And born of loftiest skies, Who hous her face to mertal race, In Criendship's holy guise.

It is the brink of dark despair, the miling face she stands;
the wittin shrinking there, is preads her eager hands; ols low that sweetly flow

To his awakening ear.
She wors him back—his dea hware tra
Toward Hope's effulgent sphere. Sweet Friendship! let me daily give Thanks to my God for thee! Without the smiles twere death to live And for to cease to be:

Oh, tonerest drop in was's follows-To have no friend in need!
To straggle on, with griet alone—

Were agony indeed!

THE CUP OF LIFE.

Life is truly a mingled cup, consisting of sweet and bitter; it is a changeable day, consisting of light and shades. Every day orings some cup of pleasure to slake the thirsty soul, but it is not unmingled, for every day also brings its sorrows. Every day brings some good, and every day extorts some There is no day so dark as not to be cheered by the light of hoge; and yet its light perpetually gleams upon the hour of mental darknes and sorrow, as the sun often ooks through the overhanging cloud, and mingles its beams with the drops of the falling shower. Such is life, and we must make the best of it, as it is. To be elated with its pleasures and prospects so as not to think of

In the number of L' Abeile Medicale, of the 15th of April M. C. Matton proposes a mode of curing corns without a resort to cutting instruments. He advises that the feet be soaked in water for a short time, and the most projecting part of the corn be taken off with a penknife, or with the fingers; a stick of nitrate of silver moistened at the free extremity is then to be pressed slightly over the whole surface of hardened cuticle, and a little even beyond on the sound skin. The part to which the caustic is applied should then be well dried and let alone for ten days. A very slight and hardly perceptible vesication takes place, which, however, is soon absorbed. At the end of eight or ten days, by making some slight tractation with fingers or a pair of dissecting forceps, from the circumference to the centre of the eschar, we may remove, without the slightest pain, the hardened epidermis, so completely as to leave no trace behind. Mr. Matton pledges himself that those who try his plan will be cer-

Seward, like Martin Van Buren, is determined to "rule or rain," but we hope he will be signally disappointed. The Whig party in the mass, cannot recognize the narrow, sectional creed attempted to be fixed upon them. Like Mr. Duer, we would rather be in a minority a life time with a party we believed to be right, than triumphant with one that seems to be guided only by a wild fanaticism. Congress was in session for mentles, the greater sortion of which time was taken up by the Agitaors North and South, upon the Slavery question, o the neglect of almost every other subject save their own per diem. We speak now break up the Whig organization, as the Barnburners in reference to newspapers as well as letters. The present rates of newspaper postage are not only burdensome but unequal. They are too heavy .-They restrict the circulation of knowledge among the people. Newspapers are the people's school masters, and they should be abroad everywhere, and every impediment should be removed that prevents every family in the land having one or more in its midst. Individual enterprise is doing much for this. No department of business is making such sacrifices for the benefit of the country as that of newspaper publication; and no department has less pecuniary reward. Far less effort in other branches of business leads to competence and wealth; but newspaper publishers ravely acquire. it, and too frequently but scantily secure the blessings of a common promise, 'Thy bread shall be given thee and thy water shall be sure. Then let a barrier to a double benefit be removed. Let local newspapers, at least, be circulated free of postage. #### CHURCH OF THE OLDEN TIME.

The following very interesting description of one of the Churches of the olden time, was kindly furcently visited Lancaster county.

y. It is not so remarkable on account of its great age-though few in this country can compete with it in this particular-as for the soundness of the structure which has stood so many years. Of the the following remarks: church at Jamestown nothing remains but a portion of the tower. This church in Lancaster is nearly as old, and, which is most surprising, has scarcely begun to show the marks of time. It is in the form of a cross with roofs crossing

