in the parish, when G—T—made me his wife. I thought so myself. Our wedding day—and it was a happy one—was but an indifferent sample of those days of rational happiness and unintermitted harmony, which we were permitted to enjoy together for the space of six years. And although for the last three years of our lives we have been as happy as we were at the beginning, it makes my heart sick to think of those long dark days and sad nights, that came between, for two years of our union were years of misery. I will not recollect the struggles of ardent spirits that my husband ever drank. He had been at the grocery to purchase a little tea and sugar for the family; there were three cents coming to him in change, and unbeknown to me, the Deacon, who keeps the shop, had nothing but silver in the till; and as it was a sharp frosty morning, he persuaded my good man,

VIRGINIA FREE PRESS.

Devoted to Politics, Foreign and Domestic Intelligence, Literature, Science, Agriculture, the Mechanic Arts, Internal Improvement, and General Miscellany.

THE FREE PRESS.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1834.

CHARLESTOWN.

THE CONGRESSIONAL CANVASS.

Public attention is beginning to be directed to the subject of the ensuing congressional canvass, and we have been requested by several gentlemen of the Opposition to make some suggestions as to the best method of ascertaining and concentrating the sentiments of the district.

OUR IMPROVEMENTS.

It has been a subject of surprise to many, that notwithstanding the acknowledged pressure of the times, the value of Land in Jefferson has been very little, if at all, depressed. This may be easily accounted for, according to our view of affairs, by the following reasons.

VERMONT ELECTION.

The Boston advocate gives returns from 20 towns, in which the aggregate vote is as follows: Palmer, (Anti-Mason) 3019; Sawyer, (Whig) 2527; Bradley, (Jackson) 1754.

WHIG NOMINATIONS.

The New York Whig State-Convention at Williams has nominated WILLIAM H. SEWARD, (of Cayuga) for Governor, and

HEAVY CALAMITY.

We are distressed to hear of the serious calamity which has befallen our worthy citizen, Joseph McManus, Esq. On Friday last, about mid-day, his fine large barn, near Shepherdstown, containing, as we understand, about 1500 bushels of wheat, and a quantity of rye, oats, &c., was totally consumed by fire.

NEW PAPERS.

Mr. SAMUEL L. DAVIS, the former distinguished and able editor of the Winchester Republican, has issued prospectus for publishing a daily, tri-weekly, and weekly newspaper, in Wheeling.

INDIANA.

The final returns of the election for Governor of this State give to Noah Norton, the Whig candidate, a majority of 9,622 votes.

DEED.

On Thursday the 11th inst., after a few days illness, Eliza MATTSON, daughter of Mr. Philip Hoffman, of Harpers-Ferry, in the 10th year of her age, died.

LOST!

A YOUNG POINTER DOG. He is rather small, but well formed, with liver-colored ears, and body marked with small spots that give him a greyish appearance.

Public Sale.

WITTH a view of removing to the West, I will sell, at Public Auction, on Thursday the 15th of September next, at my residence near Martinsburg, Berkeley County, Va., the following property, viz: Horses, Cattle, Hogs, and Sheep.

One day later.—The ship Yarrow, Capt. Packard, of New York, brings French papers to August 24.

The Chamber of Deputies, on the second day of its session, had transacted no business of importance.

From the National Intelligencer. CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO CANAL.

The following proceedings, which we have seen with great satisfaction, are the fruits of the favorable change of disposition towards the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal, which has taken place in the minds of our friends in Baltimore.

THE SUMMIT OF BLISS.

A marriage was celebrated, a few weeks since, in a romantic spot on the top of the Blue Ridge, under the broad arch of Heaven.

Wild pigeons are now very numerous in this neighborhood, and fall in plagues, daily, before the ready shot and unerring aim of our marksmen.

SALE MEMORANDUM.

Sale, this day, of a fine Tract of Land in Loudoun, by Thomas Rogers, commissioner, belonging to the estate of Samuel W. Young, deceased.

Also, this day, in Berkeley, near Martinsburg, the extensive farming stock and implements of Mr. Richard H. Ranson.

Whereupon the Chair appointed the following gentlemen to compose the above committee: Messrs. E. Elting, R. A. Taylor, Wm. Crawford, Jr.

The deaths by cholera in New York, from the 23d July to the 13th instant, have averaged less than twelve per day.

The Washington Globe states that the Postmaster and his Assistant, of Wythe Co., Va., Virginia, have been arrested by a special Agent of the Post Office Department, and held to bail, with securities each of $2,000 dollars.

On Wednesday the 10th inst., by the Rev. Samuel L. Grooms, McTear, of the City of New York, Miss ELIZABETH SUMNER WATSON, both of this county.

On Thursday afternoon, the 11th inst., in the First Presbyterian Church in Baltimore, by the Rev. Messrs. KEEBLE HENRY, Esq. of Loudoun, Va. to Miss ELIZABETH W. HADEN, daughter of the late Major Braden, of Loudoun County, Va.

On Saturday the 6th of September, at Winchester, Va. Mr. DIXIE W. THOMAS, formerly of Winchester, aged 71 years.

On the 23d ult., after a short and severe illness, which she bore with christian resignation and fortitude, Mrs. MARY ANN HARRISON, the amiable consort of George Chester, Esq. of Fairfax county, and the youngest daughter of Dr. Valentine Feby, late of Stafford county, in the 37th year of her age.

At Toronto, in Canada, on Sunday the 24th ult., of Cholera, ROBERT HASON, Printer, aged 21 years.

On Friday morning, at the residence of Colonel Henry Stanton, Narrows, Long Island, ANNA MARY ANN, daughter of Major General Alexander Macomb of the Army, aged 21 years.

The Rev. S. Towner will preach in the Free Church at Harpers-Ferry, on Sunday next at 11 o'clock.

The Synod of Virginia will meet in the Presbyterian Church in Charlestown, on the 23d of next month, (October) at 11 o'clock, at which time and place a sermon will be preached by the Rev. Mr. Wilson, of Fredericksburg.

Religious services may be expected in the Episcopal Church in this place, two days preceding the Sabbath on the 21st inst., on which day the sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered, and the usual collection taken. Some of the neighboring Episcopal clergymen will be present.

A CARD. THE officers, non-commissioned officers, musicians and privates of the 3d Potomac Rifle Company, beg leave to avail themselves of this means to express their unqualified gratitude to the hospitable and gentlemanly manner with which they were received and entertained by the Williamsport Greys, and the citizens of Williamsport, on their recent excursion to that place.

A Meeting of the Club will be held on Saturday evening next, at Hill's. Business of great importance makes a full meeting desirable.

AN ODDNESS. To persons attending, rapid packing and unloading of horses, &c. in the streets of Charlestown, and for other purposes, passed the 11th day of September, 1834.

Be it enacted by the Trustees of Charlestown, That if any person shall hereafter gallop or trot on any of the streets or alleys of Charlestown, or shall trot or pace a horse, mare or gelding, mule or jack ass, with such unusual rapidity as to endanger the persons of the inhabitants of said town, every person so offending, if free, shall incur a fine of $2 50 for every such offence, to be recovered with costs, on complaint, before the Mayor or Recorder of said town, or before any Justice of the Peace of the county of Jefferson.

And be it further enacted, That a like fine of $2 50 shall be imposed upon any person who shall ride upon any of the sidewalks of said town, to be recovered as aforesaid.

And be it further enacted and declared, That all fines collected by force of this ordinance, shall be applied to the use of said town of Charlestown.

This ordinance shall commence and be in force from and after its passage.

Engineer's Office, Winchester & Potomac Rail Road, September 10, 1834.

