SMILES AND TEARS.

Let others court the witching smile, And prize its beams most dear; Give me a heart devoid of guile, Its pledge, the pearly tear.

Oft-times a smile is but assumed, How oft 'tis insincere! Who trusts, with bleeding heart is doomed To seek that palm-a tear. Smiles, like the sparkling sunbeam's light First g ad, then sere the flower:

Tears, like the dew of "stilly night," Renew its drooping power. The only pledge of truth we have. That gift of heavenly sphere, Scarce as its prototype we crave, The sympathetic tear.

When Martha with a smile received

Her much loved Saviour dear,

He who was never once deceived, Prized higher Mary's tear. Not that he doubted Martha's love; Sincere that smile he knew-But smiles so oft had faithless prov'd, While tears were ever true.

MISCELLANEOUS.

I. O. OF O. F.

WOMAN'S CURIOSITY. Week before last, the brethren of the Lodge of Odd Fellows at Woodstown, N. J. determined to have their Hall swept out and cleaned, when it was unanimously resolved that Mrs. Keep Secret should be called upon to do the job.

After the meeting had adjourned, the lamp lighter, who well knew the inquisitive character of Mrs. Keep Secret, went and procured a monstrous Billy-goat, and placed it in the closet, which was kept as a reservoir for all secret things. He then proceeded to the domicil of the good lady, informed her of the job of cleaning and sweeping the Hall, and requested her to come early next morning, as he would be at leisuse to show her what was to be done. The morning came, and with it Madam Keep Secret appeared according to promise, with her broom, brushes, pails, tubs, &c .-Doorkeeper in waiting for her. Now madam, said the mischievous Door-keeper, I will tell you what we want done, and how we come to employ you. One of the brethren said it would be difficult to get anybody to do the job, who would not be meddling with our secrets in that closet, because we've lost the key and can't lock it. I assured them that you could be trusted, and so they ordered me to call on you, as I knew you could be depended upon. "Depended upon," says Madam, "I guess I can; my poor dead and gone husband, who belonged to the Free Masons or Anti-Masons, I don't know which, used to tell me the scerets of the consarn, and when he showed me the marks of the gridiron when he was initiated, and told me all how they fixed poor Morgan, I never told a livin' soul to this day, and if nobody troubles the closet to find out your secrets till, I do, they'll all lay there till they rot, that they will." "I thought so," says the the Doorkeeper. "and now I want you to commence at that corner," pointing with his finger to a place where some undignified and indecent brother had thrown out quids of tobacco, "and give the whole room a decent cleansing, and I have pledged my word and honor for your fidelity to promises-IF don't go in that closet." and then left our old lady to herself. No sooner had she heard the sound of his feet upon the last step of the stairs, than she exclaimed that closet! what on earth can be there? I'll warrant there's a gridiron, or some such nonsense, just like the Anti-Masons for all the world, I'll be bound. I'll just take a peep in and nobody will be any the wiser but me, and I can keep it to myself." Suiting the action to the word. she stepped softly to the door of the forbidden closet-turned the button-which no sooner done, than ba, ba, ba, went Billy, with a spring to regain his liberty, which came nigh upsetting her ladyship. Both started for the doorway, which was filled with her CONTINUESTICAT MURICIPALITYS, implements of house-cleaning, when all was swept clear from their positions to the bottom of the stairs. The noise and confusion occasioned by such an unceremonious coming down stairs, drew half the town to witness Mrs. Keep Secre's efforts to get from under a pile of goat, pails, tubs, brooms and scrubbing brushes.

Who should be first on the spot but the rascally doorkeeper, who, after releasing the goat, who was made a cripple for life, and unpiling the other rubbish which bound the good lady to the floor, anxiously inquired if she had been taking the "degrees." "Taking the degrees," exclaimed our ladv. "if you call tumbling from the top to the bottom of the stairs, with a tarnal goat to jump upon ye as ye go, taking things by degress,' I have; and if ye generally frighten folks as bad as ye have me, and hurt 'em to boot, I'll warrant ye they'll make as much

"I hope you did not open the closet, Madam ?" said the doorkeeper. "Open the closet! an' sure I did; and didn't Eve eat the apple when forbidden .-

