

It will be seen, from the debates on the election of State officers, that several members of both Houses avowed themselves unequivocally in favor of considering the office of the State as the spoils of victory.

THE NATIONAL ARMORIES.

From the Report of the Ordnance Department we gather the following remarkable comparison between the amount of work performed for about the same money at the Armories of Springfield, Mass., and Harpers-Ferry, Va., respectively:

Expenses at Harpers-Ferry, $165,451.50. Work done at Harpers-Ferry, viz: 2,225 percussion muskets.

On this subject, the New Orleans Times has some excellent remarks. It refers to the examples of the great of this age, it will then turn to the small of the age, it will then turn to the busy, bustling spirit of the age.

The Baltimore American justly remarks that it is a little singular when the successor of Mr. Monroe attempted to carry out into some organized form the principle of repelling foreign intervention from this continent.

The House of Delegates was yesterday the scene of a stirring debate upon the subject of the election of officers.

At a large and respectable meeting of the citizens of Clarke county, held on the 23d of December, 1845, at Reynolds's Hotel, in Berryville for the purpose of expressing their opinions relative to a Convention to amend the Constitution.

The Philadelphia Chronicle records the fires known to have occurred in 1845, in the U. States, Canada and the West Indies, and estimates the losses at $27,825,850.

The Locofoco has carried this State by triumphant majorities. They have carried the governor, Johnson, the New Orleans Courier estimates by near 3,000.

A bill has been introduced into the Legislature of New York, and it is said will pass, reducing the legal rate of interest in that State from 7 to 6 per cent.

Virginia Legislature.

At a meeting of the citizens of Clarke, held in Berryville, January 21st, 1846, the following resolutions were offered by Mr. L. Lewis, and adopted:

Resolved, That we will join heart and hand for the mutual protection of our property in our slaves, and do hereby become responsible in the reward of $500 to any person or persons who will give such information as will enable us to locate, arrest and convict, before a Court of Justice, any person or persons who are guilty of aiding, abetting or assisting the escape of slaves from our country.

Resolved, That we petition the Legislature, and invite our fellow-citizens of the adjoining counties to do likewise, in making such laws as shall have the effect of securing to the property of the slaveholder in this State the same protection as is afforded to the property of the freeholder in other States.

Resolved, That we recommend to the citizens of the adjoining counties the adoption of similar resolutions, and urge upon all persons in and out of our county, to pass such laws as will secure to us the same protection as is afforded to the property of the freeholder in other States.

Resolved, That a memorial addressed to John E. Page, Esq., petitioning the Legislature to pass a law in reference to free negroes, be adopted by this meeting.

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to invite a co-operation of committees from the adjoining counties, (Loudoun, Frederick, Jefferson, Berkeley and Warren) to meet at Winchester on the 1st inst. for the purpose of devising some means to prevent the escape of slaves.

Resolved, That the proceedings of this meeting be published in the Hagerstown, Frederick, and Cumberland (Md.) newspapers, and also in the Winchester and Charlottesville newspapers, and in the Baltimore Sun.

Correspondence of the Baltimore American.

At half past two o'clock to-day, the President of the United States transmitted to the House of Representatives the correspondence called for by a resolution of the House, and to which allusion was made a day or two ago by the Chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations.

The first letter dated Dec. 13, and is addressed by Mr. Buchanan to Mr. Lincoln. Mr. Buchanan states that Great Britain is making warlike preparations, and asks him to call the attention of Lord Aberdeen to the fact of the preparations, to ask his opinions upon them, as well as to give his own views in relation to these preparations.

Mr. McLane in a letter dated January 3, to Mr. Buchanan, says that on the 30th ultimo he sought an interview with Lord Aberdeen, and that it was not easy to obtain definite information or categorical answers from Lord A.; but that he alluded to the preparations, and surmised that they had reference to a rupture between England and the United States.

Mr. McLane also says to Mr. Buchanan that he has unabated confidence in the frankness and straightforwardness of Lord Aberdeen, and that he displayed all these qualities in his interview with him.

Mr. Pakenham, in a letter dated 27th December, to Mr. Buchanan, says: The undersigned is instructed by his Government to propose the referring of the whole question to some Sovereign or State, and that he believes great good will result to both Governments from such a reference.

Mr. Pakenham replies further, on the 16th January, and says that he is reflected upon the letter of Mr. B.; and in referring to it, says he wishes to request the Secretary of State that England has claims incompatible with the exclusive claim set up by the United States.

Mr. B. does not believe the interests and claims of this nation will admit of arbitration. These claims are set forth at length. There are thirteen degrees of territory upon the Pacific in dispute.

IMPORTANT FROM MEXICO.

We are indebted to our friend of the Herald and Tribune for the perusal of a letter from Pensacola, written on Saturday last, from which we learn that the U. S. brig Somers had just arrived at port from Vera Cruz, bringing the important intelligence that Gen. Arista had declared against the Parado Government and in favor of the restoration of Herera; that throughout the country the people were organizing in opposition to the present Administration, assigning as a reason their dread of war and bloodshed.