The number of his wives has always been a mooted point. The inscription is singularly obscure on this point and is worthy of the Sphinx .-One thing is certain, he had at least three wives sucksessively;" some think he had five, and good grammarians, regardless of age or sex, go even as Many anecdotes are told of this John Carter .-He was an arbitrary, aristocratic high-churchman. He possessed a tract of land about ten miles in ength and five in breadth. He built the church costly as it must have been entirely at his own ex- herit. bense, and afterwards presented it to the Episcopalians of the parish. But he had a gate and a door ut out for his own exclusive use, and permitted no person but his own family to enter therein. His gate was very massive, and, on shutting, would from the situation of his house; being hardly half as far directly to the church as indicated by the road, it

There are several tomb-stones near the church of well wrought and costly marble. They have been there many years though of much less age than the church. Several have been shattered by lightning. Some of the inscriptions on these would also puzzle a reader of plain English; and one in Lavin, if Latin it is, must have been written in the infancy of he language, and is worthy of the attention of

The "Spirit" has worked itself up into a most (for it dare not.) directly say that it is good ground or dissolution, yet the effect and aim of its article insiduously points to that end. Now if there is one of the readers of the "Spirit" is of sane mind, who will say that the admission of California, under all the circumstances of the case, \, just reward is rational ground for dissolution, we pledge ourelves to award to such an one the secret of the Philosopher's stone for his discovery! What would the editor suggest as a remedy for the California grievance? He squints at secession, but it does not afford even a plausible basis for agitation. California cannot be remanded back to her territorial condition. She is possessed of all the can deprive her of them. But it is contended that by admitting California, herefore Congress sanctioned the Provisu -because in her Constitution slavery was prohibited. With the same course of reasoning it might have been urged that Iowa and Wisconsin should never have een admitted as States in the Union. The eardinal dectrine of the Democratic party is non-intervention, and we must be content to acquiesce in the decision of sovereign States whether they allow or prohibit slavery. If the principal is right, the rule nust work both ways. We are as much opposed to the assumptions of Gen. Riley, and the diciation of the Taylor dynasy, in reference to the administration of affairs in California, as the editor of the "Spirit of Jefferson" can be,-but where is the remedy now? There is-Circumstances were against us-Nature was against us-the Administration was against us-and Fate seemed to confirm this adverse destiny. Is it not the part of wisdom to submit, with becoming resignation, to the arbitrament of these ncontrollable circumstances, rather than continue the agitation, which has raged with furious and unbridled license for the past ten months? For ourselves, we prefer to contemplate the cheerng prospect which opens up before us in Texas .-And herein is found one reason, and a very cogent one why we favored the Boundary Bill. The Ten millions of dollars will enable Texas to free herself of pecuniary embarrassment and have a surplus to appropriate for the developement of her magnificent resources. Once rid of her public debt. it will be but the starting point of new vigor and enterprize-the capitalist at home will invest his funds in her railroads, her factories and improvements of all sorts; and the capitalist from other States will be attracted thither to engage in her great en erprizes; thus emigration will be induced, and those four slaveholding States provided for by the resolutions of annexation will the sooner be erected, which will give a counterpoise to the free State of Califorplaint to the editor of the "Spirit of Jefferson."

And we ask him as a candid democrat, does not some other motive influence him? Is he not trying to beget agitation, and continue it, if needs be, until after the election of Schator next winter, and perhaps the elections of the Spring? Does he suppose that his influence is sufficient to give a votesto Schator Mason, or take one away from Mr. Parker? If this be his object, we venture to say to our contemporary that his "labor of love" will be unavailing. Col. other rejected because of his infidelity

The passage of the bill granting bounty land to officers and soldiers of the last war with Great Britain and the several Indian wars, is giving rise to an unprecedented number of applications to the Third Auditor's Office for information. It is deemel advisable to state that copies of the army rolls of the war of 1812 cannot be furnished from this office, for various reasons-one of which is sufficientnamely, the atter impracticability of doing so. If one agent has a right to copies of the rolls, so have twen y thousand; and all the clerks in the employ of the government could not furnish such cooles .-Besides, there is no authority for doing so. All applications must come through the Pension Office, (under the direction of the Secretary of the Interior,) according to publisshed regulations, and regular certificates of service will be furnished to the Commissioner of Pensions by the Third Auditor, as is now the practice in regard to all slaims for pension or bounty land in which the officers or soldiers served in the war of 1812. This course is necessary to prevent frauds and interminable difficulties. JOHN S. GALLAHER, Third Auditor. THIRD AUDITOR'S OFFICE, ! October I, 1850.