If you want a woman to do anything, tell her not to, and she'll do it sartin. I couldn't stand the temptation. There was the secret; I wanted to know it, and as I opened the closet, out popped the tarnal goat, right in Physicians, Country Merchants, and Druggists, my face I thought besure it was the Devil, and I run for the stairs, with it at my heels, at the bottom as you found us, in a heap together. "But Madam," says the doorkeeper, "you are in possession of the great secret of the "Regular way," exclaimed the lady, "do critter again-and without a bridle or lady's saddle-no, never, I don't want nothin' to never go near it again, nor your Hall nuther, join any of the Odd Fellows. Why, I'd sooner be a Free Mason or Anti-Mason and be broiled on a gridiron as long as fire could be kept under it, and pulled from garret to cellar with a halter in a pair of old breeches and slippers, just as my poor dead and gone husband used to tell me they served him, and he lived over such a ride as I took with the goat to-day, and you may rest assured I shall never see a goat but what I shall think

PRIVATE PUDDING, OR THE WAY THE HOOSIER CAME IT.

Many years ago, a Hoosier, who had just "struck" New Orleans for the first time, after his flat-boat was made snug and fast, went up to see the sights of the city. Passing St. Charles Hotel, and looking up he seemed to scrutinize the building with the eye of an architectural connoisseur. After satisfying his gaze he asked of a passer by, what building it was; on being told that it was a hotel, he inquired for the entrance, and being shown, he ascended the steep steps. Approaching the office he enquired for the landlord, of whom he inquired if he could get "a bite" to eat. Mr. E. R. Mudge, who was the host at that time, and who is a "host" at all times, humoring the fellow, told him that he could do so by paying a dollar. After considering for some time on this item, and gravely looking his host in the face, he said, "Well I'll go it. thar's my dollar, whar's my dinner?"-"Well," said the other with a smile, "it is not ready yet, but take a seat at the table. and you can amuse yourself with the papers for half an hour, when you will hear the gong, which will inform you when dinner is ready. "The gong, what's that?" asked the Hoosier. "Oh, you will find out when you hear it,"

Time sped on its customary rate, when suddenly the gong sounded, and as usual the crowd moved for the dining room. Recovering from his astonishment at the noise of the gong, and scenting the delicious fumes of the dinner, the Hoosier made a rush through the crowd for a seat, but being met by his host, he was conducted to his allotted chair. The gentlemen seated on each side of him as well as the one opposite him, replied Mr. Mudge. Satisfied with this an swer, the Hoosier after looking around him,

sat down and rumaged over the papers .-

had their wine before them. After finishing his soup, and having his plate well filled, the Hoosier observed the gentlemen helping themselves freely to wine, and so seizing the bottle of his right hand neighbor, he attempted to help himself, when he was modestly informed that the wine was "private." The Hoosier did not seem to comprehend, and with a blank sort of look. resumed his knife and fork. On laying them down again, and having apparently come to the conclusion that it could not all be "private" wine, he seized hold of his left hand friend's bottle. "Stop if you please, sir." said the offended individual, with a fierce look, "that's private wine sir." The Hoosier looked still more astonished, and it being a hard case, thought he would make another trial any how. So reaching across the table, he seized the bottle opposite to him, and was just in the act of filling his glass, when his ris-a-vis re-echoed "private wine, sir, if you fearful leakage it was about to undergo.

The "green un" becoming enraged at being foiled on every side, and observing that there was a general simpering and tittering among the waiters, turned on the servant who stood at the back of his chair, and who had taken away the plate for the fifth or bring back his plate, and if he took it away again, "he'd be dod rod if he did'nt draw his 'picker' on him," and suiting the action to the word, put his hand in his bosom, showing the handle of a huge bowie-knife.

After this, things went on quietly, till the desert was put on the table, when a large 'Charlotte Russe" pudding was set right before the Hoosier. This he immediately drew near his plate, and looking right and the dish from him. "No you don't Mister," said the Hoosier to him, "that thar puddin' is private puddin'." The left hand gentlesaid, "Allow me to take this pudding, sir?" the Hoosier with a scowl, "that's private puddin'," and he re-helped himself. Shortly after, the gentleman opposite was in the act puddin' is private puddin'," while at the same time he put his thumb to his nose and made sundry gyrations with his fingers .-"You can't come it over me," he continued, feeling that a joke had been practised upon him. "Private wine, ch?" The attention of the table being attracted during the latter scene, the gentlemen around burst into a roar of laughter, and soon the whole story was whispered from one to another. The thing took so well that every gentleman was induced to send his bottle to the Hoosier, with his compliments, and our "green 'un" soon became as merry as a lord. Hiecoughing as he left the table, he turned to the gentlemen and said:

"Well old (hiccough) fellows, you (hiccough) couldn't come it over (hiccough) me with your (hiecough) private wine," The glasses fairly danced upon the table, with the uproar and laughter, which this last remark created, and the Hoosier staggered out of the room, and made the best of his way to his boat .- N. NOVEL READING.

