LETTERS FROM FRANCE.

By the Express Depon, from Havre, the New York American has Paris papers to the 31st Jan. The subjects letters from a good source, present an encouraging, as it will prove, to trust, a correct view of our question with France...

Extract of a letter, dated PARIS, Jan. 27, 1835. I fell in with several persons in whose judgment I place much confidence. From M. Welles, I learned that a party of about thirty members, who voted in favor of the bill, are now in the city, and he thinks it will pass this time...

PARIS, 14th JAN., 1835.—Sir: I have received the despatches you have done me the honor to address to me on December 21 last. The message of President Jackson has been published in France the effect you anticipated. The King's Government cannot, evidently, dispense with repelling, by a marked manifestation, a measure so offensive to His Majesty's dignity...

Antiquities of Arkansas.—Arkansas, in common with many places of the West, has its antiquities; and they are surely most puzzling enigmas to the antiquary. A letter from a gentleman, now resident in that Territory, to his friend in Ohio, gives some account of these unaccountable remains...

A late Norfolk Herald says that a full sized duck not long since drifted ashore near Old Point, in that neighborhood, with its bill enclosed between the shells of an oyster. It is supposed that the duck had dived to the bottom and thrust his bill into the open shell of the oyster, upon which the latter, not relishing such an attack, closed the top of the shell...

The winter has been excessively cold in Europe, and precisely at the same period we suffered so much in the U. S. At Naples, a most rare occurrence, there was ice on Christmas, and the mountains were covered with snow...

One of the candidates for a seat in the Assembly of Georgia, is said to be deaf and dumb. The Chinese lady is exhibiting her small feet at Washington. This column and this line are complete.

GENERAL INTELLIGENCE.

A Mammoth.—The New York Courier and Enquirer came to us on Monday last in a mammoth form, printed we presume on the new mammoth press erected by the Zoological Institute of New York. We have laid it by as a curiosity. It measures, says the Gazette, 54 by 48 inches, and a friend has furnished us with a bill of its contents, as follows: 1400 advertisements; review of the market; prices current; bank note table; rate of freights; rates of insurance; price of stocks; exchange lists; and 30 columns of reading matter.

The ordinary size of the Courier and Enquirer is of the table cloth order, and its patronage is probably more extensive than that of any other paper in the Union. This is mainly attributable to the whig merchants of New York, who, with admirable spirit, sustain their political papers. We rejoice to say that this is also becoming the fashion of Baltimore merchants, in regard to political editors, that "the labourer is worthy of his hire." Here we again echo the expression of Col. Crockett, "go ahead."—Balt. Chron.

PROMOTION.—We have been remiss in not noticing heretofore the promotion of our friend Wm. GODEX NILES, of the Frederick Herald. He is now Colonel Niles, by virtue of the appointment of aid to the governor. This honour comes appropos, as in case of a French war, he will have the chance to "do the state some service." But this is not the only benefit derived from the appointment. He has communicated the port and dignity of his station to his paper, and the Frederick Herald now appears in an enlarged size, and in a new uniform, as handsome as that of a newly-made officer. We congratulate friend N. and the public on these changes and improvements, for, if we are not in luck ourselves, we can rejoice at the prosperity of our neighbors.—Balt. Chron.

This country was once inhabited, and I propose this question to your antiquarians.—When and by whom of the White river, you can see the brick building, which is enclosed by a wall and in the centre there is a circular building. North of this there are the ruins of a city; parallel streets crossing each other at right angles; may be traced by brick foundations, one mile in length. The bricks are shaped like modern bricks.

The house partly occupied by a dry goods store by Mr. Kelly O'Ferrall, on Main street, was destroyed by fire together with Mr. O'Ferrall's whole stock of goods, on the night of the 23d inst. The alarm was given about 10 o'clock. It appears that the store was closed for the night by a small boy, who had left a candle burning on the counter, which it is supposed communicated to some cotton goods thereon, and thus involved the whole store in destruction.

The Chinese lady is exhibiting her small feet at Washington. This column and this line are complete.

Abubekr, a comrade and successor of Mohammed, gave to the commanders of his army in Syria these instructions: "Remember that you are always in the presence of God, always at the point of death, always in expectation of judgment, always in hope of paradise; avoid then, and repair injustice and oppression. Let your victories never be sullied by the injury and tortures of women and children. As you advance into the enemy's country, you will find religious persons who are terrified in monasteries, to the end that they may serve God after their manner. You shall not slay them, nor destroy their monasteries." This early Mussulman would have spared the Ursuline Convent; and, probably have made compensation to the sufferers, if the "faithful" had sacked and burnt it, moved by the spirit of fanaticism and the lust of booty.—Vol. Ge.

Riot in Cincinnati.—We regret to learn by the Cincinnati Journal, that a riot occurred in that city a short time since, on the occasion of the consecration of the Catholic chapel. It appears that Dr. Alexander Duncan, (a member of the Ohio Senate,) happened to be standing in the street through which the procession passed, and not aware that the rules of their church require every person to uncover his head in the presence of the bishop on such occasions, he neglected to take off his hat. On the arrival of the procession opposite to where he stood, he was requested to uncover his head immediately. He replied that he was in a public street, and that how much soever he respected the forms and ceremonies of the Catholic religion, it was all comforting with his dignity, as an American citizen, to do homage to any man. On saying this he was immediately surrounded by a large number of those in the procession, his hat forcibly torn from his head, his clothes torn, and himself beaten in a most shocking manner.

