KNOW NOTHING MEETING. REUNION OF THE AUSTRIAN FAULKNER.

We are credibly informed that a "dark lantern" meeting of Faulkner's friends was held in a school house at Harpers Ferry, on Saturday night last, but for what purpose it is not certainly known.

It is stated that early in the day pieces of paper in the form of a heart with calligraphic signs were strewn over the streets of the town and also pinned on conspicuous corners after the fashion of the dark lantern party of other days.

It was first supposed that it was an attempt made at resurrecting that awful ferocity which the Hon. Chas. Jones declared the other day in his Berkeley speech come very high making a carcass of him in '55.

And but for the incautious revelation of one who was in the secret it would doubtless have been heralded as the still lingering ghost of Know Nothingism which haunts by night and follows by day the unpolished, unappreciable representatives of our district.

For what full purpose this dark lantern meeting was called by the Faulknurites, at the Ferry, and why they appropriated the calligraphic signs of an order which was for them and their favorite the Hon. Chas. Jones such an inoffensive speech, has not transpired.

That such a meeting was held, and that the Faulknurites, without a doubt, and our only concern is to know whether it had for its object the revival of Know Nothingism under the aspects of the men who wished to walk with neither knowing but the old flag banner, or whether the dark lantern is to be used to aid the same gentleman in his democratic representation from this District in the next Congress.

We are not very familiar with the points, else we might have given an apt quotation, but we will venture a stanza of original, which if rightly appreciated by our readers will be found to be quite appropriate, and applicable to the case in point.

When a school?

There is one explanation to the "outrageousness" of Faulkner, and that is as the "Bank of Berkeley" has been rather plentiful in fact, lying about such quantities, as to get rid of the possessors have actually agreed to let it upon the most improvable of all things—the election of the Hon. Chas. Jones to Congress.

It has been supposed that that meeting had something to do with the issue of that money, and that it was givenly considered as a loan to conclude with voters down, whether or not, the said currency should be thus thrown away to produce effect or whether it should be destroyed as a "funeral pile" on the night of the 11th Thursday in this month.

We anxiously await further developments as to this mysterious procedure. And in the meantime we should like to know whether the sign of recognition among the fraternity is a "Faulkner grip" or Faulkner gripes. If the latter, we know of a number who are afflicted in that way, just at this time.

HON. W. L. GOGGIN.

We are authorized to state that Mr. Goggin, the Whig candidate for Governor, will speak at Leesburg, on Saturday, the 14th, at Washington on Monday the 16th, at Harrisonburg, on Wednesday the 18th, and at Winchester, on Friday the 20th.

TO-MORROW.

Should the weather prove favorable, tomorrow (Friday) will be a great day in Charlottesville. Besides being the regular Bank Day, we are to have the "General Muster" and the "Circus"—all of which, we suppose, will be sufficiently attractive to bring together a large number of persons.

AN ANSWER.

We call attention to two communications in another column over the signatures of "A Democrat" and "Nancy Democrat" asking proof in regard to the rumor that the Hon. C. J. Faulkner, either applied or expressed the wish to become a member of a Know Nothing Council at Harpers Ferry.

In our issue of April 5th 1855, it was charged in a communication over the signature "Truth" that Mr. John G. Wilson, when an active member of the Know Nothing circle at Harpers Ferry, made three several applications for the initiation of Mr. Faulkner into the mysteries and membership of the order. The gist of this charge was never denied by Mr. Wilson. Mr. Faulkner, it is true, did assert that he never applied for admission into the Know Nothing Council at Harpers Ferry, or any other place, and denied "the nature of a letter written" by him, "desiring such admission."

In the subsequent issue—that of April 12th—was stated in an editorial that "men who know anything of the members of the American party are well assured that no member would, or could propose any person for admission to that party without the consent of an agent or applicant in some name, of the person proposed," and we repeat now, upon the authority of intelligent members of that party, that that statement was correct—that some such consent, or assent, or approval, must have been expressed by the party proposed, or initiated, or the member proposing, either in writing, or by a living agent, or his obligations of membership.

At the time of the making of these applications, Mr. Wilson held a letter in his hand, which he said was from Mr. Faulkner, and he read it to some members of the party. With the contents of this letter, we, of course, have no positive knowledge, never having either seen or heard it read—but we have heard, that as read by Mr. Wilson, it expressed some degree of willingness, at least, on Mr. Faulkner's part, to become a member of the order.

