

With a view of giving our readers as copious extracts of the important news of the day as possible, we have selected the following articles.

Virginia Legislature.

Commencement of the Free Press.

This is the eighth week of the session, a notable feature for action upon any bill of general importance.

In the SENATE, the principal grant of divorces having been decided, several bills of general importance were passed.

The bill concerning William V. Adkins, was passed, allowing him to lease a term of general importance.

In the HOUSE, the committee on Agriculture have reported adversely to the bill for the incorporation of a company to construct a railroad from Richmond to the Ohio River.

On Monday, the House passed, by a large majority, the bill, previously discussed, for the incorporation of a company to construct a railroad from Richmond to the Ohio River.

Mr. Cabell made a long speech in vindication of his claim to the seat, and in reply to the remarks of Mr. Brockenbrough made yesterday.

Mr. Cabell was not only entitled to his seat, but he received a majority of all the legal votes given, and he relied upon the justice of the House to sustain him in his claim.

Several bills have been passed, incorporating manufacturing companies. This indicates a disposition to kill "Northern monopolies" in a way somewhat more practical than by mere taxation.

A large number of bills of an unimportant character have been passed.

Mr. Turner presented a petition from citizens of Clarke and Jefferson Counties, asking a charter to construct a Railroad from Little's Falls, on the Shenandoah River, to intersect the Winchester and Potomac Railroad, or the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

Also a petition from Thomas Hite Willis and Wm. B. Willis, and others, for an act of incorporation of the Millville Manufacturing Company.

Several bills have been passed by both Houses, authorizing the commanders of regiments to batallion instead of regimental musters.

A bill has also been passed, incorporating the Richmond Gas Company, to light the city of Richmond—a matter greatly needed for years.

Many petitions, pro and con, have been presented on the subject of the Railroad from the Potomac to the Ohio.

Several documents, going to show the amount of taxation East and West, and the amount of improvements, have been referred to be printed—all to have a bearing on the Convention question.

The Education and Convention questions have both been postponed until next week. Both, in my opinion, will get the go-by for the present session. They have been thrown too far into the distance of the session.

The Committee of Roads have reported bills for continuing the James River Canal to Buchanan, and for extending the Louisa Railroad to the foot of the Blue Ridge, and the latter looks to an extension, by way of Staunton and the Virginia Springs, to the Ohio River.

The Committee of Finance propose to reduce the Taxes nearly ten per cent. If this be done, it is nearly a popular motion—both Education and Internal Improvements will be postponed.

It is easy to perceive that the Administration organs are calculating upon driving a bargain, by barring the Tariff for Oregon. They are talking about a commercial treaty with England, as though the Legislative power could be taken down by any such arrangement.

We regret not a day's desert of rock and snow in North Oregon by the sale of the Industry and Prosperity of the People at home. Let every man endeavor to make our own laws, and to alter them when we see fit, without asking permission of a foreign power.

JOSEPH H. SAMUELS, Esq., of Staunton, Va., is announced as a candidate to represent the 12th Congressional District, of Virginia, in the Congress of the United States, in the place of William Taylor, deceased.

We learn that JAMES McDOWELL, Esq., of Rockbridge, (late Governor), will be supported as a candidate for Congress, from the same District.

REVOLUTION IN MEXICO. News has reached this city, says the National Intelligencer, by way of Pensacola, that the Gen. Parades, having entered the city of Mexico, and possessed himself of the reins of government without serious opposition.

REJECTION OF JUDGE WOODWARD. The Senate, in Executive Session, on Thursday, rejected the nomination of Judge Woodward of Pennsylvania, nominated to the bench of the Supreme Court to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Judge Baldwin. The result was in conformity with the Report of the Judiciary Committee, who had examined the case very thoroughly.—Alex. Gastie.

Looks Squally.—It is said that Senators Cass and Allen, of the war party in Congress, have purchased the United States Gazette, for the sum of four thousand dollars.

Mississippi U. S. Senator.—General Foote, Dem., has been elected to the U. S. Senate for six years, from this State.

Gas Light in Richmond.—The transient residents of Richmond, not less than the citizens generally, will be gratified to hear that a bill has been passed by both Houses of the Legislature of Virginia, incorporating the Richmond Gas Company, for the purpose of lighting the city. The Company are to have a capital of $100,000, to be increased hereafter as necessity may require.

FOREIGN NEWS.

Important News from Europe.

From the Baltimore Sun of Monday.

Received on Saturday by Special Messenger from Philadelphia a copy of Wilkes' Smith's European Times, of Jan. 4, which was conveyed to this city by our special express from Boston.

The great snow at the East rendered the task of bringing it over by Express a most arduous one—our messenger, however, succeeded in passing everything by the route, and overtook the regular train at Grey's Ferry, this side of Philadelphia, by the most superbman exertions.