A fair correspondent of an exchange remarks; "In your last number, you remark that you will endeavor to say a word or two about novel reading. Allow me to suggest that nothing can be said in favor of works of fietion, and that there was never yet a fiction that had not a bad moral tendency, and showed wickedness in the heart of the inventor thereof." This lady must be of kin to one of whom tion of flowers sinful, and used to vent her our coat. indignation upon them for growing, by emptying her dust-pans daily upon their unoffending heads. We have also heard of a grim female, who looked upon music as a great moral enormity. The novel-hating lady above mentioned runs the thing into the ground. The greater part of modern novels are trashy enough, but we should dislike to say that the works of Scott, Dickens, Edgeworth, and others, are of "bad moral tendency." We would not like to denounce their authors either as wicked. This good lady ought to recollect that, when she says "there was never yet a fiction that had not a bad moral tendency, and showed wickedness in the heart of the inventor thereof. she is condemning the source of all wisdom and goodness, who, when on earth, habitually chose parables as the most effectual mode of impressing lessons of piety and morality upon the minds of his hearers.

Indeed, to cure the mania of the present day for novel reading-in order to remedy that literary gluttony which bolts every thing in the shape of fiction it meets-wholesale and undiscriminating denunciation will not novels as in their authors. There is as wide a gulf between the works of Sue and Scott, as Letween darkness and light, evil and good. [Richmond Republican.

ALLEGORICAL.

A traveller, setting out upon a long journey, was assailed on the road by curs, mastiffs, and half-grown puppies, which came out of their kennels to bark at him as he passed along. He often dismounted from his horse to drive them back with stones and sticks, into their hiding places. This operation was repeated every day, and sometimes as often as twenty times a day. The consequence was, that more than half the traveller's time was consumed in chasing these dog-puppies. At last, he was overtaken by a neighbor, who was going the same road, but who had set out a long time after him. The latter traveller was very much surprised to find the other no farther on his journey; and on hearing the reason, "Alas," said he, "is it possible that you have lost your time and wasted your strength in this idle occupation; these same animals have beset me along the road, but I have saved my time and labor in taking no notice of their barkings, while you have lost yours in resenting insults which do you no harm, and chastising dogs and puppies, whose manners you can never merd.

California has demonstrated that fine houses, fine coaches and fine clothes, are not necessary to create an aristocracy. A man with a "pocket full of yellow rocks," though for want of breeches or shirt, he has to carry the pocket in his hand, is as independent sometimes, and as dignified too, as a prince of the first blood. The captain of a ship arriving at San Francisco, went ashore with his baggage, and seeing a shabby looking er pays his debis; who is always talking man standing on the landing, asked him if about his acquaintance and condemning them, he would earry his trunk to the hotel .whose tongue is always running about non- "Certainly," said the fellow; "what will you sense, and who thinks he is the greatest man give me?" "Well," said the captain, "I'll fellow with all or any of these qualifications; "Well now, look here," said the man, "I'll he will be sure to treat you badly or desert give you five if you'll carry the trunk yourself." It pre sents to the mind's eye a cheerful companion, a disinterested adviser, a nurse, in sickness. a comforter in misfortune, and an ever affectionate companien. It conjures up the image of a levely confiding woman, who cheerfully undertakes to contribute to your happiness, to partake with you the cap, whether of weal or woe, which destiny may offer. MECHANICS. .

A young man commenced visiting a lady, and appeared to be well pleased. One evening he called when quite late, which caused the girl to enquire where he had been,

"I had to work to-night." " Do you work for a living ? " enquired the astonished girl. "Certainly," replied he, "I am a mechanic."

"My brother doesn't work, and I do not like the name of mechanic;" and she turned up her pretty little nose. That was the last time the young man visited her. He is now a wealthy man, and has one of the best of women for his wife .--The young lady who disliked the word mechanic, is now the wife of a miserable foola regular vagrant about grog-shops-and she, poor miserable girl, is obliged to take in washing to support herself and children.

