

Virginia Free Press

And F Repository.

VOL. 43.

CHARLESTOWN, JEFFERSON

DAY MORNING, JULY 19, 1850.

NO. 26.

List of Letters

REMAINING in the Post Office at Charlestown, Jefferson County, Va., on the 3rd day of June, 1850.

A. B. Abbott, John J. Baker, William B. Beeson, Bacchus Baker, William Burdette, George Burgess, Thomas C. Benson, Benjamin C. Casing, Miss Elizabeth Chase, Mrs. Ann E. Chapman, Mrs. Lucy Charnock, Joseph George, John M. Gaynor, James R. Godfrey, Alexandra E. P. Etchelberger, Martin Evans, Daniel Field, Joseph Flanagan, B. C. & Co. Gossard, Wm. H. Gibson, William Garton, R. R. Grove, G. G. Grove, William Goodman, Mr. H. H. Heflinger, Daniel Hixson, John Hopkins, Lewis Kearie, Edward JOHN P. BROWN, P. M. July 5, 1850.

List of Letters

REMAINING in the Post Office at Harper's Ferry, Va., on the 30th of June, 1850.

A. B. C. Wm. E. Anderson, Jas. H. Anderson, David Anderson, Miss Margaret Abb., Peter Bone, Jacob Byers, John Blinck, Proverbs But, H. C. Clegg, Isaac M. Cogswell, Charles Cross, Wm. Crumpton, Thomas Curran, C. Cowan, G. D. Mrs. Richard W. Davis, Frederick Dufner, Peter Devine, Jonathan Edwards, Mr. —— G. H. A. Robert A. Greer, George M. Gordon, Col. J. Gauthier, Miss Julia Holf, John Hinchliffe, Thomas H. Harding, Hiram Hause, Martin Head, Wm. or John Hawk George Hinton, Joseph Ingan, S. W. Howard, E.A. Hibbard, G. L. Gre. W. Jackson, James Johnson, Tamer Jones, Margaret Keifer, Harry Kelly, Peter Koenig, Patrick Kieran, Mr. —— Kephart, Andrew A. King.

CHARLES W. BUTTON, P. M. Harper's Ferry, July 5, 1850.

RACING SUBSCRIPTION OFFICE,

19 Park Place, New York.

THE Proprietors beg to announce that they have opened Classes for SWEEPSTAKES upon the system which has obtained a large share of the public support in England and elsewhere, by extending as it does to the purest and most interesting part of our country in RACING EVENTS and enabling all who enter in RACING EVENTS to participate in the result by the payment of a SMALL RISK! As will be seen by the subjoined Selection, the subscriber in Class E may, for ONE DOLLAR, gain $3000!

The subscriber now open consists of Five Classes for the same.

Great Yorkshire Stakes,
To be run at York, England, the 1st of August, 1850. 164 Horses entered. First Prize, $50,000.

OHIO LAND FOR SALE

OFFER for sale a small Farm in Clermont County, Ohio, containing a little upwards of One Hundred acres.

Within 2 miles of Batavia, the county seat of Clermont, and about 20 miles from Cincinnati—immediately on the pike road leading from Clifton to Cincinnati, and on the line of the Rail Road from the latter place to Columbus.

Further particulars and information given on application to the subscriber, living in Charleston, W. Va.

JULIET A. GORDON.

March 7, 1850.—
ALSO—

MY HOUSE AND LOT in Charlestown, W. Va., are for sale at a reasonable price.

Also one-half acre of land, situated one-half mile from Charlestown, W. Va., and half a mile from the Winchester and Potowmack Rail Road and Harper's Ferry, Charlestown and Smithfield Turnpike, passing by and through the farm.

Treas. liberal. Apply by letter, post-paid, or in person to the subscriber at Charlestown, Jefferson County, W. Va.

JAMES L. RANSON.

March 7, 1850.—
VALUABLE MILL PROPERTY FOR RENT.

THE subscriber is authorized to rent for one or more years, to a careful and responsible Tenant, that VALUABLE PROPERTY, known as the "HOPEWELL MILLS," recently owned by Isaac Strider, Esq., now belonging to Mrs. Sarah Strider. The Miller's House, with its outbuildings and arable land attached thereto, is for rent.

