DOINGS IN FREDERICK.

Monday last being Court day in Frederick, a large body of the people assembled at the Court House in Winchester, to transact their ordinary business and to hear the candidates for the Senate and the Electoral candidates discuss the questions of public policy now before the country.

According to arrangements by a committee of five of each party, JOHN BRUCE, Esq. opened the discussion, and spoke for an hour. JOHN S. GALLAHER, Esq. replied for the same length of time, and each of the speakers rejoined in a half hour's speech. The discussion was conducted in good temper, and the people gave patient and respectful attention. Mr. Bruce was among his acquaintances, and no doubt felt himself "at ease" with them. If they were satisfied with his views, no one has a right to complain. He did his best to please them. Mr.

THE DISTRIBUTION.

A prominent article in the political creed of the Whigs is the Distribution among the States of the Proceeds of the Sales of the Public Lands This measure has been strongly recommended by Gen. Jackson on more than one occasion, and we clip the following from his first message to Congress in 1829 :

"It appears to me that the most safe just and federal disposition which could be made of the surplus revemue, would be its apportionment among the several states according to their ratio of representation."

This was bona fide Democracy in those palmy days of Jacksonism, yet now we find the Loco Foco orators of the day, stamping it as a Federal measure. If it is Federal now, it must have been Federal in 1829, and will these demagogues charge the old Hero with sustaining or recommending any thing that was not pure democracy? It is indeed mysterious to us how this measure can be a Democratic recommendation at one | will be sent to Liverpool; it will pay nine shiltime, and an ultra Federal doctrine when espons. ed by the Whigs.

ONE WORD OF CAUTION ON BLOOD LETTING .- It is a well known fact that pure and healthy blood is more limpid than impure or diseased blood; therefore, when a veid is opened, the most pure part of the blood flows from it, leaving behind the impurities with more room to increase their virulence; if, then, by blood letting we take a much larger proportion. of healthy blood than we do of the diseased particles, do we not diminish the strength of the body, and render the system less able to rid itself of the causes of impure blood, than it was previous to cinity, are respectfully informed that bleeding ?-let common sense answer this Miss Carmanne M. ## ANOTHER PATRIOT GONE!

"Patriots have toil'd, and in their country's cause Bled nobly ; and their deeds, as they deserve, Receive proud recompense."

In this town, on Tuesday morning last, at 1 o'-clock, Mr. PETER HAINES, a Soldier of the Res volution, in the 93d year of his age.

The deceased was born on the 17th Dec. 1751, in York county, Pa., from which place he removed when he was 12 years of age, to Shepherdstown, Va., where he resided for about 21 years, and then re-moved to this place, where he remained until his moved to this place, where he remained until his death. Whilst residing in Shepherdatown, the War of the Revolution broke out, and with patriotic zeal he caught the holy enthusiasm of liberty, which burnt upon the altars of the hearts of the youth of the hand, and though but 17 years of age, volunteered in defence of his bleeding country. He imbided in his bosom those exalted sentiments of glowing and ar-dent patriotism, that originated in souls that were " strangers to fear"—united himself with, and be-came one of those gallant spirits who dared, with means apparently wholly inefficient, to assail the vanuting mistress of the Thirteen Colonies—and who assisted in converting the chains that had been forged, into ropes of srud, and made England's ty-rancical enactments vanish like the " baseless fabric of a vision." call at this season, which has not been respond-

MESSES. EDITORS :

I should be much pleased could the few foltowing lines obtain a place within the borders of your paper. Yours, &c.

To Miss House, of Charles town. Parewell to thee, this place I leave, Where all my fond affections cling, Doom'd in sorrow, years to grieve, The warmest feeling's deepest sting.

The muse invoked, will soon make known, The pessions that my losom swell, The hopes I've had, the hopes I mourn, And now 'twill ring their dying knell.

When first I gazed, with wrapt intent, On thy sweet form so heavenly fair, My heart in natural impulse went, First to love thee, then despair.

Ah, now I've found how weakly vain, To hope on Earth for Heaven, For bliss divine shall he stain, To whom thy heart is given.

Shall I forget thee ? surely never, 'Till reason rings out mem' y's knell, "Then fare thee well, and if forever, Still forever, FARE THRE WELL."

THE FLOWING SPRING MILLS.

THIS ancient and well known establishment I is now in better repair to manufacture Flour than it has ever been since it was first built, which is almost a century-having one of the best Rubbers to clean Wheat from filth that is in the State of Virginia, made by one of the owners of the Mill, ELISHA S. SNYDER. Being thus prepared to grind all kinds of Grain, and wishing to be constantly employed, we would solicit all those who have Grain to grind to Mill Saws, find Saws, Construction, C as well for them as any other Mill in the county. For every hundred bushels of Merchanta-ble Wheat, weighing 60 pounds to the bushel, we will give 20 barrels Superfine Flour, and stand the inspection in Baltimore, or in the Disit is his duty at the appointed time to give trict of Columbia. We will also furnish casks Knives and forks, if requested by the owners of the Wheat, they Bridle bits, stirrap irous, cuckles paying for the same when they get the return Bolts, pad and screw locks, carpenters' do duty requires him to keep such things to We would rather the farmer would grind his Brass and plated candlesticks, Wheat with us for toil, than for us to buy, yet Tea and table spoons.