PROPOSALS will be received at the Engineer's Office, Winchester, on the 14th day of November next, for furnishing and delivering on the different sections of the Rail Road, the sills requisite for the construction of the same.

Proposals may be handed in for open sections, and will state the price per rail.

All letters on this subject, and propositions sent by mail, will be directed to the undersigned at Winchester.

WM. H. MORELL, Principal Assistant Engineer, Sept. 18, 1834-7.

Colled and Paid Linsey. JOHN N. RIDDLE & Co. have for sale 10,000 yards of filled and plain Linsey, which they will sell cheap for cash, or on time.

Miller Wanted. I WISH to employ an industrious and competent Miller, to attend a country mill.

Pocket Book Lost. LOST, on Tuesday last, a red calfskin Pocket Book, containing $20, one note of five dollars, and a few other articles.

Trunk Lost. A NEW Leather Trunk has been lost somewhere between Baltimore and the Point of Rocks, or upon the route to Wheeling.

Trunk Lost. A NEW Leather Trunk has been lost somewhere between Baltimore and the Point of Rocks, or upon the route to Wheeling.

Trunk Lost. A NEW Leather Trunk has been lost somewhere between Baltimore and the Point of Rocks, or upon the route to Wheeling.

Trunk Lost. A NEW Leather Trunk has been lost somewhere between Baltimore and the Point of Rocks, or upon the route to Wheeling.

Trunk Lost. A NEW Leather Trunk has been lost somewhere between Baltimore and the Point of Rocks, or upon the route to Wheeling.

Trunk Lost. A NEW Leather Trunk has been lost somewhere between Baltimore and the Point of Rocks, or upon the route to Wheeling.

Trunk Lost. A NEW Leather Trunk has been lost somewhere between Baltimore and the Point of Rocks, or upon the route to Wheeling.

Trunk Lost. A NEW Leather Trunk has been lost somewhere between Baltimore and the Point of Rocks, or upon the route to Wheeling.

Trunk Lost. A NEW Leather Trunk has been lost somewhere between Baltimore and the Point of Rocks, or upon the route to Wheeling.

Trunk Lost. A NEW Leather Trunk has been lost somewhere between Baltimore and the Point of Rocks, or upon the route to Wheeling.

Trunk Lost. A NEW Leather Trunk has been lost somewhere between Baltimore and the Point of Rocks, or upon the route to Wheeling.

Trunk Lost. A NEW Leather Trunk has been lost somewhere between Baltimore and the Point of Rocks, or upon the route to Wheeling.

Trunk Lost. A NEW Leather Trunk has been lost somewhere between Baltimore and the Point of Rocks, or upon the route to Wheeling.

Trunk Lost. A NEW Leather Trunk has been lost somewhere between Baltimore and the Point of Rocks, or upon the route to Wheeling.

Trunk Lost. A NEW Leather Trunk has been lost somewhere between Baltimore and the Point of Rocks, or upon the route to Wheeling.

Trunk Lost. A NEW Leather Trunk has been lost somewhere between Baltimore and the Point of Rocks, or upon the route to Wheeling.

Trunk Lost. A NEW Leather Trunk has been lost somewhere between Baltimore and the Point of Rocks, or upon the route to Wheeling.

Trunk Lost. A NEW Leather Trunk has been lost somewhere between Baltimore and the Point of Rocks, or upon the route to Wheeling.

Trunk Lost. A NEW Leather Trunk has been lost somewhere between Baltimore and the Point of Rocks, or upon the route to Wheeling.

Trunk Lost. A NEW Leather Trunk has been lost somewhere between Baltimore and the Point of Rocks, or upon the route to Wheeling.

Trunk Lost. A NEW Leather Trunk has been lost somewhere between Baltimore and the Point of Rocks, or upon the route to Wheeling.

Trunk Lost. A NEW Leather Trunk has been lost somewhere between Baltimore and the Point of Rocks, or upon the route to Wheeling.

Trunk Lost. A NEW Leather Trunk has been lost somewhere between Baltimore and the Point of Rocks, or upon the route to Wheeling.

Trunk Lost. A NEW Leather Trunk has been lost somewhere between Baltimore and the Point of Rocks, or upon the route to Wheeling.

Commissioner's Sale. BY virtue of a decree of the Circuit Superior Court of Law and Chancery for Frederick county, dated on the 11th day of June, 1834, the undersigned, a commissioner appointed for that purpose, will offer for sale, before the Court House in Charlestown, on Friday the 10th day of October next, (court day), a Piece of Land in Jefferson county, allotted to Nimrod McEndree, adjoining the lands of Hieronim L. Opie and others, and containing 12 acres, in wood.

Terms: One third of the purchase money to be paid down, and the balance in two equal payments, upon a credit of nine or eighteen months. Bonds, with a deed of trust to secure the deferred payments, will be required.

JOHN R. FLAGG, Special Commissioner, Sept. 18, 1834-t.

Fire Company Notice. THE Charlestown Fire-Company are respectfully ordered to parade in full uniform on Friday next the 19th instant, at 3 o'clock, P. M. precisely—a parade required by law. The Engine is at present at Charles Barrett's, in complete order, where it will remain until Friday.

By order of the Captain, Sept. 18, 1834.

Notice. MY WIFE MARY ANN, having returned, I hereby revoke the caution which I published concerning her, some time since.

JOHN HEAT, Notary, Sept. 18, 1834.

JEFFERSON LAND, FOR SALE. IN pursuance of a decree of the Circuit Superior Court of Law and Chancery, for the county of Loudoun, pronounced the 27th day of April, 1833, in the case of Samuel Cleburne, Plaintiff, against David Forrest, administrator of Samuel W. Young, deceased, and others, defendants, will be sold, to the highest bidder, on the 18th day of September next, the tract and proceedings mentioned, or so much thereof as will pay the sum of $700, with interest from the 27th day of April, 1832, and $49 05 costs, and expenses of sale.

Said tract of land lies between the Blue Ridge and Shenandoah River, within three or four miles of Harpers Ferry; and is, I believe, the same farm that said Samuel W. Young resided on at the time of his death, and contains about 300 ACRES.

And has ordinary improvements thereon, with a full supply of Timber.

Terms:—One third cash, and the remainder in two equal annual payments, without interest till the 1st day of January next, will be required to execute his bonds, secured by a deed of trust on the premises.

Sale will take place on the premises, about the middle of the day.

THOMAS ROGERS, Commissioner, August 7, 1834.

FEMALE SEMINARY. THIS Institution, under the direction and constant personal superintendance of the Rev. ALEXANDER JONES, and occupying the spacious and commodious rooms of the second story of the Charlestown Academy, will commence its yearly session, on September 1st, on Monday the 29th of September (inst.).

A female assistant will be obtained for the session, and should the school be sufficiently patronized, a gentleman will be employed; the rooms and their appendages, will be put in handsome repair, and also rendered every way comfortable during the winter; an appropriate and well selected Library will be opened to the use of its scholars, and it is intended to procure an efficient school apparatus, without the aid of which, some sciences, as Geography, Astronomy, History, and Philosophy, cannot be thoroughly or satisfactorily taught.

It is for the interest of the community of the town and vicinity to sustain such an Institution, and it is the earnest wish and design of the Principals, for the good of the rising generation, as well as for their own advantage, to render it a Female Seminary in every respect useful and meritorious. It is believed, that at the present time, it affords, with less than half the expense, all the substantial advantages, to be possessed at more distant schools.

It is confidently hoped, that parents and guardians may send their children and wards, with the assured expectation, that no impression will be received by them but what is entirely on the side of sound learning, and virtue, and religion.

There will be at least two examinations during the year, and the friends of the pupils are invited to call at all times, to observe their improvement; and the regulations and conveniences of the establishment.