BOUNTY LAND LAW-CIRCULAR OF THE SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR.

In view of the very large number of persons who nished no by a gentleman of this town, who re- are to participate in the benefits of the provisions of the general Bounty Land Law, it is incumbent on Among the memorials of early days in Virginia, the press to disseminate all the authentic informawhich is so rich in relics from past years, one of tion in reference thereto which has transpired .the most interesting is a church in Lancaster coun- The Washington papers contain the Circular from the Secretary of the Interior, which will be found below. In the "Republic" it is accompanied with ation would depend upon the interpretation to be given it by the Executive Department. The circular of the Secretary of the Interior removes all doubt upon the subject. The meaning of the Boun-English brick, laid solid in cement, and are thirty ty Land Law is now established by the authoritainches in thickness, and apparently firmer than tive exposition. There is now no doubt whatever when first erected. Even the roof and other wood-that no transfer of bounty land is valid before the issuing of the patent. We rejoice at the truly pawhile a brick wall surrounding the church, erected ternal precautions which the President has taken to secure to the veteran soldiers of the Republic the just rewards of their walor. Not only does that officer declare, in the most emphatic manner, that all been reconstructed the only repairs that have been transfers are void before the issuing of the patent, but he provides that the simple forms of proceeding This venerable structure was built by a single necessary to obtain the land shall be published and individual, named John Carter. I was not able to furnished to the clerk of every County Court in the ascertain the exact age of the building, but it is to United States. He, moreover recommends that be found among the records of the county. I was, every county and township in the United States however, assured that it is considerably above two shall provide means for having the rights of the undred years old! And this is corroborated by siddler verified without expense. These precauother circumstances. By tradition it is known that I tions will secure the bounty of the country directly for many years, near half a century, the owner at- to those for whom it was intended, and not to speculators and agents. We have been informed that a his death is recorded on a slab over his grave, which system of buying up these claims has been extens in one of the aisles of the church. This relates sively practised in anticipation of the passage of hat he died in the year 1669, one hundred and this law. Very smart persons have persuaded the unsuspecting soldier that his claim can only be established with trouble and expense. These pergive a literal copy of it as it appears on the slab.

OFFICIAL. THE BOUNTY LAND BILL,

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, Oct. 3, 1850. The Congress of the United States, at its late sesion, having, in a spirit of justice and liberality, passed an act "granting bounty land to certain ofadopt all the means in his power to give prompt and efficient operation to this beneficent measure. I deem it proper, therefore, to announce to those entitled to the benefits of the law, that with his sanction, I have caused all the necessary for us and instructions to guide claimants in applying for and obtaining their rights to be prepared, and they are now in the hands of the printer. At the earliest practicable moment copies of these papers will be forwarded to each member of Congress, and to the clerk of the court of every county in the United

It will be his purpose to administer the law in such a manner as to make it what Congress designed it to be, a bounty to the soldier, and not to agents and speculators. Clerks are now engaged in preparing, from the rolls on file. certificates of service, in order that those who have who can prove before a competent tribunal that he not received discharges, or have accidentally los them, may not be disappointed in obtaining their The policy of this law, in all its provisions, is to discourage speculation in the claims of soldiers .-The act provides "that all sales, mortgages, letters of att. rney, and other instruments of writing going to affect the title or claim to any warrant herein before provided for, made or executed prior to the is sue, shall be null and void to all intents and purposes whatsoever, nor shall such certificate or war-State attributes, and there is no human power that | rant, or the land obtained thereby, be in any wise affected by, or charged with, or subject to, the payment of any debt or claim incurred by such officer or soldier prior to the issning of the patent.

