HE BRAUTIFUL To a bright fad, with heart of flame, The angel of the seasons came.

Took its green sheath and hood away
And turned its forehead to the day.

And from its olushing depths updrew
A stream of incense pure as dew.

He kissed as theek, and went his way-And then a form, with temples gray.
Stood at its sple, and taught it how
To shrink, lo shrivel, and to bow.
On the brown mould its lip to lay,
And blend with sweet things passed away. To a fair maid, in beauty's spring,

Love's Angel came on radiant wing, Nerved her light foot to skim the plain, And made her voice a music strain, And clasped his cestus o'er her breast, Till every eye her power confessed. Another foren, with shadowy dart, Pressed to her couch and chilled her heart; Pale grew the brow with roses fired, And her last breath in groans expired: But that which bound her to the sky Escaped his shaft - it could not die.

The bare idea of this ought to preserve thousands, who perhaps fall info the error through mere exuberance of spirits, from exposing themselves to a suspicion at which abolishes the compensation heretofore blowed there-for; authorizes the Hardy blues to dispense with the regulation which requires a strict confordity to the uniform prescribed by law; and gives the regiments, stand in no need of the mistaken mental courts of enquiry the power to allow Lieuest conquest. The average Whig majority last year was 23—this year 61! This is a decided Whig victory, although the ority. Never before was the firld so thoroughly canvassed by our opponents—never had they greater confidence of success. In the Congresload canvass, Mr. Lucas had the advantage over Mr. Faulkner of residence here, a thorough acquaintance, and many personal friends amongs the Whigs. Mr. F. could not counteret this advantage by any effort of his own for want of time to traverse the county. For the Assembly, the Locos had two candidates (Mesers. Beall and Cameron) admitted on all sides to be the most popular, active and persevering, of any in the party; and every man was brought to the polls who could be induced under any circumstances to fers out. Many new votes were polled, and large calculations made on their preponderance for the Locos .-The Whig candidates had the disadvantage of a fate start-both of them being sick early in the canvass, and one of them unable to visit half the county. Gallaher had to bear the weight of a vote concerning the Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road Company, which, if not misrepresented. was not exactly understood by all the voters in the county; and Turner being a young man, not rsonally known to all, had to make his way ader the disadvantage of a dead set at him as in sporting phrase, " an antried nag." But his prospects improved upon acquaintance, and he may feel a just pride in the compliment bestowed upon him by such a constituency as have given ary gives token of a necessity for exertion. But for the hopelessness of auccess against the "Gerrymander," the Whig congressional poll might also have been increased. As it is, Mir. Faulkaer deserves great credit for his effort against odds so fearful-From the Martinsburg, Gazette BERKELEY. Victory has again crowned the efforts of the Whigs of Berkeley. We confess our disappointment that the Whig majorities are not larger, for although we knew that our adversaries were straining every nerve in full confidence of success, it remained for the polls to show how well they had done their work. We were disap-pointed, too, in the number of Whigs who were found willing to surrender their principles to their political fees, but thank Heaven old Berke-ler is yet found to contain enough of stout Whig earts to save her from Locofocoism. The New Orleans Bee adds:

The same paper mentions the death of Dr. Brenham during the contest between the prisoners and the guard, prior to their escape, which leaves room to doubt the entire authenticity of the news brought by way of Vera Cruz that they had all been retaken; for the letters from Mexico which brought the intelligence of the death of this gentleman, contained likewise the accounts out beyond the Nueces, and having discovered a large party of Mexicans, they concealed themselves in the woods until night, when they crept into the Mexican camp, selected thirty of their best horses, and brought them safely into Victoria. Stimulated by this success, they raised a small party and have gone to to the Rio Grande, to make foray into the settlements near Comargo. They are all well armed and mounted on excellent horses. There is little danger, therefore, that they will fall into the hands of the Mexicans.

treme heat which they produce. I would respectfully say to the public, that this difficulty can be avoided with the above Stoves, by placing them in the fire place—the chimney will draw up the greater part of the unpleasant heat and ateam which arises therefrom, consequently this Stove will not emit as much heat, or be as oppress ve, as a large fire in a fire place—this fact is sustained by a large portion of the community in the States of Maryland and Pennsylvacia, where there are now in use, upwards of thirteen thousand of the above Staves. Persons who have them in use, can thus, continue so to do throughout the whole year, and thus save both labor and fuel. 83-The following gentlemen have recently irchased Hathaway's Hot Air Cooking Stoves and no doubt will do justice to its merits if call-ed upon:—Messes. Francis Yales. Samuel Miller, Samuel Ridenous. Col Brazton Davenport. Charles G Stewart. W. M'KIM. April 27, 1842.

IN comparing this with all other COOKING STOVES, the following advantages will be

The fire being in the upper part of the stove the boilers come in immediate contact with it consequently much less fire is necessary, and they boil in less time. The oven being the whole size of the stove bakes double the quantity of other stoves. The heat is so equally dif-fused on all its sides, that it bakes bread, &c. as well as a brick oven. By means of the damper the heat may be driven through flues around the oven, which not only regulates the heat of the oven but also the draft of the stove. This stove so constructed that no inside plates come in mmediate contact with the fire; consequently they are not likely to get out of repair.

For information in relation to the utility of he stove, I would respectfully refer the public to the fellowing respectable gentlemen of this se Hoyt, formerly collector of the port of county, who have the stove in use, and who I Consumption Arrested.

READ! Dear Sir :- Your "EXPECTORANT REM. SYRUP, is at the Doug Store of EDY" for Pulmonary Affections is doing won ders in this section of the State. The most astonishing cure performed by it is that, upon Mrs. Lydia Anders. She was first taken with a fever ; a heavy cold settled upon the Lungs. She suffered in disease and pain for about 14 months, when her body became reduced to a mere living frame, and all hopes of her recovery given up by her friends and Physician ; her would." The last resource induced her friends to send to Pittsburg, (being the nearest place at the time to procure it) for "two bottles," and gave the contents to her according to the direction. By the time she used them a great change for the better was evidently perceived by all those that knew her situation. Seeing the won-iderful efforts of the medicine, I purchased four dozen bottles, and sold them to those similarie afflicted; since, 1 obtained six dozen more and furnished I believe (the above lady) ten bottles. She is now a Living Monument, enjoying, per-fect health, to the astonishment of both relatives and friends; there are many other cures per-formed in this vicinity, but none so interesting as that of "Mas Anders." Your medicine is considered out here beyond competition and can be telied upon as a safe and effectual remedy "What," inquired the schoolmaster, "What is the plural of a penny?"