The terms are $20 for the yearly session of four months; language $10; those sending four scholars will be charged for only three. Terms for board (exclusive of washing) $100 the school year. Produce will be received in payment for board.

Orders by special understanding, previously made, will be received either at scholars or boarders for less than the parity session.

These terms will be uniformly the same, and, in justice to all, no private bargains can be made with any one.

Sept. 18, 1834.

To the Public. A REPORT has, by some means, gotten into circulation, that it is not my intention to remove to the West, and that the sale I have advertised to take place on the 18th of September next, is published merely with a view to get rid of such surplus stock and property as I may have to spare, or can dispose of to advantage. It has also been stated, that my father will probably attend the sale; and buy in all the property that does not go off at a high price. It might seem unnecessary to notice such reports, but I find they are prevailing so generally, that without contradiction I might be injured thereby. They are entirely false. I have made up my mind positively to remove to the West; my family have already taken their final departure, and I shall follow as soon as I can settle my business. My father does not want my property; he will not bid for it; and, more than that, he has engagements that will preclude his attendance on that occasion. The public are therefore requested to attend, not a sham sale, but a bona fide auction, when property will be knocked off to the highest bidder.

RICHARD HENRY RANSON, Notary, September 4, 1834-3C.

Eccelesiastical Notice. THE Clergy and Lay-delegates, composing the Synodical Conference of the Church of Maryland and parts of Virginia, are notified, that according to a resolution of the last session, the Synod will convene again on the 3d Sunday, 19th day of October, in Clear Spring, Washington County, Maryland.

JACOB MEDFART, Secy., Martinsburg August 14, 1834.

Public Sale. WITH a view of removing to the West, I will sell, at Public Auction, on Thursday the 15th of September next, at my residence near Martinsburg, Berkeley County, Va., the following property, viz: Horses, Cattle, Hogs, and Sheep.

A quantity of Bacon, — Corn in the ground, A Barouche and Harness, — Keeping implements of every description, Household and Kitchen Furniture, and a variety of other articles.

The horses are calculated for the saddle, draft and harness, and among them are some valuable blooded mares and colts of the best stock in the country.

Also two STALLION COLTS of 4 and 5 years old, both sired by the unrivalled old Bertrand, of Kentucky, and tracing on their Dam's side the best horses in England and America—they are both blood bays, of good size, and possess fine form and action.

Persons wishing to purchase good stock will have an opportunity of doing so. Pedigrees, &c. will be shown on the day of sale, or to any person wishing to examine the stock in the mean time.

Terms:—For all sums of $5 and under, the cash will be required. For the two stallions a credit of one and two years will be given, to bear interest the second year. For all sums of $100 and under, nine months credit will be given; and, approved security will be required.

JOHN HENRY RANSON, Notary, August 21, 1834.

LARGE SALE OF BLOODED HORSES, and IMPROVED DURHAM SHORT-HORNED CATTLE.

WILL be sold, at public sale, to the highest bidder, on Wednesday the 1st of October next, at Wheatland, the late residence of Henry Smith Turner, of Jefferson County, Virginia, deceased, all the large Stock of high-bred

HORSES & CATTLE for which this estate has been so long distinguished.

The number of Horses is too great to admit of the genealogy, or a minute and particular description of each separate animal. — Sufficient to say, they combine many of the most approved crosses of American Turf Blood, and are no less remarkable than valuable for the beauty and symmetry of their proportions. They consist of Blood Mares and Colts, varying between the ages of one and five years, and will amount in all to 24 or 25 in number.

The Horned Cattle, it is advisedly asserted, will be a composition with any other Stock in the country. They consist of three roughed, three-fourths and one-half, improved Durham Short-horned breed, and will amount to about fifty in number.

Will be sold, at the same time and place, in addition to the above mentioned animals, fifteen or twenty remarkably fine Mares of some work horses, of the best South-down and Meade's improved Frederick Sheep, Havre de Grace Hogs, together with all the farming utensils, and many other articles.

Sale to begin at 11 o'clock, and continue from day to day, until the whole shall be disposed of.

Terms of Sale:—For all purchases amounting to $10 and under, the cash will be required before the removal of the property; on all sums above that amount, a credit of nine months will be given, the purchase giving bond with approved securities.

WILLIAM E. TURNER, Esq. of Henry S. Turner, dec'd., August 28, 1834.

Trustee's Sale. BY virtue of a deed of trust, executed to the subscriber, on the 1st day of Oct. 1833, by James B. Wager, for the benefit of Gerard B. Wager, Richard Johnson, and others, and of record in the Clerk's Office of the County Court of Jefferson, I shall, on Wednesday the 5th day of October, at the residence of said James B. Wager, at Harpers-Ferry, in this county, sell at Public Auction, for cash, ALL HIS PERSONAL ESTATE, consisting of valuable Household Furniture, Horses, several Negroes, and many other articles.

Also, all the interest of said James B. Wager in the Home and Lot he now occupies, as derived from a lease executed to him by Gerard B. Wager and S. A. Wager.

Also, on the succeeding day, I shall at the same place, sell, in the same manner, and upon the same terms, all the interest of the same Gerard B. Wager, in a tract of land, situated at Harpers-Ferry in this county, now containing six acres of land, and known as the Six Acre Lot, and the other containing three quarters of an acre, and known as the Ferry Lot.

Sale to commence at 10 o'clock on each day.

EDWARD LUCAS, Jr., Trustee, Aug. 28, 1834.

Valuable Property FOR SALE. BY authority of a deed of trust, executed to me by James B. Wager, bearing date on the 15th day of July, 1830, and recorded in the Clerk's Office of the county court of Jefferson, in Virginia, made for the purpose of securing the payment of a debt therein mentioned, to the Bank of the Valley in Virginia, and of indemnifying the endorsers on a note given for said debt, I will, on Thursday the 10th day of October next, at the house now occupied by Captain Beckham, at Harpers-Ferry, in the county aforesaid, proceed to sell, to the highest bidder, at public auction, ALL THE INTEREST of the said James B. Wager in a piece of parcel of LAND, containing about six acres, lying adjacent to the Harpers-Ferry bridge, together with the buildings and appurtenances thereto belonging.

Also, all the interest of the said Wager in so much of the Ferry called Harpers-Ferry, and so much of the BRIDGE ACROSS THE POTOMAC river at Harpers-Ferry as lies within the State of Virginia. The interest of the said James B. Wager in the said property, is an undivided third part thereof.

JOSEPH T. DAUGHERTY, Trustee, August 28, 1834.

BACON. A FEW good Hens will be taken, in payment of a debt, to this office.

Sept. 18, 1834.

Wood. A S winter is approaching, a few cords of good Wood will be taken in payment of debts to this office, if delivered soon.

Sept. 18, 1834.

Wood. A S winter is approaching, a few cords of good Wood will be taken in payment of debts to this office, if delivered soon.

Sept. 18, 1834.

Wood. A S winter is approaching, a few cords of good Wood will be taken in payment of debts to this office, if delivered soon.

Sept. 18, 1834.

Wood. A S winter is approaching, a few cords of good Wood will be taken in payment of debts to this office, if delivered soon.

Sept. 18, 1834.

Wood. A S winter is approaching, a few cords of good Wood will be taken in payment of debts to this office, if delivered soon.

Sept. 18, 1834.

Wood. A S winter is approaching, a few cords of good Wood will be taken in payment of debts to this office, if delivered soon.

Sept. 18, 1834.

Wood. A S winter is approaching, a few cords of good Wood will be taken in payment of debts to this office, if delivered soon.

Sept. 18, 1834.