In his judgment the issue contemplated in the body of the above recited clause of the law is the issue of the patent. Consequently, all sales, transfers, assignments, and incumbrances of soldiers' land claims, made before the emanation of the patents, are void, and will be disregarded by the Government. Speculators are therefore admonished that they can acquire no rights by purchase which will be recognised by this Department. I feel it to be my duty, also, to warn the frank and confiding soldier against the arts and devices of agents, who will seek to exaggerate the difficulties of obtaining land in order to enhance their own

The evidence of service exists among the archives of the country. In nine cases out of ten the only proof required will be the identity of the applicant, or of the marriage and widowhood, or heirship .-These are facts readily proven and therefore the difficulties will in most cases be merely nominal.— And to remove even these slight obstacles, and to give a more full and complete effect to the munificence of the Government, I beg leave respectfully to recommend to the proper authorities of each county and township to employ a suitable agent, at the expense of the county, to supervise the preparation of the applications and proofs of claimants. The ignorant and unwary would thus be protected from imposition, the poor soldiers from burdens they are not able to bear, and the Government from many embarrassments which may result from the awkwardness of incompetent agents.

In conclusion, I desire to say that great care will be used to guard against undue preferences of one class of applicants over others. With this view, at the proper time, a sufficient number of clerks will be employed to issue the certificates with the least possible delay, so that all may have an equal chance of making advantageous locations.

SUDDEN DEATH OF A STRANGER.-Coroner Essender yesterday morning held an inquest over the body of Or. Thomas Hammond, a gentleman about 50 years of age, who had died suddenly at the Wheatfield Inn, Howard street. - Dr. Hammond is a citizen of Shepherdstown, Va., where his family reside, and came on to Alexandria, Va., on Thursday, where he left a daughter at a boarding school, and then proceeded to Baltimore, arriving in the evening in apparent good health. About two o'clock yesterday morning, he rang the bell for a servant, who went to his room. He complained of great pain in the chest, and requested Prof. Chew to be sent for. This was done, and at his further request ligatures were tied so as to stop in a measure the flow of blood to the head; but in about twenty minutes, before Prof. Chew arrived, he was a corpse. He had been troubled with an affection of the heart. which no doubt caused his death. The jury rendered a verdict of "death from some cause unknown," His remains were taken to the residence of his sisters on Paca, between Saratoga and Mulberry

THE SACRAMENTO DIFFICULTY. The difficulties at Sacramento between the squatters and landholders, from which so much trouble was anticipated, are over. The troubles were settled by the dispersion of the squatters by the citizens and anthorities. In the melee between the citizens and rioters, there were killed, on the part of the former, sheriff McKinley and Woodland; wounded, Mayor Bigelow and Capt. Bod ord. On the part of the rioters, G. W. Henshaw and Madison Kelly were killed, and - Allen dangerously wounded.

A squatter meeting had been held at Marysville, at which a series of temperate and dignified resolutions were passed, declaring the intention of the settlers to occupy and cultivate lands, avoiding townships and surveys in which property had been purchased and claimed. They denv the justness and legality of mammoth land grants under oldtitles, but will abide the decision of proper tribunals and laws of the State.

FROM THE SOUTHERN MINES. We learn from the Southern Mines that those miners at work in the Gulches are doing little for want of water, while those on the rivers have too much water. On the Stanislus, but little gold has been taken from the canals. The prospects at Pine Bar, Don Pedro and other points on the Tuolumue, were spoken of in the most encouraging ternis. A letter dated Sacramento City, Aug. 16, after ana number of Squatters, proceeds to give the following interesting details:

On their arrival at the Five Mile House, no persons were found in arms, and the party proceeded on a quick gallop to the Pavilion. They had not ridden far, when they learned that a party of Squatters had taken possession of a house a short distance beyond the Pavilion. After a short halt, the Sheriff divided his party into squads, under the command of Gen. Winn, Mr. Robinson and him-He immediately, with two or three others, entered the house, while the rest were hitching their horses. In the room adjoining the bar, the Squatters were waiting for an attack, and a summons from the Sheriff to them to lay down their arms, was answered by a volley from eight or ten muskets. Firing was kept up on both sides for a few moments. distance from it, when a musket, loaded with buckshot, was discharged by a tall man, supposed to be

