POETRY. WHEN I AM OLD.

When I am old-and oh, how soon Will life's sweet morning yield to noon, And noon's broad, ferrid, carnest light Be shrouded in the solemn night; Till like a story well-night told, Will reem my life-when I am old. When I am old-this breeze earth Will lose for me its voice of mirth:

Of sadness, not by right their own : And spring's sweet power in vain unfold In rosy charms-when I am old. When I am old-I shall not care To decle ho vain desire of mine, In rich and costly dress to shine: Bright jewels and the brightest gold Will charm me naught when I am old

The streams will have an under-tone

When I am old-my friends will be Old and infirm and bowed-like me. Or else-their bodies 'neath the sod, Their spirits dwelling safe with God-The old church bell will long have tolled Above the rest-when I am old.

When I am old-I'd rather bend Thus sadly o'er each buried friend. Than see them lose the earnest truth, That marks the friendship of our youth: Twill be so sad to have them cold Or strange to me-when I am old! When I am old-oh, how it seems Like the wild lunaey of dreams, To picture in prophetic rhyme, That dim, far distant, shadowy time; So distant that it seems o'er bold

Even to say-"When I am old!" When I am old?-perhaps ere then. I shall be missed from haunts of men; Perhaps my.dwelling will be found Beneath the green and quiet mound; My name by stranger hands enrolled Among the dead-ere I am old. Ere I am old ?-that time is now. For youth sits lightly on my brow;

My limbs are firm, and strong, and free, Life has a thousand charms for me; Charms that will long their influence hold Within my heart-ere I am old. Ere I am old-oh, let me give My life to learning how to live! Then shall I me t, with willing heart, An early summons to depart,

Or find my lengthened days consoled By God's sweet peace--when I am old.

From a careful examination of its frame-work the conclusion cannot be resisted, that the persons now in office must be regarded as officers under this new constitution - appointed by the instrument itself, for in edefinite period, to wit: to occupy, until people-and that it is intended to continue the insymbents in office until their successors, under the new constitution, shall be qualified .- See 14 6 Schedule to new Constitution.

It is manifest that the provision, in the last clause of this section, in regard to "vacancies in office, happening before such qualification," refers to aceidertal vacancies, only; as the meaning of the word happening, (coming by chance, unexpectedly) of itself, would indicate.

The writer of this article, if he has not misapprehended the structure of our organic law, maintains: 1st. That the persons now in office hold under. and in virtue of their appointment by the new con-

2d. That their tenure of office is, in effect, during good behavior; and until their successors, to be elected by the people, shall be qualified.

3d. That the provision as to vacancies, is applicable to accidental vacancies, alone; and not to vacancies recurring by operation of law: and Therefore, that there can be no qualification of a new sheriff, at the time of the regularly recurring vacancy this spring, according to the laws heretotore regulating that subject; nor can the present legislature so provide, as has been suggested. But the person in office must continue in office, until his successor shall be elected by the people-and if there shall be a failure, from any cause, to elect a successor for one or for ien years, the incumbent will still hold the office-unless he may choose, meantime, to die or resign. We consider the plan the only equitable and proper one for executing the public printing faithfally-to prevent the government patronage from becoming a mere job to make the fortune of a partizan, but the restriction to the "usual and proper wages," is a little too close for a proud and liberal

Clerks, who work but six hours, are employed at from $1000 to $1500 per annum for six hours each day-whilst printers, who work ten hours get but six hundred dollars a year, with an allowance of twenty to twenty-five cents an hour for extra Lours, and $2 for violating the Sabbath.

This is all wrong. Let the government do its printing as it does its writing. Employ men of salents and education, and let them have good wages. Have three sers of hands, each to work eight hours, and May them according to their ability. In this way, the government work could be done handsomely and promoti,". and its benefits would be somewhat equally distributed.