Wood. A S winter is approaching, a few cords of good Wood will be taken in payment of debts to this office, if delivered soon.

Sept. 18, 1834.

Public Sale. WITH a view of removing to the West, I will sell, at Public Auction, on Thursday the 15th of September next, at my residence near Martinsburg, Berkeley County, Va., the following property, viz: Horses, Cattle, Hogs, and Sheep.

A quantity of Bacon, — Corn in the ground, A Barouche and Harness, — Keeping implements of every description, Household and Kitchen Furniture, and a variety of other articles.

The horses are calculated for the saddle, draft and harness, and among them are some valuable blooded mares and colts of the best stock in the country.

Also two STALLION COLTS of 4 and 5 years old, both sired by the unrivalled old Bertrand, of Kentucky, and tracing on their Dam's side the best horses in England and America—they are both blood bays, of good size, and possess fine form and action.

Persons wishing to purchase good stock will have an opportunity of doing so. Pedigrees, &c. will be shown on the day of sale, or to any person wishing to examine the stock in the mean time.

Terms:—For all sums of $5 and under, the cash will be required. For the two stallions a credit of one and two years will be given, to bear interest the second year. For all sums of $100 and under, nine months credit will be given; and, approved security will be required.

JOHN HENRY RANSON, Notary, August 21, 1834.

LARGE SALE OF BLOODED HORSES, and IMPROVED DURHAM SHORT-HORNED CATTLE.

WILL be sold, at public sale, to the highest bidder, on Wednesday the 1st of October next, at Wheatland, the late residence of Henry Smith Turner, of Jefferson County, Virginia, deceased, all the large Stock of high-bred

HORSES & CATTLE for which this estate has been so long distinguished.

The number of Horses is too great to admit of the genealogy, or a minute and particular description of each separate animal. — Sufficient to say, they combine many of the most approved crosses of American Turf Blood, and are no less remarkable than valuable for the beauty and symmetry of their proportions. They consist of Blood Mares and Colts, varying between the ages of one and five years, and will amount in all to 24 or 25 in number.

The Horned Cattle, it is advisedly asserted, will be a composition with any other Stock in the country. They consist of three roughed, three-fourths and one-half, improved Durham Short-horned breed, and will amount to about fifty in number.

Will be sold, at the same time and place, in addition to the above mentioned animals, fifteen or twenty remarkably fine Mares of some work horses, of the best South-down and Meade's improved Frederick Sheep, Havre de Grace Hogs, together with all the farming utensils, and many other articles.

Sale to begin at 11 o'clock, and continue from day to day, until the whole shall be disposed of.

Terms of Sale:—For all purchases amounting to $10 and under, the cash will be required before the removal of the property; on all sums above that amount, a credit of nine months will be given, the purchase giving bond with approved securities.

WILLIAM E. TURNER, Esq. of Henry S. Turner, dec'd., August 28, 1834.

Trustee's Sale. BY virtue of a deed of trust, executed to the subscriber, on the 1st day of Oct. 1833, by James B. Wager, for the benefit of Gerard B. Wager, Richard Johnson, and others, and of record in the Clerk's Office of the County Court of Jefferson, I shall, on Wednesday the 5th day of October, at the residence of said James B. Wager, at Harpers-Ferry, in this county, sell at Public Auction,

VARIETY

A new remedy.—A man was carried yesterday to the Police Office upon a cart, in a helpless state, and his situation presenting equivocal symptoms, a medical practitioner was called upon to decide upon their character. After examining the patient with the utmost attention, he pronounced it a case of Asiatic cholera, whereupon the cart and carcass were ordered to the Duane street Hospital. Immediately upon their arrival, the sick man started to his feet, bounded from the cart like an antelope, and before the doctor could say Jack Robinson, was out of sight. N. B. He was drunk.—[V. Y. Com Ad.]

A singular oversight occurred on a funeral occasion in this city a few days ago. Soon after the hour appointed for a burial of the deceased person, in the lower part of the city, the funeral procession was formed, and set off, with the hearse at its head, and it had proceeded nearly to the place of interment, when a messenger overtook the cavalcade, and communicated the fact that the corpse was left behind.—[V. Y. Post.]

A woman aged thirty six, residing in New York, named Mary Tanner, quarrelled with another woman living in the same house, on Saturday last, about some trifling affair; but ultimately became so enraged at the forbearance of her antagonist, and worked herself into such a dreadful passion, that on stooping to seize a poker to strike the other woman, she was seized with a fit and dropped dead on the spot.

Noble Sentiments.—Lord Erskine was distinguished through life, for independence of principle, for his integrity, and his scrupulous adherence to truth. He once explained the rule of his conduct, which ought to be generally known and adopted. It ought to be deeply engraven on every heart.—He said:—"It was the first command and counsel of my youth, always to do what my conscience told me to be a duty, and leave the consequences to God. I shall carry with me the memory, and I trust the practice of this paternal lesson to the grave. I have hitherto followed it, and have no reason to complain that my obedience to it has been even a temporal sacrifice. I have found it, on the contrary, the road to prosperity and wealth, and I shall point it out as such to my children."

The Eastern papers give the subjoined account of the funeral of an elephant in crossing Connecticut river a few days since. The elephant was two or three hours in getting over the Connecticut, the evening after he was exhibited here. As soon as he got into the middle of the stream, (very deep and rapid, where he crossed) he began to play about in the water and gambol in the most antic manner; and when his keepers undertook to punish him he immediately sunk ten or fifteen feet, leaving them to swim for their lives. A dog who is domesticated with him was seen to swim with a star and a blind mrip on the forehead, a white spot on the outside of the left hind foot—feet in very bad order, broken and split. He is a light bay, about fifteen and a half hands high, and supposed to be about ten years old—and we do appraise the said horse to the sum of forty dollars. Certified under our hands this 30th day of August 1834.

Winchester Seminary. This institution is again open, for the reception of students upon an enlarged scale of instruction, which enables it to the renewed confidence and support of the friends of literature and science.—The course of instruction will be directed by the united superintendence of Mr. Bruce and Mr. Elwell, the former for many years sole principal of the Academy, the latter, principal of a collegiate school in the City of New York, together with such additional instructions as may be necessary, which will ensure to the pupils every facility for obtaining an admission into the higher classes of any College in the Union, or fit them directly for obtaining honors and usefulness.

The Greek and Latin Classics will be thoroughly taught, upon the most approved plan, and the French language without any additional charge for the student.—Special attention will be paid to the important science of Mathematics—Natural Philosophy, and Chemistry will be illustrated by an apparatus already considerable, which will be enlarged by the Trustees as the interests of the institution may require.—Natural Philosophy, History, Geography, and the various useful branches of English education, will be more effectually taught than heretofore; and while the general course pursued will be paternal, it will at the same time be energetic, calculated to unite purity of morals with an elevated improvement of mind.

Parents and guardians will be regularly notified of the progress made by the pupils, and the friends of learning are invited to inspect at any time the operations of the institution. Terms of tuition for classical students $16.50, for English $12.50 per session, payable in advance to the treasurer. By order of the trustees, J. E. JACKSON, Treasurer, Winchester, Sept. 11, 1834.

PURCHASERS at the sale of Thomas P. Burnett, and also at the sale of David Hayward, are informed that their sales notes are deposited in the hands of the subscriber, and are now due. A. B. DOUGLASS, Sept. 4, 1834.

B. B. LOWNDES, ATTORNEY AT LAW. HAS opened an office in Smithfield, and will practice in the several Courts of Jefferson and Berkeley. June 26, 1834.—3a.

Fine Horses. WILL be exhibited, for sale, on the Jefferson Jockey Club course, on the 24th instant, a SULKY and HORSE; also a first-rate RIDING HORSE; and a well-bred RATTLER MARE, in foal by a Canadian horse. Sept. 11, 1834.