This Property is situated in one of the finest wheat-growing sections of Jefferson county, on a never failing stream, and its capacity in every respect is such as to render it a most desirable location to a manufacturer of flour.

It is within four miles of the Kornwells Depot, the Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road, having a Turnpike more than half the distance, and leading directly to the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal at Shepherd's Ferry.

A commission of 10 percent, to cover expenses, will be charged for the rental of all premises.

Any further information required, will be afforded by the subscriber, Mr. William Barlow, at the offices above—to whom all applications for advertising, and other communications, are to be addressed.

Also to the subscriber, Mr. James W. S. Rider, of New York, June 28, 1850.—2a.

ATTENTION, FARMERS.

THE subscriber respectfully invites the attention of the Farmers of Jefferson, and the neighboring counties to his superior and which he can safely recommend to the Farmers, as being the best Drills ever invented for the purpose.

Improved Wheat Drills,

It is so constructed that it is a safe and reliable machine, and will be a great convenience to all.

The Soddrills have been manufactured by one of the best Soddrillers in Virginia and are the best and most approved pattern and size. All the best Soddrills in the country are sold to him, and those who buy them, who buy them, are solicited to call and examine them.

S. J. C. MOORE, Trustees.

July 5, 1850.—Sp. ——

To the Public.

THE subscriber having been appointed a Commissioner for the Southern District, respectively, for the service to the public in that capacity.

He will give every attention possible to the collection of all claims placed in his hands, and pay over promptly when collected. All business is to be had with him.

THOMAS JOHNSON.

Charlestown, March 21, 1850.

Tobacco and Cigars.

We have just received a lot of Tobacco and Cigars of very superior quality.

CRANE & BROWN.

June 21, 1850.

H. E. EBY & SON.

CAST, Sheet and Blister Steel, for sale cheap.

H. E. EBY & SON.

June 21, 1850.

HAZELFIELD FOR SALE.

THIS valuable Farm, lying in Jefferson county, is offered at private sale—it lies on the road from Charlestown to Martinsburg, six miles from the nearest place, 14 miles from Keyserville, on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, and five miles from Shepherdstown, which would give to the purchasers the choice of the Baltimore and District Districts for his produce. This farm contains

M.

Macleour, William

McDonald, John

More, William

Murphy, John

Malin, Jacob

McKinney, F.

Munroe, Robert W.

M.

Payne, Thomas

Perry, T.

Riley, Hiram

Riley, William

Slater, Walter

Simpson, John D.

Shepherd, Amos

T. W.

Triplett, Loam

Tully, Isaac

Turner, Franklin

Whit C. D.

Whitington, Francis

JOHN P. BROWN, P. M.

July 5, 1850.

JEFFERSON LAND FOR SALE.

THE undersigned, Executor of the late Isaac

Ferry, Jr., on Saturday, the 20th of June, 1850,

FARM, known as the "Ferry Farm," situated in the most fertile part of the County of Jefferson,

(the County-seat) and 2 miles from the B. & O.

Railroad, containing —no part can be removed

Without infringement of the general symmetry in view of the majestic river whose waters in their course towards the ocean, alike leave the tomb of Washington and whisper their murmuring homage to his memory as they flow by the place of his nativity—here, in and in presence of this vast multitude of my patriotic countrymen, I urge you, and all of you—I entreat you, I beseech you, at this moment of peril to the republic—that ye do your duty to the constitution, and the sacred cause of liberty itself!

FOURTH OF JULY.

CELEBRATION BY LUNATICS.—The inmates of the Lunatic Asylum at Trenton, N. J., celebrated the fourth in fine style in a grove near the city.

A costume party was arranged, and the newspaper Advertiser thus describes it:

MEREDITH HELM, Esq., of Isaac Strider, a/c.

May 24, 1850.

The Glade for Sale.

I OFFER for sale the above named Tract of Land, containing 300 ACRES, 155 acres of cleared land, and 145 acres in Timber. The quality of the land is as follows:

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

Virginia Free Press.

BY E. N. GALLAHER & CO.

FRIDAY MORNING.

JULY 10, 1850.

CANDIDATES FOR THE CONVENTION.