PRESENTATION OF A MEDAL TO MR. | ples, wheat, coin, cotton tobacco, rice, and bemp,

This very gratifying interview took place, by appointment, on Monday, 9th inst., at Mr. Clay's ledgings at the National Hotel. The committee charged with this welcome duty were deputed from Mr. Clay's New York friends, political and personal, who had prepared this volunteer offering in token of their appreciation of the services rendered by the illustrious states man to his country told man-

They were admitted to his chamber at three o'clock, and were received with that graceful urbanity for which Mr. Clay is so distinguished .privileged to be present on the occasion; were invited to be seated, Mr. Daniel Ulmann, Chairman

Citizens of New York to Henry Clay. Sin: - During the half century of your public ife, your admiring countrymen and friends have accumulated around you many warra testimonials and enduring memorials of your great services to your country and mankind. To add to shese anther is the purpose for which we now come to you. In the name and behalf of a large number of citizens of New York we offer you this gold medal, and beg your acceptance of it, to be preserved in your family and by your descendants we hope for

It has been our effort to make it valuable as a work of art, (of an art but little practised in our country,) and as a perfect resemblance of your lineaments. We think that this effort has been successful; that no medal ever struck in this country surpasses it in beauty, and that it is the buy birmaes at sour features everyet attempted by same die, the form and expression of your counte-nance will be faithfully transmitted to distant poserity. And as "recorded honors shall thicken over" you, and "generations vet unborn do h mage to your memory," this memorial will increase in value, and be fondly cherished, as are now the list images of Cicero and Brutus, not only by the a iquary and historian, but by all whom patriotism and eloquence can kindle to admiration. All national medals hitherto struck in this country have been commemorative of triumphs of American

The manner of the delivery of this Address could not be exceeded in grace, emphasis, or appropriate

Mr. Clay received the Address standing, with the deepest attention, and then proceeded to observe that, although it had been his habit in addressing the town and neighborhood are invited to be prepublic bodies, larger or smaller, to speak extem- sent. poraneously, he had been induced, on this occasion. as well out of profound respect to the Committee, as in regard to his feeble state of health, to depart from his ordinary practice and reduce his reply to writing. He then read, in a firm though somewhat feeble voice, the following reply.

GENTLEMEN: -- This is among the most interesting and gratifying days of my life, although I have ardent and devoted friends of mine in the city of New York, to present to me a beautiful and costly gold medal, intended to commemorate my public life. On one face of it is engraved all the great public measures adopted in the National Councils in which I was supposed to have had any conspicuous Geo. C. Worthington, figton, the principal theatre of those public services which have commended themselves to your approbation. Throughout my public life I have been the strongest sentiments of gratitude; but nowhere have they surpas ed those in the city of New York in zeal, constancy, and fidelity, and in distinguished and various demonstrations of their affection and attachment. Whilst one is in the ardent pursuit of public life, and is held up for its highest honois t is not practicable always to discriminate, among ais supporters, between those who bestow their sulfrages from pure, patriotic, and disinterested moives, and those who are actuated by selfish ends; ut on this occasion no such difficulty exists. You have come, at much personal inconvenience, to the bed of a sick and afflicted friend, to present to him, in your names and in the name of a numerous body his personal and political friends, whom you represent, a most precious token of your esteem and affectionate regard. That friend has not now, and never will have, any public patronage to dispense. The high and honorable and disinterested character of your motives cannot, therefore, be Gentlemen, I request you to accept vourselves,

I shall soon pass from the jurisdiction of my conemporaries and of the present generation to that of story and posterity, if the one shall deem me worthy of any record on its pages, or tradition shall transmit any recollection of me to the other. It is not within my legitimate province to express ny opinion on my own public career or public leeds. That office belongs to them, and I shall consider my future fame fortunate if it shall be regarded by them with a small portion of the favor with which the partiality of yourselves and your associates now comtemplate it.