You who dislike the name of a mechanic -whose brothers do nothing but loaf and dress-beware how you treat young men who work for a living. Far better discard the well-fed pauper, with all his rings, jewelry and pomposity, and take to your affections the callous-handed, intelligent and industrious mechanic. Thousands have bitterly regretted their folly, who have turned their backs upon his industry. A few years of bitter experience have taught them a severe lesson. In this country no man or woman should be respected, in our way of thinking, who will not work bodily or mentally, and who curl up their lips with scorn when introduced to a hard working man. THE DIFFERENCE .- When a gentleman marries a lady beautiful and rich, his friends say, " he has married a perfect Bird of Paradise." If the lady happens to be poor, however, they say, " a perfect Bird of Paradise, with the exception of feathers." If rich, it is easy to hide our wealth; but if poor, it is not quite so easy to conceal our poverty. We shall find it less difficult to hide a thousand guineas, than one hole in

A Roman woman's first virtue was chastity, and decency was a point of honor. A man was considered worthy of repulsion, who kissed his wife in presence of his daughter. Not a divorce occurred in Rome during the space of five hundred and twenty years.

THE FARMER.

NEATNESS OF FARMING. We have somewhere heard the remark, that with the good farmer, every thing gives way to his business-that utility is all, and appearance nothing; hence you are not to expect neatness about his dwelling, his door yard being cut up into mud holes by the farm wagon and the manure cart, and the contiguity of barns, pig-pens and kitchen, such as convenience, and not freedom from the peculiar odors of hog yard and rich manure heap, may dietate. Now, to speak bluntly, this is all nonsense. It so happens that in farming, neatness and thrift almost invariably go together. The same love of order which prompts the farmer fragments of boards and sticks of wood, and whatever else defaces and defiles his premises-also prompts him to have a place for every thing, and every thing in its place, which is calculated to bear upon real sub-Some of the very best farmers with whom we are acquainted, -whose eminent success and heavy profits, separate them in this respect in bold distinctness from the rest of their neighbors, are patterns of neatness: and the touch of their hand in the expulsion of every kind of nuisance is visible all over their farms. Their door-yards show that the master is "at home;" the barn-yard, which is not so near the house that all the butter and cheese manufactured is flavored with the effluvia, exhibits the same neatness even where all the refuse of other places is collected for enriching in due time the rest of the farm. A farmer of our acquaintance, with 160 acres, in whose farm-yard we could scarcely ever discover a wisp of straw in the wrong place, remarked, "Oh, I don't attempt to make a great deal from my farm-I expend so much in improvements that my clear profits are only about a thousand dollars a year." Another of those neat farmers, in whose fields cockle, docks and chess obtain no foothold, nor along whose fences a solitary elder bush or nettle is ever seen, raised twontyseven hundred dollars' worth of farm produce at the prices of 1844; and both of these farmers live in Western New York, where prices are comparatively low, entirely away from the peculiar advantages of market which nearness to great cities gives. Now, let no one say that these remarks are made at the wrong season of the year, and that nothing can be done for neatness and order in the winter. The same general rule, in some shape or variation, has an almost infinite number of applications. The care of domestic animals in winter needs pre-eminently the application of this rule. No animal can thrive well in the midst of dirt.

Even a pig does not love dirt for dirt's sake-he only happens to be so much of a philosopher or rather stoic that he is willing to endure dirt for the sake of a soft and cool hed in summer, for it has been found that these animals thrive better and fatten faster when kept clean and well curried.

Horses and cattle are often neglected in cleanliness. We have actually known some who did not clean the manure from horse stables for months, allowing it gradually to thicken under foot with the accumulating litter till a foot in thickness-and reasoning, doubtless as the boy did who combed his hair once a month and was astonished that such torture and trouble from the operation could be endured daily by other people. A farmer who does his own chores, can hardly afford to keep his horse finely as the gentleman of wealth, who has a man for no other purpose; but every one should have his stable floor perfectly clean at least twice every day, once in the morning and once at night before littering, and oftener would be better. Remember that oftener it is done the easier it is accomplished.