The following gentlemen have been nominated by their respective friends, as candidates to represent this District, in the State Convention, to be held in October next, to remodel the Constitution of the Commonwealth:

ANDREW HUNTER, Esq.
WILLIAM BURGESS, Esq.
W.M. C. WORRINGTON, Esq.
JOHN A. TAYLOR, Esq.
PROVOST M'CORMICK, Esq.
CHARLES F. FAULKNER, Esq.
WILLIAM LUCAS, Esq.
GEORGE B. BALDWIN, Esq.
JOHN H. EAGAN, Esq.
M. HUNTS BUTCHER, Esq.
EDWARD PENDLETON, Esq.
JAMES M. NEWELL, Esq.
RICHARD P. FISHER, Esq.
THOMAS H. WILLIS, Esq.
DR. DENNIS MURPHY,
DR. CHARLES MCGOWAN,
COL. EDMUND P. BUTLER,
COL. EDWARD G. CLYSTON,
COL. JAMES DAVENPORT,
COL. BENJAMIN MORGAN,
MRS. J. ORMAN, Mrs. W. W. BROWN.

President Taylor is exhibited from every part of our wide country. Men of all shades of political seem to make in the natural fibres of a tear-and-public bodies with each other in demonstrations of respect and salutation. It seems to be forgotten that the good man died in the Presidential office—the chosen leader of a great party. Memory carries every one back to other days. All recall him as the gallant old warrior, encompassed by enemies, and in imminent danger of being cut off by a greater superior force. Many remember his noble remark, "I shall fight the enemy, in whatever force he may appear." They also recollect, that when many a gallant officer was dashing the prowl of proceeding, after the bloody battle of Palo Alto, Gen. Taylor declared, "I have promised to sleep at Fort Brown to-night." It was these, and other evidences of true heroism, that endeared the old soldier to the American people. It was his indomitable resolution, never to surrender, that gave him a place in every general's heart. And it was this and other traits of character, indicating his disinterestedness, his humanity, and his unreserved attachment to our country, that will give bitterness of

We find it impossible to copy the numerous details that have reached us in reference to the funeral and its incidents. We can only select a few of the most striking—and in doing so, we feel regret that all our readers cannot participate with us in the many heartfelt outpourings of gratitude and love.

FUNERAL OBSEQUIES.

It will be seen from the proceedings in another column, that arrangements are being made by our citizens to give suitable expression in commemoration of the death, and in honor of the memory of the lamented ZACHARY TAYLOR, late President of the United States. From the deep feeling of regret and sympathy manifested by our citizens, we doubt not, they will conduct the matter in such a manner as will do honor to themselves, as a homage to the dead.

The Committee of arrangements have fixed upon Saturday the 5th of August for the Funeral solemnities. Further arrangements given hereafter.

THE NEW CABINET.

Speculation is still at fault, in reference to the new cabinet—whether a committee of delegates will deliberate well before acting. For no master whom he may choose, he will disappoint somebody else—and he will be peculiarly fortunate if he should succeed in pleasing anybody except the immediate personal friends of those selected. This is an aspiring age. Every man who has ever "seen a squadron in the field," thinks himself fit for Minister of War; and every man who has ever been afloat of a fishing smack, feels as if he could direct a Navy, and bid defiance to "Britannia, the ruler of the waves."

We trust the new President will not feel himself under the necessity of selecting any portion of his Cabinet from Congress, excepting Mr. Webster, whom many of both parties look to as "a man for the crisis." If he should go to the halls of Representatives, he will excite the envy and the jealousy of at least one-half the Whig members—each one will feel himself slighted, and jealousy and distrust will be infused at the very beginning.

There are plenty of good and able men throughout the country, without going to Congress. Let President Fillmore cast around him impartially, and he may save a world of trouble.

THE CABINET.

Sons of the letter-writer insist upon it that "all is fixed," and they give the names of the new Cabinet officers with such authority as if the nomination had actually sent in and acted upon. It is not at all improbable that they have hit upon the names of some good men whom the President may think of in casting his eye over the States of the Union—but we are assured that nothing is likely to be positively known until Monday.

In Pennsylvania, the name of Thomas M. McKenna is a tower of strength.