YOUNG LADIES SEMINARY.

IN consequence of the urgent solicitations of many of his former friends and patrons, the subscriber has determined to open a Seminary for Young Ladies, in Charlottesville, on the 8th day of September next. From increased experience and the many improvements in his plan of instruction, he is induced to believe he will be enabled to give satisfaction to those who may favour him with their patronage. In addition to the usual facilities of instruction during school hours, the pupils will have access to a well selected Library of several hundred volumes. His course of instruction will comprise the branches of education usually taught in the best institutions of a similar kind. An instructor in Music, &c. will be employed, if sufficiently encouraged. Frequent opportunities will be afforded to the friends of the Seminary to witness the improvement of the scholars. Terms made known on admission. Aug. 14, 1834.—3c. WM. M. JONES.

The session has commenced, in a pleasant room, under the residence of Mr. Andrew Woods. A few more pupils can be received. Mrs. Griggs, who resides in a pleasant situation, and has fine rooms, can furnish boarding to young ladies who may wish to attend the school. September 11, 1834.

Dr. Henry Washington, HAVING rented of Mr. Haynes, the house lately occupied by Mr. James Flour, offers his professional services to the inhabitants of the neighborhood. Sept. 11, 1834.—3c.

Attention, Carpenters. GOOD journeymen Carpenters, of steady habits, will receive liberal wages by immediate application to JOSIAH W. WARB, near Battletown, Frederick County, Va. Sept. 11, 1834.—3c.

Jefferson Land for Sale. BY virtue of a deed of trust, executed to the subscriber by Henson Elliott and wife of the county of Loudoun, Virginia, and duly recorded in the clerk's office of the county of Jefferson, for certain purposes therein mentioned, I shall proceed to sell, for cash, before the front door of the Court House of said county, at Charlottesville, on Monday the 20th day of October next, (1834,) that being Court day, a TRACT OF LAND, lying and being in the counties of Jefferson and Albemarle, containing Three Hundred and Thirty-three and one-third Acres, be the same more or less. I shall only convey such title as is vested in me by the said deed of trust aforesaid. WM. CARTER, Trustee. Sept. 11, 1834.

Jefferson Land for Sale. BY virtue of a deed of trust, executed to the subscriber by Henson Elliott and wife, and recorded in the clerk's office of Jefferson county court, for certain purposes therein mentioned, I shall proceed to sell, for cash, before the front door of the Court House of said County at Charlottesville, on Monday the 20th day of October next, (1834,) that being Court day, two certain TRACTS OF LAND, lying and being in the County aforesaid, containing together, six hundred and fifty six and three-fourths Acres. The title is considered indisputable, but acting as Trustee, I shall only convey such title as is vested in me by said Trust deed. WM. CARTER, Trustee. Sept. 11, 1834.

Stray Horse. PURSUANT to a warrant, so directed, we viewed an estray horse, shewn to us by Jacob Line of this County; and do hereby certify, that the same, with a star and blind mrip on the forehead, a white spot on the outside of the left hind foot—feet in very bad order, broken and split. He is a light bay, about fifteen and a half hands high, and supposed to be about ten years old—and we do appraise the said horse to the sum of forty dollars. Certified under our hands this 30th day of August 1834.

NEW GOODS. WE have received, at our store on Camp Hill, a fresh supply of Seasonable GOODS, which will be offered, as usual, at very low rates. R. & J. JOHNSON. Harpers-Ferry, Aug. 21, 1834.

John T. Cooks & Co. RESPECTFULLY take pleasure to inform their friends, customers, and the public generally, that they are just receiving and opening a very general supply of new and seasonable GOODS, all of which have been purchased at the lowest prices, and are now offered on the like terms, at their Store at Bedington Mills, Berkeley county. July 3, 1834.—1f.

Latest Spring Fashions, AT G. W. GLASSGOW'S HAT MANUFACTORY. HARPERS-FERRY. THE subscriber returns his thanks to his customers and the public generally, for the liberal encouragement they have given him, and informs them that he will continue to manufacture HATS on the most reasonable terms. Hats of his own manufacture, kept in order gratis. N. B. Country Merchants in want of Hats, would do well to give him a call, as he will sell as low as they can be bought in any of the city markets. G. W. GLASSGOW. Harpers-Ferry, April 24, 1834.—1f.

Who Temple of Fashion. THE undersigned beg leave to inform the public, that they have opened a new Temple of Fashion, in the building opposite Mr. Woods's Cabinet Shop, where they are prepared to share and cut Hair in a superior style, and with great promptitude. They will take pride in keeping their razors in fine order, their towels clean, and their soaps and perfumery of the most agreeable and pleasant kind. In short, they wish their patrons to be not only clean and cheerful, but also to have their hair and still beard, and feet like new, renovated and refreshed.—They will dress Curly, Wigs, &c.; and one of them will at all times wait upon gentlemen at their residences. JOHN HILL, from Washington City. SOLOMON WILLIAMS. Charlottesville, Sept. 4, 1834.

BLANK NOTES FOR SALE AT THIS OFFICE.

NATIONAL HOTEL.

THE undersigned, proprietor of the above extensive establishment, respectfully informs his friends and the public generally, that the House is now open for the reception of Travellers.—The location of the National Hotel, is central and healthy, on one of the most flourishing streets in the City, and its proximity to the different Steamboats and public Wharves, will render it a desirable stopping place. The elegant style with new and appropriate furniture.—The table will be supplied with all the luxuries of the season, and the Bar provided with choice liquors of all kinds. Board per day $1. Every 50 Cents. The Proprietor looks by his unremitted attention to business, to merit a share of the public patronage. The public's humble servant, ROBERT ROACH. N. B.—BOARDERS taken by the Week, Month or Year. Baltimore, June 26—3m.

HARPERS-FERRY HOTEL, AND Hall Stage Office. THE subscriber, in company with Mrs. STEPHENS, has commenced business in the well-known Tavern Stand, on the corner at Harpers-Ferry, where a portion of the public patronage is respectfully solicited. Several new rooms have been lately added, which contribute very much to the comfort of the establishment.

The MAIL and ACCOMMODATION STAGES run daily to and from the house; and the facilities of travelling, by the Canal and Rail Road, render an excursion from the sea-board to Harpers-Ferry one of great interest and pleasure. F. BECKHAM. Harpers-Ferry, July 24, 1834.—1f.

SWIFT BOAT. THE swift Canal Boat ROBERT HARPER, leaves Harpers Ferry in the morning and arrives at the Point of Rocks in time for the early cars for Baltimore, and returns in the evening, leaving the Point of Rocks after the arrival of the Cars from Baltimore, and connecting with the Stages from Harpers-Ferry to the West. CARY THOMPSON & Co. August 21, 1834.

TRANSPORTATION. On the Baltimore and Ohio Rail-Road & Chesapeake and Ohio Canal. At the Point of Rocks. THE subscriber having rented the Warehouse and office at the Point of Rocks after the arrival of the Cars from Baltimore, and connecting with the Stages from Harpers-Ferry to the West. CARY THOMPSON & Co. August 21, 1834.

ISLAND MILL, NEAR HARPERS-FERRY. HAVING rented the above mill from F. Beckham Esq; for a term of years, and having put the same in excellent condition, the undersigned is now ready to receive GRAIN. And to grind in a superior style. He will give one barrel of Flour for every 300 pounds of merchantable Wheat, and will stand the inspection in any market to which it may be sent. From his experience as a miller, and the excellent nature of the mill at present, he feels great confidence in being able to produce first-rate Flour. He will buy Wheat, for cash, at the market price, and those who wish to get rid of the trouble of sending their Flour to market, can have it consigned by him at the lowest possible rate.