I shall soon appear before a higher and more holy tribunal than any earthly one, which can unerringly judge of the motives as well as the acts of has always enabled him to meet the wishes | man. To that tribunal I look forward with composure and confidence, that I shall be acquitted of having ever been prompted, in the discharge of my public duties, by any mean or sordid or selfish ends, or been animated by any other purpose than to promore the honor, the prosperity, and glory of our common country.

Medais are generally struck by the authority and paid for out of the public Treasury of Government, and most frequently are intended to reward and signalize the triumphs achieved in war. But that which you now so kindly tender to my acceptance is the spontaneous offering of private civizens, from their private purses, for public services exclusively in the civil department. I shall fondly and gratefully cherish and preserve it whilst life endures, and transmit it to my descendants under the hope that they will receive and carefully goord it, with entotions of lively gratitude to my New York friends, as the proudest and richest legacy that I could leave them.

During the delivery of this beautiful and appropropriate reply the most perfect silence pervaded the chamber; every eye was fixed on the tall and commanding form so long known to the public, but respect and admiration were mingled with a tender regret on witnessing the evident struggle between the unimpaired vigor of the mind and the feebleness of its now emaciated and shaken tenement. Yet the eye still glittered with unsubdued lustre, and at times the tones of his voice rose into an emphasis which reminded one of ancient days. The manuscript having been laid aside, Mr. | CHAS. H. MURDER AT CUMBERLAND.

A murder occurred at Cumberland Md , on Wednesday night last, the circumstances of which are stated as follows : Sometime since, a difficulty occurred at a cotil lion party, between Robert Swan and Wm. O Sprigg, of Jos., which resulted in a challenge from Swan. By the interference of mutual friends the difficulty was however adjusted, as was supposed; but a recently published card, issued by Swan, revived past animosities, and Swon, armed himself with a double barrel shot gun, repaired to the hotel where Sprigg was boarding, and, finding him standing in the bar room, discharged both barrels, striking him in the head and causing instant death. We also understand that Sprigg had spit in Swan's face at the cotillon party mentioned, and that he declined to render the satisfaction for the insult which Swan demanded. The inter served as a Lieutenant in the Mexican war, and wounded an antagonist in a duel in Mexico, Both parties are respectfully connected, and much excitement prevails in Cumberland owing to the fatal termination of the tragedy. Swan was immediately arrested after the perpetration of the murder.

The Correspondence between the Parties.

Baltimore Sun of Friday. We published under our telegraphic head yesterday an account of the terrible murder perpetrated at Cumberland, Md., on Wednesday evening, on the person of Mr. Wm. O. Sprigg, of Joeach by Mr. Robert Swan, and have since re-ceived a portion or the espondence which passed between the parties previous to the unfortunate affair. The tollowing letter from Mr Sprigg, accompanied by letters from Drs. Scollay and Dougherty, and S. U. Semmes, Esq , is published in the Cumberland Unionist:

To THE PUBLIC .- The public is aware of a difficulty that has recently occurred between Mr. Robt. Swan and myself, and which I thought had been settled honorably to both parties. There has appeared a card, however, with my apology, and a note appended by Mr. Siban, which conveys the idea that I had given the apology because of his challenge. Mr. Swan knew when he pub lished the note that he was publishing a falsehood. I shall give a full, candid and impartial statement of the whole affair. On Thursday, January 221, Mr. Swan and myself had a difficulty at one of the assemblies, and I thought from his conduct, and from what I heard, that it was his intention to offer me an insult. I gave Mr. Swan a chance to explain his conduct to me about the matter, but he did not. I therefore took the first opportunity to offer him an insult, which I did by spitting in his face; (this was on Saverday 21th He went off and armed himself, as he told a friend of mine, with two pistols, and said that he would give one to me and take the other himself. The gentleman to whom he communicated this told in that I was already armed. Then it was that he (Mr. Swan) sent a gentleman to me to say that he had put the matter into the hands of a friend. That evening, however, Mr. Swan came to Mr. Arthur Johnson, and asked me out. Armed as pared for market. hught preper. Still he asked me to walk all him. I refused, and told him he had sent me word that he had put the matter in the hands of a friend. He asked me if he was to retract what I deemed was an insult to me, what would be my course; and added that he did not intend to insult me, that our family relations had been intimate, and that he would reduce it to writing. I said to him promptly, any apology that could be given by me would be given; and in that way we parted on Saturday night. On Sunday morning I went into the country, and did not get back until about 4 o'clock, P. M., when a letter was handed to me by the barkeep-er, which, on opening, I found to be from Mr. Swan, and which I was told Mr. Swan had himself left at the bar-about 4 o'clock on Sundaythe letter which I publish below. I immediately Atkinson, and could not find him. About 10 o'clock, however, I again started in pursuitof him, and, in front of Mr. Cowton's hotel, met Mr. Swan-and told him that I had received his note and that he had better say six o'clock. His exclamation was, "Well, I have come over to see you and wish to withdraw that note and have the matter settled." Then it was that I said he should not have his note and that I would take ne further notice of him; he then asked me to go over to the Mineral Bank steps and talk the matter over, which we did. He then told me that he could get no friend to act for him in Cumberland. My reply was, he could go a distance and get a friend and I would tollow him. I say most unequivocally that so far as it regards a meeting between Mr. Swan and myself, the next morning, no such thing ever was contemplated by either of us when we parted on Sunday night I heard nothing more from Mr. Swan until the night of the 27th, when Dr. Scollay and Dr Doughesty called on me to have the affair amicably settled, and what took place will appear by Lynade the apology voluntarily-nay, cheerfully, nof specause I supposed there was a challenge hanging over me, but because Mr. Swan had said to me in the presence of Mr. Johnson that he in tended me ne jasult. When Mr. Swan publish ed the note to my apology he knew he was pub lishing a falsehood. Robert Swan knows also that I know him-he is a coward First, he would have pistols-would give me one-(gene rous fellow;) but when he found I was armed then he would put it into the hands of a friend; next morning he screwed his courage up, and wrote me the note published below. When I suggested to change the hour from 11 o'clockan hour when we would certainly be detected to six o'clock in the morning, then it was that he had just come to withdraw the note; and insisted on talking it over amicably; and now it appears, from his statement to Dr. Scollay, that he was on the ground precisely at 11 o'clock — Ber Couragous man, this Mr. Robt. Swan! In this whole affair Mr. Swan has shown himself totally devoid of courage, principle or truth. My advice to him would be to go back to Mr. Perry's meadows-and stay there.

WM. O. SPRIGG of Jos. The Challenge-Left at Mr. C's Bar.

CUMBERLAND, Jan. 24, 1852. W. O. Sprigg, Esq-Dear Sir:-I have well looked over our relative positions since I saw you and have come to the conclusion that our affair cannot otherwise be adjusted than by an unqualified, unequivocal apology; therefore, I now propose that we meet on Charles Perry's Meado vs to-morrow at 11 o'clock, armed as both think proper, without friends on either side. I propose this merely because I do not wish others to be envolved in so serious a quarrel -and to prevent

The Apology, with the Note appended, as publish ed and Appended.

CUMBERLAND, Jan, 27, 1852. Mr. Robt. Swan-Sir: Having conceived myself insulted by you which I now say upon information which came to my ears after the insult was offered by me, I am fully convinced was not intended as an insult by you, I in return offered you the gross in sult, for which I have since felt the deepest regret; it being not only a gross out rage to you for which no suitable apology can be made, but an act entirely unworthy of myself as a gentleman. It is due to myself, sir, as well as to you, that I should make this acknowledgment, and I assure you it gives me pleasure to do so; and ask that my offence may be overlooked. Very respectfully, &c., W. O. SPRIGG, of Jos. The above letter of apology was written in answer to a written invitation from Robert armed as each of the parties might think proper, without friends on either side, the survivor to take In regard to this last, the letters of Drs. Scollay and Dougherty, and S. M. Semmes, referred to in Mr. Swan's card above, give a detailed state-

Swan, to meet him on Charles Perry's Meadows,

Messts. Sprigg and Swan. This appears to have been done at the instance of Mr. Sprigg, after the publication made by Mr. Swan. Dr. Scollay, in reply to Mr. Sprigg, says: " In raply to your question in regard to the note appended to the printed copies of the apology as having been ' written in answer' to the note addressed you by Mr. Swan."