In Ohio, Samuel F. Vinton stands well, and would be highly acceptable not only in his own State, but everywhere. So that practical and truly business man, Elizur Whittlesey, long chairman of the committee of claims, and noted for his sound sense and laborious habits.

In North Carolina, Geo. Graham has a good reputation. He served a short term in the U.S. Senate, with honor—and is one upon whom the public eye might well turn, in looking for materials for Cabinet in the Old North State.

Mr. Morehead, of Kentucky, is a courteous, elegant gentleman—and is a good specimen among the talents of that State.

Judge Hopkins of Alabama has a high reputation as a lawyer and gentleman—and the use of the latter terms brings to mind the fact that members of the Cabinet have an important social part to play, as well as an official one.

But another week will solve all doubts—and until that time we shall forbear speculation.

MRS. WEBSTER'S SPEECH.

Mr. Webster, on Wednesday, made another speech on the Compromise bill, in which he took occasion to reiterate his sentiments as to the duty of statesmen in an emergency like the present. He would disregard sectional opinions, and stand upon broad, national grounds, reasoning always as they are, and not with the eye of a mere theorist.

This is probably the last speech of this eminent personage. By the concurrence of liberal and conservative parties, he will go into the Cabinet, if he is willing; but it is doubtful whether he can make the choice of interest and comfort which the occasion demands. The office of Secretary of State, through one of high and commanding importance, is yet one of soil, and not purely paid. It is therefore somewhat doubtful whether Mr. Webster will take it. At all events, he will not leave the Senate until the present vexed question shall have been decided.

VIRGINIA FREE PRESS AND FARMERS' REPOSITORY.

FUNERAL OBSEQUIES OF THE LATE PRESIDENT TAYLOR.

(Correspondence of the Baltimore American.)

WASHINGTON, July 13, evening.

The funeral ceremonies which took place in this city to-day on the occasion of interment of the late President of the United States, were such as perhaps have never been equalled in this country—once strikingly touching and solemnly imposing; appropriate alike to the distinguished position, eminence and virtue, and patriotic devotion of him whom they were designed to honor, and such as became a great nation, lamenting one of its most heroic sons.

As the morning advanced the multitude of strangers in the city was increased by large and constant accessions from all parts of the surrounding country. From Baltimore, after train and railroad, crowded to fullest capacity with those anxious to witness and participate in the ceremonies, those who thus arrived were the men of Baltimore, who were received by detachments of the volunteer companies.

The procession, the chief feature of the ceremonies, was, in all its details, impressive and appropriate, and exceeded in extent that had been anticipated in regard to it. Its length, when in column of march, was fully two miles; the military escort alone extending nearly from the foot of the Capitol to the Treasury Department. The military escort excited justly the admiration of all, with its uniformed and numerical force, which all its arrangements and movements were carried out in a manner that distinguished it from all others.

The procession, the chief feature of the ceremonies, was, in all its details, impressive and appropriate, and exceeded in extent that had been anticipated in regard to it. Its length, when in column of march, was fully two miles; the military escort alone extending nearly from the foot of the Capitol to the Treasury Department. The military escort excited justly the admiration of all, with its uniformed and numerical force, which all its arrangements and movements were carried out in a manner that distinguished it from all others.

The procession, the chief feature of the ceremonies, was, in all its details, impressive and appropriate, and exceeded in extent that had been anticipated in regard to it. Its length, when in column of march, was fully two miles; the military escort alone extending nearly from the foot of the Capitol to the Treasury Department. The military escort excited justly the admiration of all, with its uniformed and numerical force, which all its arrangements and movements were carried out in a manner that distinguished it from all others.

The procession, the chief feature of the ceremonies, was, in all its details, impressive and appropriate, and exceeded in extent that had been anticipated in regard to it. Its length, when in column of march, was fully two miles; the military escort alone extending nearly from the foot of the Capitol to the Treasury Department. The military escort excited justly the admiration of all, with its uniformed and numerical force, which all its arrangements and movements were carried out in a manner that distinguished it from all others.

The procession, the chief feature of the ceremonies, was, in all its details, impressive and appropriate, and exceeded in extent that had been anticipated in regard to it. Its length, when in column of march, was fully two miles; the military escort alone extending nearly from the foot of the Capitol to the Treasury Department. The military escort excited justly the admiration of all, with its uniformed and numerical force, which all its arrangements and movements were carried out in a manner that distinguished it from all others.

