Virginia Free Press. BY GALLAHER & CO. THURSDAY MORNING. JUNE 23, 1859.

Under this caption the Virginia Repository, the "home organ" of the Hon. Charles Jones of Boydville, essays a homily upon the services which it supposes were necessary to be made in order to secure the election of Mr. Butler to Congress. It is exceedingly libelous in its character, and the result of a grossly unbecoming and unbecoming conduct. It is a gross insult to the memory of the late Mr. Butler, and a gross insult to the memory of the late Mr. Butler, and a gross insult to the memory of the late Mr. Butler.

CITIZENSHIP.

What constitutes citizenship is now being agitated to a question of more than ordinary importance, since the commencement of the great European war. When the government of the United States undertakes to make a contract with a foreigner, receives his oath of allegiance, and pledges its protection, is there not an equal obligation on both? According to Secretary Cass there is not. The following letter gives the answer.

LETTERS OF HON. JOHN M. BUTTS.

Arrived Home, New York, June 13, '59. GENTLEMEN—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 10th inst., in relation to the question of citizenship. It is one of the most important questions that can be presented to the consideration of an American statesman, but in regarding me as the representative of the great country in this country, in connection with the next Presidency, you attach to my position a degree of importance which perhaps, it is not entitled to occupy.

5TH OF JULY.

Arrangements have been made for the observance, by our citizens, of the approaching anniversary of American Independence. The committee have been fortunate in the selection of Orator and Reader in the persons of Thos. M. Isbell and D. Smith Eichelberger, Esq., and have made a large number of our citizens and soldiers will participate in the enjoyment of the day. The ladies are respectfully invited to be present.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE.

WASHINGTON, May 7, 1859. Your letter of the 23rd inst. has been received. In reply I have to state that it is understood that the French Government claims military service from natives of France who may be found within its jurisdiction. Your naturalization in this country will not exempt you from that claim, should you voluntarily re-appear there.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE.

WASHINGTON, June 14, 1859. Sir, In answer to your letter of the 6th inst. I have to inform you that the brief letter from the Department, to which you refer, dated the 17th of May last, and addressed to Mr. Felix Le Clerc was in reply to an application for information, and was principally intended to recommend caution to our naturalized citizens, natives of France, in returning to that country, as the operations of the French description law were not precisely known here, and might have injurious effects upon the rights of our citizens.