Just after the tall man shot the Sheriff, Dr. Bryarly, who was near aimed his nistol at him, and The ball probably took effect, for the man dropped his gun and fell over. He, however, soon ecovered himself. Previous to this, before many had got into the house, but after the firing had commenced he fired from the bar-room window, and grazed the arm of Mr. Crowell. Crowell fired back in return, and thinks that the ball must have taken

Parties proceeded to town, to inform the citizens of the state of affairs. The first reinforcement that reached the Pavilion from town, was a party of ten men, led by Mr. Lundy. The second was a party of about twelve men, led by Mr. Tracy. Gen. Wina drew them up, and made a short speech to The three remaining prisoners were placed in an

the presoners were conveyed down J. street, along and is prepared to dib. Front, to the prison ship.
On the part of the authorities, Sheriff McKinney was killed, and Capt. Radford wounded, but not mortally. On the part of the squatters three were evidence of distinguished bravery during the affray. Allen, who is supposed to have shot the Sheriff, ton.

has been a ringles ler of the squatters, and is said to be a most desperate old man. His wife, who have Leen sick for some time, died in a back room of the same house where the fight took place, a few hours afterwards. Allen has not yet been found, but traces of blood are observable to the river, and it is supposed he was drowned in attempting to swim across Mr. Woodland's funeral train, under the direction of Recorder Washington, was very long and inposing. A large body of citizens, on foot and o horse-tack, and a military company commanded b Capt. Sherwood, with two bands of music, procee ed to the late residence of the murdered man. M. Woodland's daughters followed close to the hearse. Mrs. W. gave birth to a son, while the band was playing a solemn dirge for the departed. The rites at the cemetery are described as having been very impressive. The service of the Church of England was performed by the Rev. Mr. Deal. Scarcely a dry eve was perceived in the immense concourse of spectators. Mr. Woodland leaves a family of a wife and four children. His loss seems to be deeply felt by the whole city. Sheriff McKinney s praises, for gallan conduct during the whole of this dreadful affair, are on every tongue. He was a large hearted, noble minded man, and universally esteemed. He leaves a woung wife, who refuses to be comforted, and who is in a state bordering on insanity. They had been married only a few months.

The report that Moloney, the captain of the Squatters, who was killed, was a deserter in the Mexican war, is not true. He was appointed 1st Lieutenant by President Polk, at the solicitation of Robert Tyler, served gallantly at Monterey and on the line of Gen. Scott's operations, and received an honorable discharge. He shewed the most de armined bravery, when he drew his men up across the street; and when he could no longer raily them, he sparred his horse boldly into the midst of his enemies. He was killed by Recorder B. F. Washington, formerly of Virginia. Mr. Washington charge of all the arrangements for preserving the peace of the city, and is a most gellant getele man. His life would not be worth much if a Squatter could get a fair shot at him; and yet, I met him this morning, at two o'clock, perambula-ting the streets, with his rifle at his shoulden as cool as a snow flake.

An intense excitement pervades the public raind, and a good many talk of hanging the prisoners at once-but the greater portion. I hope, are in f.vo. of giving them a tair unal. #### EPHRAIM LITTLEFIELD.