The advantage of this mill consists in its being at the point where Canal navigation commences, and therefore lockage before it reaches that point is saved. The subscriber's brand has always obtained the highest price in the market, and can be established by reference to boatmen on the river, or to the flour dealers below. During the plaster season, he will always be ready to grind that article, and will generally keep a supply on hand for the accommodation of his customers, and farmers generally. JACOB STAUB. July 10, 1834.—1f.

An arrangement having been made with the Union Company, all Wagoners hauling Grain to this mill will pass without toll, the subscriber bearing all expense of that sort. JACOB STAUB. August 7, 1834.

PLANK! PLANK! PLANK! THE subscriber has a quantity of seasoned PLANK for sale, of the following quality, such as 4 inch, 3 inch, 1 inch, 14 inch, 11 inch, 2 or 3 inch. SEINGLES, JOIST—such as 12 feet, 14 feet, 16 feet, 18 feet, and 20 feet. TWO SETS OF HOUSE LOGS—26 by 30. SCANTLING, pine and poplar, 3 inch, 4 inch, 5 inch, and 6 inch. CHARLES HARPER. Shepherdstown, July 4, 1833.—1f.

Jefferson (Va) Jockey Club. THE next meeting of the Club will commence at their course near Charlottesville, on Wednesday, September 24th, 1834. First Day's Race, 4 miles and repeat, for $400, entrance $20. Second Day's Race, 3 miles and repeat, for $300, entrance $10. Same day, a Sweepstake for 3 year old colts, one mile and repeat—entrance $100, half forfeit, to be closed on the 1st of September. Third Day, 3 miles and repeat, for $300, entrance $15. Same day, a race for all sorts of horses, one mile and repeat, entrance $20.—There must be four entries (paid for) no race, on each day. Winners on preceding days excluded from entering in the subsequent days. Weights and regulations the same as those of the Centre Course. The track is now at an exact mile. Proper officers are appointed to enforce the most rigid discipline. Seats will be erected on a retired eminence for the Ladies. N. B.—The purses, as heretofore, always at the stand. THE SECRETARY. Aug. 28, 1834.

A Great Wheat Race. OVER the Jefferson Jockey Club course, will take place on Saturday the 20th of September, 1834. Entrance 200 bushels of WHEAT—two miles and repeat. The following horses entered, viz: William Groves's Bertrams, by Southern Eclipse; J. P. Abell's Dany Crockett, by Rascals; J. C. Wilshire & Co's. Paul Fry, by Sir Charles. After which, a first-rate SADDLE will be run for, by saddle horses.—Weights, &c. agree to the rules of the Club. Sept. 11, 1834.

Bacon. A SMALL quantity of first rate Bacon for sale by JOHN N. LANE & WEBB. Shepherdstown, Sept. 11, 1834.

New Timothy Seed. THE subscribers have just received a few Tiers of Fresh Timothy Seed. JOHN N. LANE & WEBB. Shepherdstown, Sept. 11, 1834.

Wool. WILL give the highest market price in goods for clean WASHED WOOL. HUMPHREY KEYS. Charlottesville, Aug. 7, 1831.

Wool. WILL give the highest market price in goods for clean WASHED WOOL. HUMPHREY KEYS. Charlottesville, Aug. 7, 1831.

Wool. WILL give the highest market price in goods for clean WASHED WOOL. HUMPHREY KEYS. Charlottesville, Aug. 7, 1831.

Wool. WILL give the highest market price in goods for clean WASHED WOOL. HUMPHREY KEYS. Charlottesville, Aug. 7, 1831.

Wool. WILL give the highest market price in goods for clean WASHED WOOL. HUMPHREY KEYS. Charlottesville, Aug. 7, 1831.

Wool. WILL give the highest market price in goods for clean WASHED WOOL. HUMPHREY KEYS. Charlottesville, Aug. 7, 1831.

Wool. WILL give the highest market price in goods for clean WASHED WOOL. HUMPHREY KEYS. Charlottesville, Aug. 7, 1831.

Wool. WILL give the highest market price in goods for clean WASHED WOOL. HUMPHREY KEYS. Charlottesville, Aug. 7, 1831.

Wool. WILL give the highest market price in goods for clean WASHED WOOL. HUMPHREY KEYS. Charlottesville, Aug. 7, 1831.

Wool. WILL give the highest market price in goods for clean WASHED WOOL. HUMPHREY KEYS. Charlottesville, Aug. 7, 1831.

Apothecary Establishment FOR SALE.

THE subscriber having entered upon the practice of medicine, will dispose of his present Drug and Medicine Establishment in Shepherdstown. His present assortment, though not full, is general, embracing almost every article usually kept in such an establishment—the furniture of his shop is complete. The above establishment will be disposed of on very accommodating terms. The place combines, perhaps, more advantages in point of situation, &c., for the Drug & Medicine business, than any other at present in the knowledge of the subscriber. Those disposed to purchase, will please call and examine for themselves. F. A. McNEILL. Shepherdstown, Aug. 21, 1834.—1f.

John T. Cooks. RESPECTFULLY takes pleasure to inform his friends, customers, and the public generally, that he is just receiving and opening a very general supply of new and seasonable GOODS, all of which have been purchased at reduced prices, and are now offered on the like terms, at his store in Shepherdstown. July 3, 1834.—1f.

J. M. KATZMILLER, ATTORNEY AT LAW. WILL practice in the Superior and Inferior Courts of Loudoun and Jefferson Counties. The transaction of all business committed to his management will be characterized by the strictest attention and punctuality. His office is on Market-st., Leesburg. April 18, 1833.—1f.

WOOL. LYMAN REED & Co. Commission Merchants, No. 6, South Charles Street, Baltimore, Md. devote particular attention to the sale of WOOL of all consignments made them, will receive their particular attention, and liberal advances will be made when required. Baltimore, May 8, 1834.

ISLAND MILL, NEAR HARPERS-FERRY. HAVING rented the above mill from F. Beckham Esq; for a term of years, and having put the same in excellent condition, the undersigned is now ready to receive GRAIN. And to grind in a superior style. He will give one barrel of Flour for every 300 pounds of merchantable Wheat, and will stand the inspection in any market to which it may be sent. From his experience as a miller, and the excellent nature of the mill at present, he feels great confidence in being able to produce first-rate Flour. He will buy Wheat, for cash, at the market price, and those who wish to get rid of the trouble of sending their Flour to market, can have it consigned by him at the lowest possible rate.

The advantage of this mill consists in its being at the point where Canal navigation commences, and therefore lockage before it reaches that point is saved. The subscriber's brand has always obtained the highest price in the market, and can be established by reference to boatmen on the river, or to the flour dealers below. During the plaster season, he will always be ready to grind that article, and will generally keep a supply on hand for the accommodation of his customers, and farmers generally. JACOB STAUB. July 10, 1834.—1f.

An arrangement having been made with the Union Company, all Wagoners hauling Grain to this mill will pass without toll, the subscriber bearing all expense of that sort. JACOB STAUB. August 7, 1834.

PLANK! PLANK! PLANK! THE subscriber has a quantity of seasoned PLANK for sale, of the following quality, such as 4 inch, 3 inch, 1 inch, 14 inch, 11 inch, 2 or 3 inch. SEINGLES, JOIST—such as 12 feet, 14 feet, 16 feet, 18 feet, and 20 feet. TWO SETS OF HOUSE LOGS—26 by 30. SCANTLING, pine and poplar, 3 inch, 4 inch, 5 inch, and 6 inch. CHARLES HARPER. Shepherdstown, July 4, 1833.—1f.