The Know Nothing Congressional Convention of 1855, met at Winchester, first in February. At that Convention a motion was made that the Convention adjourn until some time in March, after Congress should have ended its session. This motion was made by one of the delegates from Harpers Ferry, and sustained by some of his colleagues, all of whom were the warm friends and supporters of Faulkner. They said, as their reason for making this motion, that they wanted to give Mr. Faulkner an opportunity, after the adjournment of Congress, of becoming a member of their Council, in order that they might put him in nomination before that Convention. This motion, although strenuously resisted by its opponents, was carried by a majority of two or three only. The Convention met again in March, but the friends of Mr. Faulkner in the former Convention, were not present, and Mr. Faulkner's name was not even mentioned—certainly not as a candidate.

We know that it is in the power of respectable and truthful gentlemen living at the Ferry to prove the correctness of our statement so far as concerns the applications of Mr. Wilson for the initiation of Mr. Faulkner, and we earnestly hope that they will furnish us with their testimony, in a tangible shape—not that we care a tittle of a copper whether Mr. Faulkner ever desired to become a Know Nothing, or not, save so far as it would gratify the many devotees who are now seeking for information upon the subject.

We have written the above, not for the purpose of charging that Mr. Faulkner did desire to become a member of the Know Nothing party, but simply to give our readers the benefit of such facts as have been communicated to us by others. We never belonged to that party, at any time, but our opposition to Mr. Faulkner is based upon other and different grounds.

THE VIRGINIA FREE PRESS AND THE WHIG.

The "home organ" of the Hon. Charles Jones in its last issue attempts to gloss over the small demagogic exhibited by Mr. Faulkner, in his proposition to grant quarter sections of land to all mothers who at or within a fixed time or more male children.

The explanation it gives is decidedly rich, inasmuch as it now avows, that the flourish of trumpets which first made up the discovery that such a proposition had been offered by Chas. Jones included a million, which now turns out by a slip of authority, we suppose, that it was a special bounty for a good cause. It was suggested that the bounty was to be given to the mothers of the country, and being a very small amount, it would not be a great burden on the treasury, and therefore it was not to be given to the mothers of the country, but to the mothers of the State.

We should receive a special bounty of one hundred and twenty-five acres, to be used in rearing the babies, for from the Republican's account, she had already raised them, but we suppose the bounty was to be given as an inducement to other widows to do likewise. Here then is the truth of the matter and we make our most humble apology, that we were so carelessly hasty in giving the proposition the benefit of our resolution, following it, too, as we did, with a strong editorial endorsement of it, as being worthy the consideration of all the mothers in the republic, married ones of course, when it now turns out it only included such widows or widows as then had or might hereafter have three or more male children at one birth.

Well, we are most profoundly sorry that we did not wait the explanation which the Republican now gives, as we fear, that some married mother may have already set up on our advice, and therefore, must be doomed to disappointment. If such should be the case, the only statement we can make will be to get up a petition in her behalf, and if the Hon. Chas. Jones is still the re-

A MISREPRESENTATION CORRECTED.

Mr. Faulkner, in his late speech in Charlottesville, stated that he "learned that several gentlemen in London, and other foreign cities, were in the habit of writing to him, and offering him the sum of $100,000, to be used in the purchase of the property of a lady in London, and returned to her by the benefit of the sum which he offered to give to the party." This statement, we are glad to see, has been corrected in the following manner: "The sum of $100,000 was offered to him by a gentleman in London, and returned to him by the benefit of the sum which he offered to give to the party."

DAVIS' EXHIBIT FLUID.

We were both astonished and delighted a few days since, in observing the surprising effect of Davis' Exhibit Fluid in making old become new. We had an old coat (times too hard to own a new one) which Mr. Poter, the gentlemanly Agent of the Messrs. Davis, said he would brush up a little, and wipe out some of the greasy spots. We let him try the experiment, and instead of returning an old coat, he returned us a new one, at least to all appearances, so complete and entire was the change for the better.

It is with the utmost confidence that we recommend this most excellent compound for cleaning clothing, and if our friends will, we will send them a sample, and use it many a dollar may be saved.

Layers, Merchants, Mechanics, Farmers, Physicians, Hotel Keepers, Economists of all classes, Milliners and Ladies in general should provide themselves with Davis' Compound as a matter of dollars and cents saving the old proverb a dollar saved is two made.

War News From Europe.

Arrival of a Steamer off Cape Race. WAR ACTUALLY COMMENCED. THE AUSTRIANS CROSSED THE TIGRO.