The procession, the chief feature of the ceremonies, was, in all its details, impressive and appropriate, and exceeded in extent that had been anticipated in regard to it. Its length, when in column of march, was fully two miles; the military escort alone extending nearly from the foot of the Capitol to the Treasury Department. The military escort excited justly the admiration of all, with its uniformed and numerical force, which all its arrangements and movements were carried out in a manner that distinguished it from all others.

The procession, the chief feature of the ceremonies, was, in all its details, impressive and appropriate, and exceeded in extent that had been anticipated in regard to it. Its length, when in column of march, was fully two miles; the military escort alone extending nearly from the foot of the Capitol to the Treasury Department. The military escort excited justly the admiration of all, with its uniformed and numerical force, which all its arrangements and movements were carried out in a manner that distinguished it from all others.

The procession, the chief feature of the ceremonies, was, in all its details, impressive and appropriate, and exceeded in extent that had been anticipated in regard to it. Its length, when in column of march, was fully two miles; the military escort alone extending nearly from the foot of the Capitol to the Treasury Department. The military escort excited justly the admiration of all, with its uniformed and numerical force, which all its arrangements and movements were carried out in a manner that distinguished it from all others.

The procession, the chief feature of the ceremonies, was, in all its details, impressive and appropriate, and exceeded in extent that had been anticipated in regard to it. Its length, when in column of march, was fully two miles; the military escort alone extending nearly from the foot of the Capitol to the Treasury Department. The military escort excited justly the admiration of all, with its uniformed and numerical force, which all its arrangements and movements were carried out in a manner that distinguished it from all others.

The procession, the chief feature of the ceremonies, was, in all its details, impressive and appropriate, and exceeded in extent that had been anticipated in regard to it. Its length, when in column of march, was fully two miles; the military escort alone extending nearly from the foot of the Capitol to the Treasury Department. The military escort excited justly the admiration of all, with its uniformed and numerical force, which all its arrangements and movements were carried out in a manner that distinguished it from all others.

The procession, the chief feature of the ceremonies, was, in all its details, impressive and appropriate, and exceeded in extent that had been anticipated in regard to it. Its length, when in column of march, was fully two miles; the military escort alone extending nearly from the foot of the Capitol to the Treasury Department. The military escort excited justly the admiration of all, with its uniformed and numerical force, which all its arrangements and movements were carried out in a manner that distinguished it from all others.

The procession, the chief feature of the ceremonies, was, in all its details, impressive and appropriate, and exceeded in extent that had been anticipated in regard to it. Its length, when in column of march, was fully two miles; the military escort alone extending nearly from the foot of the Capitol to the Treasury Department. The military escort excited justly the admiration of all, with its uniformed and numerical force, which all its arrangements and movements were carried out in a manner that distinguished it from all others.

The procession, the chief feature of the ceremonies, was, in all its details, impressive and appropriate, and exceeded in extent that had been anticipated in regard to it. Its length, when in column of march, was fully two miles; the military escort alone extending nearly from the foot of the Capitol to the Treasury Department. The military escort excited justly the admiration of all, with its uniformed and numerical force, which all its arrangements and movements were carried out in a manner that distinguished it from all others.

The procession, the chief feature of the ceremonies, was, in all its details, impressive and appropriate, and exceeded in extent that had been anticipated in regard to it. Its length, when in column of march, was fully two miles; the military escort alone extending nearly from the foot of the Capitol to the Treasury Department. The military escort excited justly the admiration of all, with its uniformed and numerical force, which all its arrangements and movements were carried out in a manner that distinguished it from all others.

The procession, the chief feature of the ceremonies, was, in all its details, impressive and appropriate, and exceeded in extent that had been anticipated in regard to it. Its length, when in column of march, was fully two miles; the military escort alone extending nearly from the foot of the Capitol to the Treasury Department. The military escort excited justly the admiration of all, with its uniformed and numerical force, which all its arrangements and movements were carried out in a manner that distinguished it from all others.