BAPTISTS IN AMERICA.—Bodley's Weekly Messenger states that the number of Baptist Associations in the United States is 331—churches 6,693; ordained ministers 3,244, and 737 E. Centinates. Only 152 Associations sent in their minutes to the General Agent, and their net gain amounted to 27,261 members. The same ratio for the whole number (331) would give a net increase of not less than sixty thousand for the year past.

We have great pleasure in informing our readers that the bill providing for the completion of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal and Susquehanna Rail-Road passed the House of Delegates of Maryland, on Saturday the 7th inst., by 44 Yeas to 30 Nays.

The character of the Senate of the State for intelligence and public spirit, leaves no doubt of the bill's passing that body also. The bill proposes to lend to the Canal Company Two Millions of Dollars, and to the Rail Road Company One Million of Dollars.

Well done, Maryland!—Vol. Ill. From the Commodore (Indiana) Watchman. THE HOOSIER OAK. Mr. Ephraim Myers, a very respectable citizen of this county, informs us that a year ago last June, he cut an oak on his farm, which was certainly chattered, if not "chattered oak." This mammoth of the woods was 7 feet in diameter and about 21 in circumference, and perfectly sound from its base to its top. It being known that honey bees had been at work amongst its branches for sometime, a good portion of the neighborhood, men, women and children to the amount of 500, assembled to witness the execution of the Forest King. About 10 o'clock, A. M. the hoosier oak had been felled, and the trunk was being hauled away, when Mr. Myers announced the prostration of the monarch who had battled the storms of ages.

Much of the honey was wasted by the falling—the multitude fed to surfeit on it until night, and still 3 gallons of an excellent quality of "right smart honey" of bees was preserved. And then this mammoth Tree yielded the owner 60 worth of bark—700 Bales—500 Stakes and 5 Cords of Wood. If there is any body in the Montgomery valley, a valley which bears the name of his big got a larger oak farm—just let him bring it on. Until then, we of Fayette expect to claim the Premium from the Agricultural Society for producing the largest and most valuable Oak.

FIRE IN WHEELING. The house partly occupied by a dry goods store by Mr. Kelly O'Ferrall, on Main street, was destroyed by fire together with Mr. O'Ferrall's whole stock of goods, on the night of the 23d inst. The alarm was given about 10 o'clock. It appears that the store was closed for the night by a small boy, who had left a candle burning on the counter, which it is supposed communicated to some cotton goods thereon, and thus involved the whole store in destruction.

MISCELLANY.

The tragedy of "Bertram" was lately enacted at Nashville, in a manner too lamentably true to the spirit of the piece. The following statement of the awful circumstance is from the pen of the Rev. John S. MARRIET, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, who was himself attached to the South in his earlier years. From the Western Methodist. A LAMENTABLE OCCURRENCE. The young man named Bertram, who had been sent to Nashville, in a manner too lamentably true to the spirit of the piece. The following statement of the awful circumstance is from the pen of the Rev. John S. MARRIET, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, who was himself attached to the South in his earlier years.

The Thespian Society occasionally have public exhibitions; and at one of these, on Tuesday evening last week, Mr. Laughlin acted the part of Bertram in a gloomy tragedy of "Bertram or the Castle of St. Albrand." The melancholy catastrophe which has laid Mr. Laughlin in the cold, cold grave, we have read the tragedy on which he spent his last earthly power, and we are full of sympathy for his bereaved friends, and for the Thespian Society, who were so much affected by the death of this young man.

How to catch Crows.—Wilson, an American Ornithologist, says that crows have been employed to catch crows, by the following stratagem:—A live crow is pinned by the wings, down to the ground, on his back, by the aid of two sharp forked sticks. Thus situated, his cries are loud and incessant, particularly if any other crows are within view. These sweeping down about him, are instantly grappled and held fast by the prostrate prisoner, with the same instinctive impulse that urges a drowning man to grasp at every thing within his reach. The game being disengaged from his clutches, the trap is ready again for another experiment, and by pinning down each captive successively, as soon as taken; in a short time you will probably have a large flock screaming about you, in concert with the outrageous prisoners below. This method of catching crows is, I believe, practised in some parts of England to catch jays, who make a most violent outcry when pinned down.

Method of building chimneys that will not smoke.—Contract the space immediately over the fire, so you may be sure of the air being well heated there, this will ensure a current upwards. All chimneys should be carefully built, and every joint well filled with mortar, so as to prevent communication in case of fire. (Dr. Cooper.)

Boiled Flax Seed.—This is the season of the year when cattle, horses, and sheep, should occasionally have a little flax seed, boiled in water, and mixed with their food. If they are fed principally on dry food, the flax seed, as well as the liquid from it, is the more necessary.

Tomatoes.—We find the following item in a late number of the "Farmer and Mechanic" of this city, and recommend it to the attention of our horticultural friends.—Persons desirous of having early tomatoes, should sow the seed in a hot-bed during the present month. Those who cannot conveniently prepare a hot-bed, succeed in raising plants by sowing the seed in a box filled with rich earth, and set in a warm place, near the kitchen or other fire.

Swellings.—To scatter swellings on horses or other cattle, take two quarts of proof whiskey, or other proof spirits, warm it over coal, but not to dissolve it in a pint of soft soap—when cool, put in a bottle, and add one ounce of camphor. When dissolved, it will form the liquid Opodeldoc, and is then ready for application, forming a cheap and useful remedy. When the swelling is on the leg, or any part that will receive a bandage, such bandage should be applied, and wet with Opodeldoc.