There are many other particulars where neatness may be attended to in winter. Gate hinges and gate fastenings often need repair, that they may shut like lock work; boards become loose on old barns and board fences; tools become awkward for use, and need remodelling or renewing; and many other small matters in doors and out, require attention. We are aware that to many of our readers, who are already examples for others, such hints as the preceding are not applicable-to such we can say that they need not read then.-like the man who chiseled on the stone at the fording place, "When

Among the names of the dismissed clerks who are to leave on the 31st August, we notice one or two with regret. We had hoped that Joel Pennybacker would have been retained-a worthy and estimable gentleman, who did not receive the consideration even from the last Administration, to which he was entifled. But still it is an undeniable fact that there is yet a majority of Democrats in the land office, as in almost every other at Washington. But the idea that this is "a course of Proscription never be fore equalled in this country," could only have been uttered by a person totally ignorant of public affairs. How did the Democrats get into office, unless Whigs had been proscribed? The nurses in Jackson's day should have instructed the babies better.

P.S .- The Republic states that the names of every one of the dismissed Clerks are down upon a subscription paper, circulated last fall, to raise money to carry Pransulvania for Cass. Having embarked in the same ship with their leader, we suppose they expected to go overboard with him, in case of defeat. When men enter the battle field voluntarily, they must take the "fate of war."

UNBELHEF.

Some of the Locofoco papers are expressing their want of belief in the truth of the charges of defalcation against several dismissed officers. We think it probable their ground of unbelief is founded on the fact that such small sums are charged to have been abstracted. They cannot understand how any office-holder would demean himself so much as Patrick Collins fobbed, or even such a pitiful sum as $150,000, grabbed by Mr. Denby. Tell them of the Prices, Swartwouts, and other rogues, upon the magnificent scale of half a million each, and then vere an ordeal. Don't talk to them of petty rogues? DEFALCATIONS.

We learn from the Republic that Patrick Collins Surveyor of the Port of Cincinnati, removed by President Taylor, proves to be a defaulter to a large amount. His defalcation has been exposed by the exercise of the removing and appointing power. The Republic also records the defalcation of Na thaniel Denby, late temporary navy agent of the United States at Marseilles, in France. He is a been commenced against him for the amount,

THE DEFALCATIONS.

The Republic, referring to the defalcation of Mr. falcation is worthy the golden days of Van Buren ism, when they did things on a large scale. It would have done hoper to a protege of Mr. Secretary Wood bury. It is $55 000 larger than that of Littlebury Hawkins, of Helena, Ark. It is 45,000 larger than that of Wiley P. Harris, of Columbus. It almost approaches the magnificence of Swartwout's case. Here we have already developed, before the new Administration has got a fair look at the books, the cases of Moore, Collins, and Denby, to add to the long lists of their illustrious predecessors in the plunder of the treasury."

THE ELITE.

The Union tells of the work of the "elite of the | into hay withou being cut-what little there is left | Democracy of Richmond," in '44, to read Mr. Van of it. Buren out of the political church. It seems the "huge paws" were not invited to co-operate on the occasion. What say the reomanty to the idea of an "upper" and a "lower crust?" We thought they held to the doctrine of a "perfect equality."-It is only when coting is to be done that the "b'hoys" are called in.

WHO SHALL DECIDE!

The senior editor of the Union insists upon it that its party is neither dead nor dying. It certainly has the trembles, though its voice is somewhat lasty yet-judging from the noise it makes when a "head is taken off" by the instrument of its own invention-the "gulldline."

It does really seem like an absurdity to employ two distinguished lawyers, at a large salary, to revise the Code-to submit their work to a learned committee of lawyers-and then give the work over to 166 men of "many minds" to tinker and undo all that has been done. But the people are sovereigns, and their public servants are Solomons !-Who dares to dispute their wisdom?

AUGUST ELECTIONS.

As it is supposed that parties will be nearly equal the next house of representatives, the August elections will be looked for with much anxiety by politicians. The New York Tribune contains a list of the States in which members of congress will be chosen in that month. They are North Carolina, Alabama, Terpessee, Kentucky, Indiana, Iswa, Texas failure to elect in April last.

The Tribune thinks the whigs ought to gain one member in each of the States of Kentucky, Tennessee and Alabama; and may lose one in Indiana and one in North Carolina. "With a reasonable exertion in those States now about to choose members,' (says the 'Tribune,) "a whig organization of the hails in the triple character of a "a gerious plathouse may be placed beyond reasonable doubt." The result may be considered very doubtful; and we suspect that abolition members will hold the balance of power between the two parties.

SUDDEN DEATH.

