EXTRAORDINARY AND MELANCHOLY OCCURRENCE.
A letter from a friend of a member of Congress from New York.
Troy, Monday Evening, Jan. 8, 1837.
The lower part of our city has become a modern Pompeii. Last evening, about seven o'clock, the hill at the lower part of the city slid down, covering up houses, barns, and other buildings, women, and children. It has covered up every thing half way to the river, passing over sixth, fifth, and fourth streets to third street.
Never was there greater consternation. The whole city is alive, and on the spot, with thousands from other places, digging out the dead. They have found eight dead bodies, and 19 horses. It is impossible to say how many lives are lost. I have just come from the spot and I saw them dig out two little children, lying in a trundle bed, sleeping the sleep of death, without a bruise upon them, probably smothered.
Where Fourth street was, the earth is as least six feet high. There were not many houses near the spot, but what were buried. It is calculated that seven buildings, each occupied by two or three families, are destroyed. There was a house upon the hill which has not yet discovered. I was sitting in my house, and heard a rumbling noise, like distant thunder, and went to the door, and saw a light in the South and a cloud coming over the city, and soon grew full like hail. Soon the bells commenced ringing, and I went to the spot immediately. The brick-kiln was carried a hundred rods, and was on fire. It gave light enough to see the horrible and novel scene.
To add to the dreadful sublime, the water came foaming down the hill in a torrent. It is now evident that the earth about here is volcanic; or that the water comes from the mountain east of us. The swamps that is not filled up with earth, is filled with water. It is a melancholy day with us.
Yours, &c.

FOREIGN.
The young Bonaparte, since the failure of his ridiculous attempt at Strasbourg, has manifested deep repentance, and very great anxiety on account of the rash and unfortunate men who are implicated with him. He has written, it is said, to the King, the Queen, the Duke of Orleans, and to the several marshals and generals, earnestly entreating their mediation.
Young Bonaparte reached L'Orient on the night of the 14th of Nov., was immediately put on board the Andromeda, and sailed on the 16th for this country.
The price of bread was raising in London. The price of the quarter (four pound) loaf, best quality, is now 10d. per stone. Inferior quality, 9d. The rise in three weeks has been 2d. per loaf.
A Good Example.—The Salem (Mass.) Gazette mentions the following incident, at once so creditable and encouraging to newspaper patrons. That paper says: "One of our oldest and most respectable subscribers, called yesterday and paid his hundred and first semi-annual subscription."

I will sell that valuable TANNER'S situated in Georgia, Berkeley county, which is carried on by James B. Russell. It possesses advantages which is not common to many other yards: its proximity to the bank enables it to be furnished with that article in abundance, and for moderate terms. A further description is thought unnecessary, as persons wishing to buy will examine it. Possession will be given at any time. The purchaser will have the refusal of the stock in his hands, which he has not been worked in this fall.
The above Tanager will be offered at public sale on Saturday the 20th Jan. 1837, if not disposed of previously. If not sold on that day, it will be exposed to suit. The property will be shown to any one wishing to view it, by Mr. James B. Russell, living on the property. Terms made known on the day of sale.

The subscriber notifies all those indebted to him, by note or otherwise, that if not paid up by the 1st of March next, he will be necessarily compelled to place them in the hands of an officer for collection, and further notices all those to whom he is indebted, to produce their claims, as well as those having claims against the estate of Captain James Russell, deceased, properly authenticated for settlement.

POSTSCRIPT.
The paper has been delayed a few hours beyond the usual time of publication, to embrace the intelligence by Wednesday evening's mail. We were, however, again disappointed by failing to receive a letter from our Richmond Correspondent. The mail O, the mail! How long will this, O, Mr. Kendall, whose late postman