The opinion which we expressed of this individual in our first article upon the Webster case, has been fully confirmed by his subsequent conduct .-While we could not believe him guilty of the murder of Parkman, we regarded him as a worthless and heartless man. The New York papers are very indignant at his connection with the Parkman exhibition. The New York Merchant's Day Book says:

" INFAMOUS OUTRAGE. - The announcement that Ephraim Littlefield is about to exhibit a couple of war figures dressed up to represent Dr. Parkman and Professor Webster, together with a plan of the Boston Medical College, is one of those indecent outrages on the public for which no common law nor ordinance can possibly provide. The following remarks from the Sunday Dispatch are full of sound sense and right feeling :

Our anxiety for the reputation of our city, and the fair fame of its inhabitants was materially calmed when we discovered that the whole audience consisted of some dozen or fifteen dead heads, each and every one of whom, notwithstanding their long familiarity with scenes of shamelessness, actually seemed mortified at the position in which they had so unwittingly placed themselves, and as fast as an opportunity offered some one or more of them eagerly seized it to make themselves scarce, so that long before Littlefield's prosy and drivelling harangue was tohave closed, he was left with no one but the ugly, bluff-looking showman who owns the traps for his audience. The wax representatives of Webster and Parkman, beth of whom are clad in suits of shabby ill-fitting, second hand Chatham street-looking garments, are without exception the vilest carricatures on humanity and the most atrocious libels on art which has ever come under our observation. And Littlefield is a pure specimen of the money-wor-shipping hang-dog. We never recollect see-ing so repulsive and repugnant a countenauce on a human being before, and if he was mixed in a crowd of ten thousand and we had never yet laid eyes upon him, and were deputed to select a wretch from among the lot peculiarly and pre-eminently fitted above all his associates for the degraded business in which he is now engaged, we should choose him at the very first glance.

The human mind can conceive no deeper depth of infamy than that which must necessarily attach to all connected with this vile outrage upon the common decencies of life .-The miserable miscreant who could engage in such a business, under any circumstances much less after having been associated sopeculiarly and closely with the whole trans-action, as has this Littlefield, must indeed be utterly and hopelessly depraved. He who after the unfortunate transgressor has expiated his offence on an ignominious scaffold, can thus barrow the already lacerated feelings of an innocent, respectable, and brokenhearted family, should be bunted out of evcry civilized community which he might dare attempt to curse with his loathsome presence, and we earnestly hope for the piece and reputation of our city, that a similar attempt will not again be made to outrage public decency in this locality. Whatever may be the frailties and vices of New York society, meanness and heartlessness are not among them. Be advised in time and you may profit by Cannot the authorities interfere in Sine

Mr. Rirchie, the real contractor for the printing of Congress, says that he will go on to execute the public printing-that a friend has offered the amplest means for the work—and that he will rely upon Congress to indemnify him. The Charlottsville Advocate says:-"At the next session, Mr. Ritchie will again be applying for "indemnity for the past and security for the feture," but we hope Congress will refuse him any aid or comfort. He has been engaged in business of the kind for nearly half a century, and knew very well when he took the contract he must lose by it, unless he could get his friends in Congress to give him 'extra' pay. He did not expect to do the work for the stipulated price when he took it, but he ought to be made to abide by his contract. If Congress shall agree to pay him anything more, it will be holding out a premium to partisan editors to undertake the public printing at ruinously low rates, with the understanding that their party will pay them a handsome profit."

The Martinsburg Republican, after copying an article from the Winchester Virginian, claiming the authorship of the Fugitive Slave Bill for Mi-Mason, thus ascribes to another promihent gentleman the honor of having framed it.

"Rumor, pretty well authenticated, gives credit to Charles J. Faulkner, Esq., of Berkeley, principally it not solely, as the author of the fugitive slave bill. No man has felt more sensibly the necessity for such a law, he having experienced, heretoforthe impossibility of getting the authorities of the free Sirtes to act for the recovery of slaves. #### DISTRESSING SUICIDE.

We learn from the Hagerstown News that Mr. Samuel Welty, a respectable citizen of that vicinity, committed suicide on Tuesday last, by hanging himself. He left his residence shortly after dinner that day, and not returning at night, search was made, and he was found in a woods about half a mile from the house-the vital spark extinct .-He had hung himself to a tree with a piece of strong twine, which had severely cut his throat and neck. No cause is assigned for the rash net.

