OCTOBER 6, 1817. The People's Candidate for President, GEN. ZACHARY TAYLOR PROPOSITIONS FOR PEACE.

After all the noise that had been made in reference to "conquering a peace," and acquiring a large "piece" of Mexico, it appears from Mr. the States, which have already elected members Trist's propositions to the Mexican Commission- of Congress, would be divided between the parers, that he only sought to make the Rio Grande the boundary which would include a portion of what is called New Mexico.

In consideration of this, the United States were to abandon, forever, all claims against Mexico, on account of the expenses of the war-and hesides, to pay to her ----- dollars (the sum is not specified, but conjectured to be fifteen millions.) The United States also to assume and pay all claims which our citizens have upon Mexico. The free transportation of our produce and goods through the Isthmus of Tehnantepec, for or from the Pacific, by any means of conveyance now in existence, or to be established hereafter.

by canals or Railroads. This is believed to be a considerable modifica tion of our first (intended) demands.

But the Mexican Commissioners would no hear to this, and offered in return that the line should be the River Nucces until it meets the actual frontier of New Mexico, in the South Eastern part-thence to follow the actual frontier of New Mexico, by the east, north and west of New Mexico, until it meets latitude 37, which will serve as the boundary of the two Republics, from the point at which it touches the frontier of New Mexico to the Pacific. The Mexicans not to space of land between the Rio Grande and the