The following dispatch was received from New York, embracing dates from Liverpool and London to the 30th ult., but the name of the steamer and the point at which she arrived failed, by some oversight, to come to hand. We presume the news to have been brought by either the Persia off Cape Race, or by the arrival of the Adelaide, at St. Johns—Reporter.]

The London Times of the 27th, speaking of the Russo-French alliance says it is most startling, abating in a moment the whole aspect of affairs.

The King of Sardinia has gone to join the army at Alexandria.

The Tuscan army called on the Grand Duke to join France on 17th inst., and declared against Austria, but he declined and fled, and Tuscany declared a military dictatorship.

Warlike preparations are going on in England. There is great activity at Woolwich. The Government has ordered the "Goodwill" steamer and other vessels to convey troops and ammunition to the Mediterranean. Rumors are circulating of a proclamation calling out ten thousand men for the Navy. War preparations are being generally discontinued in London.

The Parliamentary elections have commenced quietly.

The latest accounts from France report very active military movements throughout that empire. Eighty thousand French troops were expected to be in Italy by the day the steamer sailed.

Denmark is reported to have concluded a treaty offensive and defensive with France. The panic in London was very great. There has been a great panic on the London Stock Exchange. Consols fluctuated excessively.

The ship Ponnas, from Liverpool for New York, was wrecked off Wexford on the 17th. The crew and three passengers, names unknown, were saved. She had over 400 souls on board. The loss of life is unknown.

London, April 30. The report that the Austrians crossed the Tichino on the 29th proved incorrect. They had crossed, indeed, and they remained on the east bank.

It was asserted that the advanced post had crossed, and that the main army would do so on the 29th.

The Austrian official journals contain an imperial manifesto explaining the necessity of a war with Sardinia, and authoritatively denies the existence of a secret treaty between Russia and France.

London, Saturday Noon.—Consols 89.—Austria 143.—A manifesto tantamount to a declaration of war was issued by the Emperor on Friday last, and the Austrian troops have crossed the Tichino and commenced hostilities.—This is official.

For the benefit of the timid who may be lukewarm in the cause, we give the vote of this Congressional district in 1855, by which it will be seen that Wise beat Mr. Boteler 130 and Faulkner beat him 200. This would be overcome by a full turnout of the Whigs on the fourth Thursday in this month.

War News From Europe.

Arrival of a Steamer off Cape Race. WAR ACTUALLY COMMENCED. THE AUSTRIANS CROSSED THE TIGRO.

The following dispatch was received from New York, embracing dates from Liverpool and London to the 30th ult., but the name of the steamer and the point at which she arrived failed, by some oversight, to come to hand. We presume the news to have been brought by either the Persia off Cape Race, or by the arrival of the Adelaide, at St. Johns—Reporter.]

The London Times of the 27th, speaking of the Russo-French alliance says it is most startling, abating in a moment the whole aspect of affairs.

The King of Sardinia has gone to join the army at Alexandria.

The Tuscan army called on the Grand Duke to join France on 17th inst., and declared against Austria, but he declined and fled, and Tuscany declared a military dictatorship.

Warlike preparations are going on in England. There is great activity at Woolwich. The Government has ordered the "Goodwill" steamer and other vessels to convey troops and ammunition to the Mediterranean. Rumors are circulating of a proclamation calling out ten thousand men for the Navy. War preparations are being generally discontinued in London.

The Parliamentary elections have commenced quietly.

The latest accounts from France report very active military movements throughout that empire. Eighty thousand French troops were expected to be in Italy by the day the steamer sailed.

Denmark is reported to have concluded a treaty offensive and defensive with France. The panic in London was very great. There has been a great panic on the London Stock Exchange. Consols fluctuated excessively.

The ship Ponnas, from Liverpool for New York, was wrecked off Wexford on the 17th. The crew and three passengers, names unknown, were saved. She had over 400 souls on board. The loss of life is unknown.

London, April 30. The report that the Austrians crossed the Tichino on the 29th proved incorrect. They had crossed, indeed, and they remained on the east bank.

It was asserted that the advanced post had crossed, and that the main army would do so on the 29th.

The Austrian official journals contain an imperial manifesto explaining the necessity of a war with Sardinia, and authoritatively denies the existence of a secret treaty between Russia and France.

London, Saturday Noon.—Consols 89.—Austria 143.—A manifesto tantamount to a declaration of war was issued by the Emperor on Friday last, and the Austrian troops have crossed the Tichino and commenced hostilities.—This is official.