Jefferson (Va) Jockey Club. THE next meeting of the Club will commence at their course near Charlottesville, on Wednesday, September 24th, 1834. First Day's Race, 4 miles and repeat, for $400, entrance $20. Second Day's Race, 3 miles and repeat, for $300, entrance $10. Same day, a Sweepstake for 3 year old colts, one mile and repeat—entrance $100, half forfeit, to be closed on the 1st of September. Third Day, 3 miles and repeat, for $300, entrance $15. Same day, a race for all sorts of horses, one mile and repeat, entrance $20.—There must be four entries (paid for) no race, on each day. Winners on preceding days excluded from entering in the subsequent days. Weights and regulations the same as those of the Centre Course. The track is now at an exact mile. Proper officers are appointed to enforce the most rigid discipline. Seats will be erected on a retired eminence for the Ladies. N. B.—The purses, as heretofore, always at the stand. THE SECRETARY. Aug. 28, 1834.

A Great Wheat Race. OVER the Jefferson Jockey Club course, will take place on Saturday the 20th of September, 1834. Entrance 200 bushels of WHEAT—two miles and repeat. The following horses entered, viz: William Groves's Bertrams, by Southern Eclipse; J. P. Abell's Dany Crockett, by Rascals; J. C. Wilshire & Co's. Paul Fry, by Sir Charles. After which, a first-rate SADDLE will be run for, by saddle horses.—Weights, &c. agree to the rules of the Club. Sept. 11, 1834.

Bacon. A SMALL quantity of first rate Bacon for sale by JOHN N. LANE & WEBB. Shepherdstown, Sept. 11, 1834.

New Timothy Seed. THE subscribers have just received a few Tiers of Fresh Timothy Seed. JOHN N. LANE & WEBB. Shepherdstown, Sept. 11, 1834.

Wool. WILL give the highest market price in goods for clean WASHED WOOL. HUMPHREY KEYS. Charlottesville, Aug. 7, 1831.

Wool. WILL give the highest market price in goods for clean WASHED WOOL. HUMPHREY KEYS. Charlottesville, Aug. 7, 1831.

Wool. WILL give the highest market price in goods for clean WASHED WOOL. HUMPHREY KEYS. Charlottesville, Aug. 7, 1831.

Wool. WILL give the highest market price in goods for clean WASHED WOOL. HUMPHREY KEYS. Charlottesville, Aug. 7, 1831.

Wool. WILL give the highest market price in goods for clean WASHED WOOL. HUMPHREY KEYS. Charlottesville, Aug. 7, 1831.

Wool. WILL give the highest market price in goods for clean WASHED WOOL. HUMPHREY KEYS. Charlottesville, Aug. 7, 1831.

Wool. WILL give the highest market price in goods for clean WASHED WOOL. HUMPHREY KEYS. Charlottesville, Aug. 7, 1831.

Wool. WILL give the highest market price in goods for clean WASHED WOOL. HUMPHREY KEYS. Charlottesville, Aug. 7, 1831.

Wool. WILL give the highest market price in goods for clean WASHED WOOL. HUMPHREY KEYS. Charlottesville, Aug. 7, 1831.

Wool. WILL give the highest market price in goods for clean WASHED WOOL. HUMPHREY KEYS. Charlottesville, Aug. 7, 1831.

Wool. WILL give the highest market price in goods for clean WASHED WOOL. HUMPHREY KEYS. Charlottesville, Aug. 7, 1831.

TRAVELLING BETWEEN BALTIMORE HARPER'S FERRY, and WINCHESTER.

TRAVELLERS are now enabled to pass daily in either direction, between Winchester, Va. and Baltimore, by way of Harper's Ferry, during the day, viz: WESTWARDLY. Starting from Baltimore in the Cars at 2 1/2 A. M., arriving at the Point of Rocks at 11 P. M., starting from there at 2 P. M. in a PACKET BOAT recently established by individuals on the Canal, reaching Harper's Ferry at 3 P. M.; and from thence proceeding immediately by the Lines of STAGES, now running to Winchester, Va., and arriving there on the same evening. EASTWARDLY. The same Line starts every morning from Winchester, Va. at 6 o'clock, arriving at Harper's Ferry at the Point of Rocks at 11 P. M., starting from there at 2 P. M. in a PACKET BOAT, reaching Harper's Ferry at 3 P. M.; and from thence proceeding immediately by the Lines of STAGES, now running to Winchester, Va., and arriving there on the same evening.

TRANSPORTATION BY THE RAIL ROAD BETWEEN BALTIMORE AND THE POINT OF ROCKS. DAILY Train of Railway Wagons proceeds in both directions between Baltimore and the Point of Rocks. WESTWARDLY. Starting from Baltimore at 12 noon, and arriving at the Point of Rocks at noon of the following day. EASTWARDLY. Starting from the Point of Rocks at five in the evening, and reaches the Depot in Baltimore at the same hour of the following evening.

The Rail Road Company have established ample conveniences and machinery for the safe and expeditious transhipment of produce and commodities between the Canal Boats and the Railway Cars. The Company are also prepared to receive produce from the Boats; five receipts for the same to the owners or to their order, and deliver the same on the Rail Road in Baltimore to the consignees, for the charge of 20 cents per barrel for Flour, and other commodities in the same proportion.

They will also deliver Goods consigned to the Point of Rocks from Baltimore at 10 cents per bushel, and until further notice, Flour at 2 cents at $4 per ton, and Salted Fish and Salt at 12 cents per 100 lbs. May 8, 1834.

Lumber Yard in Shepherdstown. THE subscriber begs leave to inform the public that he has a connection with his Store, and is prepared to supply all demands for seasoned White and Yellow Pine PLANK, either 1 inch, 1 1/2 inch, 2 inch, 3 inch, 4 inch, 5 inch, 6 inch, 7 inch, 8 inch, 9 inch, 10 inch, 11 inch, 12 inch, 13 inch, 14 inch, 15 inch, 16 inch, 17 inch, 18 inch, 19 inch, 20 inch, 21 inch, 22 inch, 23 inch, 24 inch, 25 inch, 26 inch, 27 inch, 28 inch, 29 inch, 30 inch, 31 inch, 32 inch, 33 inch, 34 inch, 35 inch, 36 inch, 37 inch, 38 inch, 39 inch, 40 inch, 41 inch, 42 inch, 43 inch, 44 inch, 45 inch, 46 inch, 47 inch, 48 inch, 49 inch, 50 inch, 51 inch, 52 inch, 53 inch, 54 inch, 55 inch, 56 inch, 57 inch, 58 inch, 59 inch, 60 inch, 61 inch, 62 inch, 63 inch, 64 inch, 65 inch, 66 inch, 67 inch, 68 inch, 69 inch, 70 inch, 71 inch, 72 inch, 73 inch, 74 inch, 75 inch, 76 inch, 77 inch, 78 inch, 79 inch, 80 inch, 81 inch, 82 inch, 83 inch, 84 inch, 85 inch, 86 inch, 87 inch, 88 inch, 89 inch, 90 inch, 91 inch, 92 inch, 93 inch, 94 inch, 95 inch, 96 inch, 97 inch, 98 inch, 99 inch, 100 inch.

Having laid in at present a supply of 300-000 FEET, piled with shingles, in addition to arrangements made for the future, he can assure the public that a general stock of Lumber will be kept up at his yard, where they can be furnished on the most reasonable terms. J. F. HAMTRAMCK. Shepherdstown, June 20, 1833.