The procession, the chief feature of the ceremonies, was, in all its details, impressive and appropriate, and exceeded in extent that had been anticipated in regard to it. Its length, when in column of march, was fully two miles; the military escort alone extending nearly from the foot of the Capitol to the Treasury Department. The military escort excited justly the admiration of all, with its uniformed and numerical force, which all its arrangements and movements were carried out in a manner that distinguished it from all others.

The procession, the chief feature of the ceremonies, was, in all its details, impressive and appropriate, and exceeded in extent that had been anticipated in regard to it. Its length, when in column of march, was fully two miles; the military escort alone extending nearly from the foot of the Capitol to the Treasury Department. The military escort excited justly the admiration of all, with its uniformed and numerical force, which all its arrangements and movements were carried out in a manner that distinguished it from all others.

The procession, the chief feature of the ceremonies, was, in all its details, impressive and appropriate, and exceeded in extent that had been anticipated in regard to it. Its length, when in column of march, was fully two miles; the military escort alone extending nearly from the foot of the Capitol to the Treasury Department. The military escort excited justly the admiration of all, with its uniformed and numerical force, which all its arrangements and movements were carried out in a manner that distinguished it from all others.

The procession, the chief feature of the ceremonies, was, in all its details, impressive and appropriate, and exceeded in extent that had been anticipated in regard to it. Its length, when in column of march, was fully two miles; the military escort alone extending nearly from the foot of the Capitol to the Treasury Department. The military escort excited justly the admiration of all, with its uniformed and numerical force, which all its arrangements and movements were carried out in a manner that distinguished it from all others.

The procession, the chief feature of the ceremonies, was, in all its details, impressive and appropriate, and exceeded in extent that had been anticipated in regard to it. Its length, when in column of march, was fully two miles; the military escort alone extending nearly from the foot of the Capitol to the Treasury Department. The military escort excited justly the admiration of all, with its uniformed and numerical force, which all its arrangements and movements were carried out in a manner that distinguished it from all others.

The procession, the chief feature of the ceremonies, was, in all its details, impressive and appropriate, and exceeded in extent that had been anticipated in regard to it. Its length, when in column of march, was fully two miles; the military escort alone extending nearly from the foot of the Capitol to the Treasury Department. The military escort excited justly the admiration of all, with its uniformed and numerical force, which all its arrangements and movements were carried out in a manner that distinguished it from all others.

The procession, the chief feature of the ceremonies, was, in all its details, impressive and appropriate, and exceeded in extent that had been anticipated in regard to it. Its length, when in column of march, was fully two miles; the military escort alone extending nearly from the foot of the Capitol to the Treasury Department. The military escort excited justly the admiration of all, with its uniformed and numerical force, which all its arrangements and movements were carried out in a manner that distinguished it from all others.

The procession, the chief feature of the ceremonies, was, in all its details, impressive and appropriate, and exceeded in extent that had been anticipated in regard to it. Its length, when in column of march, was fully two miles; the military escort alone extending nearly from the foot of the Capitol to the Treasury Department. The military escort excited justly the admiration of all, with its uniformed and numerical force, which all its arrangements and movements were carried out in a manner that distinguished it from all others.

The procession, the chief feature of the ceremonies, was, in all its details, impressive and appropriate, and exceeded in extent that had been anticipated in regard to it. Its length, when in column of march, was fully two miles; the military escort alone extending nearly from the foot of the Capitol to the Treasury Department. The military escort excited justly the admiration of all, with its uniformed and numerical force, which all its arrangements and movements were carried out in a manner that distinguished it from all others.

The procession, the chief feature of the ceremonies, was, in all its details, impressive and appropriate, and exceeded in extent that had been anticipated in regard to it. Its length, when in column of march, was fully two miles; the military escort alone extending nearly from the foot of the Capitol to the Treasury Department. The military escort excited justly the admiration of all, with its uniformed and numerical force, which all its arrangements and movements were carried out in a manner that distinguished it from all others.

The procession, the chief feature of the ceremonies, was, in all its details, impressive and appropriate, and exceeded in extent that had been anticipated in regard to it. Its length, when in column of march, was fully two miles; the military escort alone extending nearly from the foot of the Capitol to the Treasury Department. The military escort excited justly the admiration of all, with its uniformed and numerical force, which all its arrangements and movements were carried out in a manner that distinguished it from all others.