The steamer was delayed by a series of unfavorable weather, having arrived at Boston on Friday morning, after a passage of 19 days. She brings advices from London to the evening of the 31st instant, Liverpool to the 4th, Dublin 3d, and Havre and Paris 2d.

The amount of the information is that Lord John Russell sought to form a minority of Whig members opposed to the direction of the Government to the hands of Sir Robert Peel. This was done at once, and Sir Robert assumed the Premiership with many of his old colleagues.

The change in the affairs may be regarded as favorable to the cause of peace, inasmuch as every man of Lord John Russell's ministry, supposed to be hostile to this country has retired. The news, therefore, is decidedly pacific, and the character of the commercial news shows it to be such.

The President's Message had been received, but its effect was only to stiffen the cotton market, and renew the general feeling that peace may be maintained.—The loss of the London Times, in commenting upon it, is an evident inclination towards the better and peaceful side of the question.

The course of the frustration of the Whigs—the failure of Lord John Russell to form a Cabinet, and the reinstatement of Sir Robert Peel—is attributed to Lord Grey's refusal to take a seat in the new Cabinet of Lord John Russell, in case Lord Palmerston held the Secretaryship of the Foreign Office.

Consols fell when Peel resigned, but after his reinstatement rose 3 per cent. higher than before.

The President's Message is considered pacific, says the London Times.

The Peel Ministry had been re-instated ten days at the latest dates, and each succeeding day showed improved symptoms in the produce, share, money and other markets.

The Cambria made her passage out in eleven days.

Parliament was to meet on the 29th January.

A writer in the Edinburgh Witness describes the failure of the potato disease to the Almighty on account of the past year's crop.

Within the last four months the price of corn at Constantinople has risen 100 per cent.

The new ship Eliza Morrison, which arrived here from Quebec, has, we believe, the largest cargo of flour ever imported into Liverpool.

Near 9,000 barrels of the inhabitants of the Baltic provinces are experiencing great distress from the reverse of the money market.

The Emperor has been very generous to each of his subjects.

British War Ships.—The British Admiralty's movements in steam frigate building, is now in full activity.

During the last week two steamers have been launched, each having engines of five hundred horse power, and several more are preparing for immediate equipment for sea.

The Whigs have utterly failed to form a Cabinet, and Sir Robert Peel and his colleagues, with two exceptions, are re-instated.

The Whigs, in their failure to carry out the government, have very little sympathy from the British public, while the return of the Peel administration has been the cause of an immediate reaction in all branches of business.

The money market at once became easier, stocks rose, and a general feeling of confidence was given by all classes.

The Whig Cabinet was in all respects the old Melbourne Ministry over again, and its successful re-organization was only prevented by the obstinacy of Lord Grey, who refused to join it.

Lord Palmerston was made Secretary of Foreign Affairs.

When Lord John Russell threw up his card there was no alternative but to send for Peel, and the most extraordinary move in this drama of Cabinet making is, that he left a little apparent hesitation in resuming his old office, as he evinced promptness in throwing it up.

His resignation of power immediately made it felt in every branch of trade. Confidence, which had been shattered by the railway panic, became paralyzed when it was known that Peel was out; the markets fell, the funds sunk, business was suspended, and a gloom, a mist, hung over the commercial and trading world.

These evils are fast subsiding with the causes which called them into existence.

Upwards of ten days have elapsed since it became known that Peel was again Premier, and every day has shown improved symptoms in the produce, share, money and other markets.

Causes of the Disruption of the Whig Cabinet.—The London Spectator, evidently from an official source, gives the following as the reasons for the break down of the Whig attempt to form a government.

Coming to London, in compliance with a summons from the newly-appointed Premier, Lord Grey travelled with a companion high in the Whig councils, who at tended all the meetings in Chesham Place after their arrival. To that companion Lord Grey communicated his determination to take no part in any ministry of which Lord Palmerston should hold the foreign department, and he

The editor of the Cincinnati Gazette, speaking of Mr. Adams' "war speech" in the House of Representatives, says:
"Wrong he may be, impetuous he often is, but we have seen no reason to impeach his motives, whether he concurs or differs with us in opinion. If Mr. Adams were not patriotic, we know not where to look for patriotism—if he be not honest, we may look in vain for an honest statesman—if he be not wise, the teachings of great experience have produced but little effect upon him. We differ with him often, yet never without distrust of our own judgment."

Nearly Done.—Presence of mind is essentially necessary in a thief who makes a sweep of hats and cloaks in the entry. A fellow went to the hall of a boarding house in Barclay street, a few nights since, while the boarders were at supper, and gathered up all the hats on the table. He was making his way out when a boarder, a little behind him came in, and asked him what he was about. "Oh, says the thief, I am taking the gentlemen's hats round to Leary's to get smoothed." "Well," replied the boarder, "take mine a long too." "Certainly, sir," said the accommodating looter, and vanished.
