MR FOREST'S ORATION.

MESSES. EDITORS .- The 69th No. of the Globe ublishes the Oration of EDWIN FOREST Esa delivered on the Fourth of July last, at the De-mocratic Republican celebration in the City of New York. This oration and the celebration at which it was pronounced, though highly vulfiera-ble, have passed unnoticed by your Journal It is hoped, therefore, that these remarks of mine the crude and hurried, may not be entirely with out interest.

This meeting was originated, avowedly, for party purposes; and the Address of Mr. Forest, though not confessedly a party paper upon its face, and though it might not be estaomed such by the superficial realer, set, slight penetration discovers it discussing, and that too in a crouching manuer, the exciting political questions of the day. In one paragraph he is found warmly advocating the Sub-Treasury; in abother he is discovered carrying on a subtle opposition to any project for a U. S. Bank, the first by an attempt to sustain the principle of "EXPERIMENT." the second by denouncing all connexion between politics and trade, commerce and government. These, with other political subjects, may be discussed and should be discussed upon proper occasions and under proper circumstances; but and to take from the people in reality the never upon the analysers of our national free power of electing the President, who does to make the power of electing the power of electing the power of electing the like balls. never upon the anniversary of our national free loos. It is an opinion deliberately formed, after much reflection, and no little experience. We are the weaker and exposed section, and must, of course, have the deepest interest in confining the General Government to its proper sphere, on which depends its safety and duration, so essential to the safety and prosperity of all. To effect this, unlan among our-selves is indispensable, while as the weaker portion of the confederacy, it canno; endanger either the rights or the safety of the stronger. But union among ourselves at home, in our own State; if not necessary, is important to the union of the whole South. Circumstances to which I

I long since foresaw its approach, and made up my mind as to the part I would act shull it arrive in my tire. Four years ago, on the removal of the deposites, l openly avowed in debate the principles and sentiments on which I acted at the late and extra session, and of consequence, could take no other course orphan, attest thy worth, and happy is he without palpably contradicting my recorded opinions, and this without any change of principle or sentiment. So far other-wise, time and reflection have but served. to confirm the opinions I then entertained real alternative left-is, whether the government shall go back to its original poli-cy established by the act of 1789, and collect its revenue in the legal and constitutional currency of the country, and keep it by its own responsible officers, or charter another bank-or, in other words, between the constitutional Treasury and another National Bank with sufficient canital and power to controut the exchanges, the currency, the commerce, and the business of the Union. All other measures, the pet bank system, special deposites, and all, are but temporary expedientshalf-way houses, and so understood and avowed by the great body opposed to the separation of Government from the banks. Between the two-the constitutional Treasury and a National Bank, I could not besitate. I do most solumnly believe that a bank with power and influence sufficient to effect the object proposed,

The cause of the rise of water in the Lakes is said to be this: such immense quantities of "gold" are "flowing up the Micrissippi," (in accordance with the Globe's predictions) that the waters which have flowed out through that channel being obstructed that way, now find an outlet through the valley of the Lakes. THRESHING MACHINE. - Ammi West of Greene, in the county of Kennebec, Maine, as we learn from the Maine Farmer, has taken out a patent for a machine for threshing and other purposes. He has been for several years engaged in experimenting and improving it, and has brought it to such perfection that two men can thresh thirty bushels of grain in day. It is worked by the weight of a in the man, standing upon levers or treadles.— and adjoining the lands of Messrs. John Lock His threshing machine is very ingeniously made of bearers like the radii or arms of a wheel, and will be thrown back, when a stick or stone shall pass through with the grain. The apparatus may be affixed to a grindstone, lathe, or any other machinery, with perfect ease. It is small -portable and strong.

morse Power,

THESE MEDICINES care all Diseases which admit of cure.

1. They remove from the stomesh, liver and intestines—the blood-making organs—all obstructions to the irbe performance of their healthy functions.

2. They purify the blood by increasing its various excretions, and prevent disease by enabling the body successfully to refirst the predisposing and exciting enues to disease.

3. They increase the action of the absorbents, by which all morbid grow the are taken into the circulation and afterwards expelled from the body.

4. They restore the regularity of those processes upon which the formation and eiredation of the blood depends.

These are thickfully medicines known in which small dose have a powerful and beneficial effect; and yet, of which, in extreme cases, such very large doses may be administered fearlessly and with greatly increased advantages to the patient.

The British College of Health having revoked, annulled and made void the spopointment of Dr. this ratio Shephord Most, he has ceaved to be in any manner, the agent of the British College of Health, for the patient.
