POETRY.

THE LIGHT OF BOME.

And they spirit will sigh to roses.

And thou must go; but never when there Fo get the light of home.

Though pleasure may smile with a ray more bright. It dizzles to lead sates: ;
Like the meteor's flash it will deepen the night,
When thou treadest the lonely way.

hearth of home has a constant flame, And pure as the vestal fire;
Twill burn, 'twill burn, forever the same,
Portusture feeds the pyre.

The sea of ambition is tempest tosa'd, And thy hopes may vanish like foam, But when sails are shiver'd and rudder less, They look to the light of home.

And then, like a star through the midnight cloud,
Then shalt see the beacon bright,
For never, till shining on thy shroud,
Cen be quench'd its holy light. The sin of fame, 'twill gild the name, But he heart ne'er feels its ray;

And feshion's smiles that rich ones claim, Are like the beams of a wintry day. And how cold and dim those beams would be, Should life's wretched wanderer come : But me boy, when the world is dark to thee, Then turn to the light of home.

LIFE.

We are born; we laugh; we weep We love; we droop; we die!

Ah! wherefore do we laugh, or weep? Why do we live, or die Who knows that secret deep? Alas, not 1!

Why doth the violet spring Unseen by human eye Why do the radiant seasons bring Sweet thoughts that quickly fly Why do our fond hearts cling To things that die?

We toil-through pain and wrong ; We fight-and fly ; We leve ; we lose ; then, ere long, O life! is all thy song "Endure and-die?"

Mr. Gro. H. KERRL. Dear Sir,-I wish you would send me one gross of your Vermifuge. The gross I bought of you when in your city, (in February last,) is all gone some three weeks since, and I have no doubt, I could have sold nearly the same amount in the time I have been out. I have no hesitation in saying, it is one of the most valuble worm medicines in use. Our planters use it altogether among their hands, and a planter told me yesterday, who works about 150 hands, that he would not do without it for $100 a year. Charles G.