A German esiding in the neighborhood of Smithfield in this county, lost his life on Monday, in attempting to descend a well of that town. He had scarce descended half way of the well, when the dam's overcame him, and he fell from the walls by which he was descending. He was taken out with life perfectly extinct. The person who went down the well for the deceased, also made a narrow escape with life. Too much caution cannot be exercised at this season of the year, in efforts to cleanse wells, cisterns, &c. For the Free Press. Your article on "Look to your Weeds," in your last number, is very good, but not in its place; it is like advising a man to lock the door after the steed is stolen. Already have our worst weeds ripened, and cast your eye in any direction and you see the wind sowing the thistle broadcast, and the sour dock, red and ripe, around almost every stack yard, stable yard, meadow, &c., &c. If you really wish to advance the farmers' interest, (and I am convinced you do,) set apart a little corner of your paper for their especial benefit, and endeavor to warn them in time. If in June you had called our attention to weeds, we would only have had to cut them, or pull them up, but now we must cut, gather and haul them together and burn them, while a warning in June would have been worth a year's subscription for your paper to every farmer who had taken it.

Let "A Farmer" preserve the Free Press until next June, and follow the advice, and he will still find the article " worth a year's subscription."

THE ORIGINAL MISCOVERER OF THE Genuine Townsend Sarsaparilla.

Oct De Townsend is ever about 70 years of age, and has long seen Known as the 3-2750R and DISCOVERER of the GENUINE ORIGINAL.— TOWNSEND SARSAPARILLA. The Being post, he was so expelled to think its manufacture, by which means it has been held said to market, and the sales for counselbed to those only who had proved its worth, and known is value. It had reached the ears of many, neverthelass, at those persons who had been acreed of sore diseases, and saked from each proclaimed is evolence and wonderful Had LING POWER.

Knowing, many very lare, that he had, by his skill, science Knowing, many years sign, that he had, by his skill, science and experience, devise a ce make which would be of local unable edvantage to integral when the means would be far-alshed to bring it into anyonial notice, when its inestimable virtues would be known and appreciated. This time has come, the mean any annual for the the means are supplied; this GRAND AND UNBOUGLED PREPARATION a manufactured on the longest scale, and is called for throughout the length and brough of the land, especially as it is found and the ength and breachts of the hand, especially as it is found incapable of dependention or deterioration.

Unlike young S. P. The assend's, it improves with age, and never changes, but for the better pecause it is prepared an acceptific principles by a secratific man. The highest knowledge of Chemistry, and the latent discoveries of the art, have all been arough, into requisition in the manufacture of the Old Pr's Sarsapatch. The consuparity root, it is well known to medical men, contains many managing properties, and some properties which are ment of mederal properties, which if retained in preparing it for use, produce for accutation and send, which is in intoins to the existent mans of the properties of Sarsapardila are so relatile, that they is they graphere and are lost in the preparation, if they are not preserved by a scientific process, known only to those experienced in its manufacture. Moreover these solutile principles, which its manufacture. Moreover these solutile principles, which its manufacture. Moreover these solutile principles, which it of in vapor, or as an exhibition, bades heat are the very essential medical properties of the root, which give to the fix years.

Any person can built or stew the root till they get a dark colored

Any person can holl or stow the root till they get a dark colored liquid, which is in refront the coloring matter in the root than from any thing else; they can then strain this insipid or vapid liquid, sweeten with nort modesses, and then call it "SoR SAPAULLIA EXTRACT or SYRUP." But such is not the GENUINE OLD DR. JACOB TOWNSEND'S SARSAPARILLA. This is so prepared, that all the mert properties of the far sparalla root are first removed, every thing enpable of becoming acid or of fermentation, is extracted and rejected; then every particle of medical vision is secured in a pure and concentrated form; and thus it is removed incapable of toning any of its valuable and healing properties. Prepared in this way, it is made the most powerful agent in the Cure of innumerable diseases. Hence the reason who we hear commendations on every side in its favor by men, wigner, and children. We find it doing wonders in the cure of a CONSUMPTION, DESPENSA, and LIVER COMPLAINT, and n REFUNSTISM, SCROFULA, PILES, COSTIVENESS, all FUTANEOUS FRUPTIONS, PLEPLES, BLOUTHES, and all affections strising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

It passesses a marve tight effects in all complaints ariting from the first tight of the Samuel from manual circulations.