Dr. Dougherty also gives a similar opinion; and Mr. Semmes, after referring to his having learned of Mr. Sprigg's deep regret for the insult he had given Mr. Swan, thus details the history of the apology:

"The Doctor laid before me a letter which he said you had refused to sign. I examined it, and thought it did not suit the occasion. I accordings ly changed it, and put it in a form which I the't proper, would be creditable to you, and, at the same time, as satisfactory as language could make it to Mr. Swan. This letter you signed "

Mr. Semmes then adds : "I thought that the difficulty had been time settled; and in, my judgement, you and M., Swan both did yourselves honor by the settlement. You may, therefore, imagine what want my surprise and regret at seeing the printed copy of the letter you showed me yesterday, having the posteript to it which is added."

More of the Cumberland Tragedy.

CUMBERLAND, Md., Feb. 19 .- The dreadful tragedy which occurred here in Barnum's hotel, last night, has produced the most intense excitement. So indignant was the populace last night; after the dreadful deed had been perpetrated, and the coroner's inquest had been held on the body of the victim, Wm O. Sprigg, that it was with extreme difficulty the people could be restrained from taking violent possession of his slaver, Robt. Swan, and punishing him on the spot. The officers, however, succeeded, together with the per suasions of the more sober thinking part of the community, in causing the enraged citizens to desist. Sprigg was altogether unarmed when he was shot, which shows that he did not anticipate such an attack. He was a worthy young man, and much esteemed by all who knew him-had been engaged as an agent on the railroad. His funeral takes place to morrow. The terrible act upon the part of Swan, scems to have been deliberate and premeditated. He went directly to the hotel with his loaded gun, and, without giving a moment's warning, fired. It is also stated that after the murder, when under arrest, he declared that it was his deliberate intention to kill the deceased, and seemed to exult in the fact, as he patted his gun and scemingy applauded it for being faithful to its trust. He s believed to have been under the influence of iquor when he perpetrated the deed. He was a roung lawyer in practice at our bar, and highly esteemed by all who knew him. He is now in prison awaiting further investigation. The coroner's jury returned a verdict that the deceased came to his death from a shot fired from a gun in the hands of Robert Swan. CIRCULAR. A Method by which Slave Owners may be Protected from Loss.

NATIONAL LOAN FUND LIFE ASSU-RANCE COMPANY, OF LONDON. N inture, Insurance will be effected on the lives Slaves, under the following rules:-

1st. Three-fourths the actual cash value will be 2d. There will be inserted in each policy a cor-

dition that no other Insurance be made on the same

3d. A policy may be transferred to another party in this State, or to a Slaveholder in another State, without first ob aining the consent of the Company. 4th. A slave dying without the State, is still covered by the policy. 5th. The premium stated in the first instance in the policy, is the same, irrespective of age, for the whole term of five years. 6th. The premium for said term of five years to be paid annually, and the policy thus renewed, ir-respective of the health of the slave at the time of such renewal. 7th. Referee's letters, demanded in ordinary eases.

in effecting an insurance, will be dispensed with in cases of insurance on the lives of Slaves. 8th. Satisfactory and REASONABLE proof of age will be sufficient to have that fact endorsed in the policy; and proof thereof after death dispensed with. 9th. In case of difference as to the actual Cash VALUE of a slave, it may be determined by reference to two persons, to be mutually chosen by the owner and the agent of the Company, 10th. Parties insuring on the lives of Slaves, can, at the end of any year, discontinue the policy, if they wish to do so. 11th. The annual expenses of such insurance will depend upon the age of the Slave at his next birth-day viz-For instance, on $500, Annual Premium for the term of five years:

Per cent. Prem. on $500. 8 00 1 70 1 75 1 86 191 2 00 201 2 09 10 45 211 10 55 10 60 2 14 10 70

And for other ages not enumerated, in proportion. A policy fee of $1.25 is payable in the first instance only-not demanded afterwards. Thus: - A Slave aged 30 years can be insured for $500. (other sums larger or smaller, pro rata.) for a year, for $9; and if he dies, the owner, although deprived of the revenue of his labor, by so ordinary a casualty, will still not be unrecompensed for his loss; for there will still remain to himnot his Slave-but the $500 which constituted his value, which sum he can invest to replace the revenue the death of the Slave would have deprived him of if insured. CONSUMPTION.

This invaluable remedy for all diseases of the throat and longs, has attained a celebrity from its remarkable cutes, never equalled by any other medicine before .-Other Preparations have shown themselves palliatives, and sometimes effected notable cures, but none has ever so fully won the confidence of every community mate, the results have indisputably shown it to possess a mastery over this dangerous class of diseases, which could not fail to attract the attention of Physicians, Patients and the public at large.

See the statements, not of obscure individuals and from far distant places, but of men who are known and respected throughout the country. The widely celebrated Surgeon, Doct. VALENTINE Morr, of New York City, says: " It gives me pleasure to certify the value and efficacy of . Aven's CHERRY PECTORAL, which I consider peculiarly adapted to cure diseases of the throat and DR. PERKINS, the venerable President of the Vermont Medical College, one of the eminently learned physicians of this country, writes, the CHERRY PECTO-RAL is extensively used in this section, where it has shown unmistakable evidence of its happy effects upon pulmonary diseases

The Rev. JNO. D. COCHRANE, a distinguished Clergyman of the English Church, writes to the Proprietor from Montreal, that - be has been cured of a severe asthmatic affection, by Cherry Pectoral,"-

His letter at full length, may be found in our Circular, to be had of the Agent, and is worth the attention of asthmatic patients. This letter is from the well known Druggist at Hillsdale, Michigan, one of the largest dealers in the State; and this case is f: his own observation. HILISDALL, MICH., Dec. 10, 1849 Dear Sir: Immediately on receipt of your CHERRY PECTORAL, I carried a bottle to an acquaintance of mine who was thought to be near his end with quick consumption. He was then unable to rise from his bed. and was extremely feeble. His friends believed he must soon die, unless relief could be obtained for him, and I induced them to give your excellent medicine a trial. I immediately left town for three weeks, and you may judge of my surprise on my return, to meet him in the street on my way home from the cars, and find he had entirely recovered. Four weeks from the day he commenced taking your medicine, he was at work at his arduous trade of a blacksmith. There are other cases within my knowledge, where the CHERRY PECTORAL has been singularly successful but none so marked as this. Very truly yours, G. W. UNDERWOOD.

HEAR THE PATIENT. Dr. J. C. Ayen, Lowell-Dear Sir: Feeling under obligations to you for the restoration of my health, I send your a report of my case, which you are at liberty to publish for the benefit of others. Last autumn 1 took a bad cold, accompanied by a severe cough, and made use of many medicines without obtaining relief I was obliged to give up business, frequently faised blood, and could get no sleep at night. A friend gave me a bottle of your CHERRY PECTORAL, the use of which I immediately commenced according to directions. I have just purchased the fifth bottle, and am nearly recovered. I now sleep well, my cough has ceased, and all by the use of your valuable medicine. E. S. STONE, A. M.,