HOUSE OF DELEGATES.
Thursday, Jan. 6.
The joint order of the day, for the election of a Judge of the General Court, to supply the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Richard E. Parker, being read—
Mr. Watkins suggested that it would be well for the gentlemen interested in the matter to postpone the joint order of the day until the Senate should be full. He would name Tuesday the 10th.
Mr. Peter opposed the motion to postpone. It was apparent that influences were at work in various ways, for some of the candidates. He felt disposed to favor such operations, and could see no necessity for the postponement.
Mr. Fisher was in favor of the motion to postpone. He thought the lower the matter was delayed, the better. It seemed the candidates had active agents here. For his part, he would put them to all possible inconvenience—detain them until their funds were exhausted, and then vote against their candidate. He thought the honor of the house required this course. He was for a full, free and unbiased expression, unaided by such gentlemen. He knew nothing of his own knowledge, but he was told of such movements, and he thought they deserved the severest reprobation of the house. For this reason, he would postpone, even until the 31st of March.
Mr. Davenport saw no necessity for postponement, but if it was to be done, it had better be for two or three weeks. There were lobby members at work for all the candidates except one—that one's claims rested upon his own merits, and would continue so to rest. He was well known to a portion of the House, and willing to abide the issue. The people thought their delegates competent to manage all the duties confided to them, without the aid of gentlemen from other quarters. Mr. D. said the salary of the judgeship was so low as to restrict the choice very much. There was, however, a resolution under consideration, proposing some addition to the compensation of the judges, and if this were favorably received, a gentleman could be obtained upon whom all would unite. If, therefore, there was a disposition to postpone, he would name Monday the 23d. instead of the 10th.
Mr. Watkins then withdrew his motion to postpone to the 10th, and the question was taken on the 23d, and agreed to.
Mr. Davenport was appointed to communicate the postponement of the election to the Senate, and a message was received from that body concurring therein.
A petition was presented by Mr. Peter, of citizens of Jefferson, in behalf of the appointment of Isaac B. Douglas as Judge of the General Court.
The whole of Monday's sitting in the House of Representatives was occupied in the consideration of the subject, which consumed so much time at the last session, of the mode of treating memorial to Congress for the abolition of Slavery within the District of Columbia. After a good deal of debate and some excitement, the House deliberately decided to receive the petition on which the debate arose, and then decided, without debate or excitement, by a vote of about three to one, to lay it on the table. The subsequent presentation of a memorial of similar character re-opened, indeed, the debate on the question of reception; and it was not concluded when the House adjourned.—[Nat. Int.]

Yesterday the Supreme Court commenced its annual session in the Court room at the Capitol. All the Judges were present except Chief Justice. The wife of the Hon. Thomas Ewing died, at his residence in Ohio, on the 1st instant.

We understand that $1200 of the money stolen from the Lynchburg stage, has been returned to the Bank of Virginia, and there identified. It was recovered by a citizen of Manchester, under circumstances not of sufficient importance to be enumerated. It is hoped, that a clue may be found for recovering the residue of the stolen treasure.—[Richmond Eng. 7th inst.]

They say that the President elect is to be married. Instead of giving the initials and final letters of the lady's name, with a star for each intermediate one, we may as well say that the name with which rumor is making free, is Mrs. Fitzhugh, of Virginia.

The Bill authorizing Baltimore City, to choose four delegates instead of two, has been confirmed by both branches of the Maryland Legislature.

We regret to learn that on Thursday night last, the office of the Lynchburg Virginian, was destroyed by fire, with all its types, presses and fixtures. The Lynchburg Virginian is one of the best conducted journals in the State, and we wish its editors all the success they deserve.—[Alex. Gaz.]

Yesterday's mail confirmed the account, already given, of the avalanches or slides of the earth at Troy, N. Y.—Five human bodies and sixteen dead horses have been dug from the ruins made by this remarkable phenomenon. The immediate cause of the disaster is not yet fully ascertained or explained.—[*Alex. FROM FLORIDA!
Extract of a letter from Gen. Jessup, dated 25th Dec. 1836.
The army under my command, consisting of the Tennessee brigade and Alabama battalion, with about three hundred regular troops, and five hundred Indian warriors, arrived in this vicinity last night.
To-day I have had the whole of them completely examined; not an Indian is to be found, and the friendly warriors are of opinion that they have all gone South. From the appearance of their trails, they are supposed to have retreated soon after their last battle with the troops under the command of Governor Call.

A writer in the Richmond Enquirer who signs himself "South Sider," has hung up Major Opie of the Senate of Va., in the "picture gallery" of that print, and recommends him for the office of GOVERNOR of the Commonwealth. 'N'importe—we second the nomination. A "South Sider" advocates Maj. O. as "a staunch republican, firm but conciliatory, affording a striking example of the suaviter in modo et fortiter in re." Good! It is just so. And we take Maj. Opie as our candidate before any other man in the field. Will "the party" elect him? Not—"They will go farther and fare worse."

THE MARKET.
BALTIMORE MARKET,
For the week ending Friday evening, Jan. 6.
CATTLE.—The supply of Beef on the hoof has somewhat improved, and prices have declined a shade. We quote today at 96 a 98. Live Hogs have come in more freely this week, but there is no change in price and we therefore quote as before at 97.50 a 98. The receipts of killed Pork are still light; we quote the wagon price today at 97.25 to 97.50, and the store price at 97.50 a 97.75.
FEATHERS.—We continue our quotations for Western at 50 a 55 cents per lb.
FLOUR.—Howard Street.—The store price continues at 10.50. Nothing appears to be doing except by retail. The wagon price is 10.25.
City Mills Flour.—The transactions are few for all the candidates except one—that one's claims rested upon his own merits, and would continue so to rest. He was well known to a portion of the House, and willing to abide the issue. The people thought their delegates competent to manage all the duties confided to them, without the aid of gentlemen from other quarters.