Is not this then

The medicine value are entire to the head. The medicine you pre-eminently need? But can any of those things be said of S. P. Townsend's info-or article? This young men's flouid is not to be COMPARED WITH THE OLD DR'S, because of one GRENO FACT, that the one is INCAPABLE of DETERIORATION, and NEVER SPOILS, while the other DOFs, swaring, fermenting, and blowing the bott'es containing it and incuments; the sour, acid liquid exploding, and dumaging other goods! NEW ROUTE TO NEW ORLEANS.

We learn from various quarters that the merc ants of New Orleans are seriously talking of building a Road (if such a work be pricticable) scross the northern part of Florida, the objects of which would be to shorten the sea route between the two cities about one thousand miles, and escape the dangers of the Florida reefs. The idea of making a canal across the Peninsula was broached a number of years ago, but was finally abandoned, owing, for many reasons, to its impracticability. It is alleged that the barbors of St. Mary's, on the Atlantic, and Cedar Keys, on the Gulf, would be suitable places for the termini of the proposed road and has been ascertained that a road like the one proposed can be constructed on exceedingly reasonable terms. The distance across resciving and forwarding subscriptions and adver- the peninsula at the point designated is one hundred and forty miles. The construction of the proposed road cannot but be worthy of the consideration of all who are interested in the intercourse between the great entrepot of New Orleans and the Atlantic States, promising as the project does, to bring the Empire City and the Crescent City within an easy four days' journey .- Nat. Intelligencer.

> A Young Maiden's Logic .- A puritani cal preacher was one day struck with surprise on beholding a leautiful set of curls on the head of a lovely maid, a member of his class. whose head had been usually very plain."Ah! Eliza," said he, "you should not waste your precious time curling your hair; if God intended it to be curled, he would have durled it for you" "Indeed," said the witty maid, "I must differ with you. When I was an infant he curled it for me, but now that I am grown up, he thinks that I am able to do it myself."

Important, to Farmers. Gatlin's Patent Grain Drill. HE subscriber is now manufacturing this most L valuable implement of husbandry. These machines have been most thoroughly tested in Ohio and Pennsylvania for planting Wheat, Rye, Corn, Oats, &c., and is so constructed as to drop any quantity per acre, and at any depth desired. It would almost be useless to relate the advantages of Drilling, over broadcast sowing. Experience has proven that at least 20 per cent more grain can be grown after the drill, with one-fourth less seed, than after the broadcast sowing. The subscriber annexes some of the reasons for Drilling Wheat, given by those who have thoroughly tested the system: 1st. The seed is deposited with greater regularity, and at a proper depth. 2d. When deposited, it is covered and kept from the birds, &c. 3d. It is not so liable to winter kill. The drill raises the ridges on each side of the row. These ridges crumble down by the action of the frost, and thus cover and nourish the young plants, and prevent them from being thrown out by freezing and 4th. The roots being deep, it is manifestly not so liable to injury by the drouth. 5th. It is not so liable to rust. And not so liable

6th. By the admission of the sun and air between the rows, a stronger and healthier plant is produced, and of course a heavier crop. 7th. By drilling, the farmer is enabled to have heavy crops on light land. 8th. It economises seed, and saves time, which is

The undersigned could publish columns of testimonials of those who have tried the drill seeding; but he is willing to submit the claims of the system to Mr. George Eichelberger, of this county, whose field of Wheat, sown by the drill, will compare javorably with that of any other in the county. and from whom satisfactory information may be It would be well for those who may desire to pro-

A VALUABLE IMPROVEMENT.

The Universe Cook Stove. THE undersigned have at length the pleasure I offering to the people of the valley of Virginia a desideratum long needed, viz: a COOK STOVE, consuming the small-st possible quantity of coal or wood, admirably adapted for cooking, baking, washing, ironing, &c. It is a recent invention, but wherever tried has been universally commended as one of the best improvements of the day. In the city of Baltimore hundreds of them have been sold during the last few months, and the certificate of near every puschaser can be produced, that under no circumstance's would they be without them. The Store is neat, durable, and convenient, and rather ornamental than otherwise. The price is less than that of any other Stove of the same capacity, now in use.

To introduce this Stove in the Country, our Agent,

Mr. MARK A. DUKE, is now in the Valley of Virginia, and any orders through him will be promptly attended to. He is at present in Charlestown, and the people of Jefferson should at once avail themselves of the opportunity offered to procure a really good and sub-stantial article.