Principal Mt. Hope Seminary. HANOVER, Omo, April 3, 1850. Dear Sir: I wish I could tell all that suffer with a ough, what your CHERRY PECTORAL has done for me. It does seem they might be penefitted by the information. I had a jung fever which left my lungs weak and inflamed. Being very feeble and unable to gain strength at all, my friends thought I must soon sink in consumption. I had no appetite, and a dreadful rough was fast wearing me away. I began to take your beautiful medicine, by the advice of a clergy man, who had seen its effects before. It eased my cough at first, and gave me rest at night. In less than a formight I could eat well, and my cough had ceased to be troublesome my appetite returned, and my food noutished me, which soon restered my strength. Now, after five weeks, I am well and strong, with no other help than your Cher-Yours, with respect JULIA DEAN.

VARIETY

THE SEXTON.

BY PARE BENTAMIN. Nigh to a grave that was newly made, Leaned a Sexton o'd, on his earth-worn spade, His work was done, and he pansed to wait The funeral train at the open gate. A relic of by-gone days was he, And his looks were grey as the foamy sea: And these words came from his lips so thin-I gather them in-I gather them in. Garber-gather-gather-I gather them in.

I gather them in, for man and boy, Year after year of grief and joy, I've builded the houses that lie around In every nook of this burial ground. Mother and daughter, father and son, Come to my solitude one by one; But come they strangers or come they kin I gather them in-I gather them in. Gather-gather-gather-l gather them in.

Many are with me, yet I'm ALONE; 1'of King of the Dead! and I make my throne On a monument slab of marble cold-My sceptre of rule is the spade I hold; Come they from cottage, or come they from hal', Mankind are my subjects-ALL-ALL! Let loiter in pleasure, or toilfully spin, I gather them in-I gather them in. Gather-gather-gather-I gather them in

I gather them in, and their final REST Is HERE, down HERE, in the earth's dark breast! And the Sexton ceased, as the funeral train Wound mutely over that solemn plain; And I said to myself, when time is TOLD, A mightier voice than that Sexton's old Will be heard o'er the rist Thump's dreadful dir I gather them in-I gather them in. Gather-gather-gather-I gather them in.

balmy summer evening a single trav-night have been descried wending his own the avenues of Washington City. 90 Frock and Dress Coats, many of them made and as a man of decidedly scanty proporand in no respect of more than ordinary rance. No one would have imagined an honorable M. C. and yet such was fact. Tired of doing nothing (for the pe-Arian was not an active member) he sought creation, and strolling down to the wharf stopped and gazed upon the majestic waers of the Potomac -- While wrapt in dreamy contemplation of the scenery around, a little puffing and snorting up the stream. As she came gliding along the eyes of our Congressman took her in a glance, and discovered on her sides the name- Joe Johnson," A large assortment fine and common, fancy and "Stranger." said he, to a boatman standing near, " what boat is that ?"

" The Joe Johnson sir ." " Who is she named after?" Western Counties of Virginia." "And why did they name her after him' inquired the member with evidently increas-

"Because" replied the boatman, he is the smallest man in Congress, and this here boat's the smallest boat on the Potomac." "Old Joe" (for he it was) is said to have vamosed without further inquiries. Whether he ever visited his name sake again, our deponent saith not. ITS Some folks are easily glorified, We once knew a man who became so elated because he was elected first sergeant in the militia, that he went home and put a silver plate on his door. Ollaped, in speaking of this kind of people, makes mention of one Sabin who was so overjoyed the first time he saw his name in the list of letters published by the post office, then he called his friends together and put them through on woodcock and champagne. Sterne, who used his wife very, ill, was one day talking to Garrick, in a fine sentimental manner, in praise of conjugal love and fidellity. "The husband," said Sterne, "who behaves unkindly to his wife at the Depot before they are taken away, especially deserves to have his house burnt over his head," " If you think so," said Garrick, "I hope your house is insured."

ITS Right in one thing becomes a preliminary toward right in everything; the transition is not distant, from the feeling which tells us that we should do no harm to no man, to that which will tell us that we should do good so all men.