The procession, the chief feature of the ceremonies, was, in all its details, impressive and appropriate, and exceeded in extent that had been anticipated in regard to it. Its length, when in column of march, was fully two miles; the military escort alone extending nearly from the foot of the Capitol to the Treasury Department. The military escort excited justly the admiration of all, with its uniformed and numerical force, which all its arrangements and movements were carried out in a manner that distinguished it from all others.

The procession, the chief feature of the ceremonies, was, in all its details, impressive and appropriate, and exceeded in extent that had been anticipated in regard to it. Its length, when in column of march, was fully two miles; the military escort alone extending nearly from the foot of the Capitol to the Treasury Department. The military escort excited justly the admiration of all, with its uniformed and numerical force, which all its arrangements and movements were carried out in a manner that distinguished it from all others.

The procession, the chief feature of the ceremonies, was, in all its details, impressive and appropriate, and exceeded in extent that had been anticipated in regard to it. Its length, when in column of march, was fully two miles; the military escort alone extending nearly from the foot of the Capitol to the Treasury Department. The military escort excited justly the admiration of all, with its uniformed and numerical force, which all its arrangements and movements were carried out in a manner that distinguished it from all others.

The procession, the chief feature of the ceremonies, was, in all its details, impressive and appropriate, and exceeded in extent that had been anticipated in regard to it. Its length, when in column of march, was fully two miles; the military escort alone extending nearly from the foot of the Capitol to the Treasury Department. The military escort excited justly the admiration of all, with its uniformed and numerical force, which all its arrangements and movements were carried out in a manner that distinguished it from all others.

The procession, the chief feature of the ceremonies, was, in all its details, impressive and appropriate, and exceeded in extent that had been anticipated in regard to it. Its length, when in column of march, was fully two miles; the military escort alone extending nearly from the foot of the Capitol to the Treasury Department. The military escort excited justly the admiration of all, with its uniformed and numerical force, which all its arrangements and movements were carried out in a manner that distinguished it from all others.

The procession, the chief feature of the ceremonies, was, in all its details, impressive and appropriate, and exceeded in extent that had been anticipated in regard to it. Its length, when in column of march, was fully two miles; the military escort alone extending nearly from the foot of the Capitol to the Treasury Department. The military escort excited justly the admiration of all, with its uniformed and numerical force, which all its arrangements and movements were carried out in a manner that distinguished it from all others.

The procession, the chief feature of the ceremonies, was, in all its details, impressive and appropriate, and exceeded in extent that had been anticipated in regard to it. Its length, when in column of march, was fully two miles; the military escort alone extending nearly from the foot of the Capitol to the Treasury Department. The military escort excited justly the admiration of all, with its uniformed and numerical force, which all its arrangements and movements were carried out in a manner that distinguished it from all others.

The procession, the chief feature of the ceremonies, was, in all its details, impressive and appropriate, and exceeded in extent that had been anticipated in regard to it. Its length, when in column of march, was fully two miles; the military escort alone extending nearly from the foot of the Capitol to the Treasury Department. The military escort excited justly the admiration of all, with its uniformed and numerical force, which all its arrangements and movements were carried out in a manner that distinguished it from all others.

The procession, the chief feature of the ceremonies, was, in all its details, impressive and appropriate, and exceeded in extent that had been anticipated in regard to it. Its length, when in column of march, was fully two miles; the military escort alone extending nearly from the foot of the Capitol to the Treasury Department. The military escort excited justly the admiration of all, with its uniformed and numerical force, which all its arrangements and movements were carried out in a manner that distinguished it from all others.

The procession, the chief feature of the ceremonies, was, in all its details, impressive and appropriate, and exceeded in extent that had been anticipated in regard to it. Its length, when in column of march, was fully two miles; the military escort alone extending nearly from the foot of the Capitol to the Treasury Department. The military escort excited justly the admiration of all, with its uniformed and numerical force, which all its arrangements and movements were carried out in a manner that distinguished it from all others.

The procession, the chief feature of the ceremonies, was, in all its details, impressive and appropriate, and exceeded in extent that had been anticipated in regard to it. Its length, when in column of march, was fully two miles; the military escort alone extending nearly from the foot of the Capitol to the Treasury Department. The military escort excited

