Their chuck- the Democrats in this instance. ling was so carnest and loud that they needs must let their neighbors see what delight it afforded thern. But what a short-lived exultation ! The Whigs of Harpers-Ferry, always true and trusty, took the "sober second thought," and determined that the pangs of disappointment should be felt by these impertinent sympathizers, whose tears of sorrow were crocodile, and whose sighs of grief were base counterfeits. The efforts of demarogues, who have laughed in their sleeves at what they deemed the child-like simplicity of certain Whigs at Harpers-Ferry, have been rendered abortive, and the gallant Whigs of that precinct may have learned a lesson that will prove of infinite service hereafter-never to follow the counsels of the enemy. On Saturday evening a number of the Whigs assembled and organized. The object of the meeting was to take into consideration what measures they were to pursue in case of a division in the Whig ranks, as the call was made, when it was believed a secession had taken place in Albany. It being ascertained, however, that the excitement among the Whigs in Albany had been produced by mis-information, or the political manœuvreing of a piquet guard of the enemy among the Carolina pines, whose views had been discovered, and that harmony, quiet and confidence had been restored in the Whig ranks, nothing seemed necessary to be done, but to pass a series of resolutions complimentary to Mr. Clay, in regard to the "dignified manner in which he retired Presidency. During the entire meeting, we are informed. and in the several addresses, there was but one feeling and sentiment expressed, which was to stand together, unitedly-to present one unbroken and invincible front to the various divisions and sub-divisions of the enemy. . Vain and abortive the attempts to deceive you - the issue is Lewis Cass or Gen. Taylor-and the "Spirit" has fallen into an egregions error, if it presumes it can seduce a single Whig vote from Gen.