Mr. Duke will also receive orders to furnish Mou's celebrated ACRICULTURAL BOILERS, to any who may desire them. This is an article coming into such general use, that no word of commendation is needed. Every Farmer in the Valley will consult his economy and convenience by pro-

Avery important Communication

TO ALL PERSONS IN ALL PLACES, AT ALL TIMES, AND Under all Circumstances. Is you are sick, get cured; if well, employ measures to continue so. Every individual indulges in habits, which must, to a greater or lesser extent disarrange the admirable and intricate combinations which form the system, and consequently EVERY INDI-VIBUAL should possess some mild, yet efficacious, simple and accredited agent for preserving all the functions of the body in good order. Dr. Sweetser's Panacea wil achieve this result, and should be in every family, and in the hands of every person, who by business, pro-fession or general course of life, is predisposed to the very many little ailments that render life a curse, in-stead of a blessing, and finally result, in their aggregated condition, in the cause of Death.

For Eruptions of the Skin, Scurvy, Scorbutic Affections, Turnors, Scrofula or King's Evil, White Swellings, Erycipelas, Ulcers, Cancers, Running Sores, Scabe and Biles, time and a determined perseverance in Dr. and Biles, time and a determined perseverance in Dr. Sweetser's Panacca, will effect a cure.

For Indigestien, Rejection of Food, Nausea, Vomitings, Netvous Affections, Bilious complaints, Head ache. Palaness or Female Irregularities, Dr. Sweetser's Paracea will soon effect a cure; but if obstinate, or attended with griping, flying pains, the dose should be increased, and the cure will soon be effected. Let not the patients frighten themselves with the idea that they are oo weak to take much medicine; but bear in mind that this mildly operating medicine puts not weakness into the frame, but most certainly draws weakness out, leaves strength in its place, and by giving composed sleep at night, and an appetite to relish any food, re-an-imates the whole frame with vigorous action, clearing the mind and improving the sight

In cases of Jaundice, Asthma, Liver Complaints, Tic
Doloreux, Rheumatism or Rheumatic Gout, Dr. Sweetsers's Panacea cannot be too highly extolled; it searches out the very root of the disease, and by removing it from the Blood makes a cure certain and permanent. For diseases of the Bladder and Kidneys, Strictures, Gravel, Stone, Piles, Fistula, Utinary Obstructions and Extreme Costiveness, Dr. Sweetser's Panacea is the best remedy ever tried; it removes all those acrimonious bumors from the blood, which give rise to the above diseases, and by keeping the blood in a pure condition insures health. For Drepsy, Falling of the Bowels, Impurities of the Blood, Merchial Taint, Weakness of the Spine, Flow will give certain relief; in all severe and chronic cases the patient cannot be too often reminded that LARGER DOSES and PERSEVERANCE will effect a cure, In chills and Fevers, Bilious Fever, Affections of the Eyes and Ears, Spongy and Bleeding Gums, Bronchitis and recent Coughs and Colds. Dr. Sweetser's Panace will be found perfectly sure and certain in its effects. DR. SWEETSER'S PANACEA. Another Miraculous Cure. DEAD the following letter, and then, if you are troubled with any disease of the lungs, go and get a bottle of DR. HASTINGS' COMPOUND SYRUP OF NAPTHA Sr. Johnsville, New York, Feb. 5. 1848. Mr. Harrison: Sir—I will trouble your patience a few minutes by informing you of the great triumph which your Naptha Syrup has obtained in the case of my brother. He increased the dose as you directed, and the result was that he began to raise very freely, and it scented so badly that it was impossible to stay in the room where he was, on the fifth day after the in crease of the dose. In a day or so after, he began to-get better, and at this present time is quite revived, has good appetite, and don't cough a quarter as much as he did previously. A severe cough and immense ex-pectoration were the prominent symptoms of the disase. I think his case was a singular one; none of the physicians here had ever heard or seen any thing of the kind before. I mention all these particulars, as I am firm in the belief that, had it not been for the Naptha Syrup, he could have expected nothing but a speedy grave, as there was an immense number of tubercles formed on his lungs, which the medicine took immediate hold of, and in a few days he threw them up by the quantity, some of them were as large as a bean. If improves as fast as he has done, I do not think that he will need any more than the six bottles I now send for. Enclosed are five dollars. Direct the box as before to Jonas Snell. Care of Charles Kingsland, Railroad Depot. Yours respectfully, JONAS SNELL. After reading the above, who can doubt that Hastings' Naptha Syrup possesses all the virtue that is claimed for it.