VIRGINIA, to wit: At Rules holden in the Clerk's Office of the Circuit Superior Court of Law and Chancery for Jefferson County, the first Monday in August, 1834: GEORGE COFFENBERGER and Elizabeth his wife, for Plaintiff, AGAINST Thomas Turner, for Defendant, and Simona his wife, Alexander Lemen Turner and Margaret Morgan Turner, Defendants. THE defendants, Alexander Lemen Turner and Margaret Morgan Turner, in answer to their appearance, and given security according to the act of Assembly, and the rules of this court; and it appearing by satisfactory evidence that he is not an inhabitant of this country: It is ordered, That the said defendant do appear here on the 15th day of the next term, and answer the amended bill of the plaintiff; and that a copy of this order be forthwith inserted in some newspaper published in Charlottesville, for two months successively, and posted at the front door of the court-house in the said town of Charlottesville.—A Copy—Teste, ROBERT T. BROWN, Clerk. August 26, 1834.

VIRGINIA, to wit: At Rules holden in the Clerk's Office of the Circuit Superior Court of Law and Chancery for Jefferson County, the first Monday in August, 1834: GEORGE COFFENBERGER and Elizabeth his wife, for Plaintiff, AGAINST Thomas Turner, for Defendant, and Simona his wife, Alexander Lemen Turner and Margaret Morgan Turner, Defendants. THE defendants, Alexander Lemen Turner and Margaret Morgan Turner, in answer to their appearance, and given security according to the act of Assembly, and the rules of this court; and it appearing by satisfactory evidence that he is not an inhabitant of this country: It is ordered, That the said defendant do appear here on the 15th day of the next term, and answer the amended bill of the plaintiff; and that a copy of this order be forthwith inserted in some newspaper published in Charlottesville, for two months successively, and posted at the front door of the court-house in the said town of Charlottesville.—A Copy—Teste, ROBERT T. BROWN, Clerk. August 26, 1834.

VIRGINIA, to wit: At Rules holden in the Clerk's Office of the Circuit Superior Court of Law and Chancery for Jefferson County, the first Monday in August, 1834: GEORGE COFFENBERGER and Elizabeth his wife, for Plaintiff, AGAINST Thomas Turner, for Defendant, and Simona his wife, Alexander Lemen Turner and Margaret Morgan Turner, Defendants. THE defendants, Alexander Lemen Turner and Margaret Morgan Turner, in answer to their appearance, and given security according to the act of Assembly, and the rules of this court; and it appearing by satisfactory evidence that he is not an inhabitant of this country: It is ordered, That the said defendant do appear here on the 15th day of the next term, and answer the amended bill of the plaintiff; and that a copy of this order be forthwith inserted in some newspaper published in Charlottesville, for two months successively, and posted at the front door of the court-house in the said town of Charlottesville.—A Copy—Teste, ROBERT T. BROWN, Clerk. August 26, 1834.

VIRGINIA, to wit: At Rules holden in the Clerk's Office of the Circuit Superior Court of Law and Chancery for Jefferson County, the first Monday in August, 1834: GEORGE COFFENBERGER and Elizabeth his wife, for Plaintiff, AGAINST Thomas Turner, for Defendant, and Simona his wife, Alexander Lemen Turner and Margaret Morgan Turner, Defendants. THE defendants, Alexander Lemen Turner and Margaret Morgan Turner, in answer to their appearance, and given security according to the act of Assembly, and the rules of this court; and it appearing by satisfactory evidence that he is not an inhabitant of this country: It is ordered, That the said defendant do appear here on the 15th day of the next term, and answer the amended bill of the plaintiff; and that a copy of this order be forthwith inserted in some newspaper published in Charlottesville, for two months successively, and posted at the front door of the court-house in the said town of Charlottesville.—A Copy—Teste, ROBERT T. BROWN, Clerk. August 26, 1834.

VIRGINIA, to wit: At Rules holden in the Clerk's Office of the Circuit Superior Court of Law and Chancery for Jefferson County, the first Monday in August, 1834: GEORGE COFFENBERGER and Elizabeth his wife, for Plaintiff, AGAINST Thomas Turner, for Defendant, and Simona his wife, Alexander Lemen Turner and Margaret Morgan Turner, Defendants. THE defendants, Alexander Lemen Turner and Margaret Morgan Turner, in answer to their appearance, and given security according to the act of Assembly, and the rules of this court; and it appearing by satisfactory evidence that he is not an inhabitant of this country: It is ordered, That the said defendant do appear here on the 15th day of the next term, and answer the amended bill of the plaintiff; and that a copy of this order be forthwith inserted in some newspaper published in Charlottesville, for two months successively, and posted at the front door of the court-house in the said town of Charlottesville.—A Copy—Teste, ROBERT T. BROWN, Clerk. August 26, 1834.

VIRGINIA, to wit: At Rules holden in the Clerk's Office of the Circuit Superior Court of Law and Chancery for Jefferson County, the first Monday in August, 1834: GEORGE COFFENBERGER and Elizabeth his wife, for Plaintiff, AGAINST Thomas Turner, for Defendant, and Simona his wife, Alexander Lemen Turner and Margaret Morgan Turner, Defendants. THE defendants, Alexander Lemen Turner and Margaret Morgan Turner, in answer to their appearance, and given security according to the act of Assembly, and the rules of this court; and it appearing by satisfactory evidence that he is not an inhabitant of this country: It is ordered, That the said defendant do appear here on the 15th day of the next term, and answer the amended bill of the plaintiff; and that a copy of this order be forthwith inserted in some newspaper published in Charlottesville, for two months successively, and posted at the front door of the court-house in the said town of Charlottesville.—A Copy—Teste, ROBERT T. BROWN, Clerk. August 26, 1834.

VIRGINIA, to wit: At Rules holden in the Clerk's Office of the Circuit Superior Court of Law and Chancery for Jefferson County, the first Monday in August, 1834: GEORGE COFFENBERGER and Elizabeth his wife, for Plaintiff, AGAINST Thomas Turner, for Defendant, and Simona his wife, Alexander Lemen Turner and Margaret Morgan Turner, Defendants. THE defendants, Alexander Lemen Turner and Margaret Morgan Turner, in answer to their appearance, and given security according to the act of Assembly, and the rules of this court; and it appearing by satisfactory evidence that he is not an inhabitant of this country: It is ordered, That the said defendant do appear here on the 15th day of the next term, and answer the amended bill of the plaintiff; and that a copy of this order be forthwith inserted in some newspaper published in Charlottesville, for two months successively, and posted at the front door of the court-house in the said town of Charlottesville.—A Copy—Teste, ROBERT T. BROWN, Clerk. August 26, 1834.

VIRGINIA, to wit: At Rules holden in the Clerk's Office of the Circuit Superior Court of Law and Chancery for Jefferson County, the first Monday in August, 1834: GEORGE COFFENBERGER and Elizabeth his wife, for Plaintiff, AGAINST Thomas Turner, for Defendant, and Simona his wife, Alexander Lemen Turner and Margaret Morgan Turner, Defendants. THE defendants, Alexander Lemen Turner and Margaret Morgan Turner, in answer to their appearance, and given security according to the act of Assembly, and the rules of this court; and it appearing by satisfactory evidence that he is not an inhabitant of this country: It is ordered, That the said defendant do appear here on the 15th day of the next term, and answer the amended bill of the plaintiff; and that a copy of this order be forthwith inserted in some newspaper published in Charlottesville, for two months successively, and posted at the front door of the court-house in the said town of Charlottesville.—A Copy—Teste, ROBERT T. BROWN, Clerk. August 26, 1834.

VIRGINIA, to wit: At Rules holden in the Clerk's Office of the Circuit Superior Court of Law and Chancery for Jefferson County, the first Monday in August, 1834: GEORGE COFFENBERGER and