Such is the brief and hasty account furnished by the Herald's correspondent, who wrote just as the mail was leaving, with a promise to furnish full particulars in another letter.

We have been so long of the statement of the seconds of the parties, which declares that the unfortunate contest was conducted in a fair and honorable manner.

We learn further, that Mr. Jones, the survivor, is a lawyer and not a doctor, as stated in one of the accounts; that the friends of Dr. Johnson did not desert his dead body, as stated in another of the reports; that his second only escaped arrest from the circumstance of his remaining near the body, the police taking him for a surgeon, and passing on in pursuit of the opposite party.

Free Goods.—Now is the time to ascertain why certain articles have been admitted free of duty, and if at the time there was reason for this admission, the inquiry now is, does it exist at the present moment.

Fandulism.—A letter from Washington says: "Some miscreant has recently disgraced Greenough's statue of Washington which stands in the temporary octagon building in the East capital grounds, and of the figure of Columbus, standing on the left side of the antique, (on which the main statue is seated,) one half the arm, with his hand and ball, have been broken off and carried away.

Dreadful Murder of two Husbands.—Mrs. Vau Valkenburg, who was hanged a few days since, in Fulton Co., N. Y., two days before the period of her execution, confessed that she had murdered two husbands. She admitted that she had given her first husband a dose of arsenic, which, although he did not die immediately, was ultimately the cause of his death.

Horrible Effects of the Small Pox.

The Philadelphia Times says that on Tuesday, a man in that city, who was suffering so horribly from the small pox as to become perfectly insane, got out of bed and attempted to jump out of the third story window. His wife tried to prevent him from doing so, but he overpowered her, knocked her down, and rushed to the window with great force, smashed the sash to pieces, and would undoubtedly have succeeded in jumping out, had not assistance arrived and prevented him.

Delay is Dangerous.—The Northampton Courier notices the death, at the Alms House, in that town, of Captain William Smith, aged 73 years. He had for the last fourteen years been an inmate of the poor house. He was born in Maryland, and was one of the original claimants for indemnification for French spoliations, having been captured thrice on three different vessels by French privateers, his property confiscated and himself made prisoner.

The Memphis Enquirer states that the steamer "Belle Zane" had on board her, when she sunk, some weeks since, twenty-seven mail bags, taken on board at Memphis, which we presume are lost forever. How much money, what amount of drafts, &c., have been lost, and how many misfortunes and afflictions have been caused by the loss of these twenty-seven mail bags, no one can estimate.

Valuable Animal.—A trusty house dog is sometimes the best of friends. We next, was laid on the table, 93 to 91. Three Oregon speeches were then made by Messrs. Bell of Ky., Chase of Tenn., and Jones of Ga.

The Norfolk Beacon states that the United States raze ship Independence has been ordered to be fitted out for the Gulf of Mexico as the flag ship of Commodore Perry, who is to relieve Commodore Conner on that station.

Large Family.—There is a family in Milton, Pa., residing in one house, consisting of a great grandmother, 3 grand mothers, 4 mothers, 1 father, 1 wife, 1 husband, 3 widows, 2 daughters, 4 sons, 2 great grandsons, 1 grand daughter, 3 brothers, 1 sister, 2 brothers in law, 1 uncle, 2 mothers-in-law, 2 nephews and 1 bachelor, all in good health, the eldest not exceeding 83 years of age, or the youngest 7.

A Good Judge.—A Liverpool paper says that Mr. Justice Colborne, lately doing a trial at the Central Criminal Court, made the following remark: "It seems to me to become the practice, that the moment a person is presented in a witness-box, he is to be treated as though he were tied to a stake, to be baited by every one. Such shall not be the case where I preside."

Twenty-Ninth Congress.

The President laid before the Senate, a communication from the Secretary of War transmitting an abstract of the militia returns of the several States, which was referred to the Committee on the Militia, and ordered to be printed.

A number of resolutions of inquiry heretofore offered were taken up and adopted. The Senate then went into Executive Session, and afterwards adjourned.

Mr. Ashmun of Mass. offered a resolution calling upon the President of the U. S. for information as to despatches sent to Mexico, and the official news received from Mexico—whether the Army had been ordered to move and for what reasons, &c.

Mr. Black of S. C. offered a Joint Resolution upon the Oregon Question to take its place with the number already referred to the Committee of the Whole.

Mr. Dromgoole of Va. proposed that the Notice be given accompanied by a wish to re-open negotiations and to settle the question in dispute between us and England in an amicable and friendly manner.

Mr. Esake of Va. addressed the Committee mainly in defence of the Virginia members and the State of Virginia, which in one form or another had been assailed by Mr. Hoge of Ill., and Mr. Johnson of Tenn. Mr. L. argued at length that this was no party question, or if it was, that the Democratic party had hitherto been recreant to their duty.

There was nothing of interest in either House to-day. In the Senate a bill for the relief of Nathaniel Goddard and others, after occupying upwards of two hours in debate, was passed by a vote of 26 to 22.

larity from the peace which it was intended should follow by a compromise of the claims of the two countries.
