

VIRGINIA FREE PRESS AND FARMERS' REPOSITORY.

Virginia Free Press. BY H. N. GALLABER & CO. FRIDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 28, 1862.

FOR PRESIDENT IN 1862, MILLARD FILLMORE, OF NEW YORK.

THE PRESIDENT'S NATIONAL COURSE.

President Fillmore's prompt action in reference to the late outrage in Boston is receiving commendation from all truly patriotic men of both parties.

The Abolitionists and Ultra of both extremes in Congress will find their labor all in vain. They cannot get up a crisis of magnitude to give them an excuse for dissolution of the Union.

THE MANASSAS GAP RAILROAD. The energy with which the friends of this measure have pushed on their preparations for a speedy construction of the work, has awakened anxiety in several quarters.

Now it happens that on the 29th of March, 1859 a company was chartered by the Legislature of Virginia, by the name of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal Company.

There is great danger of a large city growing up on the spot where now stands the venerable town of Alexandria.

It seems that the city of the Virginia Democrats, assembled at the Convention and the Legislature, have determined to try their hands at manufacturing a President in 1852.

Mr. Wise appears to have been the mover in the matter. He is to invade Pennsylvania to make a nomination, and to pledge the democrats of Virginia, in advance, to support the nominee, wherever it may be.

Can we unite in such a manner as to unite Northern Democrats with the democrats of Virginia to meet New Hampshire?

When you assemble in your weekly meetings, and read from these sacred pages of instruction and guidance, remember the address of the Democratic Ladies that induced them, to send you their aid and encouragement.

These things may you ever prosper—may you be successful in your efforts to aid the Democratic cause, and to bring about the restoration of the Union.

Mr. Stanley and I, with my friends, (Mr. Ash, the friend of Mr. Stanley, and Governor Brown of Michigan,) quietly absented themselves from Washington on Monday, crossing the Maryland River on the 10th inst.

Mr. Stanley is a member of the House from North Carolina. It also appears by Mr. Stanley's own statement, that Mr. Stanley took office on the 28th inst.

THE BEAUTIFUL BANNER AND BIBLE, gifts from the Charleston Ladies, were presented to the Cadets of Temperance, by Miss Jane E. Brown, on the evening of the 22nd inst.

There was quite a large delegation of Cadets from Winchester, who remained with us until Monday last.

THE BEAUTIFUL BANNER was made by Messrs. Gibbs & Smith, of Baltimore.

UPON us has devolved the pleasing, though unenviable task of presenting this beautiful Banner, upon this interesting occasion.

THE CAUSE OF TEMPERANCE is the cause of woman. How appropriate it is, then, that we should present you with this beautiful emblem of our interest.

THE FIRE COMPANY of this town has recently re-organized, and under circumstances, we doubt not, that will enable it to be much more efficient than heretofore.

Under the new Code of Virginia, the chief management of the Fire Department of our town, have been vested in the Chief Engineer and Fire Wardens, who receive their appointments from the Trustees of the town.

THE MESSAGE OF THE PRESIDENT. President Fillmore, on Friday, sent a message to the Senate, in relation to Mr. Clay's resolution, requesting him to communicate any information he might possess to the recent case of information relative to the late outrage in Boston.

The President's message that nothing official has been received by private and official communication, in relation to the late outrage in Boston, is a disappointment to many of our citizens.