INFLUENZA AND CONSUMPTION It is indeed, a melancholy truth, that thousands fall victims to consumption every year from no other cause than neglected colds; yet we find hundreds, nay thou-sands, who treat such complaints with the greatest in-difference, and let them run on for weeks, and even months, without thinking of the danger. At first, you have what you consider a slight cough or cold; you alflow business, picasure or carelessness to prevent you from giving it may attention; it then settles upon your breast, you become hourse, have pains in the side of chart, expectorate large quantities of matter, perhaps mixed with blood: a difficulty of b eathing easnes; and the a you find your own foolish neglect has brought on this complaint. If, then, you value your life or bealth, be warned in time, and don't trifle with your cold, or trust to any quack nostrum to cure you; but immediately procure a bottle or two of that famous remedy, DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM of WILD CHERRY, which is well known to be the most speedy cure ever known, as thousands will testify, whose lives have been saved by

For influence it is the very best medicine in the world. Be not beceived, remember that spurious imitations and other preparations of Wild Cherry abound throughout the land, but it is Dr. Wistar's that has performed out the land, but it is Dr. Wistar's that has performed on many thousand wonderful cures, therefore buy no. other but the gasuite, original Baisam of Wild Cherry signed ! BOTCH WORK.

A very accentric clergyman, named David Jones, who flourished in Gotham a few years since was passing through Broadway one morning, at an early hour, when he was startled by a voice, apparently issuing from the gutter, crying :-

"Good morning neighbor Jones?" his " neighbor," and at last discovered an object wallowing in the kennel. "Who is it," said he "that calls me neighbor Jones ?"

"Why, don't you recollect me?" You converted me the other Sunday." "Converted you? O yes! very probable, you look just like a piece of my botchwork. If God had converted you, I should . not have found you in the gutter."

I A few days since, a gentleman near West Point took into his service a verdant son of the Emerald Isle. On the first day of his service, he was started by the sound of the evening gun, as it reverbated through the highlands, and awakened the mountain's slumbering echoes, and anxiously inquired of his employer, the cause of the explosion, and was told that it was the "sundown gun.',--" Och, bless me," exclaimed Pat, and does the sun make such a dilil of a thunder as that on going down in this country?"

In attempting to carve a fowl one day, a gentleman found considerable difficulty in separasing its joints, and exclaimed against the man who sold him an old hen for a young chicken.

' My dear,' said the enraged man's wife, don't talk so much about the aged and respectable Mr B : he planted the first bill of corn that was planted in our town.' "I know that," said the husband, and I believe this hen scratched it up.

A member of a legislature who indulged himself in afternoon naps, requested his friend to awaken him when the lumber net came up. He omitted it by forgetfalness but accidentally gave him a jog as the house was discussing a bill to prevent fraud. Old sleep-head started, rubbed his eyes, and exelaimed, "Mr Speaker, a word or two, upon that bill, for more than one half of my constituents get their living in no other way!"

WINDOW-SASH FASTENERS. Frankfin Fire Insurance Compa-

This undersigned have obtained Letters Patent for a most valuable Air-Tight Sash Fastensan to any required height and he dir fast, without cutting holes in the frame, and at the same time to let down the upper Sash so as to let the heated tilr escape at the top and admit the cool air at the battom, and also make the Sash perfectly air-tight and keep it from rattling. Who is it that has not had his rest broken by the clattering of the window-sash in a stormy night, to say nothing of the amount of air admitted thereby? This Fastenet has great advantages over any other sash stopper, giving you complete control of the sash; and will accommodate itself to any state of the weather, wet or dry-the back of the sash being grooved, and a strip inserted which is forced out against the frame, thus accommodating itself to the frame, and behind this strip is an ecceptric or can fixed on a lever which passes through the sash, and raising or depressing the lever fastens or loosens the sash and enables you to lock it fast at any point. Such is the estimate put on this discovery that we have applied them to several hundred windows, notwithstanding but a few weeks have elapsed since we got the fictures and even before we obtained the patent, and many more | Thomas Hart, have been engaged as soon as we can procure fas-